1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:24 run that you may obtain it. Just as Paul put off his rights in order to share in the blessings of the Gospel (v 23), so should the Corinthians. run. A Pauline metaphor for living the Christian life (see "walk," p 1904).
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:25 self-control. Avoiding what hinders success in the race. Here it is the insistence on "rights" that destroy the faith of others. wreath. Lit, "crown." Olympic athletes received a wreath of olive leaves; other games used laurels, etc. imperishable. The eternal prize of life with God through faith in Christ (cf v 23).
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:26 Continuing the metaphor, Paul says that training for no purpose will not produce the desired result, which is life with God (cf v 25).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:27 discipline my body. To live with a purpose, to intentionally seek the good of others. "He clearly shows that he was keeping his body under control, not to merit forgiveness of sins by that discipline, but to keep his body in subjection and prepared for spiritual things, for carrying out the duties of his calling" (AC XXVI 38). disqualified. The result of seeking one's way and destroying the faith of others; summarizes vv 23–24.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON Ch 9 As founder of the Corinthian Church, and as an apostle, Paul is perceived to have more "rights" than anyone else. Yet he consistently sets an example for the Corinthians, encouraging them to put off their own rights in order to serve one another. This is taught and modeled by Jesus Himself (Mk 10:45). His death and resurrection transform our lives so that we do not seek our own good but the good of others (Php 2:1–11). • Praise God, who Himself became human like us in order to save us! Strengthen us, O Lord, to serve others in all things, so that all people might come to know the power of Your death and resurrection. Amen.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:1 brothers. See p 1901. fathers. Forefathers in the faith, the children of Israel. cloud. The pillar of cloud that led the Israelites. sea. The crossing of the Red Sea.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:2 baptized into Moses. A metaphor for the Israelites who passed through the waters of the Red Sea and emerged a new people, saved from slavery.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:3–4 spiritual food … spiritual drink. Food and drink from God, i.e., manna (Ex 16) and water from the rock (Ex 17:1–7; Nu 20:10–13).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:4 spiritual Rock that followed them. In Jewish tradition, the wisdom from God continuously supplied water to the Israelites through a single rock, which traveled with them. Paul uses this image of God's faithful provision to heighten the shock at the faithlessness of Israel. the Rock was Christ. Paul, who describes Christ as the wisdom from God (1:30), equates Christ with this rock. Therefore, the Israelites had the benefit of being served by Christ, yet even they were not preserved against perishing (10:5). It is a warning to the Corinthians to watch out lest the same happen to them.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:5 most of them. Contrasted with the "all" of vv 1–4. Not all the Israelites were unfaithful; so, too, not all the Corinthians are in danger of losing the prize, only those who destroy the faith of others. overthrown. God's judgment, which resulted in the death of many Israelites, took place frequently in the journey from Egypt.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:6 took place as examples. Not that the events were mere "examples," but that the Corinthians should learn a lesson from what happened to Israel. Just as the Israelites were unfaithful to God, so now some Corinthians were unfaithful; just as God judged Israel, so God would judge the Corinthians (cf v 11).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:7 A summary of the golden calf incident in Ex 32. Just as the Israelites were guilty of participating in worship of false gods and eating with them, so some Corinthians were doing the same (1Co 8).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:8 sexual immorality. Condemned in 5:1–11; 6:9–20.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:9 put Christ to the test. Because the preexistent Christ is active prior to His incarnation (cf 10:4; Jn 1:3), sinning against God is sinning against Christ. The Corinthians also sin against Christ by their behavior (8:12).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:10 grumble. Complaining about God's actions, here with reference to Nu 14:1–38.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:11 as an example. The Corinthians are to learn from the negative example of the Israelites (cf v 6). end of the ages. Though Israel could only hope for the coming of Christ, the Corinthians had the advantage of living in the last days when God fulfilled His promise of forgiveness and salvation in Christ.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:12 thinks that he stands. Misplaced confidence in one's own strength. fall. Into sin and away from God.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:13 common. All humans undergo temptation, even those who, like some Corinthians, think that they have special spiritual abilities. God is faithful. To His covenant promises; cf Dt 7:9; 34:4. He will also provide the way of escape. Because God has promised to remain with His people, we are never left in a losing situation. His grace provides new opportunities for us to be faithful. " 'Lead us not into temptation' … refers to times when God gives us power and strength to resist the temptation [1 Corinthians 10:13]. However, the temptation is not taken away or removed. While we live in the flesh and have the devil around us, no one can escape his temptation and lures. It can only mean that we must endure trials—indeed, be engulfed in them [2 Timothy 2:3]. But we say this prayer so that we may not fall and be drowned in them. To feel temptation is, therefore, a far different thing from consenting or yielding to it" (LC III 106–7). See SC, Lord's Prayer, pp xxxviii–xxxix.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:14 my beloved. Direct address to the Corinthians; introduces an application of the argument made in vv 1–13. flee from idolatry. Ter: "Reflect on what a thicket [idolatry] is, and how many thorns lie hid in it. Nothing must be given to an idol, and so nothing must be taken from one" (ANF 3:99). Cf 6:18.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:15 sensible people; judge for yourselves. Paul appeals to the commonsense reasoning of the Corinthians in the following argument, rather than the example of Israel (as in vv 1–13).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:16 cup of blessing that we bless … bread that we break. Describes consecration of the eucharistic elements. Just: "There is then brought to the president of the brethren bread and a cup of wine mixed with water; and he taking them, gives praise and glory to the Father of the universe, through the name of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, and offers thanks at considerable length for our being counted worthy to receive these things at His hands. And when he has concluded the prayers and thanksgivings, all the people present express their assent by saying Amen…. And this food is called among us … [the Eucharist]" (ANF 1:185). participation. Gk koinonia, see p 1903. Difficult to render with a single Eng word, it is fellowship with both a heavenly and earthly dimension. The Sacrament unites the participants both to Christ's eucharistic body and blood as well as to their fellow participants. By receiving Christ in this meal, we receive His body and blood and the benefits of the sacrifice of His body and blood, foremost among them the forgiveness of sins. This forgiveness through Christ unites the participants in the Body of Christ (cf v 17; 12:27). blood … body. More is happening than merely an earthly union among believers (the "Body of Christ"). Because Christ's actual body and blood are received, this must also refer to sacramental union with Christ. "Christ's body and blood are received with the bread and wine, not only spiritually through faith, but also orally. Yet not in a 'Capernaitic' way, but in a supernatural, heavenly way, because of the sacramental union. Christ's words clearly show this, when Christ gives direction to take, eat, and drink, as was also done by the apostles. For it is written in Mark 14:23, 'And they all drank of it.' St. Paul likewise says [in 1 Corinthians 10:16], 'The bread that we break, is it not a participation in the body of Christ?' That is to say: He who eats this bread eats Christ's body, which also the chief ancient teachers of the Church—Chrysostom, Cyprian, Leo I, Gregory, Ambrose, Augustine—unanimously testify" (FC Ep VII 15).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:17 one bread … one body. Union with Christ results in union with one another. The symbol of sharing "one bread" corresponds to the reality of the "one body." This unity is emphasized in particular because of the actions of some in Corinth, who were destroying the faith of those "for whom Christ died" (8:11). Cyr Al: "Who has doubted that Christ is in this manner a vine, and we the branches, deriving life for ourselves from this? … We must consider that Christ is in us not only according to the habit, which we call love, but also by natural participation" (Ap X 56). partake. Eating the sacramental meal.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:18 people of Israel … eat the sacrifices. Cf Dt 14:22–27, where the food tithe was eaten following its sacrifice. See pp 170–71. By participating in this meal, the Israelites participated in worship of Yahweh. This parallels what some Corinthians were doing when they participated in the rituals where food was sacrificed to idols, which made them participants in the worship of that idol (v 20).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:19 an idol is anything? See note, 8:4.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:20 offer to demons. Sacrifices to false gods. participants with demons. Participating in worship of false gods and eating the food from the sacrifices as if they were present makes that false god real by those placing themselves under their influence. Their participation in these meals, regardless of their theological position, indicated their acceptance of what took place at that altar.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:21 cup … table of the Lord. Because the corporate worship of the Christian community reaches its high point in the celebration of the Lord's Supper, Paul uses the objects associated with the Sacrament to refer to the worship of the true God. cannot partake. A command. One who worships the true God cannot also worship a false god. By eating at one altar, participants identify themselves with the worship that takes place there. As one cannot worship both the true God and a false god, neither can one participate in the rites of both.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:22 jealousy? A common OT reference to God's judgment; cf Ex 20:5; Dt 32:15–21, both in the context of the worship of false gods. By not answering "no" to this question and changing their behavior, the Corinthians would face God's anger and wrath.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:1–22 "Flee from idolatry" (v 14) summarizes this section. Even Israel, who had seen God's mighty works throughout the exodus, acted as if God were not real, as if they could rely on gods of their own creation or even themselves to keep them safe. In our age, there are many gods. Some are worshiped as such (e.g., Islam, Hinduism); others subtly become gods (e.g., money, pride). Luth: "A god means that from which we are to expect all good and in which we are to take refuge in all distress" (LC I 2). Our society has many such gods, be they wealth, status, reputation, even family. But the one true God does not tolerate shared allegiance. If we participated in the worship of false gods or in churches that do not faithfully confess the Gospel in all its purity, this would indicate that we assent to what that worshiping community believes. For this reason, we avoid such false worship. At the Lord's Table, He offers His body and blood for the forgiveness of sins and through them creates a faithful community, one committed to Him and to one another. He comes to His people in His Word and in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, which forgives sins and creates a Church faithful to Him. • From being led astray by the many gods of this world, protect us by Your Spirit, Lord. Thank You for the gift of Your Son, who comes to us in His body and blood, and for the gift of the congregation in which I hear Your Word proclaimed faithfully and where I receive this life-giving Sacrament. Strengthen me to build up my fellow participants in worship of You. Amen.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:23 All things are lawful. See note, 6:12–13. helpful. For the benefit of either oneself or others. build up. Returns to a theme expressed in 8:1–3 and developed further in 14:3–5.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:24 A summary of the argument of chs 8–10; it parallels Jesus' own statements regarding the "greatest commandment" (e.g., Mk 12:28–34, based on Lv 19:18). From this summary, Paul makes application to two specific situations faced in Corinth: meat from a market and eating at a nonbeliever's home.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:25 meat market. The macellum in Roman cities (see p 1944) sold all types of produce and meat. Some of this food would come from farmers or butchers, but some may have come from sacrifices in temples, sold to generate income. The macellum in Corinth was located near several temples, thus raising questions about the source of meat sold there. So long as neither the worship of the idol took place nor its presence was invoked in the act of eating (8:4–6), all food was permitted because it had all been created by God. without raising any question. See note, v 27. conscience. See p 1902. God's perspective, not one's personal moral code, should determine whether one eats meat from the macellum.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:27–30 Even a simple meal with friends and neighbors becomes an opportunity for witness.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:27 disposed. Simply sharing a meal with unbelievers is not a problem, unless the meal involves food sacrificed to idols. without raising any question. God's perspective, not conscience, should not be one's guide. Because all food is clean (Mk 7:19), one should not use personal moral judgments to decide whether or not to eat.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:28–29a Someone at the meal makes a connection between idol worship and the food being eaten. do not eat it. Because others might connect the idol and the food, Christians must not eat the food, lest the others think that eating food sacrificed to their god is acceptable behavior. The reaction of the host, who may be offended, is not indicated here. However, in giving an explanation as to why they do not eat, Christians would have an opportunity to share the Gospel with the unbelievers so that they, too, "may be saved" (v 33).
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:29b–30 Objections that may have been raised by the Corinthians. Paul responds in 10:31–11:1.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:31–11:1 The summary of whether to eat idol food. Unacceptable situations: in the temple dining rooms (8:7–13), in temple rituals (10:14–22), or when an unbeliever makes a connection between the idol and the food (10:27–29). Acceptable situations: food purchased in the marketplace (10:25–26), in a nonbeliever's home, as long as no connection to an idol is made. The determining factor is how the other person views the food. Showing love to others means deferring one's theologically founded right to eat so as not to mislead them into sin (8:10–12) or leave them thinking that eating sacrificial food is acceptable (10:27–29). To "love your neighbor as yourself" (Mt 22:39) brings glory to God.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:32 Give no offense. Not mere "offensive behavior," but leading fellow members of the Church into sin (8:10–13) or leaving non-Christians in unbelief (10:27–29).
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:33 please everyone. Not the people pleasing condemned in Gal 1:10, but sacrificially seeking the good of others. saved. See p 1904. The goal that defines Christian behavior toward others—that fellow Christians be built up to salvation and that nonbelievers come to salvation.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:1 imitators of me. Christ is always the preeminent example, yet in the day-to-day living of the Christian life, it is also helpful to have someone close at hand as an example and model. Cf Php 3:17.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:23–11:1 In Western culture, Christians rarely have to deal with food sacrificed to other gods, though Christians in Asia and Africa must deal with these issues directly. In either case, Paul's instructions show that our actions communicate something about who we are to those around us. While called to be faithful to God, we are also called to build up both our fellow Christians and, ultimately, to lead all whom we meet to Christ. Our actions tell others about who we are in Christ, giving us an opportunity to witness to His love in all aspects of our lives. Christians are not forbidden from interacting with those who do not know Christ—far from it. By our actions and words among them we can testify to the one God and what His Son, Jesus Christ, has done for us. • Forgive my halting and hesitant witness, Lord. Guide me in every situation to "seek to save" others. Amen.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:2–16 The situations described in this section are largely foreign to our modern context. In Roman culture, both men and women conveyed their status, including their marital situation, by their appearance. A head covering, basically a shawl draped over the head, conveyed that a woman was married and intended to remain in that situation. Some Roman women, however, sought to live as "new women" who did not intend to remain faithful to their husbands. Women who uncovered their head immodestly drew attention to themselves by signaling that they were available to other men. In the name of "Gospel freedom" and "rights," this thinking and behavior began to influence Christians in Corinth. Paul's instruction, as in chs 8–10, reminds the Corinthians that their actions always communicate something to others. They are to refrain from behavior that communicates something at odds with the Christian life.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:2 remember me. Recall what Paul taught, and live by it. the traditions. See p 1904. delivered. See p 1902.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:3 head. That which is preeminent within a relationship. The "head' is responsible for the actions of the body.

As a metaphor for the Church, Paul notes that the body has many parts with different roles (12:12–26), the "head" of which is Christ. So also here, the "head" is that which is preeminent, though not greater than the other parts, because the head is most prominent, visible, and necessary for the proper function of the rest of the body. The Father is the head of Christ according to Christ's human nature. Christ willingly obeys the Father, as Luther said, "God said to His beloved Son: 'It's time to have compassion. Then go, bright jewel of My crown, And bring to all salvation.' … The Son obeyed His Father's will" (LSB 556:5–6; cf Jn 6:35–40). The relationship does not make the Son inferior. A husband and wife live in a relationship with different roles, yet without implication of superiority or inferiority (Eph 5:22–33). Chrys: "Had Paul meant to speak of rule and subjection … he would not have brought forward the instance of a wife, but rather of a slave and a master." (NPNF 1 12:150). The roles of husbands and wives became an issue in Corinth, where some women gave the appearance of no longer desiring to stay faithful to their husbands.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:4 prays or prophesies. Neither action is specific to the pastoral office but may be done by any Christian (Rm 12:6; 1Co 14:1–5; see p 3851). This is not the NT office of "prophet," which is closely related to the office of pastor (Eph 4:11). See notes, 14:3, 29; 1Th 5:20. dishonors his head. In the OT, long hair was a Nazirite sign of commitment to God (Nu 6:5), and few modern cultures hold that long hair shames a man. However, Roman culture viewed long hair on a man as a disgrace. This may allude to the respect and honor that was accorded the aged, whose bald heads were viewed as signs of wisdom, experience, and honor.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:5–6 head uncovered. See note, v 3. dishonors her head. Signals to all present that she is no longer married or faithful to her husband, much like a harlot. same as if her head were shaven. The ultimate disgrace; a shaved head signaled both loss of status as a wife and, in some Roman cities, conviction of prostitution.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:7–9 image. Highlights that man is given some of the attributes of God (Gn 1:27), primarily authority over creation. glory. Highlights that, in accomplishing his purpose, man brings glory to God (Ps 8:5). glory of man. The woman is created "from man" (v 8) in order to be a "helper" for man (v 9; see note, Gn 2:18) in the creation over which God had given the man responsibility (Gn 2:15). By also having this authority, she is likewise in the image of God (Gn 1:27), but Paul does not mention that here because he is discussing the relationship between man and woman, not woman and God.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:10 symbol of authority. In Roman culture, the head covering signified a married woman's status. because of the angels. A difficult phrase that likely conveys the idea of "in heaven, so on earth." Just as angels observe proper respect in their worship of the exalted Lord, so on earth His people should do the same.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:11 in the Lord. In those transformed by Baptism into Christ (Rm 6:1–4). not independent. Different from the attitude of the prevailing culture in which women were seeking independent roles. Paul does not place woman "under" man but points out that in God's order both need the other. The difference is in roles, not in worth before God.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:12 all things are from God. God is the head of all creation (cf 8:6; see note, 3:23).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:13–15 Having appealed to creation in vv 9–12, Paul next appeals to their shared experience.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:13 By removing the head covering, the woman signals that she is abandoning the role given her by God. Seeking to turn away from God but then turning to Him in prayer are contradictory.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:14 nature. No Scripture passage teaches this, nor is Paul appealing to the created order. Instead, as in v 13, he calls them to consider how things are in their culture.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:15 covering. Summarizes vv 9–12 and 14–15, pointing out that the practices of Roman culture regarding head coverings and gender distinction are in harmony with God's will. Women typically braided or knotted their hair and also wore a cloth or veil covering.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:16 contentious. Deviating from apostolic teaching and practice passed on by Paul and others, including Sosthenes (1:1). no such practice. Removal of gender distinctions by altering the practices of head covering or uncovering. churches of God. Paul appeals to the broader church to show that this is not merely his teaching.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:1–16 "Actions speak louder than words" summarizes much of chs 8–11, especially this section. These Roman women think they can go along with cultural trends. However, removal of their hair covering would be similar to a woman in our culture removing her wedding ring: it symbolizes that she no longer intends to live in a faithful marriage relationship. Paul is concerned about outward conduct but also about the roles God has given to each gender. The removal of the covering would eliminate the gender distinctions God established. The Lord has provided order in the family through faithful husbands and fathers and dedicated wives and mothers. When we seek to live in ways other than how He has called us to live, we move away from Him. Yet we are not abandoned to drift about in this world. God's Son loved us with a perfect love, sacrificing Himself on the cross for us. The forgiveness won for us there cleanses us from all our failures, even where we have failed those closest to us. • Made new in You, O Christ, we love as You loved and serve as You served. Set our hearts to do Your will, O God. Amen.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:17 I do not commend you. Contrast with v 2; while the head-covering issue was problematic, improper practices at the Lord's Supper needed sterner rebuke. come together. A meal that also included worship (see note, v 21) took place in homes, likely the larger homes of wealthier members of the community. The formal dining area (the triclinium) of a home was of limited size. Thus, the Roman host invited his friends and those whom he wished to honor to dine in this room and share the best food. Others were forced to eat elsewhere, likely in the atrium. In this way, social distinctions were wrongly observed in the congregation. This contradicted the purpose of the Lord's Supper: to offer the forgiveness of sins, which creates unity with Christ and unity with one another (see notes, 10:16, 17). The Corinthians were using the meal to create divisions (vv 18–19), rejecting the very forgiveness offered in the Sacrament.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:18 divisions. Distinctions within the Church based on human reasons, condemned also in Gal 5:20.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:19 factions. Cf Mt 10:34–37. genuine among you. The divisions, though sad, made clear who was following apostolic teaching and who was not.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:20 not the Lord's supper. By creating divisions, the Corinthians demonstrated that they were not intending to celebrate the Lord's Supper according to Christ's institution, but as a meal for the host and his favored guests (see note, v 17). This did not invalidate the Supper, but it did contradict the Gospel. The result was judgment (vv 29–32).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:21 one goes ahead … drunk. The wealthy ate the best food and wine to excess, without leaving any for those in the outer rooms (see note, v 17). meal. A community meal was shared by the Corinthians when they celebrated the Lord's Supper.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:22 houses to eat and drink in? Or, "houses for this eating and drinking." See note, v 34. church. Not a building but those who belong to God by faith. See pp 1901–2. those who have nothing? Those of lower status who were excluded from the main meal (see note, v 17).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:23 I received from the Lord. Not by direct revelation, but through the passing on of the teachings of Christ through the apostles. on the night when He was betrayed. The Lord's Supper looks back to its institution by Jesus Himself, which was based on His sacrifice on the cross the following day. bread. Because the Lord's Supper was instituted during a Passover meal (Lk 22:7–13), Jesus would have blessed unleavened bread (Ex 12:14–20).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:24–25 See notes, Lk 22:19–20.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:24 broke. The breaking of the bread parallels the sacrificial "breaking" of Christ's body on the cross. " 'When the Word is joined to the element or natural substance, it becomes a Sacrament.' This saying of St. Augustine is so properly and so well put that he has scarcely said anything better. The Word must make a Sacrament out of the element, or else it remains a mere element. Now, it is not the word or ordinance of a prince or emperor. But it is the Word of the grand Majesty, at whose feet all creatures should fall and affirm it is as He says, and accept it with all reverence, fear, and humility" (LC V 10–11). This is My body. Though "is" or "was" might be used metaphorically elsewhere (e.g., 10:4), 10:16 and 11:27 make clear that in the receiving of the sacramental bread, one also receives the very body of Christ. Luth: "It is the true body and blood of our Lord Jesus Christ under the bread and wine" (SC, Sacrament of the Altar, p xli). for you. The benefits of Christ's sacrifice on the cross are delivered to His people in the Sacrament. remembrance. Not merely a memorial of what Jesus did on the cross, the Lord's Supper brings the benefits of Christ's work into the present day and transforms lives now. See "remember," p 843.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:25 cup, after supper. One of several cups of wine used ceremonially at a Passover meal. "Cup" here stands for the wine. new covenant in My blood. To this cup, Jesus gives new significance. The old covenant, made explicit to Abraham, then Israel, is now made complete and perfect in Christ's sacrificial death because it delivers the forgiveness of sins (Jer 31:31–34; Mt 26:28). Whereas the previous covenant celebrated a Passover meal, the new covenant celebrates the Lord's Supper. "There are two things in a Sacrament: a sign and the Word. In the New Testament, the Word is the promise of grace added. The promise of the New Testament is the promise of the forgiveness of sins" (Ap XXIV 69). remembrance. See note, v 24.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:26 as often. Jesus left no specific instruction as to the frequency of the celebration. Though the Passover was celebrated yearly, early Christians celebrated the Lord's Supper on the Lord's Day, i.e., Sunday, the day of Christ's resurrection. "For Christ did not say, 'Omit this' or 'Despise this,' but 'This do, as often as you drink it,' etc. He most certainly wants it done and does not want it left undone and despised" (SC, Preface, p xxxiv). you proclaim. Not a public setting with guests or visitors, but an act of proclaiming among themselves and to every generation that, in the Sacrament, they also shared in the new covenant. The "you" is plural; again, what should have been a celebration and proclamation of the unity created by Christ had broken down into an opportunity for individual indulgence (see note, v 17). proclaim the Lord's death until He comes. The Lord's Supper does not merely look back, but it also looks forward to the feast in the presence of the Lord on the Last Day (Mt 26:29).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:27–32 Paul describes the implications of Jesus' institution for the situation in Corinth.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:27 unworthy manner. Includes celebrating the Sacrament in a manner that is inconsistent with Jesus' institution, particularly the creation of divisions (see note, v 17). It also includes not recognizing what is given and received in the "body and blood." Were Paul discussing exclusively the Church as the Body of Christ, there would have been no mention of the blood. However, eating and drinking in an unworthy manner also includes not recognizing the sacramental presence of Christ's body and blood (cf v 29). guilty. Abusing the Sacrament by making it an occasion for sin, not for its intended purpose of forgiveness and unity makes one guilty and liable to judgment (vv 29– 32). “Those who go to the Sacrament [Lord’s Supper] unworthily yet still receive the true Sacrament, even though they do not believe” (LC IV 54).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:28 examine himself. To see whether or not the person is receiving the Sacrament according to Christ’s institution, not in an “unworthy manner” (see note, v 27). This does not require a perfect, sinless life before reception of the Sacrament but a desire to receive the blessings of the Sacrament, including forgiveness and being formed with fellow recipients as the Body of Christ. Paul illustrates pastoral oversight in the examination by rebuking their sin and returning them to their catechesis (v 23; see p 1965). “Confession in the churches is not abolished among us. The body of the Lord is not usually given to those who have not been examined [1 Corinthians 11:27–28] and absolved” (AC XXV 1; see also LC V 49–50).
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:29 without discerning the body. Short for “body and blood” used throughout this section. Note parallels at vv 27–28. “Discerning” includes recognizing the “true body and blood of our Lord Jesus Christ under the bread and wine” (SC, Sacrament of the Altar, p xli). It also implies a desire for the “forgiveness of sins, life, and salvation” offered in the Sacrament. Finally, in the context of vv 17–34, it also includes a desire to end the human divisions that destroy the unity of the Body of Christ created through the Sacrament. eats and drinks judgment on himself. Not everyone who was participating in the sacramental meal in Corinth was condemned—only those who did not discern the body and so came under God’s judgment (vv 31–32). “The pastors do not force those who are not qualified to use the Sacraments” (Ap XI 62).
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:30 The same food that should have strengthened their faith instead caused physical harm. The effect of benefit to one person and curse to another is similar to the way Paul describes the Gospel itself (2Co 2:14–16). Physical punishment follows spiritual problems, just as it did for Israel (10:1–13).
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:31–32 judged. Cf v 28; had proper examination taken place, the sufferings of the Corinthians would not have happened. “ ‘To judge’ should be understood to include all of repentance and required fruit, not works that are not required” (Ap XIIB 66). Even in God’s judgment (v 30), the goal is salvation.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:33–34 Application of the theological argumentation to the situation in Corinth.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:33 Paul reminds them to be considerate of one another (cf vv 21–22), welcoming "one another as Christ has welcomed you" (Rm 15:7). "Paul … has this command … so that there may be a common participation" (AC XXIV 39).
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:34 eat at home. The communal celebration of the Lord's Supper was not to focus on meeting the physical needs of the body; God's supply of daily bread was to be enjoyed at home (v 22; 10:25–26). for judgment. To continue celebrating the Lord's Supper sinfully would have resulted in God's continuing judgment and, potentially, condemnation (vv 29–30). other things. Not explained here; not as crucial as food sacrificed to idols (8:1–11:1), coverings in worship (11:2–16), and the celebration of the Lord's Supper. directions. Paul will exercise pastoral care in person rather than through correspondence. when I come. Paul's future plans are described in 16:5–8.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:17–34 The Corinthians have turned the Sacrament into a supper of their own making. As a result, the community of believers formed by the Gospel and the Sacrament is being harmed and individuals are falling under God's judgment. Recalling Christ's own institution of the Supper, Paul reminds the Corinthians to recognize what God has offered in the Sacrament: the body and blood of Christ, the forgiveness of sins, and through it the union of the Body of Christ, the Church, gathered around the altar. The Lord's Supper is never just a private matter, something only between God and oneself, but it is a celebration of the whole Body of Christ. • Forgive, O Lord, the dullness that too frequently overcomes us as You draw us to Your Table. Remind us of the blessings of forgiveness and salvation You provide for us there. Send faithful pastors who will admonish our wrongs, remind us of Your love in Christ, and encourage us to receive the forgiveness brought to us in Your Sacrament. Unite us in love and fellowship with those whom You have redeemed who join us at Your Table. Amen.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON Chs 12–14 Paul primarily instructs congregational leaders, the "spiritual," who have adopted different practices and divided the congregation. See note, 14:1.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:1 spiritual gifts. See p 1902. See also note, 12:4–6. brothers. See p 1901.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:2 mute idols. In contrast, the living God speaks to His people through servants of the Word such as the prophets. you were led. They were captive to false religion, subject to Satan's deception.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:3 speaking in the Spirit. The Holy Spirit directs believers' conversation and life. Jesus is accursed! Perhaps someone in Corinth who claimed spiritual authority in the congregation voiced this evil confession. accursed. See p 1901. Jesus is Lord. Christ is not simply "a" lord but is "the" Lord, Yahweh, the Savior. See p 1975. except in the Holy Spirit. "Neither you nor I could ever know anything about Christ, or believe on Him, and have Him for our Lord, unless it were offered to us and granted to our hearts by the Holy Spirit through the preaching of the Gospel" (LC II 38).
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:4–6 varieties of gifts … service … activities. Note the linkage between these terms, which describe the "spiritual" in v 1. The gifts are embodied in works of ministers, the "spiritual" people. same Spirit … Lord … God. The Persons of the Trinity in reverse order. The varieties of service are united by the one God, who gives them. Just as the Lord is triune but not divided, so the ministry is various but not divided. empowers. Gk energeo, "to work." The Lord is the only source of righteous "spirituality."
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:7 each. Each member of the body ("brother," v 1). manifestation of the Spirit. The Spirit's work through the brothers. common good. The Spirit ministers to the whole congregation through their service.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:8–10 The key point of these passages is that the one Holy Spirit produces all these works through the "spiritual" (v 1) of the congregation. Therefore, these callings and gifts are not to divide God's people.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:8 utterance of wisdom … knowledge. The blessings of Christ's Gospel are topics most valued by the Corinthians (1:5). Wisdom rightly applies knowledge. See p 1016.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:9 faith. Not the gift of saving faith but trust in God's mercy and help in the face of great difficulty and need (cf Mt 17:14–21). gifts of healing. Lit, "healings." Such blessings accompanied the ministry of Jesus and the apostles (cf Lk 9:1–2; Ac 3:1–10; 5:12–16). Luth: "Many people have been preserved by prayer, as we prayed Philip back to life" (AE 54:453–54).
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:10 working of miracles. Lit, "workings of powers." Another reference to God doing miracles (cf Mt 11:20–23).

God's power is made perfect in our weaknesses, which illustrate our helpless condition due to sin and His almighty power to save (2Co 12:7–9). prophecy. See pp 1077–83. God speaks through His called servants to warn, instruct, forgive, and encourage. distinguish between spirits. Cf 1Jn 4:1–3; Dt 18:20–22. kinds of tongues. Various languages. interpretation of tongues. Translation of languages. Luth: "He refers to 'speaking in tongues,' which is nothing else than reading Scripture orally" (AE 14:36; see also AE 28:329). Regarding Ac 2, early Christian and medieval interpreters, like Luther, viewed tongues as natural human languages, not ecstatic babbling. In multilingual congregations, the readings, liturgy, prayers, and sermon were often given in more than one language. The rabbis described these circumstances in the early synagogues and provided guidelines. See note, 14:14; see also p 1969.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:11 empowered. See note, vv 4–6; cf Ac 1:8. apportions … as He wills. The calling comes from God, not us.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:1–11 God, who is one, unified and blessed the Corinthian congregation through His Spirit and gifts. Like the congregation at Corinth, we also suffer from divisions and party spirit, which undermine God's work among us. Yet the Lord still leads us to true confession through Jesus, our Savior, and the Spirit's work among us. • Mute our idolatrous pride and curb our party spirit, O triune Lord. Combine our hearts in works that praise You, even as You unite our voices in the true confession of Your name. Amen.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:12 members. See p 1903. A living, active bond between Christians. so … with Christ. Believers are united to Christ and to one another.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:13 in one Spirit … all baptized. Holy Baptism, in which the Spirit is poured out (Ac 2:38–39), is the basis of Christian unity. Jews or Greeks, slaves or free. These are basic cultural and economic boundaries in the Roman Empire, esp from the perspective of Jewish people, who saw themselves as set apart from other nationalities. See p 101. drink. The same verb as in 3:6, "watered." one Spirit. Given with the proclamation in Baptism and preaching.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:15–17 See notes, 1:10, 12; see also p 1965.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:18 God arranged the members. Paul attributed the diversity within the congregation to part of God's plan.

People are most comfortable with those like themselves. Paul is asking them to see the benefits of their diversity. arranged. Same verb as in v 28, "appointed."
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:20 parts. See note, v 12.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:22 weaker are indispensable. See notes, 1:27; 9:22. God's ways are paradoxical, as demonstrated in the OT (cf Gn 48:17–20) and in Jesus' teachings about His kingdom (cf Mt 19:30).
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:23 honorable … unpresentable parts. Modesty accentuates the importance of the sexual organs, which God located out of view and behind hair to reserve them for special, honorable use. See LC I 287.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:24 See notes, vv 18, 22. composed. Used to describe the blending of paint colors.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:25–26 same care. As demonstrated in mutual suffering and rejoicing.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:27 you. Plural; the congregation. body of Christ. See p 1965. To be a Christian is to be in a congregation and in the communion of saints. Aug: "Secretly, and as a friend, [Victorinus said] 'Know that I am a Christian.' To which [Simplicianus] replied, 'I will not believe it, nor will I rank you among the Christians unless I see you in the Church of Christ.' Whereupon he replied derisively, 'Is it then the walls that make Christians?' … For he was fearful of offending his friends…. But after that, from reading and inquiry, he had derived strength … and unexpectedly said to Simplicianus,—as he himself informed me,—'Let us go to the Church; I wish to be made a Christian.' … He not long after gave in his name, that he might be regenerated by baptism,—Rome marvelling, and the Church rejoicing" (NPNF 1 1:117–18).
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:28 Unlike the list in vv 8–10, Paul here ranks the gifts and offices in the Church, placing preaching and teaching before the offices of service. He emphasizes the Gospel first, which leads to loving acts of service (see order in Ac 6:1–7). See p 1902. However, preachers and teachers must regard themselves as united with the Body and as serving God's servants with their message. God's order is no basis for arrogance. Cf ch 13. appointed. See note, v 18.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:29–30 The questions demand a "no." Paul clearly distinguishes offices and services within a congregation. He also refutes the teaching that all must speak in tongues as evidence of the Spirit.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:31 higher gifts. Paul lists these edifying gifts first; see note, 14:1. more excellent way. There is something greater than attaining these gifts: love, as described in ch 13.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:12–31 Paul seeks to settle and unite the Corinthian congregation by emphasizing the order God established in creation and the priority of the Gospel. The sin of arrogance plaguing the Corinthians still disrupts congregations today when roles of service are not clearly defined or valued. Yet also today, Christ unites us in Baptism and makes us His very Body. Though wounded and afflicted, His Body can never be destroyed but carries out God's loving purposes. • Grant me refuge, dear Jesus, in Your holy wounds, from which You poured life and blessing for me and for all. Because You value all Your people, teach me to love and serve them humbly according to my calling. Amen.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:1–8 Paul uses "all or nothing" rhetoric throughout this section. "He does not say that we have access to God by our love without Christ as the Atoning Sacrifice, that we receive the promised forgiveness of sins by our love. Paul says nothing about this. He does not, therefore, think that love justifies, because we are justified only when we receive Christ as the Atoning Sacrifice and believe that for Christ's sake God is reconciled to us" (Ap V 101).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:1 tongues of men and of angels. Any language. See p 1969. Because Hbr was the language of the temple prayers, rabbis came to regard it as the language of the angels. love. See p 1903. noisy … clanging. Not melodious, but annoying. Devotees of Dionysus and Cybele clashed cymbals during frenzied worship. Corinthian brass works likely made such cymbals.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:2 prophetic powers. Lit, "prophecy," which could describe the office. all mysteries and all knowledge. See notes, 1:5; 2:7; cf Dn 2:19–23. all faith. See note, 12:9. I am nothing. Without love, office and service bring neither good nor honor.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:3 give away. Like breaking away bits of bread until the entire loaf is gone. burned. See ESV note. An early variant refers to giving the body up for "boasting" rather than "burning." In all cases, willing martyrdom is meant. gain nothing. Without love, goodness and honor are never gained. "We are to keep the Law when we have been justified by faith, and so grow in fulfilling the Law more and more 'by the Spirit'" (Ap V 3).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:4–7 Poetically balanced between negative and positive statements. Fifteen assertions describe the nature of love in Christ: two positive statements, eight negative statements (the last one adds a positive contrast), then four positive statements. The first assertions are most important ("patient," "kind"; God's attributes, see note, Ex 34:6) and are further defined by the assertions that follow.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:8 Love never ends. Or, "never fails." Paul introduces another contrast to show love's superiority. pass away … pass away. The same verb (katargeo) is repeated in different forms. The offices/gifts craved by the Corinthians are bound to the present era and will not be needed in eternity.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:9 in part. God has not revealed everything we could know or that could be revealed through ongoing prophecy. For life now, God insists that we live by faith.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:10 the perfect. Gk teleios, "something or someone complete." The fullness and completeness that will appear with Christ's return. He is perfect and is the One who makes perfect (Heb 12:2). "At that time there will be no more forgiveness, but only perfectly pure and holy people" (LC II 58).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:11 Childhood is "imperfect" and incomplete because the mind and body are designed to strive for maturity.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:12 a mirror. Made from polished brass. Archaeologists have found such mirrors at Corinth. dimly. Lit, "in a riddle." The knowledge is indirect and, therefore, imperfect. face to face. In God's immediate presence (cf Ex 33:11; Dt 34:10), where He is not "hidden" by our present limitations. know fully. Perfecting our knowledge in God's presence. The believer will not simply know about God but will have direct, personal experience of Him. fully known. God is all-knowing and already knows us fully.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:13 faith, hope, and love. A summary of Christian virtues. greatest. "Faith" and "hope" are by nature imperfect, because they mature into "knowledge" when the thing believed in or hoped for is reached. Love does not turn into something else but, when mature, remains love. "Paul, in this passage, properly speaks about love toward one's neighbor and indicates that love is the greatest, because it has the most fruit. Faith and hope have to do only with God. But love has infinite offices outwardly toward humanity" (Ap V 105). "Faith is never alone, but always has love and hope with it" (FC Ep III 11).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON Ch 13 By so completely describing and advocating love's divine qualities, Paul reveals the Corinthians' immaturity. He sharply rebukes all noisy, clanging boasts of superiority. Yet, he alludes to the fact that the Father—who knows His children all too well—still loves them, reaches for them by His Word, and will embrace them eternally because of Christ, who delivered Himself up for us all. • O Father, all-knowing, when my brothers and sisters disappoint and annoy me, take my hands and stretch them wide to embrace them with Your all-embracing love; through Jesus, our mutual Savior. Amen.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:1 Pursue love. Paul returns to the theme introduced in 8:1—love moves people to build one another up. spiritual gifts. See notes, 12:1, 4–6. especially … prophesy. Prophecy is established as one of the chief gifts (12:28–31). See note, v 3. Luther first applied ch 14 to the whole congregation (AE 40:22–23), but his view changed. He later wrote, "He is not commanding the congregation to preach, but is dealing with those who are preachers in the congregations or assemblies…. The lesson was sung or read by one or two…. Then one of the prophets whose turn it was spoke and interpreted the lesson…. When one was through, another might have something to add in confirmation or clarification" (AE 40:389). Luther's mature view agrees with synagogue practices in the first century, which the early Christians adopted (cf Ac 13:14–16; 15:13–21).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:2 tongue. See note, 12:10; see also p 1969. not to men … no one understands. Hyperbole, because tongues could be interpreted, though this also was the Spirit's work (see notes, vv 3, 4–5). Paul is describing the broader group's experience. The speaker used a language people could not understand, so members of the congregation were confused (cf Ac 2:12). Paul's hyperbole downplays the importance of tongues for the congregation (cf vv 6–11). mysteries in the Spirit. Earlier, Paul explained that God's mysteries cannot be known by human means (2:6–13). The Spirit must reveal how Christ fulfilled the ancient mysteries (cf 2:10, 13). Elsewhere, Paul named specific "mysteries" the Spirit taught and revealed (throughout these passages appear terms of speaking, uttering, and proclaiming). The mysteries are the inclusion of the Gentiles in Israel's salvation (Rm 11:25; Eph 3:2–6; Col 1:26–27), the Gospel truths recorded in the prophetic writings (Rm 16:25–26), salvation through the Lord's crucifixion (2:8), the resurrection promised through Christ (15:51), and the Gospel of Christ generally (Eph 6:19; Col 2:2–3; 4:3–4; 1Tm 3:16). Peter preached most of these themes on Pentecost, when he explained OT prophecies to those confused by speaking in tongues (Ac 2:14–36). According to Acts and Paul, the content of speaking in tongues was "the mighty works of God" (Ac 2:11), "extolling God" (Ac 10:46), "prayer" (1Co 14:14), and "thanksgiving" (1Co 14:16). See note, v 3.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:3 upbuilding … encouragement … consolation. Prophecy, as preaching, makes the meaning and application of God's teaching clear (vv 24–25). See pp 1077–83. Luth: "St. Paul writes of the office of preaching in the congregation, to which [the congregation] is to listen and to learn from it, when he says: Whoever comes forward, and wants to read, teach, or preach, and yet speaks with tongues, that is, speaks Latin instead of German [as happened in Luther's day], or some unknown language, he is to be silent and preach to himself alone. For no one can hear it or understand it, and no one can get any benefit from it. Or, if he should speak with tongues, he ought, in addition, put what he says into German, or interpret it in one way or another, so that the congregation may understand him" (AE 40:142).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:4–5 builds up himself. Rhetorically, Paul reduced tongues to a selfish act in order to shame the proud Corinthians. Yet he conceded the use of tongues, as he did other practices of the congregation (cf 7:6). unless someone interprets. Tongues became edifying through translation or explanation. Cf Ac 2, where tongues are followed by quotation of Scripture and preaching (see notes, vv 2, 3). Luther understood the practical concerns raised by ritual language because of the medieval custom of using Latin rather than the common language of the people. Luth: "Hence has come the custom in all lands, to read the gospel immediately before the sermon in Latin, which St. Paul calls speaking in tongues in the congregation. However, since the sermon comes soon thereafter and translates and interprets the tongue, St. Paul does not reject or forbid it" (AE 40:142). See note, 12:10.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:6 revelation … knowledge … prophecy … teaching? Similar activities are mentioned in 12:8–10, 28. These were the content of apostolic preaching. See note, v 3.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:7–11 Paul uses rhetoric to build empathy for the "outsiders" (v 23), who could not understand and were alienated by the Corinthians' practices.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:9 not intelligible. See note, v 2.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:11 foreigner. Gk barbaros, a non-Greek (as in Eng "barbarian").
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:12 eager for manifestations of the Spirit. Lit, "zealots of the spirits." Some manuscripts have "zealots of the spiritual gifts," which probably gives the sense. However, cf Is 11:2; Rv 1:4.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:13 pray for the power to interpret. Lit, "pray so that he may interpret." Interpretation was a spiritual activity that should follow speaking in a tongue. See notes, vv 3, 4–5.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:14 my mind is unfruitful. Ritual language is known for its conservative tendencies. E.g., we still pray "Our Father," quote Bible passages, or sing hymns and liturgy in seventeenth-century English (KJV); immigrant communities typically use their heritage language and their new language alongside each other in worship settings, even when the meaning of their heritage language is being lost (linguists refer to this as "language shift"). Records of ritual conservatism, multiple languages in worship, and the confusion they caused are known from the Jerusalem temple (see p 1835) and from Palestinian Judaism (Sotah 7:1–2; Megillah 2:1). Paul gives evidence of ritually conservative language at Corinth as well (see note, 16:22–24). See notes, 12:10; 14:3–5.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:15 pray with my spirit … with my mind. Lit, "pray in the spirit … in the mind." Paul displayed his thoughts as an example for the readers to follow. At church, a person might pray personally for spiritual edification or understandably for the edification of others (see note, v 2). Paul resolved to live with both practices. He displayed such resolve in other conflicting situations, using similar expressions about "spirit" and "mind": in Rm 7:25, he described the inner conflict over following God's Word and following the sinful nature; in Rm 8:16, the Holy Spirit bears witness "with our spirit" against the spirit of slavery and fear. With these expressions, Paul describes feeling torn, but persists in what he knows is right and best. He acknowledges the congregation's selfish practice while emphasizing his main point: speak in an understandable way at church. "The adversaries have a long speech about the use of the Latin language in the Mass. In this speech, they joke about how it benefits an unlearned hearer to hear, in the faith of the Church, a Mass that he does not understand" (Ap XXIV 2).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:16–17 give thanks … thanksgiving. Different Gk terms: eulogeo, "to praise," "bless" God in prayer (as in Eng "eulogy"); eucharistia, "gratitude," "a prayer of thanksgiving" (as in Eng "Eucharist"). Paul may have in mind specific liturgical prayers, such as the Eighteen Benedictions that were used in first-century Jewish synagogues. outsider. Commonly, a person who was not an expert. Here, a layperson or someone new to the church is likely meant. In v 23 "outsider" is paired with "unbeliever." See note, v 11. say "Amen." Proper liturgical response to prayer in synagogue and church. Chrys: "If you shall bless in a barbarian tongue, not knowing what you say, nor able to interpret, the layman cannot respond the Amen. For not hearing the words, 'forever and ever,' which are at the end [of a prayer], he does not say the Amen" (NPNF 1 12:211). See "faithfulness," p 842.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:18–19 more than all of you. Paul boasted rhetorically to show the Corinthians that the activity they valued so highly was common. Chrys: "This he does also in another place intending, namely, to take away the advantages of Judaism and to show that henceforth they are nothing, he begins by declaring that [he] himself had been endowed with them" (NPNF 1 12:211). Cf 2Co 11:21–23. five words with my mind. More rhetoric, emphasizing the need for meaningful communication. "Not only has Paul commanded that a language understood by the people be used in church (1 Corinthians 14:2, 9), but human law has also commanded it" (AC XXIV 4).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:20 Cf 13:11. Be infants in evil. A proverbial saying. Paul did not suggest that infants are innocent of sin (Rm 3:23; 5:12). Aug: "In the weakness of the infant's limbs, and not in its will, lies its innocency" (NPNF 1 1:48).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:21–22 In the Law. Paul quoted Isaiah, whose saying stemmed from a prophecy of Moses. Law. Could refer to the entire OT (Rm 3:19). sign … for unbelievers. Israel failed to believe the Lord and so was conquered by the Assyrians, who spoke a different language. Conquered people are forced to tolerate and finally adopt the language of the conquerors. The foreign language constantly reminds the conquered people of their failure. (Cf Jer 5:15, which applied Moses' prophecy to the Babylonians.) The Greek Corinthians were conquered by the Latin-speaking Romans, who completely destroyed Corinth in 146 BC and began to rebuild it as a Roman colony in 46 BC. Virtually all Corinthian inscriptions from the first century AD are in Latin, not Greek. Both Jews and Greeks at Corinth understood the relationship between conquest, judgment, and language. prophecy is a sign. When God grew tired of Israel's sin, He did not give them prophets. See pp 1077–83. Therefore, clear preaching of God's Word by the prophets was a sign of God's favor.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:23 whole church. Christians gathered in "house churches" (cf 16:19; Ac 18:7–8). These physical divisions could contribute to the congregational divisions (see note, 1:12), which may have included differences in worship practices or even differences in languages (see p 1969). However, Paul regarded the Corinthians as one congregation (1:2) and here referred to the gathering of all Corinthian believers in a unified worship service. out of your minds? Cf Ac 2:5–13.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:24–25 When God's Word is clearly preached, the Law and the Gospel go to work on the hearer's heart. The Law convicts the hearer of sin, and the Gospel creates faith and brings forth the good fruit of sincere worship and confession. The Corinthians' zeal for tongues has hindered these essential works of God's Word.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:1–25 Some Corinthians were pursuing their own edification to the neglect of those around them. We, too, are naturally tempted to pursue what we think of as our own spiritual needs rather than patiently sharing God's Word with others, especially those we regard as less spiritual. Such attitudes contribute to deeper spiritual divisions among us. God calls us together for mutual edification in His Word, which always richly applies to the mature as well as the immature. Through the Word, God is really among us, giving His Spirit, faith in Christ, and all blessings of salvation. • Dearest Jesus, grant me the maturity to desire the edification of my brothers and sisters and to pursue gifts that build them up in Your love, so that our congregation may confess You with one voice in one Spirit. Amen.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:26 brothers? Paul addresses congregational leaders. See notes, 12:1; Gal 6:1. each one … interpretation. Leaders in the congregation competed to represent their interests in the gathering of all worshipers. See note, v 23. The list represents common elements of worship at Corinth. Let all things be done for building up. Paul again emphasizes his main point.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:27–28 Because the divided Corinthians could not agree on how to proceed, Paul provided commonsense guidelines for worship practices. Note well: he excluded use of uninterpreted tongues in church.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:29 weigh. Gk diakrino, "to distinguish," "to judge." God charges congregational leaders with judging whether doctrine and practice are based on His Word. "Other writings by ancient or modern teachers—no matter whose name they bear—must not be regarded as equal to the Holy Scriptures. All of them are subject to the Scriptures" (FC Ep Sum 2).
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:30 let the first be silent. Paul emphasizes common courtesy. "Paul concludes that … interpreters be heard in order in the church" (AC XXVIII 54).
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:31 all prophesy. Paul has leaders in mind, not that every person in the congregation would have a chance to speak. See notes, 12:1; 14:1.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:32 See note, v 29.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:33 God … of peace. God would not inspire the divisions and confusion that plagued the congregation. all the churches. Luther and other translators did not place a period after "peace" but after "saints." Paul reminded the Corinthians of a universal principle from which they had deviated. saints. See p 843.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:34–35 women should keep silent. Women likely participated as singers during worship, as they had in the OT (Ex 15:20–21; see p 993). They also prophesied privately (11:4–5; Ac 21:9). But they did not serve as public ministers of the Word. Based on the distinction between male and female in God's created order, Paul distinguished between male and female roles. See note, 11:3; see also p 1972. the Law also says. Chrys: "Where does the law say this? 'Your desire shall be to your husband, and he shall rule over you' " (NPNF 1 12:222; cf Gn 3:16).
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:36–37 thinks that he is a prophet. Using sarcasm, Paul chastens any congregational leaders who remain contentious. a command of the Lord. An outstanding example of pastoral practice: after Paul carefully explains things from Scripture and provides commonsense guidelines, he appeals to his apostolic authority in these matters. He does not begin with his authority, lest that become the issue. He focuses on Scripture and application first.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:38 not recognized. Most manuscripts state less forcefully, "let him be ignorant." However, the more forceful wording, which basically removed the obstinate leaders from office, is well attested and also fits the context.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:39–40 The conclusion of the matter. For issues of worship and liturgy, Luther often cited v 40. Luth: "Because this life in the body cannot be completely without ceremonies and rituals, since there must be some sort of discipline, the Gospel permits ordinances to be established in the church … especially for the sake of children and uneducated people, so that they can be taught more easily" (AE 26:448). See also AE 41:131, 173; Ap XV 20.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 14:26–40 Just as issues of worship practice have divided the Corinthians, many congregations today are divided over matters of worship. God's Word insists on clear order so that the teaching of Law and Gospel is not hindered. Though Paul tolerates the Corinthians' personal interests, he insists that such interests have no place in congregational gatherings, which should clearly teach God's Word for all. The "God of peace" (Rm 15:33) has established our salvation and life in the cross of His dear Son, our only Savior, who makes us one and strengthens us in the one true faith. • God of peace, tear down our elitist opinions and personal preferences. Build us up and nurture us through Your humble and patient Son, Jesus. Amen.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:1 remind. Lit, "make known." He is "recalling it into memory" (Chrys, NPNF 1 12:226) because they had learned it before. See p 1965. gospel. See p 1902. received. Paul first preached the Gospel in Corinth c AD 50 (Ac 18:1–18a). stand. Just as they are saved by the Gospel, they stand firm and live by the Gospel.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:2 being saved. Though saved now through faith, the fullness of salvation is still to come in eternity. the word I preached. The Gospel. believed in vain. The Corinthians stand by the Gospel, though it is also possible to fall away from it.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:3 delivered. See p 1902. first importance. Though Paul had much to teach the Corinthians, nothing was more important than the Gospel. This is always true. The Gospel predominates in Christian teaching. received. Cf Ac 9:4–5, 15–19. that Christ died … with the Scriptures. These words form the heart of the Apostles' Creed, which summarized the Gospel for the early Christians. See p 1975. "He suffered, died, and was buried so that He might make satisfaction for me and pay what I owe" (LC II 31).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:5–7 Cephas. See note, 1:12. twelve. Lit, only 11 disciples at the time of the resurrection. However, "twelve" meant "the company of the apostles" for early Christians. more than five hundred. Scripture records numerous appearances of Jesus over the 40 days after the resurrection. Paul recounts six examples here. Apostles were not always alone when Jesus visited them (cf Lk 24:33; Ac 1:14–15; 13:31). Paul does not specifically appeal to the women who first saw Jesus after the resurrection. This may be because in Roman culture the testimony of women was not regarded as fully reliable. fallen asleep. Physical death. James … apostles. James, Jesus' half brother, is singled out because he came to lead the Jerusalem churches.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:8 untimely born. Medical term for a premature birth, including stillbirth, miscarriage, and abortion. Possibly this insult was used by Paul's opponents to tear down his authority. Earlier, Paul asserted his authority; now he purposely humbles himself to emphasize God's grace (cf v 10).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:9 persecuted. See note, Ac 8:1.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:10 grace. See p 1902. worked harder. See note, 2Co 11:23–27.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:11 so we preach. Paul now ranks himself with the other apostles, demonstrating unity with them despite conflicts about his apostleship.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:1–11 Because of zeal for more knowledge, the Corinthians have neglected what has first importance: the simple truths and application of the Gospel. How great is the temptation for us to overlook the Gospel today! A multitude of contemporary issues can crowd out the Gospel of life and forgiveness in Jesus until it grows unclear in our minds. Praise God for the wonderful creeds that our forebears have handed down across the centuries, which take up Paul's very words, summarize the Holy Gospel, and etch it into our memories. • Holy Jesus, You died to take away my sins and rose to fulfill all the Father's promises in Scripture. Send now Your Holy Spirit so that by Your grace I may stand in this faith always. Amen.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:12–19 Paul demonstrates thorough skill in classic logic and rhetoric (the art of persuasion) by using careful arguments. His if-then sentences test impossible notions and show the foolish implications of the Corinthians' doubts about the resurrection.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:12 no resurrection. Greek learning and culture opposed the idea that the body could rise from the dead. Some Greeks believed that the body and physical things were inherently bad but that the spirit was inherently good. Members of the Corinthian congregation continued to hold these opinions, even though they seem to have accepted that Christ rose from the dead.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:16 Paul repeats his main premise (v 13).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:17 still in your sins. Christ's sacrifice on the cross redeemed us from sin and from death. But if Christ had remained in the grave, His victory over sin would be incomplete. The complete act of redemption—called the Gospel—is the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of our sins (cf vv 3–4).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:18 fallen asleep. See note, v 7. perished. Destruction beyond hope of redemption.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:20 firstfruits. The earliest portion of a harvest, which Israel sacrificed to God in thanks for the full harvest to come. See note, Ex 23:19. fallen asleep. See note, v 7.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:21–22 Luth: "St. Paul is still speaking only about those who are Christians. These he wants to instruct and console with this article. For although also the non-Christians must all arise, this will not be to their comfort and joy, since they will arise for judgment and not for life…. I will say nothing of that great vulgar throng which seeks its pleasure and consolation only here, which [despises] God's Word and cares not a mite for God and His kingdom. It is not surprising that such people are annoyed to hear of the blessed resurrection; for us, however, it is pure joy, because we hear that our greatest Treasure, over which we rejoice, is already in heaven above, and that only the most insignificant part remains behind; and that He will awaken this, too, and draw it after Him as easily as a person awakens from sleep" (AE 28:114–15).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:23 coming. Gk parousia; commonly described a royal visit. Used 18 times in the NT for Christ's reappearing in glory. belong. The dead in Christ. See note, 1Th 4:16.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:24 delivers the kingdom. Christ, as a conquering general, now wars against sin, death, and the power of the devil. He will present His conquest to His Father, who has given Him authority to wage this war (v 28). See notes, Col 1:13; 2:15. rule … authority … power. Spiritual powers that manifest themselves in sinful institutions and orders on earth.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:25–27 He. Christ. last enemy … death. Contrary to notions of death as friendly and suicide as a solution, the Bible describes death as our enemy. The Lord created us for life, not death. Death is destroyed by the gift of eternal life in Christ. subjection under His feet. See notes, Gn 1:26–28; Ps 8:6; Paul applies these verses to Jesus. He is the man by whom God fulfills His purposes for all humankind. "There is and remains in Christ only one divine omnipotence, power, majesty, and glory, which is peculiar to the divine nature alone. But it shines, manifests, and exercises itself fully—yet voluntarily—in, with, and through the received, exalted human nature in Christ. In glowing iron there are not two kinds of power to shine and burn. But the power to shine and to burn is a property of the fire. Since the fire is united with the iron, it manifests and exercises this power to shine and to burn in, with, and through the glowing iron. From this union also the glowing iron has the power to shine and to burn without changing the essence and the natural properties of fire and iron. This guides how we understand the testimonies of Scripture that speak of the majesty to which the human nature in Christ is exalted" (FC SD VIII 66–67).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:28 all in all. Luth: "Everybody will find all wants that are now satisfied by all things satisfied in God Himself. When He will reveal Himself, we will be satisfied in body and soul and will no longer stand in need of so many things as we now do here on earth" (AE 28:141–42).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:29–34 From frustration, Paul resorts to sarcasm and even mockery.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:29 do … on behalf of the dead? Lit, "What will the ones being baptized do over the dead?" Dozens of interpretations have been offered. Paul points out the irony that some Corinthians did not believe in the resurrection, yet held an opinion or practice based on the resurrection. He only alludes to the opinion or practice, which could have been (1) conducting Baptisms in graveyards to express hope in the resurrection of those who die in Christ (similar to Easter sunrise services held in church graveyards); (2) requests for Baptisms because of the inspiring examples of those who died; or (3) Baptisms that would somehow benefit those who had already died (though Paul never mentions a specific benefit). Gnostic groups developed practices based on this last interpretation (consider Mormon practices, which also misapply this text). Take note—Paul's ironic questions are no basis for novel practices. Instead, Christians should base their baptismal practices on Christ's clear command in Mt 28:19–20 and rejoice in the hope of the resurrection expressed through Baptism (Rm 6:3–5).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:30 Paul asks rhetorically, "Why would I risk my life for things I don't truly believe in?" Cf Ac 18:5–6, 9, 12–13.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:31 Cf 3:9. I die every day! See notes, Rm 8:36; Php 3:10–11.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:32 fought with beasts. See note, v 30.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:32–33 To his Greek detractors, Paul quotes two Greek opinions: (1) a gross hedonist view that the good in life is only in pleasure, with no hope of an afterlife; (2) a saying by the Greek comic poet Menander that refutes gross hedonism. Even the Greek tradition gave helpful examples and warnings, which the Corinthians ignored.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:34 drunken … no knowledge. Sarcasm and hyperbole. Such sins were certainly affecting some in the congregation, but Paul shames them all alike.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:12–34 The Corinthians take pride in their wisdom, but Paul tears apart their arguments with basic logic and rhetoric. Logic, rhetoric, and even sarcasm have their uses in preaching and teaching the Gospel. Yet all our powers and wisdom must remain subject to the Lord, who is "all in all." The Lord refuted sin, death, Satan, and all our foes—not with reason but with acts: His death and resurrection for our redemption. • Victorious Savior, daily put to death my foolish pride and wisdom, and teach me the way of humility and self-sacrifice. In the daily repentance and renewal of Baptism, may I partake of Your sufferings so that I may partake of Your resurrection. Amen.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:35–41 Paul provides three examples from God's created order to illustrate the principle of resurrection. The main point is v 38: we have the body and life that God chooses. Just as our current existence depends on His choices at creation, our eternal existence depends on His choice in redemption: resurrection unto life.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:35–37 Paul presents the question not as an honest inquiry but as a foolish attempt to cast doubt on the resurrection. Just as the "death" of a seed produces something greater and more fruitful, our death and resurrection in Christ will produce still greater fruit.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:42–44a perishable … imperishable. This wordplay describes how God transforms the body for heavenly existence. Paul mentions the brokenness of our bodies in death, but the whole force of argument compels respect for the body, as one respects and sows a seed anticipating greatness. The groundwork for respectful Christian funerals is laid in this passage. "The body is put to death (mortified) because of present sin that is still left in the flesh. Death itself serves this purpose, namely, to abolish this flesh of sin, that we may rise absolutely new" (Ap XIIB 55–56).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:44 natural ... spiritual body. Seems contradictory, yet our new life will transform the way we live now and eternally in the body. The believer's body will rise and live because of the new spirit (cf v 45).

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:45 a living being. The earthly and the heavenly are mingled in human life; God's breath and life distinguished humankind from all other earthly creatures. last Adam … life-giving spirit. Cf Gn 2:7. An even greater mingling of the earthly and heavenly appeared with Jesus' incarnation, with a still greater result: the hope of redemption and eternal life.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:47 second man. Jesus, who begins a new order of human existence.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:48–49 image. See notes, Gn 1:26, 27.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:35–49 The body—corrupted by sin—declines, decays, and dies. Humanly speaking, we can extend our lives only by having children, whom we likewise corrupt with our inherited sin. But thanks be to God! He chose to establish a new order for us through Jesus' life, death, and resurrection. Jesus resisted all corruption and grants us His heavenly life. • Jesus, lead me to respect my body and to regard my funeral like a farmer sowing with resurrection hope. By Your grace, may I and my loved ones reap a harvest of heavenly life. Amen.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:50 Flesh and blood by nature inherit sin and death from the First Adam. Of ourselves, we cannot receive the benefits of God's reign held by the Second Adam, Christ. However, when the Lord adopts us in Christ and cleanses us body and soul in Holy Baptism, we inherit our Father's kingdom.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:51 mystery. See notes, 2:7; 14:2. sleep. Die.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:52 last trumpet. See p 993. changed. Gk allasso, "to make otherwise," "to alter."
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:53 "When our sins and conscience oppress us, we strengthen ourselves and take comfort and say, 'Nevertheless, I am baptized. And if I am baptized, it is promised to me that I shall be saved and have eternal life, both in soul and body.' For that is the reason why these two things are done in Baptism: the body—which can grasp nothing but the water—is sprinkled and, in addition, the Word is spoken for the soul to grasp. Now, since both, the water and the Word, make one Baptism, therefore, body and soul must be saved and live forever" (LC IV 44–46).
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:54–55 Paul cites Isaiah's prophecy that God swallows up death, which would consume our bodies. Paul adds questions from Hosea, who wrote a brutal appeal for death and the grave to snap their jaws in judgment on the Northern Kingdom of Israel. Paul transforms this appeal into a mockery of hapless death and the grave, for Christ shall snatch away their meal. in victory. See note, Is 25:8. "Christ redeemed human nature as His work, sanctifies it, raises it from the dead, and gloriously adorns it as His work. But original sin He has not created, received, redeemed, or sanctified. He will not raise it, adorn it, or save it in the elect. In the 'blessed' resurrection original sin will be entirely destroyed" (FC Ep I 6).
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:56 sting. Piercing, mortal wound. Sin is the point of the spear that kills us. See note, Rm 3:23. power of sin. The Law, as the guardian of what is right, thrusts against our sinful conscience and damns us.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:57 victory. See note, vv 54–55.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:58 beloved brothers. Having rebuked the Corinthians with the Law and having proclaimed to them the Gospel, Paul appeals to them peaceably, mending their relationship to him. work of the Lord. One's call or vocation. See note, 4:1.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 15:50–58 The justification Jesus provided is our only hope against sin, death, and the Law's condemnation. Jesus delivers us from death's jaws. He now equips us to serve in His Church and to live eternally in His kingdom. • Victorious Lord, Your nail-pierced hand drew me safely out of sin; Your pierced foot snapped shut the jaws of death. Teach me to stomp temptation. Swing wide heaven's gates, that I may enter Your joy. Amen.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:1 collection for the saints. Money for the poverty-stricken Christians in Jerusalem (Rm 15:26). directed. Gk diatasso, "to order or command," exemplifies Paul's authority as an apostle. "The distribution of alms by the Corinthians … was a holy work, a sacrifice and battle of Christ against the devil, who labors so that nothing may be done to praise God. To demean such works (the confession of doctrine, sufferings, works of love, suppression of the flesh) would be to demean the outward rule of Christ's kingdom among people" (Ap V 71–72). churches of Galatia. See note, 14:23; see also pp 2000–2001.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:2 first day. Lit, "according to one [day] from the Sabbath." Whereas the Jews worshiped on Saturday, Christians began to worship on Sunday. store it up, as he may prosper. Based on one's income, a member "treasured up" an offering each week at home. Approved representatives later received and distributed these offerings.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:3–4 when I arrive. See notes, 4:18, 19. accredit. See note, v 2. by letter. Paul will give letters of introduction to the Corinthian representatives, which they could present to the leaders in Jerusalem (a common business practice). I should go. Paul could join in presenting the gift.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:1–4 Compassion leads the early Christian congregations to treasure up and distribute support for fellow Christians and ministries in need. When we learn of brothers and sisters in need, God's Word leads us to demonstrate the bond of fellowship created by the Gospel. Christ treasured us by freely giving His life for us, and He grants us generous hearts. • Generous Lord, as You cause us to prosper spiritually and financially, lead us also to treasure our brothers and sisters with all compassion. Amen.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:5 Macedonia. See map, p 1886.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:6 spend the winter. When travel was difficult. See calendar, p 262. help me. Paul's mission work received financial support.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:8 Ephesus until Pentecost. See pp 200–201.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:9 Although great opportunities for spreading the Gospel existed, Paul's work offended Jewish people because he welcomed uncircumcised Gentiles into the churches. The Gentiles opposed Paul because his preaching undermined idolatry.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:10 Timothy. See pp 2066–67. work of the Lord. See note, 4:1. Timothy bore Paul's apostolic authority.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:11 despise. Questions of authority and disagreements persisted in the Church at Corinth. Help him on his way. See note, v 6. brothers. Cf Ac 19:22.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:5–11 Paul clears the way for future work and for the work of his colleague Timothy. Effective ministry today also depends on clear planning and authority so that congregations may support the work of the Lord. That work is vital because faith, life, and salvation come only through the Lord's Word. • Dear Jesus, prosper the work of the Lord among us so that Your life-giving Gospel is not despised through sinful disagreement or stubbornness. Lead us to respect and support those who preach the Gospel faithfully. Amen.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:12 our brother Apollos. See note, Ac 18:24. other brothers. Cf v 11.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:13–14 Paul likely addressed the Letter to congregational leaders (see note, 14:1), who were men; they needed to display manly virtues. in love. The virtue of strength does not conflict with virtue of love.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:15–16 household of Stephanas. See notes 1:16; 14:23. devoted … subject. The Gk terms have the same root, emphasizing order and authority in service. fellow worker and laborer. Paul has in mind a brotherhood in ministry, in which each worker respects the other.
1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:17 your absence. A delegation of leaders from Corinth was to have traveled to Ephesus to see Paul but did not.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:18 refreshed. Lit, "to cause to rest." Give recognition. Cf vv 15–16.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:12–18 Paul urges the leaders at Corinth to recognize the service, calling, and authority of each other and to see themselves at part of a larger team. No matter how or where you serve the Lord, you, too, are part of a larger team. Respect your fellow workers by listening to them and coordinating efforts with them. Our Savior's strong, firm love and leadership preserves the unity of His dear Church, for which He gave His life. • Dear Jesus, grant me patience with my colleagues, and direct us ever by Your pure Word so that we may stand firm together by Your grace alone. Amen.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:19 churches of Asia. Asia Minor, modern Turkey. Ephesus was the largest city of the province. Aquila and Prisca. See note, Ac 18:2. church in their house. See note, 14:23.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:20 All the brothers. Ephesians. See p 1901. holy kiss. Not romantic, but in greeting. It was probably a kiss on the cheek, as in many Near Eastern cultures today. See note, Rm 16:16.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:21 with my own hand. See note, Rm 16:22.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:22–24 Paul includes both a curse and a blessing in his closing, perhaps in response to the curses pronounced by some at Corinth. See note, 12:3. accursed. Gk anathema. (See p 1901.) Our Lord, come! Aram marana tha; see p 1969. grace … love be with you. The blessing; see note, Rm 15:33.

1 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 16:19–24 Paul's bittersweet conclusion illustrates his passion for the Gospel and for the congregation. Likewise, the Lord calls us to passionate service and love. Jesus, too, forcefully denounced those who abused God's Word (Mt 23:1–36); yet He poured out His love for all sinners, so that all might know His grace. • Dear Jesus, fill me with sincere passion for sharing the Gospel with those who have not yet heard of or believed in Your grace. Amen.

2 Corinthians

2 Corinthians 1 | 2 Corinthians 2 | 2 Corinthians 3 | 2 Corinthians 4 | 2 Corinthians 5 | 2 Corinthians 6 | 2 Corinthians 7 | 2 Corinthians 8 | 2 Corinthians 9 | 2 Corinthians 10 | 2 Corinthians 11 | 2 Corinthians 12 | 2 Corinthians 13

- Introduction to 2 Corinthians
  - Overview
  - Reading 2 Corinthians
  - Luther on 2 Corinthians
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Greeting

1 [1]‡†Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God, and Timothy our brother,

To the church of God that is at Corinth, with all the saints who are in the whole of Achaia:

[2]†Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

God of All Comfort

3 ‡† Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort, 4 † who comforts us in all our affliction, so that we may be able to comfort those who are in any affliction, with the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God. 5 † For as we share abundantly in Christ's sufferings, so through Christ we share abundantly in comfort too.[1] 6 † If we are afflicted, it is for your comfort and salvation; and if we are comforted, it is for your comfort, which you experience when you patiently endure the same sufferings that we suffer. 7 † Our hope for you is unshaken, for we know that as you share in our sufferings, you will also share in our comfort.

8 † For we do not want you to be ignorant, brothers,[2] of the affliction we experienced in Asia. For we were so utterly burdened beyond our strength that we despaired of life itself. 9 † Indeed, we felt that we had received the sentence of death. But that was to make us rely not on ourselves but on God who raises the dead. 10 † He delivered us from such a deadly peril, and he will deliver us. On him we have set our hope that he will deliver us again.
11 † You also must help us by prayer, so that many will give thanks on our behalf for the blessing granted us through the prayers of many.

Paul's Change of Plans

12 † † For our boast is this, the testimony of our conscience, that we behaved in the world with simplicity[1] and godly sincerity, not by earthly wisdom but by the grace of God, and supremely so toward you. 13 †For we are not writing to you anything other than what you read and acknowledge[2] and I hope you will fully acknowledge— 14 † just as you did partially acknowledge us—that on the day of our Lord Jesus you will boast of us as we will boast of you.

15 †Because I was sure of this, I wanted to come to you first, so that you might have a second experience of grace. 16 †I wanted to visit you on my way to Macedonia, and to come back to you from Macedonia and have you send me on my way to Judea. 17 †Was I vacillating when I wanted to do this?
Do I make my plans according to the flesh, ready to say "Yes, yes" and "No, no" at the same time? 18 As surely as God is faithful, our word to you has not been Yes and No. 19 †For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, whom we proclaimed among you, Silvanus and Timothy and I, was not Yes and No, but in him it is always Yes. 20 †For all the promises of God find their Yes in him. That is why it is through him that we utter our Amen to God for his glory. 21 † And it is God who establishes us with you in Christ, and has anointed us, 22 †and who has also put his seal on us and given us his Spirit in our hearts as a guarantee.[3]

23 † But I call God to witness against me—it was to spare you that I refrained from coming again to Corinth. 24 †Not that we lord it over your faith, but we work with you for your joy, for you stand firm in your faith.

2 1 †For I made up my mind not to make another painful visit to you.
2 †For if I cause you pain, who is there to make me glad but the one whom I have pained? 3 †And I wrote as I did, so that when I came I might not suffer pain from those who should have made me rejoice, for I felt sure of all of you, that my joy would be the joy of you all. 4 †For I wrote to you out of much affliction and anguish of heart and with many tears, not to cause you pain but to let you know the abundant love that I have for you.

Forgive the Sinner

5 ‡ ‡Now if anyone has caused pain, he has caused it not to me, but in some measure—not to put it too severely—to all of you. 6 †For such a one, this punishment by the majority is enough, 7 †so you should rather turn to forgive and comfort him, or he may be overwhelmed by excessive sorrow.
8 †So I beg you to reaffirm your love for him. 9 †For this is why I wrote, that I might test you and know whether you are obedient in everything.
10 †Anyone whom you forgive, I also forgive. Indeed, what I have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, has been for your sake in the presence of Christ, 11 †so that we would not be outwitted by Satan; for we are not ignorant of his designs.

Triumph in Christ

12 When I came to Troas to preach the gospel of Christ, even though a door was opened for me in the Lord, 13 my spirit was not at rest because I did not find my brother Titus there. So I took leave of them and went on to Macedonia.

14 But thanks be to God, who in Christ always leads us in triumphal procession, and through us spreads the fragrance of the knowledge of him everywhere. 15 For we are the aroma of Christ to God among those who are being saved and among those who are perishing, 16 to one a fragrance from death to death, to the other a fragrance from life to life. Who is sufficient[1] for these things? 17 For we are not, like so many, peddlers of God's word, but as men of sincerity, as commissioned by God, in the sight of God we speak in Christ.

Ministers of the New Covenant

3 [1]†Are we beginning to commend ourselves again? Or do we need, as some do, letters of recommendation to you, or from you? [2] † You yourselves are our letter of recommendation, written on our[1] hearts, to be known and read by all. [3]†And you show that you are a letter from Christ delivered by us, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts.[2]

[4]†Such is the confidence that we have through Christ toward God. [5]†Not that we are sufficient in ourselves to claim anything as coming from us, but our sufficiency is from God, [6]†who has made us competent[3] to be ministers of a new covenant, not of the letter but of the Spirit. For the letter kills, but the Spirit gives life.

[7]†Now if the ministry of death, carved in letters on stone, came with such glory that the Israelites could not gaze at Moses' face because of its glory, which was being brought to an end, [8]†will not the ministry of the Spirit have even more glory? [9] † For if there was glory in the ministry of condemnation, the ministry of righteousness must far exceed it in glory.
[10]†Indeed, in this case, what once had glory has come to have no glory at all, because of the glory that surpasses it. [11]For if what was being brought to an end came with glory, much more will what is permanent have glory.

[12]Since we have such a hope, we are very bold, [13]†not like Moses, who would put a veil over his face so that the Israelites might not gaze at the outcome of what was being brought to an end. [14]†But their minds were hardened. For to this day, when they read the old covenant, that same veil remains unlifted, because only through Christ is it taken away. [15]†Yes, to this day whenever Moses is read a veil lies over their hearts. [16]‡But when one[1] turns to the Lord, the veil is removed. [17]Now the Lord[2] is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom. [18]†And we all, with unveiled face, beholding the glory of the Lord,[3] are being transformed into the same image from one degree of glory to another. For this comes from the Lord who is the Spirit.

The Light of the Gospel

4 [1]†† Therefore, having this ministry by the mercy of God,[4] we do not lose heart. [2]† But we have renounced disgraceful, underhanded ways. We refuse to practice cunning or to tamper with God's word, but by the open statement of the truth we would commend ourselves to everyone's conscience in the sight of God. [3]† And even if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled only to those who are perishing. [4]† In their case the god of this world has blinded the minds of the unbelievers, to keep them from seeing the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God. [5]† For what we proclaim is not ourselves, but Jesus Christ as Lord, with ourselves as your servants[5] for Jesus' sake. [6]† For God, who said, "Let light shine out of darkness," has shone in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

Treasure in Jars of Clay

7 ‡ †But we have this treasure in jars of clay, to show that the surpassing power belongs to God and not to us. 8 ‡We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not driven to despair; 9persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed; 10 †always carrying in the body the death of Jesus, so that the life of Jesus may also be manifested in our bodies. 11 †For we who live are always being given over to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus also may be manifested in our mortal flesh.
12 †So death is at work in us, but life in you.

13 † Since we have the same spirit of faith according to what has been written, "I believed, and so I spoke," we also believe, and so we also speak, 14 †knowing that he who raised the Lord Jesus will raise us also with Jesus and bring us with you into his presence. 15 †For it is all for your sake, so that as grace extends to more and more people it may increase thanksgiving, to the glory of God.

16 †So we do not lose heart. Though our outer self[1] is wasting away, our inner self is being renewed day by day. 17 † For this light momentary affliction is preparing for us an eternal weight of glory beyond all comparison, 18 †as we look not to the things that are seen but to the things that are unseen. For the things that are seen are transient, but the things that are unseen are eternal.

Our Heavenly Dwelling

5 [1] † † For we know that if the tent that is our earthly home is destroyed, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. [2]For in this tent we groan, longing to put on our heavenly dwelling, [3] † if indeed by putting it on[2] we may not be found naked. [4]†For while we are still in this tent, we groan, being burdened—not that we would be unclothed, but that we would be further clothed, so that what is mortal may be swallowed up by life. [5]†He who has prepared us for this very thing is God, who has given us the Spirit as a guarantee.

[6]†So we are always of good courage. We know that while we are at home in the body we are away from the Lord, [7]†for we walk by faith, not by sight.
[8]†Yes, we are of good courage, and we would rather be away from the body and at home with the Lord. [9]†So whether we are at home or away, we make it our aim to please him. [10]†For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil.

The Ministry of Reconciliation

11 ‡ † Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. 12 † We are not commending ourselves to you again but giving you cause to boast about us, so that you may be able to answer those who boast about outward appearance and not about what is in the heart. 13 † For if we are beside ourselves, it is for God; if we are in our right mind, it is for you. 14 † For the love of Christ controls us, because we have concluded this:
that one has died for all, therefore all have died; 15 and he died for all, that those who live might no longer live for themselves but for him who for their sake died and was raised.

16 † From now on, therefore, we regard no one according to the flesh. Even though we once regarded Christ according to the flesh, we regard him thus no longer. 17 † Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation.[1] The old has passed away; behold, the new has come. 18 † All this is from God, who through Christ reconciled us to himself and gave us the ministry of reconciliation; 19 † that is, in Christ God was reconciling[1] the world to himself, not counting their trespasses against them, and entrusting to us the message of reconciliation. 20 † Therefore, we are ambassadors for Christ, God making his appeal through us. We implore you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God. 21 † For our sake he made him to be sin who knew no sin, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God.

6 1 † Working together with him, then, we appeal to you not to receive the grace of God in vain. 2 † For he says,

> “In a favorable time I listened to you, > and in a day of salvation I have helped > you.”

Behold, now is the favorable time; behold, now is the day of salvation.
3 † We put no obstacle in anyone’s way, so that no fault may be found with our ministry, 4 † but as servants of God we commend ourselves in every way:
by great endurance, in afflictions, hardships, calamities, 5 † beatings, imprisonments, riots, labors, sleepless nights, hunger; [6] † by purity, knowledge, patience, kindness, the Holy Spirit, genuine love; [7] †by truthful speech, and the power of God; with the weapons of righteousness for the right hand and for the left; [8] †through honor and dishonor, through slander and praise. We are treated as impostors, and yet are true; [9]as unknown, and yet well known; as dying, and behold, we live; as punished, and yet not killed; [10]as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, yet possessing everything.

[11] †We have spoken freely to you,[2] Corinthians; our heart is wide open. [12] † You are not restricted by us, but you are restricted in your own affections. [13] †In return (I speak as to children) widen your hearts also.

The Temple of the Living God

14 ✝✝✝Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what partnership has righteousness with lawlessness? Or what fellowship has light with darkness? 15 ✝What accord has Christ with Belial?[1] Or what portion does a believer share with an unbeliever? 16What agreement has the temple of God with idols? For we are the temple of the living God; as God said,

> "I will make my dwelling among them and > walk among them,
> and I will be their God,
> and they shall be my people.
> 17 Therefore go out from their midst, > and be separate from them, says the Lord, > and touch no unclean thing;
> then I will welcome you, > 18 and I will be a father to you, > and you shall be sons and daughters to me, > says the Lord Almighty."

7 1 ✝Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body[2] and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God.

Paul's Joy

2 ‡†Make room in your hearts[3] for us. We have wronged no one, we have corrupted no one, we have taken advantage of no one. 3 †I do not say this to condemn you, for I said before that you are in our hearts, to die together and to live together. 4 †I am acting with great boldness toward you; I have great pride in you; I am filled with comfort. In all our affliction, I am overflowing with joy.

5 †For even when we came into Macedonia, our bodies had no rest, but we were afflicted at every turn—fighting without and fear within. 6 †But God, who comforts the downcast, comforted us by the coming of Titus, 7 †and not only by his coming but also by the comfort with which he was comforted by you, as he told us of your longing, your mourning, your zeal for me, so that I rejoiced still more. 8 †For even if I made you grieve with my letter, I do not regret it—though I did regret it, for I see that that letter grieved you, though only for a while. 9 †As it is, I rejoice, not because you were grieved, but because you were grieved into repenting. For you felt a godly grief, so that you suffered no loss through us.

10 †For godly grief produces a repentance that leads to salvation without regret, whereas worldly grief produces death. 11 †For see what earnestness this godly grief has produced in you, but also what eagerness to clear yourselves, what indignation, what fear, what longing, what zeal, what punishment! At every point you have proved yourselves innocent in the matter. 12 †So although I wrote to you, it was not for the sake of the one who did the wrong, nor for the sake of the one who suffered the wrong, but in order that your earnestness for us might be revealed to you in the sight of God. 13 †Therefore we are comforted.

And besides our own comfort, we rejoiced still more at the joy of Titus, because his spirit has been refreshed by you all. 14 †For whatever boasts I made to him about you, I was not put to shame. But just as everything we said to you was true, so also our boasting before Titus has proved true.
15 †And his affection for you is even greater, as he remembers the obedience of you all, how you received him with fear and trembling. 16 I rejoice, because I have perfect confidence in you.

Encouragement to Give Generously

8 [1]‡†We want you to know, brothers,[1] about the grace of God that has been given among the churches of Macedonia, [2]† for in a severe test of affliction, their abundance of joy and their extreme poverty have overflowed in a wealth of generosity on their part. [3]For they gave according to their means, as I can testify, and beyond their means, of their own accord, [4]†begging us earnestly for the favor[2] of taking part in the relief of the saints
— [5]†and this, not as we expected, but they gave themselves first to the Lord and then by the will of God to us. [6]†Accordingly, we urged Titus that as he had started, so he should complete among you this act of grace. [7]†But as you excel in everything—in faith, in speech, in knowledge, in all earnestness, and in our love for you[3]—see that you excel in this act of grace also.

[8]†I say this not as a command, but to prove by the earnestness of others that your love also is genuine. [9]†For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sake he became poor, so that you by his poverty might become rich. [10]† And in this matter I give my judgment: this benefits you, who a year ago started not only to do this work but also to desire to do it. [11]So now finish doing it as well, so that your readiness in desiring it may be matched by your completing it out of what you have. [12]†For if the readiness is there, it is acceptable according to what a person has, not according to what he does not have. [13]‡For I do not mean that others should be eased and you burdened, but that as a matter of fairness [14]your abundance at the present time should supply their need, so that their abundance may supply your need, that there may be fairness.
[15]† As it is written, “Whoever gathered much had nothing left over, and whoever gathered little had no lack.”

Commendation of Titus

16 ‡ † But thanks be to God, who put into the heart of Titus the same earnest care I have for you. 17 For he not only accepted our appeal, but being himself very earnest he is going[1] to you of his own accord. 18 † With him we are sending[2] the brother who is famous among all the churches for his preaching of the gospel. 19 † And not only that, but he has been appointed by the churches to travel with us as we carry out this act of grace that is being ministered by us, for the glory of the Lord himself and to show our good will. 20 † We take this course so that no one should blame us about this generous gift that is being administered by us, 21 † for we aim at what is honorable not only in the Lord's sight but also in the sight of man. 22 † And with them we are sending our brother whom we have often tested and found earnest in many matters, but who is now more earnest than ever because of his great confidence in you. 23 † As for Titus, he is my partner and fellow worker for your benefit. And as for our brothers, they are messengers[3] of the churches, the glory of Christ. 24 † So give proof before the churches of your love and of our boasting about you to these men.

The Collection for Christians in Jerusalem

9 [1]‡†Now it is superfluous for me to write to you about the ministry for the saints, [2]†for I know your readiness, of which I boast about you to the people of Macedonia, saying that Achaia has been ready since last year.
And your zeal has stirred up most of them. [3]† But I am sending[1] the brothers so that our boasting about you may not prove empty in this matter, so that you may be ready, as I said you would be. [4]† Otherwise, if some Macedonians come with me and find that you are not ready, we would be humiliated—to say nothing of you—for being so confident. [5]†So I thought it necessary to urge the brothers to go on ahead to you and arrange in advance for the gift[2] you have promised, so that it may be ready as a willing gift, not as an exaction.[3]

The Cheerful Giver

6 ‡†The point is this: whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows bountifully[4] will also reap bountifully. 7 †Each one must give as he has decided in his heart, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver. 8 †And God is able to make all grace abound to you, so that having all sufficiency[5] in all things at all times, you may abound in every good work. 9 †As it is written,

> “He has distributed freely, he has given to the > poor;
> his righteousness endures forever.”

10 †He who supplies seed to the sower and bread for food will supply and multiply your seed for sowing and increase the harvest of your righteousness. 11 †You will be enriched in every way to be generous in every way, which through us will produce thanksgiving to God. 12 † For the ministry of this service is not only supplying the needs of the saints but is also overflowing in many thanksgivings to God. 13 †By their approval of this service, they[1] will glorify God because of your submission flowing from your confession of the gospel of Christ, and the generosity of your contribution for them and for all others, 14 †while they long for you and pray for you, because of the surpassing grace of God upon you. 15 †Thanks be to God for his inexpressible gift!

Paul Defends His Ministry

10 [1]†I, Paul, myself entreat you, by the meekness and gentleness of Christ—I who am humble when face to face with you, but bold toward you when I am away!— [2]†I beg of you that when I am present I may not have to show boldness with such confidence as I count on showing against some who suspect us of walking according to the flesh. [3]†For though we walk in the flesh, we are not waging war according to the flesh. [4]†For the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh but have divine power to destroy strongholds. [5]†We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, [6]† being ready to punish every disobedience, when your obedience is complete.

[7]†Look at what is before your eyes. If anyone is confident that he is Christ's, let him remind himself that just as he is Christ's, so also are we. [8]†For even if I boast a little too much of our authority, which the Lord gave for building you up and not for destroying you, I will not be ashamed. [9]†I do not want to appear to be frightening you with my letters. [10]†For they say, "His letters are weighty and strong, but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech of no account." [11]†Let such a person understand that what we say by letter when absent, we do when present. [12]†Not that we dare to classify or compare ourselves with some of those who are commending themselves. But when they measure themselves by one another and compare themselves with one another, they are without understanding.

[13]†But we will not boast beyond limits, but will boast only with regard to the area of influence God assigned to us, to reach even to you. [14]†For we are not overextending ourselves, as though we did not reach you. For we were the first to come all the way to you with the gospel of Christ. [15]†We do not boast beyond limit in the labors of others. But our hope is that as your faith increases, our area of influence among you may be greatly enlarged, [16]†so that we may preach the gospel in lands beyond you, without boasting of work already done in another's area of influence. [17]† "Let the one who boasts, boast in the Lord.” [18]†For it is not the one who commends himself who is approved, but the one whom the Lord commends.

Paul and the False Apostles

11 [1]‡‡I wish you would bear with me in a little foolishness. Do bear with me! [2]†For I feel a divine jealousy for you, since I betrothed you to one husband, to present you as a pure virgin to Christ. [3]†But I am afraid that as the serpent deceived Eve by his cunning, your thoughts will be led astray from a sincere and pure devotion to Christ. [4]†For if someone comes and proclaims another Jesus than the one we proclaimed, or if you receive a different spirit from the one you received, or if you accept a different gospel from the one you accepted, you put up with it readily enough. [5]†Indeed, I consider that I am not in the least inferior to these super-apostles. [6]†Even if I am unskilled in speaking, I am not so in knowledge; indeed, in every way we have made this plain to you in all things.

[7]†Or did I commit a sin in humbling myself so that you might be exalted, because I preached God's gospel to you free of charge? [8]†I robbed other churches by accepting support from them in order to serve you. [9]†And when I was with you and was in need, I did not burden anyone, for the brothers who came from Macedonia supplied my need. So I refrained and will refrain from burdening you in any way. [10]†As the truth of Christ is in me, this boasting of mine will not be silenced in the regions of Achaia. [11]†And why? Because I do not love you? God knows I do!

[12]†And what I do I will continue to do, in order to undermine the claim of those who would like to claim that in their boasted mission they work on the same terms as we do. [13]†For such men are false apostles, deceitful workmen, disguising themselves as apostles of Christ. [14]†And no wonder, for even Satan disguises himself as an angel of light. [15]†So it is no surprise if his servants, also, disguise themselves as servants of righteousness. Their end will correspond to their deeds.

Paul's Sufferings as an Apostle

16 ‡†I repeat, let no one think me foolish. But even if you do, accept me as a fool, so that I too may boast a little. 17 †What I am saying with this boastful confidence, I say not with the Lord's authority but as a fool. 18 †Since many boast according to the flesh, I too will boast. 19 †For you gladly bear with fools, being wise yourselves! 20 †For you bear it if someone makes slaves of you, or devours you, or takes advantage of you, or puts on airs, or strikes you in the face. 21 †To my shame, I must say, we were too weak for that!

But whatever anyone else dares to boast of—I am speaking as a fool—I also dare to boast of that. 22 † Are they Hebrews? So am I. Are they Israelites? So am I. Are they offspring of Abraham? So am I. 23 ‡†Are they servants of Christ? I am a better one—I am talking like a madman—with far greater labors, far more imprisonments, with countless beatings, and often near death. 24 †Five times I received at the hands of the Jews the forty lashes less one. 25 †Three times I was beaten with rods. Once I was stoned.
Three times I was shipwrecked; a night and a day I was adrift at sea; 26 †on frequent journeys, in danger from rivers, danger from robbers, danger from my own people, danger from Gentiles, danger in the city, danger in the wilderness, danger at sea, danger from false brothers; 27 † in toil and hardship, through many a sleepless night, in hunger and thirst, often without food,[1] in cold and exposure. 28 †And, apart from other things, there is the daily pressure on me of my anxiety for all the churches. 29 †Who is weak, and I am not weak? Who is made to fall, and I am not indignant?

30 †If I must boast, I will boast of the things that show my weakness.
31 †The God and Father of the Lord Jesus, he who is blessed forever, knows that I am not lying. 32 †At Damascus, the governor under King Aretas was guarding the city of Damascus in order to seize me, 33 but I was let down in a basket through a window in the wall and escaped his hands.

Paul’s Visions and His Thorn

12 [1]‡†I must go on boasting. Though there is nothing to be gained by it, I will go on to visions and revelations of the Lord. [2]† I know a man in Christ who fourteen years ago was caught up to the third heaven—whether in the body or out of the body I do not know, God knows. [3]† And I know that this man was caught up into paradise—whether in the body or out of the body I do not know, God knows— [4]† and he heard things that cannot be told, which man may not utter. [5]† On behalf of this man I will boast, but on my own behalf I will not boast, except of my weaknesses. [6]† Though if I should wish to boast, I would not be a fool, for I would be speaking the truth. But I refrain from it, so that no one may think more of me than he sees in me or hears from me. [7]† So to keep me from becoming conceited because of the surpassing greatness of the revelations,[1] a thorn was given me in the flesh, a messenger of Satan to harass me, to keep me from becoming conceited. [8]† Three times I pleaded with the Lord about this, that it should leave me. [9]† But he said to me, “My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness.” Therefore I will boast all the more gladly of my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may rest upon me.
[10]† For the sake of Christ, then, I am content with weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions, and calamities. For when I am weak, then I am strong.

Concern for the Corinthian Church

11 ‡ † I have been a fool! You forced me to it, for I ought to have been commended by you. For I was not at all inferior to these super-apostles, even though I am nothing. 12 † The signs of a true apostle were performed among you with utmost patience, with signs and wonders and mighty works. 13 † For in what were you less favored than the rest of the churches, except that I myself did not burden you? Forgive me this wrong!

14 ‡ Here for the third time I am ready to come to you. And I will not be a burden, for I seek not what is yours but you. For children are not obligated to save up for their parents, but parents for their children. 15 I will most gladly spend and be spent for your souls. If I love you more, am I to be loved less? 16 † But granting that I myself did not burden you, I was crafty, you say, and got the better of you by deceit. 17 Did I take advantage of you through any of those whom I sent to you? 18 † I urged Titus to go, and sent the brother with him. Did Titus take advantage of you? Did we not act in the same spirit? Did we not take the same steps?

19 † Have you been thinking all along that we have been defending ourselves to you? It is in the sight of God that we have been speaking in Christ, and all for your upbuilding, beloved. 20 † For I fear that perhaps when I come I may find you not as I wish, and that you may find me not as you wish—that perhaps there may be quarreling, jealousy, anger, hostility, slander, gossip, conceit, and disorder. 21 † I fear that when I come again my God may humble me before you, and I may have to mourn over many of those who sinned earlier and have not repented of the impurity, sexual immorality, and sensuality that they have practiced.

Final Warnings

13 [1]‡†This is the third time I am coming to you. Every charge must be established by the evidence of two or three witnesses. [2]†I warned those who sinned before and all the others, and I warn them now while absent, as I did when present on my second visit, that if I come again I will not spare them— [3]†since you seek proof that Christ is speaking in me. He is not weak in dealing with you, but is powerful among you. [4]†For he was crucified in weakness, but lives by the power of God. For we also are weak in him, but in dealing with you we will live with him by the power of God.

[5] † Examine yourselves, to see whether you are in the faith. Test yourselves. Or do you not realize this about yourselves, that Jesus Christ is in you?—unless indeed you fail to meet the test! [6]†I hope you will find out that we have not failed the test. [7]‡But we pray to God that you may not do wrong—not that we may appear to have met the test, but that you may do what is right, though we may seem to have failed. [8]For we cannot do anything against the truth, but only for the truth. [9]†For we are glad when we are weak and you are strong. Your restoration is what we pray for. [10]†For this reason I write these things while I am away from you, that when I come I may not have to be severe in my use of the authority that the Lord has given me for building up and not for tearing down.

Final Greetings

11 ††Finally, brothers,[1] rejoice. Aim for restoration, comfort one another, [2] agree with one another, live in peace; and the God of love and peace will be with you. 12 †Greet one another with a holy kiss. 13 †All the saints greet you.

14 † The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ and the love of God and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with you all.

2 Corinthians

OVERVIEW

Author
Paul the apostle

Date
AD 55, before winter

Places
Corinth in Achaia; Macedonia; Troas in Asia [Minor]; Damascus; Judea

People
Paul; Timothy; Silvanus; Titus; King Aretas; super-apostles

Purpose
Paul guides the Corinthian congregation to evaluate his ministry truly as Christ's work among them

Law Themes
Divisions in congregations; false apostles; human frailty; poverty in sin; generosity; suffering; self-examination

Gospel Themes
Comfort in Christ; restoration through forgiveness; reconciliation; wealth in Christ; God's sufficient grace

Memory Verses
Amen in Christ (1:18–22); the Spirit gives life (3:4–6); eternal glory (4:16–18); the ministry of reconciliation (5:17–21); rich in Christ (8:9); a cheerful giver (9:6–8); God's sufficient grace (12:7–10)

2 Corinthians

Reading 2 Corinthians

See pp 1944–46.

Luther on 2 Corinthians

In the first epistle, St. Paul rebuked the Corinthians severely for many things, pouring sharp wine into their wounds [Luke 10:34] and frightening them. But an apostle should be a preacher of comfort, to raise up terrified and fearful consciences, rather than to frighten them. Therefore in this epistle he praises them once more and pours oil into their wounds [Luke 10:34]. He shows himself wonderfully kind to them and bids them to receive the sinner back with love.

In chapters 1 and 2 he shows his love toward them, how all that he said, did, and suffered was for their profit and benefit, and how they ought to trust him for the best.

After that he praises the office of the gospel, which is the highest and most comforting of all works and is for the profit and benefit of men's consciences. He shows how it is nobler than the office of the law, also how it is persecuted, and yet increases among believers and produces through the cross a hope of eternal glory. But with all this he touches the false apostles, who were inculcating the law over against the gospel, teaching mere outward holiness—that is, hypocrisy—and allowing the inner shame of unbelief to continue. This he does in chapters 3, 4, and 5.

In chapters 6 and 7 he exhorts them to implement this kind of preaching in the things they do and suffer. He concludes by praising them, so that he may encourage them to carry on.

In chapters 8 and 9 he exhorts them to contribute also material aid and help in time of scarcity to the saints in Jerusalem, who from the outset had given over all their possessions, Acts 4[:34–35].

In chapters 10, 11, and 12 he deals with the false apostles.

In chapter 13 he threatens those who had sinned and not reformed. (AE 35:383–84)

Challenges for Readers

The setting for Paul's Letter and the issues he addressed present many challenges for interpreters. Here are some of the most important issues:

Cultural Diversity in Roman Corinth. See pp 1944–46.

Lack of Unity. Paul's composition seems to start and stop often and also displays strong changes in mood. Due to this, some commentators have suggested that 2 Corinthians is actually a collection of as many as five different writings by Paul. There is certainly a significant change of mood at ch 10, but this could have taken place because Paul received new word on the situation at Corinth. Nothing in the present Letter demands that it was a collection written for different occasions.

Letters and Visits. Paul visited Corinth during his second missionary journey (Ac 18:1–17) in c AD 50. He later wrote a letter of instruction to them (1Co 5:9), which has been lost. Paul's next Letter to them was 1 Corinthians, which may be the painful letter mentioned at 2Co 2:4 (though some scholars have assumed this refers to another lost letter written after 1 Corinthians). He also apparently made a "painful visit" to the congregation (2Co 2:1), which made it possible for Titus to follow up and settle the conflicts (2Co 7:6–8). Paul then wrote 2 Corinthians in AD 55. So, Paul may have written a total of four letters, as follows:

(1) A letter of instruction (1Co 5:9)
(2) 1 Corinthians
(3) A painful letter (2Co 2:4)
(4) 2 Corinthians

All this effort paid off. Clement of Rome wrote at the end of the first century that God held together this troubled congregation.

A Personal Letter. In 2 Corinthians, Paul lays bare his heart to the congregation and vigorously defends his apostleship against false apostles who tried to undermine his work. He writes much more about himself and his feelings than he does in his other Letters. Readers need to bear these personal qualities in mind when applying the Letter (e.g., just because Paul boasted rhetorically to the Corinthians does not mean that we must boast before our congregations).

The Reconciled Brother. The congregational member in ch 2 may be the same person who was excommunicated in 1Co 5, though Paul does not make this absolutely clear. In both cases, the sin involved has caused significant suffering for Paul and for the congregation.

Blessings for Readers

As you study 2 Corinthians, consider the marvelous example Paul gives of a thoughtful Christian leader striving to unite a wounded congregation. Note especially how he emphasizes God's work among them through the Gospel, which comforts and heals the congregation. If you have experienced disappointments and hurt feelings at church, allow 2 Corinthians to assist in your healing.

Paul also describes the generous heart of those who have received God's grace. He contrasts the faithful Macedonian believers, so ready to give to the poor and needy, with the disorganized and begrudging Corinthians, who question Paul's motives for collecting the offering. God grant us wise and generous hearts that think clearly about giving for the needs of others!

OUTLINE

I. Salutation (1:1–2)
II. Blessed Be the God of Comfort (1:3–7)
III. Pastoral Reflection on Interaction with the Corinthians (1:8–5:10)
  A. Explanation of the Change in Travel Plans (1:8–2:2)
  B. Explanation of the Painful Letter (2:3–13)
  C. Theological Reflection on Paul's Apostolic Ministry (2:14–5:10)
    1. God leads His ministers to spread the knowledge of Christ (2:14–16a)
    2. Confidence and competence come from God, who establishes the ministry of the new covenant (2:16b–3:18)
    3. Consequent courage, integrity, and effectiveness of the ministry despite unbelief, personal weakness, and opposition (ch 4)
    4. Faith leads to a heavenly home (5:1–10)
IV. Apostolic Appeal to Be Reconciled to God and to His Ministers (5:11–7:16)
  A. We Live for God in the Service of Christ by Serving Others (5:11–15)
  B. The New Creation Gives a New Perspective on Others (5:16–17)
  C. God's Ministers of Reconciliation Urge Others to Be Reconciled to Him (5:18–21)
  D. The Apostle Appeals for Acceptance of God's Grace (6:1–13)

E. Accepting God's Grace Means Separation from Unbelievers (6:14–7:1)

F. Paul's Good Will toward Corinthians (7:2–16)

V. Logistics and Encouragement to Participate in the Jerusalem Collection (chs 8–9)

A. Encouragement to Whole-Hearted Participation in the Collection (8:1–15)

B. Titus and Two Other Brothers Represent the Church (8:16–24)

C. Instructions for Other Congregations in Achaia (ch 9)

VI. Paul Appeals for Corinthians to Acknowledge His Apostolic Authority (ch 10)

VII. Paul Responds to the Accusations of the "Super-Apostles" (11:1–13:10)

A. The Corinthians Have Too Easily Turned from Pure Devotion to Christ (11:1–6)

B. Paul's Motive in Not Accepting Support from the Corinthians (11:7–15)

C. Though Boasting Is Foolish, the Request for Credentials Requires It (11:16–21a)

D. Paul's Credentials Are His Sufferings in Ministry and for the Churches (11:21b–33)

E. Paul Boasts Not in Revelations but in His Weaknesses (12:1–10)

F. Boasting Is Foolish; Faithful Ministry Should Be Enough (12:11–13)

G. Paul Did Not Take Advantage of the Church (12:14–18)

H. Paul Warns That He Will Arrive with Christ's Power to Discipline (12:19–13:10)

VIII. Closing (13:11–14)

Footnotes

Footnotes for 2 Corinthians, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:5 Or For as the sufferings of Christ abound for us, so also our comfort abounds through Christ
- [2] 1:8 Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church
- [1] 1:12 Some manuscripts holiness
- [2] 1:13 Or understand; twice in this verse; also verse 14
- [3] 1:22 Or down payment

Footnotes for 2 Corinthians, Chapter 2

- [1] 2:16 Or competent

Footnotes for 2 Corinthians, Chapter 3

- [1] 3:2 Some manuscripts your
- [2] 3:3 Greek fleshly hearts
- [3] 3:6 Or sufficient
- [1] 3:16 Greek he
- [2] 3:17 Or this Lord

- [3] 3:18 Or reflecting the glory of the Lord

Footnotes for 2 Corinthians, Chapter 4

- [4] 4:1 Greek as we have received mercy
- [5] 4:5 Greek bondservants
- [1] 4:16 Greek man

Footnotes for 2 Corinthians, Chapter 5

- [2] 5:3 Some manuscripts putting it off
- [1] 5:17 Or creature
- [1] 5:19 Or God was in Christ, reconciling

Footnotes for 2 Corinthians, Chapter 6

- [2] 6:11 Greek Our mouth is open to you
- [1] 6:15 Greek Beliar

Footnotes for 2 Corinthians, Chapter 7

- [2] 7:1 Greek flesh
- [3] 7:2 Greek lacks in your hearts

Footnotes for 2 Corinthians, Chapter 8

- [1] 8:1 Or brothers and sisters
- [2] 8:4 The Greek word charis can mean favor or grace or thanks, depending on the context
- [3] 8:7 Some manuscripts in your love for us
- [1] 8:17 Or he went
- [2] 8:18 Or we sent; also verse 22
- [3] 8:23 Greek apostles

Footnotes for 2 Corinthians, Chapter 9

- [1] 9:3 Or I have sent
- [2] 9:5 Greek blessing; twice in this verse
- [3] 9:5 Or a gift expecting something in return; Greek greed
- [4] 9:6 Greek with blessings; twice in this verse
- [5] 9:8 Or all contentment
- [1] 9:13 Or you

Footnotes for 2 Corinthians, Chapter 11

- [1] 11:27 Or often in fasting

Footnotes for 2 Corinthians, Chapter 12

- [1] 12:7 Or hears from me, even because of the surpassing greatness of the revelations. So to keep me from becoming conceited

Footnotes for 2 Corinthians, Chapter 13

- [1] 13:11 Or brothers and sisters
- [2] 13:11 Or listen to my appeal

Study Notes

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:1 an apostle. See p 1901. by the will of God. Not by accident or even by Paul's choice. Being in public ministry is a calling, a gracious privilege, not an earned position (cf Ac 9:15). In this sense, all service, pastoral and lay, must be faithful to God's mission, not to our own. Timothy. A believer of Jewish-Greek descent whom Paul met on his second missionary journey (Ac 16). A trusted co-worker in ministry. brother. See p 1901. church of God. See pp 1901–2. Corinth. See pp 1944–46. saints. See p 1904. Achaia. See map, p 1886.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:2 Grace. See p 1902.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:1–2 Paul's ministry to the Corinthians has been "painful" (2:1). As Christ's representative, Paul calls them to repentance (cf 1Co 5–6; 10–11) for their willful disobedience of the Gospel of Jesus. Yet, even for this Church there is grace and peace from "God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ," which establishes and sustains them anew as God's saints. Like the Corinthians, we must also admit and repent of our misuse and neglect of the ministry of the Word. Too often, we trust in our own wisdom and strength to the detriment of our walk with God. Yet, Jesus is continually gracious toward us with a forgiveness that is as real as Jesus Himself. Just as He was gracious to undeserving, even arrogant, people at Corinth and restored them as saints, He can reach each one of us right where we are. • Dear Lord, thank You for continually reaching me and renewing me in and through Your Church. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:3 Blessed. See p 1901. Paul bursts forth in worship. The God who brings grace and peace (v 2) is to be worshiped and praised.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:4 comforts us. First and foremost, a Christian's comfort comes through the message of reconciliation with God through the work of Jesus Christ (5:17–20). This Letter also shows how believers are agents of God's consolation and comfort for others (cf 7:5–9). us … we ourselves. Throughout this section, Paul uses the plural stylistically to speak of himself, making it easy to extend these truths to all Christians.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:5 we. Probably refers to Paul himself (the editorial plural), though Timothy, his partner in ministry, might be included.

share abundantly in Christ's sufferings. Lit, "the sufferings of Christ abound for us." Christ's suffering engulfs our suffering, overcomes it, and is a resource of strength for all who are in distress (cf 1Pt 2:24).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:6 Sharing Jesus' gracious forgiveness to others involves bearing the cross (cf Jn 15:20). Paul confesses how bearing the Corinthians' abuses and challenges reflects Jesus' suffering and His comfort, as he strives to deliver the Gospel message to them for the sake of their salvation. same sufferings. The Corinthians, who experienced Paul's self-sacrificial love on their behalf, are now made aware of the joy of enduring such things for others (cf Heb 12:1–3).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:7 For the believer, even suffering has a purpose (cf Rm 8:28), due to the sure and certain hope that sin, suffering, and death are only momentary sidetracks from the eternal life given in and through Jesus Christ.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:8 brothers. See p 1901. affliction we experienced. Paul experienced persecution for sharing the Gospel (cf Ac 19). utterly burdened. Lit, burdened "beyond our power" (cf 1Co 1:24; Eph 3:20). despaired. Paul understood that his personal power and strength could in no way overcome the sufferings confronting him.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:9 sentence of death. Whatever the sufferings or persecutions, they were severe. rely … on God. Despairing of oneself often causes one to trust more completely in God. Jesus clearly teaches that His people will face suffering in this world (Jn 16:33) as they strive to share the Gospel (Mt 16:24–25). But this suffering avails much, for it is in and for the name of Jesus (cf Ac 9:16). Suffering was part of Paul's calling to deliver the Gospel (4:10–12; Rm 9:3; Php 3:10–14). Though God does not capriciously hurt His people, there are certain aspects of His love that He can teach us only through suffering. "Although these afflictions are for the most part the punishments of sin, yet in the godly they have a better end, namely, to exercise them, that they may learn amid trials to seek God's aid, to acknowledge the distrust of their own hearts, and so forth" (Ap XIIB 54). raises the dead. Paul knew the strength of his God and the confidence that only He brings lasting life (cf 12:9–10; Rm 8:31–39).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:10 deadly peril. Lit, "so great of death," "great dangers of death." Graphically describes God's even greater rescue of those who "had received the sentence of death" (v 9).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:11 help us by prayer. The prayer of believers avails much. Members of the Body of Christ are concerned for one another and lift one another up in prayer (cf Col 1:3; 2Th 3:1) See note, 10:4. blessing. Gk charisma. See "grace," p 1902. Denotes God's gracious activity in our lives (cf Rm 5:15; 6:23); in this case, God's gracious rescue of Paul.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:3–11 Paul puts suffering in the context of God's grace. Sharing the Gospel in the midst of a sinful world means that opposition is bound to come (Jn 15:20) and may even overwhelm God's people as they share the Good News with others. Christ Jesus promises that in the midst of carrying crosses, burdens, and even the abuses and persecutions of others, His burden will be light (Mt 11:28–30). He not only will sustain us as His people (Rm 5:1–5) but will refresh us and bring joy in the midst of such struggles (Mt 5:11; 2Co 12:9–10). • Lord Jesus, teach us to be open to the challenging experiences that loving others in Your name brings, so we might trust in You all the more and rejoice exceedingly when others come to faith in You because they have known us as Your people. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:12 boast. Paul challenges his detractors (cf 1Co 4; 2Co 11). His "boast" is not in himself, but in his sincere service to the Corinthians as the apostle of Jesus Christ to them (cf 1Co 1:31; 4:1; 2Co 11–12). To boast in Christ about the Corinthians (v 14) is not only okay but also blesses his hearers. simplicity. Straightforward, pure motives. earthly wisdom. Lit, "wisdom of the flesh," which claims no need for God. grace. See p 1902. Paul was not there to peddle his or anybody else's wisdom, but to proclaim Christ and His grace (cf 1Co 1:20–24; 2:1–5).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:13 what you read. Paul's writings. See pp 1979–80.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:14 day of our Lord Jesus. When Jesus returns to judge the living and the dead (cf 1Co 5:5; 1Th 5:2; 2Pt 3:10). boast. Paul rejoices in shared faith. One of the greatest joys in life is that someone comes to faith in Jesus because they heard the Gospel from you.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:15 this. That Christ is at work through Paul's ministry to the Corinthians, producing mutual faith and joy. second experience of grace. They needed a second apostolic visit and restoration because of their arrogance (see pp 1979–80).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:16 Macedonia … Judea. See map, p 1886.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:17 Opponents were accusing Paul of being fickle in his care of the Corinthian Church. They falsely claimed that he was afraid to be bold in person (cf 10:10). Paul ultimately defends not himself but the ministry of Jesus that comes in apparent weakness and foolishness (cf 1Co 1:18; 2Co 4; 13:4). Yes … No. Paul does not say one thing and mean the other. God is faithful, and Paul's ministry as God's representative is faithful too (1:1).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:19 Silvanus and Timothy. Co-workers with Paul in ministry to the Corinthian Church. See note, 1Th 1:1. in Him it is always Yes. The message of Jesus Christ is the reconciliation, the forgiveness for the world (cf Jn 12:47). In Christ alone, God fulfilled all His OT promises of redemption.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:20 promises of God. In the OT covenant and Jesus' earthly ministry. Amen. Understanding Jesus' incredible work on behalf of the world calls for the response of faith—"Amen," or "Let it be so for me." See p 1901.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:21 anointed us. See "holy," p 7; see also note, 1Sm 10:1.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:22 His seal. See note, Eph 1:13. guarantee. The Holy Spirit received in Baptism is God's "deposit" of His continued faithfulness. God would bring Paul's ministry with the Corinthians to its appointed end (Php 1:6).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:23 witness against me. Paul defends his ministry among the Corinthians, calling God Himself—the one who chose (v 1) and dispatched him to serve them—to vindicate his thoughts and actions. spare you. Paul did not fail to come to them out of personal weakness or fickleness but out of love for them (cf 1Co 4:14–21).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:24 lord it over your faith. The Gospel comes in service (cf 11:6–23; Mt 20:28). The Gospel seeks to persuade, to encourage, and to call to faith. "Christ was not sent to bear the sword or possess a worldly kingdom" (Tr 31).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:1 painful visit. Paul's second visit was to resolve conflicts. See pp 1979–80.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:2 Only a positive response from the Corinthians could relieve his concerns.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:3 I wrote. See pp 1979–80.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:4 Paul demonstrates both sincere motives for his work in Corinth and the willingness of the Gospel ministry to serve others for their sake. He contrasts his motives and message with that of the super-apostles (1Co 4:9–16; 2Co 11:13), who were actually false prophets.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 1:12–2:4 Paul defends his ministry to the Corinthians not according to the standards of the world but according to the gracious character of God's message delivered through self-sacrificing servants. Sharing the Gospel message often exposes us as unworthy servants. In the midst of the hardships that Gospel ministry brings in a sinful world, the confidence of Christ, His encouraging, sustaining, forgiving presence, is a constant blessing for those who trust Him (1:21). • Dear Jesus, even in the midst of the battles of life, Your love and Your grace not only sustain us, but they are also the solid ground from which we can always begin again. We trust in Your everlasting love. Amen.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:5–17 The Corinthian congregation had allowed sexually immoral behavior in their midst that was worse than the pagans' (see note, 1Co 5:1). It is unclear whether Paul is speaking of this person as the one who has grieved the congregation or whether there was another incident requiring a "painful visit" (v 1). One can be sure that the offense was public, serious, and required discipline. See pp 1979–80.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:6 punishment by the majority. When sin is public, it reflects on the whole congregation. Some likely wanted the punishment to be even more severe.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:7 forgive and comfort him. The discipline had brought about repentance. Forgiveness and reconciliation are always the goal of discipline and punishment. Forgiveness of sins, not perfection, is the chief characteristic of the Church. excessive sorrow. Sorrow for sin correctly brings a deep sense of guilt and remorse, but to continue to criticize a remorseful person after repentance defeats discipline's purpose.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:8 reaffirm. The Gk kyroo¯, used of legal arrangements and covenants, can mean "enforce." Restoration must be publicly confirmed.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:9 test you. Lit, "know your proof, your evidence" to see if you are faithful in this matter. obedient in everything. The Corinthians had been obedient in the process of discipline. Paul wants them to be as faithful in forgiveness and restoration (cf Ps 103:12–13; Heb 10:17).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:10 I also forgive. Discipline was a shared exercise, so forgiveness was shared too. for your sake. The exercise of discipline was not only for a person who sinned, but for the sake of the Church itself. They, too, were called to be faithful in discipline and forgiveness as Christ's people.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:11 outwitted by Satan. To misuse the process of discipline as some legalistic punishment or some method of humiliating a repentant sinner would turn Christ's Church into a cesspool of self-righteousness. Paul warns against this satanic twist. his designs. Satan plans and purposes to destroy congregations. "He provokes the world against us, fans and stirs the fire, so that he may hinder and drive us back, cause us to fall, and again bring us under his power" (LC III 63).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:5–11 The goal of church discipline is the restoration of the person. Paul calls the Corinthians, who have been diligent in punishment, to be even more diligent in forgiveness. When disciplining another, we often are tempted to do so legalistically, as if the person has to earn our forgiveness. Such an attitude actually destroys grace, both in the repentant believer and in us. To the one who is truly sorry for sin, we are to forgive as Christ forgives us and to remember the sin no more. • Dear Lord, give us wisdom to speak Your words of judgment or grace always for the sake of our fellow believer and not for our own satisfaction or self-righteousness. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:12 came to Troas. Paul stopped on his third missionary journey, after leaving Ephesus (Ac 20:1–12), on his way to Macedonia, AD 55. door was opened. A positive reception of the Gospel was feasible.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:13 my spirit was not at rest. Paul was concerned about the Corinthian problems. Titus. Paul's companion who shared in the mission work, esp at Corinth (8:16–17). Macedonia. See map, p 1886.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:14–15 us … we. Paul switches from his specific calling to speak broadly about God's work in the lives of believers. triumphal procession. See note, Col 2:15. fragrance … the aroma of Christ. Temple sacrifices produced smells we would associate with grilling meat or cooking bread. The pleasing aroma of Christ's sacrifice on the cross covers the stench of our sin. Chrys: "We are then, as it were, a Royal censer, breathing withersoever we go of the heavenly ointment and the spiritual sweet savor" (NPNF 1 12:301).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:16 death to death. To focus on the deadly character of a sacrifice or a triumphal military procession is to fail to see how that sacrifice gives life. life to life. Paul's life of sacrifice brings life to unbelievers. Who is sufficient for these things? Paul was personally inadequate for the monumental task of apostolic ministry (i.e., being Christ's representative, preaching both judgment and forgiveness in Christ's name). This did not destroy his confidence in Christ and the certainty of his calling in Christ's name. "We should be certain about and agree with the promise that God's Word preached and heard is 'truly' an office and work of the Holy Spirit. He is certainly effective and works in our hearts by them" (FC SD II 56).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:17 peddlers. Paul contrasts his ministry with those who peddle God's Word for personal profit. He might also be differentiating his gathering of the offerings for the saints (8:4; 9:5) with the actions of the false apostles (cf 11:12–15). commissioned by God. Paul was authorized by and accountable to God Himself for what he proclaimed to the Corinthians (see "apostle," p 1901; cf Ac 9:1–15). speak in Christ. Accountable to the purpose and assurance of Christ and His message.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 2:12–17 Paul's spirit is restless and overwhelmed in the circumstances of his ministry. Nonetheless, he is confident that Christ will accomplish His work for the Corinthians. As Christians, we often feel the very real weight of representing Christ to others. Our worries, sins, and frailties can overwhelm us. We can take heart that Christ Jesus is always sufficient and that His message of forgiveness for us is also a sweet fragrance to all who trust in Him. • Dear Lord, give us sincere hearts to look honestly at ourselves, so we may never take Your grace for granted, and that we might be a sweet aroma of grace to others in Your name. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 3:1 commend ourselves. Paul has no need to establish his credibility with the Corinthians. His authority comes from Christ's commission (Ac 9:1–15). letters of recommendation. Businessmen or officials often sent authorizing letters on behalf of their messengers. The Corinthians knew Paul intimately (cf Ac 18:1–17); he needed no affirmation of his authority, just as Christ's message needs no human authority (Mt 28:18–20). The super-apostles (chs 11–13) may have used such letters.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 3:2 Rather than debate the issue of his ministry's authorization, Paul declared that the Corinthians are his ministry's proof. As believers in Christ—living in faith—they were the greatest earthly commendation for the integrity and sincerity of Paul's work.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 3:3 you are a letter from Christ. The Corinthians mutually encourage one another and witness to the whole of Corinth as a result of Paul's ministry among them (cf Jn 13:35). written … with the Spirit. Paul's ministry to them was first and foremost a work of the Holy Spirit. There is confidence and enduring assurance in this Letter written by the eternal Spirit. living God. A reference to the Father. See p 1227. tablets of stone. Engraved public monuments. tablets of human hearts. Living monuments (cf 1Pt 2:5).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 3:4 confidence. See note, 3:1

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 3:5 our sufficiency is from God. See note, 2:16. The Gospel was not only the proclamation of His ministry but its power as well (cf 4:7; 1Co 1:18; Col 1:10–14). "Since the natural powers of mankind cannot do anything or help toward it (1 Corinthians 2:14; 2 Corinthians 3:5), God, out of His infinite goodness and mercy, comes first to us. He causes His Holy Gospel to be preached. The Holy Spirit desires to work and accomplish this conversion and renewal in us. Through preaching and meditation on His Word God kindles faith and other godly virtues in us. They are the Holy Spirit's gifts and works alone" (FC SD II 71).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 3:6 ministers. See p 1903. new covenant. The work of Jesus Christ, who is the fulfillment of both the Law and the promises of the OT (cf Gn 17; Ex 19–20; Jer 31:34). the letter kills. The "letter of the Law," holy and powerful, puts the sinner to death (cf Rm 3:20; 7; Gal 3:19–24). "The Law … is a ministry that kills through the letter and preaches condemnation" (FC SD V 22). the Spirit gives life. God works in our hearts, through the promises of the Gospel of Jesus, to bring life and salvation (1:22; Jn 14:26; 15:26; 16:13–16). See pp xxxi–xxxii.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 3:7 ministry of death. The Law of Moses is defined by its function in the lives of sinful people. God's holiness exposes our sinfulness. It damns any notion of self-sufficiency outside of God's grace. "The doctrines of the Law and the Gospel may not be mixed and confused with each other. What belongs to the one may not be applied to the other. When that happens Christ's merit and benefits are easily hidden and the Gospel is again turned into a doctrine of the Law, as happened in the papacy" (FC SD V 27). glory. See p 1902. Moses' face. Moses' face literally reflected God's glory, having been in God's presence to receive the Law. end. Rabbinic writers held that Moses' face shined brilliantly like the sun or moon. See note, Ex 34:29. The old covenant (as it was understood by Judaism) ultimately exposed sinners as those condemned to death. It gave way to the fulfillment of the Law and the promises of God by the ministry of Jesus Christ in the power of the Spirit.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 3:8 ministry of the Spirit. The ministry of death (v 7) was the Spirit's first work but not His ultimate work (cf Ezk 33:11; Gal 3:5–9). "[God] will work through the Word in the people He calls, so that they may be enlightened, converted, and saved. For the Word, by which we are called, is a ministry of the Spirit, which gives the Spirit, or by which the Spirit is given" (FC SD XI 29).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 3:9 ministry of condemnation. God serves us by spiritually exposing the futility and destructiveness of human self-righteousness, which brings condemnation. ministry of righteousness. Jesus serves us by fulfilling the Law (Mt 5:17), taking upon Himself the curse of the world's sin (5:21; Gal 3:13), and giving His righteousness for the salvation of the world (cf 1Co 1:30).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 3:10 no glory at all. The OT's glory is fulfilled in the NT. In this sense, the OT glory has passed away. surpasses. The ministry of Jesus in the power of the Spirit abundantly fulfills the expectations of the OT (see note, 9:14).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 3:13 veil over his face. Moses saw God's glory (Ex 33:18) and reflected that glory in his face to the Israelites. He veiled his face to prevent the Israelites from sensing the transient nature of that reflection, calling them to continually trust in his leadership before God and before them. The glory of the old covenant was fleeting compared to Jesus.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 3:14 minds. Both their minds and their hearts were blinded without faith in Christ (v 15). "They do not learn from the Law to see their sins correctly. They either become bold hypocrites 'who swell with the opinion of their own righteousness' like the Pharisees [Matthew 23], or they despair like Judas [Matthew 27:3–5]" (FC Ep V 8).

hardened. By unfaithfulness and rebellion. See notes, Ex 4:21; 9:12. old covenant. Broadly embodying the Law and the promises of God expressed throughout the Books of Moses, the covenant called for Israel to trust in Yahweh as the Lord of salvation and redemption. (See pp 3–5.) through Christ is it taken away. Christ, the object of our faith, fulfills the glory of the old covenant (e.g., the veil [curtain] torn in two at Jesus' death, Mt 27:51).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 3:15 Moses is read. The Books of Moses were read publicly in the synagogues. hearts. See note, v 14.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 3:16–17 Jesus Christ is both the hope of the old covenant and the key to understanding it as the proclamation of what was yet to come (cf 1:19–20). turns to the Lord. Believes in Jesus. See "turn," p 1080. the Lord is the Spirit. The mystery and unity of the Trinity (Father, Son, Holy Spirit, yet one God!) is at work in salvation (cf Jn 14:17, 26; 15:26; 16:13, 15). The Holy Spirit works life and salvation in the person and work of Jesus. freedom. Faith in Jesus removes not only the veil of the old covenant but also the guilt and bondage of sin (cf Rm 8). Such freedom allows the Christian to serve God not out of guilt, but out of joy and thanksgiving. "God's Law is useful (1) because external discipline and decency are maintained by it against wild, disobedient people; (2) likewise, through the Law people are brought to a knowledge of their sins; and also, (3) when people have been born anew by God's Spirit, converted to the Lord, and Moses's veil has been lifted from them [2 Corinthians 3:13–16], they live and walk in the Law [Psalm 119:1]" (FC SD VI 1).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 3:18 beholding the glory. The believer's focus is upon Christ alone through His Word. Jesus is the glory of God (Heb 1:3) and the gift of righteousness (1Co 1:30) available to all because of the cross and Baptism (Rm 6:3–11). transformed into the same image. By virtue of God's mercy, we become more and more like Him in our daily lives through the work of the Holy Spirit through the Word (cf Rm 12:1–2). degree of glory. Describes moving from the glory of those exposed to their deadness in sin, to the glory of being declared righteous in Christ, to the glory of becoming more like Jesus day by day (cf Php 1:5–6).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON Ch 3 Paul describes the sufficiency, competency, and hope of the new covenant, which is the fulfillment of the old covenant. Our abilities and skills do not make us competent for the ministry of Jesus Christ. Our confidence and competency come from Christ, whose ministry truly gives life by the power of the Spirit. Therefore, we can be even bolder than Moses, the great prophet of the old covenant, as we proclaim Jesus, the one whom Moses yearned to see. • Dear Lord, help us to see clearly the living hope that You have given us through Your cross and resurrection. Give us also boldness to proclaim the cross to all who would listen. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:1 this ministry. Sharing the new covenant in Jesus (cf 2:17; 3:3, 6).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:2 tamper with God's word. Paul was falsely accused of discrediting the integrity of his ministry with the Corinthians (see notes, 1:17; 2:17). commend ourselves. Paul's proclamation of Jesus is bold and public. He is vulnerable to judgment by others. conscience. See p 1902.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:3 our gospel is veiled. Because of unbelief. perishing. Those who do not believe in God's provision of grace in Jesus and are judged in their trespasses and sins (1Co 1:18).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:4 god of this world. Satan, the ruler of this passing age (Rv 12:9–12). Iren: "Satan, who was designated God to those who believe not" (ANF 1:575). the light of the gospel. Satan's work is to "darken" hearts and minds. However, the Gospel, the forgiveness of sins through Jesus, remains a clear and visible light to the whole world, even though some have closed their eyes to it (cf Jn 3:19; Col 1:13; Eph 4:19). image of God. Jesus Christ, who is both God (1Jn 5:20) and man (1Tm 2:5) in the flesh (Heb 2:14), clearly reveals to the world who God is (Jn 14:9). He and the Father are in essence one (Jn 10:30; 17:11, 21). Jesus is also the perfect image of humanity for our sake. In Him is restored the image of man, lost in Gn 3. See note, Col 1:15.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:5 Jesus Christ as Lord. See notes, Col 1:16–20; Php 2:11. your servants for Jesus' sake. Paul, and indeed every apostolic overseer, is a servant to God in his work with God's people, just as Jesus Himself was servant to all (cf Mk 10:45; Jn 13:1–20). Paul contrasts his servanthood with his critics' boasting of themselves. See "servant," p 1904.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:6 Let light shine out of darkness. Paul alludes to the power of God in creation, when His Word literally brought light into existence. shone in our hearts. That miraculous Word of creation is at work through the Gospel, which alone can enlighten hearts that are dark with sin. in the face of Jesus Christ. The righteousness, love, and grace of God (indeed God's very heart) are seen in Jesus (cf Jn 14:6; Rm 5:6–8).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:1–6 The essence of Paul's ministry was "mercy" through the Lord Jesus alone. Such mercy compelled him to be straightforward, authentic, and transparent as a servant to God's people. Merciful ministry exposes and binds us to the people we serve. We must never give in to the temptation to think that merciful ministry can be done from afar, as a master and not as a servant. The same Lord who made "light shine out of darkness" will strengthen our hearts to be courageously transparent servants. • Thanks be to God, who is generously merciful to us. May He prepare us and bind us to those who need such mercy. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:7 this treasure in jars of clay. Like invaluable gifts wrapped in plain paper, ministers of the Gospel, such as Paul, were frail; they dispensed the Gospel's treasures. surpassing power. God's overwhelming, all-encompassing power in His grace toward the world, in contrast to human incapability (cf Rm 1:16; 1Co 2:14).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:8–9 Sharing the Gospel with others is challenging in a sinful, rebellious world (Jn 16:33). "Great and grievous, indeed, are these dangers and temptations, which every Christian must bear. We bear them even though each one were alone by himself" (LC III 105). But one can always trust in the Lord and the power of the Gospel to see one through. He never lets His people down (Mt 28:20).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:10 Paul, as a minister of the Gospel, not only preached Christ crucified (1Co 1:23), but also was literally wounded for that message. Christians reflect that Christ is love by willing self-sacrifice and service, so that others might come to know Jesus' love.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:11 given over to death. Paul and his companions were persecuted, beaten, and threatened with death (11:23–33). manifested in our mortal flesh. In Paul's frailties and struggles, the Gospel message exhibited its power all the more (cf 12:9; Rm 8:31–39).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:12 Believers are not exempt from pain and suffering. When earthen vessels are broken, they even more clearly reveal the treasure of God's power and grace within. See p 837.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:13 same spirit of faith. Believers from every generation and time possess the same faith in God's Word, which delivers a spirit of perseverance to speak of God's grace no matter the cost.

I believed … I spoke. Just as David boldly trusted in the Lord and proclaimed His grace (cf Ps 145:1–8), so Paul boldly proclaimed the same Lord.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:14 He. God the Father by the power of the Holy Spirit (cf Rm 8:11; Gal 1:1). into His presence. Redeemed to live eternally in God's presence in heaven.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:15 grace extends to more. The goal of Paul's ministry to the Corinthians was to reach more people.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:16 outer self. All that belongs to this sinful world, which is passing away. inner self. The new person, who will live forever in God's presence (cf 1Co 15:42–55; Php 1:6). renewed day by day. God's Word and Sacraments give strength for each day of our lives (cf Mt 28:18–20; 1Co 10:16–17), prompting us to daily repentance (Ps 51:1–12).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:17 eternal weight of glory. Afflictions and struggles are temporary; therefore, they are light compared to the glory of being God's reconciled and restored people, living in His presence forever (cf 5:17–20). See "glory," p 1902.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:18 things … unseen. The glory of God, His angels, and heaven.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 4:7–18 Living and sharing the life of Christ with others often has a cost. Paul instructs us to look beyond the momentary affliction to the eternal glory of salvation in Jesus. He tells us to look to the treasure, not to the earthen vessel, for our confidence with God. God's promises of life and salvation are the most real things in our lives. Because that is true, believers can look at afflictions and struggles purposefully as opportunities that make God's power more evident to those around them. Afflictions are temporary nuisances that will surely give way to the glory of life eternal with our Savior. • Lord, show me Your purpose in the struggles and in the victories of my life. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:1 we. See notes, 1:4, 5. tent. The temporal body. a building from God. A permanent dwelling. The resurrected body is redeemed for eternity, restored and transformed by God Himself (cf 1Co 15; 1Jn 3:2).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:3 At the point of death, when the tent dwelling literally fades away, the cloak of God's eternal dwelling is sure for all those who trust in Him.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:4 burdened. Knowing that the eternal is yet to come, this temporal existence feels burdensome. unclothed … clothed. See note, v 3. swallowed up by life. Paul does not wish to do away with his temporal existence, for God has His purposes for all things. Rather, he earnestly prays that God swallow up his mortality with Christlike immortality in His time (cf 1Jn 3:2; 1Co 15:38, 44–47, 52–54). Iren: "We ought, after our calling, to be also adorned with works of righteousness, so that the Spirit of God may rest upon us; for this is the wedding garment" (ANF 1:517).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:5 guarantee. A down payment or pledge assures that the whole is certain to come (see note, 1:22).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:6 away from the Lord. Christ is always with His people (Mt 18:20; 28:20). Here, Paul means away from the permanent, eternal reality of the new heavens and the new earth with the Lord (2Pt 3:13; Rv 21:1–7, 22–23).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:7 We trust in God's promises, not in what we see with our eyes (see notes, 4:17, 18; cf Heb 11). Aug: "Whoever takes another meaning out of Scripture than the writer intended, goes astray…. Faith will totter if the authority of Scripture begin[s] to shake. And then, if faith totter[s], love itself will grow cold. For if a man has fallen from faith, he must necessarily also fall from love; for he cannot love what he does not believe to exist" (NPNF 1 2:533). See "walk," p 1904.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:8 home with the Lord. Death divides body from spirit but not from the Lord. See note, v 6.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:9 please Him. In view of Jesus' great mercy to us, the goal of this life is to live to honor to Him (cf Rm 12:1) as we serve others in His name.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:10 judgment seat of Christ. At the final judgment, Jesus will personally judge the living and the dead (Ac 17:31; 2Tm 4:1). This is the day of the Lord, when all people will stand before His throne (1Co 1:8; 2Co 1:14; 2Pt 3:10). See "day of the LORD," p 1079. what is due. Not works-righteousness, for all are dead in sin without Christ and saved by grace alone (Eph 2:8–9; Rm 2:11–16; 3:9–20). Paul means what is due by faith, namely, that we are righteous through Christ alone, for God works through us (Eph 2:10). God's grace is so abundant that even the works He graciously provides, He rewards. Conversely, those who do not believe in Jesus will stand before Christ and be judged by their works. "By God's help, we will retain this Confession to our last breath, when we shall go forth from this life to the heavenly fatherland, to appear with a joyful, undaunted mind and a pure conscience before the court of our Lord Jesus Christ" (Preface to the Christian Book of Concord, Concordia, 16).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:1–10 Paul simply instructs the believer to please God. We, even as Christians, often live to please others and to please ourselves, neglecting the one thing that makes life worth living—pleasing Christ. Paul calls us to get our priorities straight. To please Christ is to trust in His word of grace for us. His grace, His forgiveness, His gift of faith by the power of the Holy Spirit assures us that nothing in this world can separate us from God, and that Judgment Day will be a day of celebration for those who put their trust in Him. • Dear Lord, impress upon my heart the greatness of Your grace to me, by the power of Your Holy Spirit, so that I can walk confidently by faith until I see You gloriously face-to-face. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:11 fear of the Lord. See p 1001. known to God. Judgment Day brings all things to light. But Paul and all believers are already known by God (1Co 8:3; Gal 4:9). conscience. See p 1902. Paul is open and transparent not only to the Lord's judgment but also to the Corinthians' judgment of him.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:12 cause to boast. See note, 3:1. those who boast. False teachers boasted of themselves (their outward appearance of spiritual strength), leading the Corinthian congregation away from the Lord as they despised God's ministry through Paul (10:12; 11:1–13).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:13 beside ourselves. False teachers claimed that Paul was crazy. An apostle must be willing to be a "fool" for Christ (cf 1Co 4:9–13). for you. To the Corinthians, Paul spoke clearly and directly (cf 1Co 1:17, 2:4).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:14 love of Christ. The source and motivation for Paul's ministry to the Corinthians. all have died. When Jesus died on the cross, as the sinless Son of God, all who ever lived or would live were connected to His death. As God in the flesh, He took the punishment for all sinners upon Himself (v 21; Rm 5:6–8). Bern: "It was man who owed the debt, it was man who paid it…. The Head, therefore, satisfied for [its] members, Christ for His children" (SLSB, p 280).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:16 regard … the flesh. Paul would not approach people from the world's point of view but from God's. once regarded Christ according to the flesh. Paul had previously thought of Jesus as a mere man. He foolishly rejected Christ and persecuted His Church (Ac 9:5; 26:15–18; 1Co 15:9).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:17 in Christ. See p 1903. new creation. God has redeemed and restored the believer into a new sphere of existence, re-created as a person of faith in Jesus Christ who desires to live in and for Him alone (cf Rm 8:18–23; Eph 2:10). passed away. In Christ, the things of the sinful flesh have died (cf v 14). The believer is under the lordship of Christ.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:18 All this is from God. Chrys: "Nothing of ourselves. For remission of sins and adoption and unspeakable glory are given to us by Him" (NPNF 1 12:332). reconciled. All people are alienated and cut off from God because of sin and rebellion. Christ's death on the cross bridges that eternal gap by paying sinful humanity's just punishment. Jesus' life, death, and resurrection not only redeemed us but also restored us to fellowship with Him (Col 1:22). "God's precepts, and God's true service, are hidden when people hear that only monks are in a state of perfection. True Christian perfection is to fear God from the heart, to have great faith, and to trust that for Christ's sake we have a God who has been reconciled [2 Corinthians 5:18–19]. It means to ask for and expect from God His help in all things with confident assurance that we are to live according to our calling in life, being diligent in outward good works, serving in our calling. This is where true perfection and true service of God is to be found" (AC XXVII 49–50). ministry of reconciliation. The apostolic ministry extends the benefits of Christ's reconciling work (cf Jn 20:21; Mt 28:18–20) to individuals, so that when Paul pleads for them to believe in Jesus, it is God's appeal. As recipients of that grace, God has also called all those who believe to be witnesses of God's gracious restoration to those who do not yet know Him (cf 4:15).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:19 in Christ God was. The divinity and humanity of Jesus, though united, remain distinct. "The divine essence is not changed into the human nature. But the two natures, unchanged, are personally united" (FC SD VII 36). reconciling the world. Through Christ's death, God's eternal justice was appeased and the whole world was reconciled to Him. Faith receives Christ's work personally. Unbelief, though, rejects it. entrusting to us. The apostolic ministry is God's gift to deliver His gracious benefits of forgiveness, life, and salvation through Word and Sacrament (cf Eph 4:11–15; Mt 28:18–20; 1Co 11:23–29).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:20 ambassadors. Representatives who speak on behalf of the heads of states/countries possess the authority of the one who sends them. The Corinthians then, in challenging Paul's ambassadorship to them, were in reality challenging Jesus (see Paul's warning in 6:1). be reconciled. A call to repentance.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:21 to be sin. Jesus took upon Himself our status and standing before God's righteous court. He was declared guilty of all the sin and evil in this world. knew no sin. Mankind's sins were charged to the account of an innocent man (cf Is 53:6). the righteousness of God. See p 1904. "Christ alone is our Righteousness, who is true God and man, because in Him the divine and human natures are personally united with each other" (FC Ep III 1).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 6:1 Working together with Him. As an apostle and ambassador of Jesus Christ, Paul was in essence God's co-worker (cf 1:1; 5:19). grace of God. See p 1902. in vain. Gk kenon, in an "empty fashion," without purpose, treating it lightly.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 6:2 Paul applies the words of promise in Is 49:8 to the Corinthian Christians. He impresses on the Corinthians the importance and seriousness of God's offer of grace to them through Jesus Christ. God's favor is being offered now to the Corinthians, and Paul pleads with them not to take this offer lightly.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 6:3 no obstacle. As a minister of the Gospel, Paul was careful not to get in the way of the message of Jesus. He was the messenger, not the message. our ministry. See "servant," p 1904.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 6:4 commend ourselves. See note, 3:1. Here, Paul adds that his conduct in suffering and persecution has been worthy of his calling as a minister of God to the Corinthians (cf 4:7–12).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 6:5 Cf Ac 14:19; 18:12 for examples.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 6:6–7 Paul's ministry has been a demonstration of God's power for others. God Himself effects the kind of self-sacrificial character and motivation Paul needs to serve others as God in Christ served him (cf Rm 5:1–5).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 6:7 weapons of righteousness. The tools that God graciously provides His people to wage His battle, to execute His mission and ministry—namely, God's Word and Sacraments (Mt 28:18–20), prayer, sacrificial service (cf 10:3–5; Rm 6:13; 13:12).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 6:8–10 Throughout these verses, one is confronted by the contrasts involved in Paul's ministry, the tensions of people's reaction to him, his own personal struggles, and even the paradox of what it means to be an earthen vessel with the treasures of Christ. But through it all, Paul claims that none of these circumstances affected his faithful sharing of the ministry of God's reconciliation with others (3:3–4).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 6:11 our heart is wide open. Paul's work with them was motivated by great love (cf 11:2; Php 1:7; 1Th 2:5–9), unlike the false apostles who cared more for themselves (11:11–14).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 6:12 Paul was unrestrained in his love for the Corinthians. If there was any distance between them, it was due to their hearts being restricted toward him.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 6:13 as to children. Paul's appeal to them is as a loving father (1Co 4:15). widen your hearts. Paul, in appealing to their hearts, is not simply calling them back to himself. He is calling them back to Christ, who can make His light shine in their hearts (4:6). Restored to Jesus, their hearts could again be wide open to Paul.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 5:11–6:13 Christ's love compels Paul to persevere through all hardships to make God's offer of forgiveness and reconciliation plain to the people at Corinth. Too often we mute the Gospel's power because of our pride, our carelessness, or our lack of concern for others. No greater honor can be given us than to be His ambassadors, His spokespeople. He not only saves us but also works through us. • What an honor to be Your ambassador, dear Lord! Continue to deepen our understanding of Your great reconciliation of the world in Christ so we might heartily revel in it with others. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 6:14–7:1 Paul refocuses the Corinthian congregation on God's gracious reconciliation in Christ. He entreats them not only to see the greatness of the ministry of forgiveness but also to see the blessing of his apostolic, servant ministry to them in Christ's name. Now is the time for them to stand firm in this alone. To stand in Christ is to reject the false teachers.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 6:14 unequally yoked. In a mismatched pair, as when a donkey and an ox are used together for plowing (Dt 22:10), the larger animal walks at a different pace than the smaller one. As a result, the driving is erratic and dangerous. righteousness with lawlessness. These have no partnership or fellowship. Paul warns the Corinthians of the danger of being intimately connected to the false teaching of the counterfeit apostles, which can only destroy their relationship to Jesus and to one another. "Under the title and excuse of outward adiaphora, things are proposed that are in principle contrary to God's Word, although painted another color. These ceremonies are not to be regarded as adiaphora, in which one is free to do as he wants. They must be avoided as things prohibited by God" (FC SD X 5).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 6:15–16a Paul's nuances contrast the things of God with those things outside of Christ. To treat the message of Jesus as merely another hopeful human message is to receive it in vain (v 1). accord. Common ground, harmony. Belial? Hbr for "wicked" or "worthless"; a title for Satan. portion. See p 7.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 6:16b temple. Gk naos, the inner sanctuary of the temple, the Most Holy Place, where God dwelled among His people (cf Lk 1:21–22; Rv 11:19). Jesus became the clearest expression of God's redeeming presence as He made His tabernacle among us (cf Jn 1:14, 18). the living God. Alive and life-giving. The idols are dead things; to be connected to them is to be disconnected from the life that only God can give (cf Jn 14:6; Ac 17:28).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 6:16b–18 Paul applies OT themes to the Corinthians, namely, that God is graciously present among His people for their salvation (cf Ex 19:4–5; 33:13–19) and that His people are to be separated unto Him not only for themselves but as witnesses to those who do not believe (cf Gn 12:1–3; Lv 20:24–26; 1Pt 2:9).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 7:1 these promises, beloved. See notes, 1:20; 6:16b–18. cleanse ourselves. Though the Christian is declared clean by Christ's righteous sacrifice (1Co 1:30; Rm 4:24–25; 1Pt 2:24), repentance and forgiveness remain daily activities of the Christian life (Gal 5:24–6:4; 1Jn 2:1). defilement of body and spirit. Sins of thought, word, and deed contaminate body and soul (Mt 15:11; 1Co 6:18). holiness to completion. Becoming like Christ (cf Eph 5:1–2; Php 1:6). fear of God. See p 1001.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 6:14–7:1 Our relationship with Jesus is intimate because we, as believers, are "the temple of the living God" (v 16). Our faith calls us to break from those things that would compromise our life with Jesus. The good news is that God's promises are sure even when we are unfaithful. God calls us to claim the promises of His gracious presence again and again through repentance and forgiveness. • Lord, give me the confidence to trust in You more boldly and to separate from the things of the world that would jeopardize my faith. May it be even more apparent that I belong to You alone. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 7:2 in your hearts. See ESV note; see also notes, 6:11, 13.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 7:3 to die together and to live together. The Corinthians and Paul share the deep, common bond of the Christian life, namely, dying in Christ to sin and living a new life together by the Holy Spirit's power (Rm 6:1–4).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 7:4 Titus's good report (vv 13–14) alleviated Paul's concern for the Church at Corinth, expressed by his sending of Timothy (1Co 4:17; cf 2Co 2:4).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 7:5 There were outward struggles against people hostile to the Gospel; such response brought inward fear to those who preached Christ (cf Ac 16:19–23; 17:13; 19:23). no rest. See note, 2:13.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 7:6 comforts the downcast. At the moment of Paul's greatest concern and deepest fears, God brought him good news concerning the Corinthians' faith (cf 6:1). Titus. See pp 2087–88.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 7:7 comforted by you. Titus journeyed to Corinth to deal with the issues confronting the Church sometime in the spring or summer, AD 55. His work there was well received, which was a great comfort to Paul as their spiritual father (1Co 4:15).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 7:8 my letter. See pp 1979–80. I do not regret. Though it caused pain, it had to be done, as the results demonstrated.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 7:9 grieved into repenting. The Law changes the heart, making it open to God's mercy. godly grief. Guilt over sin is part of repentance (cf Ac 20:21).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 7:10 worldly grief produces death. Destructive guilt abandons a person in despair (e.g., depression), which can result in physical and spiritual death (Rm 6:23). "The preaching of the Gospel must be added so that the repentance may lead to salvation and not to the Law's contrition or terrors" (FC SD V 9). Contrast the examples of Peter and Judas (Mt 26:69–75; 27:3–10).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 7:11 eagerness to clear yourselves. Repentance has "fruits" (Lk 3:8), one of which is to try to clear up what was wrong. proved yourselves innocent. Godly repentance and godly forgiveness was now powerfully at work in their lives (cf Ps 103:11–14; Heb 8:11–12).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 7:12 See note, 2:5–17. revealed to you in the sight of God. Paul wanted them to recognize fully the genuineness of his service to them on God's behalf (see notes, 6:11–13).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 7:13 Titus was relieved, for the congregation's problems were dealt with in repentance and forgiveness. Their desire to mend what was broken also brought Paul deep comfort and peace of mind.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 7:14 boasts. See note, 3:1.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 7:15 obedience. The Corinthians' willingness to follow Paul's admonitions reflected their repentance and faith. fear and trembling. Responses associated with God's royal presence (see note, Ps 2:11), showing the Corinthians' respect and reverence for the Word of God Titus declared to them.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 7:2–16 Paul shares the ups and downs of ministry and his great joy in hearing that the Corinthians' faith in Christ was solid again. We Christians are often guilty of hoarding Christ's great love, rather than making room in our hearts for others (cf v 2). God has loved us with an everlasting love through Jesus Christ. To open up our hearts to others, to let them know of Christ's love, is to experience again the joy of that great love of God for all. • Lord, teach us daily how great, how long, how wide, and how deep is Your love for us and for every person in this world. And teach us the joy of seeing others come to faith. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:1 brothers. See p 1901. grace. Not the typical use of this term (see p 1902), but mutual generosity among Christians as a specific fruit of God's favor, perhaps with the particular sense of thank offering. churches of Macedonia. Paul planted Christian congregations in Europe during his second missionary journey, e.g., in Philippi, Thessalonica, and Berea (cf Ac 16:12–17:13).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:2 severe test. After Paul and Silas's rough reception in Macedonia (Ac 16:19–17:15), their converts suffered violent persecution (cf 1Th 1:6; 2:14; 2Th 1:4). abundance … overflowed. This noun and verb are different forms of the same Gk word. The Macedonian Christians were excessive in sacrificial generosity and joyful under duress. extreme poverty. Roman rule had earlier inflicted harsh economic repression on Macedonia, and its effects were perhaps still being felt at this time.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:4 begging. In contrast with the Corinthians' concerns about money, the Macedonians regarded assisting their destitute fellow believers in Judea as a privilege. taking part. See p 1904. relief of the saints. The widespread famine predicted by Agabus (Ac 11:28) hit esp hard in Judea. Hence the immediate decision to send help (Ac 11:29). The pillar apostles endorsed this plan (Gal 2:9), which Paul promoted as a major social ministry goal of his apostolate (cf Gal 2:10; Rm 15:25–26; 1Co 16:1–2). relief. Lit, diakonia, usually "ministry" or "service"; here meaning an official churchwide initiative. See p 1904.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:5 first to the Lord. The core of stewardship is a complete gift of self, in body and soul, to the Lord who bought us; time, talent, and treasure follow in due course. Although Paul has a monetary offering in view, he does not directly mention "money," "silver," or "gold" in chs 8–9.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:6 Titus shall resume his supervision of efforts to collect funds for Judean relief, likely begun when he delivered the tearful letter mentioned in 2:4 and broken off when he left the city with encouraging news for Paul (7:6–7). act of grace. Lit, "grace," i.e., generous work, gift, thank offering. See note, v 1.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:7 Paul offers the Corinthians two motives for generously participating in the relief effort: (1) imitate the Macedonians' good example; (2) employ your resources with thankfulness for God's rich, spiritual endowment of your own church. Cf v 9 for the third motive.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:8 love also is genuine. An invitation to express love within the worldwide Church.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:9 rich … poor. Paul teaches that our Lord existed as God before He was conceived as man (cf Rm 8:3; Gal 4:4; Php 2:5–7). Immeasurably rich before His incarnation, Christ became the poorest of the poor as He submitted to the Law and fell victim to its curse, a process that ended in naked destitution on the cross. by His poverty … rich. Jesus, the God-man, swapped places with sinners. He underwent the agony, desolation, and deserved punishment of fallen humankind. In return, sinners receive forgiveness and a share in His Sonship (5:21). Luther wove together these and other texts with sayings of the Church Fathers and a phrase in the medieval liturgy to produce the famous image of the "joyous exchange" (commercium admirabile; der fröhliche Wechsel); this involves the two-way sharing of goods in the royal marriage of Christ with the Church, His Bride. All Gospel preaching is a variation on this inexhaustible theme. Christ's squandering of His riches on poor sinners is Paul's third and greatest motive for participation in the Judean relief effort (see note, v 7).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:10 a year ago. Paul is thinking in terms of the Jewish year, beginning in Oct (not the Roman year beginning on Jan 1). See calendar, p 262. May be given in the sense of "back in spring" from the perspective of this fall. this work. The intended collection for the Judean churches (see note, v 4).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:12 Paul does not demand that the Corinthians give beyond their means but encourages them to practice generosity appropriate to their resources.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:13–14 Paul envisions voluntary redistribution of material goods among Christians to redress the imbalance between rich and poor. He presupposes that God endows the wealthy with good things so they can come to the aid of their less fortunate brethren. The tables might be turned in the future if the Judean Christians enjoy material plenty while the Corinthians suffer want.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:15 Paul alludes to the gathering of manna in the wilderness to gently remind the Corinthians that their relative prosperity is not their own achievement but a pure gift of God (cf 1Co 4:7). God's action to equalize unequal portions indicates His intent that His children enjoy sufficiency, not luxury.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:1–15 The Macedonians forgot themselves as they gave to others as though there were no tomorrow. God also calls us to give generously, because He endows us with earthly things for our neighbors' benefit. God's Son, the wealthiest of princes, became the most abject of slaves and gave His all to enrich poor sinners as His royal Bride. • Praise to You, Lord Jesus, for swapping places with us. Make our hearts like Yours so we may embrace Your call to aid all in need. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:16 put into the heart of Titus. By going to complete the Corinthian collection (v 6), Titus gladly shared in Paul's own pastoral love for this flock. Titus's main concern is for them as sheep, not for the contributions he might fleece from them.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:18 the brother. Usually identified as Luke, Paul's travel companion (see the "we" passages—Ac 16:10–17; 20:5–15; 21:1–18; 27:1–28:16). However, Acts contains only two passing references to the Judean relief fund (Ac 11:29–30; 24:17), whereas we would expect more detail if Luke himself had been closely involved. the gospel. Taken as the third Gospel (Luke) by some commentators. But the expression here does not hint at a written document ("preaching" is supplied for the sake of translation).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:19 appointed by the churches. Certain churches (perhaps those of Macedonia) formally commissioned the brother of v 18 to accompany Paul as he raised the relief funds. act of grace. The relief fund was conceived as a thank offering.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:20 administered. Paul's overall responsibility for organizing the relief fund forms part of the discharge of his apostleship, a task delegated in Corinth to Titus.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:21 honorable. Paul and his colleagues must avoid all appearance of impropriety before both the Church and the world (including financial dishonesty); hence the stress that all Church leaders need a good reputation in the eyes of the wider community (cf 1Tm 3:7). The brother of v 18 is to audit the accounts for the collection.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:22 our brother. An unknown member of Paul's inner circle, but when Titus read 2Co aloud to the assembled church, he would have identified both this brother and the brother mentioned in v 18. often tested. Or, "proved his worth." Paul has repeatedly delegated responsibilities and perhaps sensitive tasks to this co-worker.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:23 my partner and fellow worker. As a member of Paul's pastoral staff, Titus shares his ministry and will appear again in Corinth as his authorized representative. Titus's ministry has a wider scope than that of a presbyter (pastor) in a local church. our brothers. The persons mentioned in vv 18 and 22. messengers. Lit, "apostles" in a broad sense, meaning "emissaries." The first brother will represent the churches that send them, while Titus will represent the apostle Paul. As officers responsible for stewarding the Church's earthly goods, the two brothers appear in the role of NT deacons but with responsibility going beyond the local congregation. the glory of Christ. As Christ Himself is really present in all Christians (see note, 13:5), so He is really present in the two brothers (and in Titus). This truth motivates hospitality and all forms of mutual love among Christians (cf Mt 25:40).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:24 give proof before the churches. Because living Christianity involves not just a vertical relationship between the Lord and the individual, but also the horizontal dimension of relationships among Christians, Paul encourages the Corinthians to show the other apostolic churches how their faith is flowering in attitudes and deeds of love.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 8:16–24 As Paul leads a great money-gathering effort, he takes care that clergy and laity work together to ensure that the Church's financial dealings are untainted by scandal. In our churches, we should honor those who undertake such tasks. Thanks be to God for His gift of willing servants, who distribute the life-giving Gospel in all their service in Christ. • Lord, teach us to manage Your Church's earthly resources for Your glory and the advancement of Your mission. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:1 ministry for the saints. A reference to the Judean relief fund (cf 8:4). This is not the "Word and Sacrament" ministry conducted by presbyters (pastors) but "social ministry" as determined in Antioch (Ac 11:29), sanctioned by the apostles, and supported by the churches.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:2 Achaia. See map, p 1886. Paul did not write this Letter for the Corinthians alone (1:1). Other churches in this province will be joining in the relief effort. ready since last year. See note, 8:10. The Corinthians had earlier shown such readiness to participate in the relief effort that he had been using their willingness to spur on the Macedonians.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:3 brothers. Certainly the two brothers mentioned in 8:18, 22 and likely also Titus.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:4 humiliated. If no generous collection is ready for Paul on his next visit, he will be exposed as a bearer of false witness to any Macedonians who may accompany him.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:5 brothers. See note, v 3. the gift you have promised. Lit, "the blessing you pledged ahead of time." willing gift, not as an exaction. Let the Corinthians' gift be like God's own blessing that wells up freely from His heart, not something wrung from them by Paul's vanity to avoid loss of face. exaction. Lit, "covetousness."

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:1–5 Because good intentions sometimes do not get acted on, Paul sends three representatives to Corinth to offer gentle encouragement to deliver what was promised. The Lord has representatives to encourage us today as well. E.g., we should listen to those who gently remind us to keep our baptismal vows. • We offer thanks to You, Lord, that You did not count the cost when You sent Your Son. For His sake, You watch over Your promises to keep them. Lord, drown my old self in the waters of Baptism day by day, that my new self may truly please You in all things. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:6 Paul quotes and applies folk wisdom to disclose another facet of God's bountiful grace. Not only does He freely pardon our sins and adopt us as sons and daughters, but He also promises rich reward as we keep His commands, however imperfectly, and echo His own generosity, however faintly (with what C. S. Lewis called "gift-love" to God in The Four Loves). "Works and troubles do not merit justification, but other payments…. The fulfilling of the Law earns a reward, for a reward properly relates to the Law. Yet we should be mindful of the Gospel, which freely offers justification for Christ's sake. We neither obey the Law, nor can obey it, before we have been reconciled to God, justified, and reborn. Nor would fulfilling the Law please God, unless we were accepted because of faith. People are accepted because of faith" (Ap V 246–47).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:7 God loves a cheerful giver. Through generosity, God's adopted children give joy to their heavenly Father by displaying His image and likeness. "Truly good works should be done willingly, or from a voluntary spirit, by those whom God's Son has made free" (FC SD IV 18).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:8 all grace abound. This bounteous God can and will richly bestow on the Corinthians the capacity for generosity in surplus measure. abound … abound. In Jesus, it is always more and never less. Even when in reduced circumstances, Christians will always be given opportunity for doing good. sufficiency. Gk autarcheia, lit, "self rule." As the Gospel comes to Greek culture and starts to transform it, Paul picks up this familiar Stoic word and fills it with new content. Stoics acquired sufficiency from their own inner resources, but Christians receive sufficiency as a pure gift of God.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:9 He has distributed … forever. Ps 112:9 praises one who fears the Lord, who practices lavish generosity toward needy neighbors, and who is among those pronounced blessed "for their deeds follow them" (Rv 14:13). This righteous person of the OT is a preview of the giver described in 8:9.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:10 harvest. God, who enables farmers to sow and reap, will enable His children to do good works and will prosper their efforts. your righteousness. Not the basis of your good standing before God, but the consequence of exercising the status you now have in His eyes. See p 1904.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:11 You … enriched in every way. Cf Ac 20:35; Rv 19:8. generous … will produce thanksgiving to God. Relief is given and fellowship between Gentile and Jew is strengthened, leading to the further good of abundant thanksgiving to God at the Lord's Supper and elsewhere.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:12 ministry. See note, 9:1. service. Lit, "liturgy," i.e., public work, done for the common good. "The term leitourgia agrees well with the ministry. For it is an old word, ordinarily used in public civil administrations. To the Greeks it meant public burdens, such as tribute, the expense of equipping a fleet, or similar things" (Ap XXIV 81). saints. The impoverished believers in Judea. overflowing. See note, 8:2. thanksgivings to God. Grace circles back to God's throne as our gift to Him.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:13 Paul pictures the Jewish Christians in Judea rejoicing over God's action to reconcile Jew and Gentile in Christ. They glorify God for relieving their needs through the generosity of the Corinthians (and other Gentile believers) and for this expression of fellowship in the worldwide Church.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:14 surpassing grace of God. In 2Co, Paul uses all the nuances of the word "grace": God's favor for Christ's sake, His gifts-in-grace to them, their generosity to others, and the churches' gracious thanks. God's favor returns full circle to the One who first sowed it (cf v 6). See "grace," p 1902.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:15 Paul bursts into doxology for the whole range of God's generous provision, including the content of v 14 and esp the fountainhead of it all (8:9).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 9:6–15 Paul urges the Corinthians to go with the flow of God's self-giving in Christ by giving themselves to others, so that the downward and outward movement of grace comes full circle in an ascending symphony of thanksgiving. Seeing things in an earthly, me-first way is miserly and petty. Instead, we should open our hands to receive from God and extend them to give to our neighbor. We marvel that in Jesus it is always more and never less and rejoice that God's gifts multiply as we receive and share them. • Lord, open and widen our narrow hearts to You, to Your children, and to all. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON Chs 10–13 A dark cloud now descends on 2Co. Some bad news from Corinth likely arrived as Paul was dictating the Letter (contradicting Titus's joyful report, 7:6–7). Intruders have exacerbated tensions within the Church. These outsiders called Paul's credentials into question, impugned his motives, and undermined his ministry among his own converts. Paul wants all glory to go to Christ, with every minister (including himself) standing humbly as the Lord's messenger and instrument (cf 1Co 3:5–6). But the intruders blow their own trumpets (and obscure Christ from view in the process) and cast malicious aspersions on Paul's person. Paul must set the record straight by "boasting" about his office (10:8) and what he has been given to achieve through its exercise (10:13–16). Boasting of this kind diminishes the intruders and actually gives all glory to Christ!

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:1 the meekness and gentleness of Christ. Some Corinthians dismiss Paul's meekness as weakness, not realizing that he is deliberately Christlike when in their midst. Paul seems aware of Jesus' saying recorded in Mt 11:29. humble … bold. Paul's antagonists attacked him for his gentleness and his firmness.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:2 To the Corinthian dissidents, Paul is a charlatan, a religious huckster. walking according to the flesh. Pursuing an ungodly lifestyle welling up from deep-down unbelief. See p 1904.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:3 flesh. Used in a morally neutral sense here, meaning the body. Like all other mortals, Paul lives in a frail "tent" that will one day collapse (cf 5:1–4). waging war. Paul's whole ministry, like that of Christ before him, is an all-out conflict with Satan's realm, aiming to deliver people through the Gospel from the grip of the evil one (Col 1:13–14). Every Christian is a frontline soldier, exposed to attack and never off duty (cf 2Tm 2:3–4).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:4 weapons. The tools with which Paul does ministry—Word, Sacraments, prayer, merciful kindness, etc.—are not of the flesh, i.e., not means for Paul's sinful self-aggrandizement (cf 4:2).

"The Church's authority and the State's authority must not be confused. The Church's authority has its own commission to teach the Gospel and to administer the Sacraments" (AC XXVIII 12). See note, 1:24. "What has stopped or quelled the counsels, purposes, murder, and riot of our enemies, by which the devil thought he would crush us, together with the Gospel? It was the prayer of a few godly people standing in the middle like an iron wall for our side" (LC III 31). See note, 1:11. divine power to destroy strongholds. The Holy Spirit's power is at work through the Word. Here esp, Paul considers the accusations of the Law, which tear down the unbeliever's wall of self-defense. Hardened unbelievers might appear impervious to evangelization, but God's almighty power encourages us to keep hoping, praying, and bearing witness.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:5 every thought captive. Jesus explains the First Table of the Law as demanding that you love God "with all your mind" (Mt 22:37). So Paul must not simply gather a crowd or win hearts, but he must also win minds (such as those of the scholars on the Areopagus, Ac 17). "Human senses and reason do not comprehend. But, as in all other articles of faith, our reason is brought into captivity to the obedience of Christ" (FC Ep VII 42). "Since in the Holy Scriptures Christ is called a mystery upon which all heretics dash their heads, we admonish all Christians not to arrogantly indulge their reason in crafty investigations about such mysteries. With the beloved apostles, they should simply believe. They should close the eyes of their reason and bring their understanding into captivity to the obedience of Christ [2 Corinthians 10:5], and rejoice without ceasing in the fact that our flesh and blood is placed so high at the right hand of God's majesty and almighty power. In this way we will certainly find constant consolation in every difficulty and remain well guarded against deadly error" (FC SD VIII 96). See application note, 1 Co 15:12–34.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:6 disobedience. Once Paul is sure of the Corinthians' obedience to Christ, he will go after the third party described in chs 10–12, the troublemakers. See note, chs 10–13.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:7 before your eyes. The problems and solution seem obvious to Paul. he is Christ's. Perhaps a reference to the "Christ party" of 1Co 1:12, whose members did not consider themselves bound to the Gospel as proclaimed by Paul. See "in Christ," p 1903. we.

Paul and his ministerial co-workers, whom the intruders are accusing of being fake.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:8 our authority. The apostles and Paul's co-workers are not just private persons, but ambassadors of Christ. Christ authorized them to exercise pastoral care through the means of grace "in His stead and by His command" (cf Lk 10:16; Ap VII and VIII 47). "The Keys do not have the power to impose penalties or to institute rites of worship, but only the command to forgive sins [John 20:23] to those who are converted and to convict and excommunicate [1 Corinthians 5] those who are unwilling to be converted. For just as to loose means to forgive sins, so to bind means not to forgive sins. Christ speaks of a spiritual kingdom, and God's command is that ministers of the Gospel should absolve those who are converted" (Ap XIIB 79). building you up. In the NT, edification always consolidates the community as a whole; it does not properly focus on the isolated individual. destroying. Ministers may not act as regional warlords, developing their own personal spheres of influence. All sheep belong first and foremost to the Good Shepherd.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:9–11 The idea that proclaiming the Law to provoke repentance is "frightening" sounds like some modern, misguided views of psychology and shows how contemporary this Letter is.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:10 they. The intruders, and possibly also the "Christ party" (1Co 1:12) in alliance with them. bodily … weak. Physically unimpressive. "Paul" means "short" in Gk. Recurrent ill health also made him physically repulsive at times (cf Gal 4:13–14; 2Co 12:7). his speech of no account. The false apostles may have surpassed Paul in oratory skills, which were highly respected in classical culture. The Corinthians seem to have had special interest in oratory rhetoric (cf 1Co 1:18–2:5). In the Letters to the Corinthians, Paul used a full range of rhetorical devices. See "Rhetoric and Logic," p 1945. Paul viewed himself as a "jar of clay" (4:7). His fervent focus on the crucified Christ (1Co 2:2) was guaranteed to alienate the proud.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:11 Paul's opponents are deriding his calls for repentance and discipline in 1Co and the tearful letter (2Co 2:4) as empty words. Both by letter and in person, he will see to it that the Law's "alien work" of effecting repentance is done for the sake of God's "proper" work of bestowing mercy through the Gospel (FC Ep V 10). Paul is consistently Christlike as he applies Law and Gospel.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:12 commending themselves. The intruders no longer stand in "fear and trembling" (7:15) but turn church leadership into a beauty contest judged by worldly standards.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:13 area of influence God assigned. The ascended Christ willed Paul to found the churches in the regions of Achaia and Macedonia (Ac 16:9–10). God gave him authority over these congregations (cf Ac 15:7, 36; 1Co 3:5–9; 4:1). Paul does not envision exercising such direct authority over the Roman Church that he did not found (Rm 15:14–29). See note, v 15. reach even to you. A forceful reminder that the Corinthians did not become Christians by their own reason or strength, but that the Lord in His mercy reached them precisely through Paul (cf Jn 15:16).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:14 come all the way. A reminder that the Gentile believers in Corinth were without God before the Lord graciously sought them out (cf Lk 15:12–24).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:15 labors of others. Paul contrasted his manner with the false apostles who claimed credit for his accomplishments. faith increases. The number of believers in Achaia increased, and their confession became more widely known. area of influence. This is not Paul's personal fiefdom, but it expresses the hope that Christ will extend His Church in geographical terms through the service of Paul and his colleagues.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:16 Cf Rm 15:20.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:17 Jeremiah's counsel, now perfectly realized in Christ (1Co 1:30–31), preaches salvation by grace alone from the heart of the OT, showing the unity of Scripture.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 10:18 approved. As faithful servants "before the judgment seat of Christ" (5:10).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON Ch 10 Paul's opponents cut him to ribbons and paint themselves in glowing colors, but he presses forward in spiritual warfare, winning souls for Christ against all odds, rejoicing that the Lord prospers his work and opens doors for his ministry, giving all glory to Christ. Dear Christian, do not judge your ministers by the standards of secular business and entertainment, but go by whether they speak with the Shepherd's voice and give His care. As Christ endured the darts of the evil one to rescue the undeserving from his clutches, so Paul and faithful ministers submit to affliction in order to reach the lost and build up the flock. • Lord, grant us to die to self and live to You, and to be instruments of Your mission, not obstacles in its way. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:1 a little foolishness. The intruders' self-focus nauseates Paul, who wants "to know nothing among [the Corinthians] except Jesus Christ and Him crucified" (1Co 2:2). He must now respond with boasting to silence them. He thereby connects them with reality according to his desire in 10:7.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:2 divine jealousy. Our passionate God is stirred when His people give themselves to idols or divide their allegiance between Him and other gods (syncretism). Paul was likewise passionate that his converts belong wholly to Christ and not revert to Belial (cf 6:15). betrothed. Paul revives the image of the "joyous exchange" (see note, 8:9), introducing the subject of the marriage between Christ and the Church, picturing himself as the one who arranged the engagement for the Bride (the Corinthians). The emphasis here is not so much on the Bridegroom's gift as on the faithfulness due from the Bride. pure virgin. Not literally true of many Corinthians. Cf 1Co 6:11, which also tells how God's cleansing forgiveness, poured out in Baptism, restored the Corinthians to virginal purity (cf Lk 15:22, the "best robe"). See note, Rv 14:4.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:3 led astray. Eve was the naive victim of the evil one, that master of cunning. devotion. Despite good intentions on the Corinthians' part, forces are at work to steer their minds away from single-hearted loyalty to Christ.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:4 someone. Likely a ringleader of the intruders undermining Paul's ministry in Corinth. another Jesus. Already in the apostolic age, Judaizing Christians and Gnostics began to promote views of "Jesus" as not fully God or fully man. Luther marvelously presented the whole biblical Jesus in his explanation of the Second Article of the Apostles' Creed (p xxxvii). Run from any other "Jesus" at top speed (cf 2Jn 7)! different spirit. Only the real Jesus joins the Father in sending Christians the true Holy Spirit. Luther could not practice fellowship with those who denied the real presence in Holy Communion because they had "a different spirit." received … accepted. Accepting the Gospel seems like a voluntary, conscious act from the human perspective. However, no one comes to faith in the Gospel apart from the gracious work of the Holy Spirit. different gospel. The message of the intruders was substantially different from the genuine Gospel (vv 13–15, 20). Paul focused on the issue of their boasting and claims of apostolic authority. you put up with it readily enough. Doctrine can easily slip to last place, but pure doctrine should come first because false doctrine endangers salvation itself. See note, Gal 1:6.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:5 super-apostles. This ironic and biting expression cannot refer to the apostle "pillars" (Peter, James, and John) in Jerusalem. Paul emphasized his fellowship with them (Gal 2:2, 9) and understood his labors for the Judean relief fund as an expression of this fellowship. The super-apostles are false apostles (v 13), intruders of pastoral rank (probably prophets, teachers, or presbyters) who may have had strong connections to the Jerusalem Church.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:6 unskilled in speaking. Likely hyperbole. Paul admits his rivals can and do outshine him in this skill.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:7 free of charge? Paul renounced the right to payment, granted by the earthly Jesus Himself (1Co 9:14), with a noble view in mind; see note, v 8.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:8 robbed. Hyperbole. Outsiders helped pay Paul's expenses during his lengthy first stay in Corinth, when he also worked as a tentmaker to support himself (Ac 18:3). It seems he accepted payment from no church while he was actually founding or revisiting it because he did not want to give the impression that he was a hireling they could command. The intruders interpreted Paul's refusal to accept maintenance from Corinth as an admission that he lacked full apostolic status.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:9 brothers who came from Macedonia. Not necessarily native Macedonians, but possibly Silas and Timothy (cf Ac 18:5).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:10 regions of Achaia. The individual districts of the Roman province that included southern Greece; see map, p 1886.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:11 Paul anticipated the pain his confrontation with the super-apostles would cause. See note, v 8.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:12 undermine the claim. Paul will keep on renouncing his rights to show the intruders as lovers of comfort addicted to the perks. they work on the same terms. They want to be regarded as Paul's equals at the very least.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:13 false apostles. They are envoys indeed, but of a false Gospel (cf v 4). deceitful workmen. Their work looks solid but is a fraud. "The false apostles pushed circumcision (Acts 15:1) in order to establish their false doctrine that the works of the Law were necessary for righteousness and salvation" (FC SD X 12).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:14 Satan disguises himself as an angel of light. Because sinful people still know the difference between right and wrong, the evil one seduces them into his camp by making wicked deeds appear good. Satan cloaks naked evil in attractive garments.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:15 his servants. Not his unwilling slaves, but his eager co-workers. Their end will correspond to their deeds. False prophets may flourish here on earth, but their coming penalty will be no laughing matter. Cf 5:10; Rv 19:19–21.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:1–15 Paul went over the top in real ministry to bring the true Christ and the true Church to the Corinthians. He now grieves that they are falling for fake ministers who push a fake Christ. Today, believers must wake up to the fact that pure doctrine, right worship, and genuine pastors cannot be taken for granted. Although Christ knew many would cast aside His mercy, He still bore the cross and He still sends out true shepherds with the genuine Gospel. • O Jesus, whose exalted body bears the wounds You suffered for us, cause us joyfully to suffer for the sake of remaining connected to You in Your true Church through the service of true shepherds. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:16 accept me as a fool. A fool is a pathetic figure treading the way of death (see p 1016). Under normal circumstances, what follows might be as distasteful as a pastor singing "How Great I Am" at a Good Friday service. Paul must perform this risky routine to beat the intruders at their own game.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:17 not with the Lord's authority. This is not a denial that the Holy Spirit is inspiring this section of the letter, but an acknowledgment that no genuine servant of Christ speaks this way except under extraordinary conditions.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:18 according to the flesh. I.e., boasting about their heritage.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:19 Sarcasm. The Corinthians have let themselves be duped.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:20 Sarcasm characterizing the performances of the super-apostles. It is impossible to interpret these deliberately folksy expressions with precision, but obviously the Corinthians are getting the sharp edge of Paul's tongue. makes slaves of you. Strips them of their freedom in Christ (cf Gal 4:21–5:5). devours you. Exploits their hospitality. puts on airs. Elevates themselves to humble the Corinthians. strikes you in the face. As Jewish Christians from the Judean homeland, the intruders got away with treating the Gentile Corinthian converts as second-class Christians.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:21 too weak. Sarcasm. Paul's refusal to exploit the Corinthians showed his spiritual maturity.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:22 Hebrews? … Israelites? … offspring of Abraham? Interchangeable terms multiplied for rhetorical effect. The first term emphasizes ethnicity and the second, national allegiance. Paul used the last expression elsewhere to allude to Christ as the Seed of Abraham (Gal 3:16).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:23–27 Paul presents a litany of the "downside" of his ministry, which amply fulfilled the risen Lord's words to Ananias (Ac 9:16). Paul's misery in the line of duty contrasts with the soft life of the intruders in Corinth, where the proconsul Gallio shielded the fledgling church from Roman-orchestrated persecution (Ac 18:12–17).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:23 servants of Christ? Ministers, not laypersons. See p 1904.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:24 Jewish punishment at the hands of synagogue authorities based on Dt 25:1–3.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:25 Three … rods. Roman punishment, from which Paul should have been exempt as a citizen of the empire, but note what happened in Philippi (Ac 16:22). stoned. Jewish punishment inflicted at Lystra (Ac 14:19).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:26 robbers. Paul was a prime target for muggers whenever he carried money for the relief fund. my own people. The Pharisees regarded Paul as a traitor. false brothers. The enemy within is a worse threat than foes without. Paul likely has Gnostics and/or Judaizers in mind. See notes, vv 13–15.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:27 Church planting was not a 9-to-5 job with benefits, but constant labor to the point of exhaustion.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:28 daily pressure … anxiety for all the churches. The trials listed in vv 23–27 are sporadic and temporary, but worry for the welfare of the sheep is constant, esp those in the churches Paul founded (cf Ac 15:36).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:29 Paul viewed himself as a shepherd for all his siblings in Christ (cf 1Co 12:26).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:30 show my weakness. If Paul must boast, he will highlight instances where he can come across as a laughingstock, as in vv 31–33.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:31 not lying. This oath formula guarantees the truthfulness of the whole unlikely catalog from v 23 through 12:10.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:32 King Aretas. Aretas IV was the Roman client king of Nabatea from 9 BC to c AD 40. Ac 9:23–24 indicates that the governor was in league with the Jews of Damascus.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 11:16–33 Paul gives sensitive personal information to prove that a genuine servant of Christ carries his Master's cross and drinks His cup. We, too, must suffer with Christ now in order to reign with Him later. The Lord and His angels protect and accompany His servants even when they seem to have forsaken us. • Jesus, I trust in You as "I walk in danger all the way." Amen. (LSB 716:1)
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:1 nothing to be gained by it. Sarcasm or hyperbole. Paul's boasting gained a sharper contrast between himself and the super-apostles. visions. Faith is not built on mystical experiences. Paul met Jesus Himself on the Damascus Road (Ac 26:12–18). revelations of the Lord. Paul saw the risen Lord and received information from Him (cf Ac 16:7–10).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:2 man in Christ. A roundabout way of speaking. Clearly, Paul is speaking of himself. See "in Christ," p 1903. fourteen years ago. C AD 40. caught up. Paul is absolutely passive; the Lord alone is doing and giving. third heaven. The highest heaven. "Heaven" is plural in Hbr, likely because the earthly atmosphere and the realm of God were distinguished. Here, Paul uses terminology typical of intertestamental Judaism, but he shows no interest in its details. in the body or out of the body. His spiritual faculties were alert, but Paul's total focus on the Lord and complete forgetfulness of self made him unaware of how his body related to this experience. He may have had the experience as a vision, or he may have been physically taken to heaven.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:3 paradise. Used here as an equivalent to "third heaven," v 2. This Persian term for an aristocrat's private park became a loanword in intertestamental Judaism to describe first the Garden of Eden and then the dwelling place of believing souls after death. Some Jewish interpreters held that God took Eden to heaven.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:4 things that cannot be told. It was impossible to put into words and not something people needed to know.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:5 this man. See note, v 2. I will not boast. God alone enacts this experience, so Paul can claim no credit. weaknesses. Or, "illnesses." Paul turns from boasting to confess his faults.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:6 I refrain. A wise choice, because Paul remained chief of sinners, living by pardoning grace.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:7 surpassing greatness of the revelations. So overwhelming was this anticipation of the world to come that the Lord saw fit to bring Paul back to earth with a thump. a thorn. Probably a chronic health problem (see note, v 5), but we are not told. a messenger of Satan. Evils of body and soul—permitted by God to work a greater good—occur through demonic agency.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:8 Three times. Probably a literal number but also a way of getting across a serious and prolonged prayer concern.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:9 grace. See p 1902. power … weakness. Christ's almighty power works great things through feeble instruments (cf 4:7). "Troubles are not always punishments for certain past deeds, but they are God's works, intended for our benefit, and that God's power might be made more apparent in our weakness. So Paul says God's strength 'is made perfect in weakness' (2 Corinthians 12:9). Because of God's will, our bodies should be sacrifices, to declare our obedience, and not to pay for eternal death. God has another price for that: the death of His own Son" (Ap XIIB 63–64). perfect. See p 1903.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:10 When affliction reduces Paul to total dependence on God, then he is most of all a supple instrument in Christ's hand.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:1–10 Like scarcely any other person before or since, Paul tasted the powers and bliss of heaven, but at the same time suffered bitterly under the curse of sin. "You are dust, and to dust you shall return" (Gn 3:19), yet believers truly already sit in the heavenly places (cf Eph 1:3). • Lord, help us keep our balance as we walk with one foot in the perishing world and the other in the world to come! Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:11 commended. As living proof of his genuine apostleship (3:2–3), the Corinthians should have commended Paul to one another and esp to his severe critics. See note, 11:5. I am nothing. He is nothing in himself, but in Christ and as an apostle, he has much in every way.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:12 signs of a true apostle. The chief sign is the Gentiles' deliverance from darkness to light through the Gospel. signs and wonders and mighty works. Such miracles proved Paul's equality with the Twelve and confirmed his true apostleship. Paul described the apostolic ministry as esp signaled by miracles, which God provided in that era. God can certainly still work miracles today, yet He chose to distinguish the apostles in this way.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:13 burden. See notes, 11:7, 8. Forgive me this wrong! Half-humorous, half-biting remark.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:14–15 third time. Paul's first visit (at the founding of the Corinthian Church) was an 18-month stay during his second missionary journey (Ac 18:1–17). His second trip was the "painful visit" referred to in 2:1, a searing experience that led Paul to postpone the visit announced in 1Co 16:5 and change his original travel plans (cf 1:16, 23; see pp 1979–80). not … yours but you. Hus: "Rapacious wolves … seek more the money of those subject to them than their salvation" (The Church, p 226). Paul sought the people. children … spent for your souls. The Fourth Commandment would have adult children provide for aged parents. But Paul is not yet in his dotage, and the Corinthians are far from spiritual maturity. Paul wishes to continue his spiritual fatherhood in Corinth (1Co 4:15).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:16 Some Corinthians suspected Paul's refusal to accept maintenance was a smoke screen to cover up pilfering from the Judean relief funds.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:18 Titus … the brother. Probably refers to the impending visit announced in 8:17. Mention of one companion rather than two occurs perhaps because the brother of 8:22 is Paul's representative and the brother of 8:18 is an emissary of the churches. Titus take advantage. Paul's question refers to Titus's behavior on an earlier visit, when he began the collection (8:6), and possibly a second, to deliver the letter of "many tears" (2:4).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:19 defending ourselves. Paul is not currying favor for himself and his colleagues. in the sight of God. He asserts his faithful stewardship of office before God, whose judgment ultimately is the only thing that counts (cf 1Co 4:2–5). upbuilding. The three autobiographical chapters aim at the collective repentance and spiritual growth of the Corinthian Church, which Paul greets as beloved. beloved. See p 1901.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:20 If this Letter does not bring a genuine change of hearts, the congregation will confront Paul with the fruit of his opponents' intrusion.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:21 God may humble me. Lack of repentance on the Corinthians' part is the personal failure Paul dreads. may … mourn. Paul would lament if some Corinthians continued in a state of spiritual death. have not repented. Then, as now, many cheerfully ignore the somber warning of 1Co 6:9–10. "The [justifying] faith of which we speak exists in repentance … neither does it dwell with mortal [grave] sin" (Ap V 21, 23).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 12:11–21 The Corinthians should not have sat on their hands while the intruders tore Paul apart. The apostle wants to return for another visit, his heart and arms open wide with love, but he is also prepared to be firm if necessary. People and pastors today, remember your vows to God concerning one another, and keep them well. The Lord still comes into our troubled lives, with His heart set to do His proper work of mercy. • Jesus, may Your coming to us in grace not be in vain, but for our good. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:1 third time. Cf 12:14. witnesses. This disciplinary procedure is based on Dt 19:15; Timothy follows this when hearing charges against leaders (1Tm 5:19), and Paul does so when dealing with cases mentioned in 12:21.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:2 I will not spare them. A strong assertion of Paul's intent to excommunicate the unrepentant (see Tr 60). Cf 1Co 5:4–5.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:3 proof that Christ is speaking in me. Paul's Corinthian opponents contested this (10:10).

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:4 For Paul, living in Christ is no figure of speech. As both weakness and strength, wealth and poverty coexist in Jesus, Paul will be the powerful instrument of the risen Lord.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:5 Examine yourselves…. Test yourselves. Paul urges them to subject themselves to what they had put him through by verifying their own genuineness as Christians. See note, 1Co 11:28. in the faith. Both subjective faith (by which one believes) and objective faith (the doctrine in which one believes). They are to examine their consciences to determine profession of apostolic doctrine and involvement in continual repentance (see note, 12:21). Jesus Christ is in you? Jn 6:56; 14:20; 15:4–5; and Gal 2:20 forbid reducing "in" to "among." The exalted Christ enjoys a miraculous, real presence in each member of His Church. The same is true of the Father (Jn 14:23) and the Holy Spirit (Jn 14:17; see p 1815). unless indeed you fail to meet the test! Unless they are fake Christians, as some of them consider Paul a fake apostle. "If you have a heart that can expect of Him nothing but what is good—especially in need and distress—and a heart that also renounces and forsakes everything that is not God, then you have the only true God. If, on the contrary, your heart clings to anything else from which it expects more good and help than from God, and if your heart does not take refuge in Him but flees from Him when in trouble, then you have an idol, another god" (LC I 28).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:6 we have not failed the test. Blessed unity in Christ depends on the Corinthians recognizing the genuineness of Paul and his colleagues.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:7–8 Paul is pastorally concerned for the Corinthians; he is not frantic to vindicate himself. He always acts, and wants the whole Church to order its life, in accordance with the true (and only) Gospel, as opposed to the "different Gospel" (11:4). "When they teach or establish anything against the Gospel, then the congregations are forbidden by God's command to obey them" (AC XXVIII 23).
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:9 glad when we are weak. If the Corinthians are spiritually healthy, Paul will be happy not to assert his authority. restoration. Or, "completion," the full fruition of the whole Corinthian Church. See note, 7:1.
2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:10 Paul's heart is in being an instrument of God's "proper" work of forgiveness, not His "alien" work of punishment (FC Ep V 10). See note, 10:8.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:1–10 If need be, Paul will bind sins and excommunicate the unrepentant on his next visit. Yet, he hopes examination of consciences will show the Corinthians that they hold the Lord's doctrine and that they forsake the way of death to cling to the Lord of life. If Christ dwells in them, then Paul will come in gentleness, for the Gospel will hold sway. • Lord, keep us in Your truth and quicken our repentance, that we may abide in You and You in us. Amen.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:11 brothers. See p 1901. Aim for restoration. See note, v 9. live in peace. This will follow from being of one mind, itself a gift of God.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:12 holy kiss. This outward sign, comparable with today's handshake, expresses the God-given reality of fellowship. See note, Rm 16:16. Because the Letter to the Corinthians would be read during the Service of the Word, Paul may have included the greeting here in anticipation of the following Service of the Sacrament. The Early Church celebrated Holy Communion behind closed doors and began the rite with the kiss of peace. Pagan society would later accuse them of hosting orgies in this context.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:13 All the saints. See "saints," p 1904.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:14 Paul articulates the reality of the blessed Trinity in this liturgical form. The gifts associated with the three divine persons convey a sense of the "mystical union." The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ. The Son's active favor toward His Church. the love of God. The Father's active love that sent and sends the Son and the Spirit. the fellowship of the Holy Spirit. The sharing in doctrine, Sacraments, and love wrought by the Holy Spirit. be with you all. The words from Christ's ambassador give what they say. This is still true as the Church's ministers pronounce these words till the end of time.

2 CORINTHIANS—NOTE ON 13:11–14 Confident that God's Word will do its work, Paul utters no more stern demand or harsh rebuke. He moves through gentle appeal to end on a triumphant note. We should take our bearings from God's good purpose and the communion of saints. The blessed Trinity is not dry theory but the God of love in whom we have life now and forever. • Praise to You, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, that You give Your Church Your very life! Amen.

Galatians

Galatians 1 | Galatians 2 | Galatians 3 | Galatians 4 | Galatians 5 | Galatians 6

- Introduction to Galatians
  - Overview
  - Reading Galatians
  - Luther on Galatians
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Greeting

1 [1]†† Paul, an apostle—not from men nor through man, but through Jesus Christ and God the Father, who raised him from the dead— [2]† and all the brothers[1] who are with me,

To the churches of Galatia:

[3]† Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ, [4]† who gave himself for our sins to deliver us from the present evil age, according to the will of our God and Father, [5]† to whom be the glory forever and ever. Amen.

No Other Gospel

6 ‡ † I am astonished that you are so quickly deserting him who called you in the grace of Christ and are turning to a different gospel— 7 † not that there is another one, but there are some who trouble you and want to distort the gospel of Christ. 8 † But even if we or an angel from heaven should preach to you a gospel contrary to the one we preached to you, let him be accursed. 9 † As we have said before, so now I say again: If anyone is preaching to you a gospel contrary to the one you received, let him be accursed.

10 † For am I now seeking the approval of man, or of God? Or am I trying to please man? If I were still trying to please man, I would not be a servant[2] of Christ.

Paul Called by God

11 † † For I would have you know, brothers, that the gospel that was preached by me is not man's gospel.[3] 12 † For I did not receive it from any man, nor was I taught it, but I received it through a revelation of Jesus Christ. 13 † For you have heard of my former life in Judaism, how I persecuted the church of God violently and tried to destroy it. 14 † And I was advancing in Judaism beyond many of my own age among my people, so extremely zealous was I for the traditions of my fathers. 15 † But when he who had set me apart before I was born,[1] and who called me by his grace, 16 † was pleased to reveal his Son to[2] me, in order that I might preach him among the Gentiles, I did not immediately consult with anyone;[3] 17 † nor did I go up to Jerusalem to those who were apostles before me, but I went away into Arabia, and returned again to Damascus.

18 † Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to visit Cephas and remained with him fifteen days. 19 † But I saw none of the other apostles except James the Lord's brother. 20 † (In what I am writing to you, before God, I do not lie!) 21 † Then I went into the regions of Syria and Cilicia.
22 † And I was still unknown in person to the churches of Judea that are in Christ. 23 † They only were hearing it said, "He who used to persecute us is now preaching the faith he once tried to destroy." 24 And they glorified God because of me.

Paul Accepted by the Apostles

2 [1]‡† Then after fourteen years I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, taking Titus along with me. [2]† I went up because of a revelation and set before them (though privately before those who seemed influential) the gospel that I proclaim among the Gentiles, in order to make sure I was not running or had not run in vain. [3]† But even Titus, who was with me, was not forced to be circumcised, though he was a Greek. [4]† Yet because of false brothers secretly brought in—who slipped in to spy out our freedom that we have in Christ Jesus, so that they might bring us into slavery— [5]† to them we did not yield in submission even for a moment, so that the truth of the gospel might be preserved for you. [6]† And from those who seemed to be influential (what they were makes no difference to me; God shows no partiality)—those, I say, who seemed influential added nothing to me. [7]† On the contrary, when they saw that I had been entrusted with the gospel to the uncircumcised, just as Peter had been entrusted with the gospel to the circumcised [8]† (for he who worked through Peter for his apostolic ministry to the circumcised worked also through me for mine to the Gentiles), [9]† and when James and Cephas and John, who seemed to be pillars, perceived the grace that was given to me, they gave the right hand of fellowship to Barnabas and me, that we should go to the Gentiles and they to the circumcised. [10]† Only, they asked us to remember the poor, the very thing I was eager to do.

Paul Opposes Peter

11 ‡ † But when Cephas came to Antioch, I opposed him to his face, because he stood condemned. 12 † For before certain men came from James, he was eating with the Gentiles; but when they came he drew back and separated himself, fearing the circumcision party. 13 † And the rest of the Jews acted hypocritically along with him, so that even Barnabas was led astray by their hypocrisy. 14 † But when I saw that their conduct was not in step with the truth of the gospel, I said to Cephas before them all, “If you, though a Jew, live like a Gentile and not like a Jew, how can you force the Gentiles to live like Jews?”

Justified by Faith

15 ††We ourselves are Jews by birth and not Gentile sinners; 16 †yet we know that a person is not justified[1] by works of the law but through faith in Jesus Christ, so we also have believed in Christ Jesus, in order to be justified by faith in Christ and not by works of the law, because by works of the law no one will be justified.

17 †But if, in our endeavor to be justified in Christ, we too were found to be sinners, is Christ then a servant of sin? Certainly not! 18 †For if I rebuild what I tore down, I prove myself to be a transgressor. 19 †For through the law I died to the law, so that I might live to God. 20 †I have been crucified with Christ. It is no longer I who live, but Christ who lives in me. And the life I now live in the flesh I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me. 21 † I do not nullify the grace of God, for if righteousness[2] were through the law, then Christ died for no purpose.

By Faith, or by Works of the Law?

3 [1]‡†O foolish Galatians! Who has bewitched you? It was before your eyes that Jesus Christ was publicly portrayed as crucified. [2]†Let me ask you only this: Did you receive the Spirit by works of the law or by hearing with faith? [3]†Are you so foolish? Having begun by the Spirit, are you now being perfected by[3] the flesh? [4]† Did you suffer[4] so many things in vain—if indeed it was in vain? [5]†Does he who supplies the Spirit to you and works miracles among you do so by works of the law, or by hearing with faith—
[6] † just as Abraham "believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness"?

[7]‡† Know then that it is those of faith who are the sons of Abraham.
[8]† And the Scripture, foreseeing that God would justify[5] the Gentiles by faith, preached the gospel beforehand to Abraham, saying, "In you shall all the nations be blessed." [9]†So then, those who are of faith are blessed along with Abraham, the man of faith.

The Righteous Shall Live by Faith

10 For all who rely on works of the law are under a curse; for it is written, “Cursed be everyone who does not abide by all things written in the Book of the Law, and do them.” 11 Now it is evident that no one is justified before God by the law, for “The righteous shall live by faith.”[1] 12 But the law is not of faith, rather “The one who does them shall live by them.”
13 Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law by becoming a curse for us —for it is written, “Cursed is everyone who is hanged on a tree”— 14 so that in Christ Jesus the blessing of Abraham might come to the Gentiles, so that we might receive the promised Spirit[2] through faith.

The Law and the Promise

15 ‡ † To give a human example, brothers:[3] even with a man-made covenant, no one annuls it or adds to it once it has been ratified. 16†Now the promises were made to Abraham and to his offspring. It does not say, “And to offsprings,” referring to many, but referring to one, “And to your offspring,” who is Christ. 17†This is what I mean: the law, which came 430 years afterward, does not annul a covenant previously ratified by God, so as to make the promise void. 18†For if the inheritance comes by the law, it no longer comes by promise; but God gave it to Abraham by a promise.

19†Why then the law? It was added because of transgressions, until the offspring should come to whom the promise had been made, and it was put in place through angels by an intermediary. 20†Now an intermediary implies more than one, but God is one.

21†Is the law then contrary to the promises of God? Certainly not! For if a law had been given that could give life, then righteousness would indeed be by the law. 22‡But the Scripture imprisoned everything under sin, so that the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given to those who believe.

23Now before faith came, we were held captive under the law, imprisoned until the coming faith would be revealed. 24 † So then, the law was our guardian until Christ came, in order that we might be justified by faith.
25†But now that faith has come, we are no longer under a guardian, 26†for in Christ Jesus you are all sons of God, through faith. 27†For as many of you as were baptized into Christ have put on Christ. 28† There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave[1] nor free, there is no male and female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus. 29 † And if you are Christ’s, then you are Abraham’s offspring, heirs according to promise.

Sons and Heirs

4 [1]‡‡I mean that the heir, as long as he is a child, is no different from a slave,[2] though he is the owner of everything, [2]but he is under guardians and managers until the date set by his father. [3]†In the same way we also, when we were children, were enslaved to the elementary principles[3] of the world. [4]†But when the fullness of time had come, God sent forth his Son, born of woman, born under the law, [5]† to redeem those who were under the law, so that we might receive adoption as sons. [6]†And because you are sons, God has sent the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, crying, “Abba! Father!”
[7]†So you are no longer a slave, but a son, and if a son, then an heir through God.

Paul’s Concern for the Galatians

8 †† Formerly, when you did not know God, you were enslaved to those that by nature are not gods. 9 † But now that you have come to know God, or rather to be known by God, how can you turn back again to the weak and worthless elementary principles of the world, whose slaves you want to be once more? 10 † You observe days and months and seasons and years! 11 † I am afraid I may have labored over you in vain.

12 † Brothers,[1] I entreat you, become as I am, for I also have become as you are. You did me no wrong. 13 † You know it was because of a bodily ailment that I preached the gospel to you at first, 14 † and though my condition was a trial to you, you did not scorn or despise me, but received me as an angel of God, as Christ Jesus. 15 † What then has become of the blessing you felt? For I testify to you that, if possible, you would have gouged out your eyes and given them to me. 16 † Have I then become your enemy by telling you the truth?[2] 17 † They make much of you, but for no good purpose. They want to shut you out, that you may make much of them. 18 † It is always good to be made much of for a good purpose, and not only when I am present with you, 19 † my little children, for whom I am again in the anguish of childbirth until Christ is formed in you! 20 † I wish I could be present with you now and change my tone, for I am perplexed about you.

Example of Hagar and Sarah

21 Tell me, you who desire to be under the law, do you not listen to the law? 22 For it is written that Abraham had two sons, one by a slave woman and one by a free woman. 23 But the son of the slave was born according to the flesh, while the son of the free woman was born through promise.
24 Now this may be interpreted allegorically: these women are two covenants. One is from Mount Sinai, bearing children for slavery; she is Hagar. 25 Now Hagar is Mount Sinai in Arabia;[3] she corresponds to the present Jerusalem, for she is in slavery with her children. 26 But the Jerusalem above is free, and she is our mother. 27 For it is written,

> "Rejoice, O barren one who does not bear; > break forth and cry aloud, you who are not > in labor!
> For the children of the desolate one will be > more > than those of the one who has a husband."

28 Now you,[1] brothers, like Isaac, are children of promise. 29 But just as at that time he who was born according to the flesh persecuted him who was born according to the Spirit, so also it is now. 30 But what does the Scripture say? "Cast out the slave woman and her son, for the son of the slave woman shall not inherit with the son of the free woman." 31 So, brothers, we are not children of the slave but of the free woman.

Christ Has Set Us Free

5 [1]†For freedom Christ has set us free; stand firm therefore, and do not submit again to a yoke of slavery.

[2]†Look: I, Paul, say to you that if you accept circumcision, Christ will be of no advantage to you. [3]† I testify again to every man who accepts circumcision that he is obligated to keep the whole law. [4]†You are severed from Christ, you who would be justified[2] by the law; you have fallen away from grace. [5]†For through the Spirit, by faith, we ourselves eagerly wait for the hope of righteousness. [6]†For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision counts for anything, but only faith working through love.

[7]† You were running well. Who hindered you from obeying the truth?
[8]†This persuasion is not from him who calls you. [9]† A little leaven leavens the whole lump. [10]† I have confidence in the Lord that you will take no other view than mine, and the one who is troubling you will bear the penalty, whoever he is. [11]†But if I, brothers,[3] still preach[4] circumcision, why am I still being persecuted? In that case the offense of the cross has been removed. [12]† I wish those who unsettle you would emasculate themselves!

[13]†For you were called to freedom, brothers. Only do not use your freedom as an opportunity for the flesh, but through love serve one another.
[14]†For the whole law is fulfilled in one word: “You shall love your neighbor as yourself.” [15]†But if you bite and devour one another, watch out that you are not consumed by one another.

Walk by the Spirit

16 ‡ † But I say, walk by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the flesh. 17 † For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to keep you from doing the things you want to do. 18 † But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. 19 † Now the works of the flesh are evident: sexual immorality, impurity, sensuality, 20 ‡ idolatry, sorcery, enmity, strife, jealousy, fits of anger, rivalries, dissensions, divisions, 21 † envy,[1] drunkenness, orgies, and things like these. I warn you, as I warned you before, that those who do such things will not inherit the kingdom of God. 22 † But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, 23 † gentleness, self-control; against such things there is no law. 24 † And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires.

25 † If we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit. 26 † Let us not become conceited, provoking one another, envying one another.

Bear One Another's Burdens

6 [1]†† Brothers,[2] if anyone is caught in any transgression, you who are spiritual should restore him in a spirit of gentleness. Keep watch on yourself, lest you too be tempted. [2]† Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ. [3]†For if anyone thinks he is something, when he is nothing, he deceives himself. [4]†But let each one test his own work, and then his reason to boast will be in himself alone and not in his neighbor. [5]†For each will have to bear his own load.

[6]† One who is taught the word must share all good things with the one who teaches. [7]† Do not be deceived: God is not mocked, for whatever one sows, that will he also reap. [8]†For the one who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption, but the one who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life. [9]†And let us not grow weary of doing good, for in due season we will reap, if we do not give up. [10]†So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to those who are of the household of faith.

Final Warning and Benediction

11 †† See with what large letters I am writing to you with my own hand. 12 †
It is those who want to make a good showing in the flesh who would force you to be circumcised, and only in order that they may not be persecuted for the cross of Christ. 13 † For even those who are circumcised do not themselves keep the law, but they desire to have you circumcised that they may boast in your flesh. 14 †But far be it from me to boast except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by which[1] the world has been crucified to me, and I to the world. 15 † For neither circumcision counts for anything, nor uncircumcision, but a new creation. 16 †And as for all who walk by this rule, peace and mercy be upon them, and upon the Israel of God.

17 †From now on let no one cause me trouble, for
I bear on my body the marks of Jesus.

18 † The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, brothers.
Amen.

Galatians

Overview

Author
Paul the apostle

Date
c AD 51–53

Places
Galatia; Jerusalem; Arabia; Damascus; Syria; Cilicia; Antioch

People
Galatians; Paul; Cephas (Peter); James, the Lord's brother; John; Barnabas; Titus; Gentiles; Jews; false brothers

Purpose
To demonstrate that faith in Christ accomplishes both justification and sanctification

Law Themes
The threat of subtle false teaching; hypocrisy; works cannot justify; the Law's curse; works of the flesh; the Law of Christ

Gospel Themes
One saving Gospel; God's gracious call; justified through faith in Christ; the gift of the Spirit; adoption as God's sons; freedom in Christ

Memory Verses
Only one Gospel (1:6–9); justification through faith, not works (2:16); life in Christ (2:19–20); the Law and the Gospel promise (3:23–29); freedom (5:1, 13–14); fruit of the Spirit (5:16–24); three crosses (6:14)

Introduction to Galatians

Reading Galatians

A guardian calls the seven-year-old boy in from play to make an introduction. Pointing to a young man, he explains that tomorrow at dawn this fellow will lead the boy to and from school, making certain the boy has the tools of learning: wooden tablets and a stylus. Though the young man is a slave, the boy must mind him and learn from him until the boy is ready to be self-sufficient.

In the Letter to the Galatians, the apostle Paul refers to such first-century life situations in order to explain our relationship to the Law (moral, civil, and ceremonial commands) and the Gospel (God's promise to us in Christ). A typical schoolboy's guardian (Gk paidagogos; 3:24) had temporary authority. Similarly, the Law given by Moses served as a temporary guardian, according to the will of our legal guardian (4:2), the Lord Himself. As Paul explains, the Lord had greater plans to fulfill the Law and His life-changing promise. He adopted us (4:5), making us co-heirs with His true Son, our Savior Jesus. In this way, Paul explains and illustrates the binding and life-changing effects of the Law and the Gospel, the two essential teachings of the Christian faith (see pp xxxi–xxxii).

Luther on Galatians

The Galatians had been brought by St. Paul to the true Christian faith, from the law to the gospel. After his departure, however, false apostles came along. They were disciples of the true apostles, but they so turned the Galatians around that they believed they had to be saved by works of the law and were committing sin if they did not keep the law —as even several dignitaries in Jerusalem maintained, Acts 15.

To refute them, St. Paul magnifies his office; he will not take a back seat to any other apostle. He boasts that his doctrine and office are from God alone, in order that he might silence the boast of the false apostles who helped themselves to the works and reputation of the true apostles. He says it is not true, even if an angel were to preach differently, or he himself, to say nothing of disciples of apostles, or of apostles themselves. This he does in chapters 1 and 2, and concludes that everyone must be justified without merit, without works, without law, through Christ alone.

In chapters 3 and 4 he proves all this with passages of Scripture, examples, and analogies. He shows that the law brings sin and a curse rather than righteousness. Righteousness is promised by God, fulfilled by Christ without the law, given to us—out of grace alone.

In chapters 5 and 6 he teaches the works of love that ought to follow faith. (AE 35:384)

For more of Luther's insights on this Book, see Galatians, Chapters 1–4; 5–6 (AE 26, 27).

Challenges for Readers

Ignoring Sanctification. In the first part of Galatians, Paul focuses strongly on the chief topic of the Christian faith: that Christ justifies us by grace through faith. The dominance of this teaching can lead some readers to ignore Paul's other important message in the Letter: through faith Christ leads us in a new way of life.

The "New" Look on Paul. Some recent interpreters of the Dead Sea Scrolls and other early Jewish literature have argued that Paul did not correctly understand or represent the teachings of Judaism in his day. See "Righteousness and Early Judaism," p 1906.

Genderless Christianity. Feminist interpreters and those influenced by feminism have radically altered the historic interpretation and application of Gal 3:28. They argue that gender and social order should have no influence on roles of service in Christianity. This interpretation has been forcefully used to encourage women's ordination in liberal Protestant church bodies and has even been used to support the ordination of homosexuals.

Galatia. Some scholars contend that the term "Galatia" refers to the northern region of the province, but it most probably refers to the southern area, where Paul and Barnabas established churches on the first missionary journey. Regardless, Galatians was likely intended as a circular Letter to be read in several churches.

Blessings for Readers

The proper distinction of Law and Gospel, described in Galatians, leads one away from the misunderstandings of God's Word mentioned above. Paul certainly affirmed a limited role for the Law in the life of a believer. He explained the life-changing blessings of the Gospel, which make us God's children and give us freedom to do good, not evil. Yet Galatians shows that, though we never outgrow the Law because we are sinners (cf 5:16–26), it is God's promise that assures our place in His family (4:5–7), with all the privileges He bestows by Word and Spirit.

As you study Galatians, pray that the Holy Spirit would teach you rightly to discern and apply God's Law and Gospel. He who generously gives His good Spirit through the promise will surely grant you a discerning heart.

OUTLINE

Paul uses his rhetorical training in a most sophisticated way, as seen in this Letter's structure and its argumentation. In 1:6–12, Paul confronts the chief problem: false teachers have come to Galatia and preached a different gospel, one that requires the reintroduction of Judaic practices (most prominently, circumcision) in order for the Gentile Christians in Galatia to truly be part of the "Israel of God" (6:16). Paul's solution is presented briefly in 2:15–21: faith in Christ accomplishes both justification (2:15–16) and sanctification ("our endeavor to be justified"; 2:17–21). The rest of the Book gives Paul's supporting argumentation for his solution (e.g., 2:15–16 is explained by 3:1–5:1; 2:17–21 is explained by 5:2–6:10).

I. Greetings (1:1–5)
II. The Problem (1:6–12)
  A. Is There Another Gospel? (1:6–10)
  B. The Gospel Preached by Paul Is the Only Gospel (1:11–12)
III. Background to the Problem, Moving toward a Solution (1:13–2:14)
IV. The Solution (2:15–21)
  A. How One Gets Justified (2:15–16)
  B. How One Lives as a Justified Person (2:17–20)
  C. The Gospel Preached by Paul Is the Only Gospel (2:21)
V. The Supporting Arguments for the Solution of 2:15–21 (3:1–6:10)

A. First Argument about Receiving Justification (3:1–18): Foolish Galatians and Faithful Abraham

1. Rebuke (3:1–5)
2. Appeal to Scripture (3:6–14)
3. Illustration of a human covenant (3:15–18)

B. Second Argument about Receiving Justification (3:19–4:7): How One Becomes an Heir

1. Why the Law? (3:19–22)
2. The end of the Law's function as guardian, the coming of the inheritance by faith (3:23–29)
3. Illustration of a human heir (4:1–7)

C. Third Argument about Receiving Justification (4:8–20): Appeal to a Shared Past

1. What the Galatians were before faith (4:8–11)
2. Paul's anguish over a wayward child (4:12–20)

D. Fourth Argument about Receiving Justification (4:21–5:1): Allegory of Sarah and Hagar—Be Free!

E. First Argument about Living as a Justified Person (5:2–15): The Uselessness of Circumcision

1. Paul's direct command (5:2–6)
2. The Law divides the community (5:7–15)

F. Second Argument about Living as a Justified Person (5:16–26): The Fruits of the Flesh and the One Fruit of the Spirit

1. The community living by the flesh is divided (5:16–21)
2. The community living by the Spirit is united (5:22–26)

G. Third Argument about Living as a Justified Person (6:1–10): A Specific Application for the Community United by the Spirit

1. Bearing and restoring one another (6:1–5)
2. Serving one another (6:6–10)

VI. Summarizing Conclusion (6:11–18)

- Legalism Then and Now
- True Christianity versus Three Distortions

Legalism Then and Now

It is important to understand the problem of legalism in the Church—then and now—and to distinguish it from the Gospel and Christian freedom. Outside of biblical Christianity, other religions or philosophies have one thing in common. They teach that we must somehow save ourselves. Such salvation is sometimes viewed as a future paradise. Sometimes it simply means a bettering of this present world. Either way, it is up to us to achieve it.

In Galatians, Paul reminds us that the struggle against the way of the Law is as old as Christianity itself. One commentator notes: "God's grace cannot be compromised. Law and Gospel cannot be mingled."

That is the situation answered by Paul in Galatians. Some sincere Jewish Christians from Judea were troubling the new churches by insisting that the Gentile members submit to circumcision and other aspects of the ceremonial law. In their view, faith in the Gospel was not sufficient—new converts also needed to observe the ceremonial laws of the Old Testament.

Not only did Paul have to deal with these Judaizers, but he also had to oppose the apostle Peter, one of the great pillars of the Early Church! In Gal 2:11–16, Paul tells how he had opposed Peter at Antioch. There, Peter himself had been leading others into legalism by his example. The very truth of the Gospel was at stake.

It is tempting for Christians to fall into the trap of legalism. That is especially true today since we live in an increasingly godless society and we like to see evidences of faith. For example, some might feel that true Christians will vote in a certain way. If we find out that an individual voted for a party or candidate that we disagree with, then that individual's faith is suspect. We might feel strongly that alcoholic drinks are dangerous and should be avoided. But though Scripture condemns drunkenness, it does not label all drinking a sin, and therefore, it is legalistic to say that having a drink is sinful.

In some ways, legalism makes life easier. We do not have to think or make decisions. Yet such a life is really a slavery of the worst kind. No matter how hard people try, they still cannot keep the Law perfectly. In the end, legalism leads either to pride or to despair. If we think we are living a fairly good life—not like the people we read about in the papers—we become proud and self-satisfied. This was the attitude of the Pharisees in Jesus' day. On the other hand, if we realize the true enormity of our sins—how they daily color our thoughts, words, and actions—we can easily fall into complete despair. In either case, the end is the same—separation from God and the loss of salvation.

Rather than being caught up in legalism, God wants us to hold on to the freedom He gives us: "Stand firm therefore, and do not submit again to a yoke of slavery" (Gal 5:1). We are free. God does not intend for us to live a life as slaves to a set of rules, as mechanical robots. Rather, our good works flow from a love of God and not from a sense of bondage or slavery.

Jesus alone is the antidote to legalism. He alone offers the free, full, and saving grace of God!

True Christianity versus Three Distortions

Group: Judaized Christianity
Definition of a Christian: Christians are Jews who have recognized Jesus as the promised Savior. Any Gentile desiring to become a Christian must first become a Jew.
Genuine Concern: Having a high regard for the Scriptures and God's choice of Jews as His people, they do not want to see God's commands overlooked or broken.
Danger: Tend to add human traditions to God's Law. Also tend to subtract from God's concern for all nations.
Group: Legalistic Christianity
Definition of a Christian: Christians are those who live by a long list of "don'ts." God's favor is earned by good behavior.
Genuine Concern: Faith in Christ should lead to changes in behavior.
Danger: Tend to make God's love something to earn. Reduce Christianity to a set of impossible rules.
Group: Lawless Christianity
Definition of a Christian: Christians live above the Law. They need no guidelines. God's Word is not as important as one's personal sense of God's guidance. Behavior does not matter.
Genuine Concern: Forgiveness from God cannot be based on living up to His perfect standards. It must be received by grace as a gift made possible by Christ's death on the cross.
Danger: Tend to forget that Christians still have a sinful human nature and fail when trying to live only by what they "feel" God wants. Also tend to forget that God's commandments are still binding.
Group: True Christianity
Definition of a Christian: Christians are those who believe that Jesus' death has allowed a holy God to freely give them forgiveness and eternal life. They have that gift through faith. By the power of God's Spirit through Word and Sacrament, they grow in faith and in holiness of life, thankful for what He has done in and for them.
Genuine Concern: Christianity is both private and public, with heart-belief and mouth-confession. Having received the gift of forgiveness and eternal life, Christians are now daily empowered to live that life with His help, realizing that the goal is nothing less than eternal life with God as beings who are transformed into His likeness.

Danger: Avoids the above dangers.

Footnotes

Footnotes for Galatians, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:2 Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church; also verse 11
- [2] 1:10 Or slave; Greek bondservant
- [3] 1:11 Greek not according to man
- [1] 1:15 Greek set me apart from my mother's womb
- [2] 1:16 Greek in
- [3] 1:16 Greek with flesh and blood

Footnotes for Galatians, Chapter 2

- [1] 2:16 Or counted righteous (three times in verse 16); also verse 17
- [2] 2:21 Or justification

Footnotes for Galatians, Chapter 3

- [3] 3:3 Or now ending with
- [4] 3:4 Or experience
- [5] 3:8 Or count righteous; also verses 11, 24
- [1] 3:11 Or The one who by faith is righteous will live

- [2] 3:14 Greek receive the promise of the Spirit
- [3] 3:15 Or brothers and sisters
- [1] 3:28 Greek bondservant

Footnotes for Galatians, Chapter 4

- [2] 4:1 Greek bondservant; also verse 7
- [3] 4:3 Or elemental spirits; also verse 9
- [1] 4:12 Or Brothers and sisters; also verses 28, 31
- [2] 4:16 Or by dealing truthfully with you
- [3] 4:25 Some manuscripts For Sinai is a mountain in Arabia
- [1] 4:28 Some manuscripts we

Footnotes for Galatians, Chapter 5

- [2] 5:4 Or counted righteous
- [3] 5:11 Or brothers and sisters; also verse 13
- [4] 5:11 Greek proclaim
- [1] 5:21 Some manuscripts add murder

Footnotes for Galatians, Chapter 6

- [2] 6:1 Or Brothers and sisters; also verse 18
- [1] 6:14 Or through whom

Study Notes

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:1 apostle. Lit, "the sent one." See p 1901. Luth: "[Paul] does not come as a private person but as the emissary of a king" (AE 26:16). not from men nor through man. Paul's apostleship was not of human origin ("men"), nor did it come through human agency ("man"; cf Am 7:14–15). but through Jesus Christ and God the Father. Mention of the first two persons of the Trinity (governed by one preposition in Gk) emphasizes Paul's divine appointment: God the Father called Paul through His very own Son, whom He raised from the dead (cf Rm 1:1–4, for all three persons of the Godhead).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:2 brothers. See p 1901. churches. Congregations in the towns that Paul and Barnabas visited on the first missionary journey (Ac 13:4–14:28). Galatia. See pp 2000–2001.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:3 Grace to you and peace. Paul's characteristic greeting was esp pertinent to the Galatia situation, where the message of grace was compromised and peace undermined. See pp 1899–1901. Grace. Gk charis. See p 1902. peace. See p 1903.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:4 present evil age. Evil powers in this world rule in opposition to God, but Jesus' atoning death has delivered Christians away from the evil one (Col 1:13). Because believers already participate in the age to come (Gal 2:19–20; 5:5), they are in the world but not of it; they are not conformed to it (Jn 17:14–15; Rm 12:2). "[God] has set up this and the other commandments between the good people and the evil" (LC I 183). the will. Our deliverance came not by happenstance; it revealed God's saving intention from eternity.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:5 Praise for what Christ has done in delivering us from sin is affirmed by a hearty "Amen!" This Letter's opening differs from Paul's other Letters in two noticeable ways: he includes a doxology in the salutation (greeting), and he does not include an opening thanksgiving prayer. See pp 1899–1901. This format conveys a sense of urgency and an impending rebuke. Amen. See p 1901.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:1–5 Paul's greeting anticipates the Letter's central argument. According to His Father's will, Christ has graciously given Himself for our sins and delivered us from this present evil age;

therefore, works of the Law are not necessary for salvation. Teachings that compromise this core truth rob God of His due glory and rob us of true peace, for God brings true peace to our hearts through the forgiveness of sins. • Heavenly Father, by the power of Your Son's resurrection, set our hearts free and forever at rest. Amen.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:6 deserting. The Galatians were turning away from the Gospel through which God had called them (cf 2Th 2:14). To desert the Gospel of Jesus Christ that Paul preached is to abandon God Himself. called. The saving initiative always belongs to God alone. different gospel. A so-called "gospel," i.e., a "revised version" of the Gospel of Christ (cf 1Th 2:2), promoted by some in Galatia. Paul's opponents might have referred to their message as the "full" or "complete" gospel, suggesting that Paul's proclamation was deficient.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:7 not … another. The opponents' "gospel" did not modify but perverted the Word of truth (Eph 1:13) that the apostles proclaimed and taught. Christ's Gospel stands by itself, without parallel and exclusive of all other messages—however cogent and attractive they may seem. The Good News of salvation comes from and points to Christ. Just as there is one Savior, so there is only one Gospel (Gal 2:5, 14). some who trouble you. Unnamed persons who threw the congregation into confusion with their destructive teaching. distort. Gk term means to change something, often into its opposite. The Galatian intruders consciously intended to change the Gospel.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:8 accursed. See p 1901. "God's Word shall establish articles of faith, and no one else" (SA II II 15). "Horrible errors likewise arose. … The holy apostles had to attack these teachings forcefully in their sermons and writings" (FC SD Intro 7).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:9 said before. Paul repeats a warning that he and his co-workers had issued on an earlier visit (cf 5:21). "Ungodly teachers are to be deserted because they no longer act in Christ's place, but are antichrists" (Ap VII and VIII 48). received. See p 1904. accursed. See p 1901.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:10 approval. Implies that Paul's critics were charging him with merely seeking human favor. But Paul consistently maintained that, in obedience to God, he subordinated his interests to the interests of others (1Co 4:2–5). please man? Gk "men." (See note, v 1.)

Paul repeatedly emphasized that being faithful to God must take precedence over being popular.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:6–10 This Letter begins not with an expression of thanksgiving but with a stern warning against defection from the one true Gospel. Whoever falsifies the Gospel of Christ comes under God's curse. The Gospel, through which God calls us to be His own, proclaims God's grace in Christ. • May Your precious Word, O Lord, be taught in all truth and purity so that we may receive Your divine blessing. Amen.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:11 brothers. Though going astray, the Galatians are still brothers and sisters in Christ, members of God's family (3:15; 4:5, 12, 28; 5:11, 13; 6:1, 18). See p 1901. was preached. Note the passive verb. Paul served as the instrument of the Gospel's proclamation, not as its source.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:12 I. Gk ego. Added by Paul for emphasis. a revelation of Jesus Christ. The Gospel Paul preached came directly from the risen Christ, and He is its content.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:13 Paul will tell his story as evidence for his point in vv 11–12 (see the temporal and sequential "then" in 1:18, 21; 2:1). heard. Either from Paul himself or from reports being circulated about him (cf vv 22–23). Judaism. Or, "Judeaism" (religion of the Judeans). Designates the Jewish faith and way of life that distinguished Jews from Gentiles (including esp circumcision, dietary laws, Sabbath observance, and the system of feasts and sacrifices). See "Jews," p 1906. persecuted. The Gk tense shows repeated action. church of God. See pp 1901–2. In contrast to his former life in Judaism, Paul now belongs to those who believe in Christ, the new "Israel of God" (see note, 6:16). Paul regards the persecution of the Church as an act hostile to God Himself. violently. Lit, "to an extraordinary degree," intensively and extensively.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:14 advancing in Judaism. See note, v 13. Paul had progressed beyond many others in the teachings and practices of the Jewish religion, shown esp by his ardent zeal for persecuting God's Church. traditions. Teachings, commandments, stories, etc., of the rabbis accepted by the Pharisees and passed on particularly in the oral law (Hbr halakah, Mk 7:5).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:15 set me apart … called. Paul did not decide to "change religions." As God set apart and called the prophets of old, so also He chose Paul to bring the Gospel to the Gentiles in keeping with His divine purpose. Paul, the former persecutor of the Church, knew from experience that God called him by grace (1Co 15:9).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:16 consult. Lit, "take up a matter with." anyone. Lit, "with flesh and blood." Paul received no instruction from anyone in Jerusalem immediately after his conversion. This proves that his Gospel did not depend on any human source. See notes, vv 11, 12.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:17 Arabia. Probably the Nabataean Kingdom located in the area around Damascus in Syria, founded in the second century BC. See map, p 1886. Aretas IV (9 BC–c AD 40) was king when Paul was converted (2Co 11:32). Some commentators believe that Paul went to Arabia to begin mission work among the Gentiles. Damascus. See color map 4. One of the cities of the Decapolis under the supervision of Syria's imperial legate, it came under Roman control in 66 BC. At Paul's time, it was a Nabataean city and had a large Jewish population.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:18 Cephas. Aram ke¯pha, the name Jesus gave to Simon Peter (Gk petros, "stone"; Jn 1:42; cf Mt 16:18). With one exception (Gal 2:7), Paul customarily used this name for Peter. remained with him. Probably to get acquainted with Peter, not to get instruction (though certainly they would have shared information about Jesus).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:19 James the Lord's brother. The first of Jesus' four brothers (Mk 6:3). Though not one of the Twelve, he became a prominent apostle in the Jerusalem Church (Ac 12:17; 15:13; 21:18–19). Two other men bore this name in the NT (James the son of Alphaeus and James the son of Zebedee).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:20 By oath, Paul absolutely affirms his integrity, since the truth of the Gospel he proclaims is at issue.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:21 Syria and Cilicia. Regions combined into one Roman province with its capital at Antioch. See map, p 1886. Paul mentions his post-conversion work here to show again his distance from Jerusalem.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:22 the churches of Judea. Groups of believers (house churches) were forced to leave Jerusalem in the persecution following Stephen's death. Judea. This Roman province included all of Galilee, Samaria, and Judea proper. See color map 4. in Christ. The Galatians no longer lived in Judaism but in the Body of Christ (1Co 1:9). See p 1903.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:23 hearing it said. The churches were continually hearing reports about Paul the persecutor. the faith. The content (doctrine) of the Gospel.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 1:11–24 . Selecting key facts from his personal history, Paul proves that his apostleship comes from God, independent of human sources. Today, enemies of God's Church continue to question the divine origin of the Christian message, causing doubts and confusion among many believers in Christ. As God called Paul "by His grace," so He now seeks to change hearts through the Good News of His Son. • Keep us faithful to Your Word, O Lord, when doubts threaten. Amen.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:1 after fourteen years. Paul could mean 14 years after his conversion (1:15–16); after his first visit to Jerusalem (1:18); or after the time spent in Syria and Cilicia (1:21). In any case, the overall argument remains clear: during this long period, Paul had no direct contact with Jerusalem. Barnabas … Titus. Luth: "By presenting himself with both of them he intended to make it clear that he was at liberty to be a Gentile with Titus and a Jew with Barnabas … [to prove] the freedom of the Gospel in each case" (AE 27:200).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:2 revelation. Paul went up to Jerusalem for no other reason than that God told him to go there (just as after his conversion, Ac 22:17–21). See p 1904. influential. Men of reputation, identified primarily as James, Cephas, and John (v 9). not run in vain. For the sake of the Church's unity and God's mission to Jews and Gentiles, Paul desired to get a vote of confidence from the Jerusalem leadership.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:3 not … circumcised … Greek. Despite opposition from a circumcision group, the Jerusalem leaders had received uncircumcised Gentiles into the Church (cf Ac 11:2–18).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:4 false brothers. Some Jewish Christians (commonly labeled Judaizers) within the Jerusalem Church demanded the circumcision of Gentile converts (Ac 15:1, 5). Their claim to be fellow believers was belied by their conduct. They adhered to a gospel that Paul regarded as false (1:6–9). secretly brought in. In context, this expression suggests collusion between the interlopers who wormed their way into the churches and those within who facilitated their spying operation. freedom. Gk eleutheria, a central term occurring also in 5:1 and 5:13, six more times as an adjective (3:28; 4:22, 23, 26, 30, 31), and once in verbal form (5:1).

Our freedom in Christ, based on His atoning work, consists in freedom from bondage to the Law ("slavery").

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:5 Luth: "The truth of the Gospel is this, that our righteousness comes by faith alone, without the works of the Law. The falsification or corruption of the Gospel is this, that we are justified by faith but not without the works of the Law" (AE 26:88). "In such a case we have nothing to concede. We should plainly confess and endure what God sends because of that confession, and whatever He allows the enemies of His Word to inflict on us" (FC Ep X 6).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:6 what they were makes no difference. Paul respected the Jerusalem leaders but refrained from overstating their importance. no partiality. Lit, "God does not take (or receive) the face" (cf 2Ch 19:7). Paul is not overawed by personal credentials. Before God, all are on equal footing. added nothing. Neither to Paul's message nor to his divine commission.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:7 entrusted. Paul regarded himself as a steward of the Gospel (Ti 1:3). "St. Paul clearly affirms that he was neither ordained nor confirmed by Peter. Nor does he acknowledge Peter to be one from whom confirmation should be sought" (Tr 10).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:8 his apostolic ministry. Gk apostole ("apostolate"), a technical term for the office and work of an apostle of Christ (Ac 1:25; Rm 1:5; 1Co 9:2).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:9 pillars. Figurative of leaders who supported and gave stability to the Church (cf 1Tm 3:15). See note, v 6. right hand of fellowship. This handshake symbolized a partnership between friends. fellowship. See p 1902.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:10 remember the poor. The Jerusalem pillars recognized the divine legitimacy of Paul's calling and work, but they had one request: that Paul and Barnabas administer financial relief for the saints in Jerusalem, who were caught in persecution and famine. This became a major task to which Paul conscientiously devoted himself (Ac 11:29–30; Rm 15:25–28; 1Co 16:1–4; 2Co 8–9), in part to demonstrate the Church's unity (largely, these were gifts of Gentile churches to Jewish Christians).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:1–10 By divine revelation, Paul goes to Jerusalem with Barnabas and Titus to visit Church leaders who, in spite of some opposition in their midst, approved of his message and mission to the Gentiles. Today, Christians continually face threats to the freedom they have in Christ, even from their own sinful flesh. The Gospel comes from God and thus cannot be deprived of its power to set us free. • Lord, grant us strength in our partnership in the Gospel. Amen.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:11 Antioch. See map, p 1886. The third-largest city of the Roman Empire and a commercial hub, it had a significant Jewish population. The first Gentile Church was founded here with the aid of Barnabas and Paul (Ac 11:19–26). to his face. Paul took issue with Peter personally. condemned. Not merely self-condemned but convicted in God's presence.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:12 eating with. Table fellowship signified freedom from the Law (specifically Jewish food laws) and Church unity. fearing. Emotion, not change of conviction, prompted Peter's duplicitous behavior. circumcision party. See note, v 4.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:13 rest of the Jews. Jewish Christians in Antioch (cf v 15). even Barnabas. Paul could hardly believe it! "Even" (Gk kai) his trusted friend and colleague for so many years succumbed to behavior inherently dishonest. "Paul yields and gives way to the weak concerning food and 'the observance of' times or days (Romans 14:6). But to the false apostles, who wanted to impose these on the conscience as necessary things, he will not yield even in matters that are adiaphora" (FC SD X 13).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:14 conduct was not in step. Measured by the Gospel of freedom in Christ, the deliberate withdrawal from fellowship with Gentiles not only lacked integrity but betrayed God's truth. the truth of the gospel. See note, v 5. you force the Gentiles to live like Jews? Not raw coercion, but strong group pressure constrained the Gentiles to adopt Jewish customs and practices. Jews? See "Groups in Romans," pp 1905–6.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:11–14 For the sake of the truth of the Gospel, Paul publicly rebukes Peter for his hypocritical conduct, which communicates that the Gentiles must keep Jewish laws. The Word of God condemns hypocrisy (Mt 23:28; Lk 12:1; 1Pt 2:1; cf Lk 20:20). Yet this history shows that God is true to His promise of mercy toward sinners (1Co 1:9; 1Jn 1:9). • Lord, keep us from hypocrisy in our thoughts, words, and actions. Affirm our freedom won by Christ. Amen.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:15 We ourselves. For the sake of argument, Paul speaks from a Jewish perspective. Gentile sinners. The phrase represents the attitude of the pious Law-observing Jews toward nations without the Law. See pp 1905–6.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:16 not justified by works of the law. See p 1903. through faith in Jesus Christ. Jesus is the object of our faith. not by works of the law. This exclusionary statement means that a person is justified before God by faith alone. "[These works] are only forced out of a person by teaching the punishment and threatening of God's wrath" (FC Ep VI 5).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:17 is Christ then a servant of sin? By the legalist's logic, if Jews who keep the Law are reckoned as "sinners" in need of God's justifying grace, then Christ is made an agent of sin. Paul asserts that this is an invalid argument. See Ap V 196.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:18 if I rebuild … transgressor. The Gospel Paul preached broke down the wall of separation (Law's requirements) between Jew and Gentile (Eph 2:14–18). For Paul (and by implication, Peter), rebuilding this wall would make him a "transgressor."

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:19 I died. "The Law only accuses and terrifies consciences" (Ap XIIA 34). All who are in Christ (v 17) are no longer under the Law's jurisdiction. It has no claim on them (their relationship to it is severed). They are free from its curse (3:13). See note, 6:14.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:20 It is no longer I who live, but Christ who lives in me. Luth: "By [faith] you are so cemented to Christ that He and you are as one person" (AE 26:168). in the flesh. This earthly life.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:21 If obedience to the Law is in any sense regarded as part of God's justification of the sinner, then Christ's death becomes superfluous.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 2:15–21 With the incident with Peter as the backdrop, Paul presents the Epistle's core theological argument: justification is by faith in Christ and not by works of the Law. Those who appeal to the Law in addition to Christ as a means of salvation make His death meaningless—worse still, null and void. God's Son loves us and gave Himself for us to free us from the Law's condemnation. • O God, our earthly life in Christ now has a high purpose, to live for You (2:19). Grant me full confidence in Christ Jesus, who alone can save me. Amen.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:1 bewitched. A Gk term used only here in NT. It means to exert an evil influence on someone through the eye, such as casting a spell. publicly portrayed as crucified. Paul preached Christ's death so vividly that his audiences could almost see Jesus die with their own eyes (cf 1Co 2:1–2).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:2 receive the Spirit. The person and work of the Holy Spirit is a theme throughout Gal (mentioned 16 times). God gives His Spirit through the preaching of Christ (Gospel), whom we receive in faith (1Th 2:13)—and not through the works of the Law. by hearing. The Spirit works through the Word (see LC II 52).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:3 by the flesh. An allusion to circumcision, which Paul's opponents were pushing as necessary to make the Gospel "complete" (cf Rm 2:23–29)—reasoning that comes from the fallen human nature, not from God's Spirit.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:4 Did you suffer. Paul makes no specific mention of the Galatians undergoing suffering.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:5 miracles. Manifestations of the Spirit's power worked through the Gospel proclamation.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:6 just as. Ties the Gn quotation to what has happened to the Galatians when they received the Spirit. Their experience was the same as Abraham's, whom God declared righteous by faith, as the Scripture clearly proves. "Righteousness is worked in the heart when the Holy Spirit is received through the Word" (AC XVIII 3).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:7–5:26 Paul begins a sustained argument from Scripture to disprove two incorrect rabbinic understandings of Abraham's role: (1) that Abraham was counted righteous because of his faithfulness under testing (which was meritorious); and (2) that Abraham's faith (Gn 15:6) must be tied together with circumcision (Gn 17:4–14), which is also necessary for a right standing before God.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:7 sons of Abraham. Paul deduced from Gn 15:6 that all men and women who believe are spiritual heirs of Abraham.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:8 Scripture, foreseeing. Personification. Paul equates Scripture with God speaking in Gn 12:2–3 (cf Jn 1:1). preached the gospel beforehand. The Scripture (i.e., God speaking) "pre-preached" the good news to Abraham. The basis of salvation was the same in the OT and the NT: the promise of Christ. be blessed. Combining words from Gn 12:3 and 18:18, Paul gives scriptural grounds for his central point that the promise to Abraham embraced also the Gentiles, who, like Abraham, are justified by faith. (Note the passive, following the LXX and indicating God's action.)

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:9 of faith. Gk ek pisteos, appears nine times in Gal (based on Hab 2:4; cf Gal 3:11; Rm 1:17; Heb 10:38). It carries the sense of "the faith people" (those who believe), as distinguished from "the circumcision party" (2:12; lit, "those of the circumcision"). Abraham belonged among the people of faith.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:1–9 The Galatians' experience (vv 1–5) and Scripture's witness concerning Abraham (vv 6–9) teach that all believers are heirs of Abraham, to whom faith "was counted … as righteousness" (v 6). Paul warns against being mesmerized by the foolish notion that salvation is completed by works of the Law. Those who see the crucified Christ in faith, however, see their sins completely forgiven. • How blessed we are, Lord, to be the heirs of Your promises! Thank You for granting me faith through Your Word. Amen.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:10 all who … everyone. Not restricted merely to Jews or Jewish Christians, the Law applies to all humanity. a curse … Cursed. All who rely on the works of the Law ("under the Law," v 23; 4:4, 5, 21) to become righteous before God are under divine condemnation. Luth: "In 'keeping' the Law he [the doer of the Law] does not keep it" (AE 26:268; see FC SD VI 4). all things written in the Book of the Law. Paul, an authoritative interpreter of the OT, intensifies Dt 27:26 by loosely quoting Dt 28:58 and emphasizing "all things" written in the whole Law (Dt 30:10; cf 28:1, 15).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:11–12 Shows that faith and Law are mutually exclusive principles.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:13 redeemed. We are liberated from the Law's deadly slavery and curse by the payment of a price (cf Rv 5:9; Ap V 58). See p 1904. Cursed is everyone who is hanged on a tree. Applied to the crucified Christ (cf Ac 10:39; 13:29; 1Pt 2:24). In its original context, it referred to the hanging of a criminal's corpse on a tree or pole after execution. Cursed. Same term as in Dt 27:26 (see note, Gal 3:10).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:14 receive the promised Spirit. By faith in Jesus Christ, whose atoning work delivered us from the curse of the Law, all believers (Jew and Gentile) receive the gift of the Spirit. See note, v 2.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:10–14 Christ redeems us from the Law's curse by becoming a curse for us. One sin, no matter how trivial it may seem to us, makes us a transgressor of the whole Law and accountable to God (Jas 2:10). But Christ's death on the cross releases us from the guilt of every transgression. • O Holy Spirit, continue to strengthen us in the new life of faith begun in our Baptism. Amen.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:15 no one annuls … ratified. This human example from legal practice teaches that no one can alter a legally ratified covenant or last will and testament. It is irrevocable.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:16 offspring. See p 1903. your offspring, who is Christ. After God revealed His Son to Paul at conversion (Ac 9:1–16), Paul understood the "promise" in a totally new way. Cf v 19. Christ is the ultimate heir of the inheritance promised to Abraham.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:17 430 years. Gn 15:13 gives a round number of 400 years for Israel's slavery in Egypt. make the promise void. The promise is not invalidated, either in wording or in its character.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:18 inheritance. Luth: "The forgiveness of sins, righteousness, salvation, and eternal life, which means that we are the sons and heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ (Rom. 8:17)" (AE 26:304). See "portion," p 7.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:19 added because of transgressions. Opposite the Promise/Gospel, the Law discloses sin for what it really is, a violation of God's revealed will. offspring. See note, v 16. through angels by an intermediary. Though unidentified, the intermediary (Gk mesites), according to most commentators, is probably Moses, who was assisted by angels (cf Dt 33:2; Ps 68:17). God spoke directly to Abraham, but He administered the Law through intermediaries—evidence that the Law is inferior to the Promise/Gospel.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:20 The doctrine that God is one (Dt 6:4; 1Co 8:6)—and therefore needed no angelic mediator to convey the Promise/Gospel—reaffirms the superiority of the Promise/Gospel over the Law as well as the unity of the Father and the Son, who served as mediator.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:21 Paul emphatically rejected the false conclusion (cf Rm 3:21) that Law and Promise stand in opposition to each other, as if they are rival systems of salvation. The Law has no such function.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:22–23 Scripture imprisoned everything under sin … held captive. Scripture, which contains God's Law, incarcerated the whole world with no hope for release. Sin's dreadful power subjugated all of human existence. The Law does have a purpose in God's plan, to show the need for deliverance. under the law. See note, v 10. until. The Law and the Promise can represent two different eras in salvation history. However, God has always worked with people in these two ways. See note, Ex 34:6–7; see also pp xxxi–xxxii.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:24 guardian. Gk paidagogos, "boy," "child leader." Greco-Roman households often secured a slave whose duty was to supervise and guard (though not to teach) children from about ages 6–16. Guardians had to walk children to and from school. Their temporary role served as the point of comparison. "God wants wild sinners to be restrained by civil discipline. To maintain discipline, He has given laws, letters, doctrine, rulers, and penalties" (Ap IV 22).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:25 The Law played an interim role for Israelites from Moses to Christ, but when faith (i.e., Christ) came, this arrangement ceased. See "Jews," p 1906.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:26 sons of God. All believers in Christ, including Gentiles, without distinction, bear this honorific title once reserved for Israel (Ex 4:22–23; Dt 14:1; Is 43:6; Hos 1:10).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:27 put on Christ. Through Baptism, God incorporates believers into union with Christ (cf Mt 28:19). Thus His righteousness becomes theirs. Luth: "Christ Himself is our garment … the garment of our righteousness and salvation" (AE 26:353; see LC IV 83–84).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:28 Ethnic, social, and sexual identities do not determine one's standing before God. All who are baptized into Christ are one in His Body, even while distinctions present in creation remain. See p 1291.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:29 The argument in vv 15–29 comes full circle. Gentiles believing in Christ, who is Abraham's Seed ("Offspring" in the singular; see note, v 16), become Abraham's seed ("offspring" in the collective plural) and thus heirs of the promise given to him.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 3:15–29 Through Christ, God fulfills the promise He gave to Abraham. All united to Christ by Baptism become heirs of the promise and therefore are righteous before God. The Law, as between Moses and Christ, still serves the good purpose of revealing sin and our need for a Savior. However, Christ does what the Law cannot do. He gives forgiveness and life. • Lord, help us to see that in our congregation all are to be welcomed, whatever their background or place in life. Help us also to reach out to all with the message of Jesus' love. Amen.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:1–2 guardians and managers. These were legally appointed individuals to whom a child's welfare, support, and household affairs were entrusted. Under the Roman legal system, the status of a child still under the care of a guardian was roughly that of a slave (both were unable to enjoy the inheritance). See note, 3:24. The precise legal details of the procedure, however, are not known to us.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:3 were children. Describes a state of confinement under the Law. elementary principles. Cf v 9. Depicts the condition of slavery to which both Jews and Gentiles were subject prior to Christ's coming—the Jews to the Law and the Gentiles to their pagan way of life (cf Col 2:8, 20; Heb 5:12).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:4 fullness of time. Pictures a container steadily being filled with the passage of time until full. Corresponds to "date set by his father" in v 2. Thus, at a specific and appropriate time in human history, God acted to fulfill His eternal purpose. born of woman. The preexistent Son of God (1Co 8:6; Php 2:6–11; Col 1:15–16) became fully human. Paul nowhere mentioned Mary by name; Jesus was the focus of his theology and devotion. under the law. Jesus was born a Jew and under obligation to keep the Law of Moses (see FC SD III 58). Consistent with Paul's imagery, Jesus entered our prison (3:23). See also note, 3:10.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:5 those … under the law. The Jews. we. Both Jewish and Gentile believers (cf 3:14; see note, 3:10). adoption as sons. See p 1901.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:6 you are sons. Through faith (3:26), the Holy Spirit is received (3:2, 14). Abba! Aram for "Papa," an address of special intimacy not typically found in Judaism. The "Spirit of His Son" prompts the prayer of God's Son ("Our Father") and so bears witness to the sonship of those who so pray (Mk 14:36; Rm 8:15).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:7 you. Singular, personal. By God's grace, each person can regard himself or herself as an heir to all spiritual blessings.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:1–7 The Holy Spirit assures us that we are God's children, redeemed by Jesus Christ and made full heirs of the promise to Abraham. The Spirit never derides God's Son or spiritual matters (1Co 12:3). Christ earned for us the right to call God "our Father," a prayer taught only by the Spirit.

• Dear Father, in confidence and boldness I bring my needs before You. Hear me for the sake of Jesus alone. Amen.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:8 you. Gentile converts. not gods. The entities enslaving the Galatians in their pagan past were not by nature gods, yet they were real forces. The present evil age is dominated by demonic principalities and powers hostile to Christ and His Church (cf, e.g., Rm 8:35, 38; 1Co 2:6, 8; Eph 1:21; 2:2; 6:12; Col 2:10, 15).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:9 know God … known by God. The initiative always belongs to God. Paradoxically, knowing God is a purely passive experience. weak and worthless elementary principles. Seeking salvation through obedience to Jewish laws places a person under the elementary powers of this evil age (cf v 3).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:10 observe. The Gk denotes scrupulous observance, suggesting that the Galatians were actually adopting or following the Jewish liturgical calendar being required of them (cf Ex 13:10; 31:16–17; Nu 10:10; Lv 25:1–7; 1Ch 23:31).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:11 in vain. A prominent expression in Gal (3:4). Paul could hardly bear the thought that after all his hard labor, the Galatians were in danger of losing the Gospel and the freedom it brings.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:12 as I am. As a man whom Christ set free from the bondage of the Law, Paul was an example to be emulated (1Co 4:16; 11:1; Php 3:17; 1Th 1:6; 2:14; 3:12; 2Th 3:7–9).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:13 bodily ailment. Numerous suggestions have been offered (e.g., malaria, epilepsy, eye ailment; cf 2Co 12:7–10). Since the ailment was the cause of Paul's original visit, perhaps it required rest and recuperation and thus a stay in Galatia.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:14 a trial to you. Evidently Paul's appearance was repulsive, inviting disdain and disgust. as an angel of God, as Christ Jesus. The Church had honored Paul by recognizing his apostolic authority as a messenger and representative of the risen Christ (Lk 10:16; Jn 13:20).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:15 blessing you felt? The Galatians had considered themselves extremely fortunate due to the blessings Paul brought. gouged out your eyes. In today's idiom, "You would have given your right arm to me."

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:16 truth? The truth of the Gospel (2:5, 14), spoken forthrightly, contrasts the opponents' deceptive tactics.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:17 They. False teachers, called "Judaizers," were agitating the Church. shut you out. Judaizers sought to bar fellowship with noncircumcised Gentiles. make much of them. The agitators hoped that by wooing the Galatians into their sphere of influence, the Galatians would, in turn, become their followers. (Note: The verse begins and ends with the same Gk word, zeloo¯, meaning "court someone's favor.") GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:18 Had the teachers who endeared themselves to the Galatians been faithful ministers of the one Gospel, Paul would have rejoiced (as in 1Co 3:5–10; Php 1:15–18). But their purpose was less than honorable.
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:19 little children. A term of endearment (1Co 4:14–15; 1Th 2:11–12). anguish of childbirth … Christ is formed in you! Paul is like a mother in travail, but he does not labor to bring forth children in his own likeness—Paul has no use for Paulinists (cf 1Co 1:12–13). The Gospel he speaks is to bring forth Christians, men and women in whom Christ is formed, in whom Christ lives. Cf 2:20; 2Co 4:16; Eph 4:24; Col 3:10.
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:20 my tone. Lit, "voice."
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:8–20 Paul appeals to the Galatians as a pastor with affection and tenderness, genuinely desiring to restore their friendship and especially the freedom in Christ they once so gladly embraced. Tragically, enemies of the Gospel continue to camouflage their dishonorable intentions as they seek to draw people away from Christ. When pastors proclaim the Gospel, Christ Himself is inviting all to return to Him for forgiveness and renewal of faith. • Heavenly Father, I pray for all ministers of the Word and the blessings they bring. Through them, open our eyes to the truth. Amen.
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:21 under the law … listen to the law? The first usage refers to law as a state of enslavement (3:23; see note, 3:10) under Moses' Commandments, and requiring liberation (4:5; cf 5:18). The second usage designates the Books of Moses or Scripture in general, since what follows is based on the history in Gn 16–21.
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:22–23 The false teachers and Paul related the same biblical story but probably with sharply different interpretations. The story: Unable to bear children, Abraham's wife, Sarah, gave Abraham a son, Ishmael, through her Egyptian slave Hagar (Gn 16:1–16; 17:18). Years later and past their childbearing years, Abraham (age 100) and Sarah (90) received God's promise that Sarah would bear a son, whom they named Isaac. The interpretation: The teachers likely argued that the uncircumcised Gentiles corresponded to Ishmael and were illegitimate sons, not true descendants of Abraham. Paul, conversely, declared that uncircumcised Gentile believers corresponded to Isaac, the son of the promise. Paul contrasts the births of Abraham's two sons according to the status of their mothers. Ishmael's mother was Hagar, the slave woman; Isaac's mother was Sarah, the free woman (Gn 16:15; 21:2–3). The apostle then contrasts the way the sons were born, Ishmael by natural birth and Isaac naturally but through God's promise (Gn 17:19; 18:10).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:24 allegorically. An adverb occurring only here in Gk Bible, used of an analogy or likeness that stands for something different (see "corresponds to" in v 25).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:25 Mount Sinai in Arabia. See map, p 120.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:26 Jerusalem above. The spiritual Jerusalem, the Church. See "Zion," p 844. Luth: "The church, believers scattered throughout the world, who have the same Gospel, the same faith in Christ, the same Holy Spirit, and the same sacraments" (AE 26:439). Cf Php 3:20; Heb 12:22–24. See also Ap VII and VIII 10. our mother. "[The Christian Church] is the mother that conceives and bears every Christian through God's Word" (LC II 42).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:27 These words of Isaiah recalled the miraculous blessing of once-barren Sarah to comfort Israel exiled in Babylon (a "barren" condition) with the hope of restoration and increase of children (cf Is 49:6; 51:4–5).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:28 Now you. Emphatic in Gk. of promise. Paul applies the allegory to the Galatians who, like Isaac, are children of promise (cf 3:8, 14).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:29 persecuted … now. Jewish tradition interpreted Ishmael's conduct as hostile against Isaac (e.g., that Ishmael shot arrows at Isaac; cf Gn 16:12). persecuted him who was born according to the Spirit. Cf 3:4; 4:6. The Judaizers pressured the Galatians to undergo circumcision.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:30 Cast out. The Galatians must exercise discipline, because a religion of bondage cannot coexist with the Gospel of freedom.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:31 Cf 3:29. Summary of vv 22–30.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 4:21–31 Paul reverses the Judaizers' definition of Abraham's true children. The uncircumcised Gentile Christians are Sarah's children (and thus free), not Hagar's (slaves). Legalism (v 21) imagines that a saving relationship with God depends on certain rules and regulations. The Christian religion sets people free, giving birth to heirs of eternal life in Christ. • We rejoice, O Lord, that through faith we are already members of Your heavenly kingdom. Lead us to share our joy by sharing the promise in Jesus. Amen.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON Ch 5 "By the Word [the Spirit] works and promotes sanctification, causing this congregation daily to grow and to become strong in the faith and its fruit, which He produces" (LC II 53).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:1 freedom. Freedom of conscience because of Christ's forgiveness. See note, 2:4. stand firm. "Hold your ground." a yoke. Figurative of a burden. "Ordinances instituted as though they are necessary, or with the view that they merit grace, are contrary to the Gospel" (AC XXVIII 50; see FC Ep X 6).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:2 accept circumcision. Lit, "have oneself circumcised." Paul, for the first time in the Letter, brings into the open the specific issue confronting the Galatians (cf 2:3; 6:12–13). Christ will be of no advantage to you. The principle set forth in 2:21 (see note). Acquiescing to the Judaizers' demands renders Christ useless.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:3 obligated to keep the whole law. Submission to circumcision and thus in principle to the Law for salvation, necessitates keeping all the Law's precepts (3:10–14). whole. See note, v 14.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:4 severed from Christ. Estranged from Christ. The same Gk term is used in 3:17 ("make … void") and 5:11 ("removed"). fallen away from grace. Jettison the "Christ alone" principle and you also throw out "grace alone," the only means by which sinners can stand before God (cf 1:6; Rm 5:2; 1Pt 5:12). "Outside of this Christian Church, where the Gospel is not found, there is no forgiveness, as also there can be no holiness" (LC II 56).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:5 wait. Believers await the full realization in heaven of the present gift of justification (Rm 5:1–2; cf 1Co 1:7–8; Php 3:20–21).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:6 Circumcised or not, one's physical condition has no impact on one's relationship to God. It is irrelevant. working. Gk energeo, in the active sense. Luth: "Faith … is a divine work in us which changes us and makes us to be born anew of God. … O it is a living, busy, active, mighty thing, this faith. It is impossible for it not to be doing good incessantly" (AE 35:370). "Love ought to follow faith" (Ap IV 111).
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:7 running well. Athletic metaphor of running a race, like a runner striding smoothly forward (cf 1Co 9:24–27; Php 3:14). Who hindered you. Lit, "cut in front of," to break a runner's stride and impede progress. The Judaizers in effect tripped the Galatians.
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:8 The false teachers' rhetoric urging circumcision, however persuasive, did not originate with God.
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:9 This metaphor shows the insidiously corrupting power of a seemingly small error. Cf 1Co 5:6, where this proverbial saying is applied also to moral failure. Luth: "In theology a tiny error overthrows the whole teaching" (AE 27:37).
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:10 the one who is troubling you … whoever he is. Spoken rhetorically, though Paul likely has a particular Judaizer in mind.
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:11 still preach circumcision. Opponents may have accused Paul of inconsistency, perhaps because he did circumcise Timothy (Ac 16:3; cf 1Co 9:20). why … persecuted? Paul countered that the Jews' continued harassment proved that he did not require circumcision of converts. offense. Gk skandalon, "what arouses ridicule and opposition" ("stumbling block"). The cross offends human pride, which seeks to be justified by the Law. The cross knocks the props out from under all religious systems advocating salvation by human merit (3:10–13; 6:14).
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:12 those. Advocates of circumcision. emasculate. Some see an allusion to the cult of Cybele, which originated in Pessinus in Galatia. Devotees of the goddess practiced sacred castration. In Php 3:2, Paul called circumcision a mutilation. Paul's blunt language revealed the emotional intensity of his disgust.
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:13 freedom. See notes, 2:4; 5:1. opportunity. Lit, a base of operations, as in military contexts. Freedom in Christ ought not become a basis for pandering to the desires of the fallen human nature.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:14 whole. Translated as in v 3, but the Gk terms have slightly different focuses. In v 3, "whole" defines Law as a total of individual precepts. Here in v 14, "whole" describes Law as a unit, with emphasis on its spirit or intention. Love for the neighbor encapsulates its very essence.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:15 bite and devour. A vicious dogfight to the death, animals snapping at one another with bared fangs, portrays the ugliness of bitter partisan strife in the congregation.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:1–15 . Paul specifically argues that the acceptance of circumcision in principle violates Christian freedom and endangers a person's relationship to Christ. Congregational strife often arises when issues in the area of Christian freedom are elevated to the level of biblical doctrine. Christ Jesus loved us to the end so that He might lift the burden of guilt that troubles our consciences. • Lord, as we eagerly await Your coming, free us from pettiness and self-indulgence so that we may love one another. Amen.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:16 walk. See p 1904. flesh. See p 1902.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:17 opposed to each other. From the moment believers receive the Holy Spirit at Baptism, a lifelong struggle with the old Adam begins (see FC SD VI 7).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:18 led by the Spirit. Led not by coercion but by a gentle and loving grasp, as when a child puts her hand into the hand of a beloved and trusted father. under the law. Instead of controlling the flesh, the Law increases sin (Rm 5; 8). See p 1911.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:19 Paul's list of the flesh's deeds begins with three descriptions of sexual sin, signaling their prominence in society. works. The same term as in "works of the Law" (2:16; 3:2, 5, 10).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:20–21 enmity … envy. Of the 15 sins listed in vv 19–21, eight share a common feature: they are behaviors that disrupt Christian fellowship.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:21 things like these. Not an exhaustive list. warned you before. Paul repeats this teaching from catechesis or an earlier Letter. not inherit. Cf 1Co 6:9–10; Eph 5:5. Reveals the purpose of the list in vv 19–21. Persons engaged in such a pattern of behavior reap eternal consequences (exclusion from God's heavenly kingdom). "Those who walk according to the flesh [Galatians 5:19–21] retain neither faith nor righteousness" (Ap V 227).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:22 fruit. Gk karpos. The harvest of a life produced and guided by the one Holy Spirit is like a cluster (singular) of grapes—in contrast to dissentious deeds (plural) of the self-indulgent life.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:23 there is no law. Rhetorical understatement; the fruit of the Spirit goes far beyond the Law's requirements. "Faith must be the mother and source of works that are truly good and well pleasing to God, which God will reward in this world and in the world to come" (FC SD IV 9).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:24 crucified the flesh. The Galatians participate in Christ's crucifixion when baptized (note past tense of "crucified"). Cf Rm 6:3–4, 10–11. Baptism entails a daily crucifixion (putting to death; cf Col 3:5) of the flesh. Luth: "The Old Adam in us should by daily contrition and repentance be drowned and die with all sins and evil desires" (SC, Baptism, pp xxxix–xl; see also FC SD IV 19).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:25 live by … walk by. The Spirit is the source as well as guide of our spiritual life. walk. Lit, "be in line with" or "keep in step with" (the leading of the Spirit; cf 3:2; 4:6–7). See p 1904.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:26 conceited. Perhaps the Galatians had been parading their observance of the Law to show their superiority over others (thus also provoking envy).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 5:16–26 Christian freedom means walking, conducting oneself, by the Holy Spirit's power and leading. Our sinful flesh, consumed by self-importance, instinctively looks down on others and inevitably causes interpersonal tensions. At Baptism, we were united with Christ, who died to set us free from sin and the way of the Law. • O Holy Spirit, give us daily victories over sin in our personal life and, above all, the power to love one another. Amen.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:1 spiritual. Gk pneumatikos, possibly congregational leaders. See note, 1 Co 12:1. However, all Christians have the Spirit (cf 3:2–5, 14; 4:6), not just a select or elite few. They follow the Spirit's leading by gently and humbly caring for the one who lapses into some sin. restore. "To put back into former condition" (e.g., fishing nets, Mt 4:21; Mk 1:19). "Even though we have sins, the 'grace of the' Holy Spirit does not allow them to harm us. For we are in the Christian Church, where there is nothing but 'continuous, uninterrupted' forgiveness of sin" (LC II 55).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:2 burdens. Specifically, loads that temptations and sin bring upon fellow Christians (v 1) but, in principle, all burdens. See note, v 5. law of Christ. Love (Lv 19:18; cf Jn 15:12), fulfilled through Christ's sacrificial death (1:4; 2:20). Christians "through love serve one another" (5:13) as Christ served them. Significantly, love heads the list of the Spirit's fruit (5:22).
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:3 Our opinion of ourselves shapes our conduct toward others (cf Lk 18:9, 11; 2Co 10:12). Those thinking they have fewer faults than others tend not to sympathize with others' shortcomings.
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:4 Chrys: "This he says … in the way of concession. … He that is wont to boast with reference to himself only, and not against others, will soon reform this failing [of self boasting] also" (NPNF 1 13:44).
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:5 Not contradictory to v 2, but complementary. Different Gk terms are used. Those who accept personal accountability for their own actions before God (bearing their own "load," Gk phortion) are more willing to bear others' burdens (v 2, "burden," Gk baros).
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:6 teaches. See p 1904.
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:7 Humans cannot turn up their noses at God and expect to get by with it. The immutable law built into creation, illustrated by sowing and reaping, is that actions have consequences (cf Pr 22:8).
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:8 corruption. The sinful nature's work. Cf 5:19–21. sows to the Spirit. Living under the Holy Spirit's power and direction (5:5, 18, 25). reap eternal life. Cf Rm 8:13.
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:9 Christians must not become discouraged when they do not see immediate or observable results from their well-doing (a lesson learned from farmers who must wait patiently). Cf Lk 18:1; 2Co 4:1; Eph 3:13.
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:10 Inspired by God's generosity. Chrys: "The rule of life which Grace gives invited both land and sea to the [table] of charity, only it shows greater care for its own household" (NPNF 1 13:45). "Help them and promote their interest—in every way and wherever you can—purely out of love for God and to please Him. Do this in the confidence that He will abundantly reward you for everything" (LC I 328).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:1–10 Members of God's family restore the erring, bear one another's burdens, support their teachers, and do good to all —especially to fellow Christians. An attitude of moral superiority closes the heart against the brother or sister in need (cf 1 Jn 3:17). The Son of God "loved me and gave Himself for me" (2:20), that I may be free to serve Him and my neighbor in need. • Teach me to be patient with others, Lord, so I may not grow tired of doing good. Restore me with unfailing mercy. Amen.
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:11 large letters. Paul wrote the conclusion for two reasons: to authenticate the Letter (cf 2Th 3:17) and to emphasize its main points. with my own hand. Paul customarily used scribes when composing his Letters, but added a personal postscript (cf Rm 16:22; Col 4:18). See pp 1899–1901.
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:12 persecuted. If the Judaizers actually would preach the cross of Christ (i.e., the Gospel) like Paul and drop insistence on circumcision, they would incur the wrath of non-Christian Jews. By compelling circumcision, they deleted "Christ alone" from their message and thus assuaged hard-line Jewish critics.
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:13 boast in your flesh. To enhance their own standing in Jewish eyes, the circumcision party hypocritically bragged about their success in getting Gentile converts to accept circumcision (cf Ti 1:10–11).
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:14 boast … in the cross. A sharp paradox to v 13 and, in the first-century context, the height of foolishness and even madness (1Co 1:18). The cross symbolized a cruel, vulgar, shameful, and humiliating death reserved for slaves and criminals. Compressed in "cross" is the powerful message of salvation through Christ's death. crucified to me. "Although believers are regenerate and renewed in the spirit of their mind, in the present life this regeneration and renewal is not complete. It is only begun. Believers … struggle constantly against the corrupt nature and character, which cleaves to us until death" (FC Ep VI 4). See note, Rm 7:15–20.
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:15 but a new creation. This whole new order of existence inaugurated through Jesus' atoning death is a radical contrast to a world in which circumcision had religious significance. Those in Christ are already "a new creation" (2Co 5:17; cf Is 65:17; Rm 8:19–22).
GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:16 walk. See note, 5:25. this rule. Standard or principle, i.e., the one just mentioned: the cross and the new creation. Israel of God. All believers in Christ, both Jew and Gentile; the new Israel (cf v 10, "household of faith"). Paul has argued forcefully that Gentiles are children of Abraham, heirs of the promise (3:6–9, 21; 4:28–31).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:17 marks of Jesus. Wounds and scars Paul received in the service of Jesus (Ac 14:19; 2Co 11:23–25). As a true apostle, Paul identified himself with the suffering Savior (cf 2Co 4:8–10; Php 3:10).

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:18 with your spirit. Not the Holy Spirit, but simply an expression meaning "with you." See "be with," p 5. brothers. The last word of the Epistle is this kind greeting. Amen. See p 1901.

GALATIANS—NOTE ON 6:11–18 In a handwritten postscript, Paul leaves us with an interpretive lens through which to evaluate all Christian teaching and life: the message of the cross. Against all self-righteous pride in spiritual accomplishments, the cross speaks a word of judgment. Yet to those who believe, the cross is God's power to make all things new. • Lord, in Baptism, You put my old nature to death. By Your grace, dear Lord Jesus, continue to renew me. I already am a new creation in You. Amen.

Ephesians

Ephesians 1 | Ephesians 2 | Ephesians 3 | Ephesians 4 | Ephesians 5 | Ephesians 6

- Introduction to Ephesians
  - Overview
  - Reading Ephesians
  - Setting
  - Central Issue
  - Luther on Ephesians
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Greeting

1 [1] † Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God,

To the saints who are in Ephesus, and are faithful[1] in Christ Jesus:

[2] † Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Spiritual Blessings in Christ

3 ‡ ‡ ‡ Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us in Christ with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly places, 4 † even as he chose us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and blameless before him. In love 5 † he predestined us[2] for adoption as sons through Jesus Christ, according to the purpose of his will, 6 † to the praise of his glorious grace, with which he has blessed us in the Beloved. 7 † In him we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of our trespasses, according to the riches of his grace, 8 †which he lavished upon us, in all wisdom and insight 9 † making known[3] to us the mystery of his will, according to his purpose, which he set forth in Christ 10 †as a plan for the fullness of time, to unite all things in him, things in heaven and things on earth.

11 † In him we have obtained an inheritance, having been predestined according to the purpose of him who works all things according to the counsel of his will, 12 †so that we who were the first to hope in Christ might be to the praise of his glory. 13 †In him you also, when you heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation, and believed in him, were sealed with the promised Holy Spirit, 14 †who is the guarantee[1] of our inheritance until we acquire possession of it,[2] to the praise of his glory.

Thanksgiving and Prayer

15 ‡ † For this reason, because I have heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus and your love[3] toward all the saints, 16 † I do not cease to give thanks for you, remembering you in my prayers, 17 † that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give you a spirit of wisdom and of revelation in the knowledge of him, 18 † having the eyes of your hearts enlightened, that you may know what is the hope to which he has called you, what are the riches of his glorious inheritance in the saints, 19 † and what is the immeasurable greatness of his power toward us who believe, according to the working of his great might 20 † that he worked in Christ when he raised him from the dead and seated him at his right hand in the heavenly places, 21 † far above all rule and authority and power and dominion, and above every name that is named, not only in this age but also in the one to come. 22 † And he put all things under his feet and gave him as head over all things to the church, 23 † which is his body, the fullness of him who fills all in all.

By Grace Through Faith

2 [1]‡†And you were dead in the trespasses and sins [2]† in which you once walked, following the course of this world, following the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that is now at work in the sons of disobedience— [3]†among whom we all once lived in the passions of our flesh, carrying out the desires of the body[1] and the mind, and were by nature children of wrath, like the rest of mankind. [4]‡But[2] God, being rich in mercy, because of the great love with which he loved us, [5]†even when we were dead in our trespasses, made us alive together with Christ—by grace you have been saved— [6]†and raised us up with him and seated us with him in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, [7]† so that in the coming ages he might show the immeasurable riches of his grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus. [8]‡For by grace you have been saved through faith. And this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God, [9] not a result of works, so that no one may boast. [10]† For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand, that we should walk in them.

One in Christ

11 Therefore remember that at one time you Gentiles in the flesh, called “the uncircumcision” by what is called the circumcision, which is made in the flesh by hands— 12 remember that you were at that time separated from Christ, alienated from the commonwealth of Israel and strangers to the covenants of promise, having no hope and without God in the world. 13 But now in Christ Jesus you who once were far off have been brought near by the blood of Christ. 14 For he himself is our peace, who has made us both one and has broken down in his flesh the dividing wall of hostility 15 by abolishing the law of commandments expressed in ordinances, that he might create in himself one new man in place of the two, so making peace, 16 and might reconcile us both to God in one body through the cross, thereby killing the hostility. 17 And he came and preached peace to you who were far off and peace to those who were near.
18 For through him we both have access in one Spirit to the Father. 19 So then you are no longer strangers and aliens,[1] but you are fellow citizens with the saints and members of the household of God, 20 built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Christ Jesus himself being the cornerstone, 21 in whom the whole structure, being joined together, grows into a holy temple in the Lord. 22 In him you also are being built together into a dwelling place for God by[2] the Spirit.

The Mystery of the Gospel Revealed

3 [1]‡‡†For this reason I, Paul, a prisoner for Christ Jesus on behalf of you Gentiles— [2]†assuming that you have heard of the stewardship of God's grace that was given to me for you, [3]† how the mystery was made known to me by revelation, as I have written briefly. [4]† When you read this, you can perceive my insight into the mystery of Christ, [5]† which was not made known to the sons of men in other generations as it has now been revealed to his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit. [6]†This mystery is[1] that the Gentiles are fellow heirs, members of the same body, and partakers of the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel.

[7]† Of this gospel I was made a minister according to the gift of God's grace, which was given me by the working of his power. [8]†To me, though I am the very least of all the saints, this grace was given, to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, [9]† and to bring to light for everyone what is the plan of the mystery hidden for ages in[2] God who created all things, [10]† so that through the church the manifold wisdom of God might now be made known to the rulers and authorities in the heavenly places. [11]†This was according to the eternal purpose that he has realized in Christ Jesus our Lord, [12]† in whom we have boldness and access with confidence through our faith in him. [13]†So I ask you not to lose heart over what I am suffering for you, which is your glory.

Prayer for Spiritual Strength

14 For this reason I bow my knees before the Father, 15 from whom every family[3] in heaven and on earth is named, 16 that according to the riches of his glory he may grant you to be strengthened with power through his Spirit in your inner being, 17 so that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith —that you, being rooted and grounded in love, 18 may have strength to comprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and height and depth, 19 and to know the love of Christ that surpasses knowledge, that you may be filled with all the fullness of God.

20 Now to him who is able to do far more abundantly than all that we ask or think, according to the power at work within us, 21 to him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus throughout all generations, forever and ever.
Amen.

Unity in the Body of Christ

4 [1]I therefore, a prisoner for the Lord, urge you to walk in a manner worthy of the calling to which you have been called, [2]with all humility and gentleness, with patience, bearing with one another in love, [3]eager to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. [4]There is one body and one Spirit—just as you were called to the one hope that belongs to your call— [5]one Lord, one faith, one baptism, [6]one God and Father of all, who is over all and through all and in all. [7]But grace was given to each one of us according to the measure of Christ's gift. [8]Therefore it says,

> "When he ascended on high he led a host of > captives,
> and he gave gifts to men."

[9](In saying, "He ascended," what does it mean but that he had also descended into the lower regions, the earth?[1] [10]He who descended is the one who also ascended far above all the heavens, that he might fill all things.) [11]And he gave the apostles, the prophets, the evangelists, the shepherds[2] and teachers,[3] [12]to equip the saints for the work of ministry, for building up the body of Christ, [13]until we all attain to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to mature manhood,[4] to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ, [14]so that we may no longer be children, tossed to and fro by the waves and carried about by every wind of doctrine, by human cunning, by craftiness in deceitful schemes.
[15]Rather, speaking the truth in love, we are to grow up in every way into him who is the head, into Christ, [16]from whom the whole body, joined and held together by every joint with which it is equipped, when each part is working properly, makes the body grow so that it builds itself up in love.

The New Life

17 ††Now this I say and testify in the Lord, that you must no longer walk as the Gentiles do, in the futility of their minds. 18 †They are darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, due to their hardness of heart. 19They have become callous and have given themselves up to sensuality, greedy to practice every kind of impurity. 20 †But that is not the way you learned Christ!— 21assuming that you have heard about him and were taught in him, as the truth is in Jesus, 22 †to put off your old self,[1] which belongs to your former manner of life and is corrupt through deceitful desires, 23and to be renewed in the spirit of your minds, 24and to put on the new self, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness.

25 †Therefore, having put away falsehood, let each one of you speak the truth with his neighbor, for we are members one of another. 26 † Be angry and do not sin; do not let the sun go down on your anger, 27 †and give no opportunity to the devil. 28 †Let the thief no longer steal, but rather let him labor, doing honest work with his own hands, so that he may have something to share with anyone in need. 29 † Let no corrupting talk come out of your mouths, but only such as is good for building up, as fits the occasion, that it may give grace to those who hear. 30 †And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, by whom you were sealed for the day of redemption. 31 †
Let all bitterness and wrath and anger and clamor and slander be put away from you, along with all malice. 32 Be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, as God in Christ forgave you.

Walk in Love

5 [1]‡†Therefore be imitators of God, as beloved children. [2]†And walk in love, as Christ loved us and gave himself up for us, a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God.

[3]‡†But sexual immorality and all impurity or covetousness must not even be named among you, as is proper among saints. [4]†Let there be no filthiness nor foolish talk nor crude joking, which are out of place, but instead let there be thanksgiving. [5]†For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. [6]† Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. [7]†Therefore do not become partners with them; [8]†for at one time you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light [9]†(for the fruit of light is found in all that is good and right and true), [10]†and try to discern what is pleasing to the Lord. [11]† Take no part in the unfruitful works of darkness, but instead expose them. [12]†For it is shameful even to speak of the things that they do in secret. [13]‡But when anything is exposed by the light, it becomes visible, [14]for anything that becomes visible is light. Therefore it says, > “Awake, O sleeper, > and arise from the dead,

> and Christ will shine on you.”

[15]† Look carefully then how you walk, not as unwise but as wise, [16]† making the best use of the time, because the days are evil. [17]†Therefore do not be foolish, but understand what the will of the Lord is. [18]†And do not get drunk with wine, for that is debauchery, but be filled with the Spirit, [19]†addressing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody to the Lord with your heart, [20]† giving thanks always and for everything to God the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, [21]† submitting to one another out of reverence for Christ.

Wives and Husbands

22 ‡ ‡ † Wives, submit to your own husbands, as to the Lord. 23 † For the husband is the head of the wife even as Christ is the head of the church, his body, and is himself its Savior. 24 † Now as the church submits to Christ, so also wives should submit in everything to their husbands.

25 † Husbands, love your wives, as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her, 26 † that he might sanctify her, having cleansed her by the washing of water with the word, 27 † so that he might present the church to himself in splendor, without spot or wrinkle or any such thing, that she might be holy and without blemish.[1] 28 † In the same way husbands should love their wives as their own bodies. He who loves his wife loves himself.
29 † For no one ever hated his own flesh, but nourishes and cherishes it, just as Christ does the church, 30 † because we are members of his body. 31 ‡ “Therefore a man shall leave his father and mother and hold fast to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh.” 32 This mystery is profound, and I am saying that it refers to Christ and the church. 33 † However, let each one of you love his wife as himself, and let the wife see that she respects her husband.

Children and Parents

6 [1] ‡ † Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right. [2] † “Honor your father and mother” (this is the first commandment with a promise), [3] † “that it may go well with you and that you may live long in the land.” [4] † Fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the Lord.

Slaves and Masters

5 † Slaves,[2] obey your earthly masters[3] with fear and trembling, with a sincere heart, as you would Christ, 6 † not by the way of eye-service, as people-pleasers, but as servants[1] of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart, 7 rendering service with a good will as to the Lord and not to man, 8 † knowing that whatever good anyone does, this he will receive back from the Lord, whether he is a slave or free. 9 † Masters, do the same to them, and stop your threatening, knowing that he who is both their Master[2] and yours is in heaven, and that there is no partiality with him.

The Whole Armor of God

10 ‡ ‡ † Finally, be strong in the Lord and in the strength of his might. 11 † Put on the whole armor of God, that you may be able to stand against the schemes of the devil. 12 † For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the cosmic powers over this present darkness, against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly places. 13 † Therefore take up the whole armor of God, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand firm. 14 † Stand therefore, having fastened on the belt of truth, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness, 15 † and, as shoes for your feet, having put on the readiness given by the gospel of peace. 16 † In all circumstances take up the shield of faith, with which you can extinguish all the flaming darts of the evil one; 17 † and take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God, 18 † praying at all times in the Spirit, with all prayer and supplication. To that end keep alert with all perseverance, making supplication for all the saints, 19 † and also for me, that words may be given to me in opening my mouth boldly to proclaim the mystery of the gospel, 20 † for which I am an ambassador in chains, that I may declare it boldly, as I ought to speak.

Final Greetings

21 †† So that you also may know how I am and what I am doing, Tychicus the beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord will tell you everything. 22 †I have sent him to you for this very purpose, that you may know how we are, and that he may encourage your hearts.

23 † Peace be to the brothers,[1] and love with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. 24 †Grace be with all who love our Lord Jesus Christ with love incorruptible.

Ephesians

Overview

Author
Paul the apostle

Date
c AD 60

Places
Ephesus; Rome (from which Paul wrote)

People
Paul; Tychicus; “saints” and “brothers” at Ephesus

Purpose
Paul demonstrates that Baptism unites all Christians

Law Themes
Rivalry between believers; grieving the Spirit through unfaithfulness; marital unfaithfulness; spiritual warfare

Gospel Themes
Baptism; election by God’s grace; justification by grace alone; the mystery of Christ revealed; unity in Christ’s Body

Memory Verses
Election in Christ (1:3–10); saved by grace (2:8–10); unity through service (4:11–16); Bridegroom and Bride (5:22–33)

Introduction to Ephesians

Reading Ephesians

At an early Christian Baptism, cool water would stream down people's heads and necks when they stepped away from the font. As they shivered through the baptismal prayers, droplets would fall from the tresses of their hair and land in puddles at their feet. The droplets would draw circles on the puddles' surfaces as the water slowly rolled across the floor, uniting with other droplets and puddles. Though the people baptized were different—and even from different ethnicities, ages, and social levels—the water and the Word of Baptism united them to share new life, sealing, enlightening, and washing in Christ.

At their Baptism, the Ephesians became something more than cold and damp. Baptism unites believers into one Body as easily as water meets and merges on a floor. Paul's Letter to the Ephesians shows that Baptism united Jews and Gentiles, leaders and followers, and all believers across all generations.

Setting

Ephesus was well situated as a trade center, with its harbor, access to the Cayster River, and location close to the Maeander Valley. It was a free city, famous for its temple to the Greek goddess Artemis and also for its thriving Jewish population, which enjoyed considerable privilege (see Ant 14:223–30). See map, p 1886.

Central Issue

According to Ac 18–20, Paul spent nearly three years with the Ephesian congregation, more time than with any other mission congregation he served. He first visited a group of disciples at Ephesus during his third missionary journey (AD 52–55).

The depth of his relationship with the Ephesians shows through in the theological depth of this Pastoral Letter and its liturgical character. The key problem Paul addresses is division between the congregation's Jewish and Gentile members. His opening prayer, written in the traditional Jewish Berakah pattern (see note, 1:3–14), addresses the issue of unity and thanks God for His answer in Christ. Paul returns to the themes of unity, Baptism, and prayer repeatedly in the Letter (see Luther and the outline below).

After Paul wrote Ephesians in c AD 60, he sent Timothy to Ephesus as a leader because false doctrine afflicted the congregation (1Tm 1:3). It eventually became a leading church in Asia Minor (Rv 2:1–7). According to the early Christian historian Eusebius, the apostle John settled in Ephesus for his final years of ministry (NPNF 2 1:132).

Luther on Ephesians

In this epistle St. Paul teaches, first, what the gospel is, how it was predestined by God alone in eternity, and earned and sent forth through Christ, so that all who believe on it become righteous, godly, living, saved men, and free from the law, sin, and death. This he does in the first three chapters.

Then he teaches that false teachings and the commandments of men are to be avoided, so that we may remain true to one Head, and become sure and genuine and complete in Christ alone. For in him we have everything, so that we need nothing beside him. This he does in chapter 4.

Then he goes on to teach that we are to practice and prove our faith with good works, avoid sin, and fight with spiritual weapons against the devil, so that through the cross we may be steadfast in hope. (AE 35:385)

Challenges for Readers

Authorship. Though the early Christians uniformly believed that Paul wrote this Letter, critics have assumed that a disciple of Paul wrote it. They see significant differences from Paul's other Letters in the style of the sentences, some unique terms and expressions, and the Letter's general character, though all agree that this Letter bears great similarity to Colossians. They reject any relationship between the Ephesian congregation described in Ac 19–20 and the view of the church in the letter to the Ephesians. However, readers should note that the Ephesians had issues with the doctrine of Baptism (cf Ac 19), and Paul shows great concern for strengthening leadership at Ephesus (cf Ac 20). These are key themes in the Letter, pointing to Paul's authorship.

Address. Some early manuscripts and Church Fathers did not have copies of the Letter addressed specifically to the congregation "in Ephesus" (1:1). Critics have seen this as further evidence that Paul did not write it. However, early Christian letters were often copied to various congregations, which may explain why some copies lack the reference to Ephesus. See pp 1899–1901.

Date of Composition. Critics commonly date this letter to the last generation of the first century rather than the middle of the first century (cf "Authorship" above). However, the Letter was always included in the collection of Pauline Epistles.

Blessings for Readers

Ephesians beautifully describes the important truths of the Christian faith that St Paul so eloquently em-phasizes. The first chapter sees the entire Christian life in view of God's choosing His people in Christ. These words, rightly applied, offer incredible comfort in the midst of suffering and doubt. Likewise, no other place in the NT describes the relationship between grace, faith, and good works (justification and sanctification) quite so clearly as Eph 2. The entire Letter leads us to treasure our Baptism into Christ and into His Church, where a new way of life prevails.

As you study Ephesians, the Lord will equip you for victory over temptation and strife, over sin and Satan, so that you may serve Him and His people in all unity and joy. Read Ephesians as God's plan for your family, your pastor, and your congregation as you serve together according to God's eternal purposes.

OUTLINE

I. Salutation (1:1–2)
II. Prologue on Unity (1:3–23)
  A. Prayer (1:3–14)
  B. Thanksgiving (1:15–23)
III. Proofs for Unity (chs 2–3)
  A. New Creation by Grace Alone (2:1–10)
  B. Gentiles and Israel (2:11–22)
  C. Paul's Apostolic Mandate to the Gentiles (3:1–13)
  D. Prayer and Doxology (3:14–21)
IV. Baptism Unites (4:1–5:20)
  A. Baptism into One Body (4:1–16)
  B. Baptism Clothes the Believer (4:17–32)
  C. Baptism Directs the Believer's Walk (5:1–14)
  D. The Liturgy of the Spirit (5:15–20)
V. Baptism Reorders Relationships (5:21–6:9)
  A. Husband and Wife (5:22–33)
  B. Parents and Children (6:1–4)

C. Masters and Servants (6:5–9)

VI. Baptism Equips with Armor (6:10–17)

VII. Conclusion (6:18–24)

A. Exhortation (6:18–20)

B. Commendation to Letter-Bearer (6:21–22)

C. Final Greeting and Blessing (6:23–24)

- Saving Faith
- The Unity of the Church
- Law and Gospel Parenting

Saving Faith

To understand what faith is and how it works, consider the following chart and the analogy of a person drowning in a vast ocean.

The Unity of the Church

The unity of the church is given by God and not an achievement of human beings. In this sense, it is not wrong to say that the unity of the church is a sacramental unity, created by the Holy Spirit through the washing of God's Word (Eph 5:26, a clear reference to baptism). As the Psalmist writes, "Know that the LORD, he is God! It is he who made us, and we are his; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture" (Ps 100:3). The church as God's creation is affirmed in 1 Peter: "Once you were not a people, but now you are God's people; once you had not received mercy, but now you have received mercy" (1 Pet 2:10).

This unity is a unity of faith; that is, faith in an object, namely Jesus Christ. The faith one professes is in agreement with the entire Christian church, as urged by the Apostle Paul in 1 Corinthians 1:10; "I appeal to you, brothers … that there be no divisions among you, but that you be united in the same mind and the same judgment." [Ap VII/VIII 8] …

Christ joins his people, his children (John 11:52), together into one body, even his own body (Eph 1:23; 1 Cor 12:12–31). We are told in no uncertain terms that, as one body "[if] one member suffers, all suffer together" (1 Cor 12:26). To this body is given a multitude of gifts that are to be shared (1 Cor 12:27–31). Among these gifts is the gift of the pastoral office which is given to ensure that the gospel is purely proclaimed among God's people. [AC V 1–2] …

What should first be noted is that since Christian unity is a gift of God, we recognize it and do not create it. … The basis of the church is faith in Christ, a faith that comes to us as a gift and recognizes the voice of the shepherd that comes to us through his word [SA III XII 2].

Walter Obare Omwanza, "Choose Life!" CTQ 69:3/4 (July/Oct 2005), 311–12.

Law and Gospel Parenting

The joy of parenting brings with it many fears and questions. Each generation seems to face ever-increasing challenges for raising children in a world distorted by sin. Books on parenting offer a variety of how-tos on the subject. But one almost needs a how-to book to choose the right how-to book, some of which are nearly one thousand pages long! Isn't there something simpler?

At the risk of oversimplifying a complex issue—yes! There is something simpler. The best way for a Christian to parent a child is to remember that he or she is a child: God's child. The Fatherhood of God and His Law-and-Gospel ways with His children will motivate and guide them to be better parents.

Children of God

"See what kind of love the Father has given to us, that we should be called children of God; and so we are" (1Jn 3:1). Parenting begins with parents remembering that they live in God's kingdom ruled by God's lavish love in Christ. The Gospel is the basis for parenting, not some how-to book with a list of rules. God's undeserved love in Christ reminds parents that having a child is not a right but a blessing. Parents do not merely produce children (as an industry produces a product). They are entrusted with a child as a gift from God. All parenting flows from this gift of the heavenly Father.

The Gospel also becomes the goal of parenting. Parents can feel proud of their children's accomplishments in sports or academics. The ultimate goal is to bring their children to Jesus and have the Gospel become the basis of their life. "Fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the Lord" (Eph 6:4). Christian parents bring their children to Jesus in the waters of Holy Baptism. They bring their children to Jesus by instructing them in God's Word and modeling the Lord's ways (Law and Gospel) in the home. The ultimate goal of Christian parents is to see their children in heaven, not the "Hall of Fame."

The Law Still Applies

Life begins at conception, and so does sinfulness (Ps 51:5). Parents need to use the Law to point out sin and curb sinful behavior. Boundaries and limits protect children and give them the security that someone is in charge. Love uses the Law to train and discipline. "This is for your own good" may not make sense to a four-year-old, and "You'll thank me when you're older" makes teenage eyes roll, yet such discipline reflects how our Father disciplines us.

My son, do not regard lightly the discipline of the Lord, nor be weary when reproved by Him. For the Lord disciplines the one He loves, and chastises every son whom He receives. … All discipline seems painful rather than pleasant, but later it yields the peaceful fruit of righteousness to those who have been trained by it. (Heb 12:5–6, 11)

Children need clear rules and consistent discipline appropriate to their sin. They need parents who follow through on the consequences. Scripture says, "[God] disciplines us for our good, that we may share His holiness" (Heb 12:10). God's ultimate goal for His children is that they would be with Him in heaven someday. God works in and through our mistakes and the unpleasant results they bring. He does so for our ultimate good. Parents are working for their child's ultimate good when they apply godly discipline.

Applying Law and Gospel as Parents

Law and Gospel help parents discern what to do in a discipline situation. One of the principles of Law and Gospel is that the Law is used with unrepentant sinners and the Gospel is used with repentant sinners. Let's take spilling milk as an example. Most of the time, spilling milk is simply an accident. No violation of rules is involved. There is no need for the accusation of the Law: "Look what you have done!" What may be needed is some loving reassurance: "It's okay. Accidents happen." On the other hand, if Joey spills the milk while attempting to throw a dinner roll at Suzie, an infraction has been committed! Then the Law is needed! Joey must be called to account for his actions. However, when Joey confesses his guilt and expresses genuine sorrow, there is no need for further accusation. There may be consequences to his actions, like apologizing to his sister and helping clean up, but the Gospel of Christ's forgiveness can now be applied.

Godly discipline comes about when Law and Gospel are rightly and faithfully applied. Encourage your children to say "I'm sorry" and "I forgive you" to one another. (Do not settle for expressions like "That's okay," "No big deal," or "Whatever.")

Back to the Basics

How-to books are not enough. Certainly consult them and also seek the counsel of experienced parents. But real help for parenting comes from understanding the Law and Gospel of God's Word. Parenting does not consist of constant screaming and yelling; nor does it avoid all conflict for the sake of peace. Return to the Gospel daily. Remember how God has lavished His love upon you and made you His child. Remember that your child is a gift from Him. Remember how He disciplines you in love. He desires, above all else, that you be with Him in heaven someday. Instruct your children in the ways of the Lord. Discipline them in love, and do not shy away from using the Law when it is needed to set limits and boundaries and to convict of wrongdoing. Be always ready and generous with the Gospel! Teach Christ's forgiveness by forgiving your children. Teach Christ's forgiveness by admitting your mistakes and asking your children to forgive you.

Finally, cling to the Gospel for your own sake. Mistakes you make in parenting, things you should not have done, things you should have done better, a child who has gone astray—none of these separate you from God's love in Christ Jesus. You are a parent, but you are also a child, a child of God. And the heavenly Father never forsakes His children.

Footnotes

Footnotes for Ephesians, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:1 Some manuscripts saints who are also faithful (omitting in Ephesus)
- [2] 1:5 Or before him in love, having predestined us
- [3] 1:9 Or he lavished upon us in all wisdom and insight, making known . . .
- [1] 1:14 Or down payment
- [2] 1:14 Or until God redeems his possession
- [3] 1:15 Some manuscripts omit your love

Footnotes for Ephesians, Chapter 2

- [1] 2:3 Greek flesh
- [2] 2:4 Or And
- [1] 2:19 Or sojourners
- [2] 2:22 Or in

Footnotes for Ephesians, Chapter 3

- [1] 3:6 The words This mystery is are inferred from verse 4
- [2] 3:9 Or by
- [3] 3:15 Or fatherhood; the Greek word patria is closely related to the word for Father in verse 14

Footnotes for Ephesians, Chapter 4

- [1] 4:9 Or the lower parts of the earth?
- [2] 4:11 Or pastors
- [3] 4:11 Or the shepherd-teachers
- [4] 4:13 Greek to a full-grown man
- [1] 4:22 Greek man; also verse 24

Footnotes for Ephesians, Chapter 5

- [1] 5:27 Or holy and blameless

Footnotes for Ephesians, Chapter 6

- [2] 6:5 Or servants; Greek bondservants; similarly verse 8
- [3] 6:5 Or your masters according to the flesh
- [1] 6:6 Or slaves; Greek bondservants
- [2] 6:9 Greek Lord
- [1] 6:23 Or brothers and sisters

Study Notes

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:1 apostle. Paul writes with the authority of one sent by Christ (Ac 26:15–18) to speak as His representative (2:19–20; 4:11; 2Co 5:20) and to preach to the Gentiles (Eph 3:7–8). saints. Lit, "holy ones," as God made them through Holy Baptism (5:26–27; 1Co 6:11). See p 1904. The term essentially equates with the term "Church" in Paul's greetings. The whole congregation was to hear the Letter read publicly.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:2 Grace … and peace. See p 1902, 1903.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:3–14 Blessed be. A prayer based on the Jewish Berakah "Blessed" pattern (Dn 2:20–23). In Hbr, the same word is used for our blessing (praising) God and His blessing us (giving us good gifts). See p 1901. Paul naturally begins this way, since he has spent three years worshiping with the Ephesians as their pastor. This trinitarian prayer invokes the blessings of the Father (Eph 1:3–6), Son (vv 7–12), and Holy Spirit (vv 13–14).
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:3 the God … of our Lord Jesus. Jesus is true God. As true man, He addressed the Father as "My God" (Mt 27:46; Jn 20:17). He taught us to pray this way and prays with us. in Christ. The key theme of Eph. See p 1903. spiritual blessing. God blesses us physically and spiritually. Here Paul likely refers to blessings given through the Holy Spirit. heavenly places. Or, "heavenly matters." A common phrase in Eph, which is concerned with the ultimate spiritual battle between God's forces and the devil's.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:4 chose us. As Israel was once God's chosen people (Dt 4:37; 14:2), the Christian Church is now chosen (Rm 9; 1Pt 2:9–10). See p 1901. "God's Word leads us to Christ, who is the Book of Life, in whom all are written and elected who are to be saved in eternity" (FC Ep XI 7). holy and blameless. Not a description of our morality as seen by the world, but our status in God's eyes. As Christ is holy and blameless, the perfect sacrifice for our sins (Heb 7:26; 9:14), we, too, are made holy and blameless by forgiveness through His blood (Eph 1:7).
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:5 predestined us. See note, v 4. adoption as sons. Cf Rm 8:23; 9:4; Gal 4:5. In the Greco-Roman world, only sons could inherit (Gal 4:7). Some men ignored their natural children and declared an adopted son as heir. To be adopted by God is to be reborn into His family, made heirs of His kingdom (Jn 1:12–13; Rm 8:16–17; 1Jn 3:1–2). This happens in Baptism, when we are all made "sons" (children, heirs) of God through His Son, Jesus (Jn 3:5; Gal 3:26–29). See p 1901.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:6 to the praise of His … grace. This refrain closes each section of the prayer, confessing that the blessings are due to God's grace, not our merit (2:8). Beloved. Describes Jesus at His Baptism (Mk 1:11; Lk 3:22) and transfiguration (Mt 17:5; Mk 9:7). Through our Baptism into Christ, we, too, are beloved of God (Eph 5:1; Col 3:12).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:7 redemption. Payment made to free a slave or captive—a common picture for salvation in the NT, evoking the exodus (Ex 15:13; Lk 1:68). See p 1904. His blood, the forgiveness of our trespasses. OT temple sacrifices are also evoked (Lv 17:11; Heb 9:14–15; 1Pt 1:18–19). See SC, Second Article, p xxxvii. Bern: "Where there is reconciliation there is remission of sins. And what is that but justification? Whether, therefore, we call it reconciliation, or remission of sins, or justification, or, again, redemption, or liberation from the chains of the devil … we have been justified freely by His [Christ's] blood" (SLSB, pp 287–88).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:8 all wisdom. Many ancient religions and philosophies, such as Gnosticism, promised special knowledge (4:14; Col 2:16–23), but Paul taught that true wisdom is found in Christ (cf Mt 13:54; 1Co 1:24, 30; Col 2:3). See pp 775–78.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:9 mystery. An astonishing revelation—the Gospel is for the Gentiles as well as the Jews (3:6). "Mystery religions" in the ancient world promised to reveal mysterious truths as adherents progressed to higher levels. For Paul, the emphasis is not on things kept hidden, but that things once hidden in God's plan are now revealed to all (3:9). Paul defines the mystery primarily as Jesus Himself (5:32; Col 1:27; 2:2–3), whom God revealed as the Messiah to the apostles and prophets (Eph 3:3–5), and whom they revealed to the world in their preaching (3:8–9; 6:19; Col 1:25–27). See note, 1Co 14:2.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:10 fullness of time. The messianic age began with Christ's incarnation, death, and resurrection (Gal 4:4; Lk 2:6; Jn 12:23). unite. Lit, "put under one head," i.e., Christ (cf v 22; 4:15; 5:23). Because Jesus is both God and man, humankind and God are reconciled in Him (2:16; 2Co 5:18–20). Because all who are baptized are "in Christ," they are also reconciled to one another, whether Jew or Gentile, male or female, slave or free (Eph 2:14; Gal 3:26–29).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:11 The prayer continues through v 14. obtained. Lit, "appointed," "allotted." an inheritance. The Israelite tribes received the Promised Land as their allotment from God; Christians receive God's kingdom, eternal life, and heaven (Mt 25:34; Col 1:12; 1Pt 1:4). As we are God's children, this can be called an inheritance (Eph 1:14, 18). See "heir," p 1902. predestined. See notes, vv 4–5. "In Him we are to seek the eternal election of the Father, who has determined in His eternal divine counsel [Ephesians 1:11–12] that He would save no one except those who know His Son Christ and truly believe in Him. Other thoughts are to be 'entirely' banished. … We know 'assuredly' that out of pure grace, without any merit of our own, we have been elected in Christ to eternal life" (FC Ep XI 13).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:12 first to hope. Paul writes as a Jewish Christian, one who received the Messiah. He insists that the Gentiles, who received Christ through his preaching (v 13), are united with the Jews in Christ (2:11–22) by their common Baptism (4:3–6). to the praise of His glory. See note, v 6.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:13 you also. Gentile Christians at Ephesus. heard the word. Faith comes by hearing (Rm 10:14–17), for the Gospel has the power to bring salvation (Rm 1:16). sealed. Baptized. A seal marked ownership. The word was used for a wax seal on a scroll (Jn 3:33; Rv 5:1–5; see note, Jer 32:10); also for a brand on an animal or a tattoo on a slave or soldier. In the OT, God sealed Cain to protect him (Gn 4:15), and circumcision sealed the Israelites as God's people (Gn 17:11; Rm 4:11; Col 2:11–12). See note, Ezk 9:4, 6. God's seal marks all those in heaven (Rv 7:2–4; 9:4). A seal leaves its image; through Baptism, the promised Spirit (Lk 24:49; Ac 2:33) makes us His dwelling (2Co 1:21–22). "Baptism and the Lord's Supper—appointed as outward signs—work as seals" (LC III 98).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:14 guarantee. Deposit or down payment; a substantial part of a purchase price paid in advance. The Holy Spirit dwells in us now as the firstfruits of God's gifts; the final "payment" is the resurrection and eternal life (Rm 8:23; 2Co 5:4–5). inheritance. See notes, vv 5, 11. to the praise of His glory. See note, v 6.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:3–14 Paul directs the Ephesians away from themselves, teaching them to trust in God's promises in Christ. Pride tempts us to trust in our commitment to God; doubt makes us worry that we are not committed enough. Jesus blesses us spiritually by leading us to repent of sinful pride by the Law and calming our worried hearts through the Gospel. • Father, forgive my self-centeredness, and teach me to rely on Your loving plan for me; through Jesus Christ. Amen.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:15 heard. A messenger has apparently brought news to Paul about the congregation he founded. He is relieved to hear that they have kept the faith. saints. See note, v 1.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:16 Ceaseless prayer is urged by our Lord (Lk 21:36) and elsewhere by Paul (Rm 12:12; Col 4:2; 1Th 5:17). The Spirit prays within us, literally, without ceasing (Rm 8:26–27). But here Paul refers to his regular, daily hours of prayer. give thanks. See p 1902.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:17 God of. See note, v 3. spirit of wisdom. See note, v 8. Through the Word, the Spirit (Is 11:2; 1Co 12:8) gives wisdom and reveals the Father and the Son (Jn 16:13; 1Co 2:10–13).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:18 eyes of your hearts enlightened. See note, Jb 17:7. In biblical language, the heart is the seat of thought and will (not emotions). The light is God's realm (Col 1:12–13; 1Jn 1:5–7). Apart from Christ, people are "darkened in their understanding" (Eph 4:18), but through Baptism, they are brought into the light (5:8, 14; cf Jn 9:11; Ac 9:18). Early Christians spoke of Baptism as enlightenment. Just: "This washing [Baptism] is called illumination, because those who learn these things are illuminated in their understandings" (ANF 1:183). inheritance. See notes, vv 5, 11. saints. See note, v 1.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:19 The synonyms for power add emphasis. Here, God's power is His saving action for those "who believe."

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:20 God's power was shown in the extraordinary acts of Christ's resurrection and ascension. In Baptism, God raised us by that same power, and He continues to use it for our benefit (2:6; 1Co 6:14; 2Co 13:4; Col 2:12). seated … right hand. Not a place where Christ is confined, but a symbolic picture of His saving power (Ex 15:6; Ps 48:10; Is 41:10). See p 843. "The received human nature in Christ has and retains its natural, essential properties. But over and above these, through the personal union with the Deity, and afterward through glorification, Christ's human nature has been exalted" (FC SD VIII 12).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:21 rule and authority and power and dominion. Judaism used the four terms for ranks of angels (cf 2En 20–22). It may also refer to hostile, fallen angels (Eph 6:12). Christians need not fear their influence, for Christ is Lord over all (3:10; Rm 8:38–39; Col 2:15). name that is named. Calling upon a false god offers no help (cf 1Ki 18:24). this age … one to come. The time of the Messiah, as described by the rabbis, would be blissful.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:22 all things under His feet. Christ as the Second Adam and God's victorious Son is given dominion over all creation (Ps 110:1; 1Co 15:27–28; Heb 2:6–9). church. Christ's lordship is for the benefit of His Bride—not just one congregation, but all Christians everywhere. Hus: "Christ is the head of the universal church" (The Church, p 17). See pp 1901–2.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:23 His body. A key idea in Eph (2:16; 4:4). Through Baptism, there is a true, organic unity between all believers and Christ (1Co 12:13), which is nurtured by receiving His true body in the Lord's Supper (1Co 10:16–17). See p 1965. "These marks [of the Church] are the pure doctrine of the Gospel and the administration of the Sacraments in accordance with the Gospel of Christ. This Church alone is called Christ's body, which Christ renews, sanctifies, and governs by His Spirit" (Ap VII and VIII 5). fullness. As true God, Christ fills and governs the whole universe (Col 2:9–10). Yet in His plan, God has graciously chosen that the Church should make Him complete, and likewise be filled by Him (Eph 3:19; 4:13).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 1:15–23 Paul gives thanks for God's power at work in the Ephesians. God's power is not automatically good news. It terrifies sinners, but it comforts us who know His love for us in Christ. • Merciful Lord, powerful to save, grant us Your good Spirit that we may boldly confess Jesus' saving Gospel. Amen.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:1 And you. See note, 1:13. dead in … sins. Prior to their conversion, they were spiritually dead under the Law's condemnation (Rm 5:12–21; 7:9–10), unable to make a single movement toward God (Mt 8:22; Jn 5:24–25; Rm 6:23). "The Scriptures teach that a sinful person is not only weak and sick, but also finished and entirely dead" (FC SD II 10).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:2 walked. Biblical imagery for conduct before God (Ps 1; Rm 6:4). Before Christ they were like "dead men walking." See p 1904. prince of the … air. The devil, who operates in "heavenly places" (3:10; 4:27; 6:11, 16). "The Church is Christ's kingdom, distinguished from the devil's kingdom" (Ap VII and VIII 16). sons of disobedience. A Hbr expression for one's character (cf v 3). The Gentiles were disobedient unbelievers. By contrast, "sons of God" have His holy character (Lk 20:36; Rm 8:14; Php 2:15).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:3 we all. Jewish and Gentile Christians (see notes, 1:13; Rm 3:9, 23). flesh. See p 1902. children of wrath. See note, v 2. Before Christ, God's condemnation was our only inheritance (Rm 1:18; Col 3:5–6).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:4–10 Paul sharply contrasts God's wrath and mercy.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:5 dead. "Just as a dead body cannot raise itself to bodily, earthly life, so a person who by sin is spiritually dead cannot raise himself to spiritual life" (FC Ep II 3). made us alive. Through Baptism, we were put to death by the judgment of God's Law and raised as forgiven children (Rm 6:1–11). by grace … saved. See note, vv 8–9.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:6 raised us up. Because we are in Christ, we have ascended to heaven with Him (Col 3:1; Rv 3:21). Christ's ascension was a significant part of His victory (Eph 4:8–10).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:7 coming ages. Probably from a Hbr expression for "the age to come" (1:21; Mk 10:30). When Christ returns, our bodily resurrection will display the fullness of our salvation (Col 3:3–4).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:8–9 by grace. God's generous mercy toward the undeserving (Rm 5:12–21). See p 1902. "So you see plainly that there is no work done here by us, but a treasure, which God gives us and faith grasps [Ephesians 2:8–9]. It is like the benefit of the Lord Jesus Christ upon the cross, which is not a work, but a treasure included in the Word. It is offered to us and received by faith" (LC IV 37). saved. Rescued from sin, the devil, and God's wrath. Sometimes in Paul's writings, "salvation" refers to the Last Day (Rm 13:11), and at other places it is an ongoing present reality (1Co 1:18; 2Co 6:2). Here, he insists that we have already received it through Christ (Rm 8:24). See p 1904. through faith. God's gift; opposite of both works and sight. Faith is a simple trust in God's gifts, now and to come (Lk 7:50; Rm 1:17; Gal 2:16). "Faith is not a bare knowledge of Christ's history, but it is God's gift" (FC Ep III 6). not your own doing … not a result of works. Neither Jews who obey the Torah, nor Gentiles who heed their conscience, may claim a reward from God (Rm 3:19–31). "Christ's merit is obtained not by our works or pennies, but from grace through faith, without money and merit" (SA II II 24).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:10 His workmanship. Paul contrasts our foul works (vv 1–3) with God's holy work (2Co 5:17; Php 1:6). God carries out the plan described in ch 1. good works. Our works are not the cause of salvation (vv 5–9), but its result. We cannot even lay claim to these, for God created them for us to do in Christ. "The Holy Spirit is received through faith, hearts are renewed and given new affections, and then they are able to bring forth good works. Ambrose says: 'Faith is the mother of a good will and doing what is right' " (AC XX 29–30). walk. See note, v 2.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:1–10 Judaizers threatened most early Christian communities, teaching that Gentiles had to obey the OT Law in addition to faith in Christ. But Paul insists that God saves both Jews and Gentiles by grace through faith, apart from any works. Today's self-help culture likewise tempts us to try to do it all ourselves. • Lord, help me to abandon my self-confidence and rejoice in Your grace alone. Amen.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:11–22 Directly addresses the unity of Jews and Gentiles in Christ. As in many early Christian churches, there must have been tension between the two groups at Ephesus. See "Central Issue," p 2014. If salvation is by grace, there can be no such divisions.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:11 you Gentiles in the flesh. The flesh no longer defines Christians as it once did. the uncircumcision. A term of derision for Gentiles, used by "the circumcision," i.e., Jews. made in the flesh. Circumcision as an external mark is now obsolete (Rm 2:28–29; Gal 6:15), in contrast to Baptism, which changes the heart.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:12 commonwealth of Israel. Before Christ's coming, God's promises were located in His kingdom, Israel. covenants of promise. Israel received the promise of the coming Messiah. Through Christ, the Gentiles are now included (v 19; 3:6). See p 127. without God. Though they worshiped many gods, they did not worship the one true God (1Co 8:5–6). See note, Rm 1:21.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:13 brought near. In the OT, Gentiles are "far off" (1Ki 8:41; Is 5:26), but Israel is near to God (Ps 148:14). blood of Christ. See note, 1:7.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:14 peace. See p 1903. Not just absence of war, but well-being, unity, and salvation. Christ makes peace and is also the place where it is found (v 15; Jn 14:27; 20:19). made us both one. Jews and Gentiles (v 16). Bern: "What place, then, in the kingdom of Christ and of God has he who is an enemy of charity, peace, and unity?" (SLSB, p 4). dividing wall. In Herod's temple at Jerusalem, a wall separated the (inner) court of the Jews from the (outer) court of the Gentiles. Paul was arrested on the charge of violating this boundary (Ac 21:27–29). Here, it symbolizes the Law (Eph 2:15). In Christ, Jews and Gentiles are no longer divided in their worship of God or reception of His gifts (Jn 4:21–24).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:15 abolishing the law. Although the Law itself is not abolished (Mt 5:17; Rm 3:31), the precepts that separated Jews from Gentiles are gone (Col 3:11). Christ also overcame the Law's ability to condemn believers (Rm 7:4–6; 8:1–2). See p 1911. one new man. All of humanity is reunited in Christ, the Second Adam (Rm 5:12–21; 1Co 15:21–22).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:16 reconcile. More important, Christ removed the hostility between all people and God (2Co 5:17–20). in one body. All humanity died with Christ on the cross (Rm 7:4), exhausting God's wrath; the benefits are found in one Body, the Church. See notes, Eph 1:10, 23; 4:4.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:17 He came and preached. As prophesied by Isaiah, the risen Messiah brought a message of peace that His death and resurrection achieved (cf Jn 20:19, 21). Through the apostles, Christ preached peace throughout the world (Eph 1:2; 3:1–9).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:18 access. Templelike walls no longer bar access to the triune God (Mt 27:51; Heb 6:19). See note, v 14.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:19 fellow citizens. In Caesarea, where Paul was imprisoned (see note, 3:1), there was open hostility between Jews and Gentiles over the right of citizenship. Unlike other early Christian leaders, Paul strove to make the Gentile believers welcome in the largely Jewish churches of the first century. Paul points to their joint membership in the kingdom of heaven. Bede: "The gates of this city are opened to us by fortitude; and faith will afford us a broad entrance" (FSEP, p 3). saints. See note, 1:1.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:20 built on the foundation. As Christ's work figuratively destroyed the old temple (Jn 2:19), He erected a new spiritual house of God, the Church (1Pt 2:4–10), built on the preaching of the apostles and NT prophets (Rm 15:20; 1Co 3:10). cornerstone. Establishes the direction of two walls and anchors them together (1Pt 2:6–7).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:21 grows. The Church as Christ's Body is a living temple (1Pt 2:5). God gives it growth (1Co 3:7; Col 2:19) as He adds new "stones" (people), but also as it matures by learning the truth, rejecting error, and loving one another.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:22 dwelling place. God certainly dwells in individual believers (1Co 6:19), but here Paul emphasizes the corporate nature of the Church, which together is God's temple.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 2:11–22 Notions of favoritism divided the earliest Christian churches and still affect our churches today. Paul urges all of us to remember who we were apart from Christ and to rejoice in what Christ has made us to be: His one Body. • Lord, forgive my prejudices and teach me to see Your Son in every Christian. Amen.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:1–13 The Early Church, surprisingly, did not universally approve of the mission to the Gentiles (cf Ac 15). Paul argues that Christ Himself commissioned him to fulfill God's plan to bring the Gentiles the message of salvation through faith apart from works.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:1 prisoner. Arrested in AD 58 to protect him from a Jewish mob in the temple (Ac 21:27–36), Paul spent a year and a half in prison in Caesarea (Ac 23:23–26:32) and two years under house arrest in Rome (Ac 28:30). Paul rejoiced to be put on trial for the sake of the Gospel, hoping to gain legal freedom to preach it to the Gentiles (2Tm 2:9–10). He referred to his suffering more than once but qualified it as fulfilling the Lord's purposes for his life and others.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:2 Paul interrupts himself to defend his calling. Paul knows what he taught them, but he uses a rhetorical technique to encourage their memory (1:13; 4:21). heard. See note, 1:13. stewardship. Referring to a chief servant's authority to administer household goods. Christ committed the Gospel to the apostles (Lk 12:41–48; 1Co 4:1–2; Ti 1:7).
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:3 mystery. See note, 1:9. by revelation. See note, Ac 9:5–6. Paul received the Gospel from Christ Himself, including the commission to preach it to Gentiles (Gal 1:12, 16). written. Probably referring to the first part of this Letter (1:9–10; 2:11–22).
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:4 When you read. Public reading in the Divine Service (Col 4:16; 1Th 5:27; 1Tm 4:13). mystery. See note, 1:9.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:5 revealed. Though Paul received a special vision of Christ (v 3), the other apostles received no less spiritual revelation and commission through Christ (Mt 28:19–20; Ac 1:8). holy apostles and prophets. Though all Christians are holy before God through Baptism (see note, 1:1), the apostles and prophets are set apart for a unique office (Rm 1:1). Cf Eph 2:20; 4:11. See p 1901.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:6 mystery. See note, 1:9. fellow … members … partakers. Paul strongly emphasizes the togetherness of Jews and Gentiles in Christ. heirs. See notes, 1:5, 11. body. See note, 1:23. the gospel. See note, 1Co 15:3.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:7 a minister. One entrusted with the office of preaching the Gospel. Paul was called by Christ Himself (see notes, 1:1; 3:3; cf Rm 15:15–16).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:8 least of all the saints. Reference not to Paul's abilities but to his persecution of the Church (Ac 8:1–3; Gal 1:13; 1Tm 1:15). grace was given. The gift proceeding from God's graciousness. See p 1902.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:9 bring to light. See note, 1:18. mystery. See note, 1:9.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:10 through the church. The very existence of a Church in which Jews and Gentiles are united stands as a testimony to Christ's victory over the devil's divisive schemes. rulers … heavenly places. See note, 1:21.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:11 the eternal purpose. The great saving plan of God, as praised in 1:3–14. Christ Jesus our Lord. See note, Php 2:11.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:12 Christians can pray personally to the Father. access. See note, 2:18.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:13 suffering … your glory. Glory and suffering go hand in hand (Rm 8:17–18; 2Co 4:17). Here Paul suffers, Christlike, for the sake of the Gentiles (2Co 4:12; Col 1:24). Paul endured the suffering so that he might continue to minister to the needs of his fellow believers, resulting in their strengthening. See note, v 1.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:1–13 Paul defends his call as an apostle by emphasizing its basis in the Gospel. Though our personal credentials are important, our service is based on God's gifts and calling, which stem from the Gospel. • Lord, lead me to serve according to Your gifts and calling, rather than by my reason or strength. Amen.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:14–15 Resumes the thought begun in v 1. See note, v 2. bow my knees. The normal Jewish and early Christian posture for prayer was standing (Mt 6:5; Mk 11:25; Lk 18:11). Kneeling for prayer (Dn 6:10; Lk 22:41; Ac 9:40) suggests submission and worship (Php 2:10). See p 1276. Father … family. A wordplay (see ESV note). All people ought to call on God as their Father (cf 4:6).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:16 strengthened. In the knowledge of Christ's love (vv 18–19). power. See notes, 1:19, 20. inner being. The renewed nature in the Christian that battles against the sinful nature (4:24; 2Co 4:16).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:17 dwell. Since baptized Christians are in Christ (Gal 3:27), Christ dwells by the Spirit in them (Rm 8:10; Gal 2:20). Paul's prayer is that He would continue to dwell in them, and that they would trust in Him. See note, 2:22. hearts. See note, 1:18.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:18–19 breadth and … surpasses knowledge. The immeasurability of God's wisdom and Christ's love (Jb 11:5–9; Rm 11:33). Knowledge of Christ is praised in this Letter, but the human mind cannot fully comprehend Him. More important is to be known by Him (Gal 4:9). fullness of God. See note, 1:23. "The whole world with all diligence has struggled to figure out what God is, what He has in mind and does. Yet the world has never been able to grasp 'the knowledge and understanding of' any of these things. But here we have everything in richest measure" (LC II 63).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:20–21 The prayer and the first half of the Letter reach their high point in a doxology. more abundantly. God's giving is not limited by our asking. "He is like an eternal, unfailing fountain. The more it pours forth and overflows, the more it continues to give. God desires nothing more seriously from us than that we ask Him for much and great things" (LC III 56). power. See notes, 1:19, 20. glory in the church. The only NT doxology to include this phrase (cf Rm 16:25–27; Jude 24–25), indicating the importance of the Church in this Letter. The phrase suggests public worship.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 3:14–21 As Paul considers God's wisdom, grace, and love, he breaks out in prayer and praise. Study of God's Word naturally combines with prayer and praise in the Divine Service, where Christ's gifts are given out, and we receive them with thanksgiving. • Lord, let these verses be my prayer for my church today. Amen.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON Chs 4–5 This portion of Eph is not simply about our conduct (or, the Law). It contains some very profound Gospel teaching (e.g., 4:4–12; 5:25–30). However, there is a greater focus on the consequences of Law and Gospel for our faith and life.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:1 prisoner. See note, 3:1. walk. See note, 2:2. the calling. The Christian faith itself, as brought by the Word of God (1:18; Rm 8:30).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:2 Qualities of Christ Himself (Mt 11:29; 21:5; 2Co 10:1; Php 2:5–8), which He works in the believer for the sake of the Church's unity (Eph 4:13–16; Col 3:12–15).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:3 maintain the unity. We are truly one because God's Spirit made the Church one in Christ (1:10; 4:4). True unity is neither created nor destroyed by our actions. Rather, Paul exhorts us to treasure this unity and act accordingly. bond of peace. Tying Christians to one another and to God (2:15).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:4–6 Poetic. Possibly a quotation of an early Christian hymn or creed (see other examples in 1Co 12:3–6). The Church's unity is rooted in the Trinity: one Spirit (v 4), one Lord (v 5), one Father (v 6). There are seven "ones," God's number for completeness. See p 217.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:4 one body. The oneness of the Church, rooted in Christ Himself, into whom we are baptized (Rm 12:5; 1Co 12:13). See notes, 1:10, 23. one Spirit. The same indivisible Spirit unites us all.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:5 one Lord. A confession of Jesus as Yahweh, true God (Rm 10:9; 1Co 12:3). one faith. Not the act of believing, but what is believed: true doctrine, as confessed through the Apostles' Creed at Baptism (cf Col 2:6–7). one baptism. Although Baptism as new birth cannot be repeated (nor may "Spirit Baptism" be separated from "water Baptism"), that is not the emphasis here. Rather, Paul teaches that there is only one Baptism, into which Christ Himself and all Christians are baptized and thereby joined (see notes, Mt 3:15; 1Co 12:13). See pp 1369, 1920. "For the true unity of the Church it is enough to agree about the doctrine of the Gospel and the administration of the Sacraments. It is not necessary that human traditions, that is, rites or ceremonies instituted by men, should be the same everywhere" (AC VII 2–3).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:6 Father. God claims Fatherhood over all because He created all (3:14–15; Rm 10:12; 11:36; 1Co 8:6). But only through Christ can we acknowledge Him as Father (Gal 4:6).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:7 the measure of Christ's gift. Not a little to one and more to another, but the fullness of Christ's giving to all Christians. Unity, not diversity, is the point. See note, 1:10.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:8 The temple dedication enthroned God in the Jerusalem sanctuary (1Ki 8:1–11; cf 2Sm 6:16–19). He received gifts (offerings) as a victorious king who had led His people through the exodus. Christ, having freed those captive to sin, ascended to heaven to give gifts to people (Lk 24:49–51; Ac 1:8–9; 2:33).
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:9 In interpreting Ps 68:18, Paul sees Christ as its ultimate meaning. The OT is interpreted in view of Christ's saving work. Christ's descent is His incarnation (Jn 3:13).
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:10 ascended … things. See notes, 1:20, 23; 2:6.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:11 He gave. The Office of the Ministry and the men who hold it are Christ's gifts to the Church. The Gospels connect its institution with the period between Christ's resurrection and ascension. There is one office, but a diversity of callings within it (cf Rm 12:6–8), and some men held more than one role (cf 1Tm 2:7; 4:13; 5:17). The first two callings listed here (and perhaps the third) belong only to the first generation of the Church, though their message is preserved in Holy Scripture. apostles. The foundational calling. See notes, 1:1; 2:20. prophets. Probably not of the OT, but those in the apostolic age to whom special revelation was given (Ac 11:27–28; 1Co 14:3–6, 22–32). evangelists. Lit, "Gospelers." Either missionaries or those who compiled the four Gospels (Lk 1:1–4). shepherds. Those caring for Christ's flock (Jn 10:11–16; Ac 20:28; 1Pt 5:1–4). teachers. Either another word for shepherd (1Tm 3:2; 2Tm 2:24) or a distinct calling as theological teacher (Ac 13:1; 2Tm 1:11; Jas 3:1). Aug: "He added teachers [to the list] that pastors might understand that teaching—doctrina—belongs to their office" (Hus, The Church, p 158).
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:12 Purposes of the pastoral office: equip the saints. Like outfitting a soldier for battle (6:10–17). Some editions and translations include a comma after this phase to distinguish it from the following (cf KJV). the work of [the] ministry. The commissioned task of proclaiming the Word (3:7–8; Ac 6:4; Rm 11:13), as carried out by the apostles and so on (4:11). building … body. See notes, 1:10, 23; see also Tr 67.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:13 unity of the faith. Paul has appealed to the Office of the Ministry because the ministers' faithful teaching promotes the Church's unity in true doctrine (Ti 1:9; 2:1). See notes, vv 2–6. mature … measure … of Christ. Sound teaching leads to maturity (Col 1:28). The only way to know God is through Christ (Mt 11:27; Jn 1:18). "This healing is only begun in this life. It will not be perfect until the life to come" (FC SD I 14).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:14 children. Reborn through Baptism, Christians should not remain like infants, for false doctrine always threatens them (1Co 3:1–2; Heb 5:12–14; 1Pt 2:2). tossed … schemes. No specific false teaching is mentioned, but Paul is probably referring to pagan Greek philosophies and Judaizing.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:15 speaking the truth in love. Concern for true doctrine and love for one another are not alternatives, but belong together (1Pt 1:22). grow. See note, 2Th 1:3. "If they understand the substance of it [the Creed], they themselves may afterward strive to gain more, refer to these parts whatever they learn in the Scriptures, and may ever grow and increase in richer understanding" (LC II 70). See note, 2:21. head. See notes, 1:10, 23.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:16 every joint. Or, ligament. What binds the members together: the Word, the ministry, the common confession. body. See notes, 1:10, 23.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:1–16 Paul highlights the gifts of Christ that make us His Body; as one Body, we are protected from the dangers of our times. Modern individualism and consumerism make it easy to treat the Church as "all about me." Thanks be to God, the Church is all about Jesus, who provides for our salvation and edification. • Lord, bind us together by the truth proclaimed by Your faithful ministers. Amen.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:17 walk. See note, 2:2. Gentiles … futility. Probably a reference to idolatry.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:18–19 darkened. See note, 1:18. hardness of heart. See notes, Ex 4:21; 9:12. Unbelievers ("Gentiles") stubbornly resist God's testimony in nature and Word (Rm 1:19–20; 2:5). callous. Their hard hearts do not feel the accusations of conscience. "By the fall of our first parents mankind was so corrupted that in divine things having to do with our conversion and the salvation of our souls we are by nature blind" (FC SD II 5).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:20–21 learned Christ! Gk manthano, "to make a disciple." They were catechized (taught, v 21) not only about Christ but also by Him (Lk 10:16). heard. See note, 1:13.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:22–24 old self. In Baptism, the old, sinful nature was drowned (Rm 6:3–11; Col 2:12; 3:9–10). Through daily repentance, the Christian battles against its resurfacing. Aug: "Lest anyone might think that the substance or essence of a person is to be laid aside, he himself explains what it is to lay aside the old man, and to put on the new, when he says in the following words: 'Putting away lying, speak the truth.' Behold, that is to put off the old man and to put on the new" (FC SD II 81). renewed. Reborn, re-created (2Co 5:17), which happened in Baptism (Ti 3:5) and continues daily (2Co 4:16). put on the new self. In the Early Church, candidates for Baptism stripped and were baptized naked, after which they were clothed in white. This pictured the removal of the sinful nature and the re-clothing with Christ in Baptism (Gal 3:27; Rv 7:13–14). Chrys: "In the heart, contrition; in the mouth, confession; in the work, entire humility" (Ap XIIB 73). likeness of God. The idea of re-creation continues with an allusion to Gn. God's likeness, or image, is defined here as "righteousness" and "holiness" (Gn 1:26–27; Lk 1:74–75; Col 3:10).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:25 having put away falsehood. Paul appeals to the past fact of Baptism as the foundation for their present action. neighbor. Paul quotes LXX of Zec 8:16, where "neighbor" means fellow Israelite. Here he means fellow Christian.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:26 Or, "If you are angry, do not sin." Paul combines Ps 4:4 and Dt 24:15.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:27 Satan uses anger to lead people to other sins (v 31; 1Pt 5:8).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:28 An example of a sinful life that must be abandoned (1Pt 4:15) and replaced by generosity.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:29 A good tree cannot produce rotten fruit (Mt 7:17–18; cf Mt 15:18). give grace. God is gracious through our speaking His Word, particularly when we forgive (v 32).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:30 grieve the Holy Spirit. God feels the grief of loss when we turn away from Him or deny Him in word or deed. "When the baptized act against their conscience, allowing sin to rule in them, they grieve the Holy Spirit in them and lose Him" (FC SD II 69). sealed for the day of redemption. See notes, 1:13–14.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:31–32 This summary statement of the Law culminates in the Christlike act of forgiveness. "The origin and establishment of private Confession lies in the fact that Christ Himself placed His Absolution into the hands of His Christian people with the command that they should absolve one another of their sins" (BEC 14).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 4:17–32 Paul describes the new life that results from the Gospel. Yet, the Law also continues to apply because of our sinful nature. As Luther explains the Ten Commandments in the Catechism, the Law both forbids sinful behavior ("shall not") and urges good works ("shall"). As we inevitably fail to live up to such demands, forgiveness preserves and restores the harmony of the Church. • Father, forgive us our sins, that we may forgive those who sin against us. Amen.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:1 imitators of God. The traditional chapter division is unfortunate. The chief way to imitate God is to forgive and to love in a sacrificial way (v 2). These actions flow from being re-created in God's image (4:24).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:2 walk. See note, 2:2. as Christ loved us. Not simply following Christ's example of love, but enabled to love because of what He did for us (1Jn 4:7–19). offering and sacrifice. Christ fulfills the temple sacrifices (Ex 29:41; Lv 1), making forgiveness possible (see note, 1:7).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:3–12 Sexual immorality, a particular feature of Gentile life (1Th 4:3–7), is connected to idol worship (v 5).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:3 covetousness. "Greedy" (4:19) for the "neighbor's wife" (Tenth Commandment). not even be named. Sin begins with words, which lead to deeds (v 12; 4:29; Mt 15:18–19; Jas 3:2–8).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:4 thanksgiving. In the context of marriage, sex is a blessed gift from God. Improper talk of sexual desire is displaced by thanksgiving for God's gifts (1:3, 16; 1Tm 4:3).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:5 sexually immoral … covetous … idolater. Together, these terms suggest temple prostitution, a common feature of pagan Gentile life. One who trusts God will be satisfied with the spouse He has given. inheritance. See notes, 1:5, 11.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:6 empty words. Claims that such deeds will not be punished. sons of disobedience. See note, 2:2.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:7 do not become partners. I.e., do not share in their sinful deeds (v 11; 1Co 10:20–21; 2Co 6:14–18), which would contradict our fellowship in Christ.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:8 darkness … light. See note, 1:18. Walk. See note, 2:2. children. See note, 1:5.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:9 fruit. A common NT image for good words and deeds that flow naturally from one planted in Christ (Jn 15:1–8; Col 1:10).
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:10 discern. Lit, "test," by the standard of God's Word (Rm 2:18; 12:2; Php 1:9–10).
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:11 Take no part. See note, v 7. works of darkness. Sexual immorality. expose them. Discern and condemn them with God's Law (v 13; Ps 119:105; Jn 3:20; 16:8).
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:12 See note, v 3.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:13–14a visible is light. Cf v 8. God's Word not only exposes evil but can transform evil persons into good.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:14b The source of Paul's quotation is perhaps a baptismal hymn (v 19). Awake. Death, even sinners' spiritual death, is like sleep to God (cf Mk 5:39–42; Jn 11:11; 1Th 4:14). Through Baptism, Christ resurrected us (Eph 2:1–6; Rm 6:4). shine on you. See note, 1:18; cf Is 9:2; Lk 2:32; 2Co 4:4–6.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:15 walk. See note, 2:2.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:16 best use of the time. Or, "redeeming" it for the good (Gal 6:10). days are evil. In these end times, evil forces battle against God's children, who have been rescued from evil (2Co 6:2).
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:17 foolish. In these end times, it is foolish to act as if Christ is not returning soon (Mt 25:1–13).
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:18 drunk. One waits for Christ in soberness (1Th 5:1–8). Drunkenness, a feature of pagan worship, should certainly not occur in Christian worship (1Co 11:20–22). debauchery. Reckless behavior, unrestrained by good sense. filled … Spirit. As the Spirit is poured out on us, we are under His influence, as if "drunk" on the Spirit (Ac 2:4, 13–15). See p 1920. The result is threefold: heartfelt worship, thanksgiving, and mutual submission (Eph 5:19–21).
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:19 Foul talk (v 4) is replaced by wholesome words of worship. psalms … hymns … songs. There is no clear distinction between these terms. OT psalms are certainly in view. "Hymns" and "songs" likely include OT canticles (Rv 15:3) and Christian compositions (cf Eph 5:14b; Rv 5:9–10). spiritual. Probably applies to all three compositions. Addressed to "one another" as well as "to the Lord," the songs include both teaching and adoration (Col 3:16).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:20 giving thanks. A description of public prayer.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:21 submitting. Taking one's proper role in God's order and laying aside one's selfish interests (Gal 5:13). Described in detail in Eph 5:22–6:9. See p 1291. Based on the Gk, v 21 likely introduces the next section.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:1–21 Like the Ephesians, we are confronted every day by a world rebelling against God's way. In our struggle against its temptations, we can rely on Christ's Word and Spirit to lead us. • Lord, strengthen me to speak and act as You desire. Replace all foul talk from my mouth with praise for You and encouragement for my brothers and sisters in Christ. Amen.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:22–6:9 Paul modifies a traditional "household code." For the Christian, the Gospel does not overturn the order of life, but gives it new meaning. Each relationship is reinterpreted "in the Lord." Wives, children, and servants look on their husbands, parents, and masters as representatives of the Lord and submit to them. Husbands, parents, and masters likewise view the ones entrusted to them as Christ viewed the Church: with self-sacrificing love.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:22 submit. See note, v 21. Submission is not mutual, but appropriate to each relationship. Within the marriage relationship, the wife "submits," taking the place God has given her (1Pt 3:1–6). See notes, Gn 1:26–28; 1Tm 2:13; Ti 2:5; see also p 1904. as to the Lord. She is to view her husband as an image and representative of Christ. See p 1972.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:23 head. See note, 1:10. Headship is not tyranny, but pictures one's leader and source (1Co 11:3–12). If we think of the husband as the head of a marriage and the wife as the heart of a marriage (Paul uses "body"), we see that one is not more important than the other—neither can survive alone. Paul demonstrates their vital yet distinct roles. See p 1965.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:24 church submits to Christ. The Church's primary relationship to Christ is defined not as Law (obedience), but as Gospel (receiving). As the Church does not try to save herself, but graciously receives salvation from Christ, so the wife cherishes her husband's self-sacrifice for her. Bede: "O truly blessed Mother Church! so illuminated by the honour of Divine condescension. … Endeavour now, beloved, each for yourselves, in each kind of honour, to obtain your own dignity—crowns, snow-white for chastity, or purple for passion [martyrdom]" (FSEP, p 2).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:25 love. In contrast to the culture of the time, the husband is told not to rule his wife but to love her (cf Col 3:19). as Christ loved the church. Paul's word to the husband is far longer than to the wife, for it is an opportunity to rejoice in the Gospel. Christ's marriage to the Church is a major Gospel image in the NT (Mt 9:15; 25:1–13; 2Co 11:2; Rv 21:9). If the husband's love for his wife is Christlike, he is willing to give up his very life for her (Gal 2:20; Ti 2:14; 1Jn 3:16).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:26 washing of water with the word. Baptism, by which Christ sanctified (made holy) His Bride, the Church (Jn 3:3–6; 1Co 6:11; 1Pt 3:21). See p 1369. "The Church … should be cleansed in order to be holy. He adds the outward marks, the Word and Sacraments" (Ap VII and VIII 7). Aug: "When the Word is joined to the element or natural substance, it becomes a Sacrament" (SA III V 1). word. Christ's mandate, including the name of the Holy Trinity (Mt 28:19).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:27 The white robe of Baptism (see note, 4:22–24) is pictured as a wedding gown. Notably, the Bridegroom Himself prepares the Bride (Ezk 16:8–14; Rv 21:2, 9–11). holy and without blemish. See note, 1:4.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:28 as their own bodies. As Christians are one Body in Christ, so also husbands and wives are one flesh (v 31).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:29 nourishes. By Christ's ministry (4:11–16) of Word (1Tm 4:6) and Supper (Jn 6:53–58).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:30 members. See notes, 1:10, 23.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:31–32 Gn 2:24 describes the institution of marriage, which takes on added meaning when viewed in the light of Christ. This is the mystery, now revealed (see note, 1:9): from the beginning God designed marriage to be a Gospel picture of Christ and the Church.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:33 Though the Gospel purpose of marriage is primary, Paul does not neglect the admonition with which he began (vv 21–22, 25). "Everyone should live chaste in thought, word, and deed in his condition—that is, especially in the estate of marriage. But also everyone should love and value the spouse God gave to him" (LC I 219).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 5:22–33 If we say with Paul that the husband is the "head" in a marriage, then we may say the wife is the "heart." Is one more important? No, both heart and head are necessary for life. We are inclined today to view our marriages selfishly: what can I get out of it? Instead, we should consider what we can offer to our spouse and see behind each action a picture of the Gospel itself. • Father, may our marriages always be living pictures of Christ's love and forgiveness. Amen.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:1 obey. Gk hypakouo, emphasizes "listening." in the Lord. See note, 5:22–6:9. right. Pleasing to the Lord (Col 3:20). Note that Paul addresses children as Christians.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:2 promise. God's Law is not arbitrary, but describes a life in which the blessings of creation are best enjoyed (Ex 20:6; 1Tm 4:8). "He does not mean that obedience to parents justifies us before God. But when obedience happens in those who have been justified, it merits other great rewards" (Ap V 76).
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:3 live long in the land. The original promise referred to the land of Israel (Dt 5:16). For Christians, the whole earth is included. However, because of sin, we do not always fully enjoy it.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:4 Roman fathers had absolute power over their children. Paul urges restraint in imitation of God. provoke. Move to anger or despair (Col 3:21; cf Rm 10:19). discipline and instruction. The father works with his children through Law and Gospel. The Gospel is the chief teaching of God's Word. See SA II I 1; see also p 2025. "We must hold the commandment before them, and constantly teach it, so that we bring them up not only with punishment, but also in reverence and fear of God" (LC I 61). God uses punishment for our good (Pr 3:11–12; Heb 12:5–11).
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:5 Slaves. The same word is translated "servants" in v 6. See p 101. masters. Gk kyrios, "lord." Paul uses this wordplay to teach them to honor the Lord through their master.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:6 eye-service. Seeking attention or only working hard when the master is looking. servants of Christ. Often used by Paul to describe himself as Christ's minister (Rm 1:1; 1Co 4:1), it can also describe any Christian's redemption from slavery to sin into Christ's service (see note, 1:7; cf 1Co 7:22). True freedom is not independence from God, but independence from sin, death, and the devil.
EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:8 receive back. Both as encouragement and warning, Paul points to God's judgment (Rm 2:6–10; 2Co 5:10; Col 3:24).

whether … slave or free. A hint of Paul's teaching that such earthly institutions have no bearing on one's relationship to God (1Co 12:13).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:9 do the same to them. Act likewise as servants of Christ (v 6). threatening. Heartfelt obedience (v 5) cannot be achieved by threats of punishment. no partiality. God will not lessen His judgment because of the master's social status on earth (Rm 2:9–13; 1Pt 1:17).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:1–9 Paul's description of the Christian life is not exhaustive, but gives common examples of vocations, or callings, in life. Today, God calls us to serve Him and other people selflessly, lovingly, and conscious of our relationship to Christ. We should examine our lives and our callings. The Lord will forgive our shortcomings and strengthen us to be Christlike. • Lord, no matter how I serve in my family or society, I am Your child and servant through Your Holy Child, Jesus. Grant that I fulfill my calling before You. Amen.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:10–17 This famous picture sums up the Letter. The armor represents both a promise of divine protection and an exhortation to battle. Like a general encouraging his troops, Paul tells us that the victory is certain because Christ has already won the war, and He has made us well-prepared to stand with Him to face any last-ditch assaults. In ancient legends, the weapons and armor of a hero could give certain victory to anyone who wore them (cf 1Sm 17:38). The armor Paul describes is not simply from God; it is God's own armor, what He Himself wore in battle. Dressed in Christ's armor, we look remarkably like Christ (Is 49:2; 59:17; Rv 1:13–16), for through Baptism we are clothed with Him (Eph 4:24; Rm 13:12–14; Gal 3:27).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:10 be strong in the Lord. Do not rely on your own strength (cf 1:19; Jsh 1:9; Ps 28:7; Col 1:11).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:11 Put on. Baptismal language (4:24). whole armor. The complete outfit of a heavily armed soldier. The image may have occurred to Paul in prison by looking at his Roman guards, though the details are closer to OT models (the typical shin armor and spear of a Roman soldier do not appear in the list). stand against. The picture is defensive; Christ defends us against the devil on our behalf. schemes. Particularly false doctrine, designed to lead us away from God.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:12 rulers … heavenly places. See notes, 1:3, 21. Behind the Church's earthly opponents stand demonic forces; therefore, the Church should not try to fight with worldly tools (2Co 10:3–4). "All our shelter and protection rest in prayer alone" (LC III 30).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:13 the evil day. See note, 5:16. stand firm. Fully equipped and defended by God, our mandate is to trust what He has given us for the battle (Ex 14:13–14; 1Co 15:1–2; 2Th 2:15).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:14 belt of truth. A belt holds loose clothing in preparation for moving quickly (Ex 12:11; cf Heb 12:1). God's truth alone can counter the devil's lies (Eph 4:14–15). breastplate of righteousness. The metal piece protecting the chest's vital organs, here representing Christ's righteousness with which God clothes us. See "righteousness," p 1904.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:15 shoes … gospel of peace. A Roman soldier wore half boots studded with nails to help him stand firm. The preaching of the Gospel of peace has, ironically, prepared us for battle.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:16 shield of faith. Arrows were dipped in pitch and set alight. In defense, Roman soldiers soaked their full-length, leather-covered wooden shields in water before battle—an allusion to our baptismal refuge. "If you could see how many knives, darts, and arrows are every moment aimed at you [Ephesians 6:16], you would be glad to come to the Sacrament as often as possible" (LC V 82).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:17 helmet of salvation. A Roman helmet was made of bronze, with cheek pieces; cf Is 59:17; 1Th 5:8. sword of the Spirit … word of God. The term refers to the sharp, short sword for close combat. The Spirit gives the Gospel Word its effectiveness. Luther sang of the devil, "One little Word can fell him."

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:18 Prayer is not part of the armor (which is entirely God's work), but a transition to Paul's concluding words. The Letter ends as it began—with prayer. at all times. See note, 1:16. in the Spirit. In our weakness, the Spirit leads our prayer (Rm 8:15–16, 26–27). supplication. Gk deesis, from the term for "need"; a specific request.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:19 words may be given. Christ promised that the Spirit would direct and strengthen the apostles' testimony before kings and councils (Mt 10:17–20; cf Ac 9:15). mystery of the gospel. See note, 1:9.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:20 ambassador. See note, 1:1. chains. See note, 3:1.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:10–20 Paul exposes the demonic forces that battle against us, and he encourages us with the divine weapons that protect us. In the modern world, the spiritual dimension of life is often overlooked. We view our problems—and try to solve them—in purely human terms. But the Lord would work in us by His Word and Spirit. • Lord, may I see life as You see it and always stand firm with Christ. Amen.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:21 Tychicus. Gk for "minister" (cf 3:7). He was from Asia Minor and closely associated with Ephesus. Paul commends him as his representative and letter-bearer. He accompanied Paul on his last journey to Jerusalem (Ac 20:4). He delivered the Letter to the Ephesians and acted as an emissary for Paul to other churches.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:22 we. Paul in prison and the co-workers who visited and supported him (see names in Col 1:1; 4:9–14).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:23 brothers. Natural way to refer to fellow adopted sons of God (1:5), i.e., Christians.

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:24 all who love our Lord. A common expression for God's people (cf Ex 20:6; 1Co 8:3). love incorruptible. God's gifts are incorruptible, particularly eternal life (1Co 15:42–53; 1Pt 1:4).

EPHESIANS—NOTE ON 6:21–24 "Maker of all things, all Thy creatures praise Thee; All for Thy worship were and are created; Now, as we also worship Thee devoutly, Hear Thou our voices. Lord God Almighty, unto Thee be glory, One in three persons, over all exalted! Glory we offer, praise Thee and adore Thee, Now and forever." Amen. (LSB 504:3–4)

Philippians

Philippians 1 | Philippians 2 | Philippians 3 | Philippians 4

- Introduction to Philippians
  - Overview
  - Reading Philippians
  - Setting
  - Central Issue
  - Luther on Philippians
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Greeting

1 [1] ✝✝Paul and Timothy, servants[1] of Christ Jesus, To all the saints in Christ Jesus who are at Philippi, with the overseers[2] and deacons:[3] [2] ✝ Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Thanksgiving and Prayer

3 ‡† I thank my God in all my remembrance of you, 4 †always in every prayer of mine for you all making my prayer with joy, 5 † because of your partnership in the gospel from the first day until now. 6 †And I am sure of this, that he who began a good work in you will bring it to completion at the day of Jesus Christ. 7 †It is right for me to feel this way about you all, because I hold you in my heart, for you are all partakers with me of grace,[4] both in my imprisonment and in the defense and confirmation of the gospel.
8 †For God is my witness, how I yearn for you all with the affection of Christ Jesus. 9 ‡†And it is my prayer that your love may abound more and more, with knowledge and all discernment, 10 †so that you may approve what is excellent, and so be pure and blameless for the day of Christ, 11 †filled with the fruit of righteousness that comes through Jesus Christ, to the glory and praise of God.

The Advance of the Gospel

12 ‡ † I want you to know, brothers,[1] that what has happened to me has really served to advance the gospel, 13 † so that it has become known throughout the whole imperial guard[2] and to all the rest that my imprisonment is for Christ. 14 † And most of the brothers, having become confident in the Lord by my imprisonment, are much more bold to speak the word[3] without fear.

15 † Some indeed preach Christ from envy and rivalry, but others from good will. 16 † The latter do it out of love, knowing that I am put here for the defense of the gospel. 17 † The former proclaim Christ out of rivalry, not sincerely but thinking to afflict me in my imprisonment. 18 † What then?
Only that in every way, whether in pretense or in truth, Christ is proclaimed, and in that I rejoice.

To Live Is Christ

Yes, and I will rejoice, [19]†for I know that through your prayers and the help of the Spirit of Jesus Christ this will turn out for my deliverance, [20]†as it is my eager expectation and hope that I will not be at all ashamed, but that with full courage now as always Christ will be honored in my body, whether by life or by death. [21]†For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain. [22]†If I am to live in the flesh, that means fruitful labor for me. Yet which I shall choose I cannot tell. [23]† I am hard pressed between the two. My desire is to depart and be with Christ, for that is far better. [24]†But to remain in the flesh is more necessary on your account. [25]† Convinced of this, I know that I will remain and continue with you all, for your progress and joy in the faith, [26]†so that in me you may have ample cause to glory in Christ Jesus, because of my coming to you again.

[27]†Only let your manner of life be worthy[1] of the gospel of Christ, so that whether I come and see you or am absent, I may hear of you that you are standing firm in one spirit, with one mind striving side by side for the faith of the gospel, [28]†and not frightened in anything by your opponents. This is a clear sign to them of their destruction, but of your salvation, and that from God. [29]†For it has been granted to you that for the sake of Christ you should not only believe in him but also suffer for his sake, [30]†engaged in the same conflict that you saw I had and now hear that I still have.

Christ’s Example of Humility

2 [1] So if there is any encouragement in Christ, any comfort from love, any participation in the Spirit, any affection and sympathy, [2] complete my joy by being of the same mind, having the same love, being in full accord and of one mind. [3] Do nothing from rivalry or conceit, but in humility count others more significant than yourselves. [4] Let each of you look not only to his own interests, but also to the interests of others. [5] Have this mind among yourselves, which is yours in Christ Jesus,[2] [6] who, though he was in the form of God, did not count equality with God a thing to be grasped, [7] but made himself nothing, taking the form of a servant,[3] being born in the likeness of men. [8] And being found in human form, he humbled himself by becoming obedient to the point of death, even death on a cross. [9] Therefore God has highly exalted him and bestowed on him the name that is above every name, [10] so that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, in heaven and on earth and under the earth, [11] and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

Lights in the World

12 ‡ ‡ † Therefore, my beloved, as you have always obeyed, so now, not only as in my presence but much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling, 13 † for it is God who works in you, both to will and to work for his good pleasure.
14 † Do all things without grumbling or questioning, 15 † that you may be blameless and innocent, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and twisted generation, among whom you shine as lights in the world, 16 † holding fast to the word of life, so that in the day of Christ I may be proud that I did not run in vain or labor in vain. 17 † Even if I am to be poured out as a drink offering upon the sacrificial offering of your faith, I am glad and rejoice with you all. 18 † Likewise you also should be glad and rejoice with me.

Timothy and Epaphroditus

19 ‡‡I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy to you soon, so that I too may be cheered by news of you. 20For I have no one like him, who will be genuinely concerned for your welfare. 21 † For they all seek their own interests, not those of Jesus Christ. 22 †But you know Timothy's[1] proven worth, how as a son[2] with a father he has served with me in the gospel. 23†I hope therefore to send him just as soon as I see how it will go with me, 24†and I trust in the Lord that shortly I myself will come also.

25 †I have thought it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus my brother and fellow worker and fellow soldier, and your messenger and minister to my need, 26 ‡for he has been longing for you all and has been distressed because you heard that he was ill. 27Indeed he was ill, near to death. But God had mercy on him, and not only on him but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow. 28I am the more eager to send him, therefore, that you may rejoice at seeing him again, and that I may be less anxious. 29So receive him in the Lord with all joy, and honor such men, 30†for he nearly died for the work of Christ, risking his life to complete what was lacking in your service to me.

Righteousness Through Faith in Christ

3 [1]‡† Finally, my brothers,[3] rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you is no trouble to me and is safe for you.

[2]† Look out for the dogs, look out for the evildoers, look out for those who mutilate the flesh. [3]† For we are the circumcision, who worship by the Spirit of God[4] and glory in Christ Jesus and put no confidence in the flesh
— [4]‡† though I myself have reason for confidence in the flesh also. If anyone else thinks he has reason for confidence in the flesh, I have more: [5]† circumcised on the eighth day, of the people of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews; as to the law, a Pharisee; [6]† as to zeal, a persecutor of the church; as to righteousness under the law,[5] blameless.
[7]† But whatever gain I had, I counted as loss for the sake of Christ. [8]† Indeed,
I count everything as loss because of the surpassing worth of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For his sake I have suffered the loss of all things and count them as rubbish, in order that I may gain Christ [9]† and be found in him, not having a righteousness of my own that comes from the law, but that which comes through faith in Christ, the righteousness from God that depends on faith— [10]‡† that I may know him and the power of his resurrection, and may share his sufferings, becoming like him in his death, [11]† that by any means possible I may attain the resurrection from the dead.

Straining Toward the Goal

12 ‡ † Not that I have already obtained this or am already perfect, but I press on to make it my own, because Christ Jesus has made me his own.
13 ‡ † Brothers, I do not consider that I have made it my own. But one thing I do: forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, 14 † I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus. 15 † Let those of us who are mature think this way, and if in anything you think otherwise, God will reveal that also to you. 16 † Only let us hold true to what we have attained.

17 † Brothers, join in imitating me, and keep your eyes on those who walk according to the example you have in us. 18 † For many, of whom I have often told you and now tell you even with tears, walk as enemies of the cross of Christ. 19 † Their end is destruction, their god is their belly, and they glory in their shame, with minds set on earthly things. 20 † But our citizenship is in heaven, and from it we await a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ, 21 † who will transform our lowly body to be like his glorious body, by the power that enables him even to subject all things to himself.

4 1 † Therefore, my brothers,[1] whom I love and long for, my joy and crown, stand firm thus in the Lord, my beloved.

Exhortation, Encouragement, and Prayer

2 ‡ † I entreat Euodia and I entreat Syntyche to agree in the Lord. 3 † Yes, I ask you also, true companion,[1] help these women, who have labored side by side with me in the gospel together with Clement and the rest of my fellow workers, whose names are in the book of life.

4 † Rejoice in the Lord always; again I will say, Rejoice. 5 † Let your reasonableness be known to everyone. The Lord is at hand; 6 † do not be anxious about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. 7 † And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus.

8 † Finally, brothers, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is commendable, if there is any excellence, if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things. 9 † What you have learned and received and heard and seen in me—practice these things, and the God of peace will be with you.

God’s Provision

10 ‡ † I rejoiced in the Lord greatly that now at length you have revived your concern for me. You were indeed concerned for me, but you had no opportunity. 11 † Not that I am speaking of being in need, for I have learned in whatever situation I am to be content. 12 † I know how to be brought low, and I know how to abound. In any and every circumstance, I have learned the secret of facing plenty and hunger, abundance and need. 13 † I can do all things through him who strengthens me.
14 † Yet it was kind of you to share[2] my trouble. 15 † And you Philippians yourselves know that in the beginning of the gospel, when I left Macedonia, no church entered into partnership with me in giving and receiving, except you only. 16 Even in Thessalonica you sent me help for my needs once and again. 17 Not that I seek the gift, but I seek the fruit that increases to your credit.[1] 18 † I have received full payment, and more. I am well supplied, having received from Epaphroditus the gifts you sent, a fragrant offering, a sacrifice acceptable and pleasing to God. 19 † And my God will supply every need of yours according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus. 20 † To our God and Father be glory forever and ever. Amen.

Final Greetings

[21]†† Greet every saint in Christ Jesus. The brothers who are with me greet you. [22]† All the saints greet you, especially those of Caesar's household.

[23]† The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit.

Philippians

Overview

Author
Paul the apostle

Date
c AD 60

Places
Philippi (Macedonia); Thessalonica

People
Paul; Timothy; Epaphroditus; Euodia; Syntyche; the imperial guard; "those of Caesar's household"

Purpose
Paul describes a life worthy of the Gospel (1:27)

Law Themes
Suffering, uncertainty, and personal sacrifice; rivalry over the Gospel; growth in humility and right-mindedness

Gospel Themes
Joy in Christ; Jesus' exaltation after the cross; righteousness through faith in Christ; heavenly citizenship

Memory Verses
To live is Christ (1:21–26); Christ's humility and exaltation (2:4–11); righteous through faith (3:7–11); press on (3:12–14); citizenship in heaven (3:20–21)

Introduction to Philippians

Reading Philippians

A foreign-born man received his citizenship document from the hands of an imperial clerk as others might receive and cradle a child. To be born a citizen of Tarsus or some other city might stir a person's pride. But to receive Roman citizenship—that came with privileges, which a father passed to his sons. Roman citizenship elevated a family above the tortured rabble who could only hope to prove themselves worthy and free.

Paul appealed to his Roman citizenship when he first visited Philippi (Ac 16:35–39). As residents of a Roman colony populated by former Roman soldiers, the Philippians well understood and appreciated citizenship. Paul reminded the Philippian congregation that, through Christ, they had received citizenship in heaven. Christ's heroic efforts on their behalf allowed them to enjoy a manner of life worthy of His Gospel.

Setting

After a decisive battle in 42 BC, Emperor Octavian established Philippi as a Roman colony and gave the city a special status, equal to that of cities in Italy and free from direct taxation. Though there are many inscriptions and relief carvings for various deities on the acropolis at Philippi, the favored god was Silvanus, the Roman god of the countryside and agriculture. Paul would have entered Philippi on the Via Egnatia, the great road through Macedonia. He likely met with Lydia (Ac 16:11–15) beside the stream that flowed near the east gate. Churches dedicated to Paul were built on this location. Archaeologists have located the Roman forum at the city center, lined with shops and fountains, where Paul likely stood before the city magistrates after his arrest and public beating (Ac 16:19–23). They have also identified a possible site nearby for the prison (Ac 16:24).

Central Issue

Philippians is a missionary thank-you letter. Scholars have carefully studied Paul's style in the Letter because of its relationship to Greek rhetoric. Paul's opening prayer (1:3–11) anticipates all the major themes of the Book (see Luther's summary below). Paul stated the key theme in 1:27—living in accord with the Gospel of Christ. He illustrated the paradox of human responsibility in view of God's work in us and the paradox of joy during suffering. Paul presented Jesus and himself as examples of living worthy of the Gospel.

Paul also warned the Philippians about (1) people who spread the Gospel from bad motives (1:15–17), (2) the circumcision group (3:2–7; see note, Gal 2:4), and (3) "enemies of the cross" (3:18). These groups were not necessarily part of the congregation at Philippi, but were affecting other congregations and spreading problems.

Luther on Philippians

In this epistle St. Paul praises and admonishes the Philippians that they abide and carry on in the true faith and increase in love. But since injury is always done to faith by false apostles and teachers of works, he warns them against these men and points out to them many different preachers—some good, some bad—including even himself and his disciples, Timothy and Epaphroditus. This he does in chapters 1 and 2.

In chapter 3 he rejects that human righteousness not based on faith, which is taught and held by the false apostles. He offers himself as an example: he had lived gloriously in this kind of righteousness, and yet now holds it to be nothing, for the sake of the righteousness of Christ. For human righteousness makes the belly its god, and makes men enemies of the cross of Christ.

In chapter 4 he exhorts them to peace and good outward conduct toward each other, and thanks them for the gift they sent him. (AE 35:385)

Challenges for Readers

Place and Date. The Letter does not make absolutely clear when or where Paul wrote it. Traditionally, it is regarded as one of Paul's Prison Epistles written from Rome. See p 2042.

Composition. Paul made a concluding statement at 3:1 and changed his tone thereafter. Also, 4:10–20 could stand as a separate Letter. In view of these points, some critics have described Philippians as a collection of separate letters combined by a later editor. However, these points could simply indicate how Paul worked on this Epistle. Notably, the themes for the entire Letter are introduced in ch 1.

The Humility of Christ. The Christ-hymn in 2:4–11 has challenged interpreters. The Early Church Fathers struggled with the statement that Christ "made Himself nothing" or "emptied Himself" (see note, 2:7). Critics have struggled to reconcile the hymn's advanced Christology with their theories that distinguishing Jesus' divine and human natures was a late development in Christian teachings. Though early Christians did not settle on specific wording right away, these doctrines of the creeds were certainly taught. See p 1975.

Suffering. Paul's intensely personal reflections on suffering and God's will (1:19–26; 3:10–11) illustrate his maturity in the faith as well as his human weaknesses. It is not always clear how his reflections apply to us personally.

Blessings for Readers

Philippians reveals Paul's intense love for and joy in this congregation. The warmth he shows toward them is unique among his Letters, since the congregation seems to need less discipline than others. He describes the Christian life in all its blessings and goodness, which come from the Lord's work in us.

As you study Philippians, the Lord will work in your life, transforming your mind to be like Christ's. Pray that you may receive the fullness of His joy in all circumstances and live worthy of His Gospel. For your righteousness is through faith in Christ alone. Knowing Him has "surpassing worth" (3:8).

OUTLINE

I. Salutation (1:1–2)
II. Thanksgiving and Prayer (1:3–11)
III. News about Paul's Preaching (1:12–26)
  A. Paul's Imprisonment (1:12–18)
  B. Life in Christ (1:19–26)
IV. Exhortations (1:27–2:18)
  A. Behave as Citizens Worthy of the Gospel (1:27–30)
  B. Christ's Example of Humility (2:1–11)
  C. Lights in the World (2:12–18)
V. Travel Plans for Timothy and Epaphroditus (2:19–30)
VI. Further Exhortations (3:1–4:9)
  A. Warning against Mutilators (3:1–11)
  B. Straining toward the Goal by Imitating Paul (3:12–4:1)
  C. Exhortation, Encouragement, and Prayer (4:2–9)
VII. Thanks for God's Provision and the Gifts Received (4:10–20)
VIII. Final Greetings (4:21–23)

- Urban Christianity

Urban Christianity

Paul's Letter to the Philippians was addressed to urban Christians. A review of Philippi's history shows the close connection between early Christianity and the urban setting. It also affirms that the Church of today dare not neglect the city.

The New Testament Greek word for church (ekklesia) literally means "called out." It refers to a group of people whom God has called to faith and in so doing has separated from the world. It is significant that the term refers not to a building but to people. Rather than thinking of going to church, Christians are to think in terms of being the Church! The place, then, is much less important than the people, who are God's temple (1Co 3:16).

An Ancient Roman City

Located at the northern end of the Aegean Sea, the city of Philippi was set on a hill overlooking a fertile plain and surrounded by mountains. This area of Greece is known as Macedonia. The Gangites River flowed about a mile east of the city, and its port city of Neapolis was 10 miles away on the Aegean Sea.

After 359 BC, Philip II, father of Alexander the Great, annexed the city and its surrounding territory. Philip II enlarged and fortified the city and then renamed it Philippi, after himself.

The city had natural springs and a deposit of gold nearby. For many years, great riches were extracted from the gold mines around Philippi. These treasures helped both Philip and Alexander maintain their armies and expand their empire.

By the time the Romans conquered the old Macedonian Empire in 168 BC, about two hundred years after its founding by Philip, the gold mines around Philippi were exhausted and the city was in a state of decline.

In 42 BC, the city witnessed a battle in which Mark Antony and Octavian defeated Brutus and Cassius Longinus—the assassins of Julius Caesar—for control of the Roman Empire. Octavian, who became the "Caesar Augustus" of the Christmas story, granted the city the status of Roman colony and made its people Roman citizens. This gave the people the rights to vote and to have their own senate.

This began the city's period of greatest growth, as Mark Antony settled some of his military veterans there to keep the city secure. Future rulers of the Roman Empire continued the policy of settling retired veterans in Philippi. As a Roman colony, Philippi became a miniature Rome. Its inhabitants were primarily Roman, and the Philippians took great pride in being Roman. No doubt this was the background for Paul's reference to the believer's heavenly citizenship (3:20–21). The people dressed as Romans, used Roman coins, and maintained Latin rather than Greek as the city's official language.

The Philippi Paul Knew

In the apostle Paul's day, Philippi was the leading city of one of the four political regions of the old Macedonian Empire. The Egnatian Way, the main road from Rome to Asia, ran through Philippi. This made the city strategically important to the empire as a commercial center at the crossroads between Europe and Asia. That Philippi was a Roman colony may explain why Paul does not quote from the Old Testament in his Letter to the Philippians.

Paul visited Philippi on his second missionary journey because the Holy Spirit had prevented him from going northward into Asia Minor. He had received a vision to come over to Macedonia and help them (Ac 16:9). Paul and his companions landed at Neapolis and traveled inland to the city of Philippi. After they arrived in Philippi, Paul, Silas, Timothy, and possibly Luke preached on the Sabbath to a group of women from the city at a "place of prayer" located outside the gates by the Gangites River (Ac 16:13). One of their first converts was Lydia, a seller of purple fabric and apparently a prosperous woman.

Paul's ministry in Philippi was anything but easy. He faced persecution during his short stay there. He cast out a demon from a young slave girl. Following this, Paul and Silas were arrested, beaten, and imprisoned. They were set free at night when the prison was shaken by an earthquake that opened the doors and broke the prisoners' chains; the next day they were released and asked to leave the city. Upon his release, Paul continued on toward Thessalonica and Berea.

On a later occasion, Paul and his traveling companions stopped at least briefly at Philippi (Ac 20:6). The Christian congregation that Paul and his co-workers founded there was notable for its generosity (Php 4:15–16).

The Modern City

Since the advent of the modern world, the majority of people around the earth have lived in cities, where industries and employment are. That is also where some of society's biggest problems are. Urban ministry is more important than ever before.

It is tempting for churches to give up on city ministries, where the work can be frustrating and even dangerous. The rewards can seem minimal, especially in terms of financial income from inner-city churches.

We need to remember, with Paul, that the Good News about Jesus is for everyone. "God so loved the world …" And Jesus Himself has commissioned us to make disciples of all nations and all people. No one is left out. To close our eyes to any class or group of people is to forget that God, in His mercy, has included us as recipients of His love in Christ.

Paul and the early Christians did not avoid the cities. That is where they established most of the earliest congregations. Even Corinth, which had a terrible reputation, became the location of a thriving church. Today's churches need to meet the challenges of city work. With God's help, the obstacles can be overcome. Perhaps as never before, amid the concrete, bricks, and steel of urban life, we are faced with a wide-open field ripe for the harvest!

The great cities of the world—as much as the suburbs, small towns, and rural communities—are crying out for the Gospel. Jesus wept over His beloved Jerusalem (Lk 19:41), and Paul longed to bring the Gospel to the people of Rome: "[I pray that] by God's will I may now at last succeed in coming to you" (Rm 1:10).

Footnotes

Footnotes for Philippians, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:1 Or slaves; Greek bondservants
- [2] 1:1 Or bishops; Greek episkopoi
- [3] 1:1 Or servants, or ministers; Greek diakonoi
- [4] 1:7 Or you all have fellowship with me in grace
- [1] 1:12 Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church; also verse 14
- [2] 1:13 Greek in the whole praetorium
- [3] 1:14 Some manuscripts add of God
- [1] 1:27 Greek Only behave as citizens worthy

Footnotes for Philippians, Chapter 2

- [2] 2:5 Or which was also in Christ Jesus
- [3] 2:7 Greek bondservant
- [1] 2:22 Greek his
- [2] 2:22 Greek child

Footnotes for Philippians, Chapter 3

- [3] 3:1 Or brothers and sisters; also verses 13, 17
- [4] 3:3 Some manuscripts God in spirit
- [5] 3:6 Greek in the law

Footnotes for Philippians, Chapter 4

- [1] 4:1 Or brothers and sisters; also verses 8, 21
- [1] 4:3 Or loyal Syzygus; Greek true yokefellow
- [2] 4:14 Or have fellowship in
- [1] 4:17 Or I seek the profit that accrues to your account

Study Notes

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:1 Timothy. See pp 2066–67. servants. Or, "slaves." Used in the NT in a positive and negative sense. According to our fallen human nature, we are described as "slaves" of sin; i.e., we have denied God in order to join the enemy. As such traitors, we have no rights, nor do we possess the ability to free ourselves (Jn 8:34; Rm 6:20). As regenerate believers with souls inspired by the Holy Spirit, we are servants in the sense of being duty bound to carry out the will of our Master (Mt 10:24–25; 1Pt 2:16). saints. See p 1904. Philippi. See pp 2029–30. overseers and deacons. See pp 1902–3.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:2 See pp 1899–1901.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:1–2 Paul introduces his Letter to the Christians in Philippi with descriptions of who they are and what that will mean in their lives. As a servant of Christ Jesus, Paul takes great pains to be faithful to the ministry entrusted to him. Paul means to encourage every reader by describing us as saints and by announcing that the words of the Letter to follow, which are inspired by the Holy Spirit, will bring grace and peace to us. • Thank You, God, for making us Your saints and for providing Your Word of grace and peace to sustain us. Amen.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:3 The faith and support of the Philippians encourage Paul.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:4 joy. See p 1903. The Philippians have given him joy by joining together with him in the Gospel. See pp 2029–30.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:5 From the very first day (Ac 20:18; see pp 2029–30) that Paul shared the Gospel with the Philippians, they joined together with him by believing the Gospel and seeking to extend that Gospel to others. partnership. Gk koinonia, see p 1903.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:6 bring it to completion. When Jesus had completed His work of redemption, He said on the cross, "It is finished." Here Paul uses a related word to assure Christians that God will also complete the work of redemption in our lives. day of Jesus Christ. When Christ will return to judge the living and the dead (Mt 26:64). See "day of the LORD," p 1079.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:7 heart. The place of affection and deep thought. See note, Eph 1:18. Paul has the Philippian Christians continually in mind with deep affection. partakers. Gk sygkoinonos, "participants," "sharers." See note, v 5. The Philippians joined Paul in gratefully receiving God's grace through His Word and promises. imprisonment. See pp 2029–30. defense and confirmation of the gospel. Not a call to arms but a response to those who speak against the Gospel (Ac 9:22). The Gospel does not undermine the OT but fulfills it (Mt 5:17). Jesus is the Christ to whom all the promises and prophets of the OT looked forward. Jesus' life, works, and words demonstrated this clearly. The NT relates that the Gospel is confirmed as it continually fulfills what the prophets predicted (e.g., Ac 2; cf 2Pt 1:19). See p 1245.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:8 witness. See p 1904. Paul appeals to God as a witness of how strong his affections are toward the Philippians. One's witness to oneself was regarded with suspicion (Jn 8:13). Other witnesses were required to verify the truth. Even Jesus deferred to the witness of the Father regarding the truth of who He was (Jn 8:18). yearn … affection. Lit, "desire … with the inward parts"; the location within a person where the deepest feelings reside. Paul cares about the same things in the same way as Christ Jesus.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:9–11 "These prayers and passages about our ignorance and inability have been written for us. … We should first thank God from the heart that by His Son He has delivered us from the darkness of ignorance and the captivity of sin and death" (FC SD II 15). Paul prays for the cause of salvation (knowledge, discernment, through Jesus Christ) and the effect of salvation (love abounding, approving what is excellent, blameless at Judgment Day). Every other Christian doctrine can be placed under one of these two headings.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:9 Fallen human nature continually produces counterfeit notions of love. Paul prays that our love may abound, not just more and more (quantity) but with knowledge and discernment (quality). Love does not mean indulging our appetites, nor is it empty sentiment. We depend on God's revelation in the Word to know, in fact, what love is.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:10 approve what is excellent. Knowledge and discernment (v 9) allow us to test and recognize the things that have value because they endure, such as truth and mercy. pure and blameless. The Gospel is the most excellent of all things because it declares God's grace in Christ and produces faith in that grace. You will be found pure and blameless because it is God's own work (1Jn 3:9). day of Christ. See note, v 6.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:11 fruit of righteousness. Thoughts, words, and deeds (in fact, the whole life) that are produced in a person who is righteous. The righteousness that God declares to people produces a regenerate soul that actually thinks, speaks, and does what is right. through Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ is the measure of righteousness. By becoming a man, He actually lived out that righteousness—He lived "rightly" or perfectly. His life is provided as a covering for us by grace and the forgiveness of sins. His life is actually lived out through us as His Spirit regenerates and moves us to follow His example.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:3–11 Paul continues the introduction of his Letter to the Philippians by expressing his prayer, appreciation, and yearning for these fellow believers. We who claim the Christian faith may see, by contrast, how far our thoughts, passions, and labors miss the focus of the Christian life. Yet, God still welcomes our prayer. Confidence that God will complete the good work He has begun in us is still justified. Christ's righteousness is abundantly available to us in His Word. • Dear Lord Jesus, fill our lives with the fruit of Your righteousness that we might abound in love, approve what is excellent, and be pure and blameless on the day of Your return. Amen.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:12 brothers. Spiritual responsibility began with the adult men in the churches (Ac 2:5; Eph 6:4). As God's children, they were "brothers." See p 1901. what has happened. Paul's imprisonment, either in Caesarea or Rome. advance the gospel. Paul's situation brought him into contact with many people who otherwise might not have known anything about him. Paul had opportunities to proclaim the Gospel before civil and religious leaders in the hearing of soldiers and countless others. As a result, people talked about him and the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:13 imperial guard. A special class of soldier, assigned to specific tasks for the emperor, senators, or other officials of the government. all the rest. Anyone else who served the authorities (e.g., slaves). my imprisonment is for Christ. Authorities arrested Paul because he bore witness to the truth about Jesus Christ, which liberated people. Roman civil rulers and Jewish religious rulers were afraid they would lose control and advantage over their subjects.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:14 brothers. Public ministers, not just any member of the Roman churches. confident … by my imprisonment. Those who were close to Paul during his imprisonment had several advantages: They could see that Paul's faith was not discouraged, but was bold and lively (e.g., John and Peter in Ac 4:23–31). They could see how God makes things work for good, as Paul goes on to describe. They would have heard more of the Word directly from Paul. bold to speak the word. Likely refers to a person of authority and responsibility addressing others in public (preaching).

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:15 Both Jews and Gentiles might talk with others about the prisoner Paul and why he was a prisoner. Some would mock Paul (Ac 17:32–34). Others would pass on the Good News that Paul confessed. That is what the Good News inspires a person to do.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:16 defense of the gospel. See note, v 7.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:17 rivalry. See note, v 15. thinking to afflict me. They either presented the Gospel as nonsense, or they presented the Gospel to gather a following for themselves.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:18 What then? A rhetorical question introduces Paul's conclusion: God will make the proclamation effective. Cypr: "Paul … was not speaking of heretics. … He was speaking of brethren, whether as walking disorderly and against the discipline of the Church, or as keeping the truth of the Gospel with the fear of God" (ANF 5:382).

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:12–18 Paul demonstrates that his imprisonment does not defeat the Gospel, as some had feared. God's wisdom and love so far surpass our abilities that He can and does still bring the truth of the Gospel to light despite all opposition, just as Jesus fulfilled all righteousness and conquered death by His resurrection. • Almighty and merciful God, forgive our contrary human nature, and give us grace in every situation to hear and pass on the truth and mercy revealed in Your Word. Amen.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:19 Spirit of Jesus Christ. The Holy Spirit, the Third Person of the Trinity, by whom Jesus was conceived in the Virgin Mary, and who came upon Him visibly in His Baptism. Jesus promised the Spirit to His apostles (Jn 14; 16), breathed the Spirit on them to give them authority (Jn 20:21–23), and sent the Spirit to confirm their faith and mission all through the Book of Acts. my deliverance. Paul confessed that God's will and presence means that he will be saved. He did not yet know if "salvation" (deliverance) would mean release from prison or from life through martyrdom (delivered eternally).

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:20 honored in my body. If Paul lived, his body would honor Jesus Christ, because the Gospel was proclaimed through him. If Paul died, he bore witness about life eternal that cannot be taken away. "It is God's will and clear command that believers should do good works. The Holy Spirit works this in believers, and God is pleased with good works for Christ's sake" (FC SD IV 38).

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:21 If you live as a Christian, you live by Christ's grace, in His image, to serve as Christ the people around you. If you die, you learn the fullness of what you had known in part and your fallen human nature no longer hinders you.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:22 live in the flesh. Earthly life (cf v 24). fruitful labor. Laboring for ourselves bears poor fruit (cf Rm 6:21). But serving others with God's Word evidences a life that endures forever. choose. Paul cannot choose, and the choice is not his to make. The Lord who made you and gives you life has numbered your days (Ps 139:16). He also prepares the good content of those days (Eph 2:10).

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:23 Paul confesses what we know: to be with Christ in paradise is the absolute fulfillment of every good desire (cf Lk 23:43).

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:24 remain in the flesh. Paul would continue to serve God as an apostle of Jesus Christ in this world (cf v 22).

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:25 I will remain. Considering the vision God granted him in Ac 23:11, Paul expects that the Lord will preserve his physical life. progress and joy. Paul, as an apostle, serves God as an authoritative spokesman of His truth and grace. God's Word makes progress as it makes our regenerate soul more capable, articulate, and dominant in relation to our contrary human nature. Progressing in faith and life increases our joy as we experience God's will for us (Jn 16:24).

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:26 glory in Christ Jesus. Christ's life worked blessing for us. Knowing more about His life gives more cause to relate His life (glory) to others. my coming to you again. Paul anticipated that Caesar would free him, after which he would revisit congregations, as was his custom.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:27 worthy of the gospel. Consistent with what the Gospel teaches and inspires in a believer. in one spirit, with one mind. Since the Spirit regenerates according to Christ's image, they share the same mind, which Paul calls them to use in 2:5. striving … for the faith. Due to Adam's fall, everyone has turned away (Rm 3:10–18). The Gospel produces faith; it is not the product of human thought, imagination, or decision. faith of the gospel. Eternal and absolute because it holds the truth and does so by God's grace and power. See note, Eph 2:8–9.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:28 opponents. Paul and the Gospel he proclaimed met some opposition among Gentiles (Ac 17:32), but most opposition came from Jews (Ac 13:45, 15:1). their destruction. Perishing under the condemnation of their sin because they despise God's grace (1Pt 2:7–8).

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:29 Believing in Christ is more than just knowing and liking what He did for you. Believing in Christ means devotion to His purpose, which will always include suffering at the hands of those who would oppose Him. God enables such devotion.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:30 same conflict. The conflict is between truth/mercy and falsehood/condemnation. Ac 16:16–24 records the conflict Paul had in Philippi, being beaten and jailed because he cast a demon out of a young woman who told fortunes for her masters.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 1:19–30 Paul turns his attention from the question of whether he will live or die to a more important issue: what it means to live in this world. If God grants you a day in this world, it is because He would have you serve others by living and speaking in a way that is consistent with (worthy of) the Gospel. Our ability to live this way is a product of the salvation God lavishes on us in the very words we read here and in the Spirit that accompanies those words. • Dear Lord Jesus, grant us grace and presence of mind to live in a way that agrees with Your Gospel and to strive for advancing the faith in the hearts and minds of others. Amen.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:1 participation in the Spirit. "Fellowship" or joining together of the Holy Spirit with the believer, which comes about through the inspired Word. See p 1903.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:2 one mind. Christ is the head of His Body, the Church, which He calls to be of one mind and to think the same things. Scripture reveals to us Christ's mind. The Spirit gives us a renewed mind.

Love wills to extend the kingdom of God's grace to everyone. This is the single-mindedness of Jesus, of Paul, and of God's Church.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:3 count others more significant. View yourself conservatively: other people are greater in need or in wisdom. Such a perspective leads you to help or to be helped.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:4 With God's providence as our foundation, we relinquish concerns for ourselves in order to care for others.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:5 Have this mind. Paul presents the imperative to think with our minds as Christ thought with His. A soul regenerated in Christ's image (Ti 3:4–7) has the revelation of Christ through the Word.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:6–11 Written in Gk as a hymn. See note, Col 3:16.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:6–8 Paul repeats the Gk term morphe, "form," and also uses schema, "manner," or "shape." The Son of God took human form, a body like ours except without sin. Note how here and elsewhere Paul's account of Jesus' life fits readily with the historical accounts in the Gospels.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:6 form of God. As the Son of God, Jesus is God (Col 1:15). form. Not simply appearance. equality with God. Jesus, as the true Son of God, cannot be less than fully God. He is equal with His Father according to His divine nature. grasped. Fully God, He felt no necessity to cling to the honor or privileges that were His as God's Son (Jn 13:3–4). God grants us a similar ability to empty ourselves in the service of others, because we are His children too.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:7 made Himself nothing. Lit, "emptied Himself." "[The Son of Man] was received into God when He was conceived of the Holy Spirit in His mother's womb, and His human nature was personally united with the Son of the Highest. Christ always had this majesty according to the personal union. Yet He abstained from using it in the state of His humiliation, and because of this He truly increased in all wisdom and favor with God and men. Therefore, He did not always use this majesty, but only when it pleased Him" (FC Ep VIII 15–16). form of a servant. Jesus was, in every way, completely a servant to those around Him. See note, v 6. likeness of men. Not mere resemblance. He was conceived as a man like any other man, except without sin.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:8 human form. Jesus shared all the characteristics of a human being. obedient. Jesus put all of His thoughts, words, and actions under the direction of His Father's will. death on a cross. The most despised and cursed death. According to OT Law, being hung on a tree meant you were cut off from God. You were left there all day as an example to others (cf Dt 21:22–23). The Romans crucified criminals by the main entry roads into a city in order to humiliate them and to warn those who entered not to make the same mistake.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:9 above every name. In ancient times, people were given names to describe them. The name of Jesus describes the essence of who He is: "salvation is of the Lord." There is no other savior or means of salvation. "After His resurrection, He entirely laid aside the form of a servant, but not the human nature, and was established in the full use, manifestation, and declaration of the divine majesty. In this way He entered into His glory" (FC Ep VIII 16).
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:10 should bow. To demonstrate submission, honor, and reverence. See p 1276. under the earth. A figure of speech that refers to the souls of those who have gone not to heaven, but to damnation in the "lower regions" (1Pt 3:18–20).
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:11 Jesus Christ is Lord. An early creed. See p 1975. Jesus (Gk) or Joshua (Hbr) is the name given to the Son conceived by the Holy Spirit (Mt 1:21) in the Virgin Mary. Christ (Gk) or Messiah (Hbr) is the title of the One whom God promised to send to save His people. This Jesus, who is the Christ, demonstrated Himself to be Lord over all by His nature, life, death, and resurrection. No one is Lord over Him, but He is Lord over all. See p 2098. glory. See p 1902.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:1–11 Paul couples the imperatives of a Christian life with a description of Christ, who makes that life possible. We are certainly not lords, nor have we any excuse for refusing to honor Jesus Christ as Lord. Yet the fulfillment of the imperative to live like Christ is supported by all that Christ gives freely: the encouragement, comfort, love, and mind of Christ, along with the participation of the Spirit. • Dear Lord Jesus, place firmly in our minds and hearts both who You are and what You are so that we may proclaim Your grace and image to others. Amen.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:12–18 Therefore. Paul's teaching in vv 12–18 flows from His teaching about the humility of Christ in vv 1–11.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:12 my beloved. Plural. The congregation—not an individual—is described in this passage. See p 1901. always obeyed. Paul highly regarded the Philippians and spoke charitably toward them. work out your own salvation. Cf v 13; God's action is the cause of the Philippians' salvation and good works. with fear and trembling. The congregation cannot boast about its accomplishments, least of all their salvation. Paul commanded that fear and trembling accompany the lives of believers to keep our rebellious, sinful human nature (Rm 5:6–10) subdued in the service of God and neighbor.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:13 God who works in you. We live with our fallen human nature. But God works in us by subduing our sinful nature, regenerating our souls, and giving us His Spirit of grace. "The preaching and hearing of God's Word are the Holy Spirit's instruments. By, with, and through these instruments the Spirit desires to work effectively, to convert people to God, and to work in them both to will and to do" (FC SD II 52). His good pleasure. God is pleased when His creation lives and thrives, meets all its potential, and has life to the fullest.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:14 grumbling or questioning. A problem indicative of the sinful human nature, which is selfish and unbelieving.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:15 children of God. God provides regeneration so that by His Word and Spirit we are a new creation according to the inner person. This nature, generated by God Himself, is inclined to live as His child. without blemish. Everything that is wrong with us has been forgiven by the Lord Jesus. According to our new nature, there is nothing wrong (1Jn 3:8–9). a crooked and twisted generation. God created us to live in perfect harmony with Him, His creation, and one another at every point of contact, in every way. Since the fall, our human nature contradicts that design at every point; nothing matches or fits right. you shine as lights. An important theme for Paul and John. Light may be directed or reflected. We reflect God's light (His truth and grace) by receiving it and directing that light to shine on others.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:16 the word of life. The Holy Scriptures. God gives life through the Word, as creation and the Gospel show. See p 971. the day of Christ. See note, 1:6. proud. Paul took pride in the Word of God he preached. run in vain or labor in vain. Paul uses the term "walk" to describe the Christian life (see p 1904). Life is active, with a path to follow, and a goal. Because Paul's life was vigorous, he ran rather than walked. He labored because of his confidence in the Word of God.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:17 drink offering. Wine or oil was poured out in the OT sanctuary (Nu 28:7). sacrificial offering of your faith. Lit, "the sacrifice and service of your faith." Faith produces a sacrificial attitude (cf vv 4–8), which frees us to lay down our temporary physical life in the interest of eternal life (Rm 12:1–3).

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:18 rejoice. See pp 2029–30.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:12–18 Paul's exhortation flows from the previous section revealing the significance of Jesus' life and sacrifice. Like Paul, our labor would be meaningless and of no use to others if we lived crookedly and perversely as the world around us lives. But God is at work in us, moving us to hold fast to His Word of life, by which He extends His image and kingdom to others. • Dear Lord Jesus, please work in us to will and to do Your good pleasure, that we may be blameless in this crooked generation and blameless in the day of Your return. Amen.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:19–20 Timothy. See pp 2066–67. genuinely concerned. Timothy had a truly humble, servant attitude.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:21 See notes, 1:15, 28.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:22 as a son with a father. Paul was instrumental in the conversion of Timothy and thought of him as a son (1Tm 1:18; 2Tm 2:1). Cf Phm 10. served with me. Timothy traveled and worked with Paul (Ac 16:1, 3; 17:14–15; 18:5; 19:22; 20:4) and was sent on Paul's behalf to teach.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:23 how it will go. At Paul's trial.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:24 Cf 1:19–26. Paul hoped for release.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:25 Epaphroditus. A messenger between Paul and the churches, generously described by Paul.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:26–27 ill … near to death. Epaphroditus was suffering from some physical ailment that posed a real threat to his life. God had mercy. God shows deep consideration for the struggles His servants endure and grants relief. He hears our prayers and heals us too. See note, 1Co 12:9. sorrow upon sorrow. Paul was already sorrowful over the condition of Epaphroditus. His grief would increase over Epaphroditus's death.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:30 he nearly died for the work of Christ. Epaphroditus worked and traveled extensively so that he could deliver the support for Paul that the Philippians had sent with him. This self-denial made him vulnerable to an illness that almost took his life. what was lacking in your service to me. The Philippians wanted to support Paul in spreading the Gospel, but Paul had been traveling and now was under arrest. Epaphroditus brought both financial support and moral support from the Philippians.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 2:19–30 Paul takes a moment to inform the Philippians about the significance and well-being of two close associates, Timothy and Epaphroditus. These men provide remarkable examples of devotion to the Lord's mission and to His missionary Paul. God's grace makes a person genuinely concerned for the welfare of others and sustains us in such service. • Dear Lord Jesus, by Your mercy, make us faithful servants, looking after the welfare of Your fellow servants. Amen.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:1 Finally. Yet he continues for two more chapters! Paul embarks on new topics and emphases, extending his conclusion. my brothers. See note, 1:12. write the same things. Paul does not need to add new things, but to remind readers of the truth they have already heard, as Jesus told His apostles (Jn 14:26). safe for you. Throughout the OT, God continually warned Israel about forgetting His Word and admonished them to remember it. Reminders of the truth provide safety against the constant assault of falsehood.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:2 dogs. Because dogs bit and devoured the flesh of others, Paul used the term to describe the Jews who insisted on circumcision. Dogs were a fairly despised animal in biblical times because they preyed on the sick, dying, or dead (e.g., dogs devoured Jezebel after she was thrown from her window, 2Ki 9:36). mutilate the flesh. The cutting of circumcision, which is mutilation if done as a sacrifice. Some Jews thought that by the cutting of circumcision they would make themselves acceptable to God. See note, Gal 5:12.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:3 we are the circumcision. Physical circumcision cannot remove the rebellious disposition bound up in that flesh. Paul writes about the spiritual removal of the sinful heart (Ezk 36:26), the putting to death of the deeds of the flesh (Rm 6:11). worship by the Spirit of God. The Spirit of God generates a new heart and moves that soul to faith, which is the origin of genuine worship (praise of God and service to neighbor). glory in Christ

Jesus. Boast of His saving power. no confidence in the flesh. Those regenerated know that our human nature (flesh) is utterly untrustworthy (Jn 2:24–25).

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:4–6 Paul describes his physical descent, heritage, and actions before knowing Christ.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:4 Paul is speaking of his physical and cultural heritage as an Israelite.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:5 circumcised on the eighth day. See note, Gn 17:12. of … Benjamin. See note, 2Sm 20:1. Hebrew of Hebrews. There are only Hebrews in Paul's known ancestry. He was fiercely loyal to his race as a Hebrew. Pharisee. A most earnest sect of Judaism.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:6 persecutor of the church. Because Paul had been convinced that Jesus Christ intended to undermine Jewish law, he persecuted the followers of Jesus and the apostles and tried to destroy them (Ac 9:1–2). blameless. The Pharisees developed their own system of laws based on the Law of Moses. Paul claimed to keep these laws perfectly (Jesus denounced them; Mt 23:23).
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:7 loss. Gk zemia, "damage," "disadvantage." Paul realized that confidence in his heritage and works actually interfered with knowing God. "If anyone wants to drag good works into the article of justification, rest his righteousness or trust for salvation on them, and merit God's grace and be saved by them, St. Paul himself answers, not us. He says and repeats it three times (Philippians 3:7–8)—such a person's works are not only useless and a hindrance, but are also harmful. This is not the fault of the good works themselves, but of the false confidence placed in the works, contrary to God's clear Word" (FC SD IV 37).
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:8 surpassing worth. Simply knowing Jesus exceeded all else. rubbish. Human waste or dung. gain Christ. Clinging only to Christ, one enjoys all the benefits of Christ.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:9 comes through faith in Christ. In contrast to what we gain by our own labor or effort. righteousness from God. Same Gk root as "justify." "The word justify here means to declare righteous and free from sins and to absolve a person from eternal punishment for the sake of Christ's righteousness, which is credited by God to faith" (FC SD III 17). See p 1903.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:10–11 Paul is talking about living a real life of faith rooted in the death and resurrection wrought for us in Baptism. See note, Rm 6:4. Luth: "Everywhere he teaches about the slaying of the old man and the renewing of the inner man" (AE 29:225).

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:10 power of His resurrection. Christ's resurrection makes our faith and resurrection possible. God has given you an eternal, living soul and will raise your body from the dead. share His sufferings. Greatest of all honors: to share in the suffering that is required to accomplish tasks of the most fundamental and eternal importance. becoming like Him. A Christian, as the name is meant to indicate, will follow the pattern of Jesus, laying down his or her life for others. See note, v 11.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:11 attain the resurrection. To be included with those who are raised to life everlasting in a perfected state (1Jn 3:1–3).

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:1–11 Paul reflects on his heritage and contrasts its value with the blessing of knowing Jesus, who sets us free to invest our lives in the lives of others. Only the life, suffering, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ has the power to truly set us free to experience life to the fullest. • Dear Lord Jesus, by Your grace You set me free to live in Your righteousness and in Your image. Loosen my grip on earthly advantage, and take my hand in Yours. Amen.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:12 obtained … make it my own … made me His own. Same Gk term. Christ "obtained" Paul so that Paul might also obtain the life of Christ as his own (v 10). perfect. Or, "complete," having realized the purpose for which he was created. make it my own. Refers to the life that shares in Christ's suffering and resurrection.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:13–14 We strain against our own sinful nature and against the world and the devil, even while our soul is at peace under God's promises and grace.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:13 Brothers. See note, 1:12.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:14 goal for the prize of the upward call. Jesus said that those who believed in Him were begotten from above (Jn 1:12–13). Paul commands us to set our minds on things above (Col 3:1). God draws us through His Word toward the way of life that He intends for us, a life with purpose and meaning that endures.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:15 mature. To have Christ's mind firmly enough in one's own consciousness to see matters as He does (Eph 4:13). God will reveal that. Our human nature habitually perverts our thinking. God must, by His Word and through circumstances, teach us the truth.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:16 what we have attained. The course of life that God has given us in Christ.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:17 Brothers. See note, 1:12. imitating me … the example. Think, speak, and live as Paul does in Christ's image, as described in 2:5–8. walk. See p 1904.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:18 enemies of the cross. In particular, Jews who refused to admit their guilt under the Law and so refused to accept that Jesus' accursed death (crucifixion) was really for their sakes.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:19 destruction. Their bodies will certainly perish in time. Their souls are even now perishing under their contradiction of God's salvation. If unchanged, they will suffer being cut off eternally from God in the lake of fire. their god is their belly. They serve the appetites of their human nature, which are self-destructive. glory in their shame. It is shameful to do anything that contradicts God's design for human life, but human arrogance actually prides itself on such behavior and flaunts this attitude as though it were something of which to be proud.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:20 our citizenship is in heaven. Born from above by God's Word and Spirit. We belong to heaven as children of our heavenly Father. We also live with a consciousness of belonging to a different way of life, one full of love, joy, and enduring significance. "The Church's authority has its own commission to teach the Gospel and to administer the Sacraments [Matthew 28:19–20]. Let it not break into the office of another. Let it not transfer the kingdoms of this world to itself. Let it not abolish the laws of civil rulers. Let it not abolish lawful obedience. Let it not interfere with judgments about civil ordinances or contracts. Let it not dictate laws to civil authorities about the form of society" (AC XXVIII 12–13).
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:21 transform … to be like. Paul used Gk terms for "form" related to those in 2:6–8. There, Christ was "formed" in humility. Here, we are "formed" like Christ in glory. subject all things. Christ has the power to cause all things to comply with His will. See note, 1Co 15:24.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:1 brothers. See note, 1:12. crown. Honor for what one has accomplished. Paul did not gather jewels for a crown that perishes. He gathered souls for eternal life. my beloved. See note, 2:12.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 3:12–4:1 Paul holds out before us our upward calling, his example, and the promise of our transformation in the resurrection. In contrast, we often focus on earthly comforts, worldly examples of success, and maintaining a youthful appearance for this life. But, while doing this, we starve our souls. Our citizenship is in heaven! Our life is in Christ, who reigns over all things in heaven and earth. • Dear Lord Jesus, turn us from the destructive ways of our human nature and turn us continually toward the heavenly calling and promises You have set before us. Amen.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:2 Euodia … Syntyche. Christian women at Philippi. agree in the Lord. To think the same things in harmony with the mind of Christ, which is given and expressed in the Word. Apparently, these women were in dispute, which was known by the congregation and was affecting the work there.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:3 true companion. A fellow laborer of Paul, well known to the Philippians. fellow workers. People who share the work of extending God's kingdom to the lives of others. book of life. God has chosen us in Christ before the foundation of the world. No one whose name is written thus will be lost in the Day of Judgment (Ps 87; Rv 21:27). Cf Ex 32:32.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:4 Troubled people ought not be alone, for this is why God created the fellowship of the Church. Also, "To be gloomy before God is not pleasing to Him, although He would permit us to be depressed before the world" (AE 54:16).

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:5 reasonableness. Thoughtfulness, patience, and consideration. The Lord is at hand. The Lord is near to give you patience, wisdom, and help. The Lord is near in coming for you. This is life from a resurrection and eternal perspective.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:6 prayer. The broad category of speaking to God at His invitation. supplication. Specific request for help (see note, 1Tm 2:1). thanksgiving. Expressing before God all the things He has already done for you. requests. Made in the perspective of thanksgiving.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:7 When life makes no sense, God's peace sustains and directs us. peace of God … will guard. Peace, not readiness or zeal, acts like a guardian angel for our mental health. This peace resides in Jesus, our refuge. See p 1903; see also note, v 9. surpasses. Same Gk term as in 3:8.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:8 Paul commands that we continually keep these virtues, which are the fundamental ideals of life according to God's design, in the forefront of our minds, in our very consciousness, so that they inspire and guide all we do. See "meditate," p 842. "[The Word] always awakens new understanding, pleasure, and devoutness and produces a pure heart and pure thoughts" (LC I 101). brothers. See note, 1:12.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:9 learned … received … heard … seen in me—practice. Paul's entire life bears witness and demonstrates how to live for Christ. He is not only a teacher in Word but also a mentor in life. Church workers today have the same calling. God of peace. God is the One who grants genuine liberty to know fullness of life by regenerating us, setting wisdom before us, and inspiring us with His Word. During the reign of the Roman emperor Augustus (27 BC–AD 14), great emphasis was placed on Pax, the goddess of peace (Gk Eirene, whose sisters were "Observance of the Law" and "Justice"). God grants us peace through the Gospel. See p 1903. be with. See p 5.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:2–9 As Paul concludes this Letter, he uses imperative language to urge the reader to adopt practices of living that are in harmony with the Creator's will. The strength and clarity of this exhortation reminds us that we often set our minds on those things that are contrary to God's will. Paul's exhortations are always followed by promises of God's blessing on our behalf. • Blessed be the Lord God, who has not left us to suffer in our own folly, but has called and enlightened us to live according to His mercy in Christ. Amen.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:10 revived your concern. Shown by the arrival of Epaphroditus bearing their gift (cf v 18).

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:11 content. Gk autarkes, "self-sufficient" and thereby content.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:12 learned the secret. Paul knows all things work together for good to those who love God (Rm 8:28), our sinful human nature is our own worst enemy (Rm 5:10), and disciplining the body makes it possible to thrive spiritually (1Co 9:27).

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:13 God's wisdom in the Word and the work of His Spirit lets us welcome the experiences of life in ways that benefit us and others. Paul's time in the Philippian jail and his current imprisonment are perfect examples.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:14 share my trouble. The Philippians have joined themselves together with Paul by sympathizing, praying for him, and sending what physical aid they could.

PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:15 See note, 1:5. beginning of the gospel. As Paul began his first missionary journey.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:18 full payment. Paul received all the things he needed. Epaphroditus. See note, 2:25. fragrant offering, a sacrifice. See note, 2:17. At the temple, sacrifices were made with sweet-smelling spices to remind the people that God was well pleased, not with the sacrifice itself, but with the people's appeal to His mercy made available. Cf Ex 30.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:19 supply every need. Not guaranteed prosperity. God will provide for every need that arises. Needs are seen in terms of eternity, not just our bodily concerns. His riches in glory. All the riches of God become available to us because of what Christ did. Christ established communion with us through His Word and Spirit. In these ways, He made us partakers of all His blessings (Jn 16:14). See notes, 3:8, 12, 13–14.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:20 God and Father. God is our Father because He made us and also because He gave us new life in Christ (Jn 1:12–13; 3:5; 1Jn 3:1).
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:10–20 Paul cannot end this Letter without a vibrant expression of gratitude toward God and the service of the Philippians. Paul's outpouring of appreciation contrasts sharply with feelings of neglect, resentfulness, and even anger that can arise when we lack the privileges and comforts we expect. Paul invites us to see the blessings and fullness of God that are present in every situation. Christ multiplies those blessings by His grace. • Dear Lord Jesus, forgive our ingratitude. Turn our minds to dwell on the fullness of life in Your Holy Word. Amen.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:21 saint. See note, Eph 1:1; see also p 1904. brothers. See note, 1:12.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:22 saints. Those fellow believers with and near Paul while he is imprisoned. Caesar's household. Servants of the emperor who came to faith, probably not Caesar's family.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:23 The grace of the Lord Jesus is what joins His Spirit with ours so that we live fully. be with. See p 5.
PHILIPPIANS—NOTE ON 4:21–23 Paul's last words in the Letter are greetings and blessings. Contrast Paul's concern for greeting all and extending grace with our unwillingness to greet people in our own church communities. The grace of the Lord Jesus is so abundant that it flows over from Paul to us through this very Word and has the power to overflow from our lives into the lives of others, so that we genuinely greet and then extend God's grace. • O give thanks to the Lord for His abundant grace! May His grace come continually to us and through us to others. Amen.

Colossians

Colossians 1 | Colossians 2 | Colossians 3 | Colossians 4

- Introduction to Colossians
  - Overview
  - Reading Colossians
  - Luther on Colossians
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Greeting

1 [1]†† Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God, and Timothy our brother,
[2]† To the saints and faithful brothers[1] in Christ at Colossae:
Grace to you and peace from God our Father.

Thanksgiving and Prayer

3 ‡† We always thank God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, when we pray for you, 4 †since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus and of the love that you have for all the saints, 5 †because of the hope laid up for you in heaven. Of this you have heard before in the word of the truth, the gospel, 6 †which has come to you, as indeed in the whole world it is bearing fruit and growing—as it also does among you, since the day you heard it and understood the grace of God in truth, 7 †just as you learned it from Epaphras our beloved fellow servant.[2] He is a faithful minister of Christ on your[3] behalf 8 †and has made known to us your love in the Spirit.

9 ‡†And so, from the day we heard, we have not ceased to pray for you, asking that you may be filled with the knowledge of his will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, 10 †so as to walk in a manner worthy of the Lord, fully pleasing to him, bearing fruit in every good work and increasing in the knowledge of God. 11 † May you be strengthened with all power, according to his glorious might, for all endurance and patience with joy, 12 † giving thanks[4] to the Father, who has qualified you[5] to share in the inheritance of the saints in light. 13 †He has delivered us from the domain of darkness and transferred us to the kingdom of his beloved Son, 14 † in whom we have redemption, the forgiveness of sins.

The Preeminence of Christ

15 ‡ ‡ ‡ He is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of all creation.
16 † For by[1] him all things were created, in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or rulers or authorities—all things were created through him and for him. 17 † And he is before all things, and in him all things hold together. 18 † And he is the head of the body, the church.
He is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead, that in everything he might be preeminent. 19 † For in him all the fullness of God was pleased to dwell, 20 † and through him to reconcile to himself all things, whether on earth or in heaven, making peace by the blood of his cross.

21 † And you, who once were alienated and hostile in mind, doing evil deeds, 22 † he has now reconciled in his body of flesh by his death, in order to present you holy and blameless and above reproach before him, 23 † if indeed you continue in the faith, stable and steadfast, not shifting from the hope of the gospel that you heard, which has been proclaimed in all creation[2] under heaven, and of which I, Paul, became a minister.

Paul’s Ministry to the Church

24 ‡ †Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and in my flesh I am filling up what is lacking in Christ’s afflictions for the sake of his body, that is, the church, 25 † of which I became a minister according to the stewardship from God that was given to me for you, to make the word of God fully known, 26 † the mystery hidden for ages and generations but now revealed to his saints. 27 † To them God chose to make known how great among the Gentiles are the riches of the glory of this mystery, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory. 28 †Him we proclaim, warning everyone and teaching everyone with all wisdom, that we may present everyone mature in Christ. 29 †For this I toil, struggling with all his energy that he powerfully works within me.

2 1 ‡ †For I want you to know how great a struggle I have for you and for those at Laodicea and for all who have not seen me face to face, 2 †that their hearts may be encouraged, being knit together in love, to reach all the riches of full assurance of understanding and the knowledge of God’s mystery, which is Christ, 3 † in whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge. 4 †I say this in order that no one may delude you with plausible arguments. 5 †For though I am absent in body, yet I am with you in spirit, rejoicing to see your good order and the firmness of your faith in Christ.

Alive in Christ

6 ‡† Therefore, as you received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk in him, 7 † rooted and built up in him and established in the faith, just as you were taught, abounding in thanksgiving.

8 †See to it that no one takes you captive by philosophy and empty deceit, according to human tradition, according to the elemental spirits[1] of the world, and not according to Christ. 9 †For in him the whole fullness of deity dwells bodily, 10 †and you have been filled in him, who is the head of all rule and authority. 11 † In him also you were circumcised with a circumcision made without hands, by putting off the body of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ, 12 † having been buried with him in baptism, in which you were also raised with him through faith in the powerful working of God, who raised him from the dead. 13 † And you, who were dead in your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, God made alive together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses, 14 †by canceling the record of debt that stood against us with its legal demands. This he set aside, nailing it to the cross. 15 † He disarmed the rulers and authorities[1] and put them to open shame, by triumphing over them in him.[2]

Let No One Disqualify You

16 ‡† Therefore let no one pass judgment on you in questions of food and drink, or with regard to a festival or a new moon or a Sabbath. 17 † These are a shadow of the things to come, but the substance belongs to Christ. 18 † Let no one disqualify you, insisting on asceticism and worship of angels, going on in detail about visions,[3] puffed up without reason by his sensuous mind, 19 † and not holding fast to the Head, from whom the whole body, nourished and knit together through its joints and ligaments, grows with a growth that is from God.

20 ‡† If with Christ you died to the elemental spirits of the world, why, as if you were still alive in the world, do you submit to regulations— 21 † "Do not handle, Do not taste, Do not touch" 22 † (referring to things that all perish as they are used)—according to human precepts and teachings? 23 † These have indeed an appearance of wisdom in promoting self-made religion and asceticism and severity to the body, but they are of no value in stopping the indulgence of the flesh.

Put On the New Self

3 [1]†‡‡†If then you have been raised with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated at the right hand of God. [2]† Set your minds on things that are above, not on things that are on earth. [3]†For you have died, and your life is hidden with Christ in God. [4]†When Christ who is your[1] life appears, then you also will appear with him in glory.
[5]† Put to death therefore what is earthly in you:[2] sexual immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry. [6]† On account of these the wrath of God is coming.[3] [7] In these you too once walked, when you were living in them. [8]†But now you must put them all away: anger, wrath, malice, slander, and obscene talk from your mouth. [9]† Do not lie to one another, seeing that you have put off the old self[4] with its practices [10]†and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator. [11]† Here there is not Greek and Jew, circumcised and uncircumcised, barbarian, Scythian, slave,[5] free; but Christ is all, and in all.
[12]† Put on then, as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, compassionate hearts, kindness, humility, meekness, and patience, [13]† bearing with one another and, if one has a complaint against another, forgiving each other; as the Lord has forgiven you, so you also must forgive. [14]†And above all these put on love, which binds everything together in perfect harmony. [15]†And let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts, to which indeed you were called in one body. And be thankful. [16]†Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, teaching and admonishing one another in all wisdom, singing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, with thankfulness in your hearts to God. [17]†And whatever you do, in word or deed, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him.

Rules for Christian Households

18 ‡ ‡ † Wives, submit to your husbands, as is fitting in the Lord. 19 † Husbands, love your wives, and do not be harsh with them. 20 †Children, obey your parents in everything, for this pleases the Lord. 21 †Fathers, do not provoke your children, lest they become discouraged. 22 †Slaves,[1] obey in everything those who are your earthly masters,[2] not by way of eye-service, as people-pleasers, but with sincerity of heart, fearing the Lord. 23 †
Whatever you do, work heartily, as for the Lord and not for men, 24 †knowing that from the Lord you will receive the inheritance as your reward. You are serving the Lord Christ. 25 †For the wrongdoer will be paid back for the wrong he has done, and there is no partiality.

4 1 †Masters, treat your slaves[3] justly and fairly, knowing that you also have a Master in heaven.

Further Instructions

[2]†† Continue steadfastly in prayer, being watchful in it with thanksgiving.
[3]†At the same time, pray also for us, that God may open to us a door for the word, to declare the mystery of Christ, on account of which I am in prison
— [4]†that I may make it clear, which is how I ought to speak.

[5]† Walk in wisdom toward outsiders, making the best use of the time.
[6]†Let your speech always be gracious, seasoned with salt, so that you may know how you ought to answer each person.

Final Greetings

7 †Tychicus will tell you all about my activities. He is a beloved brother and faithful minister and fellow servant[4] in the Lord. 8 †I have sent him to you for this very purpose, that you may know how we are and that he may encourage your hearts, 9 †and with him Onesimus, our faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They will tell you of everything that has taken place here.

10 † Aristarchus my fellow prisoner greets you, and Mark the cousin of Barnabas (concerning whom you have received instructions—if he comes to you, welcome him), 11 †and Jesus who is called Justus. These are the only men of the circumcision among my fellow workers for the kingdom of God, and they have been a comfort to me. 12 † Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ Jesus, greets you, always struggling on your behalf in his prayers, that you may stand mature and fully assured in all the will of God.
13 †For I bear him witness that he has worked hard for you and for those in Laodicea and in Hierapolis. 14 † Luke the beloved physician greets you, as does Demas. 15 †Give my greetings to the brothers[1] at Laodicea, and to Nympha and the church in her house. 16 †And when this letter has been read among you, have it also read in the church of the Laodiceans; and see that you also read the letter from Laodicea. 17 †And say to Archippus, “See that you fulfill the ministry that you have received in the Lord.”

18 †I, Paul, write this greeting with my own hand. Remember my chains.
Grace be with you.

Colossians

OVERVIEW

Author
Paul the apostle

Date
c AD 60

Places
Colossae; Laodicea; Hierapolis

People
Paul; Timothy; Colossians; Laodiceans; Tychicus; Onesimus; Aristarchus; Mark; Barnabas; Jesus called Justus; Epaphras; Luke; Demas; Nympha; Archippus

Purpose
To guide the Colossian congregation away from heresy and into the truth about Jesus and His saving work

Law Themes
Threat of false teaching and self-made religion; Satan's domain; struggle to fulfill God's calling; God's coming wrath; the old self; admonish one another; God's order for families and labor

Gospel Themes
Gospel growth; the Son's kingdom and reign; mystery: Christ dwells in you; Baptism, the new circumcision; the new self; the Lord's inheritance

Memory Verses
Transferred to God's kingdom (1:11–14); hymn of Christ (1:15–20); the new circumcision (2:11–14); shadow and substance (2:16–17); glory above (3:1–4)

Introduction to Colossians

Reading Colossians

Wielding hammer and punch, the slave struck each weight of silver into the anvil and die, impressing each side of the metal. The face of the emperor looked back at him each time, perfectly raised and formed above the coin's background. With the rhythmic blows of the hammer and punch, old coins that were defaced by greedy hands in the markets, shaved by unscrupulous businessmen, or misstruck by inexperienced workmen were renewed in their image, made ready for new service.

In Colossians, the apostle Paul warns against greedy, unscrupulous false teachers who would steal the congregation away from their Lord, Jesus the Christ. To renew the congregation's faith and service, Paul repeatedly strikes upon the truths they once knew: Jesus is Lord of creation, the fullness of God dwells in Him, their life is hidden with Christ in God. And so they are renewed in the image of their Creator (3:10).

Luther on Colossians

Just as the Epistle to the Galatians resembles and is modeled on the Epistle to the Romans, comprising in outline the same material that is more fully and richly developed in Romans; so this epistle resembles that to the Ephesians and comprises also in outline the same contents.

First [Paul] praises and wishes for the Colossians, that they continue and increase in faith. He delineates what the gospel and faith are, namely, a wisdom which recognizes Christ as Lord and God, crucified for us, which has been hidden for ages but now brought into the open through his ministry. This is the first chapter.

In chapter 2 he warns them against the doctrines of men, which are always contrary to faith. He depicts these doctrines more clearly than they are depicted anywhere else in Scripture, and criticizes them in a masterly way.

In chapter 3 he exhorts them to be fruitful in the pure faith, doing all sorts of good works for one another, and he describes for some various stations in life the works which are appropriate to them.

In chapter 4 he commends himself to their prayers and gives them greetings and encouragement. (AE 35:386)

Challenges for Readers

Authorship and Date. See "Challenges for Readers," p 2015.

Firstborn. The early heretic Arius (c AD 260–336) and modern groups such as the Jehovah's Witnesses have sadly misunderstood Paul's words in Col 1:15, suggesting that Jesus is a created being and not true, eternal God. But Paul used the expression "firstborn of all creation" not to describe Christ as a creature but to describe His right as a firstborn: He is ruler and heir of all creation, for He existed before creation and all things were created through Him and for Him (1:16–17).

The Colossian Heresy. "Our knowledge of the heresy combated by the letter to the Colossians is limited to those passages in the letter in which the apostle writes against it. Paul's references to Jewish practices (2:11), festivals (2:16), and dietary scruples (2:20) point to a Jewish element to the Colossian heresy. Nevertheless, the false teaching against which this letter was written differed from the simple Judaizing countered by the apostle's letters to the Philippians and especially to the Galatians. In opposing the heresy at Colossae, Paul laid great stress on the correct teaching concerning the person and work of Christ. He gave emphasis to terms and concepts such as fullness … and filling (1:19; 2:9–10), knowledge (2:3), wisdom and understanding (1:6, 9–10, 27, 28; 2:2–3, 23; 3:10), the revelation of mysteries (1:26–27; 2:2), the flesh (1:22, 24; 2:1, 5, 11, 13, 18, 23; 3:22), and perfection (1:28; cf. 3:14; 4:12). He spoke against a religious practice that was exclusive (1:28), had great interest in cosmic beings (1:16; 2:8, 10, 15, 18, 20), and valued its initiations (2:18) and asceticism (2:20–23). From this we see that the Colossian heresy bore a number of similarities to the Gnosticism of the second and third centuries A.D. This suggests that like several other NT documents the letter to the Colossians was written against a point of view which later developed to become (at least an element of) the religious movement known as Gnosticism" (CC Col, 7–8).

Blessings for Readers

Though Colossians is one of Paul's shorter Letters, it is especially rich with descriptions of Christ, His work, and the blessings He extends to us through Holy Baptism. As you study Colossians, pray that the Lord would protect your congregation and all Christians from false teachers, for in Christ alone "we have redemption, the forgiveness of sins" (1:14).

OUTLINE

I. Preaching (chs 1–2)
   A. Salutation (1:1–2)
   B. Overture (1:3–20)
      1. Thanksgiving report (1:3–8)
      2. The source of knowledge: reason for intercession (1:9–14)
      3. The Christ hymn: creation and reconciliation (1:15–20)
   C. Main Exposition and Resolution (1:21–2:23)
      1. Ministry of reconciliation (1:21–29)
      2. True knowledge (2:1–5)
      3. The fullness of Christ (2:6–15)
      4. True freedom (2:16–23)
II. Paul's Instructions (chs 3–4)
   A. The Christian Life (3:1–4:6)
      1. Death and life (3:1–4)
      2. Put off and put on (3:5–17)
      3. Table of duties (3:18–4:1)
      4. Watch and pray (4:2–6)
   B. Concluding Matters (4:7–18)

Articles and Resources Related to Colossians

- The Image of God
- Persecuted for the Faith
- The Meaning of Deliverance

The Image of God

In the beginning, God created man in His own likeness (Genesis 1:26–27). In this consists his dignity, which is not the result of development and behavior, but of God's act. Man is created by God like God, but he himself is not God. However, Exodus 20:4–5 says: "You shall not make for yourself a carved image—any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth; you shall not bow down to them nor serve them."

Thus, man, created by God in the image and likeness of God, shall not make for himself an image of God out of the things created by God. Rather, the relationship between God and man lies in the word of God and in the speaking to God thus made possible (Deuteronomy 4). The word of God rules out making Him visible in artifacts and experiences. … The fall of man from God through the violation of His commandment entails man putting himself into God's place to "be like God" (Genesis 3:5) and results in separation from God.

It is testified of God, the Son of God made man, that He is "the image of the invisible God, the firstborn over all creation" (Colossians 1:15; 2 Corinthians 4:4); He is "the brightness of his glory and the express image of His person" (Hebrews 1:3). Here the relation between image and formation comes to a full circle when we not only reencounter the origin of creation in the person of Jesus Christ, in His word and work, but when the salvific will of God is carried out through the renewing gift of the Spirit [Romans 8:29]….

Thus, in the image of Christ what is formed anew and shaped in the Christian through the work of Christ becomes visible. This happens in baptism [Romans 6:3–5]…. Our likeness with Christ is accomplished by being "grafted" in him through baptism.

With the image of Christ and the formation of Christians a reality is addressed that cannot be seen when God's word is merely perceived as a text of antiquity; when the sacraments are solely understood as passage rites; and when the communion between God and man is reduced to the purely symbolic…. The true care of souls is not only about the limited realm of inwardness, but about the whole human being in soul and body.

The biblical understanding of salvation always encompasses body and soul, external and internal health concurrently.

Reinhard Slenczka, "Luther's Care of Souls for Our Times," CTQ 67:1 (January 2003), 56–58.

See notes, Gn 1:26; Eph 4:22–24; Col 3:10.

Persecuted for the Faith

The Prison Epistles of Paul remind us of the persecution that Paul and many early Christians suffered for the Gospel. In many parts of the modern world, Christians continue to suffer for their faith. This is to be expected, but God furnishes strength and endurance, and we continue to pray for our brothers and sisters in the faith.

During the apostle Paul's missionary journeys, Jews in various places resisted the Gospel message. On occasion, this resistance became violent. (See Paul's list of hardships at 2Co 11:23–33.)

This smoldering Jewish resentment was fanned into flames when Paul returned to Jerusalem after his third missionary journey and appeared in the temple. There, a group of Asian Jews incited a riot by publicly accusing Paul of forsaking the Law of Moses and polluting the temple by bringing a Gentile into the area reserved exclusively for Jews. The charges were false, but even so, they aroused the anti-Christian element in Jerusalem. Paul would doubtless have been stoned to death on the spot had not the Roman garrison commander intervened and brought a detachment of soldiers to stem the fury of the mob (Ac 21:27–36).

When an attempt by the apostle to defend himself before his Jewish accusers resulted in another near riot, the commander detained Paul (Ac 22). Hoping to have the charges against the apostle clarified, he called an informal meeting of the Jewish Council (Sanhedrin), but that meeting also degenerated into a shouting match. Meanwhile, Paul assured humane treatment for himself by informing the commander that he was a Roman citizen. When a plot on Paul's life was discovered, the commander had Paul removed to the seat of the imperial government at Caesarea (Ac 23).

With his arrival at Caesarea, Paul began an almost five-year period of unjust and unwarranted captivity, hearings, and appeals. After several years of imprisonment in Caesarea, Paul was convinced that he would never receive a fair trial in either Jerusalem or Caesarea. So he exercised his right as a Roman citizen to appeal his case directly to the emperor in Rome. Festus, the Roman governor in Palestine at that time, somewhat unwillingly granted Paul his appeal. Ac 27–28 describe Paul's long and perilous journey to Rome.

At Rome, the appeal process dragged on for more than two years. During this time, though constantly chained to a guard, Paul was able to receive friends and continue his ministry.

We do not know why Paul's hearing was delayed so long in Rome. In his Epistle to the Philippians, which is considered the last of the four Prison Epistles—the others being Ephesians, Colossians, and Philemon—Paul informed the Philippians that his first hearing had taken place and that it had gone well. Though he did not foolishly ignore the possibility that the emperor might still rule against him, Paul was optimistic that he would be acquitted and set free.

Based on what Paul says in Philippians and the Pastoral Epistles, he was likely set free from this first Roman imprisonment (AD 58–60) and continued to work until he was imprisoned again in the general persecution of Christians that took place under Emperor Nero in AD 67. During this second imprisonment, Paul wrote 2 Timothy, the last testimony of a Christian man facing his earthly end.

The Meaning of Deliverance

Generally in the New Testament, "deliverance" means being set free from the powers of darkness, the coming wrath, evil people, and the persecution of Christians. Salvation and deliverance from the powers of darkness is only one shade in the broad range of meanings…. The nearest meaning is a once-for-all redemption. There is a christological hymn or confession in Colossians (1:12–23), which leads us to the center of baptismal theology (Colossians 2:6–15): "For he has rescued from the dominion of darkness and brought us into the kingdom of the Son he loves, in whom we have redemption, the forgiveness of sins" (Colossians 1:13–14).

Here, then, the synonym of the word "redemption" is "the forgiveness of sins." … [It is] the release from the slavery of sin to a heavenly inheritance. This deed of God is directly linked to baptism, as found in the main section of the Colossian epistle. "Redemption" or "deliverance" is the forgiveness of sins, righteousness, and holiness: "In (Christ Jesus) we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, in accordance with the riches of God" (Ephesians 1:7).

"Redemption" in the New Testament also refers to protection from the last temptations, and to the final releasing at the second coming of Christ. Resurrection is the day of redemption for the Christian body [Luke 21:28; Romans 8:23].

Anssi Simojoki, "The Other Gospel of Neo-Pentecostalism in East Africa," CTQ 66:3 (July 2002), 280–81.

Footnotes

Footnotes for Colossians, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:2 Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated “brothers”) refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God’s family, the church
- [2] 1:7 Greek fellow bondservant
- [3] 1:7 Some manuscripts our
- [4] 1:12 Or patience, with joy giving thanks
- [5] 1:12 Some manuscripts us
- [1] 1:16 That is, by means of; or in
- [2] 1:23 Or to every creature

Footnotes for Colossians, Chapter 2

- [1] 2:8 Or elementary principles; also verse 20
- [1] 2:15 Probably demonic rulers and authorities
- [2] 2:15 Or in it (that is, the cross)
- [3] 2:18 Or about the things he has seen

Footnotes for Colossians, Chapter 3

- [1] 3:4 Some manuscripts our

- [2] 3:5 Greek therefore your members that are on the earth
- [3] 3:6 Some manuscripts add upon the sons of disobedience
- [4] 3:9 Greek man; also as supplied in verse 10
- [5] 3:11 Greek bondservant
- [1] 3:22 Or Servants; Greek Bondservants
- [2] 3:22 Or your masters according to the flesh

Footnotes for Colossians, Chapter 4

- [3] 4:1 Or servants; Greek bondservants
- [4] 4:7 Greek fellow bondservant; also verse 12
- [1] 4:15 Or brothers and sisters

Study Notes

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:1 apostle. See p 1901. by the will of God. Paul did not choose to be an apostle but was called by God. Timothy. A favorite co-worker of Paul. His father was a Gentile; his mother was Jewish. He often worked alongside Paul or was sent as his representative. our brother. Paul was esp close to Timothy. He even referred to him as "my beloved and faithful child in the Lord" (1Co 4:17). Timothy should be considered a co-author of this Letter.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:2 saints. See p 1904. faithful brothers in Christ. By virtue of their Baptism, all believers are "in Christ," i.e., they are connected to Christ or belong to Him (2:11–13; Rm 6:3, 11; Gal 3:26–27; Eph 1:13; 3:6). See p 1901. Colossae. C 100 mi E of Ephesus. Most likely Epaphras brought the Gospel to Colossae, Laodicea, and Hierapolis. See notes, 4:12, 13.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:1–2 Faithful Epaphras established a tiny foothold for the kingdom of God at Colossae and nearby cities. Now this young church is threatened by false belief, which directs people away from Christ and His work to themselves. But God does not give up. He uses Paul, Timothy, and other faithful servants to establish the truth and love of Christ in their hearts. God does not give up on us either, when we or those we love are tempted by false teachings. • O Lord, send from heaven and save me; put to shame him who tramples on me. Send out Your steadfast love and Your faithfulness! Amen. (paraphrase of Ps 57:4)

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:3 the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. Indicates God's triune nature in the loving relationship between Father and Son. Yet the Son is "Lord" (see p 2098). when we pray for you. Fervent prayer is an important part of Christian ministry. Cf 1:9; 4:2–3, 12.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:4 heard. Apart from a few individuals, Paul had not met the Colossians face-to-face. Cf 2:1.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:5 hope laid up. Most people in the Greco-Roman world lived without hope (cf Eph 2:12). Hope can be thought of as faith directed toward the future. gospel. See p 1902. Unlike the false teachers, Paul emphasized the reliability of the saving work and Word of Christ as revealed in the Gospel.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:6 come to you. As the founding missionary of the Colossian Church, Epaphras had brought the Gospel (v 7). in the whole world. In less than three decades since Pentecost, the Gospel was being proclaimed to the entire Roman world (cf 1Tm 3:16). growing. The Gospel (v 5) produces faith and good works. Cf Gal 5:22–23.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:7 Epaphras. Paul was very close to him and called him a "fellow prisoner" in Phm 23. See note, v 6. our … servant. Some manuscripts have "your," but many scholars prefer "our" because it shows the connection between Paul, Epaphras, and the Colossians. minister. Gk doulos, usually means "slave" or "one who is wholly owned and who owes undivided allegiance and obedience to a master." See p 1903. Many OT believers were called slaves (servants) of God: Moses (Ps 105:26), Joshua (Jsh 24:29), David (2Sm 7:5), and Jeremiah (Jer 7:25).
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:8 love in the Spirit. Love as well as faith is the work of the Holy Spirit through the Gospel.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:9–12 Paul prays for our entire Christian life: for faith (v 9), for the living of our faith (v 10), for strength when we meet resistance (v 11), and for the final outcome of faith—eternal life (v 12).
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:9 pray. Paul's attention to regular prayer is an integral aspect of his ministry. knowledge. False teachers had promoted another kind of knowledge. Paul prays for knowledge that is centered in God's forgiveness in Christ (v 14) and revealed by the Holy Spirit. wisdom. Gk sophia. Paul uses this word six times in Col (1:9, 28; 2:3, 23; 3:16; 4:5). It is the practical application of faith in Christ. understanding. Insight. A clear analysis and application of knowledge guided by the Holy Spirit.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:10 worthy. Gk axios, "suitable to." Related to Eng "axiomatic," "taken for granted." We should have high expectations for the new life of faith, since it comes from Christ.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:11 power. Gk dynamis. Related to Eng "dynamite." God empowers His people for service. glorious might. Great power; used only of God in the NT.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:12 qualified you. Sin disqualifies us. God qualified us through Christ's redemption (v 14). inheritance. Recalls the inheritance of the Promised Land that was allotted to the families of Israel according to God's promises and not because of their righteousness (Dt 9:5). See "portion," p 7. saints in light. Believers are no longer separated from God, who is light (Jn 8:12).

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:13 delivered … transferred. The past tense points us back to Baptism, which incorporated us into Christ's saving work (2:6–15). domain of darkness. "Human nature has been delivered into slavery and is held captive by the devil" (Ap II 47). The NT often uses light/darkness for the contrast between God/Satan, salvation/sin (Ac 26:18). Biblical usage differs from that of some later Gnostics and Manichaeans, who used this comparison as though God and Satan were equal forces. God's power to save from the darkness of sin applies for all people. kingdom. Jesus taught that God's kingdom was the rule of His grace, which began with His ministry (Mt 4:17). The beginning of God's kingdom is the forgiveness of sins (v 14). See pp 1565–66.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:14 redemption. See p 1904. forgiveness. See p 1902. Paul puts these teachings together. This may have been in contrast to the idea that forgiveness was a preliminary step of salvation, a teaching held by later Gnostics. "No one is baptized in order that he may become a prince, but, as the words say, that he 'be saved.' We know that to be saved is nothing other than to be delivered from sin, death, and the devil" (LC IV 24–25).

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:3–14 Paul cares very much for these new Christians, and he knows that God cares for them even more. Unfortunately, false teachings that lead people to look to themselves instead of looking to God compete for the Colossians' attention. We have all been tempted to look to other things instead of Jesus for our salvation. God is the only one who can overcome this evil. In the background, Paul is praying fervently for them. In the foreground, Paul is boldly proclaiming the truth of salvation in Jesus. • Thank You, O God, for Your patience and persistence to save us through Your beloved Son. Amen.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:15–20 Paul introduces his refutation of the Colossian heresy with a hymn, which summarizes early Christian Christology and likely predates Paul's writing to the Colossians. In two parts, the hymn presents Jesus as Creator (vv 15–18a) and Redeemer (vv 18b–20).

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:15 image. Gk eikon, something that resembles the original. Jesus is the visible image of the invisible God. Adam lost the image of God, but in Christ, the Second Adam, God's image is restored (AC II 1–2; LC II 65). firstborn. Arius (a fourth-century heretic) misunderstood this to mean "the first of many creatures," as if Jesus were part of the creation. But elsewhere it means "one who is privileged" (e.g., Ex 4:22). St Athanasius also pointed out that the context clearly shows this "firstborn" is not a part of the creation but the cause of it (v 17; NPNF 2 4:383). See notes, v 18; Ps 89:27; Pr 8:22.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:16 all things. As Creator of "all things," Jesus is supreme over all (Jn 1:3). invisible. The Colossians were particularly interested in angels. However, Paul asserts Jesus' supremacy over the invisible angels. thrones … dominions … rulers … authorities. Names common to Judaism and the NT of angelic or demonic powers that were thought to control the universe. The false teachers apparently assigned to them power independent of Christ (2:8) and held them to be objects of worship (2:18). through Him and for Him. The goal of creation is the redemption that Christ accomplishes (Rm 8:19–22).

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:17 He is before all things. "His beloved Son" (v 13) existed before the creation (Jn 1:1–2; 3:16). in Him all things hold together. Contradicts the heretical teaching that the creation is inherently evil. Jesus still cares very much about this created world, continues to sustain it, and will renew it.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:18 "The pope is not, according to divine law or God's Word, the head of all Christendom. This name belongs to One only, whose name is Jesus Christ" (SA II IV 1). body. Indicates the intimate relationship between the Redeemer and the redeemed, similar to the "in Christ" terminology (v 22). This relationship is created in Baptism (2:11–13) and sustained in the Lord's Supper (1Co 10:16–17). See p 1965. church. See pp 1901–2. firstborn from the dead. Just as Jesus is the "firstborn of all creation" (v 15) and thus the cause of creation, so Jesus is also the cause of the resurrection.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:19 fullness of God. The totality of God with all His divine attributes began to dwell in Christ at the moment of His conception by the Holy Spirit of the Virgin Mary (cf 2:9).

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:20 reconcile. Sin alienated the creation from the Creator. Christ reconciles all things, i.e., He brings everything back to its proper order. making peace. Jesus' death makes peace possible by faith, but it is also His victory over all who continue to oppose Him. Cf Eph 2:14–16.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:21 you. Believers who were alienated from God (Eph 4:18), which was manifested externally in evil deeds.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:22 reconciled. The past tense indicates that this reconciliation is completed in Christ's work. Reconciliation is not something Christ has started and we need to complete. in His body. The false teachers taught that salvation came through knowledge. Paul emphasized that salvation came from God specifically through the incarnation, through Jesus' physical life and death (cf 1Tm 2:5; 1Jn 4:2). holy. See p 1902. above reproach. Unaccused, free of charges. Paul has in mind the whole picture of life with God: our justification (declared righteousness, forgiveness; Rm 3:23–26), our baptismal life on earth (sanctification; Rm 6–7), and our ultimate glorification (life in heaven; Rm 8).

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:23 continue. Faith in Christ must continue, just as it began—by hearing the Gospel (Jn 8:31–32; Rm 10:17). proclaimed in all creation. Jesus promised that the Gospel would be proclaimed to all the world (Mt 24:14). Earlier, Paul said the Gospel had come to all the world (v 6). These are figures of speech that show the universal scope of the Gospel. This was in contrast to the message of the false teachers, that their secret knowledge was for a select few. minister. Paul is completely bound in his service to the Gospel for the sake of the Church (v 25). See p 1903.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:15–23 How can we sinners be sure that Christ's work reconciles us to God? Paul says we have this assurance because of who Christ is: the image of the invisible God, the Creator, the one who is preeminent over all things. What else would you look to for assurance? To an angel? To yourself? No, look to God Himself in Christ. • "Through Jesus' blood and merit I am at peace with God. What, then, can daunt my spirit, However dark my road? My courage shall not fail me, For God is on my side; Though hell itself assail me, Its rage I may deride." Amen. (LSB 746:1)

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:24 sufferings … lacking in Christ's afflictions. Christ's sufferings for our salvation are complete (vv 20, 22; 2:9–15). All Christians suffer with Christ (2Tm 3:12; Rm 8:17) as part of their service to Christ. Baptism connects us to Christ—both to His sufferings and to His salvation (Col 2:12; Rm 6:3–8; Php 3:10). Paul gladly accepted suffering for the sake of the Gospel (Php 2:17) and believed that it brought benefits to the Church (2Co 1:5–7; 4:10–12; Eph 3:13).

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:25 minister. See note, v 23. stewardship. Gk oikonomia, "management," "plan," from which Eng "economy" derives. Paul uses this word to describe God's overall plan of salvation as He guides history (Eph 1:10) and also the management plan entrusted to individual ministers of the Word (1Co 9:17). to make the word of God fully known. Could refer to the completeness of the Gospel message in contrast to the claim of the false teachers, who taught that it was deficient. Cf Mt 28:19–20.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:26 mystery. See p 1903. saints. See p 1904.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:27 Christ in you. The mystery is not only about Christ coming to this world but also about Christ coming personally to each individual. Through Word and Sacrament, Christ is in us (Rm 8:10). glory. See p 1902.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:28 warning … teaching. Indicates the Law and Gospel outline of the Christian message. See pp xxxi–xxxii. mature. Lit, "perfect, complete." Only by virtue of our Baptism into Christ can we be what God wants us to be.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:29 His energy. Lit, "His working that is working in me." Cf 2:12; Php 4:13. The power for faith and salvation, as well as the power to live by faith, comes from God.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 1:24–29 All people suffer because of the fallen nature of the world. But Christians are called to a special form of suffering for the sake of Christ: rejection, ridicule, and persecution. No one likes suffering. Nevertheless, the tears of Christian suffering reflect the glory of the cross of Christ. Remember how God used Christ's sufferings to save us. He will also use our sufferings to bring Christ's saving work to others who have no hope. • "In suff'ring be Thy love my peace, In weakness be Thy love my pow'r; And when the storms of life shall cease, O Jesus, in that final hour, Be Thou my rod and staff and guide, And draw me safely to Thy side!" Amen. (LSB 683:4)

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:1 struggle. Gk agona; Eng "agony." Paul shows great pastoral concern for their spiritual welfare. Theological errors are not to be overlooked or expected to go away on their own. Laodicea. C 11 mi from Colossae. See map, p 2197.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:2 hearts … knit together in love. Can also mean "instructed in love." Our love and unity are not produced by our own efforts, but they are gifts generated by God's love in Jesus. assurance.

Based on the power of God's true Word (1Th 1:5). "He has overwhelmed us with unspeakable, eternal treasures by His Son and the Holy Spirit" (LC II 24).

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:3 hidden. Paul challenges the false teachers, who claimed special insight into the mysteries of God. All that we can and need to know about God is ultimately revealed to us in Christ.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:4 no one. Paul leaves no room for error, because it is a persuasive deception that will lead people away from Christ.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:5 with you in spirit. The Holy Spirit ministers to our spirits through the Word. Both Paul and his hearers are united by their mutual attention to God's Word in Christ. good order … firmness. Terms with military associations. These are God's gifts to resist incursions of false teachings in the Church.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:1–5 Whatever this false teaching is that has infiltrated the Colossian Church, it is not the teaching of Jesus Christ. We, too, can be drawn away from Christ by all sorts of attractive thoughts and words. Eventually, Christless or Christ-lite teachings will separate us from God and from one another. But the treasures of His wisdom and knowledge overcome all temptation and defeat all deception. His words will always encourage us and strengthen us in faith and love. • Grant, O Lord, that Your Word would be taught in its truth and purity in Christ, and protect us from those who would do otherwise. Amen.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:6 Christ Jesus the Lord. Recalls the earliest Christian baptismal confession (Rm 10:9; 1Co 12:3). walk in Him. See p 1904.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:7 rooted and built up. Both metaphors, one from nature and the other from construction, point to something that is firm and enduring. God's Word makes this way of life in Christ possible.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:8 philosophy and empty deceit. Philosophy can help us with many questions but is powerless to explain God adequately. If we think it can, we are deceived. human tradition. As opposed to the "tradition" of Christian doctrine (1Co 11:2). See p 1904. elemental spirits. False teachings that are constructed from the basic elements of the fallen universe. Cf Gal 4:3, 9. In Col, they are closely related to fallen angels (vv 18–20).

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:9 fullness. A technical term among the Colossian heretics and later Gnosticism for a number of pseudo-divine beings that supposedly emanated from God (angels, rulers, authorities, thrones, dominions). Against this, Paul says everything that is of God dwells in Christ. We confess this in the Nicene Creed: "[Christ is] very God of very God, … being of one substance with the Father." "In this personal union the two natures have such a grand, intimate, indescribable communion that even the angels are astonished by it" (FC SD VIII 30). bodily. Jesus of Nazareth is God in the flesh. Paul rejects the heretics' principle that the flesh is evil.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:10 filled. Completed. Christians have everything they need in Christ. See Ap V 58.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:11 circumcision. A sign of God's covenant establishing the people of Israel (Gn 17:9; see p 127). But in Christ the purpose of the covenant with Abraham (to be a blessing to all the families of the earth; Gn 12:3) was fulfilled. The new covenant is established with a different circumcision, Baptism. Infant Baptism is also supported by this verse, since the Israelite circumcision was performed on the eighth day after birth. Lutherans reject the teaching that God regards children as innocent before the application of the Word and Baptism (FC Ep XII 6). See p 1920.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:12 buried … raised. The same powerful working of God that raised Jesus from the dead is at work in Baptism. Baptism puts to death the sinful nature (Rm 6:6) and resurrects us in faith to a new life in Christ. Baptism is not just a symbol of what God does through the teaching of God's Word. It is water combined with God's Word that makes it a washing of regeneration (Ti 3:5–7). "When Paul describes conversion or renewal, he almost everywhere designates these two parts, making dead and making alive" (Ap XIIA 46). "Faith is powerful through the power of God and overcomes death" (Ap V 129).

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:13 dead. All people are born spiritually dead. Though they bear God's image, they are separated from Him. forgiven us. Trespasses bury those who are spiritually dead. But those who are made alive in faith are delivered from the condemnation of their trespasses.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:14 record … legal demands. The debtor kept a handwritten bill of indebtedness; in this case, it is the record of all our violations of God's Law. This record is wiped away by Jesus' death on the cross.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:15 rulers and authorities. These are created by God and yet often corrupted by sin. They can be personal (such as angels) or impersonal (such as governments, economic systems, educational institutions). They might also be demons masquerading as idols or false gods. Cf 1:16; 2:9. triumphing. Paul had in mind the Roman custom of stripping defeated armies of weapons and armor and parading them in a triumphal procession. Christians should not allow these "rulers" either to tempt or threaten them.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:6–15 Seeking guidance and security from creation rather than from the Creator will end in disaster. We must not forget that all creation has been corrupted by sin. Created things, as good as they may be, are no substitute for God. He gives us the forgiveness of sins in Jesus Christ. In Baptism, we have been raised up as a new creation. • "In Thee all fullness dwelleth, All grace and pow'r divine; The glory that excelleth, O Son of God, is Thine. We worship Thee, we bless Thee, To Thee, O Christ, we sing; We praise Thee and confess Thee, Our glorious Lord and King." Amen. (LSB 527:3)

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:16 Though it is difficult to understand exactly what the Colossian heretics demanded, we can see that their demands included dietary rules (v 21), ascetic practices (vv 18, 23), and adherence to a cultic calendar (v 16). Sabbath. Indicates that there was a Jewish element associated with the Colossian heresy.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:17 shadow of the things to come. Paul taught that OT events, practices, and messages have their full meaning and realization in Christ (Rm 15:4; 1Co 10:1–11). An engaged couple who must spend time apart might cherish each other's photo. But after they are married and living together, it would be odd to devote the same attention to the photo. "Scripture itself has abolished the Sabbath Day. It teaches that since the Gospel has been revealed, all the ceremonies of Moses can be omitted" (AC XXVIII 59). substance. Lit, "body" (see previous uses of the term at 1:22; 2:9, 11), which refers to Christ's incarnation.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:18 disqualify. Or, "cheat." asceticism. False humility or abasement. "When people believe that they are pure and righteous because of such hypocrisy, they hinder the knowledge of Christ and the knowledge of God's gifts and commandments" (Ap XXIII 46). going on in detail. Paul warns believers not to be deceived by those who claim special revelation. If it is not truly centered in Christ, it is not of the Holy Spirit; rather, it comes from the sinful nature.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:19 Head. Christ is the head of all creation as well as the cause of our salvation (Eph 5:23). growth. All who are in Christ are growing, not because of their own self-imposed religious exercises, but because of the Word of Christ (see note, 1:6). They grow according to the growth God gives.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:20–23 "Paul says that traditions do not help with respect to eternal righteousness and eternal life, because food, drink, clothing, and the like are things that perish through use. Eternal life is worked in the heart by eternal things, that is, by God's Word and the Holy Spirit" (Ap XXVIII 10).

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:20 elemental spirits. See note, v 8. regulations. Man-made regulations of false religion have nothing to do with Christ and the forgiveness of sins.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:21 handle … taste … touch. Those who seek salvation through their own efforts gravitate toward external exercises that are easily seen and measurable.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:22 perish as they are used. A religion constructed from decaying elements of this world is itself perishing. human precepts. See note, v 20.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:23 self-made religion. Self-imposed, external efforts (v 21) are vital to those whose religion is more about them than it is about God. no value. Desires of the flesh cannot be overcome by self-denial. They can only be overcome by God's grace in Christ.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 2:16–23 The Christian faith will not be replaced by man-made religion. Over the centuries, many have claimed to have found a substitute for Christ and His forgiveness: e.g., rationalism, evolutionism, socialism, and postmodernism. Sometimes these ideas are very impressive, and the lifestyles they conceive become extremely popular. But St Paul wrote, "Let God be true though every one were a liar" (Rm 3:4). These waves of man-made religion always end up breaking apart upon God's truth in Jesus, who "is the same yesterday and today and forever" (Heb 13:8). • Thank You, Lord, for granting me faith and preserving my faith with the wisdom and substance of Christ. Amen.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:1–17 Paul begins the practical section of his Letter, based on the doctrinal section—esp Baptism (chs 1–2).

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:1 raised with Christ. Paul uses the same language as in 2:12 to show that Baptism is a means to salvation and to the Christian life. things that are above. Not spatially but spiritually. Jesus has ascended to His rightful place, from which He governs all things (Jn 8:23). right hand. Symbol of power (Ps 110; Mt 22:44; see p 843).
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:2 on earth. Paul does not despise the things of the earth (1Tm 4:4). However, he realizes that this fallen world should not be our focus.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:3 hidden. See note, Rm 6:4.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:4 you also will appear with Him in glory. Our eternal life, which we possess now through Baptism, will be fully experienced in heaven. Through Christ, we are participants in God's glory (Jn 1:14; Php 3:21).
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:5 Put to death. Paul calls Christians to act on the basis of their gift of faith (Rm 6:11). covetousness, which is idolatry. "Whatever you set your heart on and put your trust in is truly your god" (LC I 3; cf Mt 6:24).
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:6 wrath of God is coming. God's attitude toward sin (Rm 1:18) and unbelief (Jn 3:36) will be fully revealed in the final judgment.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:8 put them all away. Lit, "put off," as a person might "put off" dirty clothing. For Baptism, people wore special garments. The same imagery is found in Is 52:1; 61:10; Zec 3:1–5.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:9 old self. See ESV note; contrast between the "old man" and "new man" is common in Christian writings. The old self is the sinful corruption of our nature inherited from Adam.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:10 new self. In Baptism, we put on Christ (Gal 3:27) and enter into a saving relationship with Christ. image of its creator. Our new relationship of faith restores the image of God that was lost because of sin. The image consists in knowledge of God and holiness. "The image of God is the knowledge of God, righteousness, and truth. Lombard is not afraid to say that original righteousness 'is the very likeness to God which God implanted in man' " (Ap II 20–21).
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:11 In Christ, distinctions are removed, whether national (Greek and Jew), social (barbarian and Scythian), or economic (slave and free). Scythian. From present-day southern Russia, they were thought to be the most barbaric of the barbarians.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:12 Put on. See note, v 10. Virtues are not ours to accomplish but are gifts provided by God. They are Christ's virtues. chosen ones. Israel was so designated (Dt 4:37). Cf 1Pt 2:9.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:13 bearing with one another. As we each struggle with our own temptations, so we understand the struggles of others. you also must forgive. Echoes the Fifth Petition of the Lord's Prayer (Mt 6:12); see SC, p xxxviii. Forgiving others shows that we truly believe God has forgiven us.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:14 love. Cf 1Co 13:13. harmony. Lit, "the bond of perfection." Like a belt, it holds all things together.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:15 rule. Act as an umpire.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:16 Let the word of Christ dwell. Corresponds perfectly with Paul's goal in 1:28. singing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs. Includes OT psalms as well as NT hymns (1:15–20; Eph 5:14; Php 2:6–11; 1Tm 3:16). Songs conveyed some of the Bible's greatest teachings. Great expressions of joy and thankfulness naturally flow from the rich doctrine of Christ. "Certainly you will not release a stronger incense or other repellant against the devil than to be engaged by God's commandments and words, and speak, sing, or think them" (LC Longer Preface 10).
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:17 everything. There is no division between the sacred and the secular concerning what a Christian says and does. Christ should accompany us in all facets of life. giving thanks. Paul has mentioned thankfulness three times in three verses.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:1–17 What is the good life? Prosperity, popularity, pleasure? No, it is the life we receive from Jesus, including gifts that we cannot make or purchase: forgiveness, love, peace, and thankfulness. Jesus' life fills us with virtues rather than vices and enables us to be a blessing rather than a bane to others. • "Before the dawning day Let sin's dark deeds be gone, The sinful self be put away, The new self now put on." Amen. (LSB 331:5)
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:18–4:1 In this section, Paul applies to our specific vocations the general principles of Christ-centered living discussed above.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:18 submit. See p 1904. As a boy, Jesus submitted to His parents (Lk 2:51). Working together in harmony necessitates that one leads and another follows, much like members of an athletic team do to achieve a united success.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:19 love. Husbands must lead the way in love, just as Jesus leads the way in His love for us (cf Eph 5:25).
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:20 Children. This Letter was to be read in public worship. By speaking directly to children, Paul points out that children were considered members of the Church and part of worship. everything. Children are to obey unless directed to do something sinful (Ac 5:29).
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:21 provoke. Lit, "embitter." Discipline and encouragement, Law and Gospel, are necessary when raising children. See p 2025.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:22 Slaves. Paul does not condone slavery or advocate revolt. Onesimus, a slave, assisted in delivering this Letter (4:9). He and Tychicus also delivered a Letter to Onesimus's master, Philemon, who lived in Colossae. See p 101. eye-service. Service rendered merely for those who are looking.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:23 heartily. Lit, "from the soul."
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:24 inheritance. See p 1903. Whatever unfairness we may experience on earth is nothing compared to our inheritance in Christ (1:12).
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:25 no partiality. That God judges justly and shows no favoritism is a warning to all (Jn 5:30).
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:1 slaves. See note, 3:22.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 3:18–4:1 People have to work together. But the heart of the old nature is to seek personal advantage, which causes frustration, resentment, and violence. Paul urges us to resist this temptation, no matter what our calling in life may be. Resistance becomes a reality when we live by faith "in the Son of God, who loved [us] and gave Himself for [us]" (Gal 2:20). In Christ, we know that we will not miss out on anything. • Lord, lead us to spend our lives in loving service for You and others, for You have so dearly loved us. Amen.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:2 watchful. The Letter began with Paul's emphasis on prayer (1:3, 9).
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:3 open to us a door. God provides opportunities to speak His saving Word and gives us the courage to do so (1Co 16:9). mystery. See note, 1:27. prison. In 2Co 11:23, Paul speaks of frequent imprisonments. See p 2042.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:4 make it clear. Also translated "manifest" or "to make known." The Law is already made plain (Rm 1:18–20), but the Gospel needs to be presented in Christ (Rm 3:21–26). We clarify the mystery of the Gospel by simply presenting it in its purity so that all people can understand it.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:5 outsiders. Our life before unbelievers should put a favorable light on the Word we proclaim (Jas 3:13).
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:6 seasoned with salt. We should strive for sincerity, tact, and eloquence so that our conversational style is always tasteful. For a good example, see Paul's Letter to Philemon.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:7 Tychicus. See note, Eph 6:21.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:8 Good ministry begins when we listen first to the people we serve and when we apply the appropriate Word of God to bring comfort.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:9 Onesimus. A runaway slave from Colossae who came to Paul and was converted. Although Onesimus was a faithful Christian, Paul did not describe him as a Gospel worker because his availability for that service was still to be determined by Philemon, his master. See p 2094.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:10 my fellow prisoner. Or, "my fellow prisoner of war." Aristarchus was from Thessalonica, and he accompanied Paul to Ephesus, to Jerusalem, and to Rome. He was probably with Paul while he was under house arrest and attended to his needs. Paul's military language suggests that he viewed his ministry as a battle against evil (cf Php 2:25). Mark … Barnabas. Mark's full name was John Mark. That he was a cousin to Barnabas explains why Barnabas supported Mark during the second missionary journey when Paul and Barnabas disputed over Mark's service (Ac 15:37–40). It is encouraging to know that Paul and Mark were later reconciled.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:11 Jesus who is called Justus. This disciple is mentioned only here in the NT. "Jesus" was a common Jewish name. See p 2098. men of the circumcision. Jews. Epaphras, Luke, and Demas (vv 12–14) were Gentiles.
COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:12 Epaphras. Most likely the founding pastor of the Church at Colossae (cf 1:7). one of you. A Colossian.

struggling … in his prayers. His intercessory prayers are conspicuous and commendable. Prayer is not always relaxing or meditative, as the Psalms attest. mature. The focus of his prayers indicates the overall message to the Colossians—that they would remain steadfast and grow to maturity in Christ.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:13 Laodicea … Hierapolis. Paul's concern extended to others in the Lycus Valley. He probably also served as pastor in these churches. (See note, 1:2; see also map, p 2197.)

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:14 Luke. Only here is Luke described as a physician, but there are indications of his medical background in his writings (e.g., Lk 22:44; Ac 28:8). Early tradition holds that he was a physician from Antioch in Syria (e.g., NPNF 2 1:136). Demas. He later turned away from the faith.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:15 Nympha … church in her house. Some texts read "his house." The name Nympha can be either feminine or masculine. There is no way to be certain of gender, but we can be certain of this person's generosity and support for the Gospel. Cf Ac 2:46.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:16 read among you. Read publicly (Lk 4:16; Ac 13:27). Paul places his own Letters and teaching on par with the OT Scriptures. the letter from Laodicea. A lost Letter by Paul or the general Letter to the Ephesians. See pp 2014–15.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:17 Archippus. Called Paul's "fellow soldier" (Phm 2). Some think he was Philemon's son. ministry that you have received in the Lord. We cannot be sure of the nature of this ministry. Paul's encouragement demonstrates that ministry belongs not to us but to Christ, who distributes gifts of service and callings.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:18 my own hand. Paul's mark of authenticity (cf Gal 6:11; 2Th 3:17). my chains. Although Paul often expressed hope and joy in the face of persecution, he needed always the prayers and encouragement of his fellow believers. Grace. Paul concluded all his Letters by directing readers to God's grace.

COLOSSIANS—NOTE ON 4:2–18 Paul presents to the Colossians and to us a beautiful explanation of Christ's person and work. We do not need to turn to ourselves, to angels, or to anything else. Jesus is our true God and Savior. This "grocery list" of concluding instructions shows that the Gospel is not an abstract idea. It is the essential truth that transforms individual lives, such as those mentioned here, and continues to transform one person after another. • Dear Father, thank You for the individuals You use to proclaim to me the Gospel of forgiveness in Christ. Continue to use me to bring that saving message to my relatives, friends, and acquaintances. Amen.

1 Thessalonians

1 Thessalonians 1 | 1 Thessalonians 2 | 1 Thessalonians 3 | 1 Thessalonians 4 | 1 Thessalonians 5

- Introduction to 1 Thessalonians
  - Overview
  - Reading 1 Thessalonians
  - Luther on 1 Thessalonians
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Greeting

1 [1]†† Paul, Silvanus, and Timothy,

To the church of the Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:

Grace to you and peace.

The Thessalonians' Faith and Example

2 ‡† We give thanks to God always for all of you, constantly[1] mentioning you in our prayers, 3 †remembering before our God and Father your work of faith and labor of love and steadfastness of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ.
4 †For we know, brothers[2] loved by God, that he has chosen you, 5 †because our gospel came to you not only in word, but also in power and in the Holy Spirit and with full conviction. You know what kind of men we proved to be among you for your sake. 6 †And you became imitators of us and of the Lord, for you received the word in much affliction, with the joy of the Holy Spirit, 7 †so that you became an example to all the believers in Macedonia and in Achaia. 8 †For not only has the word of the Lord sounded forth from you in Macedonia and Achaia, but your faith in God has gone forth everywhere, so that we need not say anything. 9 †For they themselves report concerning us the kind of reception we had among you, and how you turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God, 10 †and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, Jesus who delivers us from the wrath to come.

Paul's Ministry to the Thessalonians

2 [1]‡†For you yourselves know, brothers,[1] that our coming to you was not in vain. [2]† But though we had already suffered and been shamefully treated at Philippi, as you know, we had boldness in our God to declare to you the gospel of God in the midst of much conflict. [3]†For our appeal does not spring from error or impurity or any attempt to deceive, [4]†but just as we have been approved by God to be entrusted with the gospel, so we speak, not to please man, but to please God who tests our hearts. [5]‡ For we never came with words of flattery,[2] as you know, nor with a pretext for greed—God is witness. [6]† Nor did we seek glory from people, whether from you or from others, though we could have made demands as apostles of Christ.
[7]†But we were gentle[3] among you, like a nursing mother taking care of her own children. [8]†So, being affectionately desirous of you, we were ready to share with you not only the gospel of God but also our own selves, because you had become very dear to us.

[9]†For you remember, brothers, our labor and toil: we worked night and day, that we might not be a burden to any of you, while we proclaimed to you the gospel of God. [10]†You are witnesses, and God also, how holy and righteous and blameless was our conduct toward you believers. [11]†For you know how, like a father with his children, [12]†we exhorted each one of you and encouraged you and charged you to walk in a manner worthy of God, who calls you into his own kingdom and glory.

[13]†And we also thank God constantly[4] for this, that when you received the word of God, which you heard from us, you accepted it not as the word of men but as what it really is, the word of God, which is at work in you believers. [14]†For you, brothers, became imitators of the churches of God in Christ Jesus that are in Judea. For you suffered the same things from your own countrymen as they did from the Jews, [15] who killed both the Lord Jesus and the prophets, and drove us out, and displease God and oppose all mankind [16]† by hindering us from speaking to the Gentiles that they might be saved—so as always to fill up the measure of their sins. But God's wrath has come upon them at last![1]

Paul’s Longing to See Them Again

17 ‡†But since we were torn away from you, brothers, for a short time, in person not in heart, we endeavored the more eagerly and with great desire to see you face to face, 18 †because we wanted to come to you—I, Paul, again and again—but Satan hindered us. 19 †For what is our hope or joy or crown of boasting before our Lord Jesus at his coming? Is it not you? 20 †For you are our glory and joy.

3 1 †Therefore when we could bear it no longer, we were willing to be left behind at Athens alone, 2 †and we sent Timothy, our brother and God’s coworker[2] in the gospel of Christ, to establish and exhort you in your faith, 3 †that no one be moved by these afflictions. For you yourselves know that we are destined for this. 4 †For when we were with you, we kept telling you beforehand that we were to suffer affliction, just as it has come to pass, and just as you know. 5 †For this reason, when I could bear it no longer, I sent to learn about your faith, for fear that somehow the tempter had tempted you and our labor would be in vain.

Timothy's Encouraging Report

6 ‡ † But now that Timothy has come to us from you, and has brought us the good news of your faith and love and reported that you always remember us kindly and long to see us, as we long to see you— 7 † for this reason, brothers,[3] in all our distress and affliction we have been comforted about you through your faith. 8 † For now we live, if you are standing fast in the Lord. 9 † For what thanksgiving can we return to God for you, for all the joy that we feel for your sake before our God, 10 † as we pray most earnestly night and day that we may see you face to face and supply what is lacking in your faith?

11 ‡ † Now may our God and Father himself, and our Lord Jesus, direct our way to you, 12 † and may the Lord make you increase and abound in love for one another and for all, as we do for you, 13 † so that he may establish your hearts blameless in holiness before our God and Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus with all his saints.

A Life Pleasing to God

4 [1]†† Finally, then, brothers,[1] we ask and urge you in the Lord Jesus, that as you received from us how you ought to walk and to please God, just as you are doing, that you do so more and more. [2]† For you know what instructions we gave you through the Lord Jesus. [3]† For this is the will of God, your sanctification:[2] that you abstain from sexual immorality; [4]† that each one of you know how to control his own body[3] in holiness and honor, [5]† not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God; [6]† that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you. [7]† For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness.
[8]† Therefore whoever disregards this, disregards not man but God, who gives his Holy Spirit to you.

[9]† Now concerning brotherly love you have no need for anyone to write to you, for you yourselves have been taught by God to love one another, [10]† for that indeed is what you are doing to all the brothers throughout Macedonia.
But we urge you, brothers, to do this more and more, [11]† and to aspire to live quietly, and to mind your own affairs, and to work with your hands, as we instructed you, [12]† so that you may walk properly before outsiders and be dependent on no one.

The Coming of the Lord

13 ††But we do not want you to be uninformed, brothers, about those who are asleep, that you may not grieve as others do who have no hope. 14 †For since we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so, through Jesus, God will bring with him those who have fallen asleep. 15 †For this we declare to you by a word from the Lord,[1] that we who are alive, who are left until the coming of the Lord, will not precede those who have fallen asleep. 16 †For the Lord himself will descend from heaven with a cry of command, with the voice of an archangel, and with the sound of the trumpet of God. And the dead in Christ will rise first. 17 †Then we who are alive, who are left, will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and so we will always be with the Lord. 18 †Therefore encourage one another with these words.

The Day of the Lord

5 [1]‡†Now concerning the times and the seasons, brothers,[2] you have no need to have anything written to you. [2]† For you yourselves are fully aware that the day of the Lord will come like a thief in the night. [3]†While people are saying, “There is peace and security,” then sudden destruction will come upon them as labor pains come upon a pregnant woman, and they will not escape. [4]‡But you are not in darkness, brothers, for that day to surprise you like a thief. [5]For you are all children[3] of light, children of the day. We are not of the night or of the darkness. [6]†So then let us not sleep, as others do, but let us keep awake and be sober. [7]†For those who sleep, sleep at night, and those who get drunk, are drunk at night. [8]†But since we belong to the day, let us be sober, having put on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet the hope of salvation. [9]†For God has not destined us for wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, [10]† who died for us so that whether we are awake or asleep we might live with him.
[11]†Therefore encourage one another and build one another up, just as you are doing.

Final Instructions and Benediction

12 ‡ † We ask you, brothers, to respect those who labor among you and are over you in the Lord and admonish you, 13 † and to esteem them very highly in love because of their work. Be at peace among yourselves. 14 † And we urge you, brothers, admonish the idle,[1] encourage the fainthearted, help the weak, be patient with them all. 15 † See that no one repays anyone evil for evil, but always seek to do good to one another and to everyone. 16 ‡ † Rejoice always, 17 † pray without ceasing, 18 † give thanks in all circumstances; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you. 19 † Do not quench the Spirit. 20 † Do not despise prophecies, 21 † but test everything; hold fast what is good. 22 † Abstain from every form of evil.

23 † Now may the God of peace himself sanctify you completely, and may your whole spirit and soul and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. 24 † He who calls you is faithful; he will surely do it.

25 † Brothers, pray for us.

26 † Greet all the brothers with a holy kiss.

27 † I put you under oath before the Lord to have this letter read to all the brothers.

28 † The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

1 Thessalonians

OVERVIEW

Author
Paul the apostle

Date
c AD 51

Places
Thessalonica; Macedonia; Achaia; Philippi; Athens

People
Paul; Silvanus; Timothy; Thessalonian Church; persecutors

Purpose
To restore relations with the Thessalonian Christians after persecution separated Paul and his colleagues from the congregation

Law Themes
Imitation; affliction; parental care; God's Word at work; God's wrath; sanctification; idleness

Gospel Themes
The Gospel message; deliverance; God's Word at work; established blameless; resurrection of the dead; salvation; complete sanctification; God's faithfulness

Memory Verses
The resurrection of the dead (4:16–18); blameless in Christ (5:23–24)

Introduction to 1 Thessalonians

Reading 1 Thessalonians

Just inside the door to the women's quarters, a six-year-old boy stands listening to the instruction and encouragement of his father, who stands just outside. As the boy fidgets, the father urges him to stand straight and walk with honor. His father, as head of the household, has arranged for the boy's education and introduces him to a slave who will escort the boy to school. Peeking back into the house, the boy sees his mother nursing his three-year-old sister, even though the family could afford a wet nurse. His mother smiles and nods affectionately. The boy knows that, after stepping through this doorway, he must live a new life and learn from his father and his teacher.

When St Paul describes his apostolic care for the new congregation at Thessalonica, he uses expressions of parental love (2:7–8, 11–12). Paul feels the strain of separation from his "children" in the Lord as the result of persecution, which has driven him from Thessalonica (Ac 17). As a result, Paul writes an earnest, fatherly letter of instruction that beautifully illustrates Law discipline and Gospel care.

Luther on 1 Thessalonians

St. Paul writes out of especial love and apostolic solicitude. For in the first two chapters he praises them because they received the gospel from him with such earnestness that they remained steadfast in it despite suffering and persecution, and became a beautiful example of faith to all congregations everywhere, and suffered persecution from their own kinsfolk like Christ and his apostles did from the Jews—as St. Paul by way of example had himself also suffered and led a holy life when he was with them. For this he thanks God, that his gospel had borne such fruit among them.

In chapter 3 he shows his care and solicitude that this labor of his and their praiseworthy beginning not be brought to nothing by the devil and his apostles through the doctrines of men. For this reason he sent Timothy to them beforehand to make sure about this. And he thanks God that things were still right among them and hopes that they continue to increase.

In chapter 4 he exhorts them to guard against sin and to do good to one another. He also answers a question which they had presented to him through Timothy concerning the resurrection of the dead, whether all would rise at once, or whether some after others.

In chapter 5 he writes of the Last Day, how it shall come suddenly and quickly. He gives them some good directions for governing other people and tells them what attitude they are to take toward the lives and teachings of others. (AE 35:386–87)

Challenges for Readers

Paul's Authorship. Some critics argue that 1 Thessalonians is composed of fragments from Paul's genuine Letters. In particular, they regard 2:14–16 as a later insertion because it refers to persecution of Christians in Judea. Note that, although the passage does refer to persecution in Judea, it describes the events of Ac 17:5–13. With this in view, there is no reason to regard the passage as an insertion.

Intermediate State. An important description for understanding the state of believers after death and before the resurrection of the body is given in 4:13–15. Here, Paul refers to the state of death as sleep, a common expression for death that does not imply the doctrine of "soul sleep" (unconsciousness). The dead in Christ enjoy the rest, comfort, and bliss of God's presence, though they will experience the fullness of eternal life only after the resurrection of their bodies on the Last Day.

The "Rapture" Doctrine. Some evangelicals regard 4:17 as a description of a secret return of Christ, which will take place before Christ's second coming in judgment (see note, 4:17). The passage actually describes the manner of Christ's return in judgment, when He will raise the dead. The events accord with the Creed's order and summary, "He will come to judge the living and the dead. I believe in … the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting."

Blessings for Readers

Though Paul does describe the events of the Last Day, in response to confusion on this subject, he does not make the Last Day the overarching emphasis of the Letter. He calls the believers to live in the Gospel and to fulfill their calling in the joy of the Holy Spirit. He leaves us an example to follow: know the truths about Christ's return but do not obsess about them.

As you read 1 Thessalonians, reflect on Paul's pastoral concern for these new believers and also his thoughtful and comforting instruction. He shows great concern for their care and establishment in the Gospel, which is also what we need most today.

OUTLINE

I. The Greeting (1:1)
II. Thanksgiving for the Congregation at Thessalonica (1:2–3:13)
   A. The Conversion of the Thessalonians (1:2–10)
   B. Paul's Ministry in Thessalonica (2:1–12)
   C. The Word under Persecution (2:13–16)
   D. Separations and Reestablishing Contact (2:17–3:10)
   E. Prayer (3:11–13)
III. Exhortations (4:1–5:22)
   A. Introduction (4:1–2)
   B. On Marriage (4:3–8)
   C. On Brotherly Love and Self-Sufficiency (4:9–12)
   D. On Clarifying Concerns about the End Times (4:13–5:11)
      1. Those who have fallen asleep (4:13–18)
      2. The coming of the day of the Lord (5:1–11)
   E. On Life in the Congregation (5:12–22)
      1. Pastoral care among the congregation (5:12–15)
      2. The evaluation of prophecy (5:16–22)
IV. Conclusion (5:23–28)

Footnotes

Footnotes for 1 Thessalonians, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:2 Or without ceasing
- [2] 1:4 Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church

Footnotes for 1 Thessalonians, Chapter 2

- [1] 2:1 Or brothers and sisters; also verses 9, 14, 17
- [2] 2:5 Or with a flattering speech
- [3] 2:7 Some manuscripts infants
- [4] 2:13 Or without ceasing
- [1] 2:16 Or completely, or forever

Footnotes for 1 Thessalonians, Chapter 3

- [2] 3:2 Some manuscripts servant
- [3] 3:7 Or brothers and sisters

Footnotes for 1 Thessalonians, Chapter 4

- [1] 4:1 Or brothers and sisters; also verses 10, 13

- [2] 4:3 Or your holiness
- [3] 4:4 Or how to take a wife for himself; Greek how to possess his own vessel
- [1] 4:15 Or by the word of the Lord

Footnotes for 1 Thessalonians, Chapter 5

- [2] 5:1 Or brothers and sisters; also verses 4, 12, 14, 25, 26, 27
- [3] 5:5 Or sons; twice in this verse
- [1] 5:14 Or disorderly, or undisciplined

Study Notes

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:1 Silvanus, and Timothy. Trusted junior co-workers who accompanied St Paul in the proclamation of the Gospel. Though separated for a while, they were now reunited with Paul in Corinth. They had visited with him in Thessalonica in AD 49 (cf Ac 17:1–14). Both were selected by Paul for his second missionary journey (Ac 15:36–40; 16:1–5). Silvanus. Aka Silas; leading member of the Church in Jerusalem; proclaimer of God's Word. After the Jerusalem Council, he accompanied Paul to Antioch to deliver the Council's decision (Ac 15, esp v 22). During their travels together, they met Timothy in Lystra. Timothy. Son of a Greek man and a Jewish woman (cf Ac 16:1). His mother had become a Christian a few years earlier when Paul and Barnabas preached in the city. THESSALONIANS. In the first century, Thessalonica was the capital city of the province of Macedonia and the largest city on the Greek Peninsula. Today it is called Thessaloniki (or Salonika) and is still located on the Thermaic Gulf in Greece. See map, p 1886. God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. The close association of Jesus with the Father shows the highest place given to Him. Lord. Gk kyrios, translation of the divine name Yahweh. See p 2098. It was the name given to Jesus Christ to show His divinity. The omission of the Holy Spirit here does not mean that the Church existed without the Holy Spirit. Wherever God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ exist, the Holy Spirit is also there.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:1 As a good shepherd, Paul wants to keep in touch with the flock of God. Labor in God's kingdom is not a one-man job. We must not forget to visit and follow up with those who are in Christ Jesus. We must work in God's kingdom by joining hands with other brothers and sisters. God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ sustain the Church and carry it in the palm of Their hand. • Lord, thank You that the Church is rooted in You and not in feeble human beings. As feeble as we are, help us to join hands, as did Paul, Silas, and Timothy, and labor in Your kingdom. Amen.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:2 thanks. For the fruit of faith God produced in the lives of the THESSALONIANS. constantly mentioning. Either as often as they prayed or contemplated God.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:3 faith … love … hope. Gifts of the Holy Spirit that remain with God's people when all others vanish. The greatest of all is love (1Co 13). Though listed separately, the three are connected.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:4 brothers. Refers to God's family, the Church. See p 1901. chosen. Their faith and love show that God chose the THESSALONIANS. Paul does not speak of election in the abstract but notes its concrete effects in Christians' daily lives due to the Gospel's impact.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:5 our gospel. A shared Gospel. Paul received it from the Lord, but it is the same message preached by the other apostles (1Co 15:3; Gal 2:9). power. The good news of our Lord Jesus Christ always has power to change lives (Heb 4:12). The Word's power may be demonstrated in visible, supernatural miracles in areas that have not been reached with the Gospel. Holy Spirit. Jesus said the Spirit would testify about Him. The Spirit is always present when the Gospel is preached (cf Jn 15:26). full conviction. Not delivered with doubt or uncertainty. Full clarity, understanding, and certainty come from the Holy Spirit, who persuades and convicts on the basis of Christ's accomplished work.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:6 imitators. See note, 2:14. The THESSALONIANS followed Christ's and the apostles' examples by suffering persecution gladly for the sake of their faith in the Gospel (1Co 11:1). affliction. Trouble or hardship that Christians may have due to their faith and witness. Some of Paul's hosts in Thessalonica were definitely persecuted by their fellow countrymen (Ac 17:1–9).

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:7 Rome had divided the Greek Peninsula into two provinces, Macedonia (north) and Achaia (south). See map, p 1886.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:8 This is not flattery (cf 2:5–6). As in the popular saying "Actions speak louder than words," news of the THESSALONIANS' faith, love, and hope rooted in the Gospel spread far wider than their immediate environment. The THESSALONIANS functioned as a missionary church by proclaiming the Gospel they received by word and life.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:9 from idols. Before the Gospel came to them, the Gentile THESSALONIANS worshiped idols. Forsaking idol worship and coming to the true and living God was important evidence of true conversion in the first century.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:10 to wait for His Son. The second coming of our Lord was actively expected by the Early Church and thought of as near. wrath. Divine judgment to come upon the unbelieving on the Last Day. See note, 2:16.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:2–10 The THESSALONIANS become model Christians in words and deeds due to the impact of the Gospel in their lives and the fruit of the Spirit demonstrated in their faith, love, and hope. Compared to the THESSALONIANS, we are much poorer in our faith, labor of love, and steadfastness of hope. Even without hardship or persecution, we are slow to confess our faith and live it out in love. The Lord knows each one of us and our specific situation. His Spirit has created faith in us and gives us power and full conviction. Despite our weaknesses and failings, His unfailing love and forgiveness will sustain us to be His witnesses. • Thank You, Lord, for the victorious life You gave to the THESSALONIANS. Make us also an exemplary witness for the Gospel, so that Your name may be glorified far beyond our community. Amen.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:1 coming. Paul visited the THESSALONIANS during his second missionary journey. See pp 2050–51; cf Ac 17:1.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:2 conflict. Paul and Silas narrowly escaped the search made for them in Thessalonica. Instead, their host and some of the Christian brothers were mistreated.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:3 There were many false teachers of religion and philosophy in the Greek world of the time who deceived people and made great claims for personal gains. Paul distances himself from such deceivers.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:4 approved. The result after a test. God tested Paul and then entrusted the preaching of the Gospel to him. tests our hearts. Paul preached in constant awareness of his accountability before God for his words.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:5–6 Paul's opponents conducted themselves for flattery and praise. Paul, however, as the Lord's true servant, wanted to please God, who searches the heart (unlike people, who see only what is outside).

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:6 Though Paul and his fellow workers could request pay, thanks, and greater public recognition, they did not seek these but focused on the service to which God called them. See note, 2Co 11:7.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:7 nursing mother. Paul characterizes the care he has rendered to the THESSALONIANS with a most intimate, human example.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:8 also our own selves. Cf Jn 15:13. Paul was willing to risk his life to preach the Gospel in hostile environments.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:9 worked. See note, Ac 18:3. Paul did not wait for the support of others but did receive offerings when given.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:10 Not boasting. Paul was not claiming perfection in himself, but that he was made righteous and blameless in Christ, who enabled him to set a good example.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:11 father with his children. See the maternal example in v 7. Here Paul uses a paternal example to describe his warnings and instructions.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:12 walk. Gk peripateo, used in the ethical sense to mean "conduct yourself." See p 1904. The THESSALONIANS are admonished to demonstrate a character compatible with God's will, i.e., the revealed Word of God. kingdom and glory. Manifestation of the age to come. It will come in its fullness when all people of God will be resurrected and Christ will hand over the kingdom to God (1Co 15:23–28). Cf Rm 8:18. God's kingdom, however, is not limited to the future (Rm 14:17).
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:13 word of God. The Gospel Paul preaches is not his own creation. He received it from the Lord to pass on to faithful persons who are able to preserve and teach it (1Co 15:3; Gal 1:11; 2Tm 2:2). See note, 1Co 15:3. at work. Gk energetai, which could also be translated "working effectively." The Lord's Word will produce visible fruit among those who listen and believe (Is 55:10–11). Such a life-changing effect cannot be produced by mere human words. See notes, 1:3–5.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:14 imitators. Gk mimetai, source of Eng "mimic." The THESSALONIANS had passed through an experience of persecution like the churches of Judea (2Tm 3:12). Judea. Refers to the original churches in Jerusalem. See color map 4. The believers were dispersed after the martyrdom of St Stephen and subsequent persecution (Ac 8:1). However, there is no mention of martyrdom at Thessalonica (Ac 17:1–9).

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:16 measure of their sins. Exhausting God's long-suffering patience. See note, Is 51:17. wrath has come upon them. Some scholars have tried to connect this "wrath" with certain historical events that were about to happen, such as the destruction of Jerusalem (AD 70). The verb's past tense stresses certainty of wrath in the future. Therefore, it can be considered as complete. Besides the sure and future judgment, everyone who is not in Christ and opposes His Gospel of grace is under God's wrath (Jn 3:18).

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:1–16 Paul's experience, inner being, motives, and love toward the Christians is laid bare. He speaks about how he conducted himself (vv 9–12). He commends the THESSALONIANS for receiving the Gospel preached by him as the Word of God and for enduring persecution for its sake (vv 13–16). The Lord wants us to share His Gospel boldly, even if there is suffering or conflict in our path. We should please God and be faithful to His message rather than speak what is pleasing for people to hear. Let us not make lack of financial resources an excuse. The Lord who commanded His disciples to preach the Gospel to all nations will be with us according to His promise and will enable us to pass through any hardship we may face. The Gospel's truth and power will not change despite our feebleness (2Co 4:7). • Help us, Lord, to confess the Gospel of Christ faithfully. May our life also shine before the world so that the preaching of the Gospel may not be eclipsed by the darkness in our life. Amen.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:17 torn away. Paul's separation from the THESSALONIANS and the resultant deprivation. The past tense may point to a sudden separation due to persecution (Ac 17:10). See note, 1:6. for a short time. Paul returned to Greece (Ac 20:2).

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:18 Satan hindered us. Satan uses human agents to bring obstacles before God's people. This may refer to the governing authorities of Thessalonica who sought to imprison Paul and Silas so they would not preach the Word. However, the ultimate authority belongs to the Lord Jesus Christ and not to Satan (Mt 28:18).

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:19 crown of boasting. Just as an athlete rejoices and boasts in a prize, so Paul will rejoice when he sees the THESSALONIANS before the Lord. See note, 2Tm 2:5.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:20 glory. Gk doxa, refers here to someone in whom one can take pride (see imagery in 2:7, 11). See note, 1Co 11:7–9.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:1 left behind. Paul feels the deprivation of being alone very forcibly, as abandonment. Athens. In Achaia, the southern province of the Greek Peninsula. Though Corinth was the capital of the province, Athens surpassed it as a cultural center. See map, p 1886.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:2 coworker. God works through His servants (Jn 15:5; Mt 28:20). Paul did not consider himself the sole dispenser of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. He recognized others, such as Timothy. establish and exhort. Faith in Christ needs to be "rooted and built up in Him" (Col 2:7) by holding on to the Gospel promises. See notes, Eph 4:15; 2Th 1:3.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:3 afflictions. The THESSALONIANS were literally dragged before their city officials, suffering physically as well as psychologically. destined. Suffering for the sake of the Gospel was an intrinsic part of Paul's self-understanding. Neither the apostles nor our Lord Jesus promised that following Him would be easy (cf Jn 16:33).
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:4 with you. See note, 2:1. suffer affliction. Paul and Silas narrowly escaped the mob that came after them in Thessalonica. When they were not found, the hosts (Jason and brothers) were mistreated (Ac 17:5–9). just as it has come to pass. Paul foretold that suffering would come.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:5 sent. Paul, being eager to know about his converts, sent Timothy, his helper. tempter. Satan. Cf 2:18. He uses people and other beings to derail disciples from their faith. Cf Gn 3:1–7.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:17–3:5 Paul is interested in the well-being of the THESSALONIANS, whether they stand firm in the Gospel or yield due to pressure from the opponents. When Paul can no more bear the lack of news, he decides to send Timothy, his co-worker and helper. Pastors and leaders in God's Church need to follow up on their members in the same way. They should take practical steps to know how they are. The Lord seeks and wants to save and strengthen us through His servants, even in the midst of our problems. We are the apple of His eye. • Lord, give us Your loving heart, so that we may sincerely follow and care for the flock You have put under our care. Lord, help us pass through the various sufferings that will come our way as we follow You. Amen.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:6 Timothy. See note, 1:1. good news. Not the preaching of the Gospel, but the joyful news that the THESSALONIANS were well grounded in their faith and love to others. Paul had earlier worried about them, not knowing whether they stood firm or fell from their faith in Christ due to the tempter (v 5).

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:7 distress and affliction. The Gk words, used together for emphasis, describe their anxiety.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:8 now we live. Rhetoric. Paul longed for their safety in the Gospel, as though his life depended on it. standing fast in the Lord. Keeping true to the message of God's grace for the sake of Christ crucified.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:9 thanksgiving … return. A rhetorical question expressing awe and gratitude to God after hearing about the faith of the THESSALONIANS.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:10 supply what is lacking in your faith? Their trust in God was not defective (see notes, 1:2–5). Rather, they needed instruction in certain matters.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:11–13 Paul expresses his wishes in a prayer for the THESSALONIANS after he has heard the encouraging report Timothy brought back.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:11 God the Father and Christ are joint subjects of the sentence. The same function is ascribed to God the Father and to Jesus, who has divinity and equality with God the Father as the Second Person of the Trinity.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:12 the Lord. Ambr: "Who, then, is the Lord…. He has named the Father and has named the Son; Whom, then, has he joined with the Father and the Son except the Spirit? Who is the Lord Who establishes our hearts in holiness" (NPNF 2 10:149). increase. Spiritually, not numerically. Cf Eph 3:16.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:13 establish. Stability encompassing the whole personality. blameless in holiness. Holy in word and action; the result of the Holy Spirit's work in a person's life through Word and Sacrament. coming of our Lord Jesus. Refers not only to the end times but also to the presence of the risen Lord among His people. with all His saints. Even though there are references in the NT connecting angels with the Lord's appearing (Mk 8:38; 13:27; Rv 19:14), here it may mean "the revealing of the sons of God" in association with the Lord. On the Last Day, the saints will come in glory, not to continue an earthly life.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:6–13 Paul gives thanks and prays for the THESSALONIANS when he hears the good report from Timothy that they are standing in their faith and have the same kind of love for him as he has for them. Our faith in the Lord and love for one another should be as living and contagious as that of the THESSALONIANS. The Lord, who has promised to be with us until the end of time, will keep us in His faith and kindle His love in our hearts so that we may love Him and one another.
• We praise You, O God, because the gates of hell cannot prevent the sown seed of Your Word from growing. Amen.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:1 how you ought to walk. The Law is given as a guide for those who are already saved. Paul gives a guideline to those already saved through faith in the Gospel of Jesus Christ. more and more. Abundance of good works results from being grafted in Christ as a branch to the vine (Jn 15:4).

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:2 instructions. Given to Paul by the Lord Himself, who gives it authority.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:3 sanctification. See p 1904. Referring to the ethical or moral implications of the Gospel. A person who has been re-created in Christ must not continue to live in an immoral manner. A Christian's body is the temple of the Holy Spirit, who enables the believer to live a holy life (1Co 6:15–20).

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:4 how to control his own body. Our sexuality is God's gift for use within the parameters of marriage. "Good people will know how to control the use of marriage, especially when they occupy public offices" (Ap XXIII 43).

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:5 like the Gentiles. Unbelievers outside of the Church who live by gratifying their lustful passions in wanton self-indulgence. not know God. Humans have an inherent sense that God exists (Rm 1:19–20), yet they sinfully corrupt that knowledge into idolatry (Rm 1:21–23).

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:6 wrong his brother. Having an intimate relationship with someone else's wife or husband. avenger. "The wages of sin is death" (Rm 6:23). The anger and wrath of the Holy God will be on those who have not repented of their sin and are not covered by the blood of His Son (Eph 5:6; Col 3:5–6). beforehand. While teaching in their city (Ac 17:1–9).

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:7 called us. Just as God sought for Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden and called them when they sinned, so He seeks and calls us by the Gospel into faith in His Son.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:8 gives His Holy Spirit. Reception of the Holy Spirit is not our achievement. The Holy Spirit is given when the Word about Christ is heard and the Sacraments are received by faith. The Holy Spirit reveals the meaning of the Word and the Sacraments by testifying for Christ. See note, Lk 11:11–13.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:9 taught by God. By the words of Jesus and the Spirit Paul passed on to them.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:10 Macedonia. See notes, 1:1; 1:7.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:11 Paul warns against being overzealous for spiritual matters. The Christian life is balanced. "It is not only necessary for our life that our body have food and clothes and other necessaries. It is also necessary that we spend our days in peace and quiet among the people with whom we live and have dealings in daily business and conversation and all sorts of doings" (LC III 73).

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:12 outsiders. Unbelievers. See note, 1Co 14:16–17. dependent on no one. Paul urges them to live on the fruits of their physical labor.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:1–12 Paul gives advice on some practical matters dealing with sanctification so that their witness for the Lord may go forward blamelessly. We Christians must lead a sexually pure life so that we may not grieve the Holy Spirit. Our love to one another should not be superficial but honest and from the heart. We should live by our labor without improperly depending on others for support. The Lord—through His Spirit poured upon us—fights for us against the "flaming darts of the evil one" (Eph 6:16) so that we may live pure and blameless lives. • Thank You, Lord, that we are victorious through You and that Your victory is our victory. Mold us by Your Word so that we may imitate Your apostles and You in our daily walks of life. Amen.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:13 asleep. A euphemism for death (cf 1Ki 2:10). See pp 2050–51. others. The pagan world, Gentiles who do not know God. no hope. Those who live without Jesus have no hope because they do not know of the resurrection.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:14 bring with Him. Jesus becomes a mediator through whom the dead are resurrected.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:15 by a word from the Lord. A teaching of our Lord Jesus Christ (e.g., Mt 22:23–33) or a revelation given to the apostles in His name. precede. Those who died in Christ will have no disadvantage when the Lord returns. The second coming will be seen by them as well as the living.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:16 cry … voice … sound. Three ways of expressing the same calling (action) of the Lord. command. It is the quickening Word of the Lord. voice of an archangel. Mentioned only one other time in the NT (Michael, Jude 9). The Lord uses angels to execute His will. The pseudepigraphical book 1 Enoch mentions seven archangels: Uriel, Raphael, Raguel, Michael, Sarakiel, Gabriel, Remiel (1 Enoch 20:1–7). dead in Christ. Those who passed away while believing in the Lord will rise first. Cf v 15.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:17 Cf 2Th 1:5–10. who are left. Believers who remain alive on the earth. caught up together with them. Gk harpazo carries with it the sense of a sudden and violent action. The point is that we will be gathered together at the resurrection, the dead as well as the living, when Christ returns. (The Vulg used the term raptus, from which the modern false doctrine of a "rapture" gets its name. Paul's teaching is about the resurrection and not a secret return of Christ.) Chrys: "When they see the earth agitated, the dust mingling, the bodies rising perchance on every side, no one [causing] this, but the 'shout' being sufficient … when they see so great a tumult upon the earth,—then they shall know…. What fear will possess those that remain upon the earth" (NPNF 1 13:356). meet the Lord in the air. In the ancient world, dignitaries were welcomed officially by people who escorted them. The focus is the coming together of the Lord and His people. The air is considered to be the abode of evil spirits (Eph 2:2), who will yield the place to Him who has all authority in the heavens and on earth. always be with the Lord. In heaven after the resurrection.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:18 encourage one another. Some THESSALONIANS feared that loved ones who had died in Christ might not be able to see the second coming of the Lord.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 4:13–18 Paul comforts the THESSALONIANS, saying that the dead in Christ will be the first to taste the resurrection and come with the risen Christ. At the second coming, we will all be together once more. Christians grieve over the death of loved ones but not as those who have no hope. The resurrection of our Lord, and the victory we have over death through Him, gives us a living hope, despite the fact that death separates loved ones and causes great pain. • Thank You, Lord Jesus, for making the way through death a path of hope and joy, due to Your resurrection. Create in our hearts the joy and hope of Your victory over death. Amen.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:1 The classical Gk word for "time" (chronos) referred to stretches of time, whereas the word for "seasons" (kairos) referred to a point in time, in the sense of the right time. Paul, however, made no such distinction. He was saying that he does not need to write to the THESSALONIANS about the time aspect of the second coming. See note, Ac 1:7.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:2 day of the Lord. In the OT, this refers to the Day of Judgment, in which the righteous will be vindicated and Yahweh will make an impartial judgment (see p 1079). In the NT, with the recognition of Jesus as Lord, the function of final judgment is attributed to Him. Therefore, here it refers to the day in which Christ will be revealed in glory to vindicate His people and judge the world in righteousness. like a thief in the night. Sudden and unexpected. It is important to be alert, looking forward to the Lord's coming.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:3 destruction. Implies utter and hopeless ruin and despair for those who put their hope in this world rather than in Christ. Bern: "Do not, while present prosperity smiles upon you, forget its certain end, lest adversity without end succeed it" (SLSB, p 56). escape. By human reason and strength, no one can escape God's righteous judgment and scrutiny (Ps 139:7–10). Only those sheltered in Christ will escape God's wrath, which will come upon all those who have broken His righteous Law.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:4–5 day … night. Used figuratively. As people walk in the light of the sun, so all those who walk in the light of the Word of God, Jesus Christ, are children of the day.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:6 sleep. Not death (see note, 4:13), but a life in sin, which is a life in darkness. Those in Christ, the light of the world, are awake and sober.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:7 Commonsense basis of Paul's figurative language.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:8 breastplate … helmet. See notes, Eph 6:10–17; 6:11, 14. The military imagery used here is based in both the OT and the NT, and particularly in the Roman army. Paul advises the THESSALONIANS to guard their faith and love in Christ and His promises in the Gospel so that they may withstand all kinds of spiritual assaults. hope. Confidence. See "hope," p 1903.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:9 destined. God's purpose is the salvation of all people. He does not want anyone to be lost. The faith active among the THESSALONIANS was the proof that He destined them for salvation. Chrys: "Do not despair of yourself, O man, in going to God, who has not spared even His Son for you. Faint not at present evils…. Neither should we fear, if we were going to a judge who was about to judge us, and who had shown so much love for us, as to have sacrificed his son. Let us hope therefore for kind and great things" (NPNF 1 13:363).
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:10 died for us. Christ died as our substitute. As the blameless and holy Son of God, He did not deserve to die. But out of love for us, He who was holy died on our behalf so that we may be free from the wrath of God due to our sin (2Co 5:21). After paying the debt of our sin, He rose from death. See "atonement," p 5. awake or asleep. Physically dead or alive (see note, 4:13).
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:11 build one another up. The THESSALONIANS can help one another grow spiritually by love (cf 1Co 13). See note, 2Th 1:3.
1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:1–11 After describing the future glory of those who have died in Christ, Paul now proceeds to tell the THESSALONIANS about the coming Day of Judgment in which the Lord will give His final verdict. Let us walk in holiness and righteousness so that we may not be ashamed when our Lord appears to judge our work. The Lord who has chosen us for salvation and died for us will be on our side on the final Day of Judgment. • Lord, help us to recognize that there is a Day of Judgment for us. May the work and righteousness of our Lord Jesus Christ be our defense when You come to judge the living and the dead. Amen.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:12 those. Leaders. See note, Heb 13:17. over you in the Lord and admonish. These leaders protected and cared for the congregation voluntarily out of love for the Lord. Some see an overlap with the function of elders (see note, Ti 1:5). However, the passage does not use an official designation or title.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:13 their work. Leaders were to be honored not because of their status but because of their service in the spirit of Christ's teaching (cf Mt 23:11).

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:14 admonish the idle. Reproving those who neglect their daily duty of work and live on the support of others is not only the responsibility of the leaders but the whole community of believers. idle … fainthearted … weak. Congregations consist of different groups of people. be patient. Patience is a fruit of the Spirit manifested in love: "Love is patient" (1Co 13:4). A Christian loves not only the strong but also the weak and the fainthearted.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:15 seek to do good. We must be helpful to others, even to those with whom we may not agree.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:16–18 Joy, prayer, and thanksgiving form a unity. Even though God has other purposes for us, this triad is certainly His will for us.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:16 Enjoined to the hope in the Lord. Joy is also a fruit of the Spirit (Gal 5:22–23).

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:17 We cannot verbally pray at all times, but it is possible to be in the spirit of prayer and ever ready to pray. "The Lord's Prayer has also been prescribed so that we should see and consider the distress that ought to drive and compel us to pray without ceasing" (LC III 24). "We should ask that through the same Spirit and His grace, by means of the daily exercise of reading and doing God's Word, He would preserve in us faith and His heavenly gifts, strengthen us from day to day, and keep us to the end" (FC SD II 16).

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:18 will of God in Christ. Paul earlier told the THESSALONIANS that sanctification is God's will for them (4:3). Here, it finds expression in their joy, prayer, and thanksgiving.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:19 Fire symbolized the Holy Spirit (cf Ac 2:3–4). Some connect this phrase with "prophecies" in v 20, as if

Paul is advising the THESSALONIANS not to put out the spiritual gifts working among them. However, the meaning is more general, including any behavior that grieves the Holy Spirit, such as idleness and immorality.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:20 Some THESSALONIANS might have valued the spectacular gifts (e.g., tongues) more than prophecy (see note, 1Co 14:2). Prophets in both the OT and NT exhorted and spoke God's will for their specific situation and for the future.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:21 test. Consistency with the Gospel message would be one test. Another test is the prophet's testimony to Christ; does he accept the lordship of Christ (1Co 12:3)? See note, 2Co 13:5. On false prophets, see p 307.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:22 evil. Refers to every kind of evil, including false prophetic utterances. See note, 4:3. "The Holy Scriptures alone remain the judge, rule, and norm. According to them—as the only touchstone—all teachings shall and must be discerned and judged" (FC Ep Sum 7).

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:23 sanctify you completely. Sanctification is the practical result of God's peace-giving work in our life through the Holy Spirit. God's sanctification of us through faith in His Son, Jesus Christ, extends to our whole person—we are sanctified thoroughly. Complete sanctification will be ours in eternity. See "holy," p 1902. spirit and soul and body. The entire person, outside and inside, should be sanctified. A description of a human being, however, is not limited to these three categories. Cf Mk 12:30. blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. See notes, 3:13; Jb 1:1. The second coming of our Lord will culminate our Christian journey here on earth. Those who are sanctified by faith in the Lord will be like the wise virgins who had their oil lamps ready when the bridegroom came (Mt 25:1–13). Cf 1Th 4:13–18.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:24 God has called us and is calling us through His Word. The initiative is from Him. From God's calling in His Gospel, we can know that He has elected us unto salvation. See note, Jn 6:44. See also p 1901. will surely do it. See note, Php 1:6.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:25 Paul reveals humility by requesting the intercession of others on his behalf.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:26 holy kiss. See note, Rm 16:16.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:27 oath. Not a contradiction of Mt 5:34, but an appeal for the THESSALONIANS to act as responsible persons to the Lord by executing this request. See p 7. letter read to all the brothers. Paul knows that communication, particularly that of the Gospel, is central for people to be saved and be formed in Christ (Rm 10:14). Therefore, he emphasizes that the written word be heard by all. See note, 1Tm 4:13.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:28 Instead of using the customary secular ending for "farewell," Paul closes his Letter with a grace benediction—just as he had started it. See pp 1899–1901.

1 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 5:12–28 Paul gives both his final instruction about leadership and a benediction. Christians should support and encourage one another. We should respect the elders and leaders of our congregations because of their work for the Lord and the whole people of God. The Lord Jesus, by humbling Himself to the point of washing His disciples' feet, showed to us the love He has for all believers. • Lord, give us Your heart and mind so that our life may be blameless, respecting and loving others. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

2 Thessalonians

2 Thessalonians 1 | 2 Thessalonians 2 | 2 Thessalonians 3

- Introduction to 2 Thessalonians
  - Overview
  - Reading 2 Thessalonians
  - Luther on 2 Thessalonians
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Greeting

1 [1]†† Paul, Silvanus, and Timothy,
To the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:
[2] † Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Thanksgiving

3 ††† We ought always to give thanks to God for you, brothers,[1] as is right, because your faith is growing abundantly, and the love of every one of you for one another is increasing. 4 †Therefore we ourselves boast about you in the churches of God for your steadfastness and faith in all your persecutions and in the afflictions that you are enduring.

The Judgment at Christ's Coming

5 ‡† This is evidence of the righteous judgment of God, that you may be considered worthy of the kingdom of God, for which you are also suffering
— 6 † since indeed God considers it just to repay with affliction those who afflict you, 7 † and to grant relief to you who are afflicted as well as to us, when the Lord Jesus is revealed from heaven with his mighty angels 8 † in flaming fire, inflicting vengeance on those who do not know God and on those who do not obey the gospel of our Lord Jesus. 9 † They will suffer the punishment of eternal destruction, away from[2] the presence of the Lord and from the glory of his might, 10 † when he comes on that day to be glorified in his saints, and to be marveled at among all who have believed, because our testimony to you was believed. 11 † To this end we always pray for you, that our God may make you worthy of his calling and may fulfill every resolve for good and every work of faith by his power, 12 † so that the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you, and you in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

The Man of Lawlessness

2 [1] ‡ † Now concerning the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our being gathered together to him, we ask you, brothers,[1] [2] † not to be quickly shaken in mind or alarmed, either by a spirit or a spoken word, or a letter seeming to be from us, to the effect that the day of the Lord has come. [3] † Let no one deceive you in any way. For that day will not come, unless the rebellion comes first, and the man of lawlessness[2] is revealed, the son of destruction,[3] [4] † who opposes and exalts himself against every so-called god or object of worship, so that he takes his seat in the temple of God, proclaiming himself to be God. [5] Do you not remember that when I was still with you I told you these things? [6] † And you know what is restraining him now so that he may be revealed in his time. [7] † For the mystery of lawlessness is already at work. Only he who now restrains it will do so until he is out of the way. [8] † And then the lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord Jesus will kill with the breath of his mouth and bring to nothing by the appearance of his coming. [9] † The coming of the lawless one is by the activity of Satan with all power and false signs and wonders, [10] † and with all wicked deception for those who are perishing, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. [11] † Therefore God sends them a strong delusion, so that they may believe what is false, [12] † in order that all may be condemned who did not believe the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

Stand Firm

13 ††But we ought always to give thanks to God for you, brothers beloved by the Lord, because God chose you as the firstfruits[1] to be saved, through sanctification by the Spirit and belief in the truth. 14 †To this he called you through our gospel, so that you may obtain the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. 15 †So then, brothers, stand firm and hold to the traditions that you were taught by us, either by our spoken word or by our letter.

16 †Now may our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father, who loved us and gave us eternal comfort and good hope through grace, 17 comfort your hearts and establish them in every good work and word.

Pray for Us

3 [1]†† Finally, brothers,[2] pray for us, that the word of the Lord may speed ahead and be honored,[3] as happened among you, [2]† and that we may be delivered from wicked and evil men. For not all have faith. [3]† But the Lord is faithful. He will establish you and guard you against the evil one.[1] [4]† And we have confidence in the Lord about you, that you are doing and will do the things that we command. [5]† May the Lord direct your hearts to the love of God and to the steadfastness of Christ.

Warning Against Idleness

6 ‡ † Now we command you, brothers, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you keep away from any brother who is walking in idleness and not in accord with the tradition that you received from us. 7 † For you yourselves know how you ought to imitate us, because we were not idle when we were with you, 8 † nor did we eat anyone's bread without paying for it, but with toil and labor we worked night and day, that we might not be a burden to any of you. 9 † It was not because we do not have that right, but to give you in ourselves an example to imitate. 10 † For even when we were with you, we would give you this command: If anyone is not willing to work, let him not eat. 11 † For we hear that some among you walk in idleness, not busy at work, but busybodies. 12 † Now such persons we command and encourage in the Lord Jesus Christ to do their work quietly and to earn their own living.[2]

13 As for you, brothers, do not grow weary in doing good. 14 † If anyone does not obey what we say in this letter, take note of that person, and have nothing to do with him, that he may be ashamed. 15 † Do not regard him as an enemy, but warn him as a brother.

Benediction

16 ‡ † Now may the Lord of peace himself give you peace at all times in every way. The Lord be with you all.
17 † I, Paul, write this greeting with my own hand. This is the sign of genuineness in every letter of mine; it is the way I write. 18 † The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

2 Thessalonians

OVERVIEW

Author
Paul the apostle

Date
c AD 52

Place Thessalonica

People
Paul; Silvanus; Timothy; Thessalonian Church; persecutors

Purpose
To correct misunderstandings about Christ's return that had arisen after Paul and his co-workers left Thessalonica

Law Themes
Steadfastness; affliction; eternal destruction; man of lawlessness; idleness

Gospel Themes
The Gospel message; God's righteousness; Jesus gathers us; the Spirit sanctifies us

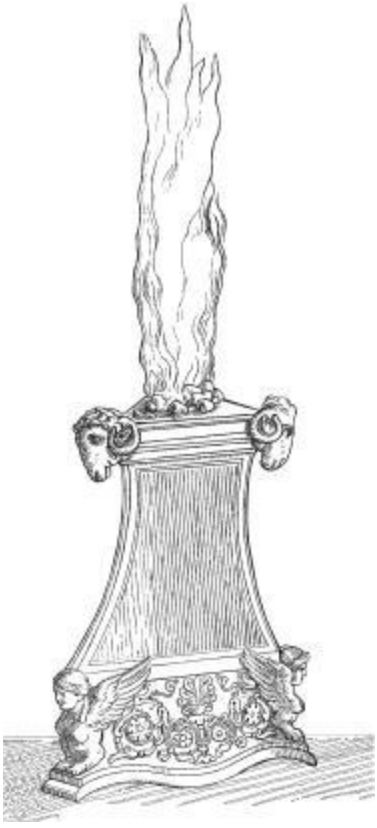
Memory Verses
Grow in faith and increase in love (1:3); stand firm (2:15)

Introduction to 2 Thessalonians

Reading 2 Thessalonians

As the patient groans, the physician uses a knife to split a stiff, 5-ft reed. Attendants place the halves of the reed on either side of the patient's hip and press the ends until they flex and touch one another, so they can be bound as a splint. As the attendants press the reeds, the physician waves a knife over the splint and chants, "Motas uaeta daries dardares …," which no one can understand. "This will heal you," the physician claims, "you must chant each day, 'Haut haut haut istasis tarsis …' "

Magic rites and mock miracles, which deceived many, were part of daily life for ancient Greeks and Romans (cf Ac 19:18–19). In 2 Thessalonians, Paul warns of a far more powerful deception that will come before the end of time. The "lawless one" will use false signs and miracles to delude people into following him. Though Paul warns the Thessalonians about this coming deception, he also focuses them on living each day by the Gospel, the most important truth of all.



Luther on 2 Thessalonians

In the first epistle [5:2], Paul had resolved for the Thessalonians the question of the Last Day, telling them that it would come quickly, as a thief in the night. Now as is likely to happen—that one question always gives rise to another, because of misunderstanding—the Thessalonians understood that the Last Day was already at hand. Thereupon Paul writes this epistle and explains himself.

In chapter 1 he comforts them with the eternal reward of their faith and of their patience amid sufferings of every kind and with the punishment of their persecutors in eternal pain.

In chapter 2 he teaches that before the Last Day, the Roman Empire must first pass away, and Antichrist set himself up as God in Christendom and seduce the unbelieving world with false doctrines and signs—until Christ shall come and destroy him by his glorious coming, first slaying him with spiritual preaching.

In chapter 3 he gives some admonitions, especially that they rebuke the idlers who are not supporting themselves by their own labor. If the idlers will not reform, then the faithful shall avoid them. And this is a stiff rebuke to the clergy of our day. (AE 35:387–88)

Challenges for Readers

Paul's Authorship. Some critics argue that 2 Thessalonians is not a genuine Letter from Paul. Paul mentions issues of forgery (2:2; 3:17), but this hardly suggests that the Letter itself is forged. Critics assert that the Letter's description of the end times differs significantly from 1 Thessalonians. Yet, in 2 Thessalonians, Paul teaches that the day of the Lord has not yet come, which accords well with 1Th 5:2. In the second Letter, Paul seeks to calm the readers about the imminence of Christ's return (2:2), which is simply a difference in emphasis from 1 Thessalonians, not doctrine. Some scholars have questioned the authenticity of this Letter, specifically regarding Paul's authorship, chiefly due to seeming differences between 1 Thessalonians and 2 Thessalonians regarding the return of Christ. However, the two Epistles are simply emphasizing different but complementary aspects of the teaching on the end times: that we cannot know the time of our Lord's return, and yet there will be signs. Bishop Polycarp affirmed the Pauline authorship of 2 Thessalonians and its divinely authoritative status around AD 110. We can in good conscience agree with his conclusion.

Man of Lawlessness. Paul makes special reference to apostasy and the exaltation of the "lawless one" (2:3–10), which must take place before Christ's return in judgment. Though his descriptions of these events are unique, the same themes are taught in other parts of Scripture. According to the Early Church father Irenaeus (ANF 1:535–56), the lawless one corresponds to the "spirit of the antichrist" (1Jn 2:18; 4:3) and the beast (and/or the prostitute "Babylon"; Rv 13:1–10; chs 17–18).

The Restrainer. Paul makes a passing reference to some-one or something that restrains the appearance of the "man of lawlessness" (2:7). The Church Fathers commonly referred to God restraining the lawless one through Roman governance, but other suggestions have been offered (e.g., the Gospel, the Holy Spirit—suggestions that do not fit well with Paul's broader theology). In any case, note that the restraint comes from God, no matter what the means may be. Cf Dn 10:13, 21; Rv 12:7; 20:1–3.

Blessings for Readers

As in 1 Thessalonians, Paul exhibits exemplary pastoral care for the Thessalonian congregation. He patiently explains issues of doctrine that have confused them and instructs them consistently in matters of faith and life, according to the traditions that he had taught them (2:15). Though the end times appear fascinating, Paul demonstrates once again that applying Law and Gospel for daily living has the greatest importance. Through Law and Gospel, the Lord prepares us for the persecution at the end and Jesus' blessed return.

OUTLINE

I. The Greeting (1:1–2)
II. The Thanksgiving (1:3–12)
  A. Thanks for Faith and Love (1:3–4)
  B. Encouragement of the Discouraged (1:5–10)
  C. Petition for Worthy Conduct (1:11–12)
III. Exhortation and Encouragement about the End Times (ch 2)
  A. Events Preceding the Coming of the Day of the Lord (2:1–12)
  B. Encouragement and Thanksgiving (2:13–17)
IV. Apostolic Commands (3:1–15)
  A. Request for Prayers (3:1–5)
  B. Discipline of the Disorderly (3:6–12)
  C. Admonition to Do Good (3:13–15)
V. Conclusion (3:16–18)
  A. Prayer for Peace (3:16)
  B. Greeting (3:17)
  C. Benediction (3:18)

Footnotes

Footnotes for 2 Thessalonians, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:3 Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church
- [2] 1:9 Or destruction that comes from

Footnotes for 2 Thessalonians, Chapter 2

- [1] 2:1 Or brothers and sisters; also verses 13, 15
- [2] 2:3 Some manuscripts sin
- [3] 2:3 Greek the son of perdition (a Hebrew idiom)
- [1] 2:13 Some manuscripts chose you from the beginning

Footnotes for 2 Thessalonians, Chapter 3

- [2] 3:1 Or brothers and sisters; also verses 6, 13
- [3] 3:1 Or glorified
- [1] 3:3 Or evil
- [2] 3:12 Greek eat their own bread

Study Notes

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:1 Silvanus, and Timothy. See note, 1Th 1:1. church. See pp 1901–2. Thessalonians. See note, 1Th 1:1. in God. The Thessalonian Church has its being, foundation, source, character, and very existence in God. Paul declares plainly the converts now belong to the Father and Christ.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:2 See pp 1899–1901. Paul's typical greeting, used within the context of a letter or within worship (liturgically). God's grace is the source of all real blessings, and peace is the result of these blessings. Cf 2:16; 3:16.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:1–2 Paul greets the Christians in Thessalonica as fellow members of the Body of Christ (the Church) and blesses them with God's grace and peace. Christian believers are called out of worldliness to lives of holiness. We are connected to the Holy One, to the Lord Himself. As such, we must act differently than the world and not according to its standards of self-centeredness (cf Rm 12:1–2); we must exhibit grace and peace to all others. Like the Thessalonians, our place as Christians "in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ" is a gift from God and is assured to us by His grace alone (cf Eph 1:11–14). Jesus' death and resurrection incorporated us into His Body through Baptism and reconciled us with the Father (cf Gal 2:20; Eph 2:13–21). • "Lord Jesus Christ, Your pow'r make known, For You are Lord of lords alone; Defend Your holy Church that we May sing your praise eternally. O Comforter of priceless worth, Send peace and unity on earth." Amen. (LSB 655:2–3)

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:3 faith is growing … love … is increasing. Faith is a gift from God (cf Eph 2:8), created through the means of His grace. Through these means, God also grows our faith. He matures and strengthens our confidence and trust in Jesus as our only Savior (cf Mk 9:24). "We must use the Sacraments in such a way that faith, which believes the promises offered and set forth through the Sacraments, is increased" (AC XIII 2). Faith is not completed or made better by love; faith is sufficient in and of itself to connect us with God's salvation. However, faith grows in understanding, becomes steadier in the face of persecution, and naturally produces good works (love) for the neighbor who needs them. Through faith, a person has been made a new creation, a good tree that produces more and more good fruit. Love increases as faith grows (cf Mt 7:17, 12:33–35; 2Co 5:17; LC II 57–59; III 1–3).

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:4 boast. Not arrogant or self-promoting. Thessalonians are examples to the other churches (cf 2Co 8:1–7). churches of God. In Corinth and its surrounding area, from where Paul was writing (cf 2Co 1:1). persecutions. Specifics of the Thessalonians' suffering are not revealed, except that it is for "the kingdom of God" (v 5). Christian suffering is in many ways a mystery of the faith. Why should the upright and honest people of Thessalonica have to suffer? Yet, Paul gives thanks! After all, a Christian will and must suffer (2Tm 3:12). And persecution is a sign that a person is on the right way: the powers of evil are disturbed when Christ is active and when His promised coming is near. Suffering mysteriously unifies us with Jesus, the Suffering Servant (cf Is 53); it provides an opportunity for us to give glory to God (cf Jn 9:1–3); it tests and strengthens our faith (cf 1Pt 1:3–9); it teaches us to love God for His own sake, and not for the sake of prosperity; it conforms and shapes us into the image of Christ (cf Rm 8:17); it teaches us to glory in the cross (cf Lk 9:22–24; Ps 34:19–22); it humbles us, reminding us that the servant is not greater than the master and preventing self-righteousness from closing us to His gifts (cf Jn 15:20). Suffering can be thought of as one of God's "strange" gifts (cf Ac 5:40–42; 1Pt 4:12–14).

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:3–4 Paul gives thanks for God's grace at work among the Thessalonians, by which He has created faith and love in them. Paul points to the persecuted Thessalonians as examples for other Christians of their time and ours. We, too, should "be imitators of God" (Eph 5:1). We must set an example to others in what we believe and in what we say and do for them; i.e., by living in faith and in love. In this way, we will be, as Luther puts it, little Christs, "[helping] our neighbor through our body and its works" (AE 31:367). Christ is indeed our example, but, much greater and higher than that, He is our Savior! Cf 1Pt 2:19–25. He suffered in our place, on account of our sins, for us! • Almighty God, we implore You that You would strengthen us through the Lord's Supper in faith toward You and in fervent love toward one another. Amen.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:5 Paul consoles the Thessalonians: their suffering, as well as their faith and conduct in the face of tribulation, is part of God's plan of history as the Last Day draws nearer, and it is a clear sign of His future "righteous judgment." Faith perseveres unto eternal life

(cf 1Pt 1:3–7). This is evidence. May refer to "your steadfastness and faith in all your persecutions" (v 4). worthy of the kingdom of God. Suffering is at times an aspect of the Father's gracious discipline; it is a way in which He shapes and conforms His children, thus preparing them for the glory of His kingdom. God Himself makes us worthy through Jesus, the Lamb (cf v 11; Gal 3:27; Rv 5:6–14). See pp 1565–66.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:6 repay with affliction. At the second coming (cf vv 7–10).

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:7 mighty angels. The Lord executes His powerful judgment through them (cf Ps 103:20).

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:8 in flaming fire. Fire accompanies and reveals the Lord as He comes "to judge the living and the dead" (1Pt 4:5) in vengeance (cf Dn 7:9–10). obey the gospel. Faith obeys; obedience is faithful. Rejection of the Gospel is disobedience to the divine invitation to faith and life. See note, Rm 1:5.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:9 eternal destruction, away from the presence. Everlasting fire, chastisement, ruin, punishment, and judgment describe the end of those who reject God's mercy. Not an annihilation but a complete and final separation from God, from beholding the face of Jesus. This is hell (cf Mt 25:31–46). glory of His might. The visible glory of God's presence; it shines forth from His strength, His might. Our Lord's presence is held in tension: earthly in this time and place, and also heavenly in eternity. He is inseparably present with the faithful already now in His Body, the Church, through Word and Sacrament (cf Rm 8:30–39); at the same time, paradoxically, believers await the revelation of His presence "when He comes on that day" (v 10). Cf 2Co 4:6; 1Th 2:12.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:10 glorified in His saints. The Lord ultimately shares His glory with His followers "on that day"; He is the source of glory (cf 2:14; Rm 8:17–18; Php 3:21). saints. See p 1904. testimony. The Gospel (v 8) preached by the apostles, who were witnesses of what they had seen and heard, esp the utterly convincing fact that Jesus was raised from the dead (1Co 15:5–8). See p 971.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:11 worthy of His calling. See note, v 5. Only God can proclaim and make the Thessalonians or anyone worthy, and "He will surely do it" (1Th 5:24)! Here the worthiness refers to our present vocations and our holiness therein. God calls Christians in Baptism, and thus He saves them, draws them to Himself, and keeps them in His hand. every resolve for good and every work of faith. Wrought by God's sanctifying power; God's gift of justifying faith produces these good works. Though justification and sanctification are distinct, as are faith and works, they are never separate. We are saved through faith alone, but faith is never alone; it always produces good works. by His power. Because of sin, we are powerless to do the good works of faith. Paul's prayer is that God would continue His work and bring it to completion (cf Jn 15:5). See note, v 3.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:12 so that the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified. In and through His people, the Lord is glorified and He, in turn, is their glory. "[God] has created us for this very reason, that He might redeem and sanctify us" (LC II 64). Christians glorify the Lord by serving their neighbor (cf Mt 25:40; Lk 10:25–37; Rm 12:1). This has an evangelistic effect (Mt 5:16; cf Php 1:9–11). grace. See p 1902. our God and the Lord. Paul normally uses "God" to refer to the First Person of the Holy Trinity (the Father) and "Lord" to refer to the Second Person (the Son). Both are divine; Paul is speaking here of the two persons of the Trinity, not two separate gods.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 1:5–12 God's judgment will be carried out by the Lord Jesus at His second coming on the Last Day. This is bad news for those who do not believe, for those who reject God's grace in Christ (v 8), as "they will suffer … away from the presence of the Lord" (v 9). As believers, we live in a state of continual readiness for this day (cf Mt 24:36–51; 2Co 6:2). Jesus will be glorified in us, and we in Him (v 12); by His grace, God will judge believers worthy to inherit heaven; and by His power, He will bring our faith to its heavenly fulfillment (vv 11–12). • Gracious Father, You led Your people, ancient Israel, from bondage in Egypt to the Promised Land. Lead us, the new Israel, from this earthly vale of tears to the promised land of Your heavenly kingdom and eternal life. Amen.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:1 coming. See note, 1Th 4:15. our being gathered together in Him. See note, 1Th 4:17.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:2 by a spirit or a spoken word. Paul strongly warns the Thessalonians to beware of false prophets (false spirits), and also misunderstandings of inspired prophetic teachings (even from the prophetic Spirit through Paul himself) or any of his oral communication. a letter seeming to be from us. May refer to a misinterpretation of 1Th that led to doctrinal error. See pp 2059–60. the day of the Lord has come. A deception. Paul explains the deception in v 3. This is one of his main purposes in writing 2Th.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:3 rebellion. Gk apostasia, root of Eng "apostasy." Abandonment of the faith. Betrayal, falsehood, hatred, and lawlessness by misled Christians will be marks of this intrachurch rebellion against God and His truth (Mt 24:9–12). man of lawlessness. He comes as the completion of the rebellion. Elsewhere in Scripture, this incarnation of evil is called "the antichrist" and "the beast." Luth: "[He] not only is a sinner in his own right, but … through false doctrine [he] causes others to sin with him" (AE 41:288). See pp 2059–60. son of destruction. He spreads destruction and will ultimately be destroyed himself, i.e., he is headed for destruction. He embodies the great rebellion against God. He is satanic, perhaps even Satan possessing a person. He has not yet come, but the powers that he embodies are already active: the "mystery of lawlessness" (v 7). Judas is a type of the man of lawlessness (Jn 13:27; 17:12).

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:4 exalts himself. The man of lawlessness exalts himself over both true religion (Christianity) and false religion (man-made). Iren: "Antichrist shall be lifted up, not above Him, but above those which are indeed called gods, but are not" (ANF 1:420). temple of God. Paul could be using the Jerusalem temple as a symbol of God's authority or rule. (The temple itself was destroyed in AD 70 and so would not be standing at the end of the age.) Cf Dn 9–12. Church Fathers believed the Antichrist would be a successor to the Roman Empire. During the medieval period, some Franciscans and other theologians asserted strongly that the pope was the Antichrist. Others saw the coming of the Antichrist in the attacks of the Muslim Turks. The Lutheran Confessions describe papal and Islamic doctrines as "marks of Antichrist" and express that the Antichrist will manifest himself as an authority over the Church at the end of time. "The marks of Antichrist plainly agree with the kingdom of the pope and his followers…. [Paul] is not speaking about heathen kings, but about someone ruling in the Church" (Tr 39). Luth: "God's temple is not the description for a pile of stones, but for the holy Christendom (1 Co 3[:17]), in which [the Antichrist] is to reign" (AE 40:232). proclaiming himself to be God. This is the height of what could be called "false Gospel" (Gal 1:6–8).

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:6 what is restraining him. The man of lawlessness is confronted with an obstacle, a restrainer. Paul does not plainly write what this restraint is, though he had explained it to the Thessalonians (cf Dn 9–11, esp 10; Rv 9:11–21). However, we do know that God—then and now and always—is working things according to His will, His time, and His plan of salvation. See pp 2059–60.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:7 mystery of lawlessness. See note, v 3. he. The restrainer. See note, v 6.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:8 breath. The Word of Christ, of which the Holy Spirit is the preeminent preacher. Gk pneuma means both "breath" and "spirit" (cf Eph 6:17). appearance of His coming. After the son of destruction is revealed, Jesus will kill this lawless one by the Word. This occurs with Christ's second coming. However, we are not told any dates or intervals of time regarding these climactic events.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:9 activity of Satan. The lawless one is an agent of Satan, while at the same time embodying and fully representing the evil that Satan is. Note the unholy anti-Trinity of Rv 13:1–18, which depicts multiple manifestations of the satanic being (see note, v 3). false signs and wonders. A parody by the Antichrist of the true Christ, who did true "mighty works and wonders and signs" (Ac 2:22). Jesus prophesied about this work of the devil (Mk 13:22–23). These evil and misleading miracles are intended to draw people into falsehood.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:10 love the truth and so be saved. Love of true doctrine, love of all that Jesus has commanded to be taught (Mt 28:19–20). Such love is not distinct from faith in Jesus; faith cherishes the truth (cf Jn 8:31–32).

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:11 God gives the perishing (the wicked, those persistent in unbelief; cf Ps 14:1) over to the evil they themselves have chosen. If they persist in error, He gives them finally to evil's destructive end: condemnation. See notes, Ex 4:21; 9:12. This is a work of His Law (sometimes called God's "alien work"), but it is not what God desires for people. Cf Rm 1:21–28; 11:8; 2Co 4:4; Rv 3:16. See note, v 12.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:12 in order that all may be condemned. God predestines/elects no one to condemnation; this would be counter to His very character and being as the God of grace and mercy in Christ Jesus (Ezk 33:11; 1Tm 2:3–4; cf Jn 3:17–21; 2Pt 3:9). Luther states that the reason God created us was to redeem us! See LC II 64. Condemnation is truly self-chosen by willful rejection of God's love in Christ. See note, v 11.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:1–12 Paul warns the Thessalonians not to be misled regarding the second coming of Christ, that the day of the Lord has already come. He describes those apocalyptic events yet to take place before the return of Jesus, specifically the revelation of the man of lawlessness. We must be on guard against deception. There is much false teaching, especially regarding the end times. Our only protection against falsehood is to cling to the Word of God: read the Bible, pray based on the Word, and continue to hear the Word in the communion of saints. The Lord, the Word made flesh, brings us life under this Word of truth. Paul pastorally comforts the Thessalonians, and us, that Christ will overthrow this Antichrist. We look forward, with great hope and joy, to Christ's return in glory. • "Lord, keep us steadfast in Your Word; Curb those who by deceit or sword Would wrest the kingdom from Your Son And bring to naught all He has done. O Comforter of priceless worth, Send peace and unity on earth; Support us in our final strife And lead us out of death to life." Amen. (LSB 655:1, 3)

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:13 brothers beloved. Family of God. As members of the Church, the Body of Christ, they are loved by the Lord Jesus. chose you. God has elected His people unto salvation; thus our salvation is sure. Cf Rm 8:29–39; Eph 1:3–14; 2Tm 1:9. firstfruits to be saved. God the Father chose us in Christ before He made the world. Cf 1Pt 1:18–20; Rv 13:8. through sanctification by the Spirit and belief in the truth. See notes, 1:3, 11.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:14 our gospel. See "Gospel," p 1902; see also note, 1:8. obtain the glory. See note, 1:10.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:15 traditions. See p 1904. The doctrine that the apostles received from their divine Master. There was already at this time, before any written Gospel had appeared, an established Christian teaching that one was not allowed to alter. Cf Ac 2:42. On early catechesis, see p 1965. letter. 1Th.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:16 comfort. Gk paraklesis, an allusion to one of the Holy Spirit's names: the Comforter (KJV) or Helper (Jn 14:26); the blessing is trinitarian. hope through grace. Because of God's good favor toward us, His loving and kind disposition, we have sure hope for the day of redemption. See note, 3:16.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 2:13–17 Paul calls on the Thessalonians to stand firm in the faith the Lord has given them. He reminds them that both their calling and comfort have God as the source. We must not seek the truth in the spirit of the age, in the fads, trends, or ideas of today's marketplace. The God who has elected us unto salvation keeps us steadfast in the faith (cf 1Th 5:23–24). The doctrine of election is a doctrine of the Gospel, by which we know that our salvation is guaranteed (Eph 1:14) because it depends on God alone as He has chosen us before the foundation of the world (see notes, Rm 8:28; 9:11). God assures us of this through the external signs of His Word and Sacrament He handed down to us through the apostles. • "The body and blood of our Lord Jesus Christ strengthen and preserve you in body and soul to life everlasting." Amen. (LSB, p 164)

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:1 Paul requests intercessory prayer for missions, for evangelism. honored. Received through faith. "We pray that His name may be so praised through God's holy Word and a Christian life that we who have accepted it may abide and daily grow in it, and that it may gain approval and acceptance among other people. We pray that it may go forth with power throughout the world" (LC III 52).

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:2 wicked and evil men. Persecutors (1:6) or false teachers. not all have faith. Esp those who, through their whole being and life, experience the faith as a threat and an enemy who must be defeated. Saving faith is not an inherent human ability. See note, 1:3.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:3 faithful. The Lord has shown Himself to be reliable and trustworthy; He has always kept His promises to His people (e.g., the exodus, the Promised Land, the Messiah) and will continue to keep them. Cf 1:6–7, 11–12; 2:8, 13–14. guard you. Paul directs the Thessalonians and us to apostolic teaching ("the things that we command"; v 4) and to "the love of God" and "the steadfastness of Christ" (v 5). These are available to us in the means of grace (see "grace," p 1902). the evil one. Satan (see notes, 2:3, 4).

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:4 we command. Apostolic authority on behalf of Christ (Tr 60). Today, such authority is given to those whom Christ calls into the apostolic Office of the Holy Ministry. Christ is the one working in and through the Office, using the man in it as an instrument (1Co 4:1). See note, Heb 13:17.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:5 direct your hearts. The Lord turns our hearts to Him. hearts. The total inner person; indicates our communion with God through faith (cf 2Pt 1:4). steadfastness of Christ. See note, Php 2:8; cf Heb 12:2–3.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:1–5 Paul requests prayer for his missionary work and obedience to what he has commanded them. We are called to listen to those whom God has given to teach and preach the pure Word (Heb 13:17; cf Ac 5:27–32). The Lord's faithfulness toward us is steadfast; He is an immovable rock. Through the Church (His Body) and her pastors, He will guard us against the attacks of the evil one, the devil, the Antichrist. • "Protect us from war, bloodshed, plagues, pestilence, and other grievous diseases. Guard us against all evil and distresses of the body. Let Your divine will, the growth of Your kingdom and the glory of Your name be accomplished in all these things. Amen." (Luth, TLWA, p 336)

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:6 we command. See note, v 4. in the name. Cf Ac 4:12. Paul has apostolic authority, and he reminded his hearers of this at the beginning of most of his Letters (cf Gal 1:1). This is also a reminder that Christ has a baptismal claim on all who have been baptized into His name. See p 843. keep away. See note, Rm 16:17; see also p 1907. brother. People should still be acknowledged as fellow Christians and not be expelled from the Church if there is yet hope for repentance. See note, 2:13. walking in idleness. Neglecting daily responsibilities and common tasks, but also meddling in the affairs of others. Perhaps this was because they anticipated that the end of the world was imminent (2:1–3), or perhaps they were simply lazy and arrogant (cf v 11). the tradition. Apostolic teaching and instruction concerning everyday conduct. See note, 2:15.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:7 imitate us. A theme in Paul's Letters; he calls on his hearers to imitate him because he imitates Jesus (cf 1Co 11:1; Eph 5:1–21). In this case, he reminds the Thessalonians that when Silvanus, Timothy, and he were with them, they were not idle, disorderly, or undisciplined, but they "worked night and day" (v 8). See note, v 6.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:8 Cf 2Co 11:7.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:9 have that right. See note, v 8; cf 1Co 9:14–15a; 1Tm 5:17–18. an example to imitate. See note, v 7.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:10 this command. See note, v 4. anyone is not willing to work, let him not eat. Called "the Golden Rule of work." Related to both the general and specific instructions already given orally and in writing, esp the command given in v 6.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:11 we hear. Paul does not identify from whom or how he has heard this news, though perhaps it was through the person who had delivered 1Th. busybodies. See note, v 6. Did: "See to it that, as a Christian, he shall not live with you idle. But if he wills not so to do, he is a Christ-monger. Watch that you keep aloof from such" (ANF 7:381).
2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:12 command. See note, v 4. quietly. Without interfering in the work of others and without arrogantly seeking to draw attention (cf vv 6, 11).
2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:14 have nothing to do with him. See note, Rm 16:17.
2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:15 It is at times necessary, and indeed truly loving, for one believer to speak the word of the Law to another in order to shame that person into seeing the harmful evil of his or her ways and repenting. See note, v 6.
2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:6–15 Those who are idle are to be avoided and even denied fellowship in order that this might cause them to repent, amend their ways, and return to their fellow believers. Laziness is a serious sin against the God who created us and gave us talents and abilities. It is a sin against the Body of Christ, against our brothers and sisters in the Lord, to whom we have been joined and with whom we are to be co-workers. The good news is that this word of the condemning Law is not the last word. The Law shows us our need for the Savior from sin; the Gospel gives us that Savior. • Heavenly Father, I thank You that in Baptism You have broken into my life, unified me with the life of Christ, and chosen me for citizenship in Your kingdom. I praise You for this inheritance, this home, this family. I bless You for never having forgotten me and never ceasing to yearn for me, to seek me, to call me, to offer me forgiveness anew. Amen.
2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:16 The Lord be with you all. A liturgical benediction and confident prayer that the Lord is indeed with them and will continue to be so. Cf Mt 28:20; see notes, 1:2; 2:16; see also "be with," p 5.
2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:17 own hand. Paul has, in his usual manner, been dictating while someone else wrote. Now he writes the conclusion, a common practice in ancient letter writing. Paul knew that he had been wrongly cited for support in the spread of false teaching. His greeting is a guarantee that the Letter really comes from him. Cf Gal 6:11; Col 4:18; Phm 19.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:18 See note, v 16.

2 THESSALONIANS—NOTE ON 3:16–18 Paul concludes his Letter with a prayer for peace and, in his own hand, a blessing of grace. We should imitate Paul in his blessing. We should pray for peace for others, even for our enemies. We should bless, and not curse, even those we do not like, even those who do us harm (Rm 12:19; 1Pt 3:9). Our prayer for God's peace and grace in our lives is no mere wish. We do have peace with God and with one another through the blood of Christ; by the grace of our Lord, this is a peace that passes all understanding and remains steadfast regardless of external assaults by the devil (cf Eph 2:11–21; Col 1:19–20; Jn 14:27). • "O God, from whom come all holy desires, all good counsels, and all just works, give to us, Your servants, that peace which the world cannot give, that our hearts may be set to obey Your commandments and also that we, being defended from the fear of our enemies, may live in peace and quietness; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever." Amen. (LSB, p 233)

1 Timothy

1 Timothy 1 | 1 Timothy 2 | 1 Timothy 3 | 1 Timothy 4 | 1 Timothy 5 | 1 Timothy 6

- Introduction to 1 Timothy
  - Overview
  - Reading 1 Timothy
  - Luther on 1 Timothy
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Greeting

1 [1]††Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by command of God our Savior and of Christ Jesus our hope, [2]†To Timothy, my true child in the faith:
Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

Warning Against False Teachers

3 ‡† As I urged you when I was going to Macedonia, remain at Ephesus so that you may charge certain persons not to teach any different doctrine, 4 † nor to devote themselves to myths and endless genealogies, which promote speculations rather than the stewardship[1] from God that is by faith. 5 †The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. 6 †Certain persons, by swerving from these, have wandered away into vain discussion, 7 †desiring to be teachers of the law, without understanding either what they are saying or the things about which they make confident assertions.
8 † Now we know that the law is good, if one uses it lawfully, 9 ‡†understanding this, that the law is not laid down for the just but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for those who strike their fathers and mothers, for murderers, 10 †the sexually immoral, men who practice homosexuality, enslavers,[2] liars, perjurers, and whatever else is contrary to sound[3] doctrine, 11 † in accordance with the gospel of the glory of the blessed God with which I have been entrusted.

Christ Jesus Came to Save Sinners

12 ‡ † I thank him who has given me strength, Christ Jesus our Lord, because he judged me faithful, appointing me to his service, 13 † though formerly I was a blasphemer, persecutor, and insolent opponent. But I received mercy because I had acted ignorantly in unbelief, 14 † and the grace of our Lord overflowed for me with the faith and love that are in Christ Jesus. 15 † The saying is trustworthy and deserving of full acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am the foremost. 16 † But I received mercy for this reason, that in me, as the foremost, Jesus Christ might display his perfect patience as an example to those who were to believe in him for eternal life. 17 † To the King of ages, immortal, invisible, the only God, be honor and glory forever and ever.[1]
Amen.

18 † This charge I entrust to you, Timothy, my child, in accordance with the prophecies previously made about you, that by them you may wage the good warfare, 19 † holding faith and a good conscience. By rejecting this, some have made shipwreck of their faith, 20 † among whom are Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I have handed over to Satan that they may learn not to blaspheme.

Pray for All People

2 [1]†First of all, then, I urge that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgivings be made for all people, [2]† for kings and all who are in high positions, that we may lead a peaceful and quiet life, godly and dignified in every way. [3]This is good, and it is pleasing in the sight of God our Savior, [4]† who desires all people to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth. [5]‡†For there is one God, and there is one mediator between God and men, the man[1] Christ Jesus, [6]† who gave himself as a ransom for all, which is the testimony given at the proper time. [7]† For this I was appointed a preacher and an apostle (I am telling the truth, I am not lying), a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth.

[8]†I desire then that in every place the men should pray, lifting holy hands without anger or quarreling; [9]† likewise also that women should adorn themselves in respectable apparel, with modesty and self-control, not with braided hair and gold or pearls or costly attire, [10]† but with what is proper for women who profess godliness—with good works. [11]†Let a woman learn quietly with all submissiveness. [12]† I do not permit a woman to teach or to exercise authority over a man; rather, she is to remain quiet. [13]† For Adam was formed first, then Eve; [14]†and Adam was not deceived, but the woman was deceived and became a transgressor. [15]†Yet she will be saved through childbearing—if they continue in faith and love and holiness, with self-control.

Qualifications for Overseers

3 [1]‡‡†The saying is trustworthy: If anyone aspires to the office of overseer, he desires a noble task. [2]†Therefore an overseer[1] must be above reproach, the husband of one wife,[2] sober-minded, self-controlled, respectable, hospitable, able to teach, [3]† not a drunkard, not violent but gentle, not quarrelsome, not a lover of money. [4]‡He must manage his own household well, with all dignity keeping his children submissive, [5]for if someone does not know how to manage his own household, how will he care for God's church? [6]† He must not be a recent convert, or he may become puffed up with conceit and fall into the condemnation of the devil. [7]†Moreover, he must be well thought of by outsiders, so that he may not fall into disgrace, into a snare of the devil.

Qualifications for Deacons

8 ‡ ‡ † Deacons likewise must be dignified, not double-tongued,[1] not addicted to much wine, not greedy for dishonest gain. 9†They must hold the mystery of the faith with a clear conscience. 10†And let them also be tested first; then let them serve as deacons if they prove themselves blameless. 11† Their wives likewise must[2] be dignified, not slanderers, but sober-minded, faithful in all things. 12Let deacons each be the husband of one wife, managing their children and their own households well. 13†For those who serve well as deacons gain a good standing for themselves and also great confidence in the faith that is in Christ Jesus.

The Mystery of Godliness

14 †† I hope to come to you soon, but I am writing these things to you so that, 15 † if I delay, you may know how one ought to behave in the household of God, which is the church of the living God, a pillar and buttress of the truth. 16 † Great indeed, we confess, is the mystery of godliness:

He[3] was manifested in the flesh, vindicated[4] by the Spirit,[5] seen by angels, proclaimed among the nations, believed on in the world,
taken up in glory.

Some Will Depart from the Faith

4 [1]†† Now the Spirit expressly says that in later times some will depart from the faith by devoting themselves to deceitful spirits and teachings of demons, [2]† through the insincerity of liars whose consciences are seared, [3]† who forbid marriage and require abstinence from foods that God created to be received with thanksgiving by those who believe and know the truth.
[4]† For everything created by God is good, and nothing is to be rejected if it is received with thanksgiving, [5]for it is made holy by the word of God and prayer.

A Good Servant of Christ Jesus

6 If you put these things before the brothers,[1] you will be a good servant of Christ Jesus, being trained in the words of the faith and of the good doctrine that you have followed. 7 Have nothing to do with irreverent, silly myths. Rather train yourself for godliness; 8 for while bodily training is of some value, godliness is of value in every way, as it holds promise for the present life and also for the life to come. 9 The saying is trustworthy and deserving of full acceptance. 10 For to this end we toil and strive,[2] because we have our hope set on the living God, who is the Savior of all people, especially of those who believe.

11 Command and teach these things. 12 Let no one despise you for your youth, but set the believers an example in speech, in conduct, in love, in faith, in purity. 13 Until I come, devote yourself to the public reading of Scripture, to exhortation, to teaching. 14 Do not neglect the gift you have, which was given you by prophecy when the council of elders laid their hands on you. 15 Practice these things, immerse yourself in them,[1] so that all may see your progress. 16 Keep a close watch on yourself and on the teaching. Persist in this, for by so doing you will save both yourself and your hearers.

Instructions for the Church

5 [1]‡‡‡Do not rebuke an older man but encourage him as you would a father, younger men as brothers, [2]older women as mothers, younger women as sisters, in all purity.
[3]†Honor widows who are truly widows. [4]†But if a widow has children or grandchildren, let them first learn to show godliness to their own household and to make some return to their parents, for this is pleasing in the sight of God. [5]†She who is truly a widow, left all alone, has set her hope on God and continues in supplications and prayers night and day, [6]†but she who is self-indulgent is dead even while she lives. [7] Command these things as well, so that they may be without reproach. [8]†But if anyone does not provide for his relatives, and especially for members of his household, he has denied the faith and is worse than an unbeliever.
[9]‡Let a widow be enrolled if she is not less than sixty years of age, having been the wife of one husband,[2] [10]and having a reputation for good works: if she has brought up children, has shown hospitality, has washed the feet of the saints, has cared for the afflicted, and has devoted herself to every good work. [11]†But refuse to enroll younger widows, for when their passions draw them away from Christ, they desire to marry [12]†and so incur condemnation for having abandoned their former faith. [13]†Besides that, they learn to be idlers, going about from house to house, and not only idlers, but also gossips and busybodies, saying what they should not. [14]†So I would have younger widows marry, bear children, manage their households, and give the adversary no occasion for slander. [15]† For some have already strayed after Satan. [16]† If any believing woman has relatives who are widows, let her care for them. Let the church not be burdened, so that it may care for those who are truly widows.
[17]†Let the elders who rule well be considered worthy of double honor, especially those who labor in preaching and teaching. [18]†For the Scripture says, “You shall not muzzle an ox when it treads out the grain,” and, “The laborer deserves his wages.” [19]†Do not admit a charge against an elder except on the evidence of two or three witnesses. [20]†As for those who persist in sin, rebuke them in the presence of all, so that the rest may stand in fear. 21†In the presence of God and of Christ Jesus and of the elect angels I charge you to keep these rules without prejudging, doing nothing from partiality. 22† Do not be hasty in the laying on of hands, nor take part in the sins of others; keep yourself pure. 23†(No longer drink only water, but use a little wine for the sake of your stomach and your frequent ailments.) 24The sins of some men are conspicuous, going before them to judgment, but the sins of others appear later. 25So also good works are conspicuous, and even those that are not cannot remain hidden.

6 1†Let all who are under a yoke as slaves[1] regard their own masters as worthy of all honor, so that the name of God and the teaching may not be reviled. 2‡††Those who have believing masters must not be disrespectful on the ground that they are brothers; rather they must serve all the better since those who benefit by their good service are believers and beloved.

False Teachers and True Contentment

Teach and urge these things. 3 †If anyone teaches a different doctrine and does not agree with the sound[1] words of our Lord Jesus Christ and the teaching that accords with godliness, 4 † he is puffed up with conceit and understands nothing. He has an unhealthy craving for controversy and for quarrels about words, which produce envy, dissension, slander, evil suspicions, 5 †and constant friction among people who are depraved in mind and deprived of the truth, imagining that godliness is a means of gain.
6 †Now there is great gain in godliness with contentment, 7 †for we brought nothing into the world, and[2] we cannot take anything out of the world.
8 †But if we have food and clothing, with these we will be content. 9 †But those who desire to be rich fall into temptation, into a snare, into many senseless and harmful desires that plunge people into ruin and destruction.
10 †For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evils. It is through this craving that some have wandered away from the faith and pierced themselves with many pangs.

Fight the Good Fight of Faith

11 ‡ † But as for you, O man of God, flee these things. Pursue righteousness, godliness, faith, love, steadfastness, gentleness. 12† Fight the good fight of the faith. Take hold of the eternal life to which you were called and about which you made the good confession in the presence of many witnesses. 13‡† I charge you in the presence of God, who gives life to all things, and of Christ Jesus, who in his testimony before[3] Pontius Pilate made the good confession, 14†to keep the commandment unstained and free from reproach until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ, 15†which he will display at the proper time—he who is the blessed and only Sovereign, the King of kings and Lord of lords, 16† who alone has immortality, who dwells in unapproachable light, whom no one has ever seen or can see. To him be honor and eternal dominion. Amen.

17†As for the rich in this present age, charge them not to be haughty, nor to set their hopes on the uncertainty of riches, but on God, who richly provides us with everything to enjoy. 18†They are to do good, to be rich in good works, to be generous and ready to share, 19†thus storing up treasure for themselves as a good foundation for the future, so that they may take hold of that which is truly life.

20†O Timothy, guard the deposit entrusted to you. Avoid the irreverent babble and contradictions of what is falsely called “knowledge,” 21†for by professing it some have swerved from the faith.

Grace be with you.[1]

1 Timothy

OVERVIEW

Author
Paul the apostle

Date
AD 65

Places
Ephesus; Macedonia

People
Paul; Timothy; Hymenaeus; Alexander

Purpose
To encourage and instruct Timothy as he called the Ephesians to be faithful to God's Word

Law Themes
Charged/appointed with service; threat of false teachers; management

Gospel Themes
The glorious Gospel; salvation through Christ, our Mediator; hallowed by God's Word/grace

Memory Verses
Chief of sinners (1:15–16); one Mediator (2:5–6); the mystery of godliness (3:16); contentment (6:6–8)

Introduction to 1 Timothy

Reading 1 Timothy

"My lord," the chief servant explains, "the granary is full, though the harvest is not yet complete." The head of the household excuses himself from his guests, crosses the mosaic floor of the men's quarters (Gk andron), and enters the family courtyard. His wife sits in the shade of the women's quarters. She spins thread while watching the progress of the young women. Their children and the slaves' children race clay horse figurines around the beaten-earth courtyard. The lord (Gk kyrios) passes into the street, encouraging his chief servant as they walk through town on the way to the fields.

In 1 Timothy, the apostle Paul speaks as Timothy's father (1:18). Paul compares Timothy's service in the Church at Ephesus with the service of a father in a typical Greek household. The overseer must manage his household, commanding and teaching the members (4:11), seeing that care is distributed to all. Each member must fulfill a role and a calling in service to the Lord of all.

Luther on 1 Timothy

> This epistle St. Paul writes in order to provide a model to all bishops of what they are to teach and how they are to rule Christendom in the various stations of life, so that it may not be necessary for them to rule Christians according to their own human opinions.
>
> In chapter 1 he charges that a bishop keep true faith and love and resist the false preachers of the law who, beside Christ and the gospel, would also insist on the works of the law. In a brief summary, he comprehends the entire Christian doctrine concerning the purpose of the law and the nature of the gospel. He offers himself as an example to comfort all sinners and those with troubled conscience.
>
> In chapter 2 he charges that prayer be made for all stations of life. He also commands that women are not to preach or wear costly adornment, but are to be obedient to men. [For Luther's intent, see notes, Eph 5:21–33.]
>
> In chapter 3 he describes the kind of persons that bishops, or priests, and their wives ought to be, and also the deacons and their wives. He praises those who desire to be bishops of this kind.
>
> In chapter 4 he prophesies of false bishops and the spiritual estate which is opposed to that spoken of above, who will not be persons of that kind, but instead will forbid marriage and foods, and with their doctrines of men inculcate the very opposite of the things Paul has described.
>
> In chapter 5 he gives orders as to how widows and young women should be looked after, and which widows are to be supported from the common funds; also how godly bishops or priests are to be held in honor, and blameworthy ones punished.
>
> In chapter 6 he exhorts the bishops to hold fast to the pure gospel and to promulgate it by their preaching and living. They are to avoid senseless and meddlesome controversies which are only raised for gaining worldly reputation and riches. (AE 35:388)

For more of Luther's insights on this Book, see Lectures on 1 Timothy (AE 28:215–384).

Challenges for Readers

Paul's Authorship. The word choice in 1 Timothy differs somewhat from that in Paul's earlier Letters. As a result, critics have concluded that Paul did not write this Letter to Timothy. However, authors often adapt their writing style based on the recipient. Paul also typically worked through a scribe, which could affect the Letter's style (see note, Rm 16:22). The Early Church unanimously received 1 Timothy as a Letter from Paul.

Relation to Titus. See pp 2087–88.

Service in the Churches. Paul strongly distinguishes the roles of men and women in the family and in the life of the Church. His distinction is consistent with typical Jewish and Greek cultures in the first century. However, Paul does not appeal to culture as a basis for his instruction. Rather, he appeals to God's orderly creation (2:11–15) and specifically restricts some offices in the Church based on gender (3:2, 12). Modern feminism has sought to either dismiss or reinterpret these passages. For more on this issue, see p 1972.

Blessings for Readers

In 1 Timothy, Paul offers sound teachings for young and old, for men and women. As you read this Letter, look for passages about your particular calling in order to learn more about your service and the service of others. Be encouraged to pray for those who serve in your congregation and nation.

God's Word and prayer hallow our good works offered in thanks to our "blessed and only Sovereign" (6:15). Although He has challenged us to serve well, He has also equipped us with sound teaching (6:3) so we may pursue righteousness, faith, love, steadfastness, and gentleness (6:11).

OUTLINE

I. The Power of the Pure Gospel (ch 1)
- A. Greeting (1:1–2)
- B. The Task at Hand (1:3–11)
- C. The Power of the Gospel (1:12–17)
- D. Some Opponents of the Gospel (1:18–20)

II. The Church's Organization (chs 2–3)
- A. Good Order in the Church (ch 2)
  - 1. Good order in public worship (2:1–7)
  - 2. Good order in the Church's ministry (2:8–15)
- B. Qualifications for Offices (ch 3)
  - 1. The pastoral office (3:1–7)
  - 2. Deacons and deaconesses (3:8–13)
  - 3. The Church: the community of faith (3:14–16)

III. True versus False Teaching (ch 4)
- A. Doctrines of Demons (4:1–5)
- B. True Godliness (4:6–10)
- C. Paul's Charge to His Fellow Pastor Timothy (4:11–16)

IV. Exhortation to Christian Living (chs 5–6)
- A. Positions in the Church (5:1–6:2)
  - 1. The shepherd (pastor) and various classes of sheep (Christians) (5:1–2)
  - 2. The order of widows (5:3–16)
  - 3. Pastor Timothy and other pastors (5:17–25)

4. Slaves and their masters (6:1–2)

B. True Godliness (6:3–21)

1. The importance of sound teaching (6:3–5)
2. Contentment as a way of life (6:6–10)
3. Personal note to Timothy (6:11–16)
4. A word to the wealthy (6:17–19)
5. A heartfelt farewell (6:20–21)

Articles and Resources Related to 1 Timothy

- The “New Woman”
- God’s Desire in Prayer

The "New Woman"

In the Greco-Roman world of the first century there emerged, in turn, a new phenomenon: the "new woman." … This trend of lifestyle opened the doors so that many women were "liberated" not only in those areas referring to appearance and social conduct but also as they began to set foot in areas that up until that time had been the exclusive domain of men. Pressure on the first-century AD woman did not come exclusively from the conservative wing, but also from the promoters of this new lifestyle….

Paul moves our attention toward "women who profess the faith" so as to combat the model of the "new woman." [1Tm 2:9–10] does this from the starting point of dress; [Paul's] six sentences that follow use as their starting point the usurping of male authority. The fact that the model of the "new woman" came out of a current popular cultural trend did not reduce Paul's confrontation to only one line of argument. In this confrontation, the apostle's thought rather moved on an ethical, theological, and missiological plane: to dress as a "new woman" implied identifying oneself as an ethically licentious person. Invading the male domain—particularly in the context of the Church—not only defied social order but also the divine. In their own way, both avenues of conduct undermined the mission potential of the Church by hiding and confusing its witness.

Roberto E. Bustamante, Primera carta a Timoteo (First Letter to Timothy), trans. Douglas Groll (St. Louis: Concordia, 2007), 177–78.

For an overview of biblical teaching on the life and service of a woman in society, the Church, and the home, see notes, Pr 31:10–31; Lk 8:2–3; 24:9; Eph 5:22–6:9; 1Tm 2:8–15; 1Pt 3:7. See also pp 213, 389, 1972.

God's Desire in Prayer

One generation shall commend Your works to another…. They shall speak of the glory of Your kingdom…. Your kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and Your dominion endures throughout all generations. (Ps 145:4, 11, 13)

Much has been made about the "power" of prayer. For example, in Power through Prayer, Edward M. Bounds (1835–1913) suggested that personal holiness was the power behind prayer. Some scientific studies also suggest that patients fare better after surgery, and have shorter hospital stays, if someone is praying for them. Some Christians believe God gives those who pray an ability to assist others or to influence certain events. Because prayer is "powerful," people desire to pray for others and have others pray for them. But what is God's desire behind our prayer?

Paul addresses the subject of prayer in 1 Timothy. He encourages prayer and asks the Church in Ephesus to be engaged in prayer. But in contrast to what some people today expect from prayer, Paul puts the focus on God and what He desires through our prayers. God wants us to pray because He desires the salvation of all people.

Praying Together

We are to "call on the name of the LORD" (Ps 116:13, 17), not only individually but also whenever we come together in Christ's name. Paul describes prayer in the context of public worship. He emphasizes the important place prayer should have when believers come together to hear God's Word and receive His Sacraments. Men in the congregation should take a leadership position in this regard (1Tm 2:8). Calling on our gracious God is a holy privilege of those who have been redeemed by Christ.

> I urge that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgivings be made for all people, for kings and all who are in high positions, that we may lead a peaceful and quiet life, godly and dignified in every way. This is good, and it is pleasing in the sight of God our Savior, who desires all people to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth. (1Tm 2:1–4)

In these verses, Paul offers a summary of prayer in the life of the worshiping community. Prayer's importance should not be underestimated. Paul strongly encourages Timothy, and through him the Church at Ephesus, to be in prayer. The prayers they offer together run the whole gamut of conversing with God: "supplications," or asking God to meet our needs; "prayers," or respectful devotion; "intercessions," or earnest appeal to our heavenly Father; and "thanksgivings," which arise from a heart transformed by God's love (Ps 107:1).

Prayers should be made "for all people," but here Paul emphasizes especially those who exercise authority over us. Despite our attitudes and feelings toward those who hold power, even if they are dishonest, cruel, or incapable, we are to pray for them, even obey them (Ti 3:1)! Our ability to worship and to evangelize as a body, and our potential for exercising our callings as individuals, are hampered by lawlessness and civil unrest. The purpose for such prayers is so that governments and public officials may provide a peaceful and secure society so the Church can flourish.

With Boldness and Confidence

Our prayers, made in faith, please "God our Savior." He wants us to come to Him, as Luther wrote, "with all boldness and confidence … [and] ask Him as dear children ask their dear father" (SC, Lord's Prayer Introduction, p xxxvii). The whole of our prayers, and the rich variety of forms they take, are like the smell of sweet incense ascending to heaven (Ps 141:2). With thankfulness, we are to offer prayers concerning all kinds of temporal things (1Tm 4:4–5). However, we do not pray to manipulate, coerce, or intimidate God into doing our will. Rather, we pray as our Lord taught: "Your kingdom come, Your will be done, on earth as it is in heaven" (Mt 6:10).

God desires the enlargement of His heavenly kingdom of grace through the work of the Holy Spirit through His Word. Just as we do not discriminate in our prayers but pray for "all people," so, too, does God desire the salvation of all people (Ezk 18:23, 32; Jn 3:16). In fact, Paul argues that God is pleased when we pray for everyone because He wants "all people to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth" (1Tm 2:4). Hence the focus of prayer is not on the required amount of holiness or the success rate prayer has for the ill or even the supposed power people have in changing others or altering events. Prayer, whether congregational or individual, is made in faith to a gracious God. He longs for our prayers, even as He longs to bring salvation to the world.

Our Focus in Prayer

Too often we view prayer in a way that focuses on ourselves. We can begin to believe that we are responsible for the outcome of our prayers, that it somehow is related to our "power." Instead of viewing prayer as a humble appeal to an almighty God, we wrongly assume we can control Him by what, how long, or how often we pray. Prayer becomes a tool for getting what we want. With such wicked desires, God may choose not to listen to our prayers at all (Is 1:15). We can hinder our prayers by our misdeeds (1Pt 3:7).

"The saying is trustworthy, for: If we have died with Him, we will also live with Him; if we endure, we will also reign with Him; if we deny Him, He also will deny us; if we are faithless, He remains faithful—for He cannot deny Himself" (2Tm 2:11–13).

Despite our self-centeredness in our prayers, God's grace still stands. On the cross, Jesus prayed, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do" (Lk 23:34). Because of Jesus' sacrifice, we know that we are forgiven and that God invites us to come to Him in prayer (Jn 14:13–14). We can rejoice that He answers our prayers according to His good and gracious will (Ps 34:15, 17).

Footnotes

Footnotes for 1 Timothy, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:4 Or good order
- [2] 1:10 That is, those who take someone captive in order to sell him into slavery
- [3] 1:10 Or healthy
- [1] 1:17 Greek to the ages of ages

Footnotes for 1 Timothy, Chapter 2

- [1] 2:5 men and man render the same Greek word that is translated people in verses 1 and 4

Footnotes for 1 Timothy, Chapter 3

- [1] 3:2 Or bishop; Greek episkopos; a similar term occurs in verse 1
- [2] 3:2 Or a man of one woman; also verse 12
- [1] 3:8 Or devious in speech
- [2] 3:11 Or Wives, likewise, must, or Women, likewise, must
- [3] 3:16 Greek Who; some manuscripts God; others Which
- [4] 3:16 Or justified
- [5] 3:16 Or vindicated in spirit

Footnotes for 1 Timothy, Chapter 4

- [1] 4:6 Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated “brothers”) refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God’s family, the church
- [2] 4:10 Some manuscripts and suffer reproach
- [1] 4:15 Greek be in them

Footnotes for 1 Timothy, Chapter 5

- [2] 5:9 Or a woman of one man

Footnotes for 1 Timothy, Chapter 6

- [1] 6:1 Greek bondservants
- [1] 6:3 Or healthy
- [2] 6:7 Greek for; some manuscripts insert [it is] certain [that]
- [3] 6:13 Or in the time of
- [1] 6:21 The Greek for you is plural

Study Notes

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:1 apostle. See p 1901. Christ Jesus. In 1Tm, the Savior's title or office ("Christ") frequently precedes His personal name (Jesus). The difference between this and "Jesus Christ" is slight. command. Paul's appointment as an apostle was a direct divine order (Ac 26:15–18). God our Savior. See "save," p 1904. our hope. Hope objectively embodied in Jesus is not mere wishful thinking but confident expectation. See p 1903.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:2 Timothy. A native of Lystra in modern Turkey; the son of a Gentile father and Christian mother (Ac 16:1; 2Tm 1:5). He toured with Paul and later served as a pastor in Ephesus. Paul invited him to join his missionary travels on his second visit to Lystra (Ac 16:3). true child. An expression used in Jewish and Roman literature. As a spiritual son who confessed with Paul the same faith in Christ Jesus, Timothy would be expected to render loving service to his spiritual father by carrying out the directives in the Epistle. Paul uses this family expression most for those who represent him to others in the churches. Cf 1:18; 2Tm 2:1; see p 555.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:1–2 The work of the Gospel ministry carried out by Paul and Timothy flows from God's command. The words they speak are His words, not their own. Their competence for ministry comes from God, who called them to His service. Today, we should not judge the effectiveness of those called to serve as Gospel ministers only according to their personality traits or other outward characteristics. Ministers should instead be regarded according to how faithfully they proclaim the Gospel message entrusted to them. The Lord Jesus has called ministers to be His representatives in our lives. The effectiveness of the Word they proclaim and the Absolution they pronounce rests on the power and authority of the Savior Himself. • Lord Jesus, teach us to regard the servants of Your Church not according to their individual strengths and weaknesses but as Your spokesmen, called to serve sinners with Your gifts of forgiveness and life. Amen.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:3 remain at Ephesus. Paul likely made this decision during his fourth missionary journey, following his release from prison in Rome (see note, Ti 1:5). 1Tm was written when it became clear that Paul's return to Ephesus might be delayed (3:14–15). Ephesus. The site of Paul's longest missionary tenure (Ac 19–20), it was a large seaport city on the western coast of modern Turkey. See map, p 1886. charge. A military term that implies the giving of strict orders in an authoritative manner. different doctrine. A Gk term likely coined by Paul, as it appears again only in 6:3. It includes any teaching that was contrary to what Paul taught.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:4 myths. Fictitious, legendary stories that are of no spiritual value. See note, Ti 1:14. endless genealogies. Probably those found in the OT that had become a source for speculation and the invention of allegorical tales, which had all but replaced the Gospel in the minds of some. stewardship from God. The work of administering the Gospel was to be carried forward by faithfully teaching sound doctrine.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:5 our charge. See note, v 3; cf v 18. from a pure heart … sincere faith. These fruits of faith in Jesus Christ cannot be produced by false doctrines, myths, or genealogies.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:6 Certain persons. Probably those first mentioned in v 3. vain discussion. Idle chatter or useless talk.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:7 teachers of the law. This technical term from Judaism is typically used to describe teachers of the Mosaic Law as contained in the Pentateuch. See note, Lv 10:11.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:8 the law is good. Because it is given by God, the Law is intrinsically good. It must, however, be used "lawfully," i.e., according to God's intent.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:9–10 The list of sins shows how God's Law is properly used, namely, to bring sinners to contrition and repentance. Each of the sins listed by Paul closely corresponds to God's Law as found in the Ten Commandments (Ex 20:1–17). On Paul's use of "law," see p 1911.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:9 law … for the lawless. "Yet this is not to be understood in a simplistic way, as though the justified are to live without Law. God's Law has been written in their heart (Romans 2:15). Also a law was given to the first man immediately after his creation (Genesis 2:15–17): He was to conduct himself according to this law. What St. Paul means is that the curse of the Law cannot burden those who have been reconciled to God through Christ. Nor must the Law confuse the regenerate with its coercion, for they have pleasure in God's Law in the inner man (Romans 7:22)" (FC SD VI 5). Bern: "The law promulgated in fear by a spirit of slavery is one thing, and that given sweetly and gently by the spirit of liberty is another" (SLSB, p 200).

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:10 enslavers. Kidnappers, involved in illegal slave trade. sound doctrine. Lit, "healthy teaching." A phrase used by Paul only in the Pastoral Epistles, it implies that the so-called teachers of the law (v 7) in Ephesus were peddling unhealthy and diseased doctrines. See note, Ti 2:1.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:11 gospel. The Good News that we are saved eternally from the Law's condemnation through faith in Jesus. It is the only means by which sinners can be cleansed and saved. blessed God. God is described as "blessed" in the NT only here and in 6:15. He is the source of all blessedness, which He gives to believers through the "sound doctrine" of the gospel. See "bless," p 842. entrusted. As one of the apostles, Paul had been esp entrusted with the Gospel.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:3–11 This Epistle was written to stop the teaching of false doctrine among the Ephesian churches and to promote the teaching of sound doctrine. Our sinful nature often leads us to be unconcerned about the doctrines God has given us in His Word. When this happens, we are guilty of being poor stewards of the Gospel. Yet, in the good news of Jesus Christ, we are given a pure heart, a good conscience, and a sincere faith—all of which enable us to receive God's gift of sound doctrine with thanksgiving and eagerness. • Dear Lord, apply Your Law to our hearts, that we might recognize our sins and be brought to repentance. Give us a love for the healthy teaching of Your Gospel, that we might be faithful stewards of all You have entrusted to us. Amen.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:12 judged me faithful. The Lord Jesus considered Paul faithful even before Paul was able to demonstrate his faithfulness as a minister of the Gospel. Cf Ac 9:15–16. service. As an apostle.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:13 formerly I was … opponent. Before his conversion, Paul (then known as Saul) had actively persecuted the followers of Jesus (Ac 7:58–8:3). Yet, in his zeal to ravage the Church, Paul was, in fact, persecuting the Lord Jesus Himself (Ac 9:4–5). received mercy … ignorantly. Paul was the passive recipient of mercy from the Lord, whose mercy is always undeserved and unearned—it can be received only as a gift. Paul's admission that he acted ignorantly is not offered as an excuse for his sin. It shows, rather, that he did not willfully reject the Savior because he was ignorant that Jesus was the Christ, the Son of God.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:14 Paul's heart was changed by God's overflowing grace. grace. God's undeserved favor shown to the guilty sinner. See p 1902. overflowed. Though he regarded himself as the foremost of sinners, the Lord's grace for Paul was poured out in abundance. See note, Ti 3:5.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:15 The saying. Perhaps a restatement of what Jesus proclaimed concerning Himself in the Gospels (cf Lk 19:10). came into the world. At His incarnation, Christ entered the realm in which human beings live and sin (Php 2:5–8). save sinners. See p 1904. I am the foremost. Paul led persecution against the Lord and His followers. The present tense of the verb indicates that Paul's self-designation remains valid, even though he has been fully absolved and saved by Christ Jesus. Christians do not cease to sin until the life of the world to come. In this life, we remain saints (people made holy through faith in Jesus) and sinners.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:16 mercy for this reason. In v 13b, Paul describes God's mercy in terms of what God did for him; in v 16, that same mercy is described in terms of the example it set for others. display His perfect patience. When God delays judgment against sin, this patience is an occasion for repentance and salvation (2Pt 3:9, 15). example. God would also graciously deal with other sinners who would repent and believe in the future.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:17 King of ages. The past, present, and future are under His control. immortal. Immune to corruption and decay (see notes, Jsh 3:10; Mt 16:16). invisible. Jesus says that God is "spirit" (Jn 4:24). He is the Maker "of all things visible and invisible" (Nicene Creed). only God. Even as Christians confess the divinity of Jesus as the Son of God, they worship one God, the Holy Trinity (Rm 3:29–30; 1Co 8:4–6; 1Tm 2:5).

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:18 charge. Given in vv 3–5. See note, v 3. my child. See note, v 2. prophecies. Occasions when God's Word was spoken to Timothy, perhaps concerning his call to serve as Gospel minister. See pp 1077–83. Chrys: "What is 'by prophecy'? By the Holy Spirit. For prophecy is not only the telling of things future, but also of the present…. To elevate him, and prepare him to be sober and watchful, he reminds him by whom he was chosen and ordained, as if he had said, 'God has chosen you' " (NPNF 1 13:423). by them. The prophecies from God concerning Timothy would sustain and direct him as he carried out his charge. good warfare.

Timothy is charged to silence those in Ephesus teaching different doctrines. Paul's military vocabulary implies that, in the discharge of his duties, Timothy will suffer hardships and be expected to render faithfulness to those in authority over him.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:19 holding faith and a good conscience. Timothy's work would require faith in God's prophecies, by which he would wage the good warfare. Fully relying on God's Word would naturally result in a good conscience for Timothy. See p 1902. this. The prophecies (Word) of God. a shipwreck of their faith. A graphic depiction of what happens to the faith of those who thrust aside the prophecies (Word) of God. Before Paul wrote this Epistle, he had been shipwrecked several times (cf 2Co 11:25; Ac 27:39–44).

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:20 handed over to Satan. Formal expulsion or excommunication from the Christian community. Cf 1Co 5:3–5, 9–13. learn not to blaspheme. The goal of excommunication is that the sinner be led to repentance and be restored to the faith previously rejected. Cf 2Co 2:5–11.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:12–20 "Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners" (v 15). This truth is the beating heart of all our hope and joy. God's patience and mercy are at work to save all sinners, whether they are blinded by ignorance (like Paul) or have actively rejected the faith (like Hymenaeus and Alexander). Our conscience may sometimes be plagued by doubts and regrets. But if God's desire to save sinners could extend even to Paul, who actively persecuted Jesus' followers, and who is foremost among sinners, then it can certainly extend to us as well. God's mercy and patience for us is demonstrated at the cross, where Jesus died as the substitute for all sinners and won eternal life for all who believe. • "Almighty God, You turned the heart of him who persecuted the Church and by his preaching caused the light of the Gospel to shine throughout the world. Grant us ever to rejoice in the saving light of Your Gospel and, following the example of the apostle Paul, to spread it to the ends of the earth." Amen. (LSB Altar Book, p 954)

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON Ch 2 Paul writes on organization and order for the public services of the churches.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:1 First. Corporate prayer and worship were not only first among the practical issues raised by Paul in this Epistle, but they are also of first (primary) importance for fulfilling the charge to Timothy outlined in ch 1. supplications, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgivings. Four synonyms for prayer, each with a different nuance. supplications. Offered for specific benefits or needs. prayers. A common NT term, denoting a wide array of petitions. intercessions. Appeals for others made to God with boldness and childlike trust. thanksgivings. Expressions of gratitude for mercies received. These are always appropriate, even when earthly circumstances are difficult, because we are never separated from God's love and mercy in Christ. all people. Inclusive; even unbelievers and enemies of the Church are included in the Church's prayers. Cf Mt 5:43–47.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:2 kings. Paul does not exclude the notorious emperor Nero, ruler of the Roman Empire. All governing authorities are instituted by God, thus deserving of honor and respect (Rm 13:1–7). high positions. All prominent public officials should be included in the Church's prayers. peaceful and quiet life. A stable civil government allows Christians to carry out their vocations unhindered and without harassment. The uncommon prosperity and peace of the Roman Empire (the so-called Pax Romana) opened many doors for Paul to carry out his ministry throughout the Mediterranean world. Paul himself was a citizen of Rome (Ac 22:22–29).

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:4 who desires all people to be saved. Cf Ezk 33:11, 2Pt 3:9. All people are not saved, however, because many reject the Word and resist the Holy Spirit (e.g., Hymenaeus and Alexander, who shipwrecked their faith; 1:19–20). Cf Mt 23:37; Ac 7:51.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:5–6 "The Scriptures do not teach that we are to call on the saints or to ask the saints for help. Scripture sets before us the one Christ as the Mediator, Atoning Sacrifice, High Priest, and Intercessor [1 Timothy 2:5–6]. He is to be prayed to. He has promised that He will hear our prayer [John 14:13]" (AC XXI 2–3).

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:5 one God. He saves both Jews and Gentiles through faith (Rm 3:29–30). one mediator. Jesus alone is the Savior from sin and death. man. Jesus is both "true God, begotten of the Father from eternity, and also true man, born of the Virgin Mary" (see SC, Second Article, p xxxvii). As a true man, His work of mediation was carried out on behalf of all human beings.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:6 ransom. The price that must be paid to free captives. See p 1904. for all. Jesus willingly gave His life as the ransom for all held captive by sin and death (Mk 10:45). testimony given at the proper time. Jesus' act of self-giving testifies to the desire of the one God that all people be saved. Paul and the other apostles would also testify to Jesus' mediating work, and their testimony continues through the time of the NT until Christ returns. See p 971.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:7 appointed a preacher and an apostle. The good news concerning the self-giving, ransom-paying Savior is a message that must be proclaimed and taught. Paul had been appointed to carry out this task. In the first century, a preacher (or herald) was often used to make important public announcements. As a spokesman for kings and other authorities, the herald's most important duty was to accurately announce the message that had been entrusted to him. apostle. See p 1901. I am not lying. Paul affirms his apostleship, which was challenged in both Galatia and Corinth (Gal 1; 1Co 9). The comment could also emphasize the phrase that follows, namely, that Paul's apostolic appointment was directed esp to the Gentiles (Ac 9:15; 26:17–18). The latter fact is deserving of emphasis esp here because God desires to save "all people" (v 4), the vast majority of whom are, in fact, Gentiles. teacher of the Gentiles. Twelve other men had also been appointed as heralds and apostles, but only Paul was sent to preach primarily to the Gentiles.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:8 every place. Where public worship was conducted; private prayer is not in view here. In older, more established congregations, the overseer (pastor) would be the one to lead the congregation in worship. Overseers were always male (v 12). men. Those who led prayers in public worship were to be males. lifting holy hands. This posture captures both the outer and inner attitudes that should accompany prayer. It is an ancient prayer posture that shows the need and expectancy of the one who prays. Uplifted hands are also "holy" hands when all anger and quarreling is resolved through repentance and reconciliation before petitions are offered to God. See p 1276.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:9 respectable apparel. Outward adornment should reflect the inner purity of those who profess faith in Christ. These directives hold true at all times, but esp as the congregation gathers for public worship. modesty. Feminine reserve that shuns immoral or dishonorable conduct. self-control. Command over bodily passions and desires is here expressed through respectable apparel. braided hair. Elaborate hairstyles and ornate jewelry in the first century were expressions of vanity and sexual promiscuity. costly attire. The finest garments could cost up to 7,000 denarii, at a time when the average worker was paid one denarius per day. Pearls, for instance, were considered three times more valuable than gold. Paul is not condemning braided hair, jewelry, or fine clothing per se, but rather the excess and immorality conveyed by these items.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:10 profess godliness. To lay claim to reverence and piety in an ongoing manner. good works. The primary "adornment" for every Christian woman. This adornment should not only be outward but should match inner virtues.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:11 learn quietly with all submissiveness. See note, 1Co 14:34–35; see also p 1972.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:12 teach. God calls qualified men to teach and preach the Scriptures in the Church's public services. Women may actively teach the Scriptures to other women (Ti 2:3–5), to children (2Tm 1:5), and in private conversations with other believers and unbelievers (Ac 18:24–26). exercise authority over a man. Namely, the authority God gives to publicly preach and teach the Scriptures to the assembled congregation. See note, 1Co 14:34–35; see also p 1972.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:13 For. What follows is an explanation for the prohibition given in vv 11–12. Adam was formed first. God ordained the roles of men and women at creation. Adam was created first (Gn 2:7) and given specific service (Gn 2:15). Eve was then created (Gn 2:21–22) as a worthy, compatible mate (see note, Gn 2:18). This does not mean men are more important than women (Eph 5:22–33) but that God established different callings for them. The relationship between husbands and wives (1Co 11:3; Eph 5:23–24), set in place before the fall into sin, remains unchanged today. Thus the commands and prohibitions concerning men and women in this passage are not simply reflections of first-century Jewish culture or Paul's personal opinions. Paul roots the practices of the Church in God's created order. See p 1291.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:14 Adam was not deceived. Gn 3 illustrates what happens when the respective roles of men and women, established by God at creation, are ignored. Adam's sin and his role in the fall are not denied here or elsewhere by Paul (cf Rm 5:12–14, 1Co 15:21–22). The distinction is that Adam sinned willfully, while Eve was a victim of deception. Chrys: "He transgressed, not captivated by appetite, but merely from the persuasion of his wife" (NPNF 1 13:436). Adam did not exercise his God-ordained headship. Eve did not exercise her God-ordained role as a helper and ally (see note, Gn 2:18). The results were deadly. transgressor. Lit, "one who steps over the boundary."

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:15 she … they. Paul's argument shifts from the consideration of one woman's (Eve's) sin to the salvation provided for all women by the birth of a child, Jesus, who would defeat Satan on behalf of all women (see note, Gn 3:15). saved through childbearing. Women are not saved by giving birth. Through faith in the child Jesus, women are saved as they live out their God-given vocations. Childbearing is an example of a most noble, exclusively feminine vocation. " 'She will be saved through childbearing,' … But what does St. Paul mean? Let the reader observe that faith is added, and that domestic duties without faith are not praised. 'If they continue,' he says, 'in faith.' For he speaks of the whole class of mothers. Therefore, he requires especially faith, through which a woman receives the forgiveness of sins and justification. Then he adds a particular work of the calling, just as in every person a good work of a particular calling should follow faith…. So the duties of the woman please God because of faith, and the believing woman is saved who devoutly serves her calling in such duties" (Ap XXIII 32). if. Carries the idea of expectancy. faith … self-control. Although these virtues apply to both sexes, Paul applies them specifically to women here. These qualities characterize the life of every Christian woman (vv 9–10).

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON Ch 2 The Gospel affirms the unique vocations God assigned to men and women at creation. Our sinful nature may sometimes bristle at the roles and responsibilities God has given us, causing us to fail to see that God has given us His divine design for male and female because He loves us and always wants what is best for us. We must always be on guard against this kind of sin, especially as we are gathered for public worship. Jesus faithfully fulfilled the divine role assigned to Him as the one mediator between God and all people. He willingly submitted Himself to death as the sacred substitute for sinners. Through faith in Him, we receive forgiveness of sins, and we rejoice to serve Him in earthly vocations characterized by thanksgiving, modesty, and self-control. • Blessed Savior, as we gather in Your name for worship, give voice to our prayers for all people. Lead us to delight in the roles and responsibilities You have so lovingly assigned us and to live out our vocations in submissiveness to You and to Your Word. Amen.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:1–13 Paul continues his teachings concerning those who may teach and properly exercise authority in a church.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:1 The saying. Apparently, v 1b was a well-known adage in the Early Church. Many NT passages reflect a lively interest in Church order (i.e., 5:17–22; Ac 6:1–6; 14:21–23; 1Th 5:12–22; Ti 1:5–16; 1Pt 5:1–5). aspires. Not an ambitious quest for personal gain, but for honorable and commendable service. Cf 6:10 for the use of the same verb in a different context (translated as "craving"). office of overseer. The office of the pastoral ministry. See note, Ti 1:5. noble task. Those who are served benefit greatly. The task, or work, requires the full measure of a man's energy and devotion; it is not a mere status to be enjoyed.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:2 above reproach. Lit, "not able to be taken hold of." One against whom no charge of unfitness can rightly be leveled. husband of one wife. Many new converts would have come from a background of polygamy or sexual immorality. The qualification is phrased in terms of sexual fidelity within a monogamous marital relationship. The phrase does not exclude single men from serving as pastors, but clearly shows that the forced celibacy of pastors is an unscriptural requirement. "It is clear that in the Ancient Church priests were married men…. Four hundred years ago in Germany [c 1130], for the first time, priests were violently forced to lead a single life. They offered such resistance that when the Archbishop of Mainz was about to publish the pope's decree about celibacy, he was almost killed in a riot by enraged priests. This matter was handled so harshly that not only was marriage forbidden in the future, but existing marriages were torn apart, contrary to all laws, both divine and human" (AC XXIII 10–13). Paul's phrase also makes the implicit affirmation that only males (husbands) may serve as pastors. sober-minded. Clearheaded, showing soundness in judgment; not flighty or unstable. respectable. Well-ordered demeanor in every aspect of his character. hospitable. Not one who merely likes to entertain but, in the first century, one who would take in Christian strangers who were traveling or fleeing from persecution. See notes, Gn 18:4; Rm 12:13.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:3 not violent. Lit, "not a striker." the Lord would not approve of a church leader who deals forcefully, using verbal or physical violence toward family or congregational members.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:4–5 children submissive. Not a requirement that the pastor must have children, but that when he does, they should be obedient. See SC, Fourth Commandment, p xxxv. A pastor must teach and uphold this commandment within his family.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:6 recent convert. The Gk word used to describe newly planted trees. The phrase does not preclude relatively young men, such as Timothy, from serving as pastors but rather those who have not attained a satisfactory level of spiritual maturity since their conversion to Christ. condemnation. The devil was condemned for prideful rebellion.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:7 outsiders. Unbelievers, non-Christians. See note, 1Co 14:7–11. snare of the devil. A trap to which an unqualified overseer would be more susceptible. See note, Gal 6:3.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:1–7 Only qualified men may serve as pastors of God's flock. We should honor and uphold the qualifications that God has set forth for those who would serve in the Office of the Public Ministry, always remembering that the pastoral office is a divine institution—a gift from God for His Church. The Lord Jesus has given this office and its qualifications because He loves us and always desires what is best for us. He Himself is our chief Shepherd (1Pt 5:4). He has laid down His life for us (Jn 10:11) and gives us eternal life (Jn 10:28). • "Almighty God, in Your kindness You cause the light of the Gospel to shine among us. By the working of Your Holy Spirit, help us to share the good news of Your salvation that all who hear it may rejoice in the gift of Your unending love." Amen. (LSB Altar Book, p 987)
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:8–12 The list of qualifications for deacons is similar to the corresponding list for overseers (vv 1–7), with a few exceptions. Notably, it is not required that deacons be able to teach (v 2), or that they care for God's Church (v 5). These are likely omitted because they were part of the overseer's role.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:8 Deacons. See notes, Ac 6:1–7. They assisted the overseers by handling the distribution of alms, providing for the needs of the sick, and caring for the place of worship.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:9 mystery. See note, v 16. clear conscience. Having a pure, clear confession of the faith.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:10 tested. With regard to the qualifications presented in vv 8–12. The tense of the Gk verb indicates that the testing would be ongoing—a careful and thoughtful evaluation.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:11 wives. Or, "women" as in the ESV footnote. In the Early Church, women likely served as deaconesses, administering physical help and deeds of kindness. Women often did such work alongside men, though they were not to hold the office of overseer (pastor). See note, Rm 16:1.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:13 gain a good standing. Through the faithful discharge of their particular duties, their beneficial service will receive the approval of both God and people. confidence. Boldness.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:8–13 Deacons and deaconesses were faithful people, entrusted with special responsibilities for service to their fellow Christians. Christians today are also privileged to serve others through special congregational offices and service organizations. When given chances to express Jesus' love in deeds of service, it is easy to pass on these opportunities. But, in truth, God calls every Christian to follow His example of self-giving service. Jesus came to serve sinners like us with His forgiveness and salvation (Mt 20:28). He still serves us today through His means of grace. • Lord Jesus, as You so wonderfully serve us with the rich treasures of Your redeeming grace, inspire us by that grace joyfully to serve others in Your precious name. Amen.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:14 come to you soon. Timothy was in Ephesus, on the western coast of modern Turkey. See map, p 1886. The journey from Macedonia would involve hundreds of miles through perilous stretches of land and sea.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:15 household of God. The place where God dwells with and in His people. The members of this household are brothers and sisters in Christ and children of the heavenly Father. church of the living God. God's "household" is also His "Church," of which He is the living Head. pillar and buttress of the truth. As pillars and buttresses are needed to support large structures, the Gospel is needed so that not even the gates of hell can prevail against the Church (cf Mt 16:18; Jn 14:6). "We do say that this Church exists: truly believing and righteous people scattered throughout the whole world. We add the marks: the pure teaching of the Gospel and the Sacraments. This Church is properly the pillar of the truth … for it keeps the pure Gospel as Paul says in 1 Corinthians 3:11" (Ap VII and VIII 20).

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:16 confess. To express the unanimous conviction of all Christians. See note, 1Co 1:10. mystery of godliness. The Gospel of Jesus Christ, esp as set forth in this verse, is neither known nor believed by the world, and therefore must be "proclaimed." For those who believe, however, it is no longer a "mystery." See p 1903. "Christ is and remains to all eternity God and man in one undivided person. Next to the Holy Trinity, this is the highest mystery, upon which our only consolation, life, and salvation depends, as the apostle testifies" (FC Ep VIII 18). He was manifested … up in glory. This sixfold statement highlights the central events of our Lord's earthly ministry. Paul is likely quoting an early Christian hymn or creed. See p 1975.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:14–16 This concludes the section dedicated to the Church's organization (chs 2–3). We are not free to amend or depart from God's revealed will concerning the outward organization of His Church, because it is the pillar and buttress of the truth—the Church of the living God that confesses the Gospel of Jesus Christ to a fallen world. In love, God has made us members of His Church by the Holy Spirit. By grace, the Savior's truth has been made manifest to us and, through faith, we will follow Him in glory. • "Almighty and gracious Lord, pour out Your Holy Spirit on Your faithful people. Keep us steadfast in Your grace and truth, protect and deliver us in times of temptation, defend us against all enemies, and grant to Your Church Your saving peace." Amen. (LSB Altar Book, p 983)

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:1 expressly says. Perhaps through direct revelation to Paul. Jesus' warnings concerning apostasy are also echoed here. Cf Mt 24:10–11; Mk 13:22. later times. Not only the last days before Christ's return, but the entire NT era. See note, Ac 2:17. depart from the faith. Those who were once believing members of the Church will turn away from Christ, thereby rejecting the gift of salvation. devoting. Giving full attention to something in an active, intentional, ongoing way. deceitful spirits. Their wicked work is to deceive and lead astray the faithful; or perhaps this is a reference to the false teachers through whom these spirits speak. teachings of demons. Satan is "a liar and the father of lies" (Jn 8:44). False doctrine in all its forms comes from him.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:2 The consciences of those peddling demonic doctrines have either been "branded" by Satan to show his ownership of them or "cauterized," leaving them unfeeling and unable to distinguish between right and wrong.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:3 forbid marriage … abstinence. False teachers demanded that marriage and certain foods be rejected, but in so doing they were rejecting God, who gives the gifts of marriage and food. "We expect that at some point churches will lack pastors if marriage continues to be forbidden…. It is incredibly cruel that the marriage of priests is forbidden. God has commanded that marriage be honored. Marriage is most highly honored in the laws of all well-ordered commonwealths, even among the heathen" (AC XXIII 17–20). received with thanksgiving. Believers are to receive all of God's gifts gratefully, including marriage and food.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:4–5 All that God has created is inherently good, as we express with every prayer of thanks. See SC, Fourth Petition, p xxxviii. "That is, 'by the Word,' by which consciences become certain that God approves, and 'by prayer,' that is, by faith, which uses it with thanksgiving as God's gift" (Ap XXIII 30).

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:1–5 God daily and richly provides us with all that we need. To reject God's good gifts, or to receive them thanklessly, is a sin against His graciousness. But God promises His gift of forgiveness to those who turn to Him in repentance and faith. Because of Jesus' sacrificial death for our sins, God does not reject us but receives us as His own children through faith. • Father in heaven, teach us to recognize Your gifts in every realm of life. Lead us always to receive them with thankful hearts. Amen.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:6 these things. The teachings in 1:3–4:5. brothers. See p 1901. words of the faith. The objective content of the faith that all Christians are to believe. good doctrine. Or, "good teaching"; the same "words" that are to be believed and taught.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:7 myths. See note, 1:4. train yourself for godliness. Lit, "Continue exercising yourself with respect to godliness." Rather than waste time in long discussions with proponents of "silly myths," Timothy is to continue training himself in the active pursuit of God's purposes.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:8 bodily training is of some value. Physical exercise and discipline are beneficial in many ways. value in every way. In contrast to physical exercise, the benefits of godliness bless other people and reach into eternity. Ambr: "In the holy Scriptures, if we look carefully we shall often find that what is virtuous is called useful" (NPNF 2 10:47).

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:9 The saying. The wisdom in v 8 regarding godliness.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:10 this end. Godliness and its promise for the life to come (v 8). hope set on the living God. This is either God's ability to bring the Christian's "hope" to fruition or His ability to give eternal life to "those who believe." Cf Mt 22:32. Savior of all people. Jesus is the Savior of all because He "desires all people to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth" (2:4). His sacrificial death as the Lamb of God was for the reconciliation of the world (2Co 5:19), to take away the sin of the world (Jn 1:29). especially of those who believe. Believers already enjoy the benefits of everlasting life.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:11 these things. Paul's teachings in vv 6–10. Paul used this phrase frequently in 1Tm (cf v 6; 5:7; 6:2). It usually refers to the teaching that immediately precedes it.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:12 youth. In other contexts, the word refers to people in their 30s; Timothy's age is uncertain. In first-century Jewish culture, people were considered youth up to age 40. example. By his exemplary conduct, Timothy would be able to silence those who might be inclined to despise him because of his youth.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:13 A concise summary of the pastor's service: worship, preaching, and teaching. public reading. Paul is not saying that Timothy himself must be the one to read the Scriptures in public worship, but that he should exercise care in which portions of the Scriptures were being publicly read in the Ephesian congregations. exhortation. Words of admonishment and encouragement (Law and Gospel), based on publicly read portions of Scripture; preaching.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:14 gift. Gk charisma, a special gift of God's grace that enables the recipient to carry out a particular role or task in the congregation. Timothy's gift enabled him faithfully to fulfill the tasks of his ministry in Ephesus, summarized in vv 11 and 13. given you by prophecy. See note, 1:18. This denotes the proclamation of the Word when Timothy was publicly placed in his position as pastor, comparable to the ordination and/or installation of pastors today. See pp 1077–83. council of elders. God's gift to Timothy was mediated through the Church and her official representatives. laid their hands on you. This visible act signaled Timothy's placement in the Office of the Holy Ministry, showing that his gift is to be used publicly on behalf of the congregation. "A most common custom of the Church also testifies to this. Formerly, the people elected pastors and bishops [Acts 14:23]. Then came a bishop, either of that church or a neighboring one, who confirmed the one elected by the laying on of hands [1 Timothy 4:14]. Ordination was nothing else than such a ratification" (Tr 70).

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:15 these things. Noted in vv 6–14. progress. A reference to Timothy's future advancement in the faith (Php 1:25) or perhaps to the progress he has already made.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:16 close watch. Cf Gal 6:1. save both yourself and your hearers. God alone saves (v 10), but the NT often depicts human beings as instruments in His saving work. Cf 1Co 9:22; Jas 5:20; Jude 23.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:6–16 Paul prepares Timothy to contend against the "teachings of demons" (v 1). Pastors are to command and teach true doctrine, while condemning doctrine that is false and deceitful. This runs counter to the spirit of the present age, which downplays the importance of true doctrine and avoids condemning all but the most extreme examples of false doctrine. The doctrines of Scripture are God-given, because He loves us. Each individual doctrine testifies to and supports the most important doctrine of all—that we are saved by grace, for Christ's sake, through faith. • Lord Jesus, bless Your Church with pastors who are wholly devoted to the teaching of Your Word in all its truth and purity, that by Your mighty power, many souls might be saved. Amen.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:1–6:2 Paul writes as though reviewing a manual for ministry. Early Christians compiled such "church rules" (e.g., the Didache) after the manner of such documents in Judaism (e.g., The Community Rule in the Dead Sea Scrolls). The problems Paul warned against developed in later monasticism. Regarding Paul's method of instruction, Ambrose notes, "The first exercise in training the soul is to turn away sin, the second to implant virtue" (NPNF 2 10:393).

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:1–2 rebuke. A note of harshness and severity is associated with the Gk word. father … brothers … mothers … sisters. Timothy is to regard believers, regardless of age or gender, as if they were members of his own family—a practice also taught by Jesus (Mt 12:46–50). purity. This is a realistic word of caution on sexual purity for Timothy and other ministers as they deal with younger women.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:3 Honor. Not only with respect, but also with material support. Paul also uses this word when he quotes the Fourth Commandment in Eph 6:2.

Jesus taught that honoring parents included provisions of material support (Mt 15:4–6). truly widows. Those who qualify to receive support from the congregation who have no other means for support, as vv 4–16 make clear. Cf Ac 6:1–6.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:4 show godliness to their own household. The faith of a widow's children or grandchildren should find expression, first, within the family, ensuring that the widow's needs are met. some return. Material and/or financial repayment for all the care the children have received from their parents.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:5 supplications and prayers night and day. A widow's continuing prayers express the hope she has placed in God.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:6 dead. Although physically alive and living luxuriously, the self-indulgent widow is spiritually dead.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:8 does not provide. Material support for the truly needy. household. See p 1903. denied the faith and is worse than an unbeliever. Not caring for one's family was considered highly contemptible. Even unbelievers may instinctively care for their family.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:9–10 enrolled. Qualified widows (vv 9–15) were apparently selected to receive the church's assistance on a permanent basis. sixty years of age. Considered very old in the first century. one husband … reputation. Widows whose earlier life was characterized by marital faithfulness would not bring shame to the congregation.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:11 younger widows. Young enough to remarry. passions. Romantic desire. marry. Remarried widows would be supported by their husbands.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:12 faith. The Gk term for "faith" may be understood as an "oath" or "solemn promise" in this context, if they had promised not to remarry or to abide by the Christian faith and teaching.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:13 idlers … gossips … busybodies. Younger widows without a father, husband, children, or job would be prone to social problems, which would burden the supporting congregation.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:14 the adversary. The definite article makes this a likely reference to the devil, esp in view of the reference to "Satan" in v 15. The devil, however, often carries out his adversarial work through human accomplices.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:15 strayed after Satan. Fallen into temptation, sin, and unrepentance.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:16 believing woman. Perhaps a directive for young widows of means to extend care to additional widows in the family. Or, perhaps the woman is singled out here because the woman of the household would be the most likely to provide care for widows in a domestic, first-century setting. care … burdened. Assuming responsibilities that God has primarily assigned to family members.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:17 elders. A term quite similar to "overseer" (3:1–7). See note, Ti 1:5. rule well. The Gk term includes active leading, directing, and exercising care and concern for others. double honor. Just as widows are deserving of "honor" (v 3), so are elders. "Double" here indicates that the honor due the elders encompasses honor both in the sense of reverence and also in the sense of an honorarium or compensation. "Those who want to be Christians are obliged in God's sight to think them worthy of double honor who minister to their souls…. They are obligated to deal well with them and provide for them…. Those who keep God's will and commandment in sight have this promise: everything they give to temporal and spiritual fathers, and whatever they do to honor them, shall be richly repaid to them" (LC I 161–62, 164). preaching and teaching. See note, 4:13.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:18 Paul quotes both the Mosaic Law and our Lord Himself to show that pastors should be compensated for their work.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:19 evidence of two or three witnesses. A safeguard designed to protect elders against false charges. This practice has ample biblical precedent (cf Mt 18:16; 2Co 13:1).
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:20 persist in sin. Some continued to commit sins for which they had been rebuked privately. rebuke them in the presence of all. Although some sins would preclude an elder from continuing to serve in that office (cf 3:2–3), Paul prescribes a public rebuke to move them to repentance and help them amend their lives. all. Could refer to the other elders or to the entire congregation. fear. The public rebuke of a guilty elder is intended for the good of all, namely, to foster a holy fear of sin and its consequences.
1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:21 presence. As ministers of the Gospel, both Paul and Timothy carried out their work by the command of God and Christ Jesus (cf 1:1). Their invocation here (together with the angels) is a solemn reminder to Timothy of his great responsibility to keep all that has been entrusted to him. elect angels. Not found elsewhere in the Scriptures. Contrasts God's own chosen angels with the fallen angels (2Pt 2:4; Jude 6) these rules. Lit, "these things," the requirements set forth in vv 19–20.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:22 hasty in the laying on of hands. To help prevent situations where elders require discipline and rebuke (v 20), a suitable amount of time should pass before a man is set apart as an elder. (On identification of "elder," see note, v 17.) Additional time allowed church leaders to review the quality of a man's character. pure. Timothy could preserve his innocence and integrity by heeding Paul's admonitions (e.g., 4:12; 5:23; cf Ti 1:15).

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:23 use a little wine. A personal note, not an excuse for drunkenness. Clearly, news of Timothy's ailment had reached Paul. Timothy may have been under a Nazirite vow, abstaining from wine (see notes, Ac 21:26; Nu 6:1–21). Alcohol in wine inhibits illness brought on by bacteria or parasites.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:1 yoke as slaves. Used for slavery in general. Emphasizes the undesirable condition of many slaves who were driven and treated no better than yoked beasts of burden. See p 101. masters. Refers primarily to non-Christians, whose slaves had become believers. Over time, Christian teaching of brotherhood tended to undermine Roman slavery. worthy of all honor. Masters are among the "other authorities" for whom the Fourth Commandment demands honor, service, and obedience. reviled. Disrespect and disobedience from believing slaves would cause their unbelieving masters to disparage the newfound faith. Honorable service rendered by believing slaves, conversely, would have an evangelistic effect on their masters.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:2 believing masters … brothers. All Christians, regardless of earthly vocation and status, are viewed and loved equally in God's sight (Gal 3:28). They are, therefore, brothers and sisters. See note, 1Tm 5:1–2. they must serve … beloved. If unbelieving masters are to be honored and served (v 1), then believing masters should be honored and served "all the better."

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 5:1–6:2 When Christians interact with one another in ways that are honorable and pure, they beautifully reflect God and the faith they confess. But the Church is burdened and liable to be reviled by unbelievers when honor and purity are lacking. Our dear Lord Jesus has made every Christian worthy of eternal honor by His sacrificial death and resurrection. Through faith in Him, even dishonorable sinners are regarded as God's pure and beloved children. • Lord Jesus, turn us from our self-indulgent ways, that we may selflessly give honor and care to those whom You have given us to love and cherish. Amen.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:2 Teach and urge. Variations of this admonition appear throughout the Pastoral Epistles (cf 5:7; 2Tm 2:14; Ti 2:15).

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:3 sound words. See note, Ti 2:1; cf 1Tm 1:10. accords with godliness. An elaboration on both the content and the effect of our Lord's sound words.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:4 controversy. Worthless matters serve only to distract souls from the sound words and teaching of v 3.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:5 depraved. Completely corrupted. means of gain. Both financial and material reward. Cf Jn 2:13–22.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:6 contentment. A state of being and attitude that enables the Christian to live with faith in Christ, impervious to the influence of external circumstances.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:7 This universal and timeless truth is recognized by those possessing godliness with contentment (v 6), but ignored by those who are ambitious only for earthly gain (v 5). Bern: "Cease to pursue those things which it is misery to attain…. Will it be more prudent to yield them up for love of Christ than to have them taken away by death?" (SLSB, pp 207–8).

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:8 food and clothing. The necessities of life come from God. See Luther's explanation of the First Article of the Apostles' Creed (p xxxvi).

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:9 rich fall into temptation. The tense of the Gk verb shows that this commonly happens among those who desire riches. snare. The temptation for riches acts as a trap. See note, Ps 91:3. ruin and destruction. Similar terms that, when used together, could include both physical and spiritual destruction.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:10 the love of money … evils. Just as shoots sprout from a root, so all kinds of evils sprout and grow from the love of money; money itself is not inherently evil. wandered. Their departure from the Christian faith did not happen instantaneously. pierced themselves. Much of the temporal suffering endured by lovers of money is self-inflicted.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:2–10 Rather than being content with what we have, we by nature covet the things we do not have. Those who covet often see money as a wonderful solution to all of life's problems. But those who love money are in grave danger; they risk losing their faith in Christ. Our Savior has blessed us with the riches of His priceless salvation. Nothing can separate us from His love. As He tenderly cares for us through His Word of promise, we are able to enjoy lives of godliness with contentment. All that we can take with us when we leave this world is the life and immortality that Jesus has given us through faith—and that is more than enough! • Give us grace, dear Lord, rightly to regard the wealth we call our own, that it might not be a curse in our lives but a blessing. Amen.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:11 man of God. See note, 2Tm 3:17. Paul thoroughly contrasts Timothy with lovers of money who wander from the faith. Timothy was a unique man of God, but the words that follow may apply also to every man and woman of God.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:12 Fight the good fight. The Christian is engaged in an ongoing contest in which sound doctrine is advanced against the forces of darkness and evil. See note, Col 1:13. Take hold of the eternal life. God's gift of eternal life is not a prize that you receive at the conclusion of the contest but a prize that you receive and retain even in this present life of faith. called. God's active power alone can appropriate the gift of eternal life to human beings. In the Christian life, this call comes through the Sacrament of Holy Baptism. good confession. This is probably the public confession of faith Timothy made at his Baptism.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:13–16 Paul appeals through both Father and Son and magnifies their attributes.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:13 charge. Cf 5:21. God, who gives life. Human life did not accidentally evolve over time. It is, rather, a gift and act of God Himself. Paul testified to this truth before the Areopagus in Athens (Ac 17:25). testimony before Pontius Pilate. Jesus' testimony concerning His divine identity served as the basis for His execution (cf Mk 15:2; Lk 23:3). Others understand "testimony" in a broader sense, including not only Jesus' words but also His suffering, crucifixion, death, and burial. good confession. See note, 3:16.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:14 appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ. The return of the Lord on the Last Day.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:15 proper time. God will choose and determine the exact moment. Cf Gal 4:4. Sovereign. Absolute, powerful ruler. King of kings and Lord of lords. Jesus' reign extends even over those earthly rulers who wield great power and exercise control. Cf Rv 19:16; see pp 1565–66.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:16 immortality. Lit, "deathlessness." An attribute unique to God that He shares with human beings through the Gospel (2Tm 1:10). Ambr: "How could He not have immortality Who has life in Himself? He has it in His nature" (NPNF 2 10:288). dwells in unapproachable light. The divine being's glory is different from the light He created. Cf Jn 8:12; 1Jn 1:5. In the Nicene Creed, we confess that Jesus is "God of God, Light of Light." no one has ever seen or can see. Sinful humanity cannot see God and live. See notes, Ex 33:19–23; Jn 1:18. eternal dominion. Christ both possesses and exercises inexhaustible strength.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:17 rich. Paul refers to those who are already rich, having acquired their wealth in honest and irreproachable ways, not those who desire to be rich (cf vv 9–10). present age. The "rich" have tangible, earthly wealth. Intangible, spiritual riches cannot be accurately assessed within the limits of time. enjoy. Riches and all other gifts from God's hand are to be received for our enjoyment with thanksgiving (4:4).

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:18 rich in good works. Even the poorest Christians can be "rich" in service. Those who enjoy earthly riches should esp endeavor to be "rich" in this noble way, which flows from faith in Christ.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:19 storing up treasure. Good works that always accompany faith are treasured by the Lord Jesus (Mt 25:34–40). take hold. See note, v 12.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:20 guard the deposit. The Gospel—the Christian faith itself. In the ancient world, such a deposit involved the obligation of scrupulously guarding another's possession, keeping it secure, then returning it in the same condition in which it was received. irreverent babble and contradictions. Empty talking and opposing ideas are characteristic of false teachers, about whom Timothy has been warned repeatedly (cf 1:6–7; 6:3–5). knowledge. The "facts" on which all false teachers claim to stand, though they understand nothing (cf 1:7; 6:4).

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:21 swerved from the faith. This final warning concerns the grave effects of false teaching. The same verb occurs in 1:6.

Grace. See p 1902. Paul characteristically uses this word of blessing at the conclusion of his Letters. you. Plural (see ESV note), showing that Paul expected this Letter to be read to the believers.

1 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 6:11–21 As a true man of God, Timothy is to flee every corrupting influence and keep God's command, faithfully guarding that which has been deposited with him. False "knowledge" not only contradicts God's revealed truth, but it also places human reason above the deposit of good news God has entrusted to us, ultimately destroying our faith. In His testimony before Pontius Pilate, Jesus confessed that He was the Son of God. Although His enemies used that true testimony to convict Him before Pilate, His crucifixion and resurrection secured the treasures of life and salvation for all who believe. • Lord God, guard and keep us, we pray, so that the devil, the world, and our sinful nature may not deceive us or mislead us into false belief, despair, and other great shame and vice. Although we are attacked by these things, we pray that we may finally overcome them and win the victory. Amen.

2 Timothy

2 Timothy 1 | 2 Timothy 2 | 2 Timothy 3 | 2 Timothy 4

- Introduction to 2 Timothy
  - Overview
  - Reading 2 Timothy
  - Luther on 2 Timothy
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Greeting

1 [1]†† Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God according to the promise of the life that is in Christ Jesus, [2]† To Timothy, my beloved child:
Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

Guard the Deposit Entrusted to You

3 ‡ † I thank God whom I serve, as did my ancestors, with a clear conscience, as I remember you constantly in my prayers night and day. 4 †
As I remember your tears, I long to see you, that I may be filled with joy.
5 † I am reminded of your sincere faith, a faith that dwelt first in your grandmother Lois and your mother Eunice and now, I am sure, dwells in you as well. 6 †For this reason I remind you to fan into flame the gift of God, which is in you through the laying on of my hands, 7 † for God gave us a spirit not of fear but of power and love and self-control.

8 † Therefore do not be ashamed of the testimony about our Lord, nor of me his prisoner, but share in suffering for the gospel by the power of God, 9 † who saved us and called us to[1] a holy calling, not because of our works but because of his own purpose and grace, which he gave us in Christ Jesus before the ages began,[2] 10 †and which now has been manifested through the appearing of our Savior Christ Jesus, who abolished death and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel, 11 † for which I was appointed a preacher and apostle and teacher, 12 † which is why I suffer as I do. But I am not ashamed, for I know whom I have believed, and I am convinced that he is able to guard until that Day what has been entrusted to me.[3] 13 † Follow the pattern of the sound[4] words that you have heard from me, in the faith and love that are in Christ Jesus. 14 †By the Holy Spirit who dwells within us, guard the good deposit entrusted to you.

15 † You are aware that all who are in Asia turned away from me, among whom are Phygelus and Hermogenes. 16 †May the Lord grant mercy to the household of Onesiphorus, for he often refreshed me and was not ashamed of my chains, 17 but when he arrived in Rome he searched for me earnestly and found me— 18 †may the Lord grant him to find mercy from the Lord on that Day!—and you well know all the service he rendered at Ephesus.

A Good Soldier of Christ Jesus

2 [1]†† You then, my child, be strengthened by the grace that is in Christ Jesus, [2] † and what you have heard from me in the presence of many witnesses entrust to faithful men who will be able to teach others also. [3]†† Share in suffering as a good soldier of Christ Jesus. [4] † No soldier gets entangled in civilian pursuits, since his aim is to please the one who enlisted him. [5]† An athlete is not crowned unless he competes according to the rules.
[6] † It is the hard-working farmer who ought to have the first share of the crops. [7]† Think over what I say, for the Lord will give you understanding in everything.

[8]† Remember Jesus Christ, risen from the dead, the offspring of David, as preached in my gospel, [9]† for which I am suffering, bound with chains as a criminal. But the word of God is not bound! [10] † Therefore I endure everything for the sake of the elect, that they also may obtain the salvation that is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory. [11]† The saying is trustworthy, for:

If we have died with him, we will also live with him;
[12] if we endure, we will also reign with him;
if we deny him, he also will deny us;
[13]† if we are faithless, he remains faithful—for he cannot deny himself.

A Worker Approved by God

14 ‡ † Remind them of these things, and charge them before God[1] not to quarrel about words, which does no good, but only ruins the hearers. 15 † Do your best to present yourself to God as one approved,[2] a worker who has no need to be ashamed, rightly handling the word of truth. 16 But avoid irreverent babble, for it will lead people into more and more ungodliness, 17 † and their talk will spread like gangrene. Among them are Hymenaeus and Philetus, 18 † who have swerved from the truth, saying that the resurrection has already happened. They are upsetting the faith of some. 19 † But God's firm foundation stands, bearing this seal: "The Lord knows those who are his," and, "Let everyone who names the name of the Lord depart from iniquity."

20 † Now in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and silver but also of wood and clay, some for honorable use, some for dishonorable.
21 † Therefore, if anyone cleanses himself from what is dishonorable,[1] he will be a vessel for honorable use, set apart as holy, useful to the master of the house, ready for every good work.

22 † So flee youthful passions and pursue righteousness, faith, love, and peace, along with those who call on the Lord from a pure heart. 23 † Have nothing to do with foolish, ignorant controversies; you know that they breed quarrels. 24 † And the Lord's servant[2] must not be quarrelsome but kind to everyone, able to teach, patiently enduring evil, 25 † correcting his opponents with gentleness. God may perhaps grant them repentance leading to a knowledge of the truth, 26 † and they may come to their senses and escape from the snare of the devil, after being captured by him to do his will.

Godlessness in the Last Days

3 [1]‡†But understand this, that in the last days there will come times of difficulty. [2]‡For people will be lovers of self, lovers of money, proud, arrogant, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, [3]† heartless, unappeasable, slanderous, without self-control, brutal, not loving good, [4]† treacherous, reckless, swollen with conceit, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God, [5]† having the appearance of godliness, but denying its power. Avoid such people. [6]†For among them are those who creep into households and capture weak women, burdened with sins and led astray by various passions, [7]†always learning and never able to arrive at a knowledge of the truth. [8]†Just as Jannes and Jambres opposed Moses, so these men also oppose the truth, men corrupted in mind and disqualified regarding the faith. [9]But they will not get very far, for their folly will be plain to all, as was that of those two men.

All Scripture Is Breathed Out by God

10 †† You, however, have followed my teaching, my conduct, my aim in life, my faith, my patience, my love, my steadfastness, 11 †my persecutions and sufferings that happened to me at Antioch, at Iconium, and at Lystra—which persecutions I endured; yet from them all the Lord rescued me.
12 † Indeed, all who desire to live a godly life in Christ Jesus will be persecuted, 13 † while evil people and impostors will go on from bad to worse, deceiving and being deceived. 14 †But as for you, continue in what you have learned and have firmly believed, knowing from whom[1] you learned it 15 †and how from childhood you have been acquainted with the sacred writings, which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus. 16 † All Scripture is breathed out by God and profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for training in righteousness, 17 †that the man of God[2] may be competent, equipped for every good work.

Preach the Word

4 [1]†† I charge you in the presence of God and of Christ Jesus, who is to judge the living and the dead, and by his appearing and his kingdom: [2]† preach the word; be ready in season and out of season; reprove, rebuke, and exhort, with complete patience and teaching. [3]† For the time is coming when people will not endure sound[1] teaching, but having itching ears they will accumulate for themselves teachers to suit their own passions, [4]† and will turn away from listening to the truth and wander off into myths. [5]† As for you, always be sober-minded, endure suffering, do the work of an evangelist, fulfill your ministry.

[6]† For I am already being poured out as a drink offering, and the time of my departure has come. [7]† I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. [8]† Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will award to me on that Day, and not only to me but also to all who have loved his appearing.

Personal Instructions

9 †‡†Do your best to come to me soon. 10 †For Demas, in love with this present world, has deserted me and gone to Thessalonica. Crescens has gone to Galatia,[2] Titus to Dalmatia. 11 † Luke alone is with me. Get Mark and bring him with you, for he is very useful to me for ministry. 12 † Tychicus I have sent to Ephesus. 13 †When you come, bring the cloak that I left with Carpus at Troas, also the books, and above all the parchments. 14 ‡ Alexander the coppersmith did me great harm; the Lord will repay him according to his deeds. 15 †Beware of him yourself, for he strongly opposed our message. 16 † At my first defense no one came to stand by me, but all deserted me. May it not be charged against them! 17 †But the Lord stood by me and strengthened me, so that through me the message might be fully proclaimed and all the Gentiles might hear it. So I was rescued from the lion's mouth. 18 †The Lord will rescue me from every evil deed and bring me safely into his heavenly kingdom. To him be the glory forever and ever.
Amen.

Final Greetings

19 ‡ † Greet Prisca and Aquila, and the household of Onesiphorus.
20 † Erastus remained at Corinth, and I left Trophimus, who was ill, at Miletus. 21† Do your best to come before winter. Eubulus sends greetings to you, as do Pudens and Linus and Claudia and all the brothers.[1]

22†The Lord be with your spirit. Grace be with you.[2]

2 Timothy

OVERVIEW

Author
Paul the apostle

Date
AD 68

Places
Ephesus; Thessalonica; Galatia; Troas; Corinth; Miletus

People
Paul; Timothy; Lois, Eunice; Hymenaeus, Philetus; Paul's numerous co-workers

Purposes
To build up Timothy for service in the face of persecution and to appeal for him to visit Paul at Rome

Law Themes
Judgment Day; suffering for the Gospel; charges and commands

Gospel Themes
The appearing of our Savior; sound words of the Gospel; the gift of the Spirit; the good deposit; rescue

Memory Verses
God's purpose and grace (1:8–9); the value of Sacred Scripture (3:16–17)

Introduction to 2 Timothy

Reading 2 Timothy

Seawater sprays over the ship's bow as it cuts through the Troas harbor on its way toward Corinth. Wobbly tourists grip their bellies, made sick by the September pitch of the Aegean Sea at the close of the sailing season. Travel-hardy merchants chuckle at the tourists. They slurp wine as a precaution against the illnesses that follow the trade routes. "We shall make Rome in a week," they declare, "if the weather holds."

The most famous traveler of the first century, the apostle Paul, was not on that ship, but lay in a Roman prison. He wrote this Letter to request Timothy's comfort and companionship. Timothy had been guiding the congregation at Ephesus, but Paul sent a replacement (4:12) so Timothy, his son in the faith, could travel to him. This is Paul's last known Letter, written with special emphasis on faithfully teaching the Word in opposition to false teachers and to rising imperial persecution.

Luther on 2 Timothy

This epistle is a farewell letter, in which St. Paul exhorts Timothy to go on propagating the gospel, even as he has begun. This is quite necessary, since there are many who fall away; and false spirits and teachers keep springing up all around. Therefore it is incumbent upon a bishop always to be alert and to work at the gospel.

But he prophesies especially, in chapters 3 and 4, concerning the perilous time at the end of the world. It is then that a false spiritual life will lead all the world astray, with an outward show, under which every sort of wickedness and wrong will have its fling. Sad to say! we now see this prophecy of St. Paul all too amply fulfilled in our clergy. (AE 35:389)

Challenges for Readers

Paul's Authorship. See p 2067.

Blessings for Readers

In 2 Timothy, the Lord is calling you to cling faithfully to His precious Word. Paul praises the value of that Word most highly in 3:14–17, where he encourages teaching of the Word from childhood onward. In the Word, the Lord will grant you strength. No matter how you serve in the Lord's family, consider how God's Word guides your work and service.

OUTLINE

I. Not Ashamed of the Ministry of the Gospel (ch 1)
   A. Greeting (1:1–2)
   B. The Family of Faith (1:3–5)
   C. An Unashamed Ministry (1:6–14)
   D. Ashamed versus Unashamed (1:15–18)
II. Charge to Faithful Ministry in Hard Times (2:1–4:5)
   A. Laboring in the Truth (2:1–7)
   B. The Gospel of the Truth (2:8–13)
   C. Laboring for the Truth against Error (2:14–21)
   D. Laboring with the Truth for Those in Error (2:22–26)
   E. Opposition to the Truth (3:1–9)
   F. "Continue in What You Have Learned" (3:10–17)
   G. Final Charge to Timothy (4:1–5)
III. Paul's Farewell (4:6–22)
   A. Paul's Impending Martyrdom (4:6–8)
   B. Final Greetings and Requests (4:9–22)

Articles and Resources Related to 2 Timothy

- Qualifications for Pastors
- Strength for Spreading the Gospel

Qualifications for Pastors

Early Christians believed that "if anyone aspires to the office of overseer, he desires a noble task" (1Tm 3:1). But not just anyone could be an overseer or elder (Paul uses these terms interchangeably for the office we call "pastor" today; see notes, Ac 20:28; Ti 1:5). In letters to Timothy and Titus, Paul lists a variety of qualities that distinguish a candidate for pastoral ministry.

QUALITIES TO EXHIBIT: Above reproach
1Tm 3:2; Ti 1:6–7

QUALITIES TO EXHIBIT: A man, the husband of one wife
1Tm 3:2; Ti 1:6

QUALITIES TO AVOID: Drunkard
1Tm 3:3; Ti 1:7

QUALITIES TO EXHIBIT: Sober-minded
1Tm 3:2

QUALITIES TO EXHIBIT: Self-controlled, gentle
1Tm 3:2, 3; Ti 1:8

QUALITIES TO AVOID: Violent
1Tm 3:3; Ti 1:7

QUALITIES TO EXHIBIT: Respectable
1Tm 3:2

QUALITIES TO EXHIBIT: Hospitable
1Tm 3:2; Ti 1:8

QUALITIES TO AVOID: Quarrelsome
1Tm 3:3

QUALITIES TO EXHIBIT: Able to teach
1Tm 3:2

QUALITIES TO EXHIBIT: Manages household well, children respectful and obedient 1Tm 3:4–5; Ti 1:6

QUALITIES TO AVOID: Lover of money, greedy for gain
1Tm 3:3; Ti 1:7

QUALITIES TO EXHIBIT: Well thought of by outsiders
1Tm 3:7

QUALITIES TO EXHIBIT: Loves what is good
Ti 1:8
QUALITIES TO AVOID: Recent convert
1Tm 3:6
QUALITIES TO EXHIBIT: Upright
Ti 1:8
QUALITIES TO EXHIBIT: Holy
Ti 1:8
QUALITIES TO AVOID: Arrogant
Ti 1:7
QUALITIES TO EXHIBIT: Disciplined
Ti 1:8
QUALITIES TO EXHIBIT: Holds firmly to the Word as taught, able to instruct and rebuke according to sound doctrine
Ti 1:9
QUALITIES TO AVOID: Quick-tempered
Ti 1:7

Strength for Spreading the Gospel

Barriers between those outside the church and those of the Christian faith are broken down only through love and sacrificial service. The church is more involved than ever before in service to the needy with its language of unselfish love. In this way the church is enabled to reach the elderly, the physically and mentally handicapped, the homeless, prisoners, soldiers, and of course, also the families of these people….

Personal and public evangelism are of the highest priority and must be a permanent part of the program of the church. Work in small groups has far greater success in spreading the Gospel than do large-scale evangelistic meetings….

Work with children offers great hope….

We believe that God's grace in Christ is the instrument of strength for spreading the Gospel in which are revealed the glory and power of God (2 Tim. 2:1–2).

Stanislaus Pietak, "The Gospel in Post-Marxist Societies," Missio Apostolica 9, no. 2 (November 2001): 86–87.

Footnotes

Footnotes for 2 Timothy, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:9 Or with
- [2] 1:9 Greek before times eternal
- [3] 1:12 Or what I have entrusted to him; Greek my deposit
- [4] 1:13 Or healthy

Footnotes for 2 Timothy, Chapter 2

- [1] 2:14 Some manuscripts the Lord
- [2] 2:15 That is, one approved after being tested
- [1] 2:21 Greek from these things
- [2] 2:24 Greek bondservant

Footnotes for 2 Timothy, Chapter 3

- [1] 3:14 The Greek for whom is plural
- [2] 3:17 That is, a messenger of God (the phrase echoes a common Old Testament expression)

Footnotes for 2 Timothy, Chapter 4

- [1] 4:3 Or healthy
- [2] 4:10 Some manuscripts Gaul
- [1] 4:21 Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated “brothers”) refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God’s family, the church
- [2] 4:22 The Greek for you is plural

Study Notes

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:1 an apostle. See p 1901. will of God. Paul did not choose to become an apostle, but God chose him (Ac 9:1–19). promise of the life. God promises eternal life to all who are joined to Christ Jesus. Although we now have eternal life by faith, we cannot see or feel this eternal life within. Instead, we focus on God's promise.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:2 Timothy, my beloved child. Paul is not his physical father but his father in the faith. See note, 1Tm 1:2; see also p 555.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:1–2 Paul addresses Timothy tenderly, referring to him as his "beloved child" and speaking God's grace, mercy, and peace to him. As you speak to others, especially your fellow Christians, season what you say with God's Word. Remind them of the grace that is theirs in Christ (e.g., "The Lord be with you"; "God's peace to you"). God's Word on our lips and in our hearts provides Gospel comfort to those around us. In addition, we ourselves benefit by the precious promises of the Gospel. • Give me an instructed tongue, O Lord, that I may know the Word that sustains the weary. Amen.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:3 my ancestors. The ancient people of Israel who lived by faith. clear conscience … prayers night and day. Because of the forgiveness won by Christ on the cross, even the former persecutor of the Church (Ac 9:1–2) may rejoice in a clear conscience, cleansed by Jesus' blood. This cleansed conscience allows Paul to pray continually (1Th 5:17), rejoicing to speak praise to the God who saves.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:4 tears. Timothy's sadness over his earlier separation from Paul.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:5 Lois … Eunice. Timothy's mother and grandmother, both of them Christian, taught Timothy the Christian faith from infancy (cf 3:14–15). They passed the faith to Timothy by reading and speaking the Word to him. Both names are Greek, not Jewish, indicating three generations of Greek cultural influence in the family.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:6 gift of God … laying on of my hands. See note, 1Tm 4:14.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:7 a spirit. Not the Holy Spirit, but Timothy's pastoral aptitude, which apparently lacked confidence.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:8 the testimony. The Gospel message. See p 971. his prisoner. Paul was in a Roman dungeon because of his preaching. share in suffering for the gospel. The Word is at work in those who believe (1Th 2:13), strengthening them in the face of persecution, temptation, and every other adversity. Cf Php 3:10. See p 2042.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:9 called us to a holy calling. Though Paul may be speaking primarily about the pastoral office that he and Timothy shared, his reference to "a holy calling" applies to all who live by faith. A Christian's daily work is indeed a holy calling and a priestly work because of God's gift of faith. not because of our works. Christian holiness is not rooted in what we do, but in God's work for us and through us in Christ. purpose and grace … before the ages. God knew, even before creation, that in "the fullness of time" (Gal 4:4) He would give His Son to die for us. "Before we existed, yes, even before the foundation of the world was laid—when, of course, we could do nothing good—we were chosen by grace in Christ to salvation, according to God's purpose" (FC SD XI 43).

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:10 appearing. Jesus' incarnation. abolished death. Jesus, by His death and resurrection, destroyed death for us. Although we will die earthly deaths, we will live eternally with Him (Jn 11:26; 1Co 15:54–57).

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:11 appointed. Called to be an apostle (cf 1:1). preacher … apostle … teacher. Synonyms here; may also be distinguished as separate offices and tasks.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:12 why I suffer. In prison at Rome. able to guard … entrusted to me. Although Paul has been entrusted with the preaching of the Gospel, God ultimately sees to it that His Word is proclaimed to the world.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:13 pattern of the sound words. Timothy's pastoral task is not focused on being a creative or exciting preacher. He is to follow the same preaching he previously heard from Paul. This "pattern," in written form, will later comprise the NT and the Apostles' Creed. "In this way, much unnecessary wrangling may be cut off and the Church preserved from many scandals" (FC SD IV 36). Chrys: "Many things he delivered to him without writing…. After the manner of artists, I have impressed on you the image of virtue, fixing in your soul a sort of rule, and model, and outline of all things pleasing to God" (NPNF 1 13:484).

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:14 dwells. Cf Rm 8:11; 1Co 6:19. guard the good deposit. See note, 1Tm 6:20.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:15 all. Paul does not explain how many turned away from him. Phygelus and Hermogenes. Nothing further is known concerning these people.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:16 household. Including not only his wife and children but also any household servants or staff. refreshed. Possibly with physical nourishment, as prisoners often relied on provisions given by friends and relatives, but also he may have shared the encouragement and comfort of the Word. chains. See notes, vv 8, 12.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:18 on that Day! Judgment Day, when the deeds of the faithful will be commended. Cf Mt 25:31–46. Ephesus. Timothy was a pastor at Ephesus when Paul wrote this Letter. See note, 1Tm 1:3.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 1:3–18 Alone in prison and abandoned by many of his friends, Paul fondly remembers the encouragement he received from Timothy's sincere faith. Exhorting Timothy never to be ashamed of the faith he has been given, Paul exults in the promise of Christ, for whose sake he is imprisoned. Instead of feeling self-conscious about being Christian, we must share in Paul's forthright confession: "I am not ashamed, for I know whom I have believed" (v 12). Our Lord Jesus Christ shall never let us go. • Thank You, Lord Jesus, that You never leave me or forsake me. Amen.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:1 my child. See note, 1Tm 1:2. grace. See p 1902.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:2 presence of many witnesses. Paul taught and publicly affirmed Timothy's calling as a pastor. faithful men. Timothy must now teach and affirm other men who are qualified for the pastoral office.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:3–6 Paul uses three analogies to help Timothy understand his pastoral task: the Christian is like a combat soldier, a competing athlete, and a hardworking farmer.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:3 suffering as a good soldier. Faithful to follow the command, regardless of the suffering involved.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:4 civilian pursuits. Soldiers remain focused on combat duty, undistracted (e.g., Uriah; 2Sm 11:6–13). one who enlisted him. God (cf 1:1).

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:5 crowned. In ancient times, victorious athletes would receive a laurel crown. See note, Pr 4:9.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:6 first share. In a family or community effort, a hard worker has first claim on the results.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:7 give you understanding. Working through His Word, the Lord opens eyes (Ps 119:18) and minds (cf Lk 24:45) to understand the Scriptures.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:8 offspring of David. See note, Mt 1:17. my gospel. See "Gospel," p 1902.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:9 bound with chains. Not merely under house arrest, as in Ac 28:30, but in a dungeon. not bound! The living and active Word (Heb 4:12) cannot be imprisoned or chained—it accomplishes God's desires (Is 55:11).
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:10 the elect. All Christians. See note, Eph 1:4. eternal glory. The fullness and conclusion of Christ's salvation, when the resurrected elect will live eternally with Him.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:11–13 Likely a familiar hymn.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:13 He cannot deny Himself. God is love (1Jn 4:8), and He loves faithfully because it is part of His nature—even if no one should love Him in return. "He is unchangeable in will and essence" (FC SD XI 75).
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:1–13 Using several comparisons (solider, athlete, and farmer), Paul calls Timothy to find other faithful men who are able to share in the pastoral office. Christians—including pastors—need one another, bearing one another's burdens. Paul describes his love for others with the words "I endure everything for the sake of the elect." These words also describe Christ's love for all people. He bore all things for us, so we would not be crushed beneath our overwhelming load of sin and death. • Thank You, Lord, that You bore all things for me. Give me strength and love to help my neighbors bear their burdens. Amen.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:14 them. The faithful men of v 2. not to quarrel about words. Avoid meaningless word games; speak God's Word simply and clearly. ruins the hearers. The congregation would grow frustrated with petty fights.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:15 present yourself. Timothy preaches not only in the presence of people but also of God, who sees all things. approved. Timothy ought not to preach self-consciously, as if he needs first to prove himself. He must preach as one already accepted by God through faith in Jesus. Bas: "[They are] keeping plain and inviolate their faith in Father, Son and Holy Ghost" (NPNF 2 8:219). rightly handling the word of truth. Faithfully preaching and teaching according to the "pattern" of 1:13. "We tell godly minds to consider the promises, and we teach about free forgiveness of sins and about reconciliation, which happens through faith in Christ. Afterward, we add also the teaching of the Law. It is necessary to distinguish these things aright, as Paul says in 2 Timothy 2:15. We must see what Scripture says about the Law and what it says about the promises. For it praises works in such a way that it does not remove the free promise" (Ap V 67). See p 320.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:17 spread like gangrene. Highly pervasive decay or corruption. Hymenaeus and Philetus. Two false teachers, perhaps also in Ephesus, who preached contrary to Timothy's preaching.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:18 resurrection has already happened. The false teaching that denies the physical resurrection of the body and claims the resurrection is only a spiritual one, taking place in Baptism (such a teaching arose in later Gnosticism). Paul speaks of Baptism as a connection to Christ's death, in order that we might rise and "walk in newness of life" (Rm 6:4). But this Baptism also looks forward to the resurrection of all flesh on the Last Day. Cf 1Co 15:12–17; 2Th 2:2.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:19 seal. Authoritative inscription. See note, Eph 1:13. The Lord knows … his. A quotation from the LXX of Nu 16:5. Let everyone … iniquity. Source unknown; perhaps a popular saying.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:20 great house. Having used three comparisons (vv 3–6) to describe the pastoral office, Paul now uses the example of a mansion to describe the difference between "rightly handling the word of truth" (v 15) and "irreverent babble" (v 16). vessels. Cups and pots. An unclean vessel might get discarded. "He says clearly about the vessels of mercy that the Lord Himself has prepared them for glory. He does not say this about the damned. They themselves, and not God, have prepared themselves as vessels of damnation" (FC SD XI 82).

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:21 cleanses himself. A preacher must separate himself from the "wood and clay" (v 20) of the "irreverent babble" (v 16). set apart as holy. Consecrated for God's good purposes. See "holy," p 1902. master. God.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:22 flee. Resist by means of the Word. youthful passions. Strong emotions and desires are often associated with youth. Timothy is still a fairly young man (see note, 1Tm 4:12). call on the Lord. See p 842. pure heart. A heart having been cleansed by Christ's forgiveness. Cf Ps 51:10.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:23 controversies. See note, v 14; cf v 16.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:24 servant. Gk doulos. See p 1904. Paul uses this term to describe both the pastoral office and his own apostolic office (Rm 1:1).

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:25 opponents. See notes, v 17; 1Tm 1:20.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:26 escape from the snare. See note, 1Tm 3:7. captured by him. False teachers and heretics, having abandoned the "pattern of the sound words" (1:13) and no longer "rightly handling the word of truth" (2:15), now serve the devil by destroying faith with their lies, which they claim is God's truth. "[The devil] hates to hear God's name and cannot remain long where it is spoken and called upon from the heart. Indeed, many terrible and shocking disasters would fall upon us if God did not preserve us by our calling upon His name. I have tried it myself. I learned by experience that often sudden great suffering was immediately averted and removed by calling on God. To confuse the devil, I say, we should always have this holy name in our mouth, so that the devil may not be able to injure as he wishes" (LC I 71–72).

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 2:14–26 Paul reminds Timothy that he and his fellow pastors must remain focused on their task of proclaiming God's Word. They must not get bogged down in quarrels or give in to the temptations of the flesh (such as temper), but be generous and kind to all. When we keep a tight rein on our tongues, not allowing ourselves to quarrel or to fall into petty arguments, we also avoid dishonoring Christ's name with our selfish words. When God's Word is front and center in our minds and on our tongues, it acts powerfully to create ongoing repentance and faith. By giving His gift of repentance to us through His Word, our Lord Jesus Christ snatches us from "the snare of the devil." • Guard my tongue, O Lord, that it may be an instrument of Your praise. Amen.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:1 last days. The days immediately before Christ's return. Every day between Christ's ascension and His return is part of the Last Days. See note, Ac 2:17.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:2–5 Paul describes people who have lived in every era of history, right up to this day. See note, v 1.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:3 unappeasable. Having wrathful anger and demanding punishment rather than showing mercy.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:4 lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God. Turning self-indulgence and entertainment into idols.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:5 appearance of godliness. People who look holy, but inwardly are unbelievers (cf Mt 23:27–28). Avoid. Do not allow them to influence your thoughts and behavior. See note, Rm 16:17.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:6 While the husband was away, religious charlatans would visit homes and try to persuade the women to accept their false teachings. weak women. Religious quackery was widely received by women in the Roman Empire during this time.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:7 When truth is a matter of human opinion rather than divine revelation, people will have their own version. God's Word, by contrast, speaks the eternal truth simply and plainly.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:8 Jannes and Jambres. Not mentioned in the OT. Rabbinic tradition held that these men were magicians in Pharaoh's court when Moses came to ask for Israel's release from Egypt. these men. Cf v 6. disqualified. Thrown out of the "contest." Paul returns to his earlier comparison of the faithful pastor to an athlete who must compete by the rules (2:5).
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:1–9 Although Paul writes these words specifically about temptations that attack the pastoral office, they clearly apply to all Christians. Men like Jannes and Jambres allowed themselves to be enticed, and in so doing they disqualified themselves regarding the faith. God's baptismal gift of the Holy Spirit creates within us an ongoing desire for repentance and forgiveness. Although we may regularly fall into sin (such falls are easy for all Christians), God calls us to faith again through His Word, reminding us of the forgiveness and cleansing that are ours in Christ Jesus. • Lord, it is exceedingly easy to be deceived and so fall into sin. Guard me against all temptation. Amen.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:10 my. In Gk, "my" appears only once. Paul's motivations have been rooted in the Gospel, not in subverting the Gospel.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:11 During his missionary journeys, Paul regularly suffered bodily punishment for his preaching. He names these three Galatian provinces in particular, perhaps because Timothy was a native of Lystra and would have already been familiar with Paul's persecutions in that region.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:12 persecuted. Persecution includes not only physical beatings such as Paul's but also derision and exclusion. See p 2042.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:13 from bad to worse. Just as an addict's habit grows worse, so sin grows worse in the thoughts, actions, or teachings of those who willingly pursue it.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:14 from whom you learned it. Timothy's mother, grandmother (1:5), and Paul (vv 10–11).

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:15 from childhood. See note, 1:5. sacred writings. OT Scriptures. wise … salvation. Knowledge is often used as a synonym for faith in the Scriptures. Cf Ti 1:1.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:16 breathed out by God. An allusion to creation. Words are formed by breath, and breath is synonymous with life (see notes, Gn 2:7; Ps 33:6). See pp 1559–60. Aph: "If the days of a man should be many as all the days of the world from Adam to the end of the ages, and he should sit and meditate upon the Holy Scriptures, he would not comprehend all the force of the depth of the words. And man cannot rise up to the wisdom of God" (NPNF 2 13:411). teaching. Imparting of knowledge/doctrine. reproof. The call to repentance over sin. correction. Through the Word. training in righteousness. Made righteous by God's grace, we live out righteous behavior. See "righteous," p 843. training. Gk paidea, childhood discipline and instruction.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:17 man of God. The pastor or other called servant of the Word (see note, 1Sm 2:27). competent, equipped. Possessing both the personal aptitude and the proper training needed for the pastoral office. See p 2080. "We believe, teach, and confess that the only rule and norm according to which all teachings, together with 'all' teachers, should be evaluated and judged [2 Timothy 3:15–17] are the prophetic and apostolic Scriptures of the Old and New Testament alone" (FC Ep Sum 1). "Faithful shepherds, as Luther says, should do both things: (1) feed or nourish the lambs and (2) resist the wolves. Then the sheep may flee from strange voices (John 10:5–12) and may separate the precious from the worthless (Jeremiah 15:19)" (FC SD Sum 14).

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 3:10–17 Paul points to himself as an example for Timothy. He speaks about the great work the Gospel has produced within him. Our fellow Christians want to learn the faith from us, and they watch us in the same way that Timothy watched Paul. God speaks His Gospel of forgiveness and peace to us, not only through His preached Word, but also through the example and teaching of our fellow Christians. Luther called this the consolation of the brethren. • O Lord, allow me to be an example for those who believe, as was Paul to Timothy. Through Your powerful Word, train me in righteousness, that I may be equipped for every good work. Amen.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:1 charge. Possibly recalling Timothy's ordination vow, Paul now summarizes the duties of Timothy's office by giving him this command. judge the living and the dead. Paul has spoken the charge, but Christ will judge Timothy's faithfulness on the Last Day. appearing. Christ's return in judgment will fully reveal the kingdom He established by His suffering and death, in which Timothy now works as a pastor. kingdom. Not an earthly realm but one ruled by Christ. See pp 1565–66.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:2 This verse contains the simplest summary of every pastoral duty and responsibility—administering the Sacraments, admonishing the erring, and comforting and visiting those in need—and all flow from the preaching of the Word. in season and out of season. At all times. reprove. Persuade by showing evidence (in this case, from the Scriptures; cf note, 3:16). rebuke. Speak God's condemning Law to the erring. exhort. Comfort the penitent sinner with the Gospel. complete patience and teaching. Lit, "long-suffering and doctrine." Doctrine (the teachings of the Scriptures) is the pastor's only tool for reproving, rebuking, and exhorting. Yet, doctrine must be taught with long-suffering, knowing that people will not always accept what is taught or that acceptance might take a long time.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:3 itching ears. Desiring to hear something new and entertaining. teachers to suit their own passions. Teachers who tell them what they want to hear, rather than what God declares in His Word.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:4 myths. See note, 1Tm 1:4.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:5 sober-minded. Aware and focused on the task at hand. evangelist. Lit, "one who proclaims the good news." fulfill your ministry. Rather than being swept away along with those mentioned in vv 3–4, Timothy must faithfully pursue his service.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:6 poured out as a drink offering. An allusion to the OT sacrificial system (cf Ex 29:38–41). Paul regards his eventual death (i.e., the pouring out of his blood) as an offering to Christ. departure. A reference to Paul's death, which he believes to be near.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:7 good fight. See note, 1Tm 1:18. race. Cf 2:5. kept the faith. Could refer to remaining personally in the faith that God has given and/or guarding Christian doctrine against false teaching and error.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:8 the crown of righteousness. Eternal life. Cf Rv 2:10. See "righteousness," p 1904. "The justified are due the crown because of the promise. Saints should know this promise, not that they may labor for their own profit, for they ought to labor for God's glory. But saints should know it so they may not despair in troubles. They should know God's will: He desires to aid, to deliver, and to protect them" (Ap V 242–43). that Day. Judgment Day described in Mt 25:31–46. loved. A reference to those who lived by faith. His appearing. Probably a reference to the Christian's longing for the Last Day; might also refer to Christ's incarnation.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:1–8 Faced with the thought of his imminent death, Paul impresses upon Timothy the importance of carrying on where Paul will leave off, preaching the Word faithfully. We should not judge our pastors' preaching on whether they say the things we personally like to hear. We should judge preaching instead on God's Word. God's Word sometimes cuts like a knife when it exposes our sin. But after the Law comes the Gospel of peace, binding up the wounds inflicted by the Law with the sweet Gospel, which proclaims Christ's forgiveness for all our sins. • Make me an ever-ready hearer of Your Word, O Lord. Do not let me seek preaching that satisfies my sinful desires, but give me preaching that will continually return me to the forgiveness You have given me through Your Son. Amen.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:9–22 Of all Paul's lists of greetings and notes about fellow workers, only the one in Rm 16:1–23 is longer than this one. From his prison cell, Paul continued to coordinate the mission work.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:9 come to me soon. Paul is now in prison in Rome. See note, 1:8.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:10 Demas. Paul's previous co-worker. deserted me. Perhaps Demas left the faith entirely or was overcome by fear of imprisonment. Crescens. The only mention of this man in the NT. Titus. See p 2087–88.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:11 Luke … Mark. Paul's fellow travelers, who later wrote Gospels. See pp 1700–1703, 1652–54. useful. See note, Phm 11.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:12 Tychicus. He previously traveled with Paul and Timothy. Paul probably sent him to Ephesus to take Timothy's responsibilities so Timothy could travel to see Paul.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:13 Prisoners in ancient times depended upon the provisions given to them by their family and friends, rather than on the generosity of their jailers. Carpus. Not otherwise mentioned in the NT. books. Lit, "scrolls" made of papyrus. parchments. Scrolls made of animal skin.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:14–15 Alexander the coppersmith. Perhaps the same man as in 1Tm 1:20; a teacher who rejected the faith and began working against Paul.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:15 message. Gk logos, often translated "word." Used in John's Gospel as a reference to Christ. Cf Jn 1:1, 14.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:16 first defense. The legal proceeding that led to Paul's present imprisonment.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:17 Lord stood by me. Even when all others abandoned him, Paul remained confident in Christ's abiding presence. See note, Ac 23:11. message. Gk kerygma, "preaching" or proclamation of the word in v 15. lion's mouth. Could symbolize deadly peril or describe an accuser at Paul's trial. Because of his Roman citizenship, it is not likely that Paul would have been put to death by lions in the amphitheater. Probably Paul was not declared guilty at his first defense.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:18 His heavenly kingdom. Eternal life beyond earthly death. See pp 1565–66. glory. Whether in life or in death, Paul continues to praise God's name.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:9–18 Paul requests that Timothy visit him at Rome, confident that his fellow Christian will prove faithful. We should not hesitate to ask others for their help, particularly when our need is great. Probably they are more than ready to give us aid and require only to know our need. The self-sacrificing generosity that Christians show toward one another comes from only one place: the self-sacrificing love of Christ Jesus, who gave Himself fully for our salvation. • Thank You, Jesus, that You have given all things for me. Give me Your Holy Spirit, that I may be bold, both to serve others with self-sacrificing love and to ask for such love from others when I am in need. Amen.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:19 Prisca and Aquila. See notes, Ac 18:18, 26. Prisca. Perhaps a diminutive form of the name Priscilla.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:20 Erastus. Formerly, the city treasurer of Corinth. See note, Rm 16:23. Trophimus. See notes, Ac 20:4; 21:29.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:21 come before winter. Travel becomes impossible during the winter months. Cf Ac 27:9–12. Also, Paul did not have his winter cloak (cf v 13). Eubulus … Pudens … Linus … Claudia. Not otherwise mentioned in the NT. all the brothers. Christians at Ephesus. See p 1901.
2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:22 with your spirit. See notes, Gal 6:18; Php 4:23; Phm 25. be with you. Though the Letter is a personal note that Timothy is to share with these others (v 19), "you" is plural here and most likely indicates that the Letter was intended for reading in the entire congregation at Ephesus.

2 TIMOTHY—NOTE ON 4:19–22 In closing, Paul asks Timothy to greet the other Christians at Ephesus, whom Paul had earlier grown to love. There is no Christian who lives to himself or herself alone. We are a family, joined together in Christ! Timothy faces a difficult task, but he does not face it alone. Other Christians in the Body of Christ will shoulder the load with him. God has likewise given fellow Christians to us, whom we will find gathered with us in worship. Partaking of the Word and the Sacraments in the communion of saints, our gracious heavenly Father will lighten our loads and lift our burdens. • Thank You, Lord, for my fellow Christians whom I name before You in my prayers. Amen.

Titus

Titus 1 | Titus 2 | Titus 3

- Introduction to Titus
  - Overview
  - Reading Titus
  - Luther on Titus
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Greeting

1 [1] ‡ † Paul, a servant[1] of God and an apostle of Jesus Christ, for the sake of the faith of God's elect and their knowledge of the truth, which accords with godliness, [2] † in hope of eternal life, which God, who never lies, promised before the ages began[2] [3] † and at the proper time manifested in his word through the preaching with which I have been entrusted by the command of God our Savior;

[4] † To Titus, my true child in a common faith:
Grace and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Savior.

Qualifications for Elders

5 ‡† This is why I left you in Crete, so that you might put what remained into order, and appoint elders in every town as I directed you— 6 ‡† if anyone is above reproach, the husband of one wife,[3] and his children are believers and not open to the charge of debauchery or insubordination.
7 †For an overseer,[4] as God's steward, must be above reproach. He must not be arrogant or quick-tempered or a drunkard or violent or greedy for gain, 8 † but hospitable, a lover of good, self-controlled, upright, holy, and disciplined. 9 †He must hold firm to the trustworthy word as taught, so that he may be able to give instruction in sound[1] doctrine and also to rebuke those who contradict it.

10 † For there are many who are insubordinate, empty talkers and deceivers, especially those of the circumcision party. 11 † They must be silenced, since they are upsetting whole families by teaching for shameful gain what they ought not to teach. 12 † One of the Cretans,[2] a prophet of their own, said, "Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, lazy gluttons."[3] 13 †This testimony is true. Therefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, 14 † not devoting themselves to Jewish myths and the commands of people who turn away from the truth. 15 † To the pure, all things are pure, but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their minds and their consciences are defiled. 16 † They profess to know God, but they deny him by their works. They are detestable, disobedient, unfit for any good work.

Teach Sound Doctrine

2 [1]†But as for you, teach what accords with sound[4] doctrine. [2]‡†Older men are to be sober-minded, dignified, self-controlled, sound in faith, in love, and in steadfastness. [3]† Older women likewise are to be reverent in behavior, not slanderers or slaves to much wine. They are to teach what is good, [4]†and so train the young women to love their husbands and children, [5]† to be self-controlled, pure, working at home, kind, and submissive to their own husbands, that the word of God may not be reviled.
[6]†Likewise, urge the younger men to be self-controlled. [7]‡†Show yourself in all respects to be a model of good works, and in your teaching show integrity, dignity, [8]†and sound speech that cannot be condemned, so that an opponent may be put to shame, having nothing evil to say about us. [9]† Slaves[1] are to be submissive to their own masters in everything; they are to be well-pleasing, not argumentative, [10]†not pilfering, but showing all good faith, so that in everything they may adorn the doctrine of God our Savior.

[11]†For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people, [12]† training us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in the present age, [13]† waiting for our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, [14]† who gave himself for us to redeem us from all lawlessness and to purify for himself a people for his own possession who are zealous for good works.

[15]†Declare these things; exhort and rebuke with all authority. Let no one disregard you.

Be Ready for Every Good Work

3 [1] Remind them to be submissive to rulers and authorities, to be obedient, to be ready for every good work, [2] to speak evil of no one, to avoid quarreling, to be gentle, and to show perfect courtesy toward all people. [3] For we ourselves were once foolish, disobedient, led astray, slaves to various passions and pleasures, passing our days in malice and envy, hated by others and hating one another. [4] But when the goodness and loving kindness of God our Savior appeared, [5] he saved us, not because of works done by us in righteousness, but according to his own mercy, by the washing of regeneration and renewal of the Holy Spirit, [6] whom he poured out on us richly through Jesus Christ our Savior, [7] so that being justified by his grace we might become heirs according to the hope of eternal life. [8] The saying is trustworthy, and I want you to insist on these things, so that those who have believed in God may be careful to devote themselves to good works. These things are excellent and profitable for people. [9] But avoid foolish controversies, genealogies, dissensions, and quarrels about the law, for they are unprofitable and worthless. [10] As for a person who stirs up division, after warning him once and then twice, have nothing more to do with him, [11] knowing that such a person is warped and sinful; he is self-condemned.

Final Instructions and Greetings

12 ‡†When I send Artemas or Tychicus to you, do your best to come to me at Nicopolis, for I have decided to spend the winter there. 13 †Do your best to speed Zenas the lawyer and Apollos on their way; see that they lack nothing. 14 †And let our people learn to devote themselves to good works, so as to help cases of urgent need, and not be unfruitful.

15 †All who are with me send greetings to you. Greet those who love us in the faith.

Grace be with you all.

Titus

OVERVIEW

Author
Paul the apostle

Date
AD 68

Places
Crete; Nicopolis

People
Paul; Titus; Artemas; Tychicus; Zenas; Apollos

Purpose
To guide Titus's teaching and administration for the Christians on Crete

Law Themes
Be above reproach; rebuke; the pure and the defiled; submissiveness; devotion to good works

Gospel Themes
Election; soundness; God's grace; redemption; washing and renewal; justification

Memory Verses
Redeemed and purified (2:14); renewal by the Holy Spirit (3:4–7)

Introduction to Titus

Reading Titus

The rich man grips his belly in pain, pleading for the physician to explain what is wrong. “Too much rich food! Too much wine!” the physician complains. “Excesses will kill you. No wonder your body is not sound.”

Like a sincere physician, the apostle Paul warns Titus about the excesses that afflict the congregation of Cretans, who were proverbial for gluttonous excess (1:12) and who craved new and different doctrines (1:10, 13–14; 3:9). Paul teaches that soundness (1:9, 13; 2:1–2, 8) comes from modest living in accordance with the truth. The wholeness of the Gospel brings salvation and leads to self-controlled living.

Luther on Titus

This is a short epistle, but a model of Christian doctrine, in which is comprehended in a masterful way all that is necessary for a Christian to know and to live.

In chapter 1 he teaches what kind of man a bishop, or pastor, ought to be, namely, one who is pious and learned in preaching the gospel and in refuting the false teachers of works and of man-made laws, those who are always warring against faith and leading consciences away from Christian liberty into the captivity of their own man-made works, [as if these works,] which are actually worthless, [should make them righteous before God.]

In chapter 2 he teaches the various estates—the older, the younger, wives, husbands, masters, and slaves—how they are to act, as those whom Christ, by his death, has won for his own.

In chapter 3 he teaches Christians to honor worldly rulers and to obey them. He cites again the grace that Christ has won for us, so that no one may think that obeying rulers is enough, since all our righteousness is nothing before God. And he forbids association with the obstinate and with heretics. (AE 35:389–90)

For more of Luther's insights on this Book, see Lectures on Titus (AE 29:1–90).

Challenges for Readers

Paul's Authorship. Because Paul's other Letters do not mention a mission to Crete, and because word choices in Titus differ somewhat from those in Paul's earlier Letters, some critics have concluded that Paul did not write this Letter to Titus. However, there was time for a mission to Crete after Paul's imprisonment at Rome and before his martyrdom (see the timeline above). Also, authors often adapt their style based on the intended recipient. Paul typically worked through a scribe, which could also affect the Letter's style (see note, Rm 16:22). The Early Church unanimously received Titus as a Letter from Paul.

Relation to 1 Timothy. Many features of the Letter for Titus correspond with those of 1 Timothy. Like administrators today, Paul likely adapted his Letter for one pastor to meet the needs of another pastor (see "Luther on Colossians," p 2040).

Faith and Works. In Titus, Paul places special emphasis on the relationship between faith and works, explaining that our works result from God's saving action. When Paul describes the Christian life (2:1–10; 3:1–2), he also provides the theological basis for the life of faith (both passages are introduced by Gk gar, "for") as he emphasizes God's saving action (2:11–14a; 3:3–7). Finally, he provides a summary statement that explicitly states how Christians are to do good works, springing from God's work in Baptism (2:14b; 3:8).

Blessings for Readers

As you read Titus, reflect on the excesses in your life. Our world today offers excesses of every variety. Yet, as Paul demonstrates, the basics in life and in doctrine are God's greatest gifts. The simple purity of the truth is the hope of our salvation.

OUTLINE

I. Opening Salutation (1:1–4)
II. Body (1:5–3:11)
  A. Appointment and Qualifications of Elders (1:5–9)
  B. Elders' Duty to Refute False Teaching in Crete (1:10–16)
  C. Instructions to Various Groups regarding Christian Living (2:1–10)
  D. Theological Basis for This Christian Living (2:11–15)
  E. General Instructions about Living as Christians in Society (3:1–2)
  F. Theological Basis for This Christian Living Grounded in Holy Baptism (3:3–8)
  G. Final Instructions about Dealing with False Teaching and Teachers (3:9–11)
III. Closing (3:12–15)
  A. Personal Instructions (3:12–14)
  B. Greeting (3:15)

Footnotes

Footnotes for Titus, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:1 Or slave; Greek bondservant
- [2] 1:2 Greek before times eternal
- [3] 1:6 Or a man of one woman
- [4] 1:7 Or bishop; Greek episkopos
- [1] 1:9 Or healthy; also verse 13
- [2] 1:12 Greek One of them
- [3] 1:12 Probably from Epimenides of Crete

Footnotes for Titus, Chapter 2

- [4] 2:1 Or healthy; also verses 2, 8
- [1] 2:9 Or servants; Greek bondservants

Study Notes

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:1 servant. God owned Paul's life and directed his efforts. See p 101. apostle. Jesus handpicked and commissioned Paul as His spokesman (Ac 9:15) and as a gift to His Church (Eph 4:11–12). See p 1901. for the sake of the faith. Establishing and strengthening the faith of God's people were key elements of Paul's ministry. elect. See note, Eph 1:4. accords with godliness. Faith in Christ and knowledge of God's truth will bear fruit in godly living.

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:2 God, who never lies. A favorite verse for Luther. God is the author and final arbiter of truth. He is fully trustworthy. "God's Word cannot err" (LC IV 57). promised before the ages began. God's plan for our salvation predates the beginning of history. See note, Eph 1:4.

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:3 proper time. God is Lord over all time and history, so He revealed Himself and His promised plan of salvation in Jesus Christ at just the right time (Mk 1:15; Gal 4:4). On a personal level, He also introduces Himself and His promise to each of us at just the right time to meet our need for salvation. command of God our Savior. Paul did not preach to pass the time as he toured the Roman Empire; he preached in obedience to God's direction. See note, 1Co 1:17. Paul's work as God's servant received all of his skill, energy, time, and devotion.

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:4 Titus. Not mentioned by name in Ac, but Titus was one of Paul's companions and collaborators in the ministry. Paul apparently trusted Titus with important assignments. my true child. Paul may have led Titus, a Gentile, to faith in Christ, in effect becoming his spiritual father. See note, 1Tm 1:2. common faith. Paul and Titus each held the true Christian faith in Jesus as Lord and Savior. Christ Jesus our Savior. The interchange with "God our Savior" (v 3) affirms the deity of Jesus Christ.

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:1–4 Paul opens his Letter to Titus and the churches on Crete with a greeting that asserts his authority, recaps God's plan for salvation, and notes his personal bond with Titus. Most of his greeting revolves around the Gospel, because this is so central to Paul's life that he can hardly speak (or write) without mentioning it. God saves us from sin and condemnation and makes us fit for His kingdom. The only logical response to such love, grace, and generosity is, like Paul, to overflow with His praises and share this joyous news with others. Through Jesus Christ, the Father rescues us from our shortcomings yesterday, today, and tomorrow. • I praise You, O God, for giving me grace and peace in Christ Jesus, my Savior! Make me a sincere and faithful child in the communion of saints. Amen.

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:5 I left you in Crete. Paul and Titus likely visited Crete as missionaries. No fourth missionary journey or church planting on Crete is mentioned in Ac, but Rm 15:24, 28 indicates that Paul had additional mission work in mind. He could have visited Crete after his release from house arrest at the end of Ac. appoint elders. Paul uses "elder" (v 5) and "overseer" (v 7) for the same office of church leadership; "elder" suggests qualifications, while "overseer" suggests responsibilities. They served as stewards of their congregation; today we know them as pastors and elders. Titus was to appoint church leaders based on their qualifications rather than popularity. "The Gospel assigns those who preside over Churches the command to teach the Gospel [Matthew 28:19], to forgive sins [John 20:23], to administer the Sacraments, and also to exercise jurisdiction (i.e., the command to excommunicate those whose crimes are known and to absolve those who repent). Everyone confesses, even our adversaries, that this power is common to all who preside over churches by divine right, whether they are called pastors, elders, or bishops" (Tr 60–61). every town. Churches planted in each town would need leaders after Paul and then Titus left Crete (cf 3:12).

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:6–9 The lists of qualification in 1Tm and Ti are not identical, but they cover the same central themes. The differences suggest some degree of flexibility to meet the needs of the local church. E.g., 1Tm 3:6 requires that elders not be recent converts, but Ti does not mention this constraint, perhaps because all Cretan Christians were relatively recent converts. These standards in the list reflect God's expectations for those who serve as leaders in His Church. See p 2080.

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:6 above reproach. Church leadership is not open to everyone. Candidates for elder must be Christ's authentic disciples, which Paul apparently takes as obvious and does not state. Starting from this foundation, candidates for elder must live an irreproachable, blameless life. husband of one wife. NT churches included businesswomen who helped host start-up churches (Ac 16:14–15) and women who taught as part of a husband-wife team (Ac 18:24–26). There are myriad opportunities for men and women to serve or work as part of God's Church (see p 1972), but Scripture consistently requires elders and overseers to be men, husbands from monogamous, Christian marriages (cf 1Tm 3:2). Note that these are marriages as defined by God and not as defined or practiced by secular culture. Experience in a Christian marriage would prove the ability to maintain successful personal relationships during good times as well as trying times, and it would help the elder begin to understand something of the relationship between Christ and His Bride, the Church. Paul himself was not married. See note, 1Co 7:8. children are believers. A Christian father must be spiritual leader of his household before he is fit to lead the church; his witness within his own family is a top priority. debauchery. Decadent children might reflect a lack of discipline or spiritual teaching by their father. insubordination. Persistent disobedience indicates that children misunderstand or reject their father's authority and, by implication, reject the lordship of Christ. Congregations should anticipate that a pastor's children will fall into sin, just like anyone else's children. They may also expect the pastor to apply Law and Gospel to his children, to restore them in God's love and mercy.

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:7 overseer. See note, v 5. God's steward. Leaders must serve, manage, and care for the laypeople who make up the local church, as well as for its ministries. In most churches, a pastor serves this role with support from elders whom God raises up from among the laity.

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:8 self-controlled. This fruit of the Holy Spirit in Christian life (Gal 5:22–23) comes up several times in Paul's Letter as he urges Titus and his Cretan audience to grow in godly living.

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:9 as taught. Consistent sound doctrine at Crete would provide a starting point for their growth in discipleship. See note, 2Th 2:15. "Faith must have something that it believes, that is, of which it takes hold" (LC IV 29). sound doctrine. See notes, v 13; 2:1. rebuke those who contradict it. As stewards or guardians of the Church, leaders must identify, stop, and correct false teaching.

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:10 empty talkers. Those who talk a convincing story, but without any God-given authority or useful message. circumcision party. People who taught that Christians must be circumcised and obey all of the Jewish ceremonial rules to receive salvation. See note, Ac 15:1. They added these requirements to the Gospel of God's grace, effectively defining a salvation based partly on an individual's works and placing man-made rules above God's Word, so their teaching was dangerous and wrong. Even today, many religions and cults add man-made requirements to the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:11 silenced. Titus and the elders he appoints must block and correct the faulty teaching. whole families. If one person in a family fell prey to false teaching, it was likely to influence their entire household. shameful gain. Church leaders are entitled to support (1Tm 5:18), but this suggests that the false teachers were in the ministry for the sake of money.

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:12 Cretans, a prophet. Epimenides, a Cretan philosopher (c 600 BC) whom many pagans viewed as a prophet. Cretans are … gluttons. The original treatise from Epimenides was concerning prophetic oracles and those who spoke them (de oraculis). So Paul likely cites the passage as a rebuke to the Cretan false teachers and not to Cretans generally. He challenges the Cretan churches to reject the false teachers among them, who apparently claimed prophetic authority. This teaching strategy suggests that Paul wanted Titus to share the Letter publicly with the churches on Crete.

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:13 testimony is true. With respect to the false prophets. Apparently the circumcision party here was made up of native Cretans, not Jews from Judea as in other cases (see note, Gal 2:4). rebuke … sharply. False teaching is dangerous, requiring a clear, direct response. them. The Cretan false teachers. The rebuke is both a judgment on the troublemakers and an opportunity for them to repent and experience God's grace. Titus must meet the false teachers with Law and Gospel. See p 307. sound. Faith must be pure and not compromised by false teaching or attempts to invent our own spiritual success. Only Jesus Christ can reconcile us with God. See note, 2:1.

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:14 Jewish myths. Writings excluded from the OT, or a speculative aspect of the false teaching. commands of people. Rules and interpretations of God's Law that undercut God's grace or distort His plan of salvation (e.g., Mt 23:23).

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:15 To the pure, all things are pure. Put another way, God redeems everything for the redeemed (1Tm 4:4), and those who are not redeemed by Christ live in condemnation. "[Everything is pure] to those who believe in Christ and are righteous by faith" (Ap XXIII 34). minds … consciences are defiled. Unredeemed reasoning and thoughts, and their sense of right and wrong, are fatally flawed. The circumcision party sought to bind consciences with legalistic observances. See note, v 10.

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:16 profess … deny. The false teachers claim to know God, but their actions or works prove that they are not His people (cf Mt 7:15–20). Doctrine and practice must go hand in hand. unfit. Faith in Christ bears fruit in the good works He provides, but those without Christ's salvation are unable to bear this fruit (Mt 7:17). Hus: "He is lacking in faith … unbelieved things are as holes, and thus he has a shield of faith which is full of holes…. He is lacking in faith who lacks in use of this shield" (The Church, p 70).

TITUS—NOTE ON 1:5–16 Step by step, Paul outlines the requirements for those who wish to lead as stewards of God's Church. Then he turns his focus to the false teachers, who do not measure up in understanding or teaching the truth, in their corrosive behavior, or in their motives. As living, active members of God's Church, potential leaders should aspire to know and understand His truth and to serve in the roles He provides. They and their families need to live a godly life that avoids empty talk, deceit, and any teaching that turns away from God's truth. Purity is a tall order, though, and we cannot make ourselves pure. Yet God steps into our lives and purifies us by His Gospel. Thank God that through Jesus Christ, He makes us pure and leads us through His trustworthy Word! • Jesus, purify me with Your righteousness so that I may lead in my family and serve faithfully among Your people. Amen.

TITUS—NOTE ON 2:1 sound. Gk hugiaino, "whole, healthy" (see note, 1:13). In contrast to the impure and fractured doctrines of the circumcision party and other false teachers, Titus must teach Cretans the whole trustworthy Word (cf 1:9) in accord with the teaching of Christ and His apostles. This is not the same as moralism, where we set ourselves up as judges, nor is it moral relativism, which denies the reality of God's unchanging truth.

TITUS—NOTE ON 2:2–10 Here, Paul builds upon a divine foundation to explain special emphases for teaching different groups within the churches. These exhortations are not as complete as the requirements for elder and overseer in ch 1, but both aim to encourage growth in areas of personal behavior that are important to individuals and their role in the Christian community. Paul urges older men and women to be dignified and reverent; these virtues are important as positive models for the younger men and women. Many of the qualities asked of the younger men and women focus on a godly life. These exhortations have both Law and Gospel applications in that they represent God's expectations and urge behaviors that God will enable, use, and bless through the Gospel.

TITUS—NOTE ON 2:2 Older men. By virtue of age and experience, they serve as natural role models for younger men. People who reached age 80 were regarded as remarkable. The median age of death, according to inscriptions left on tombs of the upper classes, was 46½ yrs for men. So, elders were men in their 30s or 40s, though most would not have an exact reckoning of their age. sound. Cf v 1. Older men should set a solid example of spiritual vitality and maturity.

TITUS—NOTE ON 2:3 Older women. No specific age is given, but since v 4 addresses younger women who have children, perhaps the older women are those past childbearing age. The median age of death for women was 34 years (see note, v 2). much wine. People drank wine at meals and parties (Jn 2:9–10) and for medicinal purposes (1Tm 5:23), but drinking too much would violate the spirit of self-control urged throughout Ti. See note, Eph 5:18. teach what is good. Older women serve as natural role models for younger women, so they should train them in behavior befitting a godly wife and mother.

TITUS—NOTE ON 2:4 young women. Old enough to marry and young enough to have children still at home. The earliest age for marriage in Roman law was 12. love. Training someone to love is best done by setting a good example and reinforcing loving behavior.

TITUS—NOTE ON 2:5 working at home. Women are not prohibited from working outside their home but should be industrious at home in the family context. Cf Pr 31:10–31 for an example to follow, and 1Tm 5:13–14 for an example to avoid. submissive. See notes, Eph 5:21, 22. The same term is used in v 9 and 3:1, showing that the application of this teaching is based on the calling involved. word of God … reviled. Paul is concerned not only with encouraging godly behavior, but with avoiding ungodly behavior that might discredit the Gospel message.

TITUS—NOTE ON 2:6 younger men. Old enough to have reached adulthood and young enough to need encouragement in self-control. Paul seems to switch the focus to Titus in the next verse, implying that Titus might be part of this age group.

TITUS—NOTE ON 2:7–8 These expectations reflect Titus's role as pastor or head elder as he leads young men into mature Christian discipleship and service.
TITUS—NOTE ON 2:7 Titus needs to set an example for the young men as he teaches the newly appointed elders/pastors and the churches on Crete. See note, Php 3:17.
TITUS—NOTE ON 2:8 Paul is concerned with avoiding behavior that might undercut Titus's credibility or fuel the arguments of opponents, such as the false teachers, who would be at odds with Titus and a sound understanding of the Gospel.
TITUS—NOTE ON 2:9 Slaves. Slavery was common across the Roman Empire, but its practice varied widely from one area to another. Christian slaves or bond servants must obey their masters as a compelling witness of Christian submission to God. See p 101. submissive. See note, v 5. masters. Any Christian or pagan who owned or managed a Christian slave or bond servant. in everything. Slaves were often part of an extended household, and all aspects of their life could be seen by other members of the household. Therefore, submission to their master must be consistent.
TITUS—NOTE ON 2:10 all good faith. Attitudes and intent matter as much as actions or service. adorn the doctrine. Behavior must reflect positively on the Gospel rather than discrediting Christian witness.
TITUS—NOTE ON 2:11 Jesus Christ is the living manifestation of God's grace. God stepped into this world to create the crucial turning point of salvation for all of humanity. salvation for all. God's plan of salvation is available for all people, regardless of age, gender, social status, or nationality (Gal 3:28; Col 3:11).
TITUS—NOTE ON 2:12 renounce. This strong verb stresses the visible break we need to make with our old, fallen nature. God's grace enables us to renounce sin; we cannot renounce sin and then embrace God by our own strength or initiative. Renouncing the devil became a part of the baptismal liturgy (see LSB, p 270). present age. From now until the coming of Christ (v 13).
TITUS—NOTE ON 2:13 the appearing of the glory. The second coming of Christ that He predicted in Mt 16:27. See "glory," p 1902. "Deliver Your servants by Your glorious return!" (SA Preface 15). our great God and Savior Jesus Christ. Clearly states the deity of Jesus Christ.

TITUS—NOTE ON 2:14 redeem. See p 1904. purify. By saving us from our sin, Jesus purifies us and makes us fit to be part of His family. See note, 1:15. His own possession. God already has right of ownership over us because He created us. However, He loves us so much that He wants to adopt each of us as His children. Collectively, the congregation of Christians forms the Church, the Bride of Christ, which reflects just how amazingly special we are to Him. See note, Eph 5:25; see also "portion," p 7.

TITUS—NOTE ON 2:15 these things. Includes the admonitions of vv 2–10 as well as the foundational doctrines summarized in vv 11–14. exhort and rebuke. Titus is charged to encourage and correct or reprimand his audience with clear, direct teaching of Law and Gospel. This is a responsibility of all pastors, even in the face of apathy or opposition. all authority. Titus (and pastors today) must exhort and rebuke from Scripture, reflecting authority assigned by Jesus Christ through His apostles (Mt 28:18–20).

TITUS—NOTE ON Ch 2 Self-controlled, godly living is beneficial regardless of our age or status in life, and it is important to our family relationships as well as to our witness as a Christian. Our lifestyle, relationships, and behavior must not discredit the Gospel. This sets a very high bar, indeed, and one that we cannot reach without a lot of help. However, God trains us for the present time and gives us hope for the future. He redeems and purifies us to make us His children. • Jesus, adorn my life with works and confession worthy of the Gospel. Amen.

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:1 submissive. See note, 2:5; cf Rm 13:1–7. every good work. Many of Paul's admonitions point Christians toward good works that stem from a godly life; this passage starts with good citizenship.

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:2 speak evil of no one. Do not indulge in slander, insults, or character assassination. perfect courtesy toward all people. Gentle, courteous conduct stands in contrast to quarrelsome attitudes and evil speech; it strengthens the Christian's credibility and personal witness.

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:3 once foolish. Life without Christ tends to follow the wisdom of this world, which is foolishness in God's view (cf 1Co 1:25). People who can remember their life before they became Christians are often amazed and dismayed at how foolish and distorted it was. This passage provides a succinct description of how badly we need God's grace.

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:4 when. God's timing is impeccable: He sent Christ into the world at just the right time for humanity, and He met the Cretans with Law and Gospel at just the right time to show them His grace. He still reaches us with such excellent timing. God our Savior. See note, 1:4.

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:5 not because of works. Every aspect of our salvation described in 2:11–14; 3:4–7 depends on God's action; none of it depends on what we do. Even though Paul repeatedly urges Christians to prepare for and perform good works, these are the harvest of God's grace in saving us from our sins and are not prepayments or repayments for His salvation. according to His own mercy. God's love and the grace He extends to us are in keeping with His merciful nature. washing of regeneration and renewal. Baptism brings new life and spiritual cleansing. God provides this Baptism as a means for us to receive His grace. See note, Eph 5:26. "Baptism may certainly be called a divine, blessed, fruitful, and gracious water. Such power is given to Baptism by the Word that it is a washing of new birth" (LC IV 27). Cypr: "The blessed apostle sets forth and proves that baptism is that wherein the old man dies and the new man is born" (ANF 5:388).

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:6 poured. See note, Ac 2:17.

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:7 justified by His grace. See note, Rm 3:24. "Justification before God is regeneration" (FC SD III 19). heirs. Once justified and purified, God adopts us into His family as coheirs with Jesus Christ. See p 1902. hope. God promises eternal life, and believers can look forward to spending eternity with Him.

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:8 The saying. Vv 4–7 present a unified statement of salvation in Christ, representing the Christian's experience: God's initiative in sending Christ; His merciful rescue of us; Baptism for rebirth and cleansing; the indwelling Spirit, who makes us rich in Christ; justification and acceptance into God's family; and the hope of eternity with our heavenly Father. devote themselves. God prepares good works for Christians to do (Eph 2:10), and we need to pay attention and not shirk these opportunities.

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:9 law. May be the Law of Moses, but Paul may mean man-made extensions of God's Law (cf 1:10).

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:10–11 Direction for excommunication as a means of Church discipline. The reason for excommunication is not a person's misunderstanding per se, but that the person persistently teaches and imposes that misunderstanding on others, creating division in the Church, the Body of Christ.

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:10 after warning … have nothing more to do with him. A template for discipline, to be exercised by spiritual leaders of the Church. Titus needed to discipline the false teachers who afflicted the churches on Crete. He is to warn them once and then a second time, which seems patterned after Mt 18:15–17. Cf Gal 6:1; Rm 16:17. Iren: "Such was the horror which the apostles and their disciples had against holding even verbal communication with any corrupters of the truth" (ANF 1:416). "Paul commands that godless teachers should be avoided and condemned as cursed" (Tr 41).

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:11 warped. Reflects distorted or possibly perverted doctrines of the false teachers. self-condemned. See notes, Ex 4:21; 9:12.

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:1–11 God brings us out of sin and into new life in Christ, beginning with the cleansing and rebirth He provides in Baptism. This is all accomplished by the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, not by anything we can do on our own. Those who stray away from God's truth and stir up division among God's people must be disciplined by the Church. We are committed and fervent in our beliefs, but we also check ourselves, our words, and our behavior against God's trustworthy Scripture. We pay attention to the guidance, counsel, and teaching of our pastor and elders. • O God, Your Word and Sacraments sustain, guide, and nurture me in the one true faith. Guard me against all error. Amen.

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:12 Artemas or Tychicus. Co-workers with Paul; only Tychicus is mentioned elsewhere in the NT (Ac 20:4; Eph 6:21; Col 4:7; 2Tm 4:12). Nicopolis. A city on the west coast of Greece. spend the winter. Ships provided the most expedient way to travel to destinations around the Mediterranean Sea, but storms stopped most marine traffic and impeded other forms of travel during the winter. See note, Ac 27:12.

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:13 Zenas … Apollos. More co-workers with Paul; only Apollos is mentioned elsewhere (Ac 18:24–19:1; 1Co 1:12; 3:4–22; 4:6; 16:12). They probably brought Paul's Letter to Titus. The Roman government had a postal system for official purposes; private letters were hand-carried by professional messengers or trusted friends. On Paul's letters, see pp 1899–1901. lack nothing. Titus and the churches on Crete should provide whatever these men needed for travel to their next destination; this was part of the hospitality mentioned in 1:8. See note, Rm 12:13.

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:14 devote themselves. See note, v 8.

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:15 All who are with me. Probably Artemas, Tychicus (v 12), and perhaps others, all of whom were co-workers and missionaries with Paul. See pp 2087–88. with you all. Suggests that Paul expected Titus to share the Letter with the churches on Crete.

TITUS—NOTE ON 3:12–15 Paul's closing remarks mention four co-workers who, with him, spread the Gospel and minister to churches in various locations. Paul and the others could not perform such ministries without the help of other Christians, so his closing includes instructions for their support. Whether or not we personally work in outreach ministry, we need to support others as they evangelize, teach, and minister in Christ's name. God, who redeemed us with the precious blood of Jesus and saw to it that we received His dear message, will give us opportunities to serve and support others. What a privilege to serve with our brothers and sisters in Christ in God's kingdom! • Entrust me, dear Lord, with the opportunity to tell another person of Your redeeming love. Amen.

Philemon

Philemon 1

- Introduction to Philemon
  - Overview
  - Reading Philemon
  - Luther on Philemon
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Greeting

1 [1]Paul, a prisoner for Christ Jesus, and Timothy our brother,

To Philemon our beloved fellow worker [2]and Apphia our sister and Archippus our fellow soldier, and the church in your house:

[3] Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Philemon’s Love and Faith

4 I thank my God always when I remember you in my prayers, 5because I hear of your love and of the faith that you have toward the Lord Jesus and for all the saints, 6and I pray that the sharing of your faith may become effective for the full knowledge of every good thing that is in us for the sake of Christ.[1] 7For I have derived much joy and comfort from your love, my brother, because the hearts of the saints have been refreshed through you.

Paul's Plea for Onesimus

8 Accordingly, though I am bold enough in Christ to command you to do what is required, 9 yet for love's sake I prefer to appeal to you—I, Paul, an old man and now a prisoner also for Christ Jesus— 10 I appeal to you for my child, Onesimus,[2] whose father I became in my imprisonment. 11 (Formerly he was useless to you, but now he is indeed useful to you and to me.) 12 I am sending him back to you, sending my very heart. 13 I would have been glad to keep him with me, in order that he might serve me on your behalf during my imprisonment for the gospel, 14 but I preferred to do nothing without your consent in order that your goodness might not be by compulsion but of your own accord. 15 For this perhaps is why he was parted from you for a while, that you might have him back forever, 16 no longer as a slave[1] but more than a slave, as a beloved brother—especially to me, but how much more to you, both in the flesh and in the Lord.

17 So if you consider me your partner, receive him as you would receive me. 18 If he has wronged you at all, or owes you anything, charge that to my account. 19 I, Paul, write this with my own hand: I will repay it—to say nothing of your owing me even your own self. 20 Yes, brother, I want some benefit from you in the Lord. Refresh my heart in Christ.

21 Confident of your obedience, I write to you, knowing that you will do even more than I say. 22 At the same time, prepare a guest room for me, for I am hoping that through your prayers I will be graciously given to you.

Final Greetings

[23] Epaphras, my fellow prisoner in Christ Jesus, sends greetings to you, [24]and so do Mark, Aristarchus, Demas, and Luke, my fellow workers.
[25] The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit.

Philemon

OVERVIEW

Author
Paul the apostle

Date
c AD 60

Places
Likely written at Rome

People
Paul; Timothy; Philemon; Apphia; Archippus; a house church; Onesimus; Epaphras; Mark; Aristarchus; Demas; Luke

Purpose
To reconcile Philemon to his runaway slave, Onesimus, who had become a Christian

Law Themes
Usefulness; imprisonment; service; debt; partnership

Gospel Themes
Comfort/refreshment; reconciliation; forgiveness

Memory Verses
Receive your brother (17–18)

Introduction to Philemon

Reading Philemon

With trembling hands, the dying master folds the papyrus and presents it to his chief slave. “Upon my death, this frees you, trusted friend, as well as your family and three others. Yet be diligent in your final duties.” The slave welcomes his master’s kindness but, on the way out of the house, he reaches for a whip. Not all the slaves would be set free and, for them, the master’s will commands punishment.

Roman slavery is confusing for us today because it was different from the types of slavery we know best. As you reflect on the circumstances of Paul’s Letter to Philemon, be sure to read the article on p 101, which gives further information on Roman slavery, and look up key terms on p 1901–4. Be prepared to rethink this important aspect of first-century culture and to consider closely what Bible passages about slavery teach about the Christian life.

Luther on Philemon

This epistle gives us a masterful and tender illustration of Christian love. For here we see how St. Paul takes the part of poor Onesimus and, to the best of his ability, advocates his cause with his master. He acts exactly as if he were himself Onesimus, who had done wrong.

Yet he does this not with force or compulsion, as lay within his rights; but he empties himself of his rights in order to compel Philemon also to waive his rights. What Christ has done for us with God the Father, that St. Paul does also for Onesimus with Philemon. For Christ emptied himself of his rights [Phil. 2:7] and overcame the Father with love and humility, so that the Father had to put away his wrath and rights, and receive us into favor for the sake of Christ, who so earnestly advocates our cause and so heartily takes our part. For we are all his Onesimus's if we believe. (AE 35:390)

For more of Luther's insights on this Book, see Lectures on Philemon (AE 29:91–105).

Challenges for Readers

Christianity and Slavery. See p 101.

Blessings for Readers

As you read Philemon, reflect on the roles of Law and Gospel in your relationships with church members and with colleagues. God calls us to extend His mercy toward every repentant heart and to build up one another in His love. The difficult circumstances for Philemon illustrate how God in Christ can transform our service and relationship to one another.

OUTLINE

I. Opening Salutation (vv 1–3)
II. Thanksgiving for Philemon's Faith and Love (vv 4–7)
III. Appeal to Philemon on Behalf of Onesimus (vv 8–20)
IV. Concluding Remarks and Greetings (vv 21–25)

Articles and Resources Related to Philemon

- Slavery
- New Testament Names for God
- The Lord Sustains Creation

Slavery

We shall attempt to set forth a more objective historical view of slavery in Greco-Roman times. We shall adopt this approach not to condone the oppression that has in fact been perpetrated upon disadvantaged segments of human society by "all master classes in all slave regimes," but because the evidence suggests that types of slavery existed in ancient times that were socially constructive as well as types that were destructive. An understanding of the more complex forms of slavery operative in ancient times will enable modern Christians to consider more accurately the kind of slavery that St. Paul himself would have encountered within the Christian assemblies of his day—within Philemon's house congregation, for example….

A slave in Roman times was regarded, in the culture and by secular law, as an animated tool, a piece of property (res), and so a being without any personhood whatsoever: "We compare slavery closely with death." That devaluation of human worth contrasts starkly with the biblical affirmations that God created men and women in his own image and demonstrated his enduring valuation of humanity by giving his one and only Son for the salvation of all….

The following twofold generalization [is] a helpful guide in the midst of all the variation and flux that did in fact characterize master-slave relations in antiquity:

1. On one hand, slaves who were lazy, disobedient, disrespectful or who otherwise did not live up to the master's trust (as evidenced in many of the Gospel parables cited above) usually had to endure stormy and unhappy relationships with their respective masters: perpetual humiliations, demotions, beatings and worse.
2. On the other hand, slaves who did their best for the master and his interests and were hardworking, honest, and resourceful, usually found themselves on the master's good side, appreciated his rewards, and could enjoy an astonishing degree of independence and autonomy—even as slaves….

Unlike slavery in the American experience, race had little or nothing to do with slavery in the first century A.D. … Instead, Romans harbored what can only be considered an irrational phobia against the barbari ("barbarians") of the north, that is, against the ancestors of modern French, German, and British people.

In the main, the relationship between masters and slaves in the NT and between Christians and persons of greater or lesser station in the world (as Luther articulated this in his doctrine of vocation) is essentially the same. Let one simple, yet telling, example suffice: substitute "employees" and "bosses" for [Gk douloi] ("slaves") and [Gk kurioi] ("masters"), respectively, and there remains still today—long after the legal abolishment of slavery in modern democratic societies—essentially the same relationship as obtained long ago in the congregational assemblies of the NT (Eph 6:5–7; cf Col 3:22–25).

John G. Nordling, Philemon, CC (St. Louis: Concordia, 2004), 43, 44, 59, 69–70, 138. See also "Slavery in the Bible," p 101.

New Testament Names for God

The New Testament includes a variety of names for the persons of the Holy Trinity. For a better understanding of names in Israelite culture, see pp 843, 1227. On the theology of God's name, see "for Your name's sake" and "call," p 842; see also note, Ps 54:1.

Abba. Aram "father" comparable with Eng "papa" or "dad." Expresses the deep, loving relationship Jesus had with the Father and which believers now share. See Father.

Christ. Gk christos, "Anointed One," who would deliver and rule God's people. See "Anointed," p 1227.

Christ Jesus. Used c 80 times in the NT, always by the apostle Paul. On its meaning, see Jesus Christ.

Father. Although this name for God was known and used in the OT (see "Father," p 1227), Jesus used it with greater frequency and intimacy. He taught His disciples to pray to God most personally by calling Him "Father" (Mt 6:9; Lk 11:2). The early Christians viewed the Church as a family. See p 2170.

firstborn. Gk prototokos; not simply the child born first but also a position of preeminence as the inheritor of the family's power and wealth. Signifies the preeminence of the exalted Lord Jesus and His relationship to the heavenly Father (see notes, Col 1:15, 18; see also "Firstborn," p 2040 and "heir," p 1902).

God. Gk theos. Used to describe the true God but also pagan deities.

Holy Spirit. See Spirit.

Jesus. From Hbr yehoshu'ah, "Yahweh is salvation." See note, Jsh 1:1. Eng spelling derives from the shorter Gk spelling of the name. An angel gave the name to Joseph (Mt 1:21) to use with Mary's firstborn Son, called "Jesus of Nazareth" because Jesus was a common name at the time (e.g., Ac 13:6).

Jesus Christ. Used c 140 times in the NT, this name/title functions as a confession: "Jesus is the Christ." For the significance of this confession, see Christ.

Jesus is Lord. An early Christian confession; a clear testimony to Jesus' divine nature (see Lord). See note, Php 2:9; see also p 1975.

Lord. Gk kyrios; used thousands of times in the LXX to translate God's personal name, Yahweh. "Lord" is sometimes used to refer to a master or person of authority (Mt 6:24; see note, Lk 5:5). However, by this title, the NT writers commonly describe Jesus as the one true God (see notes, 1Co 8:6; 12:3; Php 2:11). See also "LORD," p 1227.

Savior. Rooted in the OT. See Luther's comments, p 380; see also p 415.

Son of David. Messianic title, drawn from 2Sm 7:13–14.

Son of God. Used c 40 times in the NT. Emphasizes the fact that Jesus, a true man, is also eternally the true Son of God. See Father. See "Jesus as the Son of God," pp 1652–53; see also p 1815.

Son of Man. Favorite self-designation of Jesus, used c 80 times in the Gospels but almost never in the rest of the NT. Its meaning varies somewhat depending on the context. Indicates that though Jesus is fully man, He is much more. As a messianic title, it combines the ideas of a servant who will suffer and die for all people (Is 53; Mt 20:28) and the exalted Son of Man, whose reign is everlasting (Dn 7:13–14; Mt 24:30). See p 1080.

Spirit. Gk pneuma. Often means the Holy Spirit, the Third Person of the Trinity, but is also used for an angelic being or the nonphysical aspect of a human being. On the OT background of the term, see p 1227. On the NT person and work of the Holy Spirit, see pp 1815, 1876, 1920.

The New Testament also includes numerous descriptive titles for persons of the Trinity, such as "Lamb of God," which describes Jesus' sacrifice for the sins of the world. Lists of such titles will vary depending on the translation.

The Lord Sustains Creation

The apostle is teaching from the works of creation, preservation, and governing that one can search out and find God but cannot touch Him with hands. He adds this reason: "For He is not far from each one of us, for in Him we live and move and are." That is, God did not abandon His workmanship after creation in the way an architect leaves after building a house. Rather, He still preserves and governs what He first created and is perpetually present with His worskmanship. If you claim that the substantial nearness of God has been removed from that governing of all things, the logical sequence in the apostle's argument will not stand. Therefore though in the preservation and governing of all things God uses mediating causes, nevertheless those causes, in their being and acting, depend on God. Without His sustaining power, they would neither exist nor act but would fall into nothingness (Heb. 1:3). Therefore as God was immediately present with those things in creation, so also He is immediately present with them in their preservation because preservation is nothing else but the continuation of their existence. In this way God gives us natural life through our parents, spiritual life through ministers of the Word, yet the formation of a human in the womb (Job 10:8) and the regeneration of the same (1 Pet. 1:3) are attributed to Him. In fact, God does not work this through an addition to His essence but through His power, which is His very essence. Therefore He does not work in His creatures being absent, but being truly and essentially present.

Johann Gerhard, Theological Commonplaces, Exegesis 2, On the Nature of God (St. Louis: Concordia, 2009), § 178.

Footnotes for Philemon, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:6 Or for Christ's service
- [2] 1:10 Onesimus means useful (see verse 11) or beneficial (see verse 20)
- [1] 1:16 Greek bondservant; twice in this verse

Study Notes

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 1 prisoner for Christ Jesus. Paul was under house arrest in Rome when he wrote this Letter. Ac 21–28 describes events that put Paul in prison; clearly, his allegiance to the Gospel led to his arrest. Paul used the time awaiting trial as an opportunity to share the Gospel with people in Rome (Ac 28:30–31). Timothy our brother. Several other Christians (e.g., Silas, Barnabas) accompanied Paul at different times in his mission work, but in the latter years of his life Timothy became perhaps his closest colleague. Philemon. A Christian who lived in Colossae; he owned the slave Onesimus. fellow worker. Philemon supported the Church and its ministries by hosting a local congregation in his home (v 2) and probably in other ways as well. See note, Rm 16:3.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 2 Apphia our sister. A fellow sister in Christ; probably Philemon's wife, since she is addressed separately from the Church. Archippus our fellow soldier. Another colleague in the ministry; possibly Philemon's son. church in your house. NT churches often met in Christian homes (Ac 12:12; 1Co 16:19; Col 4:15). Christian churches today might meet in homes if they are new and small or located in countries where the Church is oppressed and forced underground.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 3 our Father. Paul is reminding Philemon of their common Savior and Judge.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 1–3 Paul begins with a short (compared to his other Letters) and yet personal greeting. His greeting begins and ends with Jesus Christ, the focus of Paul's life. Focus on Jesus should be present in our own friendships and greetings, both with other Christians and with those who do not yet know the Lord. We have opportunities to introduce people to our Lord and Savior. The Lord's grace and peace will strengthen our faith and equip us for all good service. • Lord, I thank You for my friends, and I pray for an opportunity to share Christ with those who have yet to meet You. Amen.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 4 my prayers. Paul set a powerful example in praying for his fellow Christians and the churches. His Letters usually open or close with mention of how he is praying for them. He often gives thanks for their faith and ministry and prays for their strength, spiritual growth, and Gospel witness, thereby setting an example for our prayers.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 5 The focus of faith is Jesus, and the focus of love is the saints; by structuring the sentence this way, Paul emphasizes how these concepts are inextricably linked. saints. See p 1904. Fellow Christians in the local church and in the ministry at large.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 6 sharing of your faith. We share our faith by bearing witness, sometimes by words and sometimes by deeds. Paul encourages Philemon to live out or witness to his faith by a special work of mercy. sharing. Gk koinonia, see p 1904. every good thing. Effective, living faith bears fruit in appreciating what is good and in good works. for the sake of Christ. God gives us good works to perform so that Christ may be glorified. See "for Your name's sake," p 842.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 7 Philemon's support for the Church and his fellow Christians must have encouraged them, and Paul was pleased to hear about it. Perhaps when Onesimus became a Christian, he had a new appreciation for Philemon's faith and had told Paul of his activities.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 4–7 Paul gives thanks for his friend Philemon's love and faith. Apparently, he has heard enough to know that this is real and not for show. We should consider what people see in our lives, and how it might affect them. God can make our life of faith into an effective witness to Christ's glory. Through the Gospel, He already works effectively in us. • O Lord, I pray that You would use me as Your witness so that I might refresh those around me. Amen.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 8 command. Paul is gently persuading Philemon to imitate God's love and grace by freeing the slave Onesimus. Paul had spiritual authority to direct Philemon to do this, but he would like Philemon to learn and live out the lesson rather than merely respond to a command. This may also explain why Paul did not mention his apostolic authority in opening the Letter (cf Ti 1:1).

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 9 old man. Paul may not have been all that old, but he was probably older than Philemon in years and certainly older in the faith. prisoner. Paul is not asking Philemon for any sacrifice as large as his own imprisonment.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 10 my child … father. Paul led Onesimus to faith in Christ, in effect becoming his spiritual father. Onesimus. One of Philemon's slaves, who had apparently run away, made his way to Rome, and fallen in with Paul. Paul did not mention Onesimus or how he might have wronged Philemon until after starting to build the case for a pardon based on God's grace.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 11 useless. Before Onesimus rebelled and ran away, he may have pilfered the house or been lazy. useful to you. A wordplay; Onesimus means "useful." Now that Onesimus is a Christian, Paul expects that he will be able to help with Christian ministry either with Philemon or with Paul.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 12 sending him back. If Philemon does not recognize the opportunity to show grace, Onesimus will go back into service as a slave. Regardless, it was wrong to run away, so returning to face punishment strengthens his credibility and witness as a Christian. my very heart. Paul loves Onesimus like a son (cf v 10).

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 13 on your behalf. Philemon could not be there to support Paul in Rome, but he could allow Onesimus to stay, which would support the ministry. imprisonment for the gospel. The third mention of Paul's imprisonment. Philemon should be horrified that the man who led him to faith (v 19) is under arrest because of the Gospel, and by extension he should realize the horror of keeping Onesimus, his new brother in Christ (v 16), in slavery. Paul does not command the elimination of all slavery, but is focused on a personal level. See p 101.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 14 compulsion. If Paul does not subject Philemon to compulsion, why should Philemon subject Onesimus to compulsion by keeping him in slavery? Again, Paul is guiding Philemon to do the right thing, but by choice rather than under duress. accord. Lit, "willingly." See note, Ex 35:29. Philemon needs to decide what to do now that Onesimus has returned, bearing this Letter. "Truly good works should be done willingly, or from a voluntary spirit, by those whom God's Son has made free" (FC SD IV 18).

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 15 Paul sees God's hand in Onesimus's coming to him to hear the Gospel and notes the eternal consequences ("you might have him back forever").

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 16 in the flesh and in the Lord. Onesimus was probably not related to Philemon in a human sense, but they are now brothers in Christ both in this life ("in the flesh") and in eternity ("in the Lord").

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 17 your partner. Paul puts his personal relationship with Philemon on the line in his plea for Onesimus, much as Jesus Christ intercedes for us with God the Father. Cf Php 1:5; see "fellowship," p 1902.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 18 Paul offers to make right anything Onesimus stole or damaged when he ran away. See note, v 11.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 19 with my own hand. Equivalent of signing the promise in v 18. See note, Gal 6:11. to say nothing of your owing me your own self. If Philemon is not yet persuaded, this should clinch the argument. He learned of God's grace through Paul's ministry.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 20 benefit. A call for action; Paul expects that Philemon's decision will be good for Onesimus, Philemon, and himself. Refresh. Philemon has been gracious to other Christians (v 7); his decision about Onesimus should continue that gracious behavior. If so, it will encourage and please Paul.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 21 obedience. Even though Paul has not commanded Philemon in what to do, he used careful, personal arguments to make clear what God would expect.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 22 guest room. Paul hopes for release from house arrest soon, and would like to stop for a visit. This adds urgency to Philemon's decision. given to you. Paul's visit would be a gift from God and a blessing for Philemon and the church that meets in his home.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 8–22 Paul makes a plea for the freedom of Onesimus and bases his case on grace, love, and friendship. By example, Paul intercedes for Onesimus, just as Jesus Christ intercedes for us. Jesus has called us friend; to whom should we extend friendship in His name? As our friend, His grace and love give us salvation and the hope of eternal life. • Lord, hear me as a dear friend and fellow servant to those in need. Make me a gift to them. Amen.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 23 Epaphras. A Christian from Colossae (Col 4:12), known to Philemon. fellow prisoner. Apparently, Epaphras was imprisoned with Paul.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 24 These Christians all supported or worked with Paul in evangelism, church planting, and teaching. Luke. The author of Acts and the Gospel of Luke; he sometimes traveled with Paul. See pp 1700–1703.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 25 with your spirit. Paul wanted Philemon to be completely at peace with what Paul said and taught and also with his decision regarding Onesimus.

PHILEMON—NOTE ON 23–25 Paul mentions five friends who serve with him or support him in the Gospel ministry. This is only part of the network of God's people, which includes Onesimus, Philemon, and now us. We should cherish this network of fellowship and support and not take it for granted. God has called us into His kingdom and made us part of His family, and He will help us and use us to help and encourage one another. • Lord, make me a useful servant. Thank You for my near and extended family in Christ. Amen.

HEBREWS THROUGH JUDE

The General Epistles

TO THE TWELVE TRIBES IN THE DISPERSION. (Jas 1:1)

To those who are elect exiles of the dispersion in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia. (1Pt 1:1)

To those who have obtained a faith of equal standing with ours by the righteousness of our God and Savior Jesus Christ. (2Pt 1:1)

To those who are called, beloved in God the Father and kept for Jesus Christ. (Jude 1)

In many ways, the eight General (or "Catholic" from Gk katholikos, "general") Epistles are like the thirteen Epistles of Paul in their outline and character (see pp 1899–1901). However, Paul tended to write his Letters for specific congregations. The General Epistles are usually written to broad groups of churches (see above) or do not begin with an address to one congregation or individual (e.g., Hebrews, 1 John, 2 John). They probably represent an adaptation of a Jewish tradition of writing "encyclicals," letters in which officials at Jerusalem instructed synagogues outside of Judea about matters of doctrine or practice (see pp 1899–1901; see also "Address," p 2015.)

The Collection of the General Epistles

The General Epistles have a different history from other books of the New Testament. The Pauline Epistles were brought together as a unit very early in the history of the Church, as Papyrus manuscript 46 shows (c AD 200; the Book of Hebrews was often grouped with the Pauline Epistles, see pp 2102–4). The Gospels, too, were brought together as a "Gospel Book," sometimes with Acts (e.g., Papyrus 45, third century AD). The General Epistles were also brought together—typically with Acts—but this collection formed much later (e.g., Gk ms E, sixth century AD; Papyrus 74, seventh century AD).

The collection of the General Epistles was probably a matter of convenience. Since the Gospels and the Pauline Epistles formed natural collections, the remaining books were also brought together over time. This collection of the General Epistles as a unit probably took longer because they came from a variety of authors. Also, in some regions, church leaders were not convinced about the authenticity of all the Letters.

Disputes over the General Epistles

Before studying the General Epistles, readers should gain some understanding of their history in the life of the Church. In the fourth century AD, when Eusebius wrote his Church History, he distinguished between "agreed-upon" writings (Gk homologoumena) and "spoken-against" writings (Gk antilegomena) in the General Epistles. Eusebius made this distinction based on whether or not a letter was universally received and used in the churches. Never disputed in the Early Church, 1 Peter and 1 John were received in the same way as the Pauline Epistles (see above; see also pp 1899–1901).

> Among the disputed writings, which are nevertheless recognized by many, are extant the so-called epistle of James and that of Jude, also the second epistle of Peter, and those that are called the second and > third of John, whether they belong to the evangelist or to another person of the same name. (NPNF 2 1:156)

Elsewhere, Eusebius pointed out that Hebrews and Revelation were disputed (NPNF 2 1:134, 156).

During the Reformation, Luther and others had the difficult task of reviewing all these matters and making decisions about what books would be published in new editions of the Bible. Regarding the General Epistles, Luther noted in his preface to Hebrews:

> Up to this point we have had [to do with] the true and certain chief books of the New Testament. The four which follow [Heb, Jas, Jude, Rv] have from ancient times had a different reputation…. We should not be deterred if wood, straw, or hay are perhaps mixed with [the works of the apostles; cf 1Co 3:12], but accept this fine teaching with all honor; though, to be sure, we cannot put [Hebrews] on the same level with the apostolic epistles. Who wrote [Hebrews] is not known, and will probably not be known for a while; it makes no difference. We should be satisfied with the doctrine that he bases so constantly on the Scriptures. For he discloses a firm grasp of the reading of the Scriptures and of the proper way of dealing with them. (AE 35:394–95)

Luther considered the books based on their history, their qualities as literature, and their use in the life of the Church. First, note that Luther accepted the Epistles of Peter and John without hesitation. Also note that Luther added some distinctions to those made by Eusebius. Luther distinguished between (1) writings that were clearly from apostles and represented apostolic doctrine (German apostolisch) and (2) writings that had disputed authorship and focused on the Law rather than on Christ (see pp 2130–32). (3) Finally, Luther emphasized the importance of doctrine based "constantly on the Scriptures" over against issues of authorship or literary style.

Based on his review of the General Epistles, Luther ordered the books differently than what we find in English Bibles. He placed the most disputable books last. Luther's order is still found in modern editions of the German Bible.

Vulgate and English Bibles: Hebrews
Erasmus's NT and Luther Bibles: 1 Peter
Vulgate and English Bibles: James
Erasmus's NT and Luther Bibles: 2 Peter
Vulgate and English Bibles: 1 Peter
Erasmus's NT and Luther Bibles: 1 John
Vulgate and English Bibles: 2 Peter
Erasmus's NT and Luther Bibles: 2 John
Vulgate and English Bibles: 1 John
Erasmus's NT and Luther Bibles: 3 John
Vulgate and English Bibles: 2 John
Erasmus's NT and Luther Bibles: Hebrews
Vulgate and English Bibles: 3 John Erasmus's NT and Luther Bibles: James Vulgate and English Bibles: Jude
Erasmus's NT and Luther Bibles: Jude
Vulgate and English Bibles: Revelation
Erasmus's NT and Luther Bibles: Revelation

With characteristic vigor, Luther pointed out what he believed were weaknesses in Hebrews, James, Jude, and Revelation. But with characteristic conservatism, Luther also kept them in the New Testament, cited them as authoritative, and preached from them. He held within himself a freedom to critique books of Scripture as literature, yet to honor them as God's Word. (See p 1646.) The Epistle that caused Luther the most trouble was James. On that history, see pp 2130–32. To learn more about how books were recognized as Holy Scripture, see pp 1559–61.

Studying the General Epistles

The history of the General Epistles should not overwhelm or trouble students of Holy Scripture. Read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest these Letters just as you would any other book of Scripture. The Lutheran Church has received them as books of the New Testament and as God's very Word.

However, learn also from the example of history—these books have confused some students of Scripture in the past. In Luther's day, James was the book that led to the most confusion. In our day, Revelation is hotly disputed and horribly misinterpreted. Disputed books should not be among the first books a Christian studies. Be certain that you have a clear understanding of the Gospels, Acts, the Pauline Epistles, 1 Peter, and 1 John before taking up any disputed books of the General Epistles. The great Lutheran theologian Johann Gerhard put it this way:

> For the sake of instruction, therefore, we can distinguish between canonical books of the New Testament of the first rank and of the second rank [primi et secundi ordinis]. Canonical books of the first rank are those about whose authors or authority there has never been any doubt in the Church but have always been considered canonical and divine by unanimous agreement. Such are the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John; the Acts of the Apostles; Paul's letter to the Romans, the two to the Corinthians, one to the Galatians, one to the Ephesians, one to the Philippians, one to the Colossians, two to the Thessalonians, two to Timothy, one to Titus, one to Philemon; 1 Peter; and 1 John. Canonical books of the second rank are those about whose authorship some in the Church had doubts at some time. Such are the Epistle to the Hebrews, the letters of James and Jude, 2 Peter, 2 and 3 John, and Revelation…. Augustine, De doctr. Christ., bk. 2, c. 8: "The catechumen will maintain this method concerning the canonical writings: that he will prefer those that all the churches accept to those that some do not accept." (Ger 1:228–29)

Hebrews

Hebrews 1 | Hebrews 2 | Hebrews 3 | Hebrews 4 | Hebrews 5 | Hebrews 6 | Hebrews 7 | Hebrews 8 | Hebrews 9 | Hebrews 10 | Hebrews 11 | Hebrews 12 | Hebrews 13

- Introduction to Hebrews
  - Overview
  - Reading Hebrews
  - Luther on Hebrews
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

The Supremacy of God's Son

1 [1]†Long ago, at many times and in many ways, God spoke to our fathers by the prophets, [2]†but in these last days he has spoken to us by his Son, whom he appointed the heir of all things, through whom also he created the world. [3]†He is the radiance of the glory of God and the exact imprint of his nature, and he upholds the universe by the word of his power.
After making purification for sins, he sat down at the right hand of the Majesty on high, [4]†having become as much superior to angels as the name he has inherited is more excellent than theirs.

[5]†For to which of the angels did God ever say,

"You are my Son,
today I have begotten you"?

Or again,

"I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a son"?

[6]†And again, when he brings the firstborn into the world, he says,

"Let all God's angels worship him."

[7]†Of the angels he says,

"He makes his angels winds, and his ministers a flame of fire."

[8]†But of the Son he says,

"Your throne, O God, is forever and ever, the scepter of uprightness is the scepter of your kingdom.
[9] You have loved righteousness and hated wickedness;

therefore God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of gladness beyond your companions.”

10 † And,

“You, Lord, laid the foundation of the earth in the beginning, and the heavens are the work of your hands;
11 they will perish, but you remain;
they will all wear out like a garment, 12 like a robe you will roll them up, like a garment they will be changed.[1]
But you are the same, and your years will have no end.”

13 And to which of the angels has he ever said,

“Sit at my right hand until I make your enemies a footstool for your feet”?

14 † Are they not all ministering spirits sent out to serve for the sake of those who are to inherit salvation?

Warning Against Neglecting Salvation

2 [1]‡†Therefore we must pay much closer attention to what we have heard, lest we drift away from it. [2]† For since the message declared by angels proved to be reliable, and every transgression or disobedience received a just retribution, [3]†how shall we escape if we neglect such a great salvation? It was declared at first by the Lord, and it was attested to us by those who heard, [4]†while God also bore witness by signs and wonders and various miracles and by gifts of the Holy Spirit distributed according to his will.

The Founder of Salvation

5 Now it was not to angels that God subjected the world to come, of which we are speaking. 6 It has been testified somewhere,

> "What is man, that you are mindful of him, > or the son of man, that you care for him?
> 7 You made him for a little while lower than the > angels;
> you have crowned him with glory and honor,[2] > 8 putting everything in subjection under his > feet."

Now in putting everything in subjection to him, he left nothing outside his control. At present, we do not yet see everything in subjection to him. 9 But we see him who for a little while was made lower than the angels, namely Jesus, crowned with glory and honor because of the suffering of death, so that by the grace of God he might taste death for everyone.

10 For it was fitting that he, for whom and by whom all things exist, in bringing many sons to glory, should make the founder of their salvation perfect through suffering. 11 For he who sanctifies and those who are sanctified all have one source.[1] That is why he is not ashamed to call them brothers,[2] 12 saying,

> "I will tell of your name to my brothers;
> in the midst of the congregation I will sing > your praise."

13 And again,

> "I will put my trust in him."

And again,

> "Behold, I and the children God has given me."

[14] † Since therefore the children share in flesh and blood, he himself likewise partook of the same things, that through death he might destroy the one who has the power of death, that is, the devil, [15] † and deliver all those who through fear of death were subject to lifelong slavery. [16] † For surely it is not angels that he helps, but he helps the offspring of Abraham. [17] † Therefore he had to be made like his brothers in every respect, so that he might become a merciful and faithful high priest in the service of God, to make propitiation for the sins of the people. [18] † For because he himself has suffered when tempted, he is able to help those who are being tempted.

Jesus Greater Than Moses

3 [1]†† Therefore, holy brothers,[3] you who share in a heavenly calling, consider Jesus, the apostle and high priest of our confession, [2]† who was faithful to him who appointed him, just as Moses also was faithful in all God's[1] house. [3]† For Jesus has been counted worthy of more glory than Moses—as much more glory as the builder of a house has more honor than the house itself. [4]† (For every house is built by someone, but the builder of all things is God.) [5]† Now Moses was faithful in all God's house as a servant, to testify to the things that were to be spoken later, [6]† but Christ is faithful over God's house as a son. And we are his house if indeed we hold fast our confidence and our boasting in our hope.[2]

A Rest for the People of God

7 †††† Therefore, as the Holy Spirit says,

"Today, if you hear his voice,
8 do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion,
on the day of testing in the wilderness, 9 where your fathers put me to the test and saw my works for forty years.
10 Therefore I was provoked with that generation,
and said, 'They always go astray in their heart;
they have not known my ways.'
11 † As I swore in my wrath,
'They shall not enter my rest.'"

12 † Take care, brothers, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God. 13 † But exhort one another every day, as long as it is called "today," that none of you may be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. 14 † For we have come to share in Christ, if indeed we hold our original confidence firm to the end. 15 † As it is said,

"Today, if you hear his voice,
do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion."

16 † For who were those who heard and yet rebelled? Was it not all those who left Egypt led by Moses? 17 And with whom was he provoked for forty years? Was it not with those who sinned, whose bodies fell in the wilderness? 18 And to whom did he swear that they would not enter his rest, but to those who were disobedient? 19 † So we see that they were unable to enter because of unbelief.

4 1 † Therefore, while the promise of entering his rest still stands, let us fear lest any of you should seem to have failed to reach it. 2 † For good news came to us just as to them, but the message they heard did not benefit them, because they were not united by faith with those who listened.[1] 3 †For we who have believed enter that rest, as he has said,

> “As I swore in my wrath,
> ‘They shall not enter my rest,’”

although his works were finished from the foundation of the world. 4 †For he has somewhere spoken of the seventh day in this way: “And God rested on the seventh day from all his works.” 5 †And again in this passage he said,

> “They shall not enter my rest.”

6 †Since therefore it remains for some to enter it, and those who formerly received the good news failed to enter because of disobedience, 7 †again he appoints a certain day, “Today,” saying through David so long afterward, in the words already quoted,

> “Today, if you hear his voice,
> do not harden your hearts.”

8 †For if Joshua had given them rest, God[2] would not have spoken of another day later on. 9 †So then, there remains a Sabbath rest for the people of God, 10 †for whoever has entered God’s rest has also rested from his works as God did from his.

11 †Let us therefore strive to enter that rest, so that no one may fall by the same sort of disobedience. 12 †For the word of God is living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing to the division of soul and of spirit, of joints and of marrow, and discerning the thoughts and intentions of the heart. 13 †And no creature is hidden from his sight, but all are naked and exposed to the eyes of him to whom we must give account.

Jesus the Great High Priest

14 ‡ † Since then we have a great high priest who has passed through the heavens, Jesus, the Son of God, let us hold fast our confession. 15 † For we do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but one who in every respect has been tempted as we are, yet without sin.
16 † Let us then with confidence draw near to the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy and find grace to help in time of need.

5 1 † For every high priest chosen from among men is appointed to act on behalf of men in relation to God, to offer gifts and sacrifices for sins.
2 † He can deal gently with the ignorant and wayward, since he himself is beset with weakness. 3 † Because of this he is obligated to offer sacrifice for his own sins just as he does for those of the people. 4 † And no one takes this honor for himself, but only when called by God, just as Aaron was.
5 † So also Christ did not exalt himself to be made a high priest, but was appointed by him who said to him,

> "You are my Son,
> today I have begotten you";

6 † as he says also in another place,

> "You are a priest forever,
> after the order of Melchizedek."

7 † In the days of his flesh, Jesus[1] offered up prayers and supplications, with loud cries and tears, to him who was able to save him from death, and he was heard because of his reverence. 8 † Although he was a son, he learned obedience through what he suffered. 9 † And being made perfect, he became the source of eternal salvation to all who obey him, 10 † being designated by God a high priest after the order of Melchizedek.

Warning Against Apostasy

11 About this we have much to say, and it is hard to explain, since you have become dull of hearing. 12 For though by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to teach you again the basic principles of the oracles of God. You need milk, not solid food, 13 for everyone who lives on milk is unskilled in the word of righteousness, since he is a child. 14 But solid food is for the mature, for those who have their powers of discernment trained by constant practice to distinguish good from evil.

6 1 Therefore let us leave the elementary doctrine of Christ and go on to maturity, not laying again a foundation of repentance from dead works and of faith toward God, 2 and of instruction about washings,[1] the laying on of hands, the resurrection of the dead, and eternal judgment. 3 And this we will do if God permits. 4 For it is impossible, in the case of those who have once been enlightened, who have tasted the heavenly gift, and have shared in the Holy Spirit, 5 and have tasted the goodness of the word of God and the powers of the age to come, 6 and then have fallen away, to restore them again to repentance, since they are crucifying once again the Son of God to their own harm and holding him up to contempt. 7 For land that has drunk the rain that often falls on it, and produces a crop useful to those for whose sake it is cultivated, receives a blessing from God. 8 But if it bears thorns and thistles, it is worthless and near to being cursed, and its end is to be burned.

9 Though we speak in this way, yet in your case, beloved, we feel sure of better things—things that belong to salvation. 10 For God is not unjust so as to overlook your work and the love that you have shown for his name in serving the saints, as you still do. 11 And we desire each one of you to show the same earnestness to have the full assurance of hope until the end, 12 so that you may not be sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

The Certainty of God’s Promise

13 ‡ † For when God made a promise to Abraham, since he had no one greater by whom to swear, he swore by himself, 14 † saying, “Surely I will bless you and multiply you.” 15 And thus Abraham,[1] having patiently waited, obtained the promise. 16 † For people swear by something greater than themselves, and in all their disputes an oath is final for confirmation.
17 † So when God desired to show more convincingly to the heirs of the promise the unchangeable character of his purpose, he guaranteed it with an oath, 18 † so that by two unchangeable things, in which it is impossible for God to lie, we who have fled for refuge might have strong encouragement to hold fast to the hope set before us. 19 † We have this as a sure and steadfast anchor of the soul, a hope that enters into the inner place behind the curtain, 20 † where Jesus has gone as a forerunner on our behalf, having become a high priest forever after the order of Melchizedek.

The Priestly Order of Melchizedek

7 [1]‡†For this Melchizedek, king of Salem, priest of the Most High God, met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings and blessed him, [2]†and to him Abraham apportioned a tenth part of everything. He is first, by translation of his name, king of righteousness, and then he is also king of Salem, that is, king of peace. [3]†He is without father or mother or genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but resembling the Son of God he continues a priest forever.

[4]†See how great this man was to whom Abraham the patriarch gave a tenth of the spoils! [5]‡And those descendants of Levi who receive the priestly office have a commandment in the law to take tithes from the people, that is, from their brothers,[1] though these also are descended from Abraham. [6]But this man who does not have his descent from them received tithes from Abraham and blessed him who had the promises. [7]†It is beyond dispute that the inferior is blessed by the superior. [8]†In the one case tithes are received by mortal men, but in the other case, by one of whom it is testified that he lives. [9]†One might even say that Levi himself, who receives tithes, paid tithes through Abraham, [10]for he was still in the loins of his ancestor when Melchizedek met him.

Jesus Compared to Melchizedek

11 ‡ † Now if perfection had been attainable through the Levitical priesthood (for under it the people received the law), what further need would there have been for another priest to arise after the order of Melchizedek, rather than one named after the order of Aaron? 12 †For when there is a change in the priesthood, there is necessarily a change in the law as well. 13For the one of whom these things are spoken belonged to another tribe, from which no one has ever served at the altar. 14 †For it is evident that our Lord was descended from Judah, and in connection with that tribe Moses said nothing about priests.

15This becomes even more evident when another priest arises in the likeness of Melchizedek, 16 †who has become a priest, not on the basis of a legal requirement concerning bodily descent, but by the power of an indestructible life. 17 †For it is witnessed of him,

> "You are a priest forever,
> after the order of Melchizedek."

18For on the one hand, a former commandment is set aside because of its weakness and uselessness 19 †(for the law made nothing perfect); but on the other hand, a better hope is introduced, through which we draw near to God.

20 † And it was not without an oath. For those who formerly became priests were made such without an oath, 21 †but this one was made a priest with an oath by the one who said to him:

> "The Lord has sworn > and will not change his mind,
> 'You are a priest forever.'"

22 †This makes Jesus the guarantor of a better covenant.

23The former priests were many in number, because they were prevented by death from continuing in office, 24 † but he holds his priesthood permanently, because he continues forever. 25 †Consequently, he is able to save to the uttermost[1] those who draw near to God through him, since he always lives to make intercession for them.

[26]‡†For it was indeed fitting that we should have such a high priest, holy, innocent, unstained, separated from sinners, and exalted above the heavens. [27]†He has no need, like those high priests, to offer sacrifices daily, first for his own sins and then for those of the people, since he did this once for all when he offered up himself. [28]†For the law appoints men in their weakness as high priests, but the word of the oath, which came later than the law, appoints a Son who has been made perfect forever.

Jesus, High Priest of a Better Covenant

8 [1]†Now the point in what we are saying is this: we have such a high priest, one who is seated at the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in heaven, [2]†a minister in the holy places, in the true tent[2] that the Lord set up, not man. [3]† For every high priest is appointed to offer gifts and sacrifices; thus it is necessary for this priest also to have something to offer. [4]†Now if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at all, since there are priests who offer gifts according to the law. [5]† They serve a copy and shadow of the heavenly things. For when Moses was about to erect the tent, he was instructed by God, saying, "See that you make everything according to the pattern that was shown you on the mountain." [6]†But as it is, Christ[3] has obtained a ministry that is as much more excellent than the old as the covenant he mediates is better, since it is enacted on better promises. [7]†For if that first covenant had been faultless, there would have been no occasion to look for a second.

[8]†For he finds fault with them when he says:[1]

"Behold, the days are coming, declares the Lord, when I will establish a new covenant with the house of Israel
and with the house of Judah, [9]† not like the covenant that I made with their fathers on the day when I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt.
For they did not continue in my covenant, and so I showed no concern for them, declares the Lord.
[10]† For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel
after those days, declares the Lord:
I will put my laws into their minds, and write them on their hearts,

and I will be their God,
and they shall be my people.
[11]† And they shall not teach, each one his neighbor and each one his brother, saying, ‘Know the Lord,’
for they shall all know me, from the least of them to the greatest.
[12]† For I will be merciful toward their iniquities, and I will remember their sins no more.”

[13]†In speaking of a new covenant, he makes the first one obsolete. And what is becoming obsolete and growing old is ready to vanish away.

The Earthly Holy Place

9 [1]‡†Now even the first covenant had regulations for worship and an earthly place of holiness. [2]†For a tent[2] was prepared, the first section, in which were the lampstand and the table and the bread of the Presence.[3] It is called the Holy Place. [3]†Behind the second curtain was a second section[4] called the Most Holy Place, [4]†having the golden altar of incense and the ark of the covenant covered on all sides with gold, in which was a golden urn holding the manna, and Aaron's staff that budded, and the tablets of the covenant. [5]†Above it were the cherubim of glory overshadowing the mercy seat. Of these things we cannot now speak in detail.

[6]These preparations having thus been made, the priests go regularly into the first section, performing their ritual duties, [7]†but into the second only the high priest goes, and he but once a year, and not without taking blood, which he offers for himself and for the unintentional sins of the people.
[8]†By this the Holy Spirit indicates that the way into the holy places is not yet opened as long as the first section is still standing [9]†(which is symbolic for the present age).[1] According to this arrangement, gifts and sacrifices are offered that cannot perfect the conscience of the worshiper, [10]†but deal only with food and drink and various washings, regulations for the body imposed until the time of reformation.

Redemption Through the Blood of Christ

11 ‡ † But when Christ appeared as a high priest of the good things that have come,[2] then through the greater and more perfect tent (not made with hands, that is, not of this creation) 12 † he entered once for all into the holy places, not by means of the blood of goats and calves but by means of his own blood, thus securing an eternal redemption. 13 † For if the blood of goats and bulls, and the sprinkling of defiled persons with the ashes of a heifer, sanctify[3] for the purification of the flesh, 14 † how much more will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without blemish to God, purify our[4] conscience from dead works to serve the living God.

15 † Therefore he is the mediator of a new covenant, so that those who are called may receive the promised eternal inheritance, since a death has occurred that redeems them from the transgressions committed under the first covenant.[5] 16 ‡ † For where a will is involved, the death of the one who made it must be established. 17 For a will takes effect only at death, since it is not in force as long as the one who made it is alive. 18 † Therefore not even the first covenant was inaugurated without blood. 19 For when every commandment of the law had been declared by Moses to all the people, he took the blood of calves and goats, with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself and all the people, 20 † saying, “This is the blood of the covenant that God commanded for you.” 21 † And in the same way he sprinkled with the blood both the tent and all the vessels used in worship. 22 † Indeed, under the law almost everything is purified with blood, and without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness of sins.

23 † Thus it was necessary for the copies of the heavenly things to be purified with these rites, but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these. 24 † For Christ has entered, not into holy places made with hands, which are copies of the true things, but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God on our behalf. 25 † Nor was it to offer himself repeatedly, as the high priest enters the holy places every year with blood not his own, 26 † for then he would have had to suffer repeatedly since the foundation of the world. But as it is, he has appeared once for all at the end of the ages to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself. 27 † And just as it is appointed for man to die once, and after that comes judgment, [28] † so Christ, having been offered once to bear the sins of many, will appear a second time, not to deal with sin but to save those who are eagerly waiting for him.

Christ's Sacrifice Once for All

10 [1]For since the law has but a shadow of the good things to come instead of the true form of these realities, it can never, by the same sacrifices that are continually offered every year, make perfect those who draw near. [2]Otherwise, would they not have ceased to be offered, since the worshipers, having once been cleansed, would no longer have any consciousness of sins? [3]But in these sacrifices there is a reminder of sins every year. [4]For it is impossible for the blood of bulls and goats to take away sins.

[5]Consequently, when Christ[1] came into the world, he said,

"Sacrifices and offerings you have not desired,
but a body have you prepared for me;
[6] in burnt offerings and sin offerings you have taken no pleasure.
[7] Then I said, 'Behold, I have come to do your will, O God,
as it is written of me in the scroll of the book.'"

[8]When he said above, "You have neither desired nor taken pleasure in sacrifices and offerings and burnt offerings and sin offerings" (these are offered according to the law), [9]then he added, "Behold, I have come to do your will." He does away with the first in order to establish the second.
[10]And by that will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

[11]And every priest stands daily at his service, offering repeatedly the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins. [12]But when Christ[1] had offered for all time a single sacrifice for sins, he sat down at the right hand of God, [13]waiting from that time until his enemies should be made a footstool for his feet. [14]For by a single offering he has perfected for all time those who are being sanctified.

[15]And the Holy Spirit also bears witness to us; for after saying,

[16] † “This is the covenant that I will make with them
after those days, declares the Lord:
I will put my laws on their hearts, and write them on their minds,”

[17] then he adds,

“I will remember their sins and their lawless deeds no more.”

[18] † Where there is forgiveness of these, there is no longer any offering for sin.

The Full Assurance of Faith

19 Therefore, brothers,[2] since we have confidence to enter the holy places by the blood of Jesus, 20 by the new and living way that he opened for us through the curtain, that is, through his flesh, 21 and since we have a great priest over the house of God, 22 let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith, with our hearts sprinkled clean from an evil conscience and our bodies washed with pure water. 23 Let us hold fast the confession of our hope without wavering, for he who promised is faithful.
24 And let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, 25 not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near.

26 For if we go on sinning deliberately after receiving the knowledge of the truth, there no longer remains a sacrifice for sins, 27 but a fearful expectation of judgment, and a fury of fire that will consume the adversaries. 28 Anyone who has set aside the law of Moses dies without mercy on the evidence of two or three witnesses. 29 How much worse punishment, do you think, will be deserved by the one who has spurned the Son of God, and has profaned the blood of the covenant by which he was sanctified, and has outraged the Spirit of grace? 30 For we know him who said, "Vengeance is mine; I will repay." And again, "The Lord will judge his people." 31 It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32 But recall the former days when, after you were enlightened, you endured a hard struggle with sufferings, 33 sometimes being publicly exposed to reproach and affliction, and sometimes being partners with those so treated. 34 For you had compassion on those in prison, and you joyfully accepted the plundering of your property, since you knew that you yourselves had a better possession and an abiding one. 35 Therefore do not throw away your confidence, which has a great reward. 36 For you have need of endurance, so that when you have done the will of God you may receive what is promised. 37 For,

> "Yet a little while,
> and the coming one will come and will not delay;

[38]† but my righteous one shall live by faith,
and if he shrinks back,
my soul has no pleasure in him.”

[39]But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls.

By Faith

11 [1]†Now faith is the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen. [2]†For by it the people of old received their commendation.
[3]†By faith we understand that the universe was created by the word of God, so that what is seen was not made out of things that are visible.

[4]†By faith Abel offered to God a more acceptable sacrifice than Cain, through which he was commended as righteous, God commending him by accepting his gifts. And through his faith, though he died, he still speaks.
[5]†By faith Enoch was taken up so that he should not see death, and he was not found, because God had taken him. Now before he was taken he was commended as having pleased God. [6]†And without faith it is impossible to please him, for whoever would draw near to God must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who seek him. [7]†By faith Noah, being warned by God concerning events as yet unseen, in reverent fear constructed an ark for the saving of his household. By this he condemned the world and became an heir of the righteousness that comes by faith.

[8]By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place that he was to receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going. [9]By faith he went to live in the land of promise, as in a foreign land, living in tents with Isaac and Jacob, heirs with him of the same promise. [10]†For he was looking forward to the city that has foundations, whose designer and builder is God. [11]† By faith Sarah herself received power to conceive, even when she was past the age, since she considered him faithful who had promised. [12]Therefore from one man, and him as good as dead, were born descendants as many as the stars of heaven and as many as the innumerable grains of sand by the seashore.

[13]†These all died in faith, not having received the things promised, but having seen them and greeted them from afar, and having acknowledged that they were strangers and exiles on the earth. [14]†For people who speak thus make it clear that they are seeking a homeland. [15]If they had been thinking of that land from which they had gone out, they would have had opportunity to return. [16]But as it is, they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly one. Therefore God is not ashamed to be called their God, for he has prepared for them a city.

17By faith Abraham, when he was tested, offered up Isaac, and he who had received the promises was in the act of offering up his only son, 18†of whom it was said, “Through Isaac shall your offspring be named.” 19†He considered that God was able even to raise him from the dead, from which, figuratively speaking, he did receive him back. 20By faith Isaac invoked future blessings on Jacob and Esau. 21By faith Jacob, when dying, blessed each of the sons of Joseph, bowing in worship over the head of his staff. 22By faith Joseph, at the end of his life, made mention of the exodus of the Israelites and gave directions concerning his bones.

23†By faith Moses, when he was born, was hidden for three months by his parents, because they saw that the child was beautiful, and they were not afraid of the king’s edict. 24By faith Moses, when he was grown up, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh’s daughter, 25choosing rather to be mistreated with the people of God than to enjoy the fleeting pleasures of sin. 26 † He considered the reproach of Christ greater wealth than the treasures of Egypt, for he was looking to the reward. 27†By faith he left Egypt, not being afraid of the anger of the king, for he endured as seeing him who is invisible. 28†By faith he kept the Passover and sprinkled the blood, so that the Destroyer of the firstborn might not touch them.

29By faith the people crossed the Red Sea as on dry land, but the Egyptians, when they attempted to do the same, were drowned. 30By faith the walls of Jericho fell down after they had been encircled for seven days. 31 † By faith Rahab the prostitute did not perish with those who were disobedient, because she had given a friendly welcome to the spies.

32†And what more shall I say? For time would fail me to tell of Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah, of David and Samuel and the prophets— 33who through faith conquered kingdoms, enforced justice, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, 34quenched the power of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, were made strong out of weakness, became mighty in war, put foreign armies to flight. 35†Women received back their dead by resurrection. Some were tortured, refusing to accept release, so that they might rise again to a better life. 36Others suffered mocking and flogging, and even chains and imprisonment. 37†They were stoned, they were sawn in two,[1] they were killed with the sword. They went about in skins of sheep and goats, destitute, afflicted, mistreated— [38]† of whom the world was not worthy— wandering about in deserts and mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth.

[39]† And all these, though commended through their faith, did not receive what was promised, [40]since God had provided something better for us, that apart from us they should not be made perfect.

Jesus, Founder and Perfecter of Our Faith

12 [1] †† Therefore, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us also lay aside every weight, and sin which clings so closely, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, [2] † looking to Jesus, the founder and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is seated at the right hand of the throne of God.

Do Not Grow Weary

3 ‡ † Consider him who endured from sinners such hostility against himself, so that you may not grow weary or fainthearted. 4†In your struggle against sin you have not yet resisted to the point of shedding your blood.
5‡And have you forgotten the exhortation that addresses you as sons?

> "My son, do not regard lightly the discipline of > the Lord,
> nor be weary when reproved by him.
> 6 For the Lord disciplines the one he loves, > and chastises every son whom he receives."

7†It is for discipline that you have to endure. God is treating you as sons.
For what son is there whom his father does not discipline? 8†If you are left without discipline, in which all have participated, then you are illegitimate children and not sons. 9† Besides this, we have had earthly fathers who disciplined us and we respected them. Shall we not much more be subject to the Father of spirits and live? 10†For they disciplined us for a short time as it seemed best to them, but he disciplines us for our good, that we may share his holiness. 11† For the moment all discipline seems painful rather than pleasant, but later it yields the peaceful fruit of righteousness to those who have been trained by it.

12Therefore lift your drooping hands and strengthen your weak knees, 13†and make straight paths for your feet, so that what is lame may not be put out of joint but rather be healed. 14†Strive for peace with everyone, and for the holiness without which no one will see the Lord. 15†See to it that no one fails to obtain the grace of God; that no "root of bitterness" springs up and causes trouble, and by it many become defiled; 16†that no one is sexually immoral or unholy like Esau, who sold his birthright for a single meal.
17†For you know that afterward, when he desired to inherit the blessing, he was rejected, for he found no chance to repent, though he sought it with tears.

A Kingdom That Cannot Be Shaken

18 For you have not come to what may be touched, a blazing fire and darkness and gloom and a tempest 19 and the sound of a trumpet and a voice whose words made the hearers beg that no further messages be spoken to them. 20 For they could not endure the order that was given, “If even a beast touches the mountain, it shall be stoned.” 21 Indeed, so terrifying was the sight that Moses said, “I tremble with fear.” 22 But you have come to Mount Zion and to the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to innumerable angels in festal gathering, 23 and to the assembly[1] of the firstborn who are enrolled in heaven, and to God, the judge of all, and to the spirits of the righteous made perfect, 24 and to Jesus, the mediator of a new covenant, and to the sprinkled blood that speaks a better word than the blood of Abel.

25 See that you do not refuse him who is speaking. For if they did not escape when they refused him who warned them on earth, much less will we escape if we reject him who warns from heaven. 26 At that time his voice shook the earth, but now he has promised, “Yet once more I will shake not only the earth but also the heavens.” 27 This phrase, “Yet once more,” indicates the removal of things that are shaken—that is, things that have been made—in order that the things that cannot be shaken may remain. 28 Therefore let us be grateful for receiving a kingdom that cannot be shaken, and thus let us offer to God acceptable worship, with reverence and awe, 29 for our God is a consuming fire.

Sacrifices Pleasing to God

13 [1] †Let brotherly love continue. [2] †Do not neglect to show hospitality to strangers, for thereby some have entertained angels unawares.
[3] †Remember those who are in prison, as though in prison with them, and those who are mistreated, since you also are in the body. [4] †Let marriage be held in honor among all, and let the marriage bed be undefiled, for God will judge the sexually immoral and adulterous. [5] Keep your life free from love of money, and be content with what you have, for he has said, "I will never leave you nor forsake you." [6] So we can confidently say,

> "The Lord is my helper;
> I will not fear;
> what can man do to me?"

[7] †Remember your leaders, those who spoke to you the word of God.
Consider the outcome of their way of life, and imitate their faith. [8] †Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and forever. [9] †Do not be led away by diverse and strange teachings, for it is good for the heart to be strengthened by grace, not by foods, which have not benefited those devoted to them.
[10] †We have an altar from which those who serve the tent have no right to eat. [11] For the bodies of those animals whose blood is brought into the holy places by the high priest as a sacrifice for sin are burned outside the camp.
[12] So Jesus also suffered outside the gate in order to sanctify the people through his own blood. [13] †Therefore let us go to him outside the camp and bear the reproach he endured. [14] †For here we have no lasting city, but we seek the city that is to come. [15] ††Through him then let us continually offer up a sacrifice of praise to God, that is, the fruit of lips that acknowledge his name. [16] †Do not neglect to do good and to share what you have, for such sacrifices are pleasing to God.

[17] †Obey your leaders and submit to them, for they are keeping watch over your souls, as those who will have to give an account. Let them do this with joy and not with groaning, for that would be of no advantage to you.

[18]Pray for us, for we are sure that we have a clear conscience, desiring to act honorably in all things. [19]†I urge you the more earnestly to do this in order that I may be restored to you the sooner.

Benediction

20 ✝✝✝Now may the God of peace who brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, the great shepherd of the sheep, by the blood of the eternal covenant, 21 ✝equip you with everything good that you may do his will, working in us[1] that which is pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory forever and ever. Amen.

Final Greetings

22 †††I appeal to you, brothers,[1] bear with my word of exhortation, for I have written to you briefly. 23 †You should know that our brother Timothy has been released, with whom I shall see you if he comes soon. 24 †Greet all your leaders and all the saints. Those who come from Italy send you greetings. 25 †Grace be with all of you.

Hebrews

OVERVIEW

Author
Unknown; see "Anonymous" below

Date
Before AD 70

Places
The temple; Jerusalem (Salem); Italy

People
"Us" (writer and colleagues); brothers; leaders; martyrs; high priests; "those who serve the tent"; travelers from Italy; Timothy; numerous biblical figures

Purpose
To exhort the brothers, washed with pure water and partaking of the altar, that Christ is their High Priest and all-sufficient sacrifice for sin

Law Themes
Retribution for disobedience; slavery to death and the devil; an unbelieving heart; rebellion; obligation to sacrifice; repentance from dead works; crucifying Jesus again; the living God's vengeance; struggle against sin; discipline; obedience to leaders

Gospel Themes
God spoke through Jesus; purification for sins; inheriting salvation; our High Priest and Mediator; sanctification; God's promises; Melchizedek; sprinkled and washed; assurance of faith; the founder and perfecter of our faith; the great Shepherd

Memory Verses

God spoke through His Son (1:1–4); God's living Word (4:12–13); Christ's blood purifies us (9:13–14); faith defined (11:1–3); run with endurance (12:1–2)

Introduction to Hebrews

Reading Hebrews

Frost glistens in the light as it melts from the backs of wooly lambs, gleaming and shimmering and dripping as the animals doze. The lambs rise to stretch. They shiver, steam wafting from their warm legs and bellies. They look up expectantly toward a man standing near their gate. He leans on the edge of the pen and looks the herd over carefully, wondering which lambs to feed and which to choose for the morning sacrifice. It is a great and festive day—most holy. And yet, tomorrow he will have to choose again, and so the next day, and the next.

The writer to the Hebrews describes the glories of the old covenant but also reminds his readers of how it is surpassed by the glories of the new covenant. The annual cycle of sacrifice reached its consummation in one most holy offering—the blood of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of all our sins. Jesus now stands as our High Priest, watching over the sheepfold of all who look to Him, the founder and perfecter of our faith.

Luther on Hebrews

In Luther's preface to Hebrews, cited below, he reflects some of the historic concerns raised about the Book, which was not at first universally received as an apostolic Letter or as a Book of Holy Scripture (see "Anonymous" below). Though Luther notes the Book's "hard knots" and "straw" weaknesses (see notes on 6:4–6; 10:26–27; 12:17), he elsewhere cites Hebrews as authoritative teaching (e.g., AE 2:393; 4:405–9; 35:247; 37:293). He sees the Holy Spirit bearing witness through the Book (AE 2:387; 20:292) and refers to it as "Holy Scripture" (AE 41:19; see also SC, Table of Duties, pp xlii–xliv, and AE 2:294). The Lutheran Confessions cite Hebrews as God's Word alongside other texts of Holy Scripture (e.g., FC Ep I 5). For more about the Book's canonicity, see pp 2099–2101.

> The author of the Epistle to the Hebrews—whoever he is, whether Paul or, as I think, Apollos—quotes [the Old Testament] most learnedly. (AE 8:178)
>
> If you would interpret [the Books of Moses] well and confidently, set Christ before you, for he is the man to whom it all applies, every bit of it. Make the high priest Aaron, then, to be nobody but Christ alone, as does the Epistle to the Hebrews [5:4–5], which is sufficient, all by itself, to interpret all the figures of Moses. Likewise, as the same epistle announces [Hebrews 9–10], it is certain that Christ himself is the sacrifice—indeed even the altar [Heb. 13:10]—who sacrificed himself with his own blood. Now whereas the sacrifice performed by the Levitical high priest took away only the artificial sins, which in their nature were not sins, so our high priest, Christ, by his own sacrifice and blood, has taken away the true sin, that which in its very nature is sin. He has gone in once for all through the curtain to God to make atonement for us [Heb. 9:12]. Thus you should apply to Christ personally, and to no one else, all that is written about the high priest. (AE 35:247–48)
>
> Up to this point we have had [to do with] the true and certain chief books of the New Testament. The four which follow have from ancient times had a different reputation. In the first place, the fact that Hebrews is not an epistle of St. Paul, or of any other apostle, is proved by what it says in chapter 2[:3], that through those who had themselves heard it from the Lord this doctrine has come to us and remained among us. It is thereby made clear that he is speaking about the apostles, as a disciple to whom this doctrine has come from the apostles, perhaps long after them. For St. Paul, in Galatians 1[:1], testifies powerfully that he has his gospel from no man, neither through men, but from God himself.

Again, there is a hard knot in the fact that in chapters 6[:4–6] and 10[:26–27] it flatly denies and forbids to sinners any repentance after baptism; and in chapter 12[:17] it says that Esau sought repentance and did not find it. This [seems, as it stands, to be] contrary to all the gospels and to St. Paul's epistles; and although one might venture an interpretation of it, the words are so clear that I do not know whether that would be sufficient. My opinion is that this is an epistle put together of many pieces, which does not deal systematically with any one subject.

However that may be, it is still a marvelously fine epistle. It discusses Christ's priesthood masterfully and profoundly on the basis of the Scriptures and extensively interprets the Old Testament in a fine way. Thus it is plain that this is the work of an able and learned man; as a disciple of the apostles he had learned much from them and was greatly experienced in faith and practiced in the Scriptures. And although, as he himself testifies in chapter 6[:1], he does not lay the foundation of faith—that is the work of the apostles—nevertheless he does build well on it with gold, silver, precious stones, as St. Paul says in I Corinthians 3[:12]. Therefore we should not be deterred if wood, straw, or hay are perhaps mixed with them, but accept this fine teaching with all honor; though, to be sure, we cannot put it on the same level with the apostolic epistles.

Who wrote it is not known, and will probably not be known for a while; it makes no difference. We should be satisfied with the doctrine that he bases so constantly on the Scriptures. For he discloses a firm grasp of the reading of the Scriptures and of the proper way of dealing with them. (AE 35:394–95)

For more of Luther's insights on this Book, see Lectures on Hebrews (AE 29:107–241).

Challenges for Readers

Anonymous. The Epistle to the Hebrews is actually a sermon ("word of exhortation"; 13:22) with a brief letter attached (13:20–25). The writing describes the temple sacrifices as though they were still in use (cf 9:6–10) and describes a persecution, which may be Emperor Nero's persecution of Christians at Rome (cf ch 12; 13:24). The sermon-writer's name was not provided, nor was his name recorded by early Christian historians. Despite this, churches of the Eastern Roman Empire (Greek- and Syriac-speaking) have always welcomed the Book as part of the NT. However, the anonymity of the sermon and some challenging content (see examples from Luther above) limited its approval for public reading in churches of the Western Roman Empire. Yet, Hebrews was highly regarded (cited by Clement, bishop of Rome, c AD 96), and by the fourth century, it became part of the Western canon of Scripture (see pp 2099–2101). The apostolic content of the sermon is attested in 2:3. Over the centuries, many different authors have been proposed (e.g., Paul, Luke, Barnabas, Apollos), but none of these proposals are fully convincing. The earliest known copy containing much of the Pauline Epistles, Papyrus 46 (c AD 200), includes Hebrews just after Romans, attesting to the value of the Book and bearing witness to the early tradition that Paul might be its author. Modern interest in feminism has encouraged some commentators to propose that the sermon was written by Priscilla/Prisca, a learned woman described in Ac 18; 1Co 16:19; 2Tm 4:19. However, the writer of Hebrews clearly refers to himself as a man (e.g., the participle for "tell" in 11:32 is masculine). The authorship of the Letter remains a mystery.

Rhetoric and Doctrine. The writer of Hebrews, or his scribe, had an excellent education in classical oratory. Recent study of Hebrews has demonstrated that it is written in high Greek style, which distinguishes it from Paul's more common Greek style. The writer's doctrine depends on the apostles (2:3) and has important connections to Paul's use of the OT (cf 10:38; Rm 1:17; Gal 3:11) and John's theology of the Word (cf Jn 1:1–2; 10:30; 14:11; Heb 1:3; 7:3; 13:8). But the writer includes many unique insights and shows an interest in the priesthood that is not found in other apostolic writers.

Use of the Old Testament. See pp xlv–xlvii.

Sabbath Rest. Hebrews wonderfully explains how the OT Sabbath (Saturday) foreshadowed the rest and peace of Christian faith and of heaven. In contrast with modern Adventists, who scare people with warnings that God will judge them for worshiping on Sunday rather than Saturday, Hebrews properly focuses on receiving the benefits of God's Word based on repentance and faith, not on observance of a calendar. See notes, 10:1; Col 2:16–17; see also pp 200–201, 1764.

Christ's Death and Atonement. Hebrews argues forcefully that the crucifixion of Jesus is the one and only sacrifice for sins, which is not repeated or honored by further sacrifices. His death was a necessary payment and ransom for the sins of all people (cf ch 9). Christ is our sympathetic High Priest and one Mediator for salvation.

Melchizedek. Following the example of Ps 110:4, the writer of Hebrews provides an extensive comparison between this ancient priest of Salem (Jerusalem) and Jesus. The Dead Sea Scrolls and other early Jewish literature show a similar interest in the priesthood of Melchizedek, who was viewed as the first to establish priestly services at or near the site where the temple was built (Jos, War 6:438). Using Melchizedek as an illustration is one reason why the audience for Hebrews is considered to be a Jewish-Christian congregation. For the history of Melchizedek, cf Gn 14.

Martyrs and Saints. Ch 11 provides an early example of a martyr list, a composition that was popular during the Time between the Testaments (cf Wisd of Sol 10; Ecclus 44–50; 1Macc 2:51–60) and eventually led to the martyr and saint calendars beloved by early Christians. Remembering the martyrs and saints has three blessings for God's people: (1) their stories lead us to praise and thank God; (2) their examples strengthen our faith in God's mercy for us; and (3) with God's help, we may imitate their faith and virtues (Ap XXI 4–7). Believers who have gone to heaven may intercede for God's Church and pray against her enemies (cf Zec 1:12; Rv 6:9–10), as do the angels. However, God never teaches His people to worship or pray to angels or saints, for such devotion belongs to God alone (cf Ac 10:25–26; 14:8–15; Rv 19:10; 22:8–9; see Ap XXI 8–9).

Christian Discipline. Success and prosperity are popular themes for many preachers and writers today. However, their message often contradicts the Holy Scriptures. The writer of Hebrews, like Job, demonstrates that suffering is not necessarily proof of God's wrath; prosperity is not necessarily proof of His favor (Heb 12; see pp 779–82, 837). God often works through suffering for the good of His people.

Blessings for Readers

In the Letter to the Hebrews, you will learn how to appreciate the OT most deeply and apply it to your life. As you read Hebrews, reflect on the great changes Jesus brought about when He fulfilled the laws and the promises of the old covenant. Take note of how all of Holy Scripture bears witness to this great work (see pp xlv–xlvii), which Jesus accomplished on the cross for your salvation. Because He stands now in heaven, interceding for you, pray for God's help and blessings with all boldness.

OUTLINE

I. Introduction/Theme: Christ Is the True and Final Revelation of God (1:1–3)
II. Jesus' Superiority (1:4–10:18)
  A. Over the Angels (1:4–2:18)
  B. Over Moses (3:1–4:13)
  C. Superiority of Jesus' Priesthood: Jesus, the New Melchizedek (4:14–7:28)
  D. Superiority of Jesus' Sacrifice (8:1–10:18)
III. Exhortation to Faithfulness (10:19–12:29)
  A. Invitation to Faithfulness (10:19–39)
  B. OT Examples of Faith: Following in the Faith of Our Fathers (ch 11)
  C. Jesus as the Ultimate Example of Faithfulness (12:1–13)
  D. Warning against Disobedience, Using OT Examples (12:14–29)
IV. Final Exhortations (13:1–19)
V. Blessings and Greetings (13:20–25)

Articles and Resources Related to Hebrews

- A Blood Covering
- A Pure Conscience
- God Blessed Marriage
- The Faith of Noah

- A Tale of Two Mountains

A Blood Covering

Before the fall into sin, God brought the animals to Adam to see what he would call them. Adam personally named each creature he met (Gn 2:19–20). He was naked and not ashamed. After the fall, God made garments of skin and clothed Adam and Eve (Gn 3:21). These skins were stripped from some poor creatures because Adam and Eve's newfound shame required a covering. These skins harshly reminded the first human beings of the result of sin, namely, death (Gn 2:17). Shortly thereafter, the offering of animals to God appeared when "Abel also brought of the firstborn of his flock and of their fat portions. And the LORD had regard for Abel and his offering" (Gn 4:4).

Later, when God rescued His chosen people from Egypt, He provided them a blood covering for their sin through a complex sacrificial system. The meaning of the sacrifice was not found in the animal's death alone. Instead, the animal's life was offered as an atonement before God through the blood. As the Lord explained to Moses, "The life of the flesh is in the blood, and I have given it for you on the altar to make atonement for your souls" (Lv 17:11).

In perfect justice, atonement for sin demands a blood covering. The animal's blood was a substitute for the life of the person. The blood was carefully separated from the animal's flesh, collected, and used in accordance with God's command as a blood covering for the people's sins. (See pp 170–71.)

Hebrews shows that the animal sacrifices foreshadowed the sacrifice of the perfect High Priest, Jesus Christ, who would not offer the blood of animals. Instead, Jesus offered His own precious blood and carried it into the heavenly Most Holy Place as a blood covering for all our sin (Heb 9:11–12).

Many Old Testament Sacrifices

During the ordination of the Old Testament priests, the blood of sacrificial animals was sprinkled on them to cover their sin and set them apart for service before the Lord in His tabernacle (Ex 29:21). The priests collected the blood from sacrificial animals and applied it daily to the tabernacle altar. Without this blood rite, nothing could be burned on the altar, no one could eat in God's presence, no priest could enter the Holy Place, and no blessing could be pronounced upon the people. In this daily blood rite, the life of the animal was a substitute for the life of the people.

Also, once a year, on the Day of Atonement, the high priest entered the Most Holy Place and approached the ark of the covenant, where God in His love dwelt with His people (Heb 9:7; see p 495). The high priest had to bathe before entering the Most Holy Place to avoid certain death. He applied some of the sacrificial animal's blood to the mercy seat. Then he retreated from God's presence and brought the remaining blood out of the Most Holy Place and applied the most holy blood to the altar's horns as a blood covering (atonement) for the people's rebellion (Lv 16:1–16).

The One New Testament Sacrifice

All of the Old Testament sacrifices pointed to the one all-sufficient sacrifice of Jesus Christ, the Lamb of God and High Priest. As true God and true man with ordinary human blood and flesh, Jesus lived a perfect life under the Law and then died the death we deserve. Shedding His own blood on the cross, He offered His life in exchange for the life of the world. His blood is the required blood covering for the world's sins. Just as the high priest took the animal's blood into God's presence in the Most Holy Place and brought the most holy blood out to cleanse the altar, so Jesus offered His own blood, rose from the dead, ascended to heaven, and entered into the heavenly sanctuary with His blood and flesh to be with His Father (Heb 9:11–12).

Now, in Holy Baptism, Jesus sprinkles us with His most holy blood, blood that has been taken into the presence of the Father (Ex 24:8; Heb 9:14, 19–22; 10:22). He sprinkles us on the outside to cleanse us and pardon our sin, and to set us apart as His holy people (Ezk 36:25–27) to serve God as a royal priesthood in our callings (vocations) of parent, child, sibling, citizen, teacher, student. But in the Lord's Supper, He sprinkles us (Heb 9:16–22) internally to set us apart to serve in the heavenly sanctuary with angels, archangels, and all the company of heaven, praising God for our Blood Covering—the Lamb who was slain for us.

A Pure Conscience

Through faith [the conscience] is at the same time purified and made calm, so that out of joy over the remission of sins it no longer dreads punishments. Accordingly, to this purity no law, no works, and nothing at all except this blood of Christ alone can contribute; nor indeed can the blood itself do this unless the heart of man believes that this blood has been shed for the remission of sins. For one must believe Him who makes the covenant when He says (Matt. 26:28; Luke 22:20): "This is the blood which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins." Secondly, by "dead works" he undoubtedly means sins; for he surely calls those works dead which pollute the conscience and from which it is cleansed through the blood of Christ. But nothing except sin pollutes the conscience. From this exceedingly weighty statement it evidently follows that even good works done outside grace are sins, so much so that they can also be called dead. For if the conscience is mortally unclean without the blood of Christ, it can do only what it itself is, that is, what is unclean, as the apostle also teaches in Titus 1:15: "To the unclean nothing is clean." (AE 29: 209)

God Blessed Marriage

1. What is marriage?

The institution of marriage, established by God at creation and publicly and voluntarily entered into, is the lifelong union of one man and one woman. Cf Gn 1:27–28; 2:18–25; Mt 19:3–9; Rm 7:2; 1Co 7:9, 39.

2. Who regulates marriage: Church or State?

In the beginning, God created the spiritual order and the temporal order (Church and State). God rules the spiritual and temporal orders, but in different ways. The spiritual order has to do with the proclamation of the Word of God and the administration of the Holy Sacraments (Baptism and the Lord's Supper). The regulation of marriage properly belongs to the temporal order, which is still ruled by God, but through legitimate civil authority. Therefore, society, through custom or legislation, has the ability to pronounce when a marriage is lawfully constituted. The definition of marriage belongs to God, who instituted it. If the society or the government changes the definition of marriage so that it conflicts with God's definition, then the Church, through its called representatives, will need to decline invitations to marry such couples (cf Ac 5:29).

3. What is the purpose of marriage?

Marriage has five God-given purposes:

1. To establish a household of faith. Cf Eph 4:32.
2. To provide a way for a man and a woman to love each other. Cf 1Pt 3:7; Col 3:19; Eph 5:22–33.
3. To provide for the procreation and nurturing of children. Cf Eph 6:1–4.
4. To provide a legitimate and God-pleasing outlet for sexual desire. Cf 1Co 7:1–5.
5. To provide for the mutual care of husband and wife in the commonwealth of goods. In the marriage rite, a man and woman take a solemn vow "to have and to hold from this day forward, for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health, to love and to cherish, till death do us part" (LSB, p 276). This shows that there is more to marriage than feelings of love and sex. Marriage is a commitment, come what may, built upon God's action, command, and promise: What God has joined, let no man break apart!

4. Isn't living together or engagement acting "publicly and voluntarily"? (See point 1.)

No. When we say above that marriage is a public act, we mean that two people make a formal, official, and legally binding public declaration of commitment for life.

Cohabitation is mentioned in the Bible. Remember Jesus' conversation with the woman at the well? She was living with a man "publicly" (not in the legal sense, but in the sense of "openly and for all the world to see"), yet Jesus certainly did not recognize that it was a marriage (Jn 4:16–18).

5. But isn't it a good idea to live together for a while to see if we are compatible?

A good idea based on what? Based on God's Word, such an activity is forbidden for Christians. Living together breaks the Sixth Commandment, violates the love we should give to our neighbor, and tells God that we have a greater wisdom about marriage and sexual relations than He does.

It also happens to be a bad idea from a practical standpoint. Studies show that 80 percent of all marriages begun as cohabitation fail. Why? Because there is a lack of moral conviction (which may lead to infidelity) along with a lack of commitment. Note some of the following facts:

1. Live-ins are least likely to marry.
2. Live-ins have higher separation and divorce rates.
3. Those who lived together have unhappier marriages: cohabitants without plans to marry were more inclined to argue, hit, shout, and have an unfair division of labor in the home.
4. Live-ins often engage in extramarital affairs.
5. Marriage reduces antisocial behavior.
6. Live-ins do not enjoy the best sex: those who refrain from premarital sex are 29–47 percent more likely to enjoy sex after marriage.
7. Cohabiting men tend to want a woman who will cook and clean for them rather than a lifelong partner.

Difficulties such as a bad first marriage, a desertion, a divorce, or a difficult home life may make us reticent to make a lifelong commitment. The unconditional love of Christ, our Savior, and His forgiveness for our past sins and misdeeds enables us to deal with past hurts and old wrongs. And it is God's unconditional love for us that enables us to forgive those who have hurt and deserted us and to love and trust again in the lifelong commitment called marriage.

We as Christians are not free to do what we want when it is contrary to God's Word and will. We cannot say, "It's my body. I can do with it what I want" (cf 1Co 6:19–20).

Sex within legal marriage is a great blessing from God. It is the only legitimate and God-pleasing outlet for sexual desire recognized in the New Testament. Cf Ac 15:20, 29; 21:25; 1Co 5; 6:9; 10:8; 2Co 12:19–21; Rm 1:18–28; Gal 5:19; Eph 5:3–5; Col 3:5; 1Th 4:1–8; Heb 12:14–16.

6. How should pastors, elders, and congregations respond?

1. Our first priority is the salvation of the soul of our erring brother or sister. We care enough about you, we love you enough, to tell you that your soul is in danger, that you need to flee the sin that has entrapped you. We love you enough to share the love of God's grace and forgiveness with you as the Spirit of God leads you to godly contrition and repentance. Cf Ac 3:19; 1Tm 2:4.
2. Do we have options in dealing with the situation? Yes. We can and should apply Mt 18:15–18; Gal 6:1–2. Our overriding goal is repentance, so that our dear brother or sister recognizes he or she is sinning. Cf Ps 32:1–5.
3. If, after admonition and instruction in what God's Word says, there is no repentance (which would include heartfelt sorrow over the sin committed and a desire to remedy the situation by either marriage or separation), then the minor ban (no Communion) will be applied by the pastor. Further attempts at reconciliation will be made. Eventually, excommunication may be necessary in certain cases—as a last resort—in order to shock the brother or sister to his or her senses. This is an application of the Law. But it is also an act of love, tough love.
4. If the Holy Spirit leads a couple to recognize that their current situation is wrong and if there is true repentance, the fullness of the Gospel is to be shared with the couple. Consider these passages: 1 Co 6:9–11; Rm 8:1–2.
5. What options do the repentant have? (1) Separate with no plans for marriage. (2) Separate until marriage. (3) If at any time during the process they wish to marry, the pastor will do so via a private ceremony (a concession by the congregation and pastor). (4) Get married by a justice of the peace immediately and have a consecration of the marriage in church at a later time.

7. What should be the guiding principle for the pastor and congregation in these matters?

Matters of marriage, sex, and cohabitation are often fraught with difficulty. That is because they involve men and women, and all men and women are sinners (Ps 51:5; Rm 3:10–12).

But God our Father has mercy on poor sinners. He sent His Son, Jesus Christ, into this world to save us from our sins. He did this by His sinless life, His atoning death on the cross, and His glorious resurrection from the dead (Is 53:6; Jn 3:16).

Our guiding principle in all things, therefore, should be the Gospel of Jesus Christ—especially in matters pertaining to marriage, sex, and cohabitation. Yes, we must apply the Law of God in all its severity when people sin, but we must also apply the Gospel in all its sweetness when people repent of their sins (Mt 11:29–30; Eph 4:32).

Adapted from Matthew Harrison, Second Thoughts about Living Together (St. Louis: Concordia, 2005).

The Faith of Noah

The words of Holy Scripture should not be treated carelessly. For since they are the words of the Spirit, they are necessarily full of weight and majesty. Therefore since He commends to us the faith of the fathers, we must understand that this faith is completely perfect in every way, that is, has been exercised in all trials, so that it became worthy of being described with such great glory as an example for the whole church. In the first place, therefore, the glory of the faith of Noah was such that he believed and stood firm for 100 years, whereas one finds some do not believe for even a moment….

The second reason is that Noah preached this faith so forcefully and was not listened to. For that he preached is certain from 2 Peter 2:5. Peter calls him "a preacher of righteousness"; and for this reason Noah felt that the more he was tried and tormented, the less he was heard. Moreover, the outcome, namely, that all perished in the Flood, proves that he was not listened to. For if they had believed, they would not have perished. Therefore their greatest sin was unbelief, just as Noah's righteousness was supreme faith. Consequently, the apostle also praises him very highly not so much because he constructed an ark but because he "constructed an ark in faith" by expressly adding faith as the sum and substance of the work. Furthermore, the apostle praises him because he condemned the world through faith, not through any good work, as if he were saying with the greatest clarity that no sin they had committed was as great as their refusal to believe Noah when he preached….

In the third place, now those things are prone to follow that usually follow when there are unbelieving listeners and believing teachers, namely, outcroppings of mocking and slander, of blasphemy, contempt, and disgrace, especially since the delaying of the threatened evil increased the courage of those people but assailed the faith of this man with completely manifest evidence. As often as he was condemned as a fool, as a liar, as a babbler, not only by one person but by all—especially because he, relying only on his own understanding contrary to the understanding of all, constantly busied himself with the construction of the ark—so often he saw, heard, and experienced above all the Word of God alone and constantly and persistently preferred it. For St. Peter also commends God's patience highly when he says (1 Peter 3:20) that in the days of Noah this patience with believers and unbelievers was waited for. But that the people were like this can be understood from those words in Luke 17:26–27, where Christ says: "As it was in the days of Noah, so will it be in the days of the Son of Man. They ate, they drank, they married, they were given in marriage, until the day when Noah entered the ark, and the Flood came and destroyed them all." With these words He shows that the faith of this one man was vehemently assailed by means of the morals of the whole world. And scarcely any battle is greater than this one, since it is regarded as the height of folly to think that only one man among all, yes, in opposition to all, is wise. Therefore the faith of Noah was not that "quiet quality of the soul" (as we are wont to dream about faith) but the life of the heart, "as a lily among thorns" (Song of Sol. 2:2), like Jerusalem in the midst of the heathen. (AE 29:236–37)

A Tale of Two Mountains

The year 999 was especially fearful in medieval Europe. Many people expected that Christ's return was very near. Some sold all they had, gave the money to the poor, and went on pilgrimages. The New Year's Eve service in Rome was packed. It is said that some died of fright as they thought of the trumpets of heaven sounding at midnight. Yet as the bishop of Rome, Sylvester II, gave the Benediction and the church bells sounded the new millennium, everyone went home rejoicing. Judgment Day did not appear as they had feared.

With similar fear and relief, the people of Israel faced Mount Sinai. They were very frightened when God spoke to them. They begged Moses to speak for God because they were afraid they would die simply on hearing God's voice. In contrast, Mount Zion was a much different place for the people (Heb 12:18–24; cf Gal 4:21–31). Here, God received their sacrifices and forgave their sins. Here, they received with joy the blessings He gave to them. God invites us Christians to come to an even more joyful place, the heavenly Jerusalem, where we will live with Him forevermore.

Mount Sinai

When we think of Mount Sinai, we think of dark clouds filled with lightning wrapped around a sharp, forbidding peak. We may remember scenes from the movie The Ten Commandments. We may think of God with a deep, booming voice and His fiery finger etching His Law into stone. However, two other events on this mountain are recorded in the Scripture.

After years of tending sheep for his father-in-law, Moses saw a bush burning on Mount Sinai, but it was not destroyed. Here, God spoke to him from the bush. God called Moses to be His instrument to free the people of Israel from slavery in Egypt. Here, God told Moses His personal name: Yahweh ("I AM WHO I AM" or "I WILL BE WHO I WILL BE"; see p 1227). God's first action on this mountain was to announce good news—He would save His people from slavery in Egypt.

About 700 years after God gave the people His Law at Sinai, the lonely prophet Elijah visited Sinai's caves (1Ki 19). Discouraged and fleeing for his life, the prophet complained to the Lord. With a mighty wind, a great fire, and an earthquake, God demonstrated His power. Then in a calm, soft voice, the Lord told His prophet that 7,000 people remained in Israel who worshiped the Lord alone. Here, God would encourage Elijah to return to Israel and finish his ministry. He told him to appoint Elisha as the next prophet.

Mount Zion

Hundreds of years before King David conquered Jerusalem and Solomon built a temple there, Abraham and his son Isaac came to a mountain then known as Mount Moriah (Gn 22). There, God commanded Abraham to sacrifice his beloved son. As Abraham raised his knife to kill Isaac, the angel of the Lord stopped the sacrifice. In its place, the angel provided the sacrifice of a ram. So in this way, God first provided a substitute to die in the place of one of His children.

On this mountain, Solomon built a temple for the Lord (1Ki 6). Here, the sacrifices for the sins of God's people were offered. Here, God dwelled in His glory. Here, a lost book was found and taken to heart by God's people (2Ki 22). After this temple was destroyed by the Babylonians, it was rebuilt, first by the Jewish exiles (Ezr 3–6) and then again by King Herod.

To Zion's temple came God's own Son, first as an infant (Lk 2:22–38), later as a young man (Lk 2:41–50), and finally as the promised Messiah. In this temple, in the chambers of the Council (Sanhedrin), He was condemned to die in our place. Once and for all, God had provided the Lamb, the final sacrifice (Jn 1:36). For us, the earthly Mount Zion truly is a place of peace.

The Heavenly Mount Zion

Amid our earthly struggles, we respond to God's presence in many different ways. When we think of the Lord in all His glory and power, we might fear Him as the Israelites did at Mount Sinai. We might complain to Him because we seem abandoned as we struggle to witness to Him. We might come to Him in faith, trusting in the sacrifice He provides. Yet a better mountain awaits us (Is 25).

God invites us to think about the heavenly Zion, where we will live one day (see p 844). Here are countless angels, gathered in praise of God. Here lives Christ's Church, finally free of sin, death, and the power of the devil. Here lives Christ Himself. When we keep our eyes on this mountain, nothing that faces us here in this life can overwhelm us. The heights of heavenly Zion stand above all the fear, pain, and suffering we face here. Filling us with the hope of heaven, God enables us to fulfill the calling He has given us.

Footnotes

Footnotes for Hebrews, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:12 Some manuscripts omit like a garment

Footnotes for Hebrews, Chapter 2

- [2] 2:7 Some manuscripts insert and set him over the works of your hands
- [1] 2:11 Greek all are of one
- [2] 2:11 Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church; also verse 12

Footnotes for Hebrews, Chapter 3

- [3] 3:1 Or brothers and sisters; also verse 12
- [1] 3:2 Greek his; also verses 5, 6
- [2] 3:6 Some manuscripts insert firm to the end

Footnotes for Hebrews, Chapter 4

- [1] 4:2 Some manuscripts it did not meet with faith in the hearers
- [2] 4:8 Greek he

Footnotes for Hebrews, Chapter 5

- [1] 5:7 Greek he

Footnotes for Hebrews, Chapter 6

- [1] 6:2 Or baptisms (that is, cleansing rites)
- [1] 6:15 Greek he

Footnotes for Hebrews, Chapter 7

- [1] 7:5 Or brothers and sisters
- [1] 7:25 That is, completely; or at all times

Footnotes for Hebrews, Chapter 8

- [2] 8:2 Or tabernacle; also verse 5
- [3] 8:6 Greek he
- [1] 8:8 Some manuscripts For finding fault with it he says to them

Footnotes for Hebrews, Chapter 9

- [2] 9:2 Or tabernacle; also verses 11, 21
- [3] 9:2 Greek the presentation of the loaves
- [4] 9:3 Greek tent; also verses 6, 8
- [1] 9:9 Or which is symbolic for the age then present
- [2] 9:11 Some manuscripts good things to come
- [3] 9:13 Or For if the blood of goats and bulls, and the sprinkling of defiled persons with the ashes of a heifer, sanctifies
- [4] 9:14 Some manuscripts your
- [5] 9:15 The Greek word means both covenant and will; also verses 16, 17

Footnotes for Hebrews, Chapter 10

- [1] 10:5 Greek he
- [1] 10:12 Greek this one
- [2] 10:19 Or brothers and sisters

Footnotes for Hebrews, Chapter 11

- [1] 11:37 Some manuscripts add they were tempted

Footnotes for Hebrews, Chapter 12

- [1] 12:23 Or church

Footnotes for Hebrews, Chapter 13

- [1] 13:21 Some manuscripts you
- [1] 13:22 Or brothers and sisters

Study Notes

HEBREWS—NOTE ON Ch 1 Describes the climactic character of God's revelation in Christ.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 1:1 in many ways. God's prophetic Word was delivered to His people through the prophets' oral proclamation, written words, and prophetic actions. See pp 1081–83, 1220. God spoke … by the prophets. God spoke His Word to His people by means of the prophets; the words and deeds of the prophets were full of God's power and brought about God's will. See note, 2Pt 1:21; see also pp xxvi–xxx. to our fathers. Those who lived by faith in the Savior God had promised. See p 1245.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 1:2 last days. The time of the definitive revelation of God's will in Christ (cf Ac 2:14–21). See "on that day," p 1079. The distinction between the words of the prophets and of Jesus anticipates the establishment of the Bible as OT and NT. See pp xlv–xlvii. appointed the heir. An heir inherits all that belongs to the parents. Jesus, as God's only begotten Son, shares with His brothers and sisters the Father's mercy, forgiveness, and new life. See "portion," p 7. through whom also He created. The Son was not created by the Father, but always existed with Him and the Holy Spirit (Jn 1:1). God the Father, with the Holy Spirit, created all that exists, seen and unseen, by His Son, the Word of the Father. See note, Jn 1:3; see also p 1012.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 1:3 the radiance of the glory of God. God the Father, invisible and dwelling in "unapproachable light" (1Tm 6:16), has revealed the light of His glory in Christ Jesus. See "glory," p 1902. the exact imprint of His nature. As a wax mold reveals every detail of a metal seal, Jesus is the exact expression of the Father's nature, being eternally begotten of the Father. He possesses and reveals all that is divine. To see Jesus is to see the Father (Jn 14:9). See note, Col 1:15. Luth: "These two words [imprint, nature] lead us to understand that the Father and the Son are of two kinds and distinct according to the Person, but one and undivided according to the substance. The word 'image' indicates that the Son is not the Father, but the image of the Father and a different Person. The phrase 'of his substance' indicates that he is not separate from the Father according to nature, but is together with him in one Godhead and of equal substance, and is thus an image of the Father's substance, not made or having a beginning at a previous time, but having become and been from eternity, just as the divine substance was neither made nor had a beginning but has been from eternity…. For the divine substance is eternal, whereas whatever has a beginning is temporal" (AE 34:222). the word of His power. Jesus, the Word who called creation into being (Gn 1), continues to uphold all creation. See note, Gn 1:3. purification for sins. The blood of sacrificed animals cleansed both the OT temple's altar and God's people from the defilement caused by sin (Lv 16:19, 30). Jesus alone makes the final, complete purification of our conscience (cf Heb 9:14). See pp 136, 2117. Luth: "We should despair of our penitence, of our purification from sins; for before we repent, our sins have already been forgiven. Indeed, first His very purification, on the contrary, also produces penitence in us, just as His righteousness produces our righteousness" (AE 29:112). at the right hand. The right hand of God represents the fullness of God's authority and glory (cf Ps 110:1). See p 843; see also note, Eph 1:20.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 1:4 superior to angels. Angels, although holy and great, were created by God. Jesus, through His suffering and humility, resurrection and exaltation, showed all creation that He was truly the eternal Son of the Father, and that He was and is far above any creature (cf Php 2:1–11). Hus: "Christ alone is the head of the universal church" (The Church, p 27). the name He has inherited. The title "Son" expresses the wonder that Jesus, the Son of Mary, is also the Son of God from eternity. See notes, Is 7:14; Mt 1:23.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 1:5–13 Seven passages from the OT (five from Ps) are used to proclaim Jesus as the Son; as such, He is superior to the angels. See note, Ps 2:7.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 1:6 the firstborn. See p 6. A king's firstborn son would usually succeed to the throne. Because Jesus is the "firstborn" of the Father, the glory, honor, and power of the Father also belong to Jesus. See note, Col 1:15.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 1:7 See note, Ps 104:3–4. Quote emphasizes that the angels, although sharing in God's glory and majesty, are God's creatures. This contrasts with Jesus' status as firstborn Son, sharing in the nature of His Father.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 1:8–9 Ps 45 is a royal psalm in which the king receives the promises made by God (cf 2Sm 7:13). Jesus fulfills God's promise to David. He establishes an eternal throne that brings God's own righteousness and joy. See notes, Ps 45 intro; 2Sm 7:11–14.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 1:10–12 Ps 102 is the prayer of one suffering from physical distress and derision from enemies. The psalmist contrasts his own vulnerable, transitory life with God's everlasting kingdom. This quote concerning God's unchanging and authoritative power over creation is applied to Jesus, through whom all things were made (v 2).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 1:14 ministering spirits … serve. Jesus' status as true and everlasting King is contrasted with the status of angels who, though members of the royal court, are servants who obey the word of their Master. See notes, Jb 1:6; Ps 103:21; 104:3–4. inherit salvation? As children inherit from their parents, so Christians inherit with Christ all that the Father has to give. Jesus, our elder brother, includes us by grace in His family with its riches. See "heir," p 1902; see also "portion," p 7.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON Ch 1 Jesus, through whom the Father created all things, and by whose Word all things are sustained, clearly reveals the gracious will of the Father to us. Although Jesus is heavenly like the angels, He is no mere creature. He is the firstborn Son of the Father, who shares with us all that the Father has. He frees us to receive God's ministry, including the ministry given through the angels. • Lord Jesus, thank You for creating and sustaining me. By Your Word, keep me in true faith, that I may inherit salvation. Amen.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:1 closer attention. If God's people were to listen to the law delivered by angels (cf v 2), then Christians are bound to give their whole attention to the Word delivered by Jesus, God's eternal Son. what we have heard. The message of Jesus, the Son of God, whose sacrifice cleanses us from sin. See note, 1Jn 1:1.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:2 the message declared by angels. Angels were responsible for handing on God's Law to Moses (cf Ac 7:38, 53). just retribution. God's Law is authoritative. Any breaking of the Law leads to the appropriate punishment. See p 1911.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:3 a great salvation? Jesus' sacrifice frees people from the curse of the Law (cf Gal 3:13). If they neglect this gift God has given, they will not escape the just punishment for sin. See "save," p 1904. attested to us by those who heard. Suggests that the writer of Hebrews was not St Paul or one of the Twelve, because they were directly called by Jesus and received the Word from Him. See p 2102–4.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:4 God also bore witness. The Father and the Holy Spirit attested to the message of salvation, first spoken in its fullness by Jesus (v 3). See notes, 10:5–18; 1Jn 5:7–8. gifts of the Holy Spirit. Cf Rm 12:6–8; 1Co 12–14; Gal 5:22–23; Eph 4:11–12. God chooses to bless His people with what they need to live by faith. See p 1876.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:1–4 Christians need God's Word, spoken by Jesus and attested by those who heard Him. The Father and the Holy Spirit also bear witness. Ignoring God's revelation of how to be saved is frightening. Jesus gives the Church pastors, teachers, and other leaders to spread the Word. He likewise gives us brothers and sisters to encourage us in our life of faith. He will always provide all that is needed to receive the gift of life. • Lord Jesus, thank You for speaking the Word of the Father to me. By Your Holy Spirit, keep me anchored to the hope of salvation that You freely give. Amen.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:5 Angels oversee the nations of this world (cf Dn 10:13). But the Son has authority over the whole of creation and time, including the angels.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:6–8 Ps 8 reflects on the apparent insignificance of human beings in contrast to their great significance to God. See notes, Ps 8:4–5.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:6 testified somewhere. Writer perhaps cites from memory or from notes (finding lines in a scroll was considerable trouble). Though he often quotes Scripture, he does not provide specific references. His free style is an example of the human side of Scripture. See note, 1Co 1:16; see also p 1646.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:8 subjection to him. Ps 8:6 speaks of human beings, who have dominion over the earth and its creatures (Gn 1:28). As man, Jesus also has this dominion over creation. As God, He has still greater dominion. we do not yet see everything in subjection. By faith alone (cf Heb 11:1), we confess Jesus' authority over our own lives and His authority over all things, even though life may seem out of control. See note, Php 3:21.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:9 made lower than the angels. Before His resurrection and ascension, Jesus did not always choose to demonstrate His divine power and so appeared lower than the angels. By taking the form of a servant, He appeared to be less authoritative than those glorious beings who are upheld by His Word (1:3). crowned with glory and honor. Through Jesus' death and resurrection, His true status as God's Son was revealed to the sinful world, and God the Father exalted Him (cf Php 2:9–11). by the grace of God. God has freely provided His Son as the sacrifice for the sin of the world (Jn 19). See "grace," p 1902. taste death for everyone. Jesus' death has drained the cup of sin and death that poisoned every person (cf Rm 5:12–17).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:10 He … by whom all things exist. God the Father, who created all. for whom. Aug: "You have formed us for Yourself, and our hearts are restless until they find rest in You" (NPNF 1 1:45). bringing … to glory. Jesus' glory will be shared with all whom God leads in faith. See "glory," p 1902. the founder. Jesus (cf 12:2). perfect through suffering. As God's eternal Son, Jesus demonstrated complete obedience to the Father through His suffering. Just as a test may show that a student has perfect or complete knowledge of a topic, the cross showed that Jesus completely obeyed the Father's will. Jesus' Passion led to His exaltation and glory following the resurrection. See "perfect," p 1903.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:11 sanctifies. See "holy," p 1902. one source. Because the Father adopts us through Jesus, Jesus and Christians have God as their Father (Rm 8:15). See "adoption," p 1901. Also Jesus, as a true human being, shares descent with us from the one human father, Adam. not ashamed to call them brothers. Jesus is ready to confess before the Father and all creation that believers in Him are truly His family (Mt 12:48–50).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:12–13 OT quotes emphasize Jesus' solidarity with mankind.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:12 In Ps 22, David prays to God because he is suffering from persecution and distress. He ends with a confident confession of the Lord's righteousness (Ps 22:22). Jesus, David's descendant and heir, prayed a portion of this psalm on the cross (Mt 27:46; Mk 15:34).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:13 Speaks of the trust that the prophet Isaiah and his family had in the face of coming judgment. Also describes Jesus, who while suffering judgment for sin, placed His trust in His Father. Jesus is bound to those who place their trust in Him.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:14 children share in flesh and blood. Children and their parents share genetic unity. partook of the same. Jesus became, and still is, a real human being and truly our Brother. Through the incarnation, Jesus shares our human nature (yet without sin). Christians and their Lord also share the unique fellowship of the Lord's flesh and blood through the Lord's Supper (1Co 10:16–17). "He did not receive a foreign nature, but our own flesh in the unity of His person. In this way He has become our true Brother…. Christ redeemed human nature as His work, sanctifies it, raises it from the dead, and gloriously adorns it as His work" (FC Ep I 5–6). through death … destroy. Jesus' death absorbed God's judgment against sin. On the cross, Jesus bore all sin and the condemnation of death. the power of death. Death has a claim on those who sin (Rm 6:23). the devil. He uses God's Law to bring accusations against those who have sinned. See note, Jb 1:6. Luth: "The devil's work is to crush us under his feet and, because of our sin, to dispatch us from life into death…. [Christ's] works are truly divine works such as: to justify, to restore to life, to save" (AE 13:135).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:15 lifelong slavery. All who sin fear death as a consequence of sin and are bound in this fear unless God speaks His word of mercy in Christ (cf Rm 7:14–25).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:16 the offspring of Abraham. Those who also have faith in the Savior. Cf Gal 3:6–9, 26–29.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:17 in every respect. Jesus was, and is, a real human being who has shared in every aspect of human life, including the temptation to sin. a merciful and faithful high priest. Jesus brings our needs to the Father because He knows the reality of human weakness. the service of God. Jesus' sacrifice is given to God the Father and is not compelled by Satan or any other power. See notes, Mt 26:39; Lk 23:46. Jesus went to the cross willingly, thwarting Satan's purposes (1Co 2:8; 1Jn 3:8). propitiation. Jesus removes the stain of sin, bringing human beings into a right relationship with the Father. See note, Rm 3:25; see also "atonement," p 5.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:18 Jesus' prayers are those of one who has suffered and been tempted as a real human being. We are assured that His prayers are effective and heartfelt (cf 5:7; Rm 8:34).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 2:5–18 Jesus, as true man, willingly humbled Himself to taste death. As resurrected Lord, and as our firstborn Brother (v 11), He serves as our High Priest to intercede for us before the Father. Without a Savior, we would live in slavery to the fear of death. But Jesus has taken the consequence of our sin and removes our fear. Knowing our weaknesses, He will always help us when we are tempted. • Lord Jesus,

You know my weakness. Help me always to turn away from sin and to put all my trust in You. Amen.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:1 holy brothers … calling. All people God the Father has adopted through faith in His Word (Jn 1:12–13). No one can, by his own power, make himself holy. But God calls people to share in His gift of holiness (cf 1Pt 1:15). See "call," p 1901. the apostle and high priest of our confession. Priests in the OT offered sacrifices, but they also revealed God's will through their teaching. In the NT, God sent apostles to speak on His behalf. Jesus is the High Priest and Apostle who fully reveals God's will and fulfills both testaments.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:2 appointed. The Father's will is that His Son should reveal the fullness of His grace (cf Ac 3:20). just as Moses. Greatest OT example of a faithful leader. But Jesus surpasses Moses as the faithful leader in worship and in life. God's house. People of Israel, the household of faith in Moses' time.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:3 the builder … has more honor. The creator has more honor than what is created, because what is created depends on the creator for existence. Jesus is the creator of Moses and Israel and is worthy of more honor. Luth: "Whatever Moses ordered at God's command he did only in view of the Christ who was to come. Thus the people were to be prepared for the personal rule of Christ, who was to dwell among them as in His own house…. Moses and the priesthood count for nothing, compared with Christ. They are under obligation; and since He is the true Lord, they must hand over the keys to Him and serve Him" (AE 13:305).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:4 the builder of all things is God. All creation owes its being and daily life to God.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:5 a servant, to testify. A servant does the will of the master without necessarily knowing what the master has in mind. But God the Father makes the fullness of His will known through Jesus the Son (cf Jn 15:15).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:6 over God's house as a son. Jesus knows the will of the Father and speaks with His full authority. we are His house. We share in all the blessings that God wills to give us. With Jesus the Son, we are heirs of the Father (cf Rm 8:17). See note, Gal 3:26.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:1–6 Though Moses was a faithful servant in God's household, Jesus is the faithful Son. Since Jesus calls you to your heavenly home, you can be confident that you will share in God's glory.

However, beware not to boast of your own faithfulness. Only God is holy and righteous. In Christ, you freely share in God's holiness. He is calling you to glory. • Lord Jesus, Son of the Father, fill me with Your Spirit of faithfulness. Amen.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:7–4:13 Exhortation based on OT examples of the Sabbath (see pp 200–201, 1764) and inheritance of the Promised Land (see "portion," p 7).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:7–11 Cites Ps 95 and alludes to the rebellion of God's people in the wilderness—esp Nu 14, where the people refused to enter the Promised Land after spies brought back a disheartening report.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:7 the Holy Spirit says. The Scriptures, written by men, were inspired by the Holy Spirit and are His words (cf 2Tm 3:16). See pp xxvi–xxx.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:11 Luth: "We wretched men have lost that bliss of our physical life through sin, and while we live we are in the midst of death. And yet, because the Sabbath command remains for the church, it denotes that spiritual life is to be restored to us through Christ" (AE 1:80).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:12 an evil, unbelieving heart. Refusal to trust in God's promises. Alludes to Nu 14, where the people refused to trust that God would give them the Promised Land. the living God. God actively sees into the hearts of all people and makes a just judgment (Heb 10:30b–31). See note, Mt 16:16.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:13 exhort … every day. Christians addressed here may have gathered daily in their homes for prayer. today. Cf v 7; 4:7. hardened. See note, Ex 4:21. the deceitfulness of sin. Refusal to trust God is coupled with a refusal to accept what is true. An unbelieving heart will willingly accept deception.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:14 share in Christ. We are fellow believers and partners with Christ. See note, 1:14. our original confidence. That God, in Christ Jesus, forgives sin. This phrase may be the call to holiness and the hope of future glory given in Baptism. See note, 1Pt 3:21.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:15 See note, vv 7–11. Luth: "Since we have begun happily, just as they had—let us fear, lest by defecting we abandon 'the beginning of the substance,' as they abandoned it and deserted" (AE 29:158).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:16–18 God's people formerly missed out on what He had promised through their acts of unbelief. The writer highlights the fact that those who have experienced God's goodness should persevere in faith. God will punish those who sin and they will lose their rest and inheritance. See note, 1:14.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:19 unable … because of unbelief. God was willing to give His people rest, but His people were unwilling to receive it. The people's unbelief—their lack of confidence in the promises of God—rendered them incapable of experiencing the blessings that flow from trust.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 4:1 promise of entering His rest. God's promise of forgiveness and peace remains true and can be lost only if we refuse it. let us fear. We should carefully watch that our trust is in the promise of God rather than in human understanding. See p 1001.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 4:2 good news. The promise of rest, to the people of Israel through the gift of the land, and to the Church with the gift of new life in Christ. See "Gospel," p 1902. united by faith. By faith, we receive the promises of God and become members of His household (3:2). Trusting in God's promise, we receive the gifts that God gives. Luth: "These three—faith, the Word, and the heart—become one. Faith is the glue or the bond. The Word is on one side; the heart is on the other side. But through faith they become one spirit, just as man and wife become 'one flesh' (Gen. 2:24). Therefore it is true that the heart is combined with the Word through faith and that the Word is combined with the heart through the same faith" (AE 29:160).
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 4:3 enter that rest. Prefigured by the promise of a new life for God's people in the Promised Land. This promise is fulfilled in Christ Jesus, who gives us an eternal home and rest. His works were finished. Focuses on God's seventh day of creation. As God's rest has existed from the foundation of the world, so His people throughout time have been free to enter this rest and peace. See note, v 9.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 4:4 See note, Gn 2:2.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 4:5 Cites Ps 95:11, which speaks of God's judgment because of His people's refusal to enter the Promised Land. Cf Nu 16.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 4:6 He now applies the argument by admonishing the Hebrews. formerly received the good news. See note, v 2.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 4:7 See note, 3:7–11.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 4:8 if Joshua had given them rest. Eventually, God's people possessed the Promised Land under the leadership of Joshua, but the ultimate rest was with the second Joshua, Jesus, who saves His people from their sin. See note, Jsh 1:1.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 4:9 there remains a Sabbath rest. God has fully completed the six days of His work in creation; thus, His Sabbath rest extends throughout time. In Christ, God's people enter into God's day of rest and experience the peace He gives. See notes, Ex 20:8; Rm 5:1.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 4:10 entered God's rest. Enjoying the result of God's completed work. See note, Jn 19:30. The benefits of Christ's completed work, received by faith, are distributed in the proclamation of the Gospel and the administration of the Sacraments.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 4:11 strive to enter that rest. We do this in two ways: (1) by daily returning to our Baptism, renouncing the devil and all evil; (2) by trusting God's mercy in Christ, who has prepared our eternal rest in heaven (Jn 14:2).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 4:12 the word of God. The Word remains forever and always accomplishes the work that it is sent to do (see note, Is 55:11). The person striving (v 11) will be helped by the Word. living. First descriptor for the sake of emphasis. God's Word gives life. See note, Ps 119:25. active. Or, effective. sharper than any two-edged sword. Even the sharpest sword can cut only through flesh and bone; God's Word cuts through any spiritual barriers that stand between human beings and God. division of soul and of spirit. God's Word cuts to the innermost part of a human being. discerning the thoughts and intentions of the heart. God's Word exposes the true state of a person's heart before God. The comparison to a sword emphasizes God's work in our lives through the Law, in keeping with the exhortation in 3:13. See application note, 3:7–4:13. Luth: "Christ's Word breaks through and wounds. It takes away every ground of trust and ascribes redemption solely to the blood of Christ; it pricks and wounds the soul. This is a health-bestowing wound, for these weapons kill in order to make alive…. It is, however, a fall that is happy and full of consolation, demonstrating the power and success of the Word" (AE 12:225). See note, Dt 32:39.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 4:13 naked and exposed … Him. Image is of a sacrificial animal prepared for slaughter. Before the power of God's Word we have no defense. Unless God has mercy, we will die. we must give account. In all our thoughts, words, and deeds, we are accountable to God, the eternal Judge who sees all (cf Rm 14:10–12).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 3:7–4:13 God's people missed rest in the Promised Land through their unbelief. This is a warning to us. God calls us to trust Him and to enter into the rest that He has enjoyed since the completion of creation. In Christ Jesus, we have rest from the accusation of the Law. The Holy Spirit leads us to trust in Christ, granting us everlasting peace. • Lord Jesus, You are my rest. May I always look to You when I am weary and afraid. Amen.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 4:14 a great high priest. The only One who can truly represent us to the Father, and who can truly represent the Father to us. passed through the heavens. Bridged the otherwise infinite gap between God and humanity. Son of God. See p 2098. hold fast. Cling to Christ in faith since He has already demonstrated His power. our confession. See notes, Rm 10:9; 1Co 1:10; 1Tm 6:12. "The apostle tells us to come to God, not with confidence in our own merits, but with confidence in Christ as the High Priest. The apostle requires faith…. [Also,} Peter says we receive forgiveness of sins through Christ's name, that is, for His sake. It is not for the sake of our merits, not for the sake of our contrition, attrition, love, worship, or works. He adds: When we believe in Him. Peter requires faith. For we cannot receive Christ's name except by faith" (Ap IV 82–83).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 4:15 sympathize with our weaknesses. See note, 2:17. tempted as we are. Cf Mt 4:1–11; Mk 1:12–13; Lk 4:1–13 for accounts of Jesus' temptation. yet without sin. Jesus did not succumb to the temptation He experienced but remained wholly faithful to His Father.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 4:16 the throne of grace. Where sacrifice was offered on the Day of Atonement (Lv 16:2–3). On the cross, Christ offered the final sacrifice. Those who place their trust in Christ, rather than fleeing from God, can come to Him expecting mercy, healing, and life. (See SC, Lord's Prayer, pp xxxvii–xxxix.) "Those who cling to God alone should be sure that He will show them mercy. In other words, He will show them pure goodness and blessing, not only for themselves, but also to their children and their children's children, even to the thousandth generation and beyond that. This ought certainly to move and impel us to risk our hearts in all confidence with God [Hebrews 4:16; 10:19–23], if we wish all temporal and eternal good. For the supreme Majesty makes such outstanding offers and presents such heartfelt encouragements and such rich promises" (LC I 39–40). "God desires nothing more seriously from us than that we ask Him for much and great things. In fact, He is angry if we do not ask and pray confidently" (LC III 56–57). receive mercy and find grace. Those who trust in Christ receive God's forgiveness and strength to lead a holy life. See "mercy," p 1903. Luth: "Jesus Christ is our mediator, our throne of grace, and our bishop before God in heaven, who daily intercedes for us and reconciles all who believe in him alone, and who call upon him; that he is not a judge, nor cruel, except for those who do not believe in him, or who reject his comfort and grace; [and] that he is not the man who accuses and threatens us, but rather the man who reconciles us [with God], and intercedes for us with his own death and blood shed for us so that we should not fear him, but approach him with all assurance and call him dear Savior, sweet Comforter, faithful bishop of our souls, etc." (AE 50:20–21).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 5:1 chosen … appointed. An OT priest could not decide on his own initiative to be high priest. God chose the sons of Aaron and on the basis of this election they fulfilled their office (cf Ex 28:1; Nu 3:10). offer gifts and sacrifices for sins. Emphasizes the way the high priest offered something other than himself to atone for sin.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 5:2 The high priest, too, was weighed down by weakness in the face of temptation.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 5:3 sacrifice for his own sins. The high priest, being a sinner, had to make atonement for his own sins as well as for the sins of the people. See note, Lv 10:17.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 5:4 called by God. See note, v 1.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 5:5 appointed. The Father appointed Jesus to serve as the true High Priest. The quote from Ps 2:7 was addressed to the earthly king of God's people. Yet it prophesied Christ's enthronement in glory after His ascension. See "right hand," p 843; see also note, Eph 1:20.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 5:6 Melchizedek was a priest and king who blessed Abraham and received offerings from him (cf Gn 14:18–20). Like Melchizedek, Jesus is a true priest, even though He was not from Aaron's lineage (cf v 10). See "Melchizedek," p 2104. On disputes over the priesthood, see "Zadokites," pp 1557–58.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 5:7 the days of His flesh. Jesus' years of ministry on earth; yet even after His ascension, Jesus remains true man and has flesh and blood (see note, Lk 24:40). offered. Same word is used for offering sacrifice. This emphasizes the priestly nature of Jesus' suffering. Luth: "That is the true sacrifice…. It deserves to be praised to the utmost and to have every honor given to it, especially over against those other false, lying sacrifices of our own works, which were invented to deny and blaspheme this sacrifice. He is also the Priest who ought to be called a priest above all others. What man can praise and exalt Him enough? … No matter how great or burdensome sin, wrath, hell, and damnation may be, this holy sacrifice is far greater and higher!" (AE 13:319–20). able to save Him from death. Jesus trusted that His Father would bring Him through death to resurrection and new life. heard because of His reverence. Jesus lived with pure devotion to the Father. His prayers conformed fully to the Father's will and were heard. See note, Mt 26:39; cf Jn 17. Luth: "In the same manner He also fulfilled the third part of the priestly office: intercessory prayer. Along with, and beyond, His sacrifice Christ also prayed to God the Father in our behalf. Isaiah 53:12 speaks of this function of His priestly office: 'He bore the sins of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.' … By means of such prayer He won for us and communicated to us the power and merit of His sacrifice, that is, forgiveness of sins, righteousness, and eternal life. Prayer like that is valid forever and works its power in all Christendom. In short, He continues to exercise this office as our Mediator and Advocate before God" (AE 13:320).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 5:8 He learned obedience. Jesus experienced and demonstrated, as true man, what it is to obey the will of the heavenly Father. See also note, Lk 2:51.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 5:9 made perfect. See note, 2:10. source of eternal salvation. See note, Ac 4:12. salvation. See p 1904. obey. See note, Rm 1:5.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 5:10 designated. Solemnly acclaimed by the Father. See notes, 1:2; 3:2; 5:1. the order of Melchizedek. See note, v 6.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 4:14–5:10 Jesus Christ, our true High Priest, shares our humanity and knows the weaknesses that we experience. Being one with the Father, He is the source of God's full forgiveness. If we approach God confident in our own goodness, we will be condemned according to the strictness of the Law. But Christ Jesus is gentle and understanding. He forgives us, gives us confidence before the Father, and helps us in all our needs. • Lord Jesus, our true High Priest, help us, in our weakness, to call to our Father for all that we need. Amen.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 5:11–6:20 The heart of the Letter, where the author rebukes his readers and draws them back from spiritual collapse.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 5:11 hard … dull of hearing. The teaching is not too complicated, but hearers are slow to listen and understand.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 5:12 by this time. Likely the readers had been Christians for some time. teachers. See note, Eph 4:11. basic principles of the oracles of God. Key points of apostolic teaching, such as the examples listed in Heb 6:1–2. See note, 1Co 4:17; cf 1Co 15:1–4. milk. Gathered from cows, sheep, or goats and stored in jars immersed in spring water. Milk was food for children but also given to the sick. See note, 1Co 3:2. solid food. With maturity, a student of Scripture is better prepared to understand the more challenging passages and apply them correctly to life's more difficult issues. An immature student may fall into doubt or fear, or perhaps most dangerously, pride.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 5:13 unskilled in the word. People could not keep the truths of Scripture straight and so fell into error.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 5:14 powers of discernment trained by constant practice. Adults by experience have developed palates that can discern subtle differences in food and drink. Only spiritually mature people can properly discern and receive the "solid food" of advanced teaching. See note, v 12. distinguish good from evil. The spiritually mature are able to distinguish true teaching from false teaching, good behavior from wickedness.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:1 the elementary doctrine of Christ. Foundational teachings of the Christian faith. See note, 5:12. maturity. Cf 5:14. foundation. One's doctrinal foundation, basic beliefs. repentance. Rejecting those actions that do not flow from faith in Christ. dead works. Without faith and without God's approval, all our works are useless and indeed lay a foundation of false confidence before God. See note, Is 64:6. faith toward God. Trust in the promises of God, esp the promise of forgiveness in Christ Jesus.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:2 washings. Gk plural of baptismos. See notes, Mk 7:3–4; Eph 5:26. John's Baptism and Christian Baptism stemmed from OT commands about ritual washings. Rabbis likely also washed converts to Judaism. These beliefs and practices would need to be distinguished. See p 1369. the laying on of hands. Liturgical action that likely accompanied baptismal prayers. See note, Mk 5:23. resurrection of the dead. The raising, in the body, of all those who have died (cf 1Co 15), a basic doctrine that was much discussed (see "The Resurrection," p 1829).

eternal judgment. The final judgment after the resurrection of all. Cf Mt 25:31–46.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:3 if God permits. Acknowledging God's direction and timing.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:4–6 A challenging text. "Remember that God punishes sin with sins. This means that because of their self-confidence, lack of repentance, and willful sins, He later punishes with hardheartedness and blindness those who had been converted…. This punishment should not be interpreted to mean that it never had been God's good pleasure that such persons should come to the knowledge of the truth and be saved" (FC SD XI 83). impossible … to restore them again to repentance. Luth: "If anyone has fallen away from Christ, who is the true sacrifice for sins, and seeks another way or mode to be saved and go to heaven, he will never go there, he will not succeed" (StL 7:959). No person can bring back those who, having received faith, fall away from it and seek a way of salvation other than Christ. With God all things are possible (Mt 19:26). If you have loved ones who have fallen away, continually pray for them, that God may restore them.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:4 impossible. The author is sternly warning those who are being tempted. once … enlightened. Refers to Baptism and its new, light-filled life. See note, Eph 1:18. tasted the heavenly gift. Repentance (cf Ac 11:17–18) and faith (Eph 2:8). shared in the Holy Spirit. Those baptized into Christ have called out to God the Father through the Spirit (cf Rm 8:15). See note, Mt 12:31.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:5 tasted the goodness of the word of God. They received God's word of mercy and grace in the Gospel and Baptism. powers of the age to come. God's miraculous intervention in their lives now anticipates the greatness of the blessings of heaven. It is as if heaven has invaded (cf Col 1:13).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:6 fallen away. Rejected God's gift of repentance and faith. crucifying once again. Like the crowds calling for Jesus' crucifixion, those who fall away viciously reject Christ's mercy and forgiveness. holding Him up to contempt. Opposite of confessing Christ; speaking and acting as if the sacrifice of Christ has no power. On the spiritual dangers involved, see note, Mt 12:31. Luth: "I have already been preaching Christ and fighting against the devil in his false teachers for a number of years; but I have experienced how much difficulty this business has caused me. For I cannot repel Satan as I would like. Nor can I finally grasp Christ as Scripture propounds Him to me, but the devil often suggests a false Christ to me. Thanks be to God, however, for preserving us in the Word, in faith, and in prayer! We know that one should walk in humility and fear in the sight of God and not presume upon our own wisdom, righteousness, doctrine, and courage. One should rely on the power of Christ. When we are weak, He is strong; and through us weaklings He always conquers and triumphs. To Him be glory forever. Amen" (AE 26:196).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:7–8 Imagery of fruitful and unfruitful land is used frequently in Scripture (e.g., Is 5:1–7).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:7 receives a blessing from God. Just as the land, blessed to be fruitful (Gn 1:11), produces a crop after rain, so the waters of Baptism bless God's people with righteousness. blessing. See p 842.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:8 cursed. Those who receive God's gifts through faith, but then fall away, will fail to bear the fruit of God's Spirit. They become like weeds, sapping resources while producing nothing. See p 6. burned. Just as thorns and thistles, being unproductive, are burned off, so those who fail to trust God's Word will face His judgment. See notes, Mt 3:12; Jn 15:6.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:9 sure of better things. Spiritual blessings that flow from a life of trust in Christ Jesus.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:10 God has begun His work of salvation among them and will remember His own demonstration of love and service through them. Surely He will also show His righteousness in bringing their salvation to completion (cf Eph 1:13–14).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:11 full assurance. Complete confidence in the promises of God.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:12 imitators of those who … inherit the promises. Follow the good example of those who lived by faith in God. This theme is developed in ch 11.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 5:11–6:12 Christians grow in maturity by building on the basic teachings of the faith and connecting God's promises with the new way of life that He gives. Those who reject God's promises should fear the just judgment of God. If we fail to be fruitful in love, mercy, and generosity, we become like thorns and thistles, fit only for His fire. However, we can be confident that God, who has given us the gift of salvation, will grow the fruit of the Spirit in our lives. • Come, Holy Spirit. Renew my trust in Jesus, and grow Your fruit in my life. Amen.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:13 God … swore by Himself. Cf Gn 22:16–18, where God gave His absolute guarantee in promising His blessing to Abraham. See note, 2Tm 2:13; see also "for Your name's sake," p 842.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:14 bless … multiply. See notes, Gn 1:28; 12:2.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:16 swear by something greater. Something upon which they rely for blessing or security in life. On oaths, see p 7. an oath is final for confirmation. The oath verifies the claims of the one taking it (cf Mt 5:33–37 for Jesus' warning regarding oaths).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:17 the heirs of the promise. All those who place their faith in Christ are heirs of Abraham, and therefore heirs of the promise made to him (cf Gal 3:29). See "heir," p 1902. unchangeable character of His purpose. Unlike human beings, God's purpose does not change due to time or circumstance.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:18 two unchangeable things. God's purpose and oath (promise). Cf v 17. it is impossible for God to lie. God's promise and oath are unbreakable. We can be absolutely certain that God will remain true to His Word. See note, Nu 23:19. fled for refuge. God freely gives His protection from evil to all those who call out to Him (cf Ps 34:8; 46:1; 91:2). See "rock," p 843. the hope set before us. Hope of sharing with Jesus, by the Holy Spirit's power, the eternal blessings of life with the Father. See p 1903.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:19 anchor of the soul. As an anchor holds in a storm, so the hope of eternal life gives us stability in the sufferings and temptations of life. the inner place behind the curtain. Cf Lv 16:2, which refers to the Most Holy Place in the tabernacle (and later the temple), where the high priest would enter annually on the Day of Atonement. In Christ, we have access to the gracious and sanctifying presence of God. See diagram, p 139.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:20 a forerunner. Jesus, as both true man and true God, has prepared the path to the Father for us. the order of Melchizedek. See note, 5:6.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 6:13–20 God's promise and oath to Abraham is certain. As heirs of Abraham, those who trust in Christ Jesus share in the blessing of life promised to Abraham. They experience unending stability and security through the Son's gracious access to the Father. If we doubt God's Word, we act as if God is a liar and miss the blessings that flow from a trusting relationship with Him. As we trust God's promises, we see that God tells the truth, and we share in the blessings of eternal life. • Lord God, in Christ You speak true mercy and forgiveness. Therefore, I will trust Your Word and receive what You graciously give. Amen.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:1 king … priest. Melchizedek, a priest and a king at the same time, foreshadowed the unity of true kingship and priesthood that is fulfilled in Christ. See notes, Gn 14:18; Ps 110:4. Salem. Early name for the city of Jebus. See map, p 493. Most High God. The one true God, the God of Abraham. See p 1227. slaughter of the kings. Cf Gn 14:13–16. blessed him. Priestly action of Melchizedek to Abraham. See p 842.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:2 apportioned a tenth part. Abraham recognized Melchizedek's priestly status by offering him a tithe. See p 1092. king of righteousness … king of peace. In Hbr, Melchizedek means "King of Righteousness," and King of Salem means "King of Peace."

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:3 The validity of priestly descent had to be established before a priest could take office. The chief OT reference to Melchizedek, Gn 14:18–20, says nothing of his lineage. Melchizedek, whom God appointed as a priest and a king, foreshadows the divine, eternal priesthood and kingship of Christ. On disputes over priestly offices, see "Zadokites," pp 1557–58.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:4 the patriarch. Founding father of the Hebrews/Israelites and all who are justified by faith. See note, Rm 4:11.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:5–6 Levitical priests received the tithe from their fellow Israelites as a matter of law. Melchizedek, who was not an heir of Abraham and had no legal claim to Abraham's possessions, still received the patriarch's tithe, showing his God-given authority as priest and king.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:7 the inferior is blessed by the superior. The fact that Melchizedek blessed the patriarch Abraham and received his tithe suggests that Melchizedek is in some sense even greater than Abraham.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:8 he lives. Melchizedek's priestly office is without end (Ps 110:4). This promise is fulfilled in Christ.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:9 Levi. The father of all Israelite priests paid a tithe to Melchizedek, the greater priest, through his ancestor Abraham.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:1–10 Melchizedek, both priest and king, showed the true nature of his authority by receiving tithes from the patriarch Abraham and blessing him. As both king of righteousness and king of peace, Melchizedek foreshadowed Christ's work of justification. As Abraham gave offerings and respect to Melchizedek, greater respect is due to our High Priest, Christ. He serves without end to lead us into His kingdom. • Lord Jesus, You are my Priest and King. Rule over my life, and grant me righteousness and peace from the Father. Amen.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:11 perfection. OT sacrifices and the Levitical priesthood foreshadowed what was completed in Christ. The fullness and reality of salvation comes through Christ, the true substance of salvation (Col 2:17). See p 1903.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:12 change in the law. The law stipulates the rituals and ceremonies of worship, and its fulfillment depended on the Levitical priesthood. Changing the priesthood means changing the nature of worship.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:14 descended from Judah. Jesus, although a descendant of Abraham and David, was not a descendant of the priestly tribe of Levi.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:16 Because Jesus is the eternal Son of God, He needs no priestly descent to serve as the true High Priest of all people.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:17 Ps 110:4 prophetically speaks of Christ glorified at the right hand of the Father. See note, Heb 1:3.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:19 the law made nothing perfect. The law could not bring the fullness of redemption that could only come through the priestly suffering and glory of Jesus. See "perfect," p 1903. a better hope. Jesus Christ, the perfect Priest, gives us access to the Father, who declares us innocent. The new covenant fulfills the old covenant and offers a lasting solution to the weaknesses of the Levitical priesthood. we draw near to God. We cry, "Lord, have mercy," confident that He will graciously help us in our weakness.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:20 an oath. Cf 6:13–20.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:21 Ps 110:4 again, emphasizing God's promise concerning the unending priesthood of Jesus.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:22 guarantor of a better covenant. Jesus is our living guarantee that in Him we have the fullness of God's mercy and new life. See note, v 19.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:24 He continues forever. Since our High Priest, Christ, has passed through death to life, His priesthood and promises will never end.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:25 draw near to God through Him. Through trust in Christ, we have access to all the Father's gifts, including the Holy Spirit (Lk 11:11–13). lives to make intercession. Jesus presents our needs to the Father, praying on our behalf that we may receive the gift of life to the full (cf Jn 10:10b). Luth: "If here by faith we do not take hold of Christ, who is sitting at the right hand of God, who is our life and our righteousness, and who makes intercession for us miserable sinners before the Father (Heb. 7:25), then we are under the Law and not under grace, and Christ is no longer a Savior. Then He is a lawgiver. Then there can be no salvation left, but sure despair and eternal death will follow…. [But] I am baptized; and through the Gospel I have been called to a fellowship of righteousness and eternal life, to the kingdom of Christ, in which my conscience is at peace, where there is no Law but only the forgiveness of sins, peace, quiet, happiness, salvation, and eternal life" (AE 26:11).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:26–27 Luth: "The cross was the altar on which He, consumed by the fire of the boundless love which burned in His heart, presented the living and holy sacrifice of His body and blood to the Father with fervent intercession, loud cries, and hot, anxious tears (Heb. 5:7)" (AE 13:319).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:26 holy, innocent, unstained, separated from sinners, and exalted above the heavens. Jesus is holy because He is sinless, innocent because He never had personal guilt, and unstained because He was a spotless victim for His pure sacrifice for sins. A true human being, He is also truly the Son of God from eternity and so is forever without sin. See "holy," p 7.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:27 once for all. The sacrifice of Christ is eternally unique, valid, and effective. See "Christ's Death and Atonement," pp 2103–4.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:28 God's own promise concerning the unending priestly office of Jesus remains eternally in effect (cf 5:5–10; 7:17, 20–21). Hus: "The apostles did not call themselves most holy popes, heads of the universal church, or universal pontiffs; but, having with them the High Priest even unto the consummation of the age, they called themselves servants of Christ, his companions in tribulation and ministers of the church" (The Church, p 122). made perfect forever. Jesus' high priestly perfection comes through His once-for-all sacrifice. See note, 2:10.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 7:11–28 Though the Levitical priesthood could not bring the fullness of God's salvation, Jesus, the sinless and perfect Priest, serves eternally as the one who brings our needs to the Father. In Him we have access to God's blessings. His perfect work reminds us that death will always cut short even the best effort that anyone makes to serve God. However, Jesus freely brings us God's eternal blessings through His sacrificial death. • Father, thank You for providing us with a true High Priest, who serves us with purity and perfection. Amen.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON Ch 8 "We teach that the sacrifice of Christ dying on the cross has been enough for the sins of the whole world. There is no need for other sacrifices, as though Christ's sacrifice were not enough for our sins. So people are justified not because of any other sacrifices, but because of this one sacrifice of Christ, if they believe that they have been redeemed by this sacrifice. So they are called priests, not in order to make any sacrifices for the people as in the Law, that by these they may merit forgiveness of sins for the people. Rather, they are called to teach the Gospel and administer the Sacraments to the people. Nor do we have another priesthood like the Levitical, as the Epistle to the Hebrews teaches well enough" (Ap XIII 8–10).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 8:1 seated at the right hand. Christ ascended to reign and exercises full divine power according to His human nature. throne. See note, Ezk 1:28; see also pp 1565–66. the Majesty. God the Father. heaven. The dwelling of God; not the sky or a merely physical location (cf Eph 4:10).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 8:2 minister. Gk leitourgos, an official assistant or minister. Here, one who performs a priestly ministry. in the holy places. Or, "of the holy things." the true tent. Heaven, which Christ entered after He rose from the dead.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 8:3 Cf Lv 9:6–7, 22. Just as the OT high priests offered animal sacrifices to God, Christ fulfilled His priestly ministry by offering His body on the cross. He then distributes the benefits of His sacrifice and intercedes for us. See pp 170–71.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 8:4 He would not be a priest. Because He was not from the priestly tribe of Levi.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 8:5 a copy and shadow. OT tabernacle foreshadowed Christ's person and work. See notes, 10:1; Col 2:17. heavenly things. Chrys: "What are the heavenly things he speaks of here? The spiritual things. For although they are done on earth, yet nevertheless they are worthy of the Heavens. For when our Lord Jesus Christ lies slain [as a sacrifice (cf 10:12)], when the Spirit is with us, when He who sits on the right hand of the Father is here, when sons are made by the Washing … how can all these be other than 'heavenly things'?" (NPNF 1 14:434).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 8:6 more excellent … the covenant He mediates is better. See note, 7:22; cf 9:15. covenant. See p 127. better promises. Forgiveness of sins and eternal life for all who repent and believe in Christ (cf vv 8–12).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 8:7 The old covenant's limitations anticipated perfection in Christ's work.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 8:8 finds fault. See notes, vv 7, 13. establish a new covenant. The promise of the Gospel had been with humanity since Gn 3. At the cross, it would be put into effect. See notes, Heb 8:6, 9–13.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 8:9 The old covenant, despite being given in the miraculous time of the exodus, was not kept by Israel.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 8:10 laws into their minds … hearts. Renewal or sanctification. Luth: "To be in the mind means to be understood; to be in the heart means to be loved" (AE 29:198). I will be their God. The adoption of sinful humans to be God's people. Luth: "This light of understanding in the mind, I say, and this flame in the heart is the law of faith, the new law, the law of Christ, the law of the Spirit, the law of grace. It justifies, fulfills everything, and crucifies the lusts of the flesh. Thus St. Augustine says beautifully on this passage: 'In a sense the man who with a love of righteousness lives righteously lives the Law itself' " (AE 27:234).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 8:11 they shall all know Me. The saving knowledge of God and the Spirit's gifts will become much clearer. Many more nations will know God. On the Last Day, all people will see the Lord, some with joy, but others with weeping (1Co 13:12; Mt 13:41–42).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 8:12 For I will be merciful. People will grow in knowledge of God to receive His mercy for Christ's sake. See "mercy," p 1903.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 8:13 makes the first one obsolete. The first covenant is a shadow of the second and fades in the brightness of Christ's new work. See note, v 5.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON Ch 8 The old covenant, because it could not permanently address the problem of sin, would "vanish away." As Priest, Christ came to establish an everlasting covenant and atonement for our sins. • O merciful God, forgive us our sins for the sake of Jesus' sacrifice. Amen.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:1 regulations for worship. The Levitical, ceremonial law (cf Lv 1–7). On the character of worship in the NT, consider the background provided from the Psalms (pp 959, 993), synagogue practices (see notes, Lk 4:16–21), apostolic adaptation of synagogue practices (see notes, 1Co 14:1, 16–17, 23), and descriptions of Christian gatherings (e.g., see note, Ac 20:7). earthly place of holiness. The tabernacle and, later, the temple. See diagram, p 139.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:2 the Holy Place. First section of the tabernacle, where the priests carried out the daily liturgy. Chrys: "The holy place then is a symbol of the former [OT] period (for there all things are done by means of sacrifices); but the Holy of Holies [is a symbol] of this [NT period] that is now present. And by the Holy of Holies he means Heaven" (NPNF 1 14:438). See note, v 9.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:3 the Most Holy Place. Or, "the Holy of Holies." Inner section of the tabernacle into which no one but the high priest could enter. Cf Lv 16:2–3.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:4 golden altar of incense. Located near the Most Holy Place (Ex 40:26–27).
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:5 cherubim. See note, Ezk 10:1. of glory. God spoke from this majesty, which appeared between the two cherubim (Nu 7:89). mercy seat. Gk hilasterion, "place of atonement," the golden lid on the ark of the covenant. It was the focus of the ritual for the OT Day of Atonement (Lv 16). See diagram, p 203.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:7 unintentional sins. Though the Day of Atonement was for all sins (cf Lv 16:16, 30), the sinful ignorance of priests and people is stressed here (cf Rm 10:3). See pp 170–71.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:8 the Holy Spirit indicates. The Holy Spirit spoke through Moses and gave all the OT rituals a divinely intended meaning. not yet opened. The way to heaven, symbolized by the temple's Most Holy Place, was not fully revealed until Christ appeared. See notes, Mk 15:38; Lk 23:45; Rm 3:21, 25.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:9 symbolic for the present age. The first section of the temple represented the OT sacrificial system and earth. cannot perfect the conscience. The sacrifices could not provide lasting atonement for the people, but were effective only as they pointed to Christ's sacrifice. See "perfect," p 1903.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:10 time of reformation. Institution of Christ's new covenant; change from OT ceremonies to NT sacramental life.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:1–10 The Holy Place of the tabernacle was a picture of the old covenant and the old sacrificial system. But the Most Holy Place was a picture of heaven and of Christ's new covenant. OT services, therefore, pointed ahead to Christ, while NT services celebrate His work, distribute His benefits, and anticipate His return. Christ is the true Priest who sacrificed Himself to reconcile us to the Father. • O Lord, send us Your Holy Spirit and increase reverence in us toward Your Word and service. Amen.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:11 the good things that have come. These good things (redemption, salvation, forgiveness) have come to believers in the Word and Sacraments and will be fully bestowed in the future resurrection (cf 2Co 1:10). more perfect tent. Heaven and the new covenant that Christ brings (cf 10:20).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:12 entered once … by means of His own blood. Christ entered heaven to present His sacrificed blood to the Father. eternal redemption. With His sacrifice, He freed us from our imprisonment. Because His sacrifice is eternal, it needs no repetition like the OT sacrifices. Luth: "With His own blood, to be sure, He redeemed and sanctified all men just once. But because we are not yet perfectly pure but remnants of sin still cling to our flesh and the flesh wars against the spirit, therefore He comes spiritually every day; day by day He completes the time set by the Father more and more, abrogating and abolishing the Law" (AE 26:360).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:13 sprinkling of defiled persons … ashes. These sacrifices showed that cleansing was necessary in God's sight (cf Nu 19).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:14 how much more. Infinitely more, because Christ is not only man, but is also the infinite God. blood … purify. Christ's human blood does a divine work, purifying us from sin; this results in a joyful conscience. through the eternal Spirit offered Himself. Sacrificed Himself in the power of the Holy Spirit (Jn 3:34; Ac 10:38). without blemish. Without sin. See note, Lv 1:3. dead works. See note, 6:1.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:15 mediator. Chrys: "The Son became Mediator between the Father and us. The Father willed not to leave us this inheritance, but was enraged against us … ; [the Son] accordingly became Mediator between us and Him, and prevailed with Him" (NPNF 1 14:443). See note, 1Tm 2:5. called. Summoned to salvation by the preaching of the Gospel. See p 1901; see also SC, Third Article, p xxxvii. a death … redeems them. Christ's death was the just punishment for our sins, which He took upon Himself to buy back the whole human race from God's wrath. See "redemption," p 1904.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:16–17 Christ's death put His last will and testament into effect.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:16 will. Gk diatheke, translated elsewhere as "covenant." See p 127. A will, or testament, is a specific kind of covenant, which promises an inheritance to others upon the writer's death.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:18 not … without blood. The new covenant would require Christ's death. See p 136.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:20 With these words, God through Moses confirmed the old covenant through blood. Christ used similar words to give us His blood of the new covenant in the Holy Supper (1Co 11:25).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:21 used in worship. Gk leitourgias, "of the liturgy or service." The holy vestments (Ex 29:21), etc. All the vessels of the OT tabernacle assisted with blood sacrifice and received their holiness from God through that sacrifice.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:22 almost everything is purified with blood. Even where blood was not applied to the objects being purified, sacrifice often was part of the purification (cf Nu 19:4). without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness of sins. Cf Heb 9:7, 18. Christ's bloodshed and death were the actual work of reconciliation. Christ "was crucified, died, and was buried. He did this to reconcile the Father to us" (AC III 2–3).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:23 copies of the heavenly things. The tabernacle seen by Moses was the original; the tabernacle made by the Israelites was a copy. heavenly things. Moses saw these (Ex 25:40); Christ opens these heavenly realms to us.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:24 copies. Gk antitypa, "antitypes, counterparts," things patterned off an original (Gk typos). See "type," p 1904. into heaven. Christ ascended, but neither God nor Christ according to His humanity is limited to "heaven." Cf Eph 4:10; see FC SD VIII 27–28. in the presence of God. God sees believers through Christ. See "presence," p 843.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:25 Christ did not enter heaven to sacrifice for us daily but to pray for us.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:26 once for all. Christ's sacrifice is perfect and finished. See note, Jn 19:30. It is repeated neither in the Holy Supper nor in the suffering of believers. Instead, in the Lord's Supper we eat and drink His body and blood, already sacrificed once, and we receive the benefits of His sacrifice (forgiveness, life, and salvation). Therefore, the Spirit conforms our lives to His life so that we offer to Him sacrifices of praise and thanksgiving. See note, Heb 13:15. Luth: "That, I say, is our gospel, that Christ has made us righteous and holy through that sacrifice and has redeemed us from sin, death, and the devil and has brought us into his heavenly kingdom. We have to grasp this and hold it fast through faith alone…. All our own works undertaken to expiate sin and escape from death are necessarily blasphemous. They deny God and insult the sacrifice that Christ has made and disgrace his blood, because they try thereby to do what only Christ's blood can do" (AE 36:313). end of the ages. Christ's sacrifice was the fulfillment of all past ages, and it ushered in the last age of the world in which we now live. See note, 1:2; see also p 2199.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:27 die once. See p 1750. after that comes judgment. Because all humans die once, Christ's sacrifice cannot be repeated. Also, one cannot hope for a second life by which he might appease God through his own actions.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:28 Christ … will appear a second time. For the last judgment. See notes, 2Tm 4:1; Ti 2:13. not to deal with sin. He comes without our sins (Is 53:6), which He bore as a heavy load (Jn 1:29) when the Father made Him to be sin for us (2Co 5:21). Also, He comes not in the likeness of sinful flesh (Rm 8:3), but in the majesty of His transfigured body (Mt 24:30; Php 3:21).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 9:11–28 Christ will come from His heavenly sanctuary and take us to Himself with joy. Our greatest joy should be Jesus and His priestly ministry, for He delighted in us, making us the heirs of His last will and testament. • Lord Jesus, by Your blood there is forgiveness of sins. Continue to purify me that I might honor You. Amen.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:1–18 "There are two kinds of sacrifice and no more. One is the atoning sacrifice, that is, a work that makes satisfaction for guilt and punishment. It reconciles God, or reconciles His wrath and merits the forgiveness of sins for others. The other kind is the eucharistic [thankful] sacrifice, which does not merit the forgiveness of sins or reconciliation. It is practiced by those who have been reconciled, so that we may give thanks or return gratitude for the forgiveness of sins" (Ap XXIV 19, emphasis added).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:1 shadow … true form. Sacrifices foreshadowed Christ's person and work. See notes, 8:5; Col 2:17. make perfect. Purify from sins and sanctify. See note, Heb 2:10.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:2 Gk grammar implies a yes answer to the question. The sacrifices would have ceased.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:3 The annual Day of Atonement reminded Israel that they needed cleansing from sin.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:4 Cf Lv 17:11. "In fact there has been only one atoning sacrifice in the world, namely, Christ's death" (Ap XXIV 22). Through the OT sacrifices, God forgave sins on the basis of Christ's sacrifice.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:5–18 Using the OT, the writer displays the testimony of the Son (v 5) and the Spirit (v 15) about the institution of the new covenant prepared by the heavenly Father ("You," vv 5–6). Note that in vv 15–17, the Holy Spirit is equated with "the Lord" (Hbr Yahweh; see p 1227).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:5–7 Quotation from LXX version of Ps 40:6–8.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:5–6 He said. The Spirit of Christ inspired the psalmist. If Jesus also spoke these words during His earthly ministry, the Gospels have not recorded it. Cf Jn 20:30–31; 21:25. not desired … taken no pleasure. Only through faith in Christ were these sacrifices pleasing to God. body have You prepared. Wording from the LXX, which seeks to clarify the difficult Hbr expression "ears You have dug out [prepared] for me," which emphasizes that God helps a person hear His Word. It is possible that the LXX manuscripts with "body" were taking "ears" to represent the whole person (a synecdoche). In that case, a person would commit himself to obeying God after hearing His Word. However, the similarity of the Gk letters for "ears" and "body" when tightly written may also have caused the variant.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:7 to do Your will. To fulfill the Law, to satisfy God's justice, and to accomplish the redemption of the human race. See note, Mt 26:39.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:9 He does away with the first. The Lord, speaking through the psalmist, fulfills and ends the old sacrifices that He Himself set up. This shows they were temporary and that, with His own sacrifice, Christ would set up the new covenant.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:10 will. Gk thelema, "intention." Not to be confused with "testament, covenant" as described in 9:16 (see note there). God's gracious will is expressed in the new testament as a "will," or covenant. sanctified. Sins have been taken away. See p 1904. "Christ's passion was an offering and satisfaction, not only for original guilt, but also for all other sins" (AC XXV 25).
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:12 He sat down at the right hand of God. Christ sits, showing that His atoning sacrifice is finished. However, He continues to pray for us as our own High Priest. See note, 8:1.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:13 footstool. See note, Ps 110:1.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:14 perfected … sanctified. See "holy," p 7. Luth: "Everything is forgiven through grace, but not everything is yet healed through the gift. The gift is poured in, the leaven is added, and it works to remove the sin which has already been forgiven to the person, and to drive out the evil guest, whom it has permission to drive out. Meanwhile, as this is happening, it is called sin and in its nature truly is sin, but now it is sin without wrath" (StL 18:1165). Luth: "Of this sacrifice and offering he has instituted a perpetual remembrance in that he intends to have it proclaimed in the sacrament of the altar and thereby have faith in it strengthened" (AE 40:14).
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:15 See notes, 2:4; 2Pt 1:21.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:16 See note, 8:10.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:18 No other offering is needed because Christ's perfect sacrifice brings perfect forgiveness.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:1–18 Christ offered up only one sacrifice for the sins of the world—Himself. He "perfects" or completes us by applying the benefits of His sacrifice to us in Holy Baptism and in His Holy Supper. Whenever you study the Word or hear it at church, expect the Lord to change your life and strengthen your faith, for He desires to change your heart and mind by grace. • Merciful God, for Jesus' sake forgive my sins. Grant me the Holy Spirit, that I may fulfill Your will. Amen.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:19–12:29 Urgent exhortation warning against apostasy.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:19 brothers. See p 1901. confidence. Gk parresia, "boldness to say all things." enter the holy places. Into heaven to God, our heavenly Father (cf 9:12). See note, 6:19.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:20 new and living way. See note, 9:8. the curtain, that is, through His flesh. As the high priest passed through the curtain to enter the Most Holy Place, we "enter" heaven only through Christ's flesh. Christ's body and soul were divided in death as the curtain of the temple was torn (Mt 27:51). Just as the curtain was torn open, our way into heaven through Christ is now open. Luth: "He first sets forth the example of Christ, our Leader, who fights in the forefront. Although under no compulsion, yet for the purpose of buoying up our confidence He crossed over first of all, and He smooths the exceedingly rough road. Then the apostle points out that Christ not only gave an example by crossing over, but that He also holds out His hand to those who follow" (AE 29:226).
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:21 the house of God. The Church (cf 3:6).
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:22–24 Due to Christ's sacrifice, God gives us faith (v 22), hope (v 23), and love (v 24). Cf 1Co 13:13.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:22 a true heart. An honest, believing heart. Cf 4:16. full assurance. Cf Mk 9:24. sprinkled clean from an evil conscience. Proclamation of Christ's cleansing sacrifice relieves and strengthens our conscience so that we see ourselves and the certainty of God's mercy clearly. Cf 1Pt 1:18–19; see notes, Ezk 36:22–38; 36:25. "Where the heart is not in a right relationship with God, or cannot take such confidence, it will not dare to pray anymore. Such a confident and joyful heart can spring from nothing else than the certain knowledge of the forgiveness of sin" (LC III 92). our bodies washed with pure water. By Baptism (Eph 5:26; Ti 3:5). See p 1369. Luth: "This old man consists of error, concupiscence, wrath, fear, apprehension, despair, evil conscience, horror of death, etc. Those are characteristics of the old, carnal man. They diminish, however, in the new man, but they are not extinguished until he himself is extinguished by death…. Rather the process of removal has begun, and as a person increases in spiritual health these evils are removed. This spiritual health is nothing more than faith in or love in Christ" (AE 31:124).
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:23 the confession of our hope. Cf 3:1, 14. Encouraging his hearers to stand firmly, confessing Christ.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:24–25 "It is not enough to teach and instruct alone. There is also need for daily encouragement…. So here also there is need for us to continue to preach so that people may not become weary and disgusted. For we know and feel how the devil always opposes this and every Christian exercise. He drives and deters people from them as much as he can" (LC V 44).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:25 neglecting to meet together. God requires Christians to gather to hear His Word preached, receive the Sacraments, pray, sing, and give thanks (cf Rm 10:14; Lk 22:19–20; Ac 2:38; Rm 15:30; Ps 30:4). Those who despise the Church easily fall from the faith. the Day drawing near. When Christ will return for judgment. Cf Heb 10:37; Mt 25:31–32.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:26–27 Describes the sin against the Holy Spirit, a challenging issue of interpretation. See notes, 6:4–6; 12:17; Mk 3:29–30; cf Mt 12:31–32. Also refer to the examples of Saul and David, both of whom fell into manifest sin and would face God's rebuke and wrath. Saul did not repent but turned away from the Lord (1Sm 15:10–11). David repented when confronted with his sin (2Sm 12:13).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:26 sinning deliberately. Persistently doing what we know is wrong. no longer remains a sacrifice for sins. See notes, 6:4–6. Chrys: "He did not say, no more is there repentance, or no more is there remission, but 'no more' is there a 'sacrifice,' that is, there is no more a second Cross" (NPNF 1 14:457). There is no salvation apart from Christ's sacrifice.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:28 has set aside the law. Treated the Law as invalid or spurned it. dies without mercy. Without hope for pardon. two or three witnesses. See notes, Dt 17:6; Mt 18:16.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:29 profaned the blood of the covenant. Considering Christ's blood to be common and so despising Christ's sacrifice. Cf Mt 26:28. outraged the Spirit of grace? "God will receive into grace all who repent and believe in Christ." But "He also will punish those who willfully … despise God's Spirit…. They will be hardened, blinded, and eternally condemned if they persist in such things" (FC SD XI 83).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:32 enlightened. Given the Holy Spirit, esp through conversion and Baptism. See note, 6:4; see also FC Ep II 13.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:33 publicly exposed. Cf Ac 4; 8:1–3; 12:1–5; 14:19; 16:16–24; 19:21–41; 21:27–28:31. reproach. Verbal abuse.

affliction. Probably physical abuse.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:34 a better possession. Kingdom of heaven. Cf 12:28; see "portion," p 7.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:35 confidence. See note, v 19. great reward. Luth: "They already have the kingdom of heaven, and yet … they will have it even more gloriously when it is revealed" (AE 21:292).
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:36 done the will of God. Confessing the Gospel through a godly life and a steadfast faith.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:37–38 Combines and interprets the LXX versions of Is 26:20 and Hab 2:3.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:38 live by faith. See notes, Hab 2:4; Rm 1:17.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 10:19–39 All Christians need patience through many sorrows. God calls us to do His will, bearing our crosses patiently, and He equips us with His Word and Spirit. He has promised eternal salvation to all who steadfastly confess Christ. • Lord Jesus, strengthen me to confess You without wavering. When I fall, grant me a repentant heart. Amen.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:1 faith. "Faith is not only knowledge in the intellect, but also confidence in the will" (Ap V 183). assurance. Or, "confidence." Gk term describes something substantive. Bern: "The substance, he says, of things hoped for, not a fantasy of empty conjectures. You hear, that is a substance; and therefore it is not allowed you in our faith, to suppose or oppose at your pleasure, nor to wander hither and thither amongst empty opinions, through devious errors. Under the name of substance something certain and fixed is put before you. You are enclosed in known bounds, shut in within fixed limits. For faith is not an opinion but a certitude" (SLSB, pp 272–73). hoped for. See p 1903. "If anyone wants a distinction between faith and hope, we say that the object of hope is properly a future event, but that faith is concerned with future and present things. Faith receives the forgiveness of sins offered in the promise in the present" (Ap V 191). Luth: "One of the noblest and most precious virtues of faith is to close one's eyes to this, ingenuously to desist from exploring the why and the wherefore, and cheerfully to leave everything to God. Faith does not insist on knowing the reason for God's actions, but it still regards God as the greatest goodness and mercy. Faith holds to that against and beyond all reason, sense, and experience, when everything appears to be wrath and injustice" (AE 43:52).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:2 Scripture testifies that the OT saints are righteous and pleasing to God.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:3 created by the Word of God. Emphasizes that God spoke creation into existence. See note, Gn 1:3; cf Jn 1:1–4. what is seen was not made out of things that are visible. Just as God's Word created real, visible things from nothing, so our faith is certain, although it does not yet see the realities it confesses. See note, Gn 1:1.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:4 more acceptable sacrifice. See note, v 6. "In this life the good works of believers are imperfect and impure because of sin in the flesh, nevertheless they are acceptable and well pleasing to God. However, the Law does not teach how and why the good works of believers are acceptable. It demands a completely perfect, pure obedience if it is to please God. But the Gospel teaches that our spiritual offerings are acceptable to God through faith for Christ's sake" (FC SD VII 22). commended as righteous. God accepts both the sacrifice and the sacrificer. See "righteous," p 843. he still speaks. Abel's example, recorded in Scripture, still speaks to us. See note, 12:1.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:5 pleased God. See note, v 6.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:6 without faith it is impossible to please Him. "Only justified people, who are led by the Spirit of Christ, can do good works. Without faith and Christ as Mediator, good works do not please" (Ap V 251). He exists … He rewards. Saving faith trusts both in God's existence and in His mercy for Christ's sake. Luth: "It is evident that in theology the work does not amount to anything without faith, but that faith must precede before you can do works…. The sacrifice of Abel was better because he believed. But because Cain was an ungodly man and a hypocrite, he performed a work that was moral, or rather one that was reasonable, by which he sought to please God. Therefore the work of Cain was hypocritical and faithless; in it there was no faith in grace but only a presumption about his own righteousness" (AE 26:264). See note, Gn 4:6. rewards. See note, Mt 5:12.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:7 in reverent fear. More afraid of disobeying God than of losing other people's favor. See p 1001. condemned the world. Through the ark, he showed that God's threat of destruction was real. See note, 1Pt 3:20.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:10 the city. The heavenly Jerusalem (cf Gal 4:26). See "Zion," p 844.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:11 she considered Him faithful. Chrys: "While her laughter indeed was from unbelief, her fear [was] from Faith…. When unbelief had been cleared out, Faith came in its place" (NPNF 1 14:471).
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:13 not having received the things promised. See note, vv 39–40.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:14 homeland. Lit, "fatherland," the country of our heavenly Father.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:18 God promised descendants through Isaac.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:19 he did receive him back. Chrys: "By means of the ram [Abraham] received him again, having slain it in his stead. But these things were types: for here it is the Son of God who is slain" (NPNF 1 14:478).
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:23 not afraid of the king's edict. They feared God more than the evil king. Cf Ex 1:17, 21.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:26 reproach of Christ. The Israelites suffered in Egypt because they hoped in the Messiah.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:27 not being afraid. Though at first afraid (Ex 2:14), Moses fled in faith from Egypt, intending to return when the time was right.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:28 Passover. Gk pascha. Cf 1Co 5:7; see pp 200–201. sprinkled. Or, "poured." Destroyer of the firstborn. See note, Ex 12:23.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:31 Rahab the prostitute. God will judge the sexually immoral (13:4), yet God changed Rahab through repentance, faith, and action (see note, Jsh 2:9; cf Mk 1:15).
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:32 say? Indicates that Hebrews was likely preached as a sermon. See "Anonymous," p 2103. time would fail me. The many others who could be mentioned show that those already listed are esp important.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:35 Some were tortured. May refer to 2Macc 6:18–7:42, where Eleazar, his six brothers, and his mother refuse to partake in pagan sacrifices. release. From prison and torture, if they would deny the faith. rise again. They retained their faith and eternal life despite torture.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:37 sawn in two. Some ancient writers say Isaiah suffered this. See ANF 1:259; 3:716.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:38 the world was not worthy. The world despised God's saints, even though they were truly worthy of praise. Only

God counts them worthy through faith to receive His promises. dens and caves. Cf 1Macc 2:29–41.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 11:39–40 did not receive what was promised. They did not see and hear the promised Messiah. made perfect. The full resurrection, which will come for the OT saints and for us on the Last Day.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON Ch 11 Faith trusts even without sight what God has set forth in His Word. True faith is active in love and is steadfast under persecution. By His resurrection, Christ conquered death and now provides His Holy Spirit to strengthen us. • "Lord, be our light when worldly darkness veils us; Lord, be our shield when earthly armor fails us; And in the day when hell itself assails us, Grant us Your peace, Lord." Amen. (LSB 659:3)

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:1 cloud of witnesses. The many saints (ch 11) show that we are not alone in the struggle to confess Christ. Like a cloud, the saints' examples are visible, though we cannot touch those who went before us. Cf Mt 17:1–5. witnesses. Gk martys, from which "martyr" comes. God commended those who bore witness to their faith, and they are examples of right faith and good works. lay aside every weight. Believers here still have sin clinging closely. Though justified, we are also sinners until we reach heaven. let us run. The Christian life, as a long-distance race, demands staying on the path and finishing. Cf 2Tm 4:7. Luth: "Therefore sin remains in the spiritual man for the exercise of grace, for the humbling of pride, for the repression of presumptuousness…. Only to those who manfully struggle and fight against their faults, invoking the grace of God, does God not impute sin. Therefore he who comes to confession should not think that he is laying down his burden so that he may lead a quiet life, but he should know that by putting down his burden he fights as a soldier of God and thus takes on another burden for God in opposition to the devil and to his own personal faults" (AE 25:339).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:2 Jesus, the founder and perfecter of our faith. Jesus opened the way to salvation, and His new covenant will never be superseded. He creates our faith through the Gospel and Sacraments, and His Spirit brings us to the consummation of our salvation. See notes, 2:10; Eph 2:8–9. for the joy. The joy of bringing others to heavenly glory by way of the cross. despising the shame. Christ was not afraid to redeem us, despite the humiliation He experienced.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:1–2 The Christian life is an endurance race, run with remembrance of the saints who have already finished. But most of all, we look to Jesus and His cross. In Him, our race is already won. • Lord Jesus, save me from my sin, which clings so closely, and give me endurance to do Your will. Amen.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:3 sinners. Leaders and crowds in Jerusalem who opposed Jesus.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:4 not … shedding your blood. Though they had suffered (10:33), they had not yet died for confessing Christ. This may refer to persecution under Emperor Nero. See "Anonymous," p 2103.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:5–6 See notes, Pr 3:11–12. Luth: "If so many judgments, pains, deaths, martyrdoms, crosses, swords, fires, and beasts, with which the saints are chastised, are fatherly rods and loving chastisements, what will be the wrath of the Judge over the ungodly? … And if His judgment begins at the house of God, what will be the end of those who do not believe the Gospel?" (AE 11:467–68).
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:7 Suffering actually proves their discipleship. See note, 2:10.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:8 illegitimate children. Born out of wedlock or to a slave. Cf Gal 4:21–31.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:9 Father of spirits. God is a Father to the souls of those who are baptized (Rm 8:15; 1Co 12:13). See note, Jn 3:5; cf Nu 27:16; Jn 3:6; Rv 22:6.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:10 He disciplines us for our good. Luth: "It seems to us as though we were forsaken by God on the cross, but precisely then we are loved and cared for most" (AE 12:296). Cf Rm 8:28. share His holiness. Through hardship, the Holy Spirit quenches lust and kills the flesh, to prepare us for eternal life (Rm 8:18–27). Cf Heb 12:14; 1Pt 4:1–2; see SC, Baptism, Part 4, p xl.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:11 the peaceful fruit of righteousness. A peaceful conscience and righteous heart.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:13 not be put out of joint. Just as a sprained ankle must be protected, discouraged Christians must be cared for and protected by their fellow believers.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:14 Strive for peace. Do not wait for peace. Actively seek it, without compromising confession of the truth (cf Zec 8:16–19). holiness. Through Christ's sacrifice, Christians are already considered "holy" in God's sight (Heb 3:1). Just as Christians will actually be holy in heaven, they should strive to become holy on earth. See "holy," p 1902. see the Lord. Seeing God face-to-face and enjoying His gracious presence (1Co 13:12; 1Jn 3:2–3; cf 1Co 6:9–11).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:15 fails to obtain the grace of God. By delaying repentance. Cf Mt 25:1–13. root of bitterness. Someone who brings forth the evil fruit of false doctrine or of godless living.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:16 sexually immoral. Or, "a fornicator." See notes, Gn 26:35; 27:46; 1Co 6:9–10. like Esau, who sold his birthright. He was "unholy" or profane, cut off from divine things.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:17 blessing. See p 842. no chance to repent. Luth: "It is clear how the passage in Heb. 12:16–17 is to be understood…. God, who does not deceive or lie, has offered His mercy to all men who truly repent; and repentance for sin always finds room before God…. But there is another repentance that is … false … namely, when I repent in such a way that I am not ashamed of having offended God but am ashamed because I have done harm to myself" (AE 5:151–52).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:3–17 God sees you as holy through Christ's sacrifice and disciplines you to struggle against sin. The unpleasant discipline shows that the Lord loves you as a true child. Put your faith into practice by encouraging others and by doing works of service. The Lord is ever serving you, granting repentance, taking away your sins, and equipping you for a godly life. • Heavenly Father, share with me Your holiness, and let me see You face-to-face eternally. Amen.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:18–21 Describes the institution of old covenant services on Mount Sinai. This is contrasted with the institution of new covenant worship on Mount Zion (vv 22–24). Cf Lk 22:20.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:18 what may be touched. The earthly Mount Sinai.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:19 voice. God proclaiming His Law. Cf Ex 19:5. no further messages. Unable to bear God's messages directly, they wanted Moses to be their mediator.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:20 The penalty for profaning God's holiness was death, the penalty coming to them if they disobeyed God's Law. See note, Rm 6:23.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:21 I tremble with fear. Not a direct quote from the Books of Moses, but the thought can be deduced from Ex 19:19; Dt 9:19.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:22–24 Describes unseen riches in Christ viewed by faith.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:22 Zion. The Church, where God is graciously present in Gospel and Sacraments. Cf Gal 4:21–31; Ps 48; see p 844. heavenly Jerusalem. Both the Church Militant on earth and the Church Triumphant in heaven. festal gathering. Term used occasionally for Israel's festivals.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:23 assembly. Or, "congregation" (the Church). See "great congregation," p 842. firstborn. Because they are adopted into Christ (Col 1:18; cf Heb 11:28) and receive a special inheritance. spirits of the righteous made perfect. See note, 10:14. Souls of departed Christians are with Christ in heaven. Although believers here do not communicate with the blessed dead (cf Is 63:16), the Church Militant on earth is bound together with the Church Triumphant in heaven as one Body of Christ (Rm 12:5).
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:24 Jesus, the mediator of a new covenant. Jesus is present for us esp through His body and blood (cf Lk 22:20). the sprinkled blood. The two other NT passages that speak of blood and the new covenant refer clearly to the Lord's Supper (Lk 22:20; 1Co 11:25). Cf Heb 10:25; 12:28; 13:9–16. a better word than the blood of Abel. "Abel's blood for vengeance Pleaded to the skies; But the blood of Jesus For our pardon cries" (LSB 433:4).
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:25 Him who is speaking. Christ, who speaks through the Gospel and through the preaching of His servants. Him who warned them on earth. The Son of God, who revealed the Law on Mount Sinai and spoke to Israel through Moses. Him who warns from heaven. Christ, the Word, who revealed the Gospel on Mount Zion and still speaks through the apostles and prophets (Lk 10:16).
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:26 At that time. When the Law was first given. shook the earth. Earthquake.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:27 things that have been made. The created world, set to pass away. things that cannot be shaken may remain. God Himself, His gifts, and the people He has joined to Himself by grace.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:28 a kingdom that cannot be shaken. The kingdom of heaven. See pp 1565–66. offer to God acceptable worship. Possible only through grace in Christ, directed only to the triune God, and conducted with respectful wonder. On NT worship practices, see note, 9:1. with reverence and awe. Not frivolous, nonchalant, or trivial. God's presence calls for serious hearing, genuine repentance, and extraordinary joy. Cf Ps 2:12.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:29 our God is a consuming fire. God destroys whatever is useless and contrary to Himself. Cf 10:27.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 12:18–29 The Son of God's speaking and presence are the center of worship. When God the Son spoke the Law, His people were terrified. But His sprinkled blood speaks better things to us: forgiveness, life, and salvation. • Lord Jesus Christ, sprinkle us with Your blood and fill us with Your Spirit, that through You we may offer acceptable worship to the Father. Amen.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:2 On importance of hospitality, see notes, Gn 18:4; Rm 12:13.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:3 those who are in prison. Not criminals but believers suffering persecution, possibly under Emperor Nero. See "Anonymous," p 2103. mistreated. Torture or martyrdom (cf 11:35–38).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:4 let the marriage bed be undefiled. Not contaminated by sexual immorality. Cf Lv 18. See also pp 2120–21. God will judge. He will punish with bodily afflictions, heartbreak, and if they do not repent, eternal condemnation. sexually immoral. See note, 12:16.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:7 leaders. Office distinct from "the saints" (v 24). Its duty was to speak God's Word (v 7) and refute error (cf v 9). See note, v 17. Perhaps former elders or pastors, including some already put to death for their Christian confession. the outcome. Confessing Christ to the end, they died trusting in Him. imitate. See note, Php 4:9; cf 1Th 1:6.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:8 the same. According to His eternal divinity, He is unchangeable (Mal 3:6). His covenant of grace also does not change. Cf Jn 1:1.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:9 strange teachings. New teachings, not supported by Scripture. not by foods. Either dietary rules (see note, Col 2:16) or sacrificial meals (see notes, 1Co 10:25–29a). OT sacrificial meals strengthened faith in the coming Messiah. But with Christ's coming, these meals are no longer needed.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:10 altar. Table of the Lord (1Co 10:21), from which the faithful receive the Lord's body and blood. See note, 9:26. serve the tent. Those who still seek cleansing and forgiveness through the OT rituals performed at the temple. "Tent" is used to describe the impermanent nature of their devotion. The OT could not last. no right to eat. Distinguishes those who may commune from those who may not. The distinction depends on the faith they confess in their speech and actions. "The priest stands daily at the altar, inviting some to the Communion and keeping back others" (AC XXIV 36). See note, 1Co 11:28; see also p 1965.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:13 go to Him outside. Join Him in being rejected by unbelievers. outside the camp. Phrase used in Lv, Ex, and Nu to describe where unholy things such as refuse should be discarded. Here used ironically to describe abuse and rejection of Jesus by the Jerusalem authorities.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:14 the city that is to come. The new Jerusalem, the kingdom of heaven. Cf Gal 4:26; Rv 21:2. Luth: "God permits him [a Christian] to remain alive in the flesh and lets his body walk the earth in order that he may help others and bring them to heaven too. Therefore we must use everything on earth in no other way than as a guest who travels across country…. Thus we must also deal with temporal goods as if they did not belong to us. We must limit our enjoyment of them to what is necessary for the preservation of the body. With the rest we must help our neighbor" (AE 30:35).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:15–16 "In these last times it is certainly no less needful to encourage people to Christian discipline 'to the way of right and godly living' and to do good works. We need to remind them of how necessary it is that they exercise themselves in good works as a declaration of their faith [Matthew 5:16] and gratitude to God" (FC Ep IV 18).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:15 a sacrifice of praise to God. "These sacrifices are not satisfactions…. He asks us to offer praises, that is, prayer, thanksgiving, confession, and the like. These benefit not by the outward act, but because of faith" (Ap XXIV 25–26). the fruit of lips. God's forgiveness leads us to confess Him and praise Him. See SC, Second Commandment, p xxxv. Luth: "We learn that we do not offer Christ as a sacrifice, but that Christ offers us…. That is, we lay ourselves on Christ by a firm faith in his testament and do not otherwise appear before God with our prayer, praise, and sacrifice except through Christ and his mediation. Nor do we doubt that Christ is our priest or minister in heaven before God. Such faith, truly, brings it to pass that Christ takes up our cause, presents us and our prayer and praise, and also offers himself for us in heaven" (AE 35:99).

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:16 do good. Another fruit of forgiveness. sacrifices are pleasing to God. "Our spiritual offerings are acceptable to God through faith for Christ's sake" (FC SD VI 22).
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:17 Obey … submit. "This passage requires obedience to the Gospel. It does not establish a dominion for the bishops apart from the Gospel" (Ap XXVIII 20). See SC, Table of Duties, pp xlii–xliv. leaders. Same word as in v 7, but here speaks of leaders currently serving. watch over your souls … give an account. See note, Jas 3:1. Luth: "I have the commission and charge, as a preacher and a doctor, to see to it that no one is misled, so that I may give account of it at the Last Judgment" (AE 21:44). joy. A true pastor has joy when his hearers believe God's Word and lead godly lives.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:19 I may be restored. On the writer, see "Anonymous," p 2103.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:1–19 Instead of sacrificing bulls and goats, we should offer up true speech about God to praise Him and do good works to serve our neighbor. These sacrifices please God when they come from hearts trusting in Christ. To obtain pure hearts, Christ sacrificed Himself on the cross. • O Lord, open the mouths of Your humble servants to speak Your praise, so that leaving behind all error, we may rejoice in the confession of Your name. Amen.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:20–21 Final blessing recalls Christ's roles as shepherd and lamb, His perfect leadership and holy sacrifice.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:20 God of peace. Expression favored by Paul (Rm 16:20; Php 4:9; 1Th 5:23). brought again from the dead. All three persons of the Trinity were involved in Christ's resurrection (cf Jn 10:18; Rm 8:11). blood of the eternal covenant. With His blood, Christ empowered the new covenant of grace, a final covenant with eternal blessings.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:21 do His will. God's will is faith in Christ, revealed in the Gospel. This renews us to serve Him as His Law directs us. working in us. By the gift of the Holy Spirit through the Word and Sacraments. See note, Php 2:13.
HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:20–21 We should pray for ourselves and others that God would equip us for all good works to do His will. By His blood, shed on the cross, Jesus our Shepherd redeemed us and made us well-pleasing to His Father. • O God, through the blood of Christ's covenant make us complete in Your sight, and cause us to do Your will. Amen.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:22–25 On Letter conclusions, see pp 1899–1901.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:22 brothers. See p 1901. word of exhortation. Likely refers to the Book of Hebrews as a sermon but could describe this closing "letter." See "Anonymous," p 2103.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:23 our brother Timothy. Cf Php 1:1; Col 1:1; Phm 1; see pp 2066–67.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:24 Greet. Sign of fellowship. See note, Rm 16. all your leaders … saints. See notes, Heb 13:7, 17; 1Th 5:12. Those who come from Italy. Either those who are with the author in Italy or those who have come from Italy to the author. See "Anonymous," p 2103. It is possible that the recipients of the Letter could be in Rome or near Jerusalem. The Letter hints at no other possible locations.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:25 Grace. See pp 1899–1901, 1902.

HEBREWS—NOTE ON 13:22–25 Hebrews sets forth God's grace in Christ, earned on the cross, ratified in the new covenant, and distributed in Word and Sacrament. By holding fast to the teaching of this sermon and by receiving God's grace through faith, we have fellowship with the writer of Hebrews and all the saints and look forward to our inheritance with them in heaven. • Grant us grace, O Lord, to bear all the crosses of this life. Bring us, with all the saints, into the heavenly city. Amen.

James

James 1 | James 2 | James 3 | James 4 | James 5

- Introduction to James
  - Overview
  - Reading James
  - Luther on James
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Greeting

1 [1] ✝✝James, a servant[1] of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ,
To the twelve tribes in the Dispersion:
Greetings.

Testing of Your Faith

2 †Count it all joy, my brothers,[2] when you meet trials of various kinds, 3 †for you know that the testing of your faith produces steadfastness. 4 †And let steadfastness have its full effect, that you may be perfect and complete, lacking in nothing.

5 †If any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask God, who gives generously to all without reproach, and it will be given him. 6 †But let him ask in faith, with no doubting, for the one who doubts is like a wave of the sea that is driven and tossed by the wind. 7 †For that person must not suppose that he will receive anything from the Lord; 8 †he is a double-minded man, unstable in all his ways.

9 ‡ †Let the lowly brother boast in his exaltation, 10 and the rich in his humiliation, because like a flower of the grass[3] he will pass away. 11 †For the sun rises with its scorching heat and withers the grass; its flower falls, and its beauty perishes. So also will the rich man fade away in the midst of his pursuits.

12 †Blessed is the man who remains steadfast under trial, for when he has stood the test he will receive the crown of life, which God has promised to those who love him. 13 ‡ †Let no one say when he is tempted, "I am being tempted by God," for God cannot be tempted with evil, and he himself tempts no one. 14 But each person is tempted when he is lured and enticed by his own desire. 15 †Then desire when it has conceived gives birth to sin, and sin when it is fully grown brings forth death.

16 †Do not be deceived, my beloved brothers. 17 †Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights with whom there is no variation or shadow due to change.[4] 18 †Of his own will he brought us forth by the word of truth, that we should be a kind of firstfruits of his creatures.

Hearing and Doing the Word

[19] ‡ † Know this, my beloved brothers: let every person be quick to hear, slow to speak, slow to anger; [20] † for the anger of man does not produce the righteousness of God. [21] † Therefore put away all filthiness and rampant wickedness and receive with meekness the implanted word, which is able to save your souls.

[22] ‡ † But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves.
[23] ‡ For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks intently at his natural face in a mirror. [24] For he looks at himself and goes away and at once forgets what he was like. [25] † But the one who looks into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and perseveres, being no hearer who forgets but a doer who acts, he will be blessed in his doing.

[26] † If anyone thinks he is religious and does not bridle his tongue but deceives his heart, this person's religion is worthless. [27] † Religion that is pure and undefiled before God, the Father, is this: to visit orphans and widows in their affliction, and to keep oneself unstained from the world.

The Sin of Partiality

2 [1] ‡ † My brothers,[1] show no partiality as you hold the faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory. [2] ‡ † For if a man wearing a gold ring and fine clothing comes into your assembly, and a poor man in shabby clothing also comes in, [3] † and if you pay attention to the one who wears the fine clothing and say, “You sit here in a good place,” while you say to the poor man, “You stand over there,” or, “Sit down at my feet,” [4] † have you not then made distinctions among yourselves and become judges with evil thoughts? [5] † Listen, my beloved brothers, has not God chosen those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom, which he has promised to those who love him? [6] † But you have dishonored the poor man.
Are not the rich the ones who oppress you, and the ones who drag you into court? [7] † Are they not the ones who blaspheme the honorable name by which you were called?

[8] † If you really fulfill the royal law according to the Scripture, “You shall love your neighbor as yourself,” you are doing well. [9] † But if you show partiality, you are committing sin and are convicted by the law as transgressors. [10] † For whoever keeps the whole law but fails in one point has become accountable for all of it. [11] † For he who said, “Do not commit adultery,” also said, “Do not murder.” If you do not commit adultery but do murder, you have become a transgressor of the law. [12] † So speak and so act as those who are to be judged under the law of liberty. [13] † For judgment is without mercy to one who has shown no mercy. Mercy triumphs over judgment.

Faith Without Works Is Dead

14 What good is it, my brothers, if someone says he has faith but does not have works? Can that faith save him? 15 If a brother or sister is poorly clothed and lacking in daily food, 16 and one of you says to them, “Go in peace, be warmed and filled,” without giving them the things needed for the body, what good[1] is that? 17 So also faith by itself, if it does not have works, is dead.

18 But someone will say, “You have faith and I have works.” Show me your faith apart from your works, and I will show you my faith by my works. 19 You believe that God is one; you do well. Even the demons believe—and shudder! 20 Do you want to be shown, you foolish person, that faith apart from works is useless? 21 Was not Abraham our father justified by works when he offered up his son Isaac on the altar? 22 You see that faith was active along with his works, and faith was completed by his works; 23 and the Scripture was fulfilled that says, “Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness”—and he was called a friend of God. 24 You see that a person is justified by works and not by faith alone.
25 And in the same way was not also Rahab the prostitute justified by works when she received the messengers and sent them out by another way?
26 For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, so also faith apart from works is dead.

Taming the Tongue

3 [1]†Not many of you should become teachers, my brothers, for you know that we who teach will be judged with greater strictness. [2]†For we all stumble in many ways. And if anyone does not stumble in what he says, he is a perfect man, able also to bridle his whole body. [3]‡If we put bits into the mouths of horses so that they obey us, we guide their whole bodies as well.
[4]Look at the ships also: though they are so large and are driven by strong winds, they are guided by a very small rudder wherever the will of the pilot directs. [5]So also the tongue is a small member, yet it boasts of great things.

How great a forest is set ablaze by such a small fire! [6]†And the tongue is a fire, a world of unrighteousness. The tongue is set among our members, staining the whole body, setting on fire the entire course of life,[1] and set on fire by hell.[2] [7]‡For every kind of beast and bird, of reptile and sea creature, can be tamed and has been tamed by mankind, [8]†but no human being can tame the tongue. It is a restless evil, full of deadly poison. [9]†With it we bless our Lord and Father, and with it we curse people who are made in the likeness of God. [10]†From the same mouth come blessing and cursing. My brothers,[1] these things ought not to be so. [11]‡Does a spring pour forth from the same opening both fresh and salt water? [12]Can a fig tree, my brothers, bear olives, or a grapevine produce figs? Neither can a salt pond yield fresh water.

Wisdom from Above

13 † Who is wise and understanding among you? By his good conduct let him show his works in the meekness of wisdom. 14 † But if you have bitter jealousy and selfish ambition in your hearts, do not boast and be false to the truth. 15 † This is not the wisdom that comes down from above, but is earthly, unspiritual, demonic. 16 † For where jealousy and selfish ambition exist, there will be disorder and every vile practice. 17 † But the wisdom from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, open to reason, full of mercy and good fruits, impartial and sincere. 18 † And a harvest of righteousness is sown in peace by those who make peace.

Warning Against Worldliness

4 [1] What causes quarrels and what causes fights among you? Is it not this, that your passions[2] are at war within you?[3] [2] You desire and do not have, so you murder. You covet and cannot obtain, so you fight and quarrel. You do not have, because you do not ask. [3] You ask and do not receive, because you ask wrongly, to spend it on your passions. [4] You adulterous people![4] Do you not know that friendship with the world is enmity with God? Therefore whoever wishes to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God. [5] Or do you suppose it is to no purpose that the Scripture says, "He yearns jealously over the spirit that he has made to dwell in us"? [6] But he gives more grace. Therefore it says, "God opposes the proud, but gives grace to the humble." [7] Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. [8] Draw near to God, and he will draw near to you. Cleanse your hands, you sinners, and purify your hearts, you double-minded. [9] Be wretched and mourn and weep. Let your laughter be turned to mourning and your joy to gloom. [10] Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will exalt you.

[11] Do not speak evil against one another, brothers.[1] The one who speaks against a brother or judges his brother, speaks evil against the law and judges the law. But if you judge the law, you are not a doer of the law but a judge. [12] There is only one lawgiver and judge, he who is able to save and to destroy. But who are you to judge your neighbor?

Boasting About Tomorrow

13 ‡ † Come now, you who say, “Today or tomorrow we will go into such and such a town and spend a year there and trade and make a profit”— 14 † yet you do not know what tomorrow will bring. What is your life? For you are a mist that appears for a little time and then vanishes. 15 † Instead you ought to say, “If the Lord wills, we will live and do this or that.” 16 † As it is, you boast in your arrogance. All such boasting is evil. 17 † So whoever knows the right thing to do and fails to do it, for him it is sin.

Warning to the Rich

5 [1]†††Come now, you rich, weep and howl for the miseries that are coming upon you. [2]†Your riches have rotted and your garments are moth-eaten. [3]Your gold and silver have corroded, and their corrosion will be evidence against you and will eat your flesh like fire. You have laid up treasure in the last days. [4]†Behold, the wages of the laborers who mowed your fields, which you kept back by fraud, are crying out against you, and the cries of the harvesters have reached the ears of the Lord of hosts. [5]†You have lived on the earth in luxury and in self-indulgence. You have fattened your hearts in a day of slaughter. [6]†You have condemned and murdered the righteous person. He does not resist you.

Patience in Suffering

7 ‡ † Be patient, therefore, brothers,[1] until the coming of the Lord. See how the farmer waits for the precious fruit of the earth, being patient about it, until it receives the early and the late rains. 8 † You also, be patient.
Establish your hearts, for the coming of the Lord is at hand. 9 † Do not grumble against one another, brothers, so that you may not be judged; behold, the Judge is standing at the door. 10 † As an example of suffering and patience, brothers, take the prophets who spoke in the name of the Lord.
11 † Behold, we consider those blessed who remained steadfast. You have heard of the steadfastness of Job, and you have seen the purpose of the Lord, how the Lord is compassionate and merciful.

12 ‡ † But above all, my brothers, do not swear, either by heaven or by earth or by any other oath, but let your "yes" be yes and your "no" be no, so that you may not fall under condemnation.

The Prayer of Faith

13 †Is anyone among you suffering? Let him pray. Is anyone cheerful? Let him sing praise. 14 †Is anyone among you sick? Let him call for the elders of the church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord. 15 †And the prayer of faith will save the one who is sick, and the Lord will raise him up. And if he has committed sins, he will be forgiven.
16 †Therefore, confess your sins to one another and pray for one another, that you may be healed. The prayer of a righteous person has great power as it is working.[1] 17 † Elijah was a man with a nature like ours, and he prayed fervently that it might not rain, and for three years and six months it did not rain on the earth. 18 Then he prayed again, and heaven gave rain, and the earth bore its fruit.

19 † † My brothers, if anyone among you wanders from the truth and someone brings him back, 20 † let him know that whoever brings back a sinner from his wandering will save his soul from death and will cover a multitude of sins.

James

OVERVIEW

Author
James, brother of the Lord

Date
c AD 50

Places
The “Dispersion”

People
James; “the twelve tribes in the Dispersion”; rich and poor church visitors and believers; sick Christians; elders of the Church

Purpose
To impart the Lord’s wisdom to the congregations dispersed among the Gentile nations

Law Themes
Must keep the whole Law; death; works required for salvation; sinners judged by Law as transgressors; faith apart from works is dead

Gospel Themes
Good and perfect gifts from the Father of lights; brought forth by the Word of truth; heirs of the Kingdom; counted righteous; the coming of the Lord, compassionate and merciful; forgiveness; because of Christ’s death and resurrection, sinners are judged under the “law of liberty”

Memory Verses
The crown of life (1:12); the Father of lights (1:16–17); the tongue (3:1–12); fervent prayer (5:13–18)

Introduction to James

Reading James

They stood with arms crossed, silent, facing away from each another. “I shouldn’t have said it that way,” the first woman said. “I had not considered how it would make the other people feel to ask them to move and let others take their place.”

“I’m sorry I snapped at you … and in front of everyone,” said the second woman. “I want to be more patient, more humble, but I just can’t seem to get it right. My heart means well, but my tongue always seems to steer me wrong.”

James addresses practical issues and enduring problems faced by many mature believers: impatience, failure to do what you know is right, favoritism, apathy, and selfishness. He presents wise arguments and God-pleasing solutions, culminating in the confession of sins (5:16) and prayer for help from God, “the Father of lights” who gives “every good gift and every perfect gift” (1:17).

Luther on James

In 1522, Luther made harsh statements about the Epistle of James. These statements have become notorious among scholars who have sometimes taken them out of context. The statements derive from Luther's frustration with opponents who used Jas 2 to attack what Luther had learned about justification and sanctification while carefully studying the Epistles of Paul. The chief problem is raised by the way James and Paul use the same terms (faith; law) and the same OT history (examples from Abraham's life) to illustrate very different points about the Christian life.

Critics have been delighted that Luther described James as an "epistle of straw" in 1522 and have used this statement as justification for launching attacks on other NT documents and doctrines. However, a patient consideration of Luther's statements yields the following important points:

1. Luther's description of the Book changes. In some cases, Luther describes James as the work of an apostle (e.g., his postil of 1536; WA DB 41:578–90), but in other cases, he argues that it was not written by an apostle.
2. When Luther describes James as "straw," he is referring to its mundane, moral topics and not to its truthfulness. In medieval Wittenberg, straw was appreciated for its usefulness (e.g., Luther's mattress was stuffed with straw), but it was also characterized as having low value (cf 1Co 3:12). So in his 1522 Preface to the New Testament, Luther is making a contrast between James and other NT Epistles and is not dismissing James outright.
3. In Luther's preface to James, he describes the Epistle as "a good book, because it sets up no doctrines of men but vigorously promulgates the law of God" (AE 35:395). But Luther also notes that the Book lacks teaching on Christ, whom the apostles were to preach.
4. Despite his strong opinion and suggestion that the Lord's brother James may not have written the Book, Luther retains it as a NT Epistle. He even cites it as authoritative teaching from God (see LC IV 122–24).

As the points above show, Luther was inconsistent in his opinions about James.

Luther wrote most harshly about James early in his career, while struggling against Rome and Andreas Carlstadt. Following the Antinomian Controversy, Luther showed new interest in the Epistle. In 1533, he urged Christians in Leipzig to hold to the Apology of the Augsburg Confession, in which Philip Melanchthon provided a careful explanation of James's arguments about faith and works (Ap V 123–32), the issue in James that Luther found so troubling. During the 10 years after Luther wrote his prefaces to the NT, we have no sermons on James from him. But in 1536, Luther wrote a postil commentary on Jas 1:17–21. He preached on Jas 1 in 1535, 1536, 1537, and twice in 1539. Although Luther never fully reconciled himself to the challenges presented by Jas 2, it appears that he became more comfortable with the Book in his mature years.

Below is a quote from Luther's 1522 preface. It is followed by a quote from his 1546 preface. These quotes are presented for historical purposes only.

> In a word St. John's Gospel and his first epistle, St. Paul's epistles, especially Romans, Galatians, and Ephesians, and St. Peter's first epistle are the books that show you Christ and teach you all that is necessary and salvatory for you to know, even if you were never to see or hear any other book or doctrine. Therefore St. James' epistle is really an epistle of straw, compared to these others, for it has nothing of the nature of the gospel about it. (AE 35:362)
>
> Though this epistle of St. James was rejected by the ancients, I praise it and consider it a good book, because it sets up no doctrines of men but vigorously promulgates [treibet] the law of God.[1] However, to state my own opinion about it, though without prejudice to anyone, I do not regard it as the writing of an apostle; and my reasons follow.
>
> In the first place it is flatly against St. Paul and all the rest of Scripture in ascribing justification to works [2:24]. It says that Abraham was justified by his works when he offered his son Isaac [2:21]; though in Romans 4[:2–22] St. Paul teaches to the contrary that Abraham was justified apart from works, by his faith alone, before he had offered his son, and proves it by Moses in Genesis 15[:6]. Now although this epistle might be helped and an interpretation devised for this justification by works,[2] it cannot be defended in its application to works [Jas. 2:23] of Moses' statement in Genesis 15[:6]. For Moses is speaking here only of Abraham's faith, and not of his works, as St. Paul demonstrates in Romans 4. This fault,[3] therefore, proves that this epistle is not the work of any apostle.

In the second place its purpose is to teach Christians, but in all this long teaching it does not once mention the Passion, the resurrection, or the Spirit of Christ. He names Christ several times; however he teaches nothing about him, but only speaks of general faith in God. Now it is the office of a true apostle to preach of the Passion and resurrection and office of Christ, and to lay the foundation for faith in him, as Christ himself says in John 15[:27], "You shall bear witness to me." All the genuine sacred books agree in this, that all of them preach and inculcate [treiben] Christ. And that is the true test by which to judge all books, when we see whether or not they inculcate [treiben] Christ. For all the Scriptures show us Christ, Romans 3[:21]; and St. Paul will know nothing but Christ,
I Corinthians 2[:2]. Whatever does not teach Christ is not yet[4] apostolic, even though St. Peter or St. Paul does the teaching. Again, whatever preaches Christ would be apostolic, even if Judas, Annas, Pilate, and Herod were doing it.

But this James does nothing more than drive [treibet] to the law and to its works. Besides, he throws things together so chaotically that it seems to me he must have been some good, pious man, who took a few sayings from the disciples of the apostles and thus tossed them off on paper. Or it may perhaps have been written by someone on the basis of his preaching. He calls the law a "law of liberty" [1:25], though Paul calls it a law of slavery, of wrath, of death, and of sin.

Moreover he cites the sayings of St. Peter [in 5:20]: "Love covers a multitude of sins" [I Pet. 4:8], and again [in 4:10], "Humble yourselves under the hand of God" [I Pet. 5:6]; also the saying of St. Paul in Galatians 5[:17], "The Spirit lusteth against envy." And yet, in point of time, St. James was put to death by Herod [Acts 12:2] in Jerusalem, before St. Peter. So it seems that [this author] came long after St. Peter and St. Paul.

In a word, he wanted to guard against those who relied on faith without works, but was unequal to the task.[5] He tries to accomplish by > harping [treiben] on the law what the apostles accomplish by stimulating people to love. Therefore I cannot include him among the chief books, though I would not thereby prevent anyone from including or extolling him as he pleases, for there are otherwise many good sayings in him.[6] (AE 35:395–97; see also AE 4:133–34; 54:424–25)

Despite Luther's early, harsh opinions and influence as an interpreter, the Lutheran Church has held that James is rightly part of the NT, citing its authority in the Book of Concord. See pp 2099–2101.

Challenges for Readers

Authorship and Context. Early tradition attributed the Epistle of James to the Lord's brother James, who became an important leader in the Jerusalem Church (cf Mk 6:3; Ac 15:1–21; 21:18; 1Co 15:7; Gal 1:19). However, Eusebius notes that this authorship was disputed (NPNF 2 1:128). "James" (Hebrew/Aramaic "Jacob") was a very common name among first-century Jews and Christians. Despite various proposals by modern scholars, the Lord's brother remains the most likely author. The character of the Letter fits well into the mid first century as a general letter from a Jerusalem leader to congregations in the "Diaspora" (lands outside of Israel). The simplicity of the Letter, its emphasis on wisdom and OT ethics, and its reference to a Christian gathering as an "assembly" (Gk synagoge; 2:2) point to an early date.

Relationship of Faith and Works. See Luther's concerns above, the notes on Jas 2:14–26, and Melanchthon's careful study in the Apology of the Augsburg Confession (V 123–32). There is no evidence in the Letter that James was written to dispute Paul's teaching about justification and faith, as some scholars still maintain.

Parallels with Other NT Teachers. The Book of James shows numerous similarities to the teachings of Jesus, especially as recorded in Matthew (cf Jas 1:27 with Mt 25:36; Jas 2:10 with Mt 5:19; Jas 2:15–16 with Mt 25:35–36; Jas 3:11–12 with Mt 7:15–19; Jas 3:18 with Mt 5:9; Jas 4:10 with Mt 23:12; Jas 5:2–3 with Mt 6:19; Jas 5:10 with Mt 5:12; 23:34; Jas 5:12 with Mt 5:34; Jas 5:19–20 with Mt 18:15). Luther and other scholars have noted similarities with points of doctrine from Peter and Paul (see Luther's comments above). Luther viewed these as evidence that the writer depended on the works of Peter and Paul. However, the argument easily runs the other way, with James being written earlier, or they simply shared common expressions.

Legalism and Antinomianism. Two false views that have surrounded the Book of James come from overreactions to the Book's focus on "the law of liberty" (2:12) and other NT passages about the use of God's Law. On the one hand, some interpreters have taught that the Gospel is a new Law and that salvation is not by grace alone. Others have overreacted by asserting that the Law has no place in the Christian life and that good works done in view of the Law might be harmful to a Christian's faith (antinomian means "opposed to the law"). When read carefully, Jas 2:14–26 helpfully addresses these misunderstandings about faith, the Law, and good works.

Blessings for Readers

As you study the Epistle of James, pray for wisdom and the will to do what you know is right. Look for practical solutions to the issues that challenge your congregation. Yet realize that God's people are still sinners and will make mistakes. They will hurt one another, and they will need to confess their faults and forgive one another. When such troubles arise, abide in the love and patience of your heavenly Father, and rejoice in His good gifts and salvation, which can never be taken away.

OUTLINE

I. Greeting (1:1)
II. Perfection through the Implanted Word (1:2–21)
  A. Trials Result in Blessing (1:2–12)
    1. Trials and testing (1:2–4)
    2. Endurance comes only from God (1:5–8)
    3. The crown of life (1:9–12)
  B. Being Saved from Death (1:13–21)
    1. The source of temptation (1:13–16)
    2. Birth by the implanted Word (1:17–21)
III. Works Done by Those in Whom the Word Has Been Planted (1:22–2:26)
  A. Consistency of Word and Deed (1:22–2:13)
    1. The cause of inconsistency (1:22–25)
    2. Examples of inconsistency (1:26–2:7)
    3. Inconsistency results in condemnation (2:8–13)
  B. Living Faith (2:14–26)
    1. Faith leads to action (2:14–19)
    2. Examples of faith (2:20–26)
IV. Humbling Oneself in Light of the Coming Judgment (3:1–5:6)
  A. Call to Humility for the Sake of the Community (3:1–18)
    1. Proper and improper speaking (3:1–12)
    2. God's wisdom produces right speaking (3:13–18)
  B. The Basis of God's Judgment (4:1–12)
    1. Selfish behavior destroys the individual and community (4:1–4)

2. Prophetic call to repentance (4:5–10)
3. God alone is the Judge (4:11–12)

C. Judgment on the Proud Person of Wealth (4:13–5:6)
1. Becoming proud in self-sufficiency condemned (4:13–17)
2. Becoming rich at the expense of others condemned (5:1–6)

V. Proper Speaking While Waiting for the Lord (5:7–20)
A. Patience in View of the Lord's Return (5:7–12)
B. Faithful Prayer in the Community (5:13–20)

Articles and Resources Related to James

- Brothers in Ministry
- Living the Wholly Christian Life
- Faith and Works
- Effectual, Fervent Prayer

[1] The translator does not consistently handle Luther's use of German treiben, but renders it negatively when Luther uses the verb regarding teaching the Law. Readers should note that Luther did not oppose strongly teaching the Law (e.g., nearly half of Luther's Large Catechism expounds the Ten Commandments).

[2] Melanchthon provided a very helpful explanation of the text in Ap V 123–32, which became standard among Lutherans.

[3] German Mangel often describes a lack of something, a weakness.

[4] Luther's earlier version of the preface (1522) lacks this qualification. He at first dismissed James as not apostolic. In 1546, he characterizes the Book as not on equal standing with apostolic teaching.

[5] In 1522, Luther had continued, "in spirit, thought, and words. He mangles the Scriptures and thereby opposes Paul and all Scripture." These comments placed James outside of Scripture. Luther deleted these words for the 1530 edition.

[6] In 1522, Luther had continued, “One man is no man in worldly things; how, then, should this single man alone avail against Paul and all the rest of Scripture?” Luther deleted these words for the 1530 edition.

Brothers in Ministry

This chart chronicles what the Bible teaches us about James and Jude, the brothers of Jesus. As you read about these brothers and their service in the Church, consider the state of your family and your working relationships. Pray for joyful and peaceful service.

Living the Wholly Christian Life

Too many of us are "partial Christians." Our Christian convictions apply only to a small part of our life—and that portion is shrinking. It will continue to shrink unless we regain a comprehensive vision of life that helps us reunite what modern life breaks apart.

Voices I hear in my personal and professional life reveal that the modern world is tearing us apart. Listen.

- "My Sunday life has nothing to do with my life in the rough and tumble of law," said the young lawyer, scrambling to establish her practice.
- "My work as a scientist is separate from my life as a Christian," asserted a professor at a college at which I was lecturing.
- "The therapist told me to go ahead and have an affair to get the attention of my husband," a Christian friend shakily told me.
- "I make my investments totally with regard to the profit-making capacity of the firm, not with regard to what it makes or how it acts," offered another Christian friend.
- "I judge television programs strictly according to their entertainment value," said a member of a nearby congregation.
- "Religion and politics have to be kept separate," remarked an older acquaintance.
- "Religious convictions should have nothing to do with our hiring policies as a college," asserted one of my colleagues.
- "Our Lutheran social agency cannot allow religious convictions to directly enter into our treatment of the disturbed young people we are dealing with," declared an executive acquaintance of mine.
- "We need to market this senior-citizen facility as a comfortable and attractive nonsectarian enterprise," argued a consultant hired by a Lutheran facility.

Divided Lives and Souls

As the above quotes from personal and institutional life suggest, our modern world breaks us apart. And it does so in two ways. First, it separates our lives into independent sectors that are governed by the principles developed in and by those sectors. Education is education, politics is politics, economic life is economic life, and each is understood and governed by independent ways of knowing and acting. Even private life is often understood according to the principles of psychology and sociology.

Western history has been the long story of each sector of life declaring its independence from the control and presence of religion. Admittedly there is much good that has occurred because of this secularization process. Knowledge and efficiency has definitely increased in each of these sectors. But this process also has had its costs: Our lives are no longer whole. We are often forced to become partial Christians.

But our modern world breaks us apart in a second way. It separates us from the heights and depths of our lives. Because it has had such enormous success manipulating natural forces, science is expected to understand and provide guidance for each area of life. Thus our lives are reduced to a series of causes and effects that science can describe and predict. This seems to leave little room for human freedom, let alone for the mystery of God's presence and action.

Thus our lives in business, education, and politics become increasingly this-worldy, flattened into one dimension. Even our personal lives are understood in purely one-dimensional terms. Sex is understood as physical functioning. Relationships become little more than need fulfillment as described by psychology and sociology. Even dying and grief are reduced to five stages, wringing the mysterious depth out of the experience.

Partial Christians

These two processes dividing life into independent spheres and draining our experience of transcendence can never be totally successful. Humans seek wholeness even as they seek the mysterious "something more" their spirits demand. So religion continues to prosper.

In the modern world, much religion is highly individualistic. People concoct their own brands. Our church traditions continue to survive, however. People want the church and its perspective when births, marriages, and deaths occur and when they want their children to have strong moral values.

But often people do not live wholly Christian lives. Their Christian convictions only apply to small areas of their lives. Their god is a "god of the gaps." God fills in the meanings for those parts of life that are not accounted for by economics, psychology, and sociology—or Ann Landers. Indeed, our churches are inhabited by many of these folks. They are partial Christians not because they are unmotivated but because their Christianity applies only to small parts of their lives. They are succumbing to the compartmentalized, secular world.

The most impressive churches I know recognize how people have been affected, and they are busily constructing a counterattack. They know that Christians have to be whole people, living out a comprehensive vision of life that gives meaning and guidance to all they do. These churches also know that Christians need depth and transcendence in their lives. They need to be in touch with God—the Ground, the Origin, and Aim of our lives.

To Transform Our Lives

Only the Holy Spirit can enable us to live wholly and in God's presence. But we can work to make things open for the workings of the Spirit in our individual and churchly lives.

Practically, alert congregations concentrate on Christian education, especially for adults. Partial Christians need a holistic Christian vision of life to live wholly. One way to do this is to anchor people in the biblical vision of life. The Bible reveals God as living and moving through all of life and history. This God who is active in all areas of human life also demands and elicits human response in all those areas.

Another way to impart a whole view of life is disciplined theological study. Theologians have thought through the faith comprehensively. They have sketched out how God relates to our complete lives. To study a popular theological writer such as C. S. Lewis or a more technical theologian such as Reinhold Niebuhr will make clear to serious seekers that the Christian meaning system applies to all of life, not to a few gaps left over after the world has done its job. Serious churches must be in the business of helping members develop a comprehensive vision of life.

Many Christians need help to relate the biblical or theological vision of life to the "independent" sectors in which they spend most of their waking time. Thus churches who truly understand their task have courses that help laypeople make the connections between Sunday and Monday. After all, these connections do not come automatically.

Finally, churches must help Christians plumb the heights and depths of their lives in a world increasingly flattened into one dimension. It is essential that churches offer worship services that are a "foretaste of the feast to come." They must do all they can to provide a worship life that includes the transcendent. Fine music, liturgical excellence, robust singing, and beautiful sights, sounds, and even smells are essential to such worship.

Worshipful and frequent celebration of the Eucharist provides connection with the living Christ, a connection that adds depth and richness to the spiritual lives of participants. As eucharistic practice becomes central to the lives of individual Christians and of whole congregations, they begin to perceive all of life as sacramental. God is discerned more and more in the ordinary.

Personal devotional practices are also crucial. Laypeople often need help and direction in establishing disciplined Bible reading, prayer, contemplation, Sabbath observation, devotions, discussion. These activities enable laypeople to recover the spiritual heights and depths of their lives. These dimensions are already touched in the moments of birth, marriage, Baptism, and death, but Christian lives are not whole until sacramentality is extended to common life too. This does not mean that Christians live in spiritual ecstasy all the time, but it does mean that lives are touched by the Spirit more plentifully than merely in the gaps, as important as those might be.

Christians need to live their lives wholly. May the Spirit bring that wholeness into our individual and churchly lives.

Robert Benne, Reasonable Ethics (St. Louis: Concordia, 2005), 125–29.

Faith and Works

James did not believe that we earn the forgiveness of sins and grace by good works. After all, he is talking about the works of those who have been justified, who have already been reconciled and accepted, and who have received forgiveness of sins. Therefore, the adversaries err when they conclude that James teaches that we merit forgiveness of sins and grace by good works and that we have access to God by our works, apart from Christ as Reconciler….

James said a little earlier that regeneration happens through the Gospel. For he says in James 1:18, "Of His own will He brought us forth by the word of truth, that we should be a kind of firstfruits of His creatures." When James says that we have been reborn by the Gospel, he teaches that we have been born again and justified through faith. For the promise about Christ is grasped only through faith when we set it against the terrors of sin and of death. James does not, therefore, think that we are born again through our works.

From these things it is clear that James does not contradict us. He criticized lazy and secure minds that imagine they have faith, although they do not have it. He made a distinction between dead and living faith. He says that faith that does not bring forth good works is dead. He also says that a living faith brings forth good works. Furthermore, we have shown already several times what we mean by faith. For we do not mean passive knowledge, such as devils have. Instead, we mean faith that resists the terrors of conscience and encourages and comforts terrified hearts. Such faith is not an easy matter, as the adversaries dream. Neither is it a human power, but it is a divine power. Through faith we are reborn and overcome the devil and death. Paul says to the Colossians that faith is powerful through the power of God and overcomes death, "In which you were also raised with Him through faith in the powerful working of God" (2:12). Since this faith is a new life, it necessarily produces new movements and works. So James is right in denying that we are justified by such a faith that is without works. But when he says that we are justified by faith and works, he certainly does not say that we are born again by works. Neither does he say that Christ is our Reconciler only partly, and our works are our atoning sacrifice in part. Nor does he describe the way of justification, but only the nature of the just, after they have already been justified and regenerated. Here "to be justified" does not mean that a righteous person is made from a wicked person. It means to be pronounced righteous in a judicial sense, as in Romans 2:13, "For it is not the hearers of the law who are righteous before God, but the doers of the law who will be justified." These words "doers of the law who will be justified" contain nothing contrary to our doctrine. We, too, believe about James's words, "A person is justified by works and not by faith alone" (2:24) because people are certainly pronounced righteous having faith and good works. As we have said, the saints' good works are righteous and please God because of faith. For James praises only works produced by faith, as he testifies when he says of Abraham, "Faith was completed by his works" (2:22).

(Ap V 125–31)

Effectual, Fervent Prayer

The Mayo Clinic Proceedings once published a report on prayer. The report was based on a study of patients with heart disease. Five people prayed for half of the study's 799 participants at least once a day. After six months, researchers found no significant differences between those who were prayed for and those who were not. According to the leaders of the study, prayer is not effective at all.

However, more factors are involved in prayer than the study considered. The study provided no information about the spiritual disposition of the patients or about those who prayed for them. The study also assumed that the only way to measure the effectiveness of prayer is if you obtain exactly what you are asking for within the material world. This article will take a closer look at what God's Word teaches about truly effective prayer.

God's Invitation

The Bible records many invitations to pray. For example, God invited King Ahaz to ask for a sign (Is 7:10–11). Jesus said, "Ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you" (Mt 7:7). Paul commanded the Thessalonian Christians to "pray without ceasing" (1Th 5:17).

God's invitation for us to pray also comes with evidence of His genuine intent to respond. For example, Abraham's servant prayed for help in identifying the woman who would become Isaac's wife. Before the servant had finished his prayer, the Lord answered it (Gn 24:14–15). Paul was excited to write to the Ephesian Christians that God does even more than we think to ask for (Eph 3:20). James also urges us on to prayer in three different sections of his Epistle (1:5–6; 4:2–3; 5:13–18). Now that we are sure of God's desire for us to pray, what else do we need to know?

Prayer of Faith

James is specific about how we should pray and about the kind of person who may expect prayer to be answered. James says that a person lacking wisdom should ask for it, but that person must ask in faith (1:5–6). Later in the Epistle, James refers again to the "prayer of faith" (5:15) and to the "prayer of a righteous person" (5:16). The connection between these features is fundamental.

Jesus once told of two men who went up to the temple to pray (Lk 18:9–14). One man was a Pharisee who was righteous in his own eyes. He thanked God that he was not wicked like other people. The other man was a tax collector. He prayed that God would be merciful. Jesus tells us that the man who prayed for mercy went home justified (righteous before God) rather than the other. The answer to prayer was linked to God's righteousness and mercy.

Faith, worked in us by God's Word and Spirit, covers us with the righteousness of Christ. This faith also gives us conviction that God's will and ways are right, leading us to obedience. The prayer of a person made righteous by faith is motivated by that faith and seeks God's will. This is why such prayer is effective.

Prayer with Wisdom

At the very beginning of his Letter, James urges us to pray for wisdom. Wisdom from God provides insight and perspective. Wisdom allows us to understand how God is working and how to benefit from what He is doing. Most people have heard that God makes all things work together for good to those who love Him (Rm 8:28). Few people actually recognize why or how these things are working together. If we have wisdom to know how God is working, then we can also know what to pray for in accordance with His will. We can avoid coveting and asking with the wrong motives (Jas 4:2–3), since wisdom from God allows us to distinguish between what we need and what we do not need.

What we need most is the forgiveness of sins. Therefore, James's final words about prayer focus on forgiveness (5:13–18).

Suffering has a way of stirring one's conscience. Many a sick person wonders what wrong he or she has done to deserve this suffering. Many conclude it is punishment from God. Sometimes a person knows very well that the situation is in fact a specific result from sin in his or her life. Sometimes, though, suffering has nothing to do with a person's own sin. In either case, God wants to provide restoration. Regarding someone who is sick, James urges that the elders be called, that confession be made, and that prayers be offered up to God, who will grant forgiveness. God may provide temporal healing. He will certainly provide eternal healing for those who pray in faith and thank Him for His mercy.

Request Granted!

The Mayo Clinic study that showed no evidence for the effectiveness of prayer should not surprise you. You may have had a similar experience or know someone who also thinks that prayer does not work. But James explains what kind of prayer is ineffective and why: "You do not have, because you do not ask. You ask and do not receive, because you ask wrongly, to spend it on your passions" (4:2–3). God has no interest in answering requests that would only lead you further away from Him.

Before you conclude that God is not listening to you or answering your prayers, ask yourself, "Why am I asking for this?" or "Why would God grant my request?" Fallen human nature thinks of itself and its comfort. So people often ask for the desires of their human nature. But material things hold the potential of taking over our lives. Human nature will always be disappointed in a God who refuses to grant requests that do not promote their idea of real life.

What a blessing it is to know that God wants us to pray and will surely answer. God answers the prayer of faith, offered up by a person made righteous by faith. Faith and righteousness teach us what is needful and what is contrary to our life as a Christian. The prayer of faith is in agreement with the Word, which inspired that faith.

Faith teaches you to recognize what is needful. Faith teaches you how to understand experiences of suffering in a world broken by sin. Your inability provides a reason to turn your attention to God's great ability. He has not failed and will not fail you. In the life, death, and resurrection of His Son, He has provided you with a life that endures all things. Recognizing this truth allows you to thank God in times of difficulty and to seek His wisdom and grace to thrive as His child.

Footnotes

Footnotes for James, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:1 Or slave; Greek bondservant
- [2] 1:2 Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church; also verses 16, 19
- [3] 1:10 Or a wild flower
- [4] 1:17 Some manuscripts variation due to a shadow of turning

Footnotes for James, Chapter 2

- [1] 2:1 Or brothers and sisters; also verses 5, 14
- [1] 2:16 Or benefit

Footnotes for James, Chapter 3

- [1] 3:6 Or wheel of birth
- [2] 3:6 Greek Gehenna
- [1] 3:10 Or brothers and sisters; also verse 12

Footnotes for James, Chapter 4

- [2] 4:1 Greek pleasures; also verse 3
- [3] 4:1 Greek in your members
- [4] 4:4 Greek You adulteresses!
- [1] 4:11 Or brothers and sisters

Footnotes for James, Chapter 5

- [1] 5:7 Or brothers and sisters; also verses 9, 10, 12, 19
- [1] 5:16 Or The effective prayer of a righteous person has great power

Study Notes

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:1 James. See pp 2130–32. servant of God. Humble title applying to Christians in general (Ac 2:18; 4:29) or, as here, to leaders (Ti 1:1). twelve tribes in the Dispersion. Jews scattered throughout the Mediterranean world. See p 1556.

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:2 all joy. Confidence based on the assurance of hope in Christ (cf 1Pt 1:8–9). brothers. In the Book, "brother" always refers to a Christian who is living faithfully (cf 1:9). See p 1901. trials. Gk peirasmos. Any challenging circumstances that befall Christians. Does not refer to being tempted, as in vv 13–14.

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:3 testing. Same as "trials" in v 2 (cf Lk 8:13; 22:28). steadfastness. Translated "patience" in Lk 8:15. Cf Jas 1:12.

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:4 perfect and complete. Not sinless but mature, reaching the goal of faith: eternal life (cf v 12). See p 1903. lacking in nothing. Not referring to material blessings but to a strong faith. Contrast with the person lacking wisdom in vv 5–8.

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:5 any of you. In Jas, "anyone" refers to struggling Christians who are being called back to faithfulness (cf v 23; 2:18). wisdom. Ability to reach and implement proper decisions when facing challenges. See pp 775–78. without reproach. God gives generously to all who ask in faith, whatever their past.

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:6 Without trust in God's faithfulness, a person has no solid foundation.

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:7 Only in faith, which trusts in God's provision, does one receive His blessings (cf Lk 11:9–13).

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:8 double-minded. Having two allegiances: God and the world (cf Lk 16:13). Such a person cannot persevere.

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:9–10 The humble brother is contrasted with the rich person. Wealth brings certain privileges and is often seen as a sign of self-accomplishment. Yet Scripture frequently warns about the temptations associated with wealth, and those who trust in wealth apart from Christ are condemned (Mt 19:23–26). The Magnificat makes a similar contrast (Lk 1:46–55).

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:9 exaltation. Or, "exalted condition," given by God (4:10).

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:11 pursuits. General behavior, or specifically the pursuit of wealth.
JAMES—NOTE ON 1:12 Serves more appropriately as a conclusion to vv 2–12, not the start of a new paragraph. trial. James does not identify the trials faced by these early Christians, but in this context, it seems that the lure of wealth was an issue (cf 4:13–5:6). crown of life. Symbol of eternal life with God. Parallels "perfect and complete" (v 4).
JAMES—NOTE ON 1:13–14 tempted. The testings of vv 2–12 refer to external circumstances; the temptings of vv 13–15 refer to internal struggles against sin. See note, v 2.
JAMES—NOTE ON 1:13 Luth: "[God] does not test in order that we may fear and hate Him like a tyrant but to the end that He may exercise and stir up faith and love in us. Satan, however, tempts for evil, in order to draw you away from God and to make you distrust and blaspheme God" (AE 4:132).
JAMES—NOTE ON 1:15 desire … gives birth to sin. See note, Gn 3:6. fully grown. As a mature faith results in a crown of life (v 12), so the ultimate result of unforgiven sin is death. See note, Gn 3:19. death. Sin consumes and destroys.
JAMES—NOTE ON 1:16 Do not be deceived. Deception comes from the world, which has rejected God. This is best understood as the conclusion of vv 13–15, not the beginning of a new paragraph.
JAMES—NOTE ON 1:17 Every good gift and every perfect gift. God provides everything we need, including wisdom (v 5), exaltation (v 9), and new life (v 18). Father of lights. Refers to God's creative work (Gn 1:3–5, 14–19). no variation or shadow due to change. Though the heavenly bodies change and move, God and His Word remain constant and sure. We can trust His promises. See note, Mal 3:6; see also "relent," pp 1079–80.
JAMES—NOTE ON 1:18 brought us forth. Reference to new life in Christ through Baptism. Cassiodorus Senator (sixth century) notes: "By holy Baptism he declared us to be begotten, freely, not by meriting, so that by a new restoration we might be born into his family" (Complexiones in epistulis Apostolorum Jac 3, MPL 70, p 1377). firstfruits. Best of the harvest, offered to God in sacrifice (Ex 22:29; 23:19). In the NT, Christians are the "harvest" of the preaching of the Gospel (see ESV note, Rm 16:5; cf 1Co 16:15). creatures.

Or, “creation.” All creation is restored in Christ, beginning with humanity (1Co 15:20–28).

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:1–18 James writes to struggling Christians who are facing many trials and temptations. Those who face such challenges may be tossed about (vv 5–8) and eventually destroyed by sin (v 15). Those who seek God’s wisdom endure trials (vv 2–4) and become stronger. In Baptism, God gives His struggling children the crown of life not because of their strength but because of His grace. In that grace, we can follow Him and live confidently in this world of struggles and uncertainty. • O Lord, deliver me from my struggles, and grant me the gifts that come from You alone. Thank You for Your Son, Jesus, who has given me new life. Lead me in Your wisdom until I am raised to receive the crown of life. Amen.

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:19 slow to speak. Improper speech is discussed again in v 26 and 3:1–12.

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:20 Believers are credited with Christ’s obedience for their justification (see “justify,” p 1903); God then calls and empowers them to live in His righteousness instead of the world’s pattern (Rm 6:1–5, 12–14; Ap IV 72; see FC Ep III 7–8). Though the latter sense is typical in Paul’s Letters, Jas and the Gospels typically use the first meaning (cf Mt 13:17; Lk 1:6, 75; 2:25; 23:50). righteousness of God. New condition in which Christians live as the result of faith. See note, 2:21; see also p 843.

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:21 meekness. Instead of self-reliance, the willingness to receive God’s gift. implanted. As a seed is planted into soil, so the Word of God comes from outside of us and produces a harvest of righteousness in our lives. See notes, Mt 13:19–23. word. Pertains to both Law and Gospel; God’s Word makes us righteous and enables us to lead righteous lives.

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:22–23 Hearing God’s Word should lead to application of the Word (cf 2:14–26). A remarkably similar statement is made in Rm 2:13. the word. Here refers to just the Law (see notes, vv 21, 25).

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:22 the word. OT Scriptures, since the NT was still being written.

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:23–24 The mirror of the Word shows us our sin, but even more, it reveals the righteousness we already have in Christ. However, someone who leaves that perfect image by not living a righteous life as taught in the Word turns away from righteousness. “It is necessary to do good works. This does not mean that we merit grace by doing good works, but because it is God's will" (AC XX 27).

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:25 perfect law … of liberty. This Word is perfect because it is from God and makes us perfect and complete (v 4; cf Ps 119:92–94). See "perfect," p 1903; see also p 206. law. Here it means "Word" (cf vv 21, 22; see p 971).

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:26 religious … religion. In Jas, religion is not a set of beliefs or a movement, but the deeds that a person does because of his beliefs. Such actions may be in accord with God's will (as in v 27) or, as here, sinful. tongue. Cf v 19; 3:1–12. deceives his heart. Deceives himself. The person who does not act righteously by controlling his tongue may consider himself righteous, but he is delusional; such behavior does not reflect the righteousness God has given.

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:27 Religion. See note, v 26. orphans and widows in their affliction. Genuine righteousness seeks to serve others. Orphans and widows deeply need such help, and they were particularly singled out for God's care (e.g., Dt 10:18; Hos 14:3; Lk 7:11–17) and the service of His people (Dt 14:29; 16:11; 24:19). See SC, Fifth Commandment, p xxxv. unstained from the world. In Jas, the world encourages values and behaviors that are opposed to God and His righteousness (3:6; 4:4). Thoughts and actions that come from God are "pure and undefiled"; those that do not come from God destroy the perfect righteousness He gives.

JAMES—NOTE ON 1:19–27 James encourages Christians to return to the Word, take comfort in the Gospel, and live righteous lives focused on service toward others. We also know the kind of lives God calls us to lead. Yet too easily we turn away from that calling. God, who implanted His Word in us and justified us in Christ, now calls us to bless others. He honors us by using us to bring His love to all people, especially those whom the world ignores. • Thank You, Lord, for Your Word. Hold it continually before me, and bring me to hear it preached and taught. May it be rooted deep inside me, that it may transform me into Your righteous servant. Amen.

JAMES—NOTE ON 2:1 partiality. Unfair act of judgment based on worldly criteria (cf 1:27). God never shows partiality (Rm 2:9–11), and His people are commanded to act similarly. Lord of glory. Glory is a result of Christ's victorious resurrection and exaltation (cf Lk 24:26). See p 1902.

JAMES—NOTE ON 2:2–4 Example of partiality. Such distinctions are evil because they do not reflect the way God views people. James frequently singles out the rich for condemnation and describes the humble and poor as exalted by the Lord (cf 1:9–10; 4:6, 10; 5:1–6). Partiality either to the poor or the wealthy is condemned in Lv 19:15.
JAMES—NOTE ON 2:2 A person's appearance communicates his status.
JAMES—NOTE ON 2:3 at my feet. Lowest position.
JAMES—NOTE ON 2:4 judges with evil thoughts? Wealth-based distinctions between people do not reflect God's vision and are therefore evil.
JAMES—NOTE ON 2:5 A person's worth comes not from possessions but from his relationship to God. See "heir," p 1902. heirs of the kingdom. As the Father's adopted children, we will inherit His kingdom (Gal 4:1–7), where we will live with Him and receive the crown of life (Jas 1:12). See pp 1565–66.
JAMES—NOTE ON 2:6 Exalting the lofty person dishonors the humble, whom God has exalted (1:9; 4:10). oppress you … drag you into court? Not persecution for being Christian, but lawsuits for economic reasons, as in Ac 16:19–24; cf 1Co 6:1–8.
JAMES—NOTE ON 2:7 blaspheme the honorable name. Christ's name (v 1). Rejecting the poor man, who was chosen by Christ, is rejecting Christ Himself. by which you were called? Or, "invoked over you," referring to Baptism (1:18).
JAMES—NOTE ON 2:8 royal law. "Royal" is the same Gk word as "kingdom" (v 5), indicating this is the "Law of the Kingdom"; that same Law is interpreted and fulfilled in Christ. Jesus quotes and applies Lv 19:18 frequently; cf Lk 10:25–37. See "Law," p 971.
JAMES—NOTE ON 2:9 partiality. Cf vv 1–7. convicted by the law. Since partiality breaks the specific command of Lv 19:15, the general law to "love your neighbor as yourself" (Lv 19:18) is also broken.
JAMES—NOTE ON 2:10 Because all Commandments come from God, all must be obeyed perfectly. This was made clear in the giving of the covenant to Israel (Dt 27:26; 28:15), as well as by Jesus. Even one violation falls short of the righteousness God requires (Jas 1:20). When we break God's Law, we disrespect Him, for He established that Law.
JAMES—NOTE ON 2:11 These specific commandments illustrate the principle of v 10—breaking one law makes a person completely guilty before God.

JAMES—NOTE ON 2:12 James exhorts his readers to remember that they were counted righteous for Christ's sake. How can they then judge others by a different standard? God's grace is available to all.
JAMES—NOTE ON 2:13 judgment. God's judgment on the sinner, here the "one who has shown no mercy" (see example in vv 1–7). Mercy triumphs over judgment. Summarizes the first part of ch 2: God's people are to show mercy, not judgment or partiality. God has shown this same mercy to us.
JAMES—NOTE ON 2:1–13 James rebukes an act that is inconsistent with the righteous life: judging others based on their appearance, wealth, or status. The desire for wealth leads us to lift up the wealthy and look down on the poor. This is not God's way. He shows no partiality but calls all people to faith in Christ and grants the same gift of salvation to all in the waters of Baptism. James calls us to look at one another as those for whom Christ died because the name of Christ has been given to us in Baptism (v 7). He gives all His people a new identity that the world cannot give. We live together in Him, serving and building up one another until His return. • Forgive me, Lord, for looking at the face and not the heart. May Your name, spoken over me in my Baptism, be glorified in my life as I serve Your people. Amen.
JAMES—NOTE ON 2:14–26 During the Reformation, this passage became controversial because some interpreters viewed it as teaching justification through faith and works (synergism). Critical interpreters have viewed the passage as evidence that the apostles James and Paul taught conflicting doctrines. The notes here carefully consider the text, revealing that James is addressing a misunderstanding about faith (v 14) and for that purpose uses some terms differently than the apostle Paul, though not in conflict with Paul's teaching. See pp 2130–32.
JAMES—NOTE ON 2:14 someone says he has faith. To this point, faith has been viewed positively (1:3, 6; 2:1, 5). In 2:14–26, James uses "someone" else's definition of faith, which separates faith or belief in God from faithful living (v 18). Even demons have this kind of "faith" (v 19). Jesus likewise condemns those who "say" but do not "do" (Mt 23:1–6). faith. Gk pistis. Usually used to mean trust, but here James means mere knowledge of a subject (see note, Jas 2:19). works? Actions done in response to justification, e.g., care of the needy (vv 15–16). Can that faith save him? Mere intellectual assent is not saving faith, nor does it produce fruit in response to God's gifts.

JAMES—NOTE ON 2:15–16 poorly clothed. Lit, "naked." Parallels Jesus' teaching about the sheep and the goats (Mt 25:35–36). The needs of the neighbor are immediate and obvious. Mere lip service or empty, pious blessings accomplish nothing for those in need, nor do they reflect faith.

JAMES—NOTE ON 2:17 faith. The kind of knowledge described in vv 14, 19. by itself. The issue here is wrongly separating faith from its natural fruit: good works (cf vv 18, 26).

JAMES—NOTE ON 2:18 someone will say. Argument of those whom James is rebuking in this section. You have faith and I have works. Reverse of v 17. One cannot have right faith without the response of right works, nor can one do good works without faith. The problem is not that faith must have works to be real, but that some have separated faith from works (and works from faith). Faith cannot be separated from the response of works because the works naturally flow from the faith God plants. Cf 1:22–27.

JAMES—NOTE ON 2:19 God is one. James is addressing an early Christian congregation that strongly retains its OT identity and so quotes the OT's basic confession of faith. Jesus cites this as the "most important" commandment (Mk 12:29), and Paul cites it to a Gentile audience as a foundational confession (1Co 8:6; Eph 4:6). Even the demons believe. "Faith" and "believe" are based on Gk verb pisteuo (noun, pistis; see note, v 14). See Paul's use of "faith," p 1902. Demons "believe" with the kind of "faith" James condemns in vv 14–26. Mere intellectual assent, which even the demons can (and must) have, is not a living faith and does not save. Luth: "It will profit you nothing to believe that Christ was delivered for the sins of other saints and to doubt that He was delivered for your sins. For both the ungodly and the demons believe this (James 2:19). No, you must take for granted in steadfast confidence that He was delivered for your sins too, and that you are one of those for whose sins He was delivered. This faith justifies you; it will cause Christ to dwell, live, and reign in you" (AE 27:172). Luth: "O it is a living, busy, active, mighty thing, this [true] faith. It is impossible for it not to be doing good works incessantly. It does not ask whether good works are to be done, but before the question is asked, it has already done them, and is constantly doing them. Whoever does not do such works, however, is an unbeliever. He gropes and looks around for faith and good works, but knows neither what faith is nor what good works are. Yet he talks and talks, with many words, about faith and good works" (AE 35:370).

JAMES—NOTE ON 2:20 faith apart from works. James is not discussing the relative value of works over and against faith, but the problem of separating faith and works. His argument is not that works are better than faith but that simple assent to certain beliefs is not truly faith. See notes, vv 14, 19.

JAMES—NOTE ON 2:21 justified. "Justify" and "righteousness" are based on the same Gk word (see Paul's usage, p 1903). This may mean "counted righteous" (as in ESV note, Gal 2:16), but it can also mean "shown to be righteous," "recognized as righteous," or "to live as a righteous person." See note, 1:20. Jesus uses it in this way in Mt 11:19; 12:33–37. James is saying, in effect, "Was not Abraham our father shown to be a righteous person when he … ?" Abraham had already believed God and been declared righteous in Gn 15:6, long before the episode in Gn 22 (cf Jas 2:23).

JAMES—NOTE ON 2:22 completed. Translated "perfect" in 1:4. The point here is the same: when facing trial, Abraham's faith did not waver, and so his faith was shown to be mature and strong. Luther also describes these two kinds of righteousness: "When I have this [declared] righteousness within me, I descend from heaven like the rain that makes the earth fertile. That is, I come forth into another kingdom, and I perform good works whenever the opportunity arises" (AE 26:11).

JAMES—NOTE ON 2:23 Scripture was fulfilled. Abraham was righteous already (Gn 15:6), but later demonstrated, or "completed," his righteousness (Gn 22). After this, God said, "Now I know that you fear God [i.e., have faith], seeing you have not withheld your son" (Gn 22:12). Certainly God knew that Abraham had faith, but now his faith had been demonstrated by his faithful work. See note on the "perfecting" of Jesus, Heb 2:10. friend of God. In OT, only Moses is spoken of as a friend of God (Ex 33:11), but noncanonical Jewish literature also refers to Abraham this way. "Friend of God" is the opposite of "friend of the world" (Jas 4:4).

JAMES—NOTE ON 2:24 justified. Shown to be righteous (see note, v 21). faith alone. Faith that is mere assent (see notes, vv 14, 18, 19).

JAMES—NOTE ON 2:25 Rahab the prostitute. Ancestor of Jesus (Mt 1:5) and model of faith (Heb 11:31). 1 Clem: "On account of her faith and hospitality, Rahab the harlot was saved" (ANF 1:8). Like Abraham, Rahab had faith (Jsh 2:9) before her actions in helping the messengers demonstrated her righteousness.

JAMES—NOTE ON 2:26 spirit. Breath of life, not the Holy Spirit. See note, Gn 2:7. dead. The body cannot live without the breath of life, and life cannot exist apart from the body. Neither can faith and works be separated. Chrys: "As faith without works is dead, so are works without faith dead" (MPG 53, p 31). Luth: "The works of faith … are those which are done out of the spirit of liberty and solely for the love of God" (AE 25:234).

JAMES—NOTE ON 2:14–26 James discusses a false understanding of faith: mere knowledge that has no application or effect on the one who has it. This faulty understanding is just as wrong as the opposite error: focusing on actions alone apart from faith in Christ. True faith and its response of true good works cannot be separated. Works naturally follow faith. God has given us a great gift—through Christ Jesus, He has forgiven us and declared us righteous and holy. He now blesses us by calling us to serve Him in the lives of those around us. A living faith leads us to gladly share with others what we have freely received in Christ. • By Your Spirit, grant me true faith, Lord, that Your name might be glorified through me. Amen.

JAMES—NOTE ON 3:1 teachers. Office in the Early Church. Its work, along with that of apostles and prophets, was eventually carried out by pastors (cf Ac 13:1; 1Co 12:28–29; Eph 4:11). Nevertheless, these warnings apply to all who claim to teach (cf Lk 11:45–46, 52). judged. Because false teaching can destroy the faith of those being taught (cf Gal 1:8–9). strictness. Both a stricter standard of judgment and a harsher punishment.

JAMES—NOTE ON 3:2 we all stumble. None can avoid sin. what he says. Reintroduces the issue of speech (1:19, 26). Because teachers speak often and authoritatively, they have greater opportunity and temptation to speak wrongly for their own benefit. perfect. See note, 1:4. Luth: "Those who are truly righteous not only sigh and plead for the grace of God because they see that they have an evil inclination and thus are sinful before God, but also because they see that they can never understand fully how deep is the evil of their will and how far it extends, they believe that they are always sinners, as if the depth of their evil will were infinite" (AE 25:221).

JAMES—NOTE ON 3:3–5 As a bit directs a horse or a rudder steers a ship, so the tongue can affect the entire person and others as well.

JAMES—NOTE ON 3:6 world of unrighteousness. The "world" in Jas is always opposed to God (1:27; 2:5). Words can reflect the fallen nature (cf Mk 7:14–23), which struggles against God. set on fire by hell. We are tempted by our sinful nature, by the devil, and by this sinful world.

JAMES—NOTE ON 3:7–8 Though all of creation can be controlled (Gn 1:26–28), no one is able to control the tongue (cf Jas 3:9).
JAMES—NOTE ON 3:8 full of deadly poison. Profoundly capable of harming others (cf vv 5–6).
JAMES—NOTE ON 3:9 likeness of God. All people deserve respect because they are made in the image of God.
JAMES—NOTE ON 3:10 James calls for consistency. The righteous have received the implanted Word (cf 1:20–21) and should live lives that reflect what God has made them to be. On blessing, see p 842. On cursing, see p 6.
JAMES—NOTE ON 3:11–12 Creation itself cannot be two different things at once; neither can a person who is re-created by God serve Him and curse others at the same time (cf Mt 7:15–19).
JAMES—NOTE ON 3:13 wise and understanding. Refers to the teachers of v 1, who claimed to be faithful but were acting otherwise. Cf Dt 1:13–15. works. Cf 2:14–26. meekness of wisdom. Both are attributes of a righteous person (cf 1:5; Mt 5:5).
JAMES—NOTE ON 3:14 jealousy and selfish ambition. Sins frequently singled out in the NT, for they destroy the community created by God (e.g., 1Co 3:3). boast. Cf 4:16. false to the truth. Denying one's sinfulness also denies God's Word.
JAMES—NOTE ON 3:15 wisdom that comes down from above. Gift from God that makes us alive in faith and guides us to live by His Word (cf Pr 2:1–9). See pp 775–78. earthly, unspiritual, demonic. Sin is not from God but from the world, which is controlled by evil. (See a similar contrast in 1:13–15.)
JAMES—NOTE ON 3:16 Just as the small tongue can start a great fire (v 5), so desire leads to sin that can destroy the self (cf Mk 7:20–23) and others.
JAMES—NOTE ON 3:17 wisdom from above. See note, v 15. first pure. Our hearts are purified by Christ (4:8) and therefore unstained by the world (1:27). then. Good works flow from a heart that has been purified by Christ. The traits listed enable us to build others up. All contrast with cursing and boasting (vv 9–10, 14). open to reason. Or, "humane." mercy. Cf 2:13. impartial. Theme of 2:1–13. Luth: "It is certain that no man who is busy with commandments or righteousness performs this true service [true religion]. They cannot even comprehend it intellectually. For it is a teaching revealed from heaven which does not arise from the human heart or mind. The Holy Spirit must be the Teacher and Guide. Since He reaches men only through faith in Christ, whereas the work-righteous reject faith and retain the Law, it is impossible for them to perform this service. Therefore the Christian religion is easy, as I said, if you regard only the outward acts. But if you consider this spiritual service, it is most difficult, for you cannot perform this unless your heart is changed" (AE 12:87).

JAMES—NOTE ON 3:18 harvest of righteousness. Bounty of righteous actions. The list in v 17 is only representative; there is no limit to the benefits others receive from our righteous actions. peace. Repeated for emphasis. Contrasts with the cursing, poisonous tongue (vv 6–10) and echoes Mt 5:9.

JAMES—NOTE ON Ch 3 There are only two ways to live: by the "wisdom" of the world or by God's wisdom. James condemns the worldly pattern of selfishness, deception, hurtful words, and other evil behaviors. Christians, too, struggle with such sins and are even tempted to present themselves as holier than others. How different is the wisdom of God! He has purified us in Christ and freed us from the stain of the world. We now walk in the works He has prepared for us to do. • O Lord, purify me so that my words may uplift, strengthen, bring peace where there is strife, and bring sincerity where there is falsehood. Use my lips to speak Your glory, to tell of Your wonderful deeds, and to proclaim Your salvation. Amen.

JAMES—NOTE ON 4:1 quarrels… fights. Struggles with others. James shows the sinful source. passions. Desires, such as jealousy and ambition (3:14), that give sinful pleasure. at war. This sinful nature fights against the new person in Christ.

JAMES—NOTE ON 4:2 murder. Desires lead to sinful attitudes that Scripture equates with murder (1Jn 3:15); they can also lead to spiritual death (Jas 1:14–15). Murder may not have literally taken place in Christian congregations, but the sin of envy, left unchecked, could lead to such abominable behavior. Jealousy led to violence in Gn 4:1–16; 37; Mk 15:10; Ac 5:17–18. 1 Clem: "Envy and jealousy led to the murder of a brother [Abel]" (ANF 1:6). you do not ask. Asking for the things that God has promised to give is key, as in Jas 1:5–8, where asking God for wisdom is encouraged (cf v 3).

JAMES—NOTE ON 4:3 you ask wrongly. Not that the wrong words are used but that the motive is selfish, seeking only worldly treasures. Instead of selfish prayer, intercessory prayer for others is encouraged (5:14–15). James is not developing a complete theology of prayer but demonstrating that people without wisdom from God cannot pray properly.
JAMES—NOTE ON 4:4 adulterous. Echoes Yahweh's condemnation of Israel's covenant unfaithfulness (see notes, Is 57:3; Hos 3:1). God made us His Bride through faith in Christ; rejecting Him for the world's ways is adultery. friendship with the world. Not mere acquaintance but a sharing in all things. A life devoted to wealth and selfish ambition has no room for God. See note, 2:23.
JAMES—NOTE ON 4:5 May be translated "Do you suppose that the Scripture speaks uselessly? Does the spirit that He causes to dwell in us crave jealously?" spirit. Not the Holy Spirit (who is not mentioned in Jas), but the person's spirit that God has enlivened.
JAMES—NOTE ON 4:6 He gives more grace. Or, "He gives a greater gift," referring to God as the giver of gifts, specifically wisdom (1:5, 17). Luth: "Those who say: Ah, but I have done as much as I possibly can; I have done enough, and I hope that God will give me grace—they set up an iron wall between themselves and the grace of God. But if you feel within yourself the urge to call upon God and pray and plead and knock, then grace is already there; then call upon it and thank God" (AE 51:43).
JAMES—NOTE ON 4:7 Submit yourselves. To place oneself under God's authority, which is shown most powerfully when He forgives. Parallels "Humble yourselves" in v 10. How submission and humbling takes place is described in vv 7–10. The language of these verses strongly echoes OT calls to repentance. Cf Is 57:14–16. Resist the devil. Parallels "Draw near to God" in v 8 and refers back to the evil wisdom of 3:15. Resisting the devil is, therefore, the same as turning to God in repentant prayer (cf 1Pt 5:8–9).
JAMES—NOTE ON 4:8 Draw near to God. In a prayer of repentance (cf Ps 119:169–70; Hos 12:6). draw near to you. God will answer prayer (Dt 4:7), here by forgiving sins. Cleanse your hands … purify your hearts. Based on Ps 24:3–4. "Heart" refers to intention; "hands" refers to action. Both attitudes and actions are purified by repentance and forgiveness.
JAMES—NOTE ON 4:9 wretched … mourn … weep. Actions described by the prophets as signifying or calling for repentance (cf Mi 2:4; Jl 1:5).

laughter be turned to mourning … joy to gloom. More signs of repentance (cf Mi 1:8–9; Jl 1:12).

JAMES—NOTE ON 4:10 Humble yourselves. Result of being laid low before God because of sin (cf v 7; Ps 51:17). Cf Jas 1:9. exalt you. After repentance comes God's forgiveness, new life, and ultimately the crown of life (1:12). Jesus teaches that those who humble themselves before God will be exalted (Lk 18:14).

JAMES—NOTE ON 4:11 speak evil. Slander. against the law. The Law forbids slander (Lv 19:16; cf Ps 50:19–20; 101:5). A slanderer rejects the "royal law" (Jas 2:8) and tries to judge God's Law. if you judge the law. All of God's laws are to be obeyed. The person who rejects them judges the Law and God Himself. doer of the law. Cf 2:14–26.

JAMES—NOTE ON 4:12 judge your neighbor? Not simply deciding something, but condemning unjustly (cf v 11). Also does not refer to the need to restore the sinning brother, as described in 5:19–20; Gal 6:1–2.

JAMES—NOTE ON 4:1–12 Using the language of the Prophets, James teaches that rejecting God's ways is spiritual adultery. It is seeking something other than the faithful God who loves us. God's people of every generation have been unfaithful to Him. James does not call us to turn to ourselves and do more works to be forgiven but instead calls us to return to the Lord in repentance. Even when we are unfaithful, God remains faithful. He has already purchased us by the blood of Christ. His love does not depend on our faithfulness or works but on His faithfulness and His work in Christ. • "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me. Cast me not away from Your presence, and take not Your Holy Spirit from me. Restore to me the joy of Your salvation, and uphold me with a willing spirit" (Ps 51:10–12). Amen.

JAMES—NOTE ON 4:13 James addresses those who think their lives are in their own hands, to be used as they desire. They think they know all about their future, such as when ("today or tomorrow"), where ("such and such a town"), how long ("a year"), and what will happen ("make a profit"). Planning is not being condemned, but rather the assumption that we are completely in control. Condemnation for making money for its own—or our own—sake is made more explicit in 5:1–6. trade and make a profit. Addresses merchants. Cf 5:4.

JAMES—NOTE ON 4:14 We do not control time or history; God does. We should not act as if our lives are most important.

JAMES—NOTE ON 4:15 If the Lord wills. Not a formula but an attitude of humility that recognizes God gives us time and resources to use for His purposes (cf Mt 6:10). Expressed in the Christian notation "DV" (Deo volente, "by the will of God").
JAMES—NOTE ON 4:16 you boast in your arrogance. As if they were God. evil. Because such boasting is not from God (cf 3:14).
JAMES—NOTE ON 4:17 knows the right thing to do. Refers to submitting to God's will (v 15). To not do this (sin of omission) makes one guilty of breaking all the Law (2:10).
JAMES—NOTE ON 4:13–17 Like James's first readers, we strive to be self-sufficient and to develop detailed plans for our lives. Planning can be good stewardship, but not if our plans crowd out the things God would have us do. James reminds us to seek what "the Lord wills." This simple statement is a confession of faith and shows confidence in the Lord's care for us. Time and again, He has shown His fatherly, divine goodness and mercy toward us. He has given us life by His Son, Jesus Christ. Now, freed from seeking our own needs, we serve others. • Thank You, Lord, for the gift of each day. Help me to see each one as guided by Your care and lived for Your glory. Through me, bless my family, my co-workers and neighbors, and all the world. Amen.
JAMES—NOTE ON 5:1–6 As in 4:13–17 and 2:2–7, this section warns against self-reliance that does not submit to God's will but turns from God toward "friendship with the world" (4:4).
JAMES—NOTE ON 5:1 weep and howl. Frequently used to describe the suffering of God's people because of His judgment on their unfaithfulness (Jl 1:5; Mal 2:13).
JAMES—NOTE ON 5:2–3 rotted … moth-eaten … corroded. Possessions are transitory (Lk 12:33). last days. Their riches are not simply providing a long and comfortable life to their last days but rather testify to their greed. But in these last days (Heb 1:2; 1Pt 1:20) comes the Last Day, the day of God's judgment (Am 8:9–10).
JAMES—NOTE ON 5:4 your fields. James addresses landowners who were unjust to their workers (cf 4:13). Lord of hosts. Title used for Yahweh, in particular when He comes in power to judge (Is 5:9; Zec 13:2). See p 1291.
JAMES—NOTE ON 5:5 Compares the wealthy to fattened cows that are slaughtered for a feast; they have fattened themselves, but they will be destroyed.

JAMES—NOTE ON 5:6 murdered. Selfish desires lead to murder. See note, 4:2. righteous person. Not a reference to Jesus; cf 1Ki 21, Naboth, instead. He does not resist you. Or, "Does not He (God) oppose you?" This translation fits with 4:6, where the same verb is used ("God opposes the proud").
JAMES—NOTE ON 5:1–6 James condemns the wealthy for living as if this life is all there is to live for and as if Christ will not return. God's Word repeatedly warns against this attitude. It is easy to think that such words do not apply to us because there is always someone wealthier, someone greedier. But Scripture teaches, "You know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though He was rich, yet for your sake He became poor, so that you by His poverty might become rich" (2Co 8:9). In Christ, we have the riches that come from God alone—above all, the gift of faith. He will give us the crown of life. • "Oh, the depth of the riches and wisdom and knowledge of God! … For from Him and through Him and to Him are all things. To Him be glory forever. Amen" (Rm 11:33, 36).
JAMES—NOTE ON 5:7 patient. Based on trust in God's promises. brothers. Following a stern rebuke of the wealthy (4:13–5:6), James now speaks words of comfort, addressing his readers with a more personal term (cf vv 9, 10). See note, 1:2. the coming of the Lord. Jesus' return in glory (2Th 2:1). farmer waits. Confident that the harvest will come, a farmer patiently waits for the crop to ripen. Similarly, confidence in Christ's return leads to patience. early and the late rains. See calendar, p 262.
JAMES—NOTE ON 5:8 Establish your hearts. Or, "strengthen your hearts"; confidence that comes from trust in the Lord (Ps 10:17).
JAMES—NOTE ON 5:9 the Judge is standing at the door. Jesus' return is at hand and can occur at any time (Mk 13:32–37). The Lord may judge here and now, but certainly also on the Last Day.
JAMES—NOTE ON 5:10 prophets. They waited for God's judgment rather than trying to enact it themselves. The condemnations they spoke were not their own words but God's (cf 2Ch 36:16).
JAMES—NOTE ON 5:11 those blessed. Any Christian who receives strength and patience from the Lord, including the prophets (v 10), Job (v 11), and James's readers. See p 842. steadfast. Synonymous with "patient" in vv 7–8, 10. purpose of the Lord. Goals and plans God has for His people; ultimately, eternal life (1:12). This purpose remains even when He permits suffering (v 10). compassionate and merciful. Characteristics ascribed to Yahweh at the giving of the Ten Commandments. See "mercy," pp 842–843.

JAMES—NOTE ON 5:7–11 The return of Jesus in glory shapes the Christian life. Confidence in His return (vv 7–8) gives us a perspective on how we relate to one another (v 9) and our sufferings (v 10). God promises to remain with us and restore us to Himself (v 11). In our shortsighted, self-focused lives, we dwell on our own problems and try to deal with them ourselves. The quicker we get out of a mess, the better. But this is not God's perspective. He looks at the true goal: eternal life with Him. Consequently, our sufferings can be borne with patience. He gives faith to sustain us through suffering and confidence to endure all things until He comes again. • Come, Lord Jesus, come quickly! Yet grant me patience as I wait on You. Amen.

JAMES—NOTE ON 5:12 swear. Taking an oath. Oaths are unnecessary when one always speaks the truth. Cf Lv 19:12; Mt 23:16–22. See p 7.

JAMES—NOTE ON 5:13–14 suffering? … cheerful? … sick? In all circumstances, good or bad, Christians call upon God and trust in His provision, acknowledging that all things happen by His will (cf 4:13–17).

JAMES—NOTE ON 5:14 elders. Leaders among God's people, in both OT (Ex 19:7; 24:1) and NT (Ac 11:30; Ti 1:5); sometimes refers to pastors. See p 228. pray over him, anointing him with oil. Anointing is a physical sign accompanying the prayer, much like incense in Levitical worship (Ex 30). In the ancient world, oil was used for medicinal purposes (cf Lk 10:34). Here it is placed on the person while praying, marking that person as one set apart for God's care. A similar practice is described in Mk 6:13. The anointing oil in Ex 30:22–31 had a similar function, marking certain items as holy, dedicated to God. in the name of the Lord. Indicating that it is the Lord who heals, according to His will.

JAMES—NOTE ON 5:15 prayer of faith. Prayer spoken from faith (cf 1:6). save. See p 1904. Gk word can mean "heal," which is more appropriate here, though salvation is also in view in v 16. raise him up. Make him better physically (Mk 2:9; Lk 7:14), but also with a view toward the ultimate goal of the resurrection of the dead in Christ. So in Ac 3:1–4:22, Peter raised up the lame man and announced that by the name of Jesus "whom God raised from the dead" (3:15; 4:10) the man was healed. committed sins, he will be forgiven. Illness is sometimes a consequence of specific sins (Dt 28:58–62; 1Co 11:29–30), but not always (Jn 9:1–3). Still, sickness and death are consequences of our general fallen condition. In Christ, God is able to heal our bodies, which He will raise up on the Last Day.

JAMES—NOTE ON 5:16 confess your sins to one another. "Here the reference is not to confession made to priests, but is the reconciliation of brothers to each other. Confession should be mutual" (Ap XIIB 12). God directs us to confess our sins to others as to Him, and to forgive sins in His name. The confession of sins to one another is implied in Mt 18:15–16. Cf Mk 1:5; 1Jn 1:9. Luth: "Conduct yourselves in such a way that each humbles himself before the other and confesses his guilt, if he has offended someone" (AE 36:356). righteous person. One who is righteous by faith; same as one who prays "in faith" (Jas 1:6; cf 5:15). See p 843. power. God's response to prayer, which accomplishes what human will and strength cannot. Luth: " 'The prayer of a righteous man has great power in its effects' if it is serious and persistent…. God intends to test you to see whether you can hold on tight, and to teach you that your prayer is not displeasing to Him or unheard, simply because His answer is delayed and you are permitted to go on seeking and knocking" (AE 21:234–35).

JAMES—NOTE ON 5:17–18 nature like ours. Human and a sinner. did not rain … gave rain. God's power was seen in His answer to sinful Elijah's prayer.

JAMES—NOTE ON 5:19–20 Summarizes the entire Letter.

JAMES—NOTE ON 5:19 wanders from the truth. Strays from right teaching ("word of truth"; 1:18) and right living ("false to the truth"; 3:14). brings him back. Implies seeking out one who has wandered, in order to restore him through confession and forgiveness.

JAMES—NOTE ON 5:20 his soul. Of the sinner who is brought back. from death. The person left in sin will die in sin (1:15; cf 5:15). cover a multitude of sins. More than we can number; God forgives all our sins.

JAMES—NOTE ON 5:12–20 James has been calling sinners to repentance, and here he exhorts the entire congregation to do the same. No aspect of our lives is private, only between "me and God." We hide behind facades of perfection, but sin and its consequences pervade every aspect of our lives. Left on our own, we would perish. But our Lord has given us a community of fellow saints to hear our confession, pray for our needs, and restore us when we err. We hear His Gospel from them. God continuously sends into our lives those who pray for us, sing praise with us, and speak God's words of forgiveness to us. As His people, healed in body and soul, we may approach His throne of grace with confidence. • I place my life into Your hands, Lord. Save me, heal me, and use my voice to praise You, to pray for my brothers and sisters, and to speak Your forgiving Word. Amen.

1 Peter

1 Peter 1 | 1 Peter 2 | 1 Peter 3 | 1 Peter 4 | 1 Peter 5

- Introduction to 1 Peter
  - Overview
  - Reading 1 Peter
  - Luther on 1 Peter
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Greeting

1 [1]†† Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ, To those who are elect exiles of the dispersion in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, [2]† according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, in the sanctification of the Spirit, for obedience to Jesus Christ and for sprinkling with his blood:
May grace and peace be multiplied to you.

Born Again to a Living Hope

3 ‡† Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! According to his great mercy, he has caused us to be born again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, 4 † to an inheritance that is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading, kept in heaven for you, 5 † who by God's power are being guarded through faith for a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. 6 † In this you rejoice, though now for a little while, if necessary, you have been grieved by various trials, 7 † so that the tested genuineness of your faith—more precious than gold that perishes though it is tested by fire—may be found to result in praise and glory and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ. 8 † Though you have not seen him, you love him. Though you do not now see him, you believe in him and rejoice with joy that is inexpressible and filled with glory, 9 † obtaining the outcome of your faith, the salvation of your souls.

10 † Concerning this salvation, the prophets who prophesied about the grace that was to be yours searched and inquired carefully, 11 † inquiring what person or time the Spirit of Christ in them was indicating when he predicted the sufferings of Christ and the subsequent glories. 12 † It was revealed to them that they were serving not themselves but you, in the things that have now been announced to you through those who preached the good news to you by the Holy Spirit sent from heaven, things into which angels long to look.

Called to Be Holy

13 ‡ † Therefore, preparing your minds for action,[1] and being sober-minded, set your hope fully on the grace that will be brought to you at the revelation of Jesus Christ. 14 † As obedient children, do not be conformed to the passions of your former ignorance, 15 † but as he who called you is holy, you also be holy in all your conduct, 16 † since it is written, “You shall be holy, for I am holy.” 17 † And if you call on him as Father who judges impartially according to each one’s deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile, 18 † knowing that you were ransomed from the futile ways inherited from your forefathers, not with perishable things such as silver or gold, 19 † but with the precious blood of Christ, like that of a lamb without blemish or spot. 20 † He was foreknown before the foundation of the world but was made manifest in the last times for the sake of you 21 † who through him are believers in God, who raised him from the dead and gave him glory, so that your faith and hope are in God.

22 † Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, 23 ‡ † since you have been born again, not of perishable seed but of imperishable, through the living and abiding word of God; 24 ‡ † for > “All flesh is like grass > and all its glory like the flower of grass.

> The grass withers,
> and the flower falls,
> 25 but the word of the Lord remains forever.”

And this word is the good news that was preached to you.

A Living Stone and a Holy People

2 [1]So put away all malice and all deceit and hypocrisy and envy and all slander. [2]Like newborn infants, long for the pure spiritual milk, that by it you may grow up into salvation— [3]if indeed you have tasted that the Lord is good.

[4]As you come to him, a living stone rejected by men but in the sight of God chosen and precious, [5]you yourselves like living stones are being built up as a spiritual house, to be a holy priesthood, to offer spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ. [6]For it stands in Scripture:

> "Behold, I am laying in Zion a stone,
> a cornerstone chosen and precious, > and whoever believes in him will not be put > to shame."

[7]So the honor is for you who believe, but for those who do not believe,

> "The stone that the builders rejected > has become the cornerstone,"[1]

[8]and

> "A stone of stumbling, > and a rock of offense."

They stumble because they disobey the word, as they were destined to do.

[9]But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for his own possession, that you may proclaim the excellencies of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light. [10]Once you were not a people, but now you are God's people; once you had not received mercy, but now you have received mercy.

[11]Beloved, I urge you as sojourners and exiles to abstain from the passions of the flesh, which wage war against your soul. [12]Keep your conduct among the Gentiles honorable, so that when they speak against you as evildoers, they may see your good deeds and glorify God on the day of visitation.

Submission to Authority

13 ††Be subject for the Lord’s sake to every human institution,[1] whether it be to the emperor[2] as supreme, 14 †or to governors as sent by him to punish those who do evil and to praise those who do good. 15 †For this is the will of God, that by doing good you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish people. 16 †Live as people who are free, not using your freedom as a cover-up for evil, but living as servants[3] of God. 17 †Honor everyone. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the emperor.

18 †Servants, be subject to your masters with all respect, not only to the good and gentle but also to the unjust. 19 †For this is a gracious thing, when, mindful of God, one endures sorrows while suffering unjustly. 20 †For what credit is it if, when you sin and are beaten for it, you endure? But if when you do good and suffer for it you endure, this is a gracious thing in the sight of God. 21 †For to this you have been called, because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, so that you might follow in his steps. 22 †He committed no sin, neither was deceit found in his mouth. 23 †When he was reviled, he did not revile in return; when he suffered, he did not threaten, but continued entrusting himself to him who judges justly. 24 †He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed. 25 † For you were straying like sheep, but have now returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls.

Wives and Husbands

3 [1]‡†Likewise, wives, be subject to your own husbands, so that even if some do not obey the word, they may be won without a word by the conduct of their wives, [2]†when they see your respectful and pure conduct.
[3]†Do not let your adorning be external—the braiding of hair and the putting on of gold jewelry, or the clothing you wear— [4]†but let your adorning be the hidden person of the heart with the imperishable beauty of a gentle and quiet spirit, which in God's sight is very precious. [5]†For this is how the holy women who hoped in God used to adorn themselves, by submitting to their own husbands, [6]†as Sarah obeyed Abraham, calling him lord. And you are her children, if you do good and do not fear anything that is frightening.

[7]†Likewise, husbands, live with your wives in an understanding way, showing honor to the woman as the weaker vessel, since they are heirs with you[1] of the grace of life, so that your prayers may not be hindered.

Suffering for Righteousness' Sake

8 ‡ † Finally, all of you, have unity of mind, sympathy, brotherly love, a tender heart, and a humble mind. 9 † Do not repay evil for evil or reviling for reviling, but on the contrary, bless, for to this you were called, that you may obtain a blessing. 10 ‡ For > "Whoever desires to love life > and see good days, > let him keep his tongue from evil > and his lips from speaking deceit; > 11 let him turn away from evil and do good;

> let him seek peace and pursue it.
> 12 For the eyes of the Lord are on the righteous, > and his ears are open to their prayer.
> But the face of the Lord is against those who > do evil."

13 Now who is there to harm you if you are zealous for what is good?
14 † But even if you should suffer for righteousness' sake, you will be blessed. Have no fear of them, nor be troubled, 15 † but in your hearts honor Christ the Lord as holy, always being prepared to make a defense to anyone who asks you for a reason for the hope that is in you; yet do it with gentleness and respect, 16 † having a good conscience, so that, when you are slandered, those who revile your good behavior in Christ may be put to shame. 17 † For it is better to suffer for doing good, if that should be God's will, than for doing evil.

18 † For Christ also suffered[1] once for sins, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh but made alive in the spirit, 19 † in which[2] he went and proclaimed[3] to the spirits in prison, 20 † because[4] they formerly did not obey, when God's patience waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was being prepared, in which a few, that is, eight persons, were brought safely through water.
21 † Baptism, which corresponds to this, now saves you, not as a removal of dirt from the body but as an appeal to God for a good conscience, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, [22]† who has gone into heaven and is at the right hand of God, with angels, authorities, and powers having been subjected to him.

Stewards of God’s Grace

4 [1]‡†Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh,[1] arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, [2]†so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. [3]†For the time that is past suffices for doing what the Gentiles want to do, living in sensuality, passions, drunkenness, orgies, drinking parties, and lawless idolatry. [4]†With respect to this they are surprised when you do not join them in the same flood of debauchery, and they malign you; [5]†but they will give account to him who is ready to judge the living and the dead. [6]†For this is why the gospel was preached even to those who are dead, that though judged in the flesh the way people are, they might live in the spirit the way God does.

[7]†The end of all things is at hand; therefore be self-controlled and sober-minded for the sake of your prayers. [8]†Above all, keep loving one another earnestly, since love covers a multitude of sins. [9]†Show hospitality to one another without grumbling. [10]‡†As each has received a gift, use it to serve one another, as good stewards of God’s varied grace: [11]†whoever speaks, as one who speaks oracles of God; whoever serves, as one who serves by the strength that God supplies—in order that in everything God may be glorified through Jesus Christ. To him belong glory and dominion forever and ever. Amen.

Suffering as a Christian

12 ††Beloved, do not be surprised at the fiery trial when it comes upon you to test you, as though something strange were happening to you. 13 †But rejoice insofar as you share Christ's sufferings, that you may also rejoice and be glad when his glory is revealed. 14 †If you are insulted for the name of Christ, you are blessed, because the Spirit of glory[1] and of God rests upon you. 15 †But let none of you suffer as a murderer or a thief or an evildoer or as a meddler. 16 †Yet if anyone suffers as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in that name. 17 †For it is time for judgment to begin at the household of God; and if it begins with us, what will be the outcome for those who do not obey the gospel of God? 18 †And > "If the righteous is scarcely saved, > what will become of the ungodly and the > sinner?"[2]

19 †Therefore let those who suffer according to God's will entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good.

Shepherd the Flock of God

5 [1] ‡ ‡ † So I exhort the elders among you, as a fellow elder and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, as well as a partaker in the glory that is going to be revealed: [2] † shepherd the flock of God that is among you, exercising oversight,[3] not under compulsion, but willingly, as God would have you;[4] not for shameful gain, but eagerly; [3] † not domineering over those in your charge, but being examples to the flock. [4] † And when the chief Shepherd appears, you will receive the unfading crown of glory.
[5] † Likewise, you who are younger, be subject to the elders. Clothe yourselves, all of you, with humility toward one another, for "God opposes the proud but gives grace to the humble."

[6] † Humble yourselves, therefore, under the mighty hand of God so that at the proper time he may exalt you, [7] † casting all your anxieties on him, because he cares for you. [8] † Be sober-minded; be watchful. Your adversary the devil prowls around like a roaring lion, seeking someone to devour.
[9] † Resist him, firm in your faith, knowing that the same kinds of suffering are being experienced by your brotherhood throughout the world. [10] † And after you have suffered a little while, the God of all grace, who has called you to his eternal glory in Christ, will himself restore, confirm, strengthen, and establish you. [11] † To him be the dominion forever and ever. Amen.

Final Greetings

12 ††By Silvanus, a faithful brother as I regard him, I have written briefly to you, exhorting and declaring that this is the true grace of God. Stand firm in it. 13 † She who is at Babylon, who is likewise chosen, sends you greetings, and so does Mark, my son. 14 †Greet one another with the kiss of love.

Peace to all of you who are in Christ.

1 Peter

OVERVIEW

Author
Simon Peter the apostle

Date
Before AD 67

Places
Pontus; Galatia; Cappadocia; Asia; Bithynia

People
Peter; exiles of the Dispersion; unbelievers; Gentiles; governmental leaders; servants; wives and husbands; elders of the Church; younger believers; Silvanus; “she who is at Babylon”; Mark

Purpose
To instruct and encourage the Lord’s people as they endure suffering for the sake of righteousness

Law Themes
Sin; ignorance of foolish people; perishable; disobeying God’s Word; darkness; judgment; fiery trials

Gospel Themes
Christ bore our sins in His body; He suffered for us; He ransomed sinners; He is imperishable; Christ’s death involved a righteous man dying for unrighteous people (the great exchange); marvelous light; stand firm in God’s grace; God’s Word is the living and abiding Word; good news; royal priesthood; holy nation; chosen race

Memory Verses

Ransomed by Christ's blood (1:17–19); the chosen people (2:9–10); healed by Christ (2:24–25); Baptism now saves you (3:18–22)

Introduction to 1 Peter

Reading 1 Peter

"When will the new flock return from the high pasture?" a young shepherd complained. "We should have the gate closed and all things settled for the night."

"Patience," said the chief shepherd. "We have comfort enough. Our brother has a treacherous climb down the hill. New lambs and nursing ewes will slow everything down. But rightly so. Little ones must eat, and shepherds must keep watch and wait and lead them safely home."

In his first Letter, Peter encourages elders in Asia Minor to watch over their congregations with patient care (5:1–11) and nurture them in the new life God gives. These new Gentile congregations were enduring significant suffering due to persecution and alienation from the corrupt culture in which they lived. Peter describes them as God's people—chosen, holy, and supremely precious to the chief Shepherd, the Lord Jesus.

Luther on 1 Peter

This epistle St. Peter wrote to the converted heathen; he exhorts them to be steadfast in faith and to increase through all kinds of suffering and good works.

In chapter 1 he strengthens their faith through the divine promise and power of the salvation to come. He shows that this salvation has not been merited by us but was first proclaimed by the prophets. Therefore they ought now to live new and holy lives, and forget the old life, as those who have been born anew through the living and eternal Word of God.

In chapter 2 he teaches them to know Christ as the Head and the Cornerstone, and like true priests to sacrifice themselves to God as Christ sacrificed himself. And he sets about giving instructions to the various estates. First he teaches in general subjection to temporal rulership; afterward he teaches in particular that servants are to be subordinate to their masters and [even] to suffer wrong from them, for the sake of Christ who also suffered wrong for us.

In chapter 3 he teaches wives to be obedient, even to unbelieving husbands, and to adorn themselves with holiness. Likewise, husbands are to be patient with their wives and bear with them. And finally, all in general are to be humble and patient and kind to one another, as Christ was because of our sins.

In chapter 4 he teaches us to subdue the flesh with sobriety, watchfulness, temperance, prayer, and to find comfort and strength through the sufferings of Christ. He instructs the spiritual rulers to inculcate the words and works of God alone, and each to serve the other with his gifts; and not to be surprised but to rejoice, if we have to suffer for the name of Christ.

In chapter 5 he exhorts the bishops and priests as to how they are to live and to tend the people. He warns us against the devil, who without ceasing pursues us everywhere. (AE 35:390–91)

For more of Luther's insights on this Book, see Sermons on the First Epistle of St. Peter (AE 30:1–145).

Challenges for Readers

Authorship. The excellent Greek style of this Letter and the use of the LXX has led some modern scholars to doubt whether Peter, known as a simple fisherman (Ac 4:13), could have written it. However, early Christian testimony unanimously attributes the work to Peter. The author acknowledges that he had help (1Pt 5:12). Silvanus, who was also a colleague of the apostle Paul (cf Ac 15–17; 18:5; 2Co 1:19; 1Th 1:1; 2Th 1:1), likely acted as Peter's scribe and assistant.

Baptism. Though Baptism is mentioned directly only once (3:18–22), references to Baptism appear throughout the Letter (e.g., 1:3, 23; 2:2, 9–10). Some scholars have concluded that 1 Peter is actually based on an Eastertide liturgy or was originally presented as a sermon to newly baptized members of a congregation. However, it is not possible to prove these suggested occasions for the work.

Suffering. Peter writes about Jesus' suffering for our redemption (1:18–21; 2:21–25; 5:4) as a way of helping the congregation understand the deeper spiritual significance of the suffering they were experiencing. His focus on suffering is not meant to teach Christians that they must suffer or seek out suffering and persecution but to help them see they will never escape some suffering so long as they are living in a sinful world.

Use of the OT. Though the congregations of Asia Minor likely had more Gentile members than Jewish ones, Peter makes extensive use of OT imagery to describe them. For example, he calls them "elect exiles of the dispersion" (1:1), "a holy priesthood" (2:5), "a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation" (2:9). He calls the congregation children of Abraham and Sarah (3:6), writing as though they were naturally born Israelites. Peter illustrates that the OT truly functioned as the Holy Bible and fount of early Christian teaching. (See pp xlv–xlvii.) Also, he shows how God was uniting Jews and Gentiles in the Christian congregations.

Household Code. Peter begins ch 3 with a "household code," a guideline for conduct. The apostle Paul also writes in this way, showing the importance of helping early Christians find their way in a society with very different beliefs and practices. See note, Eph 5:22–6:9.

Blessings for Readers

As you read 1 Peter, pray for your brothers and sisters who face suffering. Count it all joy that your Lord Jesus Christ suffered all pain and shame in order to redeem you (3:18) and all who call upon Him. As He gives you strength, rejoice in your sufferings, knowing that you share in the sufferings of Christ (4:13). As with Jesus, the sufferings you face must give way to the subsequent glories God will reveal in you (1:11; 5:10).

OUTLINE

I. Apostolic Salutation (1:1–2)
II. Introductory Thanksgiving (1:3–12)
A. God to Be Praised for New Life in Christ (1:3–5)
B. Christians Are Strengthened and Sustained in Their Suffering by Joy and Hope (1:6–9)
C. Salvation Was Foretold by the Prophets (1:10–12)
III. Christians Are to Lead Holy Lives (1:13–2:10)
A. Newfound Status Demands That Christians Be Holy, as God Is (1:13–16)
B. Believers Are Mindful of the Price of Their Redemption (1:17–21)
C. Christians Turn Away from Malice as They Mature in Faith and Love (1:22–2:3)
D. As Living Stones in God's Temple, His Royal Priesthood and Chosen People, Christians Proclaim His Excellencies (2:4–10)
IV. Specific Instruction and Encouragement for Holy Living (2:11–4:11)
A. The Purpose of Holiness (2:11–12)
B. Christians Submit to Civil Authorities (2:13–17)
C. Household Slaves Submit to the Authority of Their Masters (2:18–25)
D. A Wife Yields to Her Husband's Authority as Head of the Household (3:1–6)
E. A Husband Demonstrates Godliness by Respecting His Wife (3:7)
F. Humility, Unity, a Tender Heart, and Brotherly Love Characterize Christian Brotherhood (3:8–12)
G. Christian Virtue Sends a Powerful Message to Outsiders and Gives Opportunity for Witnessing (3:13–17)

H. Jesus Was Treated Unjustly and Then Gloriously Vindicated (3:18–22)
I. Jesus' Example Inspires His People to Overcome Surrounding Evil (4:1–6)
J. Nearness of the End Stimulates Christians to Faithfulness (4:7–11)
V. Joy Amid Suffering and Further Clarifications about What Is Expected of the Community (4:12–5:11)
A. Suffering for the Sake of Christ Is a Sharing in Him (4:12–19)
B. Elders Have Special Responsibilities and Promises (5:1–4)
C. Younger Men Are to Submit Humbly to the Community's Elders (5:5)
D. Concluding Exhortation to Humility and Trust (5:6–11)
VI. Final Greetings (5:12–14)
A. Silvanus's Help (5:12)
B. Other Brothers from the Church in "Babylon" (Rome) Send Greetings (5:13)
C. The Holy Kiss and the Peace of Christ (5:14)

Articles and Resources Related to 1 Peter

- Peter's Life and Ministry
- The Church as God's Crew

Peter's Life and Ministry

The following chart shows all the places where Peter (also called Simon and Cephas) is mentioned in the Bible. Look up the Bible references to learn more about this fascinating servant of our Lord.

Peter worked as a fisherman in Bethsaida and Capernaum when Jesus called him as a disciple, along with his brother Andrew. Peter left his business, wife, and family in order to follow Jesus. The Gospels describe him asking many questions of Jesus, boldly confessing his faith that Jesus is the Christ, and even arguing with Jesus. Peter was one of Jesus' closest disciples, along with James and John.

Peter helped prepare the Passover meal, disagreed with Jesus' display of servanthood, and boasted that he would never abandon Jesus. Though Peter fled when Jesus was arrested, he risked his own arrest by following Jesus into the courtyard of the high priest. That night, he denied that he knew Jesus. Peter later repented and became the first apostle to witness the empty tomb. Jesus purposely restored Peter as a leader among the apostles.

The fish that Peter and the other disciples caught suggested the earliest known symbol for the Christian faith. A clever disciple took the letters of the Greek word for fish—ichthus—and created an acronym meaning "Jesus Christ, God's Son, Savior."

Peter guided the earliest meetings of the apostles, preached to crowds in Jerusalem, and healed the sick. Though Peter valued his Jewish heritage, God used him to affirm the faith of the Samaritans and proclaim the Gospel among the Gentiles. He endured imprisonment and, according to tradition, was crucified upside down in Rome. His life and Letters show his rich faith in Jesus as the Savior of all humanity. They show what incredible things God can do through the life of a humble fisherman.

The Church as God's Crew

Around AD 200, the early Christian writer Tertullian compared the Church to a ship, navigating amid the treacherous reefs and inlets of this sinful world. Soon the early Christians adopted this description for their church buildings, calling the main part of the building a "nave" (from the Lat navis, from which we get the Eng word navy). They viewed the congregation as the crew of a ship, following their captain (the pastor) over wave and shoal.

The idea of the Church as a ship did not start with Tertullian. The apostle Peter—a fishing captain by trade—began this tradition when he compared the Church to Noah's ark (1Pt 3:18–22). In this comparison, Peter wanted to emphasize the unity and safety that God provides through His Church. God calls His people together to support one another as they journey toward their eternal goal.

Together in Christ

When we invite people to go to church with us, we sometimes hear them say, “I don’t need to go to church to be a Christian.” We might point out that the author of Hebrews encourages his readers to continue assembling together (Heb 10:25). But apart from that verse, we do not find any passage in the New Testament that tells us we must go to church.

Maybe God does not tell us we must go to church because He wants our worship attendance to flow from a love for Him and not from a rule or regulation, though the Third Commandment certainly still applies for our worship today. In the worship service, God comes to us through Word and Sacrament. If that does not draw Christians together, what will?

When we assemble together as the Church, we remember an important part of our faith. On the one hand, faith in Jesus is very personal. No one can believe for me. On the other hand, our faith includes others. For example, when Jesus teaches us to pray, He tells us to say, “Our Father” (Mt 6:9, emphasis added). We belong together, united in faith as God works through Word and Sacrament in us as individuals and as the Church. If we ask, “Who am I?” we should answer, “I am a member of God’s Church.”

Heaven on Earth

In the Old Testament, God established a heavenly place on earth. He directed Moses to build the tabernacle (Ex 25–26) and later told Solomon to build the temple (1Ki 6). Each structure was divided into (1) the Most Holy Place, where the ark of the covenant sat; (2) the Holy Place, which housed the bread of the Presence, the gold lampstands, and the altar of incense; and (3) the outer courtyard, where the priests offered the sacrifice for the worshipers. Like an earthly embassy, the tabernacle and temple compounds were considered part of the homeland they represented. In other words, both the tabernacle and the temple were earthly copies of heaven (cf Heb 9 for a superb treatment of this subject). If someone wanted to seek God, he or she went to the temple.

This created a problem. Sinful people cannot approach a righteous and holy God. Like a moth drawn to the flame, we are drawn to God's "unapproachable light" (1Tm 6:16). But also like a moth who comes too close to the flame, we sinners die when we come face-to-face with God. No one can see God and live (Ex 33:20). In His mercy, God established the tabernacle and the temple as places where sinners, through a priestly representative, could approach Him and live. As the author of Hebrews points out, this approach was subject to many restrictions and much sacrifice. Finally, the sacrificial death of Jesus Christ, our great High Priest, opened the way for sinners to come to God personally.

A Spiritual House

When Peter tells us that we are a "spiritual house" and a "holy priesthood" (1Pt 2:5), he challenges us to consider that our faith is bigger than "God and me." Our faith in Christ necessarily involves our congregations. We are perhaps all familiar with Paul's statement that our body is the temple of the Holy Spirit (1Co 3:16–17; 6:19). English readers miss Paul's point, at least in part. When he writes "you" or "your," he uses the plural form. The picture he has in mind is that all the Christians in Corinth together form the Body of Christ, in which the Holy Spirit dwells. Individual Christians, by virtue of their Baptism into Christ, do receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. Nevertheless, Paul's point (and Peter's challenge) is that we are united in faith. We belong to Christ and to one another, bound together by the Holy Spirit (cf Gal 3:26–29).

When we are baptized into God's holy name, God does more than save us from our sins. He brings us into the community of faith, the holy family of believers (see pp xxvi–xxx). Because we are baptized into Christ Jesus (the living temple of God), we become part of God's temple on earth (1Pt 2:4–5).

Peter calls us a "holy priesthood" (1Pt 2:5) and a "royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for His own possession" (1Pt 2:9). An Old Testament priest made sacrifices to God. By means of their sacrificial work, people had access to God. Peter uses this image to describe the work God has given us to do: to offer "spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ" (1Pt 2:5). By offering these spiritual sacrifices, we "proclaim the excellencies of Him who called [us] out of darkness into His marvelous light" (1Pt 2:9).

Life as Priests

God makes His glory known through the Church, both to the visible and to the invisible creation (Eph 3:10–11). When we put our faith into practice, living the love that God gives us in Christ Jesus, we fulfill our purpose as God's Church. We tell people about Jesus, but we do not stop there. We practice a genuine concern for others by helping to feed, house, and clothe those in need. We think of their welfare and not just our own. The world tells us to "look out for number one" and teaches us how to live in a "dog-eat-dog" environment. Christ shows us a better way, sacrificing Himself for us and calling us to follow His example.

At our Baptism, God gave us a new birth into His holy family. He made us part of His Church, a living temple that He spreads across the globe. Through this "temple without walls," He reaches out to save all people, rescuing them from sin and damnation by His marvelous grace. Who are you? You are part of that community of faith. You belong together with other Christians. You belong to God's chosen people.

Footnotes

Footnotes for 1 Peter, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:13 Greek girding up the loins of your mind

Footnotes for 1 Peter, Chapter 2

- [1] 2:7 Greek the head of the corner
- [1] 2:13 Or every institution ordained for people
- [2] 2:13 Or king; also verse 17
- [3] 2:16 Greek bondservants

Footnotes for 1 Peter, Chapter 3

- [1] 3:7 Some manuscripts since you are joint heirs
- [1] 3:18 Some manuscripts died
- [2] 3:19 Or the Spirit, in whom
- [3] 3:19 Or preached
- [4] 3:20 Or when

Footnotes for 1 Peter, Chapter 4

- [1] 4:1 Some manuscripts add for us; some for you

- [1] 4:14 Some manuscripts insert and of power
- [2] 4:18 Greek where will the ungodly and sinner appear?

Footnotes for 1 Peter, Chapter 5

- [3] 5:2 Some manuscripts omit exercising oversight
- [4] 5:2 Some manuscripts omit as God would have you

Study Notes

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:1 apostle. One sent by Jesus Christ to proclaim His Word. As an eyewitness to Jesus, Peter was an important witness to the truth of the Gospel (cf Mt 16:17–19; Lk 24:44–49; Jn 20:21). See p 1901. elect. Chosen by God's grace to belong to Him (Eph 1:4; Col 3:12; 2Th 2:13). See "chosen," p 1901. exiles. Those living away from their true home: heaven. dispersion. Gk diaspora. Refers to Jews scattered beyond the land of Israel. Peter addresses both Jewish and Gentile Christians throughout Asia Minor. People from the areas listed were in Jerusalem on Pentecost (Ac 2:9–11). See p 1556.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:2 Greeting includes works by the persons of the Trinity. foreknowledge. God not only knew us before we had any knowledge of Him, but He also chose us by His grace before the foundation of the world (Eph 1:4; 1Tm 2:4; 2Tm 1:9). See note, Rm 8:29. sanctification of the Spirit. He calls us from sin to faith, holiness, and good works. obedience. Paired in Gk with sprinkling, which likely indicates Jesus does the activities (the "foreknowledge" and "sanctification" are also works of God). Jesus obeyed the Father and sprinkles us with His blood shed on the cross. sprinkling. Not Baptism only. By the preaching of the Gospel, believers are sprinkled with the blood of Christ the Lamb (Ex 24:4–8; Is 52:15; Heb 9:11–14, 18–22). Luth: "It would be the greatest slander and blasphemy of the name of Christ if we refused to honor Christ's blood for washing away our sin or refused to believe that this blood makes us holy. Hence you must believe and confess that you are holy, but by this blood and not by reason of your own piety" (AE 30:7).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:1–2 Peter writes to Christians who struggle because they live in this world but are really citizens of heaven. He reminds them of their election in Christ and His gifts of forgiveness, life, and salvation. Apart from God's grace in Christ, this sinful world has no hope in the midst of trials, persecution, and eternal death. God, through His Son, brings reconciliation and forgiveness of sin for all who believe by grace through faith that Christ is Savior. In Him we have grace and peace. • Lord Jesus Christ, thank You for redeeming me and making me a citizen of heaven. Amen.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:3 Blessed. Or, "praised." God is praised for saving us. See p 842. living hope. Not a pious wish but a solid promise of God. This hope gives life. Luth: "Peter … exhorts them to be steadfast in faith and to increase through all kinds of suffering and good works…. He strengthens their faith through the divine promise and power of the salvation to come" (AE 35:390). resurrection. Our redemption and eternal life are guaranteed by the resurrection of Jesus, the firstborn from the dead (Col 1:18).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:4 inheritance. Through Christ, God has promised us the riches of heaven. See "heir," p 1902. kept in heaven. Our true home (see note, v 1). Nothing in this world can take our inheritance from us. Luth: "This blessing is ours forever and ever, even though we do not see it now…. On earth no pleasure is so great that it does not become unpleasant as time goes on. We see that one becomes weary of everything. But this blessing is different. All this is ours in Christ, by God's mercy, if we believe" (AE 30:13).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:5 guarded through faith. God keeps us in the faith He created and by which we are saved. "The knowledge of this faith is necessary to Christians, brings the most abundant comfort in all troubles, and shows us Christ's office" (Ap V 266). salvation. Deliverance from sin and death to live with God forever. last time. God's promised salvation will be fully revealed on Judgment Day.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:6 various trials. Situations that test one's faith. See note, Jas 1:2. Though believers should not seek out trials, they should be ready to face them in faith, with God's power.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:7 tested genuineness. As the true character of gold is seen in a refiner's fire, so faith's true character is revealed when tested. perishes. All earthly treasures will eventually be destroyed, but through faith, we will live with our Savior forever. Luth: "All Scripture compares temptation to fire. Thus here St. Peter also likens the gold that is tested by fire to the testing of faith by temptation and suffering. Fire does not impair the quality of gold, but it purifies it, so that all alloy is removed. Thus God has imposed the cross on all Christians to cleanse and to purge them well, in order that faith may remain pure, just as the Word is, so that one adheres to the Word alone and relies on nothing else. For we really need such purging and affliction every day because of the coarse old Adam" (AE 30:17).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:8 not seen Him. Unlike Peter, we are not eyewitnesses of Jesus, but through faith, we believe in Him and love Him. Our eyes will see Him on the Last Day, but even now we encounter Christ through His Word and Sacraments as He gives us saving faith, forgiveness, salvation, and eternal life. glory. As Peter saw Jesus' glory in the transfiguration, so by faith we are filled with His glorious presence.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:9 outcome. Or, "goal." True faith in Christ brings eternal salvation. "It is clear from God's Word that faith is the proper and only means through which righteousness and salvation are not only received, but also preserved by God" (FC SD IV 35).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:10 prophesied … grace. Grace in Christ summarizes the prophetic proclamation of God's Word. searched and inquired. The prophets sought knowledge of the coming Messiah. What they longed to know has been revealed to us in Jesus Christ. See p 1245.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:11 Spirit of Christ. The Trinity began to be revealed in the OT. See note, Nu 6:22–27. The prophets learned of Christ through the Holy Spirit. "The Spirit is and remains Christ's [1 Peter 1:11] and the Father's own Spirit to all eternity, not separated from God's Son…. The entire fullness of the Spirit has been communicated by the personal union to Christ according to the flesh, which is personally united with God's Son" (FC SD VIII 73). in them. Like us, they had the gift of the Holy Spirit, who created faith in them. The Spirit also revealed God's Word to them. predicted the sufferings of Christ. Though sometimes forgotten by God's people, the prophets clearly foretold the suffering, death, and triumph of the Messiah. See p 1245. subsequent glories. The prophets also foretold Jesus' resurrection and triumph, gifts that are shared with us.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:12 Angels had heard of the coming salvation for mankind but had not understood it, even though at times they announced the prophecies. serving … you. Prophets, apostles, and pastors serve God's people by proclaiming the Gospel. preached … by the Holy Spirit. Though spoken by human beings, God's Word came by the Holy Spirit; it is not of merely human origin (2Pt 1:21). See pp xxvi–xxx. angels long to look. The greatest, holiest mystery of all time—the incarnation and work of Christ—was revealed among humans. Though we may neglect this great treasure, all heaven worships the God of our salvation.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:3–12 We are born in sin and continue to commit sins in this fallen world. By ourselves, we have no hope of salvation or blessings. But God foretold His gracious plans through the prophets. In the fullness of time, He sent His Son to be our Redeemer. He has given us the gift of His Holy Spirit, that we might be brought to faith and persevere in the faith. Through Jesus Christ, we now have a living hope and know the promise of God that we will live in Him forever. We can face any trial or challenge, knowing that we are safe in His care. • Lord God, heavenly Father, give grace to preachers who proclaim Christ and Your Word. Grant that those who hear Your Word may learn of His all-availing sacrifice on the cross. Strengthen us in our faith in the midst of suffering, that we may gaze upon the glory of our Savior. Amen.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:13 Salvation is fully revealed in Christ's return. preparing. Spiritual and mental preparation, chiefly through trust in Christ's salvation, for the challenges before them. grace that will be brought. Confidence comes from knowing that Christ's work guarantees the goal of our salvation.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:14 former ignorance. Before conversion, they did not know God's will and sinned without realizing it. This is no longer the pattern of their lives. Luth: "Here you see how St. Peter traces all misfortune to ignorance. For where faith and the knowledge of Christ are lacking, nothing but error and blindness remain, so that one does not know what is right and what is wrong. Then people fall into vices of all kinds" (AE 30:31).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:15 called. God calls us by the Gospel to saving faith and a living hope. be holy. Set apart from the world, following God's perfect standards. See p 1902.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:16 You shall be holy, for I am holy. Though we remain sinners, we are simultaneously saints, justified by Christ. God now empowers us to strive against the world and the devil.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:17 call on Him. Cf Rm 10:13; see p 842. judges impartially. God judges based on His perfect holiness and the righteousness of Christ. He alone is perfectly just. fear. Not terror but reverence (Pr 1:7; 16:6); humble awareness of our place before God. See p 1001. exile. Time away from our true, heavenly home (1:1). See p 1079.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:18 ransomed. Christ bought our freedom from sin, death, and the devil. The payment was His own perfect blood. See SC, Second Article, p xxxvii; cf Mt 20:28; Eph 1:7; Rv 5:9; see also p 1904. futile ways. Various ways of living apart from God's will, such as pursuing evil desires, following other religions, or relying on ritualism or laws to save. There is no redemption apart from Christ's work. See note on "dead works," Heb 6:1.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:19 In the OT, a sacrifice had to be perfect. This foreshadowed Christ the perfect sacrifice, free from all sin and worthy of saving all people. See note, Lv 1:3. Luth: "Just one drop of this innocent blood would have been more than enough for the sin of the whole world. Yet the Father wanted to pour out His grace on us so abundantly and to spend so much that He let His Son Christ shed all His blood and gave us the entire treasure. Therefore He does not want us to make light of and think little of such great grace; but He wants us to be moved to conduct ourselves with fear, lest this treasure be taken away from us" (AE 30:36).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:20 Even before creation, God determined the plan of salvation and chose to send His Son to be our Redeemer. before the foundation. Cf Rv 13:8. last times. Began with Christ's incarnation and will culminate in His glorious return. See note, Ac 2:17.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:21 through Him. Christ is the only way to the Father. God, who raised Him. The resurrection is attributed to the Holy Trinity. Cf Rm 8:11. glory. As God, Jesus naturally had this glory. The resurrection manifested His glory to others. See p 1902.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:22 obedience. Peter calls forgiven Christians to do what God's Word teaches. This flows from the life we have in Christ's resurrection (v 21). brotherly love, love one another. Peter uses two different words for love. Obedience results in sincere love (Gk philadelphia) of fellow Christians. Having been forgiven, they now have pure hearts and are called to love with complete self-sacrificing love (Gk agape). pure heart. See note, Ps 51:10.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:23–25 word. The Holy Spirit works faith through the proclamation of the Gospel—in the OT, in the preaching of the apostles, in the emerging NT documents, and above all, in Christ, the Word made flesh (Jn 1:14).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:23 born again. As a redeemed child of God. See note, Jn 3:5. imperishable. Bringing forth eternal life. living and abiding word of God. God's Word brings life and salvation by the eternal Spirit's power (cf Mt 24:35).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:24–25 God's changeless will and Word are constant in this changing life. The Law condemns sinners; the Gospel works faith and hope through Christ. This passage is the motto of the Book of Concord (see Concordia, Preface, p 2).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:24 flesh. Our unredeemed existence. Bodily life quickly passes, but God's promises are trustworthy and eternal.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 1:13–25 Even before creation, God knew that mankind would fall into sin, reject His ways, live only for themselves, and lead lives that result in death and alienation from Him. In His love, before the world was made, He determined to send His Son, the unblemished Lamb, to be our sacrifice. Now through His Word, He calls us to life and sets us apart to His glory and for the service of our neighbor. God shows us our value: He was willing to send His Son for us. Now He calls us to share the Savior with others. • Heavenly Father, thank You for the gift of Your Gospel, that through Your Son we are born again, forgiven, and given life everlasting. May we rightly praise You for Your infinite mercy. Amen.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:1 put away. By daily contrition and repentance. The Christian lives in a constant state of grace.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:2 As an infant craves its mother's milk, so Christians crave God's nourishing Word. grow up into salvation. New converts may have a minimal knowledge of Christian teachings, but all Christians should strive to mature in their faith, which leads to the full blessings of salvation. See notes, 1Co 3:2; Heb 5:12, 14. Luth: "The milk is nothing but the Gospel, which is also the very seed by which we were conceived and born, as we heard above. This is also the food that nourishes us when we grow up; it is the armor which we put on and with which we equip ourselves. Yes, it is everything put together. But the admixture is the human doctrines with which the Word of God is adulterated" (AE 30:48–49).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:3 tasted that the Lord is good. Infants are satisfied by their mother's milk. Christians likewise find that God's Word satisfies their deepest needs. See note, Ps 34:8.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:4 living stone. Cf vv 6–8. The people of God are the temple in which He dwells; Christ is the cornerstone. chosen and precious. The Father chose His own dear Son to be our Savior. This is God's eternal plan. See notes, v 9; 1:1.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:5 spiritual house. The Church is the temple of the Holy Spirit, where He dwells. See note, 1Co 3:16. holy priesthood. All Christians are priests, having direct access to God through Christ. offer spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God. Priests offer sacrifices; thus Christians offer the sacrifices of prayer, praise, and thanksgiving. These are acceptable to God because of the greatest sacrifice, Jesus Christ (cf Heb 9–10). Luth: "Since Christ is the Groom and we are the bride, the bride has everything that the Groom has, even His own body. When He gives Himself to the bride, He gives Himself entirely as what He is; and the bride, in turn, also gives herself to Him" (AE 30:53).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:6 Is 28:16 prophesies that though Jerusalem would be destroyed, God would build a new Jerusalem that could not be destroyed. This prophecy was fulfilled in the creation of the Church. See "Zion," p 844.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:7 honor. Citizenship in the new Jerusalem is not something earned; it is a gift of God that honors us.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:8 Is 8:14 explains that although Christ was to be a sanctuary for Judah and Israel, those who rejected Him would fall in unbelief and be crushed. destined. Unless they repent and come to faith, sin will destroy them (e.g., Judas).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:9 chosen race. As the Israelites were once the chosen people of God, now Christians are the new Israel, chosen by God. royal priesthood. The priests belong to the King, God Himself. Luth: "Each and all are … equally spiritual priests before God…. Faith alone is the true priestly office…. Therefore all Christian men are priests, all women priestesses, be they young or old, master or servant, mistress or maid, learned or unlearned" (AE 35:101). holy nation. God's people, individually and collectively, are set apart to do His will (Ex 19:5–6). a people for His own possession. Repeats the truth that God's people belong to Him. See "portion," p 7. called you out of darkness. Sin and alienation from God. marvelous light. Only in Jesus, the light of the world, can we truly see things as they are. Cf Jn 1:4–13; 3:19–21. Luth: "We must recognize in our hearts and believe that we receive everything from Him and that He is our God. Then out with it, and freely and openly confess this before the world—preach, praise, glorify, and give thanks! This is the real and only worship of God, the true office of the priest, and the finest, most acceptable offering" (AE 14:32).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:10 not a people … God's people. Apart from God, humans are isolated and not in relationship with Him or others. Having received God's blessings, He places us in His Body, the Church. Now we belong; we are part of God's people. See note, Hos 1:9.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:11 Beloved. Peter is also part of God's people; he addresses other Christians as family members. sojourners and exiles. Citizens of heaven who are not yet living in their true home (cf 1:1). passions of the flesh. Sinful desires. See "flesh," p 1902. wage war. Our sinful flesh is constantly tempting us to sin.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:12 Gentiles. Lit, "nations." Unbelievers pay attention to the actions of Christians. see your good deeds. Good works, esp unexpected things, often make a strong impact on unbelievers (Mt 5:16). Deeds that demonstrate belief are a powerful witness. day of visitation. Time when God reveals Himself. Previous good experiences with Christians may make unbelievers more likely to consider what Christians teach.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:1–12 Like all people, we were born in sin and lived in the darkness of the world. But Christ, the light of the world, has called us out of darkness into His light. He makes us His own, gives us a place as citizens of His kingdom, and empowers us to live as His royal priesthood. We are not alone but are part of His people, a holy nation. Now that same Savior calls us to tell others of His love. Through our words and actions, we proclaim the life and salvation that is ours in Jesus. • Lord Jesus, as the cornerstone, You make us living stones in Your house and servants of Your Gospel. Bless us with a heart for the lost, that they may come to saving faith in You. Amen.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:13 every human institution. God established the Church to bless His people. But He has also established secular government for good order and a harmonious life. Christians are subjects of both kingdoms.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:14 punish … praise. Evildoers invite the full justice of the civil law; the obedient are given wide latitude to use their freedom (see notes, Rm 13:1–2).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:15 When Christians live out their faith, they prove that the world's slanderous accusations are false.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:16 Christians are free from forced obedience to the Law; nonetheless, they voluntarily use their freedom in service to others. cover-up for evil. Freedom from the Law's demands does not excuse sinful behavior. We strive to follow God's will but never rely on our efforts for salvation. living as servants of God. Our actions are not motivated by the Law but by love of God.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:17 Honor everyone. Everyone rightfully in authority, whether in the Church or the state, is to receive their due honor. brotherhood. The Church. Fear God. God must be honored and obeyed above all. See p 1001. Honor the emperor. Even corrupt human authorities should be honored and obeyed as long as they do not command that Christians violate God's will.
1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:18 Servants. Specifically addresses household servants. See p 101. be subject … to the unjust. Even those who mistreat others are our neighbors. Christians are to serve even unjust authorities, who may see their example and come to faith (cf 3:1).
1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:19 Righteous living in the face of injustice demonstrates reliance on God's grace. Christians who suffer for the sake of the Gospel find favor with God, and they witness to His power.
1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:20 do good and suffer for it. Bearing a cross for the sake of the Gospel may be difficult, but it is a holy, precious, noble, and blessed calling. Christians face such sufferings with God's strength.
1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:21 called. God calls Christians to live out their faith in the midst of suffering. See p 837. Christ also suffered for you. Our sufferings pale in comparison to what Christ suffered for us. example. We first receive Christ as our Savior and deliverer. Only then is He an example for us to follow. follow in His steps. We are to bear the cross, if God wills, just as His Son did for us (Mt 10:38–39).
1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:22 Jesus never sinned, not even in the face of completely undeserved suffering. See note, Heb 4:15.
1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:23 reviled. Though mocked by His lying accusers, Jesus never responded in kind. entrusting Himself. He relied on His Father, who will justly punish the wicked and reward the righteous (cf 4:19; Mt 10:28).
1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:24 bore our sins. Death is the consequence of sin (Rm 6:23). Christ's death was for our sin and not His own. die to sin and live to righteousness. Because of Christ's crucifixion, believers are dead to sin, so they may live new lives and present themselves to God as instruments of righteousness. See note, Gal 6:14. By His wounds you have been healed. We find life and forgiveness because of Christ's suffering. See note, Mt 4:23. Luth: "We crucified Him with our sins. We are still far from suffering what He suffered. Therefore if you are a pious Christian, you should tread in the footsteps of the Lord and have compassion on those who harm you. You should also pray for them and ask God not to punish them. For they do far more harm to their souls than they do to your body. If you take this to heart, you will surely forget about your own sorrow and suffer gladly. Here we should be mindful of the fact that formerly we, too, led the kind of unchristian life that they lead, but that we have now been converted through Christ" (AE 30:86).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:25 straying. Wandering from God's ways into sin. Shepherd and Overseer of your souls. The chief Shepherd calls His sheep back into His fold through His Gospel. With His Word, He feeds and cares for those who were perishing.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 2:13–25 Scripture never teaches that those who follow Jesus will be immune to suffering. Just as Jesus, our sinless Savior, faced unjust suffering and death, so we may be called to take up our own cross to follow Him. But if God gives us a cross to carry, He also promises to give us the strength to bear it by faith. Christ our Shepherd calls us by name, brings us into His fold through the Gospel, and cares for us in the midst of suffering. We are honored to follow Him. • Gracious God, we praise You for Your mercy through Your Son, who bore our sins in His body on the tree. Give us grace to reach out to our enemies with the power of Your Gospel, which works faith and saves eternally. Amen.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:1 Likewise. As believers submit to civil authorities (2:13–17) and servants submit to masters (2:18–25). wives, be subject to your own husbands. God's order of creation (see note, 1Tm 2:13; see also p 1291) should be a delight, not an affliction. Though sin has corrupted that order, in Christ there is sanctity and forgiveness in marriage. Here submission aids Christian witness. See note, Eph 5:22–6:9. obey the word. Believe its message. See note, Rm 1:5. won without a word. Behavior of Christian wives demonstrates their faith through sanctified living; they gently proclaim Christ in all they do.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:2 pure conduct. Irreproachable behavior motivated by faith.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:3 True beauty is not found in lavish adornment but in faith and service to Christ.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:4 Wealth and outward beauty are passing, but in Christ personal character motivated by a transformed life endures. precious.

God values things that are often overlooked by humans.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:5 holy women who hoped in God. Chief virtue of these spiritual ancestors was their faith.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:6 obeyed. Gk hupakouo, "listen, respond to." calling him lord. Or, "master"; title of respect. her children. As Abraham is the father of believers, Sarah is our matriarch and a special example to Christian women. do not fear. Believers follow God's will, even if they have pagan spouses.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:7 understanding way. Understanding God's will for marriage. honor. Since a wife is a gift from God and of one flesh with her husband (Gn 2:24), she deserves honor. weaker vessel. Some feminist interpreters have taken offense at this expression. However, the apostle actually chooses his wording to express care, not disrespect, for women. Physically, women are typically smaller in size and weaker in strength, which could make them vulnerable to abuse. Peter admonishes husbands not to exploit their size and strength in unkind ways. Husband and wife complement each other in God's design. heirs with you. All are saved in the same way: by grace. See "heir," p 1902. grace of life. Christ's work gives life to all who belong to Him. your prayers may not be hindered. Disrespect and mistreatment would prevent husband and wife from praying together. Such sins would also cause God to refuse their requests. Luth: "A husband must bear in mind that his wife is a Christian too and is God's work or vessel. Both should conduct themselves in such a way that the wife holds her husband in honor and that the husband, in turn, gives his wife the honor that is her due. If this were observed, peace and love would reign. Otherwise, where this understanding is lacking, there is nothing but aversion in marriage. For this reason it happens that if a man and a woman take each other solely for the purpose of sensual pleasure and are intent on having happy days and sensual pleasure, they find nothing but heartache. But if you have regard for God's work and will, you can lead a Christian life in matrimony. Then you will not live as the heathen live" (AE 30:92).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:1–7 God's divine order calls men to love their wives sacrificially and to care for them. Wives are called to love their husbands and be subject to them. Sadly, sin affects marriage and families. We sometimes view God's gift as a burden or hardship. When a believing wife speaks the Gospel gently to her unbelieving husband and demonstrates her faith in action, the power of the Gospel may lead him to salvation.

When a husband truly loves his wife and treats her with honor, the family is strengthened, and all are blessed. When our families fall short of this calling, our gentle heavenly Father calls us to follow Him and is ever prepared to forgive us. • Gracious Father, sin has corrupted Your gift of marital and familial relationships. Grant that we do not fall into the ways of a corrupt culture, but by Your Word, stay true to spouse and family. Amen.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:8 unity of mind. From a common faith in Christ. tender heart. Compassion for others. humble mind. Not exalting oneself in pride but considering others as Christ did (cf Php 2:6–8). Luth: "Here you see what true brothers are. They cling together much more closely than any friends do. We Christians should also do this, for we are all brothers through Baptism. After Baptism even my father and my mother are my brother and my sister, for through faith I have the very same blessing and inheritance from Christ that they have" (AE 30:96).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:9 bless. Opposite of retribution. Do not retaliate for wrongs, but respond with the Gospel. Christ did this perfectly. called, that you may obtain a blessing. We bless others as God has loved, called, and blessed us. See "bless," p 1901.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:10–12 David wrote these words while fleeing for his life from Saul. Even then he remembered God's call to act uprightly.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:14 Whatever trials or sufferings Christians face, they know that Christ grants strength, forgiveness, and life everlasting.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:15 in your hearts honor Christ the Lord. Christian witness begins with a person's own faith. We must know what we believe, teach, and confess according to God's Word. prepared to make a defense. Gk apologia. Positive testimony and witness to the truth of the Gospel. Christianity stands up to scrutiny and investigation because it is true. Christians are to be prepared to tell others about this truth whenever they have the opportunity. hope. Others notice the Christian's faithful response to adversity, which may cause them to seek the reason and thus hear the Gospel. See p 1903. gentleness and respect. Defending the Gospel should not be done with arrogance or militance; God calls for a gentle witness to the truth.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:16 good conscience. Given to us in our Baptism (v 21).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:17 God may put us in difficult situations to chastise, strengthen, draw us back into His fold, or to benefit others. He will never give us more than we can bear. See notes, 1Co 10:13; Heb 12:7. Luth: "Here St. Peter again presents the Lord Christ to us as an example and always refers to the suffering of Christ…. Christ was righteous. For doing right He also suffered for us, who were unrighteous. But He did not seek the cross. No, He waited until it was God's will that He should drink the cup. He should be the model for us to imitate" (AE 30:110).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:18 God the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit worked together in the cause of our redemption. suffered once for sins. Our sufferings do not atone for our sin; Christ made atonement for us by His cross. His resurrection gives absolute certainty that His sacrifice was effective. See note, Heb 7:27. alive in the spirit. Christ's human spirit and body, separated in death, were reunited in His resurrection. Luth: "We are one sacrifice with Him. As He dies, so we, too, die according to the flesh; as He lives in the spirit, so we, too, live in the spirit" (AE 30:111).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:19 Christ descended into hell to declare His victory over death and all evil forces. His power surpasses all others. Scripture does not teach that He offered these spirits a second chance for salvation. "It is enough if we know that Christ descended into hell, destroyed hell for all believers, and delivered them from the power of death and of the devil, from eternal condemnation and the jaws of hell. We will save our questions 'and not curiously investigate' about how this happened until the other world. Then not only this 'mystery', but others also will be revealed that we simply believe here and cannot grasp with our blind reason" (FC Ep IX 4).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:20 Noah preached to these spirits (unbelievers), who failed to hear and believe God's Word. Thus they perished and remain in hell until the final judgment.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:21 Baptism … now saves you. The flood is a figure of Baptism. In each case, water saves. The world was cleansed when Noah and his family were lifted up by the flood. Baptism cleanses and raises us to new life. By grace, Baptism is a means of salvation through which the Holy Spirit produces faith (cf Eph 5:25–27). Luth: "Now baptism is by far a greater flood than was that of Noah…. Baptism drowns all sorts of men throughout the world, from the birth of Christ even till the day of judgment…. [Noah's flood] was a flood of wrath, this is a flood of grace" (AE 35:32). See p 1369. an appeal to God for a good conscience. We are forgiven and holy because of Christ. That forgiveness is applied to us in Baptism. See note, Heb 10:22. through the resurrection. The life we are given in Baptism was earned by Christ. See note, Rm 6:4.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:22 right hand of God. Not a physical place but a description of supreme authority. "Now He has ascended to heaven, not merely as any other saint, but as the apostle testifies [Ephesians 4:10], above all heavens. He also truly fills all things, being present everywhere, not only as God, but also as man. He rules from sea to sea and to the ends of the earth, as the prophets predict [Psalm 8:1, 6; 93:1–4; Zechariah 9:10] and the apostles testify [Mark 16:20]. He did this everywhere with them and confirmed their word with signs. This did not happen in an earthly way. As Dr. Luther explains, this happened according to the way things are done at God's right hand…. 'God's right hand' is no set place in heaven, as the Sacramentarians assert without any ground in the Holy Scriptures. It is nothing other than God's almighty power, which fills heaven and earth" (FC SD VIII 27–28). angels, authorities, and powers. Christ is Lord over all things and all creatures. See note, Eph 1:21.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 3:8–22 In the midst of trials, we may be tempted to feel self-pity and despair. But God calls us to something greater. Jesus Christ is our Savior. He suffered and died for us. He rose to give us life. His power and authority is above all others. Our powerful Lord forgives us in our Baptism and gives us His life. He places us in the Church, where we may support and bless one another. And He blesses us by allowing us to tell others about the life we have in Him so that they, too, may share in His blessings. • "Almighty eternal God, according to Your righteous judgment You condemned the unbelieving world through the flood. In Your great mercy You preserved believing Noah and his family. You drowned hard-hearted Pharaoh with all his host in the Red Sea and led Your people Israel through the same on dry ground. By these events You prefigured this bath of Your Baptism. And through the baptism of Your dear Child, our Lord Jesus Christ, You consecrated and set apart the Jordan and all water as a salutary flood and rich and full washing away of sins. We pray through Christ for Your boundless mercy that You will graciously behold us and bless us with true faith in the Spirit. Then, by means of this saving flood, all that has been born in us from Adam and which we ourselves have added thereto may be drowned in us and engulfed. May we be separated from the number of the unbelieving, preserved dry and secure in the holy ark of Christendom, and serve Your name at all times fervent in spirit and joyful in hope. With all believers may we be made worthy to attain eternal life according to Your promise; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen" (TLWA, p 364).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:1 Christ suffered in the flesh. Truly man (Jn 1:14), Christ suffered just as other humans do. Luth: "He [became] a man like us, so that it could be called God's dying, God's martyrdom, God's blood, and God's death. For God in his own nature cannot die; but now that God and man are united in one person, it is called God's death when the man dies who is one substance or one person with God" (AE 41:104). same way of thinking. Be compassionate as Christ was, not repaying evil with evil (3:9). ceased from sin. One who is committed to the point of suffering, like Christ, has a new focus and is not occupied with personal pleasure. Though we continue to be sinners, we are also declared righteous and saints before God. When we are in Christ Jesus, we know we are forgiven and so can live with a new attitude. Luth: "We never become perfectly pure while we are living on earth, and everyone still finds evil lust in his body. To be sure, faith begins to slay sin and to bestow heaven; but it has not yet become perfect and really strong" (AE 30:118). Cf Rm 7.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:2 Our lives now belong to God and to His service.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:3 time that is past suffices. Even if we never sinned again, we have committed more than enough sins. Forgiven in Christ, we should not seek new opportunities to follow the pattern of this world. lawless idolatry. All sin is rebellion against God's Law and ultimately idolatrous (see LC I 319–29).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:4 flood of debauchery. Sin that overwhelms a person's life (cf v 3).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:5 give account. Answer to God for their sins. judge the living and the dead. Final judgment of all humanity. See SC, Second Article, p xxxvii.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:6 gospel was preached even to those who are dead. Before the Gospel enlivened us with a saving faith in Christ, we were spiritually dead in our sins.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:7 end … at hand. Christians live in expectation of the return of Christ, which could be at any time. Whether by His return or by our death, we should always be prepared to meet Him. See note, 3:15. self-controlled and sober-minded. Synonyms indicating personal control of one's actions. We should avoid willful sin. for the sake of your prayers. Sin hinders prayer by turning our attention from God to ourselves. Cf v 3.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:8 love covers a multitude of sins. In Christ, we love others and freely forgive them. Of itself, our love has no power to forgive. "No apostle would have imagined (a) our love overcomes sin and death, (b) love satisfies God's wrath and reconciles us to God, while excluding Christ as Mediator, and (c) love in and of itself is righteousness before God without Christ as Mediator" (Ap V 117). "Let everyone use his tongue and make it serve for the best of everyone else, to cover up his neighbor's sins and infirmities [1 Peter 4:8], excuse them, conceal and garnish them with his own reputation" (LC I 285).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:9 hospitality. Lit, "love of a stranger." Welcome all people, not just fellow believers. See note, Gn 18:4.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:10–11 The Spirit gives different gifts to Christians to be used in service to others. grace. Refers to all of these gifts. See note, Rm 12:6.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:10 stewards. God's gifts are not personal possessions but are meant to be used according to His will.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:11 oracles of God. Or, "words of God"; uplifting speech governed by Scripture. To Him belong glory and dominion forever and ever. Amen. Words and deeds glorify God. Peter is not simply talking about glorifying God; he is actually worshiping Him. See note, Dn 7:14. On "dominion," see pp 1565–66.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:1–11 Christ suffered in the flesh and became sin (2Co 5:21) in our stead. He now calls us to live the new life He has given us as stewards of His gifts. Everything we have, even our lives, are used to benefit the Church and our neighbor. Through our words and actions, we bring Christ to a world that is dead in sin so that some may come alive in Christ, even as we have been made alive. • Lord Jesus, as You have had compassion on us by Your Word, instill in us compassion for the lost and those in the peril of unbelief. Amen.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:12 fiery trial … to test you. Cf 1:6–7; 2:20–21. Great suffering afflicts some Christians, who may bear such crosses as God strengthens them through affliction. See pp 2102–4. Luth: "God lays a cross on all believers in order that they may taste and prove the power of God—the power which they have taken hold of through faith" (AE 30:127).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:13 share Christ's sufferings. Suffering for the sake of the Gospel, while unpleasant, is an honor for Christians, who know that their Savior suffered to save them. See note, Php 3:10. His glory is revealed. When the Gospel's effects are seen in your life and witness.
1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:14 insulted … blessed. Christ transforms the world's taunts into His blessing (cf Ac 5:41). Spirit of glory and of God. We do not face insults and persecution alone; God is with us to empower and to bless us.
1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:15 Suffering the effects of our own sin is not bearing the cross. meddler. One who wants to supervise the affairs of others.
1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:16 glorify God. By confessing Christ, even if it means death or adversity. that name. Christian.
1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:17 judgment. Some will see the effects of their own sin (v 15). God allows us to face such consequences that we might repent. do not obey the gospel. Or refuse to believe. Without faith in Christ, there is no hope. See note, Rm 1:5. Luth: "The time of judgment, foretold by the prophets, is at hand [Jer 25:29; Ezk 9:6]. When the Gospel is preached, God begins to punish sin, in order that He may kill and make alive" (AE 30:130).
1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:18 This proverb teaches that believers may suffer the effect of their sins. Unlike unbelievers, they face such suffering in faith, trusting in God's deliverance.
1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:19 suffer according to God's will. Not for their sins but for the sake of the Gospel. Luth: "[Peter] teaches us to subdue the flesh with sobriety, watchfulness, temperance, prayer, and to find comfort and strength through the sufferings of Christ" (AE 35:391). entrust their souls. Trusting that God will preserve them. faithful Creator. Our Maker will continue to care for us graciously.
1 PETER—NOTE ON 4:12–19 God permits suffering in our lives for a variety of reasons. Sometimes it comes as a direct result of our own sin in order to discipline us. Other times it is an effect of being God's child in a world that wants to crush His Church. Although we do not know God's hidden will, we trust He has only the best in mind for us. He will strengthen, uphold, and bless us in the midst of persecution. He will use any afflictions we face for our good or for blessing others. With our eyes on the cross, we can endure. Our God will preserve us, and He has prepared an eternal home for us in heaven for the sake of Christ. • Lord God, in the midst of trials and persecution, keep our hearts and minds stayed on You, our only refuge. Amen.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 5:1–2 elders … shepherd … oversight. Words used in the NT to describe the pastoral office. See note, Ti 1:5; cf Ac 20:17; Php 1:1; 1Tm 3:2; 5:17; Ti 1:7; see also p 228. "All who preside over churches are both bishops and elders" (Tr 62).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 5:1 witness. Peter was with Jesus from the beginning of His earthly ministry; he was a witness of all of its phases, including the climactic events of His suffering and resurrection. partaker in the glory. Peter witnessed the transfiguration and saw the resurrected Christ. See "glory," p 1902.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 5:2 shepherd the flock of God. As Christ fed and shepherded His followers, pastors care for their churches. See notes, 2:25; Heb 13:20–21. oversight. See note, 1Pt 5:1–2. not under compulsion. Pastors should serve gladly and willingly. "Truly good works should be done willingly, or from a voluntary spirit, by those whom God's Son has made free" (FC SD IV 18). Luth: "A pastor must not only lead to pasture by teaching the sheep how to be true Christians: but, in addition to this, he must also repel the wolves, lest they attack the sheep and lead them astray with false doctrine and error. For the devil does not rest. Now today one finds many people who can let the Gospel be preached, provided that one does not cry out against the wolves and preach against the prelates. But even if I preach in the right way and tend and teach the sheep, this protecting and guarding does not suffice to keep the wolves from coming and leading the sheep astray. For what is built if I lay stones and watch someone else knock them down?" (AE 30:135).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 5:3 not domineering. Pastors are servants of the Church, not taskmasters (Mk 10:42–45; cf Php 2:6–11). examples. Modeling the faith as well as teaching it.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 5:4 chief Shepherd. Christ is the head of the Church (Eph 5:23; see p 228). All pastors serve under His authority and ministry. unfading crown of glory. Symbol of salvation.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 5:5 subject to the elders. The young in faith are esp in need of the pastor's spiritual care. This is a blessing, not a burden. See note, Heb 13:17. Clothe yourselves … with humility. Do not boast; consider yourself a servant of others. gives grace. True honor comes from the Lord; He knows what we need and provides it.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 5:6 Humble yourselves. See note, Jas 4:10. proper time. When it fits God's purpose and benefits others or ourselves.
1 PETER—NOTE ON 5:7 Pray knowing that God provides for your needs. "The person who knows that he has a Father who is gracious to him through Christ truly knows God" (AC XX 24).
1 PETER—NOTE ON 5:8 Be sober-minded … watchful. Pray for Christ's return (cf 1Th 5:6, 8). devil prowls around like a roaring lion. Satan seeks to harm Christians in any way possible. Under Nero, some Christians literally faced death by lions in the Roman arena. The devil "tries every trick and does not stop until he finally wears us out, so that we either renounce our faith or throw up our hands and put up our feet, becoming indifferent or impatient" (LC V 26).
1 PETER—NOTE ON 5:9 Resist him. By God's Word, which gives us strength and guidance to face temptations (Eph 6:11–18). suffering … brotherhood throughout the world. Christians in other times and places also faced persecution and have demonstrated the strength of God's care for His people. Luth: "You must be sober and vigilant, but in order that the body may be ready. But this does not yet vanquish the devil. It is done only in order that you may give the body less reason to sin. The true sword is your strong and firm faith. If you take hold of God's Word in your heart and cling to it with faith, the devil cannot win but must flee" (AE 30:142).
1 PETER—NOTE ON 5:10 God will care for all our needs, even in persecution. "God has kindled in their hearts this beginning of true godliness. He will further strengthen and help them in their great weakness to persevere in true faith unto the end" (FC SD II 14). "Through the Word, by which He calls us, the Holy Spirit bestows grace, power, and ability for this purpose" (FC SD XI 33).
1 PETER—NOTE ON 5:11 Words of praise are a fitting response to God's blessings. See note, 4:11.
1 PETER—NOTE ON 5:1–11 The chief Shepherd calls undershepherds to teach, preach, administer the Sacraments, and guard His sheep, always keeping in mind that sin and the devil seek to entrap them. The devil and false teachers, even though they are damned, would lead us astray through sin and temptation, and take us to hell. By the Gospel, we have fervent love for one another because we share the same faith, Baptism, and Spirit. We will endure by God's power. • Almighty God, keep us strong in faith through Your Word, that we constantly behold Your Son, who saves us from sin and eternal death. Amen.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 5:12 Silvanus. Also known as Silas; scribe who wrote what Peter dictated, helped him compose the Letter, or delivered it. See "Authorship," p 2147. true grace … Stand firm. The Gospel of God's grace strengthens Christians who are experiencing persecution.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 5:13 She. The Church at Rome. Babylon. Symbolizes Rome's persecution of believers. Mark, my son. In the faith (cf 1Tm 1:18).

1 PETER—NOTE ON 5:14 kiss. Common greeting of friends and family. See notes, Rm 16:16; 1Co 16:20. Peace to all … in Christ. True peace is ours because of Christ's work. See "peace," p 1903.

1 PETER—NOTE ON 5:12–14 Peter encourages these persecuted Christians to stand firm in the one thing that is truly trustworthy: God's grace in Christ. Jesus suffered for us at the hands of evil men. Yet He trusted in His Father with unswerving faith. Whatever trials or difficulties we may face, we can likewise rely on the true grace of God and on the bond of love in our Christian family. Through Jesus, we truly have peace. • Lord Jesus, may we always rely on Your Word and Your strength, that we may confidently believe in You and always follow Your ways. Amen.

2 Peter

2 Peter 1 | 2 Peter 2 | 2 Peter 3

- Introduction to 2 Peter
  - Overview
  - Reading 2 Peter
  - Luther on 2 Peter
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Greeting

1 [1]†† Simeon[1] Peter, a servant[2] and apostle of Jesus Christ,

To those who have obtained a faith of equal standing with ours by the righteousness of our God and Savior Jesus Christ:

[2]† May grace and peace be multiplied to you in the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord.

Make Your Calling and Election Sure

3 ‡ ‡ † His divine power has granted to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of him who called us to[3] his own glory and excellence,[4] 4 † by which he has granted to us his precious and very great promises, so that through them you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world because of sinful desire. 5 ‡ † For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue,[5] and virtue with knowledge, 6 † and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, 7 † and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. 8 † For if these qualities[6] are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. 9 † For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins. 10 † Therefore, brothers,[1] be all the more diligent to make your calling and election sure, for if you practice these qualities you will never fall. 11 † For in this way there will be richly provided for you an entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

12 ‡ † Therefore I intend always to remind you of these qualities, though you know them and are established in the truth that you have. 13 † I think it right, as long as I am in this body,[2] to stir you up by way of reminder, 14 † since I know that the putting off of my body will be soon, as our Lord Jesus Christ made clear to me. 15 † And I will make every effort so that after my departure you may be able at any time to recall these things.

Christ’s Glory and the Prophetic Word

16 ††For we did not follow cleverly devised myths when we made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we were eyewitnesses of his majesty. 17 †For when he received honor and glory from God the Father, and the voice was borne to him by the Majestic Glory, “This is my beloved Son,[3] with whom I am well pleased,” 18 †we ourselves heard this very voice borne from heaven, for we were with him on the holy mountain. 19 † And we have something more sure, the prophetic word, to which you will do well to pay attention as to a lamp shining in a dark place, until the day dawns and the morning star rises in your hearts, 20 †knowing this first of all, that no prophecy of Scripture comes from someone’s own interpretation. 21 †For no prophecy was ever produced by the will of man, but men spoke from God as they were carried along by the Holy Spirit.

False Prophets and Teachers

2 [1]‡†But false prophets also arose among the people, just as there will be false teachers among you, who will secretly bring in destructive heresies, even denying the Master who bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction. [2]†And many will follow their sensuality, and because of them the way of truth will be blasphemed. [3]†And in their greed they will exploit you with false words. Their condemnation from long ago is not idle, and their destruction is not asleep.

[4]‡†For if God did not spare angels when they sinned, but cast them into hell[1] and committed them to chains[2] of gloomy darkness to be kept until the judgment; [5]†if he did not spare the ancient world, but preserved Noah, a herald of righteousness, with seven others, when he brought a flood upon the world of the ungodly; [6]†if by turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah to ashes he condemned them to extinction, making them an example of what is going to happen to the ungodly;[3] [7]†and if he rescued righteous Lot, greatly distressed by the sensual conduct of the wicked [8]† (for as that righteous man lived among them day after day, he was tormenting his righteous soul over their lawless deeds that he saw and heard); [9]†then the Lord knows how to rescue the godly from trials,[4] and to keep the unrighteous under punishment until the day of judgment, [10]†and especially those who indulge in the lust of defiling passion and despise authority.

Bold and willful, they do not tremble as they blaspheme the glorious ones, [11]† whereas angels, though greater in might and power, do not pronounce a blasphemous judgment against them before the Lord. [12]†But these, like irrational animals, creatures of instinct, born to be caught and destroyed, blaspheming about matters of which they are ignorant, will also be destroyed in their destruction, [13]†suffering wrong as the wage for their wrongdoing. They count it pleasure to revel in the daytime. They are blots and blemishes, reveling in their deceptions,[1] while they feast with you.
[14]†They have eyes full of adultery, insatiable for sin. They entice unsteady souls. They have hearts trained in greed. Accursed children! [15]†Forsaking the right way, they have gone astray. They have followed the way of Balaam, the son of Beor, who loved gain from wrongdoing, [16]† but was rebuked for his own transgression; a speechless donkey spoke with human voice and restrained the prophet's madness.

[17]†These are waterless springs and mists driven by a storm. For them the gloom of utter darkness has been reserved. [18]†For, speaking loud boasts of folly, they entice by sensual passions of the flesh those who are barely escaping from those who live in error. [19]†They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves[2] of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved. [20]‡† For if, after they have escaped the defilements of the world through the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, they are again entangled in them and overcome, the last state has become worse for them than the first. [21]†For it would have been better for them never to have known the way of righteousness than after knowing it to turn back from the holy commandment delivered to them. [22]†What the true proverb says has happened to them: "The dog returns to its own vomit, and the sow, after washing herself, returns to wallow in the mire."

The Day of the Lord Will Come

3 1 ‡ † This is now the second letter that I am writing to you, beloved.
In both of them I am stirring up your sincere mind by way of reminder, 2 † that you should remember the predictions of the holy prophets and the commandment of the Lord and Savior through your apostles, 3 † knowing this first of all, that scoffers will come in the last days with scoffing, following their own sinful desires. 4 † They will say, “Where is the promise of his coming? For ever since the fathers fell asleep, all things are continuing as they were from the beginning of creation.” 5 † For they deliberately overlook this fact, that the heavens existed long ago, and the earth was formed out of water and through water by the word of God, 6 † and that by means of these the world that then existed was deluged with water and perished. 7 † But by the same word the heavens and earth that now exist are stored up for fire, being kept until the day of judgment and destruction of the ungodly.

8 † But do not overlook this one fact, beloved, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. 9 † The Lord is not slow to fulfill his promise as some count slowness, but is patient toward you,[1] not wishing that any should perish, but that all should reach repentance. 10 † But the day of the Lord will come like a thief, and then the heavens will pass away with a roar, and the heavenly bodies[2] will be burned up and dissolved, and the earth and the works that are done on it will be exposed.[3]

11 ‡ † Since all these things are thus to be dissolved, what sort of people ought you to be in lives of holiness and godliness, 12 † waiting for and hastening the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be set on fire and dissolved, and the heavenly bodies will melt as they burn!
13 † But according to his promise we are waiting for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells.

Final Words

14 ‡† Therefore, beloved, since you are waiting for these, be diligent to be found by him without spot or blemish, and at peace. 15 † And count the patience of our Lord as salvation, just as our beloved brother Paul also wrote to you according to the wisdom given him, 16 † as he does in all his letters when he speaks in them of these matters. There are some things in them that are hard to understand, which the ignorant and unstable twist to their own destruction, as they do the other Scriptures. 17 † You therefore, beloved, knowing this beforehand, take care that you are not carried away with the error of lawless people and lose your own stability. 18 † But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To him be the glory both now and to the day of eternity. Amen.

2 Peter

OVERVIEW

Author
Simon [Simeon] Peter the apostle

Date
c AD 68

Places
Mount of Transfiguration; Sodom and Gomorrah

People
Simeon Peter; Jesus; false prophets/teachers; the unrighteous; the apostles; Paul

Purpose
To warn against false teachers who promoted sinful lifestyles and questioned whether Jesus would return in judgment

Law Themes
Exhortations to virtue; warnings against false prophets; ignorance; nearsightedness; forgetfulness; fiery judgment; destruction of the ungodly

Gospel Themes
God's sure Word; the Spirit's work; Christ cleansed us from our former sins; eternal kingdom; God promises new heavens and a new earth; God does not wish any to perish

Memory Verses
A sure prophetic word (1:19–21); new heavens and a new earth (3:13)

Introduction to 2 Peter

Reading 2 Peter

He pushed the end of the stick through the pile of ashes as he held his hand above them. He could see no smoke and could feel no heat. The fire, it seemed, had burned itself out completely and would not return. He began to think about what he might eat that did not need to be cooked. And as he thought, he saw it—the wink of a bright red coal stirred to life when the ashes were pushed away. There would be fire. The glimmering coal promised a crackling, roaring hearth.

Persecution and the mockery of false teachers had dampened the hopes of the early Christians. Scoffers insisted that the fires of judgment were out and that Christ would not return as the apostles had preached (3:1–7). Peter wrote this Letter not long before his death (1:12–15) to remind his readers of the Lord's patience, the certainty of fiery punishment for the wicked (3:8–13), and the sure promise of eternal life for all who believe (3:14–18).

Luther on 2 Peter

This epistle is written against those who think that Christian faith can be without works. Therefore he exhorts them to test themselves by good works and become sure of their faith, just as one knows trees by their fruits [Matt. 7:20].

He begins accordingly by praising the gospel over against the doctrines of men. He says that people ought to hear the gospel alone and not the doctrines of men. For, as he says, “No prophecy ever came by the impulse of men” [II Pet. 1:21].

For this reason he warns in chapter 2 against the false teachers who are to come. They are preoccupied with works and thereby deny Christ. He threatens these men severely with three terrible illustrations and depicts them so clearly with their avarice, pride, wickedness, fornication, and hypocrisy that one must plainly see he means the clergy of today. For these have swallowed the whole world in their greed and are wickedly leading an irresponsible, fleshly, worldly life.

In chapter 3 he shows that the Last Day will come soon; and though in the sight of [fur] men it may seem a thousand years, yet in the sight of [fur] God it is as one day. He describes what will happen at the Last Day, how everything shall be consumed by fire. However, he also prophesies that at that time people will be scornful and, like the Epicureans, will think nothing of faith.

In summary, chapter 1 shows what Christendom was to be like at the time of the pure gospel. Chapter 2 shows how it was to be in the time of the pope and the doctrines of men. Chapter 3 shows how, after this, people will despise both the gospel and all doctrine, and will believe nothing—and this is now in full swing—until Christ comes. (AE 35:391–92)

For more of Luther's insights on this Book, see Sermons on the Second Epistle of St. Peter (AE 30:147–99).

Challenges for Readers

Authorship. Many modern scholars have concluded that Peter could not have written this Letter for the following reasons: (1) the style differs from 1 Peter and is not that of a Galilean fisherman; (2) the writer's opponents could be Gnostics, who appeared after Peter's time; (3) the Letter likely depends on Jude, so the work is not original; and (4) after Peter's death, his students may have written the work to address issues of their own time. In contrast, other scholars have noted the following: (1) the style of the Letter is different from 1 Peter and demonstrates training in Greek rhetoric; however, Peter is reputed to have written through a scribe (1Pt 5:12; see "Authorship," p 2147) and may have done the same for this Letter; (2) the false teachers are not described as Gnostics but behave like Epicurean Greeks, who were contemporary with Peter (see below); (3) Jude's Letter may depend on 2 Peter (see below); (4) the modern notion of "schools" aligned with different apostles is not readily described in early Christian literature, which typically emphasizes the unity of the apostles (cf 2Pt 3:15); and (5) during the first and second centuries, early Jewish and Christian texts written under pseudonyms did not commonly include letters. Although Peter's authorship of the Letter was questioned by some early Christians (see pp 2099–2101), the Letter was still commonly attributed to Peter and not to other authors. Peter, working with a scribe, remains the most likely author.

Relationship to Jude. 2Pt 2 and the Book of Jude demonstrate a strong literary relationship (note the many cross-references to Jude in the center column for 2Pt 2; the entries largely follow the same order as the passages in Jude). However, it cannot be determined whether Peter borrowed from Jude, Jude borrowed from Peter, or they both borrowed from a common work. Research on Greek letters has demonstrated that form letters were common. Early Jewish writers also adapted letters and copied them to different Jewish communities (see pp 1899–1901). That one writer should borrow from the good content of another should not be a surprise. In fact, Jude may state that he has done just that when he cites "the predictions of the apostles" (Jude 17), which could refer to 2 Peter.

Identifying the False Teachers. A century ago, scholars commonly read early Christian references to "knowledge" as responses to Gnostic heretics

(from Greek ginosko, "to know"), who claimed special knowledge and revelation and taught a complex system of heavenly mediators between God and the physical world. After the discovery of the Gnostic Nag Hammadi Manuscripts in 1945, the understanding of Gnostics changed significantly. Scholars realized that, although Gnostic ideas were developing in the first century AD, the Gnostics did not develop into a strong movement until the second century, when they began to infiltrate Christian congregations and Neoplatonic groups. False teachers, such as those described in 2 Peter, could have shared some ideas with later Gnostics but could not truly be called Gnostics (sometimes scholars speak of "proto-gnostics"). There are many uses of Greek terms for knowledge in 2 Peter (cf 1:2–3, 5–6, 16, 20; 2:20–21; 3:3, 17–18), but these should not be viewed as evidence of debate with Gnostics. As noted above, it is more likely that the false teachers described in 2 Peter were influenced by common Greek teachings such as those of the Epicureans.

Testament Style. Some scholars see 2Pt 1:12–15 adapting the Jewish "testament" style, which first became popular in the second century BC. This style of literature follows the example of Gn 49, where a patriarch gathers his family for instruction before he dies. Such Jewish testaments were attributed to the patriarchs and were therefore pseudonymous. In contrast, 2 Peter is plainly in the form of a letter. The writer clearly anticipates his death, but this hardly makes it an example of testament literature. The setting of a teacher wishing to provide instructions for his flock before he dies is completely natural (cf Ac 20:17–38).

Blessings for Readers

Peter addresses four key areas of Christian teaching: (1) knowledge of the Lord and the problem of forgetfulness; (2) true godliness and piety; (3) God's gifts (faith, promises, Holy Scripture); and (4) the end times. He guides readers to resist the appeals of false teachers, since everyone will face the Lord as judge when He returns.

As you read 2 Peter, consider the state of your faith and the character of your life. Commit your ways to the Lord by practicing daily repentance and praying for Christ's return. Through this sure prophetic Word, you will grow in the grace and knowledge of your Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

OUTLINE

I. The Apostolic Salutation (1:1–2)
II. Exhortation to Godliness (1:3–21)
A. Content of This Exhortation (1:3–11)
B. Necessity of This Reminder (1:12–15)
C. Certain Basis of the Exhortation in the Revelation of Christ and Scripture (1:16–21)
III. Warning against False Teachers (ch 2)
A. Anticipation of False Teachers (2:1–3)
B. God Delivers the Righteous and Punishes the Ungodly (2:4–10a)
C. Denunciation of the Motives, Character, and Message of the False Teachers (2:10b–22)
IV. Answers to Skepticism regarding the End of This World (3:1–10)
V. Final Exhortation on the Basis of Christian Expectation and Hope (3:11–18)

Articles and Resources Related to 2 Peter

- Old Testament Examples in 1 and 2 Peter
- Pastor and Priesthood of Believers
- Be Holy, for I Am Holy

- God and Time

Old Testament Examples in 1 and 2 Peter

Story: Prophets
References: 1Pt 1:10–11
Application: You are blessed to know what the prophets could only dream about and hope to understand. Although the Bible may not answer every question that enters your heart, it answers the most important question: How will God save me? Through Christ!
Story: Lamb
References: 1Pt 1:19
Application: Jesus fulfilled the requirements of the Law. He became the perfect sacrifice for your sins and brought an end to the sacrifices required in the OT.
Story: Priesthood
References: 1Pt 2:5
Application: In the OT, only a select group of people served as priests: the descendants of Aaron (of the tribe of Levi). Christ has made every believer a priest of God. You may approach the heavenly Father with confidence, offering sacrifices of praise and thanksgiving.
Story: Sarah and Abraham
References: 1Pt 3:5–7
Application: The mutual care and respect shared by Abraham and Sarah give us an example of Christian marriage. Let nothing hinder your prayers toward your Lord. Make your marriage beautiful by focusing on Him.
Story: Noah
References: 1Pt 3:20; 2Pt 2:5; 3:6
Application: The flood of God's judgment washed the wicked away but bore Noah up in safety. Today, the "flood" of Baptism washes your sins away. By the power of Christ's death and resurrection, it bears you safely into God's kingdom (Jn 3:5–8; Col 1:13–14).
Story: Sodom and Gomorrah
References: 2Pt 2:6
Application: The fiery destruction of these ancient cities shows what hell and eternal punishment will be like.
Story: Lot
References: 2Pt 2:7–11

Application: This shocking passage attributes righteousness to Lot, a man with numerous destructive weaknesses. God has mercy also on those who stumble and fall in the most grievous ways.
Story: Balaam
References: 2Pt 2:15–16
Application: False prophets and pleasure seekers, who have left the true way, shall receive the Lord's rebuke.
Story: Creation
References: 2Pt 3:5, 13
Application: The Word, which caused the world to spring forth in the beginning, still speaks. It presently holds back God's judgment but will finally create a new heaven and a new earth.

Pastor and Priesthood of Believers

The problem of Church and Ministry, or the relationship between the laity and the clergy, is not peculiar to the United States. It is present also in Africa, and for that matter throughout the whole world. Where the Word of God is taught and preached in its truth and purity, there Satan always tries hard to stage a coup d'état….

The blades of a scissors face opposite directions and yet they work together to achieve one purpose. They are used to cut materials for sewing, and in hospitals, homes, schools, and offices to cut paper. The two halves of a scissors are always together, performing their duties or functions together. In the same way, the Holy Ministry and the Priesthood of Believers are interdependent, yet dependent—depending on each other to proclaim the Gospel. What holds them together at the center is Christ. Without Christ, they will fall apart. Christ unites them and makes them move.

Paul Kofi Fynn, in Church and Ministry, ed. Jerald C. Joersz and Paul T. McCain (St. Louis: The Office of the President, The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod, 1998), 241–42.

Be Holy, for I Am Holy

Sometimes the Bible uses words or ideas that have no modern equivalent. We read the word, but we do not really know or fully understand it. This is the problem when we come across the word holy. We often think it means "sinless," but that is only part of the idea.

In biblical contexts, the word holy usually means "set apart for God" (see p 7). The opposite of holy is common, referring to things that may be used by anyone. Holy can be used in a variety of ways, including the ceremonial use ("Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy;" Ex 20:8) and the moral application (referring to human conduct; 1Pt 1:15; 2Pt 3:11). Our modern, secular culture does not really have a category like holy. Yet Bible writers used the word and the concept extensively.

Holy Ones

By virtue of Baptism, all Christians are "holy ones," saints set apart for God through the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. Because God has declared us "holy ones" (saints; see p 843), we can approach God without the intercession of the Old Testament priesthood. In fact, Peter points out, we are ourselves a "holy priesthood" (1Pt 2:5). As "holy ones," Peter argues, we should not pattern our lives according to the world's priorities and values. We have been called to faith by a holy God. As Peter puts it, we have been called "out of darkness into [God's] marvelous light" (1Pt 2:9). Because we live in the light, we need to change the conduct of our lives from the world's ways to God's ways.

Peter approaches this change from the perspective of identity and function. According to Peter, we are "a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for His own possession" (1Pt 2:9; cf Ex 19:6; Is 43:20–21). In Christ crucified, God has declared us righteous. We have a right standing with Him through faith in Jesus. Since Jesus is holy, God declares us holy through faith in Him. That is what makes us saints (literally, "holy ones").

Our function in this world flows from this identity as God's holy people. Peter describes our function in 1Pt 2:9: "that you may proclaim the excellencies of Him who called you." He uses an unusual Greek word for "excellencies" (or "praises"). The author has in mind God's divine power, manifested in the incarnation and crucifixion of Jesus. God accomplished the impossible by saving sinners from just condemnation without violating His own righteousness and integrity (Rm 3:21–26). He did this by becoming man, in the person of His Son, and then taking upon Himself the sins of the world on the cross. Salvation comes directly from God; it is 100 percent a gift from Him to us by faith in Jesus. He therefore deserves all the credit for our rescue from sin, death, and eternal damnation. To us, His holy people, He gives the job of declaring this miraculous Gospel to the whole world.

Proclaim the Holy One

We proclaim the Gospel to the world of unbelievers. Jesus commissioned His Church with this task in Mt 28:18–20. Christians spend their energy and resources to serve the Savior by publishing His name far and wide. But Peter has a second function in mind as well. We praise God to the congregation of believers in our worship services. (Cf Is 42:12 for the combination of giving glory to God and proclaiming His praise to the "coastlands," that is, the nations.) The word Peter uses to describe our function appears in the Psalms, where it is used in the sense of declaring the praises or works of God, often in a worship context (cf Ps 107:22).

As we gather around Word and Sacrament, we tell and retell the story of the cross. God comes to us through these means of grace, and we respond by giving Him the glory for the salvation He has bought at such a terrible price. In Christ crucified and risen, we are God's holy people, and because of our identity as His holy priesthood, we have this twofold purpose of evangelism and worship. God, the Holy One of Israel, sent His Holy One to redeem us by His death and resurrection. United with Christ in our Baptism, we become the holy ones (saints) of God, made alive by His Holy Spirit. Peter reminds us that what we do with our lives flows directly out of this new relationship with God (1Pt 2:12).

God and Time

There are two ways of looking at things: God's way and the way of the world. Thus this life and the life to come are of two kinds. This life cannot be the same as the life to come, since no one can enter the life to come except through death, that is, through the cessation of this life. Now this life amounts to eating, drinking, sleeping, digesting, begetting children, etc. Here everything goes by number: hours, days, and years in succession. Now when you want to look at the life to come, you must erase the course of this life from your mind. You dare not think that you can measure it as this life is measured. There everything will be one day, one hour, one moment.

Now since before God there is no reckoning of time, before Him a thousand years must be as one day. Therefore Adam, the first man, is just as close to Him as the man who will be born last before the Last Day. For God does not see time longitudinally [looking from one end to the far end]; He sees it transversely, as if you were looking transversely at a tall tree lying before you [on the ground]. Then you can see both ends at the same time. This you cannot do if you look at it longitudinally. With our reason we cannot look at time in any other way than longitudinally. Beginning with Adam, we must count one year after the other until the Last Day. But in God's sight everything is in one heap. What is long for us is short for Him and vice versa. Here there is neither measure nor number. Thus man dies. His body is interred and decays. It lies in the ground and knows nothing. But when the first man arises on the Last Day, he will think that he has been lying there barely an hour. Then he will look about and discover that many people were born before him and came after him. About this he knew nothing. (AE 30:196)

Footnotes

Footnotes for 2 Peter, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:1 Some manuscripts Simon
- [2] 1:1 Or slave; Greek bondservant
- [3] 1:3 Or by
- [4] 1:3 Or virtue
- [5] 1:5 Or excellence; twice in this verse
- [6] 1:8 Greek these things; also verses 9, 10, 12
- [1] 1:10 Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church
- [2] 1:13 Greek tent; also verse 14
- [3] 1:17 Or my Son, my (or the) Beloved

Footnotes for 2 Peter, Chapter 2

- [1] 2:4 Greek Tartarus
- [2] 2:4 Some manuscripts pits
- [3] 2:6 Some manuscripts an example to those who were to be ungodly
- [4] 2:9 Or temptations
- [1] 2:13 Some manuscripts love feasts
- [2] 2:19 Greek bondservants

Footnotes for 2 Peter, Chapter 3

- [1] 3:9 Some manuscripts on your account
- [2] 3:10 Or elements; also verse 12
- [3] 3:10 Greek found; some manuscripts will be burned up

Study Notes

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:1 Simeon. Unlike his first Letter (1Pt 1:1), Peter's second Letter introduces him with the Hbr form of Simon (see ESV note). servant. Or, "slave." Emphasizes his belonging to Jesus, who had purchased him (1Pt 1:18–19). apostle. See p 1901. a faith of equal standing with ours. Faith based on the apostolic Word is as valid as the faith of the ear- and eyewitnesses, for their faith rests in Christ's righteousness alone. Cf Jn 20:29. righteousness. Basis of "a faith of equal standing" to all who confess Christ. our God and Savior Jesus Christ. Peter does not distinguish between God and Jesus; rather, he calls Jesus both God and Savior.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:2 Common Gk greeting ("grace") and common Hbr greeting ("peace") are united in Christ and are given new meaning in the NT. knowledge. Used repeatedly for our relationship to the Lord. More than intellectual apprehension, it is a godly knowing that involves fearing, loving, and trusting in God above all things for the gift of eternal life in Christ. Such knowledge comes to us through God's Word alone. This saving knowledge prepares us for a godly life on earth and for an eternity in heaven to come. See "Identifying the False Teachers," p 2160.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:1–2 Peter greets his readers with a salutation that affirms their standing in Christ. All who confess Christ possess "a faith of equal standing." However, our hold on faith in Christ can weaken as we are tempted into "false belief, despair, and other great shame and vice" (see SC, Sixth Petition, pp xxxviii–xxxix). Thanks be to God that our Lord's grace and peace toward us is even greater than our sins, and that He is ever at work through His Word and Sacraments to strengthen our hold on faith. • O Lord Jesus, thank You for giving me a faith of equal standing—even compared to the faith of the apostles. Enable me through Your Word to overcome all that seeks to weaken my faith. Amen.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:3–4 Long, complicated sentence illustrates the writer's strong rhetorical style. See "Authorship," p 2160.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:3 divine power. God the Holy Spirit works through the Word to call us to faith, giving us the knowledge that results in eternal life and that fosters our life and conduct in Christ. all things. Not everything we want but everything we need for "life and godliness." Luth:

"St. Peter does not want this divine power in us to be understood in such a way that we also have the ability to create heaven and earth and should work miracles, as God does…. No, we have divine power with us to the degree that it is useful and necessary for us…. That is, we have the kind of divine power with which we are abundantly blessed to do good and to live eternally" (AE 30:153). knowledge. Knowing Christ through faith, which results in eternal life. called us. Salvation is not a human decision but a divine call that comes to us through God's Word (cf Rm 10:17). glory. See p 1902. excellence. Or, "virtue."

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:4 very great promises. Those by which God enables us to participate in the divine nature and to escape from the corruption that is in the world. In particular, the fulfilled promise of Christ's first coming (v 16) and the yet-to-be-fulfilled promises of Christ's second coming (3:4, 9) and the creation of "new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells" (3:13). partakers of the divine nature. Not that we become part of the Godhead, but that God indwells us through His Holy Spirit. Expression may be borrowed from popular Stoic philosophers, who emphasized the goodness of a new life. See Paul's emphasis in Rm 6. corruption … sinful desire. Christ has set us free from corruption (moral depravity) brought about by our sinful nature and our sinful desires (cf 1Jn 2:16). "We also, in whom Christ dwells only by grace, on account of that great mystery, are 'partakers of the divine nature' in Christ" (FC SD VIII 34). Luth: "We shall also have all that God has, and in Him we shall have all that is necessary for us: wisdom, righteousness, strength, and life. All this we now believe. We grasp it only with our ears and have it in the Word of God. But then the Word will cease. Then our soul will open and behold and feel that all this is actually there" (AE 30:164).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:5–8 Virtues presented here are the fruit that should be borne in a healthy Christian life. The qualities selected for emphasis are all in contrast to the characteristics of the false teachers, who pervert the way of truth (ch 2) and deny the heart of the Christian hope (3:3–4).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:5 make every effort. God's free and all-sufficient giving motivates and makes possible the wholehearted response of the believer. Cf Php 2:12–13. faith. Placed first because it alone produces true good works (Heb 11:6). Without faith, all works are empty.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:6 knowledge. A knowing of God as revealed in Christ (see note, v 2). self-control. Controlling one's emotions, impulses, and desires and submitting to the authority of the indwelling Christ. steadfastness. Patience or perseverance in the midst of difficult circumstances. godliness. The reverence, respect, and devotion owed to God and His Word, which is to be apparent in our conduct toward others. Luth: "This means that in our whole outward life, in what we do or suffer, we should conduct ourselves in such a way that we serve God and do not seek our own glory and advantage. It means that God alone must be praised by what we do and that we must act in such a way that one can see that we do everything for God's sake" (AE 30:156–57).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:7 brotherly affection. Kindness that is to characterize how Christians relate to one another. See "brothers," p 1901. love. Selfless, sacrificial giving of self for the sake of the one loved, even as God in Christ has loved us. See p 1903.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:8 These qualities are to be ever increasing, lest we become like a branch that does not bear fruit (cf Jn 15:2) or like seed that is choked out by thorns (cf Mt 13:22).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:9 nearsighted … blind. Lit, "to shut the eye." Those who close their eyes to Christ and who willfully look away from practicing the qualities in vv 5–7 eventually become spiritually blind. cleansed from his former sins. Such a person has forgotten that God cleansed him from sin in Baptism and gave him new life and new purpose. See p 1369.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:10 brothers. See p 1901. make your calling and election sure. Before the world's creation, God chose us to be His own. As believers continue diligently in the virtues described in vv 5–7, they avoid the sins and complications of life that cause idle people to stumble. See Luther's comments in note, Heb 6:6. you will never fall. Not that those who cultivate these virtues will never sin, but that they will not fall away from the path that leads to Christ's kingdom (see note, Lk 12:32). "Peter speaks of works following the forgiveness of sins and teaches why they should be done…. Do good works in order that you may persevere in your calling, in order that you do not lose the gifts of your calling. They were given to you before, and not because of works that follow, and which now are kept through faith" (Ap XX 90).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:11 The one whose living shows that his faith is accompanied by good works, and thus becomes strong, will have an entrance richly provided for him. the eternal kingdom. The reign of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ is eternal both in the sense that it is never ending and in that its Ruler is the Eternal One. See pp 1565–66.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:12–21 Peter emphasizes the reliability of God's Word in contrast to the deceptions preached by false teachers (ch 2). God's Word is the basis of faith and fellowship for the community of believers.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:12 remind. Peter's Letter also serves as perpetual encouragement to remain and grow in the Word of Christ, that the work of Christ may be manifested in the believer's life. established in the truth that you have. Catechesis prepared them for the Christian life, in which God calls them to abide. See SC, Sixth Petition, p xxxviii–xxxix.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:13 in this body. Lit, "in this tent." A vivid reminder of the fact that life in this world is temporary.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:14 Peter knows that his death is close at hand. See "Testament Style," p 2160.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:15 after my departure. See "Testament Style," p 2160.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:3–15 Peter affirms the greatness of the Christian hope, and he encourages his readers to make their calling and election sure by giving evidence of their faith with good works. We are saved by faith alone, but faith is never alone. And yet, through sin, we often neglect and become blind to the virtues we are to practice as evidence of our faith. In spite of our many failures to bear God-pleasing fruit, our Lord strengthens us daily through Holy Baptism. • O Lord, thank You for granting us all things that pertain to life and godliness, that by Your grace there will be richly provided for us an entrance into Your eternal kingdom. Amen.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:16 cleverly devised myths. Peter defends himself against the false teachers' charge that he and the other apostles invented stories about Jesus' coming and the final judgment. the power and coming. Refers to the Lord's glorious return when, with great power, He will subdue all His enemies and consummate His kingdom. eyewitnesses. Peter, along with the other apostles, was an eyewitness to Jesus, the Son of God, who came in the flesh. His majesty. Jesus' divine glory was revealed at His transfiguration, which anticipated His second coming.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:17 received honor and glory. The Son received both the honor of being publicly declared the Father's Son and the glory of revealing His divine majesty on the Mount of Transfiguration. the voice.

That of God the Father. the Majestic Glory. Hbr manner of referring to God the Father indirectly; a tradition among the Jews, who tended to speak indirectly of Him. See "LORD," p 1227.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:18 the holy mountain. Mount of Transfiguration. Cf Lk 9:28–32.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:19 the prophetic word. OT Scriptures, which confirm the entire apostolic witness of Christ. Thus, Peter's personal eyewitness account of the transfiguration is trustworthy because it rests on this authority. a lamp. Until the Lord returns, the prophetic Word guides and directs God's people like a light shining in the darkness. the day dawns. Day of Christ's return. morning star. Cf Rv 22:16. Luth: "We must have the light [of the Word] and cling to it until the Last Day. Then we shall no longer need the Word, just as artificial light is extinguished when the day dawns" (AE 30:166). Luth: "He bids us fix our eyes and keenness of mind on the Word alone, on Baptism, on the Lord's Supper, and on absolution, and to regard everything else as darkness. I do not understand, or care about, what is done in this world by the sons of this age; for they crucify me. I cannot escape or draw away that horrible mask which hides the face of God, but I must stay in darkness and in exceedingly dark mist until a new light shines forth" (AE 8:33).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:20 someone's own interpretation. Biblical authors wrote not what they thought or interpreted of the times but what God inspired them to write for their time and all of time.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:21 the will of man. In contrast to false teachings (cf 2:1), genuine prophecy is never of human design, desire, or origin. See notes, Dt 18:18, 22. men spoke … by the Holy Spirit. The Scriptures are of divine origin as the Holy Spirit personally inspired each of the authors, in accord with their own style, to write only the words that God had given them. See pp xxvi–xxx, 1646. "They were holy, says he, since the Holy Spirit spoke through them" (SA III VIII 13). Luth: "We do not let ourselves be troubled by the blasphemies which the devil, through the mouths of his lying servants, speaks against Christ the Lord—now against His divinity, now against His humanity—and by the attacks which he then makes against Christ's office and work. But we cling to the Scriptures of the prophets and apostles, who spoke as they were moved by the Holy Spirit (2 Peter 1:21). Their testimony about Christ is clear. He is our Brother; we are members of His body, flesh and bone of His flesh and bone" (AE 22:23).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 1:16–21 Peter had seen a glimpse of our Lord's glory on the holy Mount of Transfiguration. We have the prophetic Word of God, on which the faith and hope of our Lord's triumphant return in glory depends. By God's grace in Christ, we are now "a holy nation, a people for His own possession" (1Pt 2:9). • O Lord, thank You for calling us out of darkness into Your marvelous light. Help us to proclaim Your excellencies through word and deed. Amen.

2 PETER—NOTE ON Ch 2 Extended warning against false teachers; resembles concerns and even wording of the Book of Jude. See "Relationship to Jude," p 2160.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:1–3 "When they have heard God's Word, they make light of it again and ignore it. But their wickedness is responsible for this 'that they perish', not God or His election" (FC Ep XI 12).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:1 false prophets. God told Moses to distinguish between true and false prophets (cf Dt 18:21–22). See Jeremiah's contest with Hananiah in Jer 28:1–17. false teachers. Those who take the inspired Scriptures and twist or isolate selected passages out of the context of salvation by grace alone through faith in Christ, purely for their own personal gain and glory. heresies. False teachings that often promote personal rights and immorality that will always destroy faith in Christ alone. the Master who bought them. False teachers deny the reality of Christ's redemption through faith alone as the means of salvation. They may call Him "Lord, Lord," but their lives are a contradiction of His will and Word (cf Lk 6:46). swift destruction. Though not seemingly so, those who bring in destructive heresies will eventually be destroyed themselves. Luth: "Just as all prophecy has emanated from the Holy Spirit since the beginning of the world, so this must be true until the end of the world, in order that nothing but God's Word may be preached. Yet it has always happened that there have been false teachers alongside the true prophets and God's Word. And so it will remain. Therefore since you now have God's Word, you must expect to have false teachers too…. They will retain the terms 'God,' 'Christ,' 'faith,' 'church,' 'Baptism,' 'Sacrament' and let them remain. Under these terms, however, they will proceed to establish something different" (AE 30:168, 170).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:2 blasphemed. In the strict sense, blasphemy refers to the misuse of the divine name and the divine works (cf Lv 24:10–

23). Here the word is used in the more general sense of "defame, revile, slander."
2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:3 During all the time the false teachers are active, their condemnation is also active. It only appears as though they will escape destruction.
2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:4–10a Three OT examples illustrate how God rescues His people.
2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:4 angels … sinned. Fallen angels. Though the Bible gives no single extended account of this fall, it contains scattered allusions. See note, Jude 6. chains of gloomy darkness. The stern judgment and damnation to which God sentenced the evil angels, in which they are held captive and bound. Luth: "God cast them [the angels who sinned] into hell. There they don't suffer punishment as yet, although they are condemned. For if they were already punished, the devils wouldn't engage in so much knavery" (AE 54:447).
2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:5 Noah, a herald of righteousness. Noah's righteousness was proclaimed by his walking with God (Gn 6:9) and being obedient to His will and Word (Gn 6:22) in the midst of a generation whose every thought "was only evil continually" (Gn 6:5). During the 120 years when Noah was building the ark, he warned the people to repent. See note, 1Pt 3:20.
2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:6 God destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah (Gn 19) to serve as a reminder to later generations that unrighteousness, false teaching, immorality, and evil (be they in Lot's day, Peter's day, or today) will eventually result in the carrying out of God's judgment.
2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:7 righteous Lot. Though he had many faults, Lot did have faith in the Lord, and he trusted God's Word. E.g., he left Sodom and Gomorrah when warned; he relied on God's promises of deliverance.
2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:8 Living among the sensual, lawless Sodomites caused Lot great distress. This serves as a warning for believers today. Cf Gn 19:1–22.
2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:9 rescue … from trials. See SC, Seventh Petition, p xxxix. under punishment. Cf v 4.
2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:10 lust of defiling passion. Possible reference to homosexuality, the sin of the Sodomites (cf Gn 19:5). See p 1911. Luth: " 'To indulge in the lust of defiling passion' is to live like an irrational beast according to one's own notion and all lust" (AE 30:180). despise authority.

Rejecting people God charged with faithfully attending to His Word and His work, be it His Son, His angels, His prophets, His pastors, or His teachers. Cf Jude 8–10; see note, Heb 13:17. they blaspheme the glorious ones. To speak against God's angels or anything of God is to speak against God.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:11 Though greater in might and in power than fallen angels, God's angels do not assume the place of God by condemning the fallen. Such a task should be left to God. False teachers will always assume a place that is not theirs and proceed to sit in judgment of all things and all people.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:12 born to be caught and destroyed. Destruction of false teachers begins with the self-destruction brought about by their defiling passions and culminates with their eternal destruction in hell. destroyed in their destruction. Unless they repent, doom will completely envelop all the unrepentant.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:13 suffering wrong as the wage. Although false teachers expect to profit from evil deeds, God will defraud them of any gain they hope to realize. They will be paid back with harm for the harm they have done. revel in the daytime. Demonstration of their shameful and shameless arrogance. they feast with you. The false teachers have worked their way into the Christian community to the point that they even attend the Lord's Supper, at which they carouse in shameful ways. See p 2230. "Peter predicted that there would be godless bishops who would abuse the alms of the Church for luxury and neglect the ministry…. Therefore, let those who defraud the Church know that they will pay God the penalty for this crime" (Tr 82).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:14 unsteady souls. Those seduced by false teachers, because they are not grounded in the whole testimony of the Scriptures. Accursed children! Hebraic way of saying that they are damned people under the curse of God. See "curse," p 6.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:15 Balaam. A diviner who, when God would not let him curse the people of Israel (cf Nu 22–24), proceeded to corrupt the people by promoting immorality and idolatry (cf Nu 25; 31:16).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:16 In mentioning Balaam's donkey, Peter brings the "bold and willful" (v 10) down to earth. Balaam was hired to pronounce a curse against God's people. By having him rebuked by a donkey, God showed what He thought of proud Balaam (Nu 22:21–41). God's rebuke may be delivered through natural means, supernatural means (as with Balaam), or historical events (see pp 335–37). But it is always delivered clearly through faithful preaching of the Scriptures and brotherly counsel based on the Scriptures.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:17 waterless springs. False teachers possess no ability to give life and satisfy spiritual thirst. mists. They lack substance and are transitory. gloom of utter darkness. Luth: "To be sure, they [false teachers] live well now and fare as they themselves desire; but an eternal darkness will come upon them, even though they do not believe or feel this" (AE 30:188).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:18 those who are barely escaping. False teachers enticed new converts as they were turning away from the pagan lifestyle, which still held strong attraction. Is it possible to fall from the faith? Yes. The final condition of such a person, Jesus says, "is worse than the first" (cf Lk 11:24–26). See note, Heb 6:6.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:19 promise them freedom. False teachers lure people away from the faith by perverting the freedom of the Gospel into an excuse for indulgence. They hide behind the masks of convenience, ease, practicality, etc. enslaved. Unrestrained by God's Word and Commandments, such freedom leads only to slavery. Real freedom is found not in sin, but in Christ (Jn 8:31–32). See p 101.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:20–21 worse … better. The sin against the light—apostasy in the face of known and acknowledged truth—has unforeseeable consequences. The heart made alive in Christ becomes hardened against the saving power of God's Word and grace, making it more difficult, if not impossible, for one to be turned back to Christ.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:20 knowledge of our Lord. Knowing who Christ is, namely, our Savior, who forgives us our sin out of pure grace (see note, 1:2). again entangled … and overcome. Like a fish caught by a fisherman, the false teachers (who at one time had been faithful Christians) and their disciples have been caught by the lust of their own defiling passions (v 10).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:21 the holy commandment. The whole of the Christian proclamation, with the emphasis on the ethical dimensions of that proclamation and on the fact that it claims man for Christ (cf 3:2; Mt 28:20; 1Tm 6:14). delivered. Taught. See "tradition," p 1904.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 2:22 Peter closes his warnings with two proverbs (the first from Pr 26:11; the second from an unknown secular source) to indicate the abiding reality of the sinful nature in every person—believer and unbeliever. In this context, dogs and sows, both unclean animals, are likened to people who reject God's Word. Luth: "Through Baptism these people threw out unbelief, had their unclean way of life washed away, and entered into a pure life of faith and love. Now they fall away into unbelief and their own works, and they soil themselves again in filth…. But if you want to become pious, you must ask God to give you a genuine faith, and you must begin to desist from unbelief. When you receive faith, then good works will come automatically, and you will lead a pure and chaste life. Otherwise you will preserve yourself by no other means. And even if you are able to conceal the knave in your heart for a while, yet he will finally emerge" (AE 30:190–91).

2 PETER—NOTE ON Ch 2 Our Lord says, "In the world you will have tribulation. But take heart; I have overcome the world" (Jn 16:33; cf 2Pt 2:9). The devil, the world, and our own sinful nature are ever seeking to overcome us through our tribulations (see SC, Sixth Petition, pp xxxviii–xxxix). The way of escape is through His Holy Word and Sacraments, for this is how He strengthens and keeps us firm in His Word and faith (see SC, Third Petition, p xxxviii). • O Lord, having overcome the world, come to me and give me the strength to endure patiently the trials that afflict me and finally to overcome them and win the victory. Amen.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:1 beloved. Shows Peter's close relationship with his readers and also his concern. It is a love born of Christ's love for His people. reminder. Cf 1:12–15. Peter's purpose is to arouse the people and to urge them not to neglect their faith but to remain in their understanding of what a true Christian life is.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:2 the predictions. Cf 1:19. OT Scriptures, which confirm the entire apostolic witness of Christ. See p 1245. the commandment. See note, 2:21. through your apostles. Peter is placing the apostolic teaching on the same level as the OT. Both are the inspired Word of God. "A brief and succinct Confession was prepared from God's Word—the most holy writings of the prophets and apostles" (Concordia, Preface 2).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:3 The behavior of cynical unbelief goes hand in hand with self-indulgence and mockery of God's work in the creation of the world.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:4 promise of His coming? The Lord's promised return for the final judgment. the fathers fell asleep. The first Christian generation, some of whom (e.g., Stephen, James the son of Zebedee, James the Just) had already suffered martyrdom by the time this Letter was written. continuing … from the beginning of creation. The assertion of scoffers that God's promise is not reliable and that the regularity and continuity of the created order has not and cannot be interrupted by divine events such as Christ's second coming.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:5 Scoffers overlook the fact that by the Word of God the heavens came into existence long ago out of nothing. out of water and through water. Refers to the creation account in Gn 1. by the word of God. The heavens and earth came into being, exist now, and are preserved only because God has so commanded and ordered all things. The heavens and earth are preserved through the Word of God alone. See notes, Gn 1:3–3; Jn 1:3; Heb 1:2.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:6 deluged. God's sending of the great flood proves that God will intervene in time.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:7 by the same word. God's Word created and preserves creation. That same Word will be the means by which He will bring about creation's destruction. stored up for fire. Fire is frequently used in the OT as a symbol of God's punitive and destructive wrath, sometimes in connection with His final judgment (e.g., Zep 1:18; 3:8; Mal 4:1). destruction of the ungodly. As with the flood, when God judged and destroyed the wicked but saved Noah and his family, so the end of the world will be a time of judgment on the ungodly and a time of deliverance for the faithful. See note, 1Pt 3:21. Luth: "When the Last Day breaks all of a sudden, in one moment there will be nothing but fire. Everything in heaven and on earth will be reduced to powder and ashes. Everything must be changed by fire, just as the water changed everything at the time of the Flood. Because God let what took place at that time be a sign, therefore the fire shall be the sign that He will not lie" (AE 30:195).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:8 one day is as a thousand years. Peter refers to Ps 90:4, an ancient prayer of Moses. It is important to recognize that Peter is not saying a thousand years and a day are the same. Nor is he providing a numerical formula for predicting the day of Christ's return, as some have suggested. He says that to the Lord one is "like" the other. Since God is eternal, what seems to us to be a long time is not very long at all to Him. See note, Ps 90:4; see also p 217.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:9 Repentance leading to faith and salvation is the issue for the Lord, not times or timing. He is patient, wanting all to come to salvation. Repentance consists of contrition (godly sorrow over one's sins) and faith (trusting in the divine promise of forgiveness through faith in Christ). "God, who has called us, is faithful. So when He has begun the good work in us, He will also preserve it to the end and perfect it, if we ourselves do not turn from Him, but firmly hold on to the work begun to the end. He has promised His grace for this very purpose" (FC SD XI 32).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:10 the day of the Lord. The Last Day, when the Lord returns to judge the ungodly and to redeem the faithful. See p 1079. like a thief. Emphasizes the surprise people will experience at His coming (cf Mk 13:36; Lk 21:34). Jesus cuts off all attempts at calculating the time of His return (cf Mt 24:36; 1Th 5:2; Rv 3:3; 16:15). a roar. The heavens will pass away with great force and speed. heavenly bodies. Sun, moon, stars, etc. burned up and dissolved. The heavens—i.e., the sky and heavenly bodies—will be destroyed (cf Rm 8:21). works … exposed. To the fire of God's judgment. God will refine and purify them as the "new heavens and a new earth" (2Pt 3:13). Luth: "This life amounts to eating, drinking, sleeping, digesting, begetting children, etc. Here everything goes by number: hours, days, and years in succession. Now when you want to look at the life to come, you must erase the course of this life from your mind. You dare not think that you can measure it as this life is measured. There everything will be one day, one hour, one moment" (AE 30:196).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:11–18 The Lord's delay in returning is actually a matter of urgency for the Church, which He has called to spread the Gospel of repentance and salvation.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:11 Luth: "Since you know that everything must pass away, both heaven and earth, consider how completely you must be prepared with a saintly and godly life and conduct to meet this Day" (AE 30:197).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:12 hastening the coming. God has determined the day of our Lord's return (Ac 17:31), but from a human perspective, we hasten the Lord's coming as we pray, "Your kingdom come" and "Come, Lord Jesus!" (Mt 6:10; Rv 22:20).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:13 new heavens and a new earth. Ushered in when Christ returns. Paradise will be regained as all the ruin and frustration with which man's sin has disfigured God's good world will have passed away. Cf Rm 8:19–22. Luth: "That will be a broad and beautiful heaven and a joyful earth, much more beautiful and joyful than Paradise was. There were no stinging nettles or prickly thorns and thistles or noxious creatures, worms, or vermin in Paradise, but lovely and noble roses and aromatic creatures. All the trees in the garden were lovely to behold and good to eat…. Then no sin or unrighteousness will dwell on earth, no homicide or murder, no hate or envy, but perfect righteousness, love, and friendship. Now unrighteousness and infidelity dwell on earth; from this we should realize what we have lost through Adam's fall and our sin and learn to long and yearn for the restoration and renewal of the creation and for the liberty of the children of God" (AE 12:121).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:1–13 Knowing that this world will not last, we are to "seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness" (Mt 6:33). Sadly, we are often distracted by "the cares of the world" (Mt 13:22). Despite our many failures, the Lord graciously works through Word and Sacrament to forgive our sins and to renew us in the faith. He will preserve us unto the end. • O Lord, keep me with Jesus Christ in the one true faith, that I may wait for the coming of the day of the Lord, when You will raise me and all the dead and give eternal life to me and all believers in Christ. Amen.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:14 without spot or blemish. Cf 1Pt 1:19; see note, Lv 1:3. Christians are to make every effort to conform to the character of Christ. These efforts do not gain salvation (Jesus has already accomplished that), but they do bear witness to His amazing grace toward all people. at peace. See note, Rm 5:1; see also p 1903.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:15 patience … as salvation. God is forbearing; He delays and does not judge at once. If God were not patient, all would be destroyed. Think of how patiently the Lord works with each believer, forgiving him and picking him up each time he falls. beloved brother Paul. Indication that both Peter and his readers hold Paul in high regard and consider him a true friend in Christ. Peter makes a point of affirming that both he and Paul are united in doctrine and in their opposition to the false teachers.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:16 things … hard to understand. Paul's Epistles, which may indeed be challenging even for the faithful to understand. The unscrupulous twist them to mean that those justified may continue to live in sin, since sinning results in further opportunities for God's grace to be demonstrated (cf Rm 3:5–8; 6:1). the ignorant and unstable twist. Paul himself complains that some have maliciously misinterpreted his bold language on the free grace of God (cf Rm 3:8; 6:1), and it is probable that the false teachers of 2Pt 2 are alluded to here for doing the same thing (cf 2:12, 17). the other Scriptures. Explicitly linked by Peter to Paul's inspired Letters. The Early Christian Church recognized that the inspired writings of the apostles were on a par with the OT. E.g., Paul quotes Jesus' words recorded in Lk 10:7 and equates them with the authority of the OT (1Tm 5:18).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:17 Peter charges his "beloved" friends to be aware of the truth and be on guard, lest they fall away from faith because of false doctrine. The only sure way to remain on guard in the stability of salvation is to remain in all of God's Word. In a sense, the entire Letter has been focused on this subject.

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:18 grow in the grace and knowledge. Accomplished as believers keep themselves fortified in and by God's Word, so that they will not fall away. Peter has come full circle; he began the Letter by speaking of grace and knowledge. See note, 1:2; see also "Identifying the False Teachers," p 2160. our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. See note, Php 2:11. glory both now and to the day of eternity. That which belongs to the Lord and Savior alone, not to any prophet or apostle. These believers were, like all believers, servants of our great God and Savior. Jesus is glorified and honored whenever believers witness to His grace with their words and actions. Luth: "This teaching is not learned all at once, nor can it be understood speculatively. It must be learned by daily use and exercise amid the temptations of the world, the devil, and the flesh, amid despair, distrust, and innumerable other horrible things. And without these exercises it cannot be kept. Foolish people, therefore, are taken in. After reading one or more pages of Holy Scriptures and hearing maybe one sermon, they think they have already learned this teaching [of Christianity] completely. They can see that in other, lesser arts we do not immediately become masters. Much less can it happen in this greatest teaching of all, that we immediately trust in God from the heart and despise all the perils of the world, death, and the devil. These things cannot be learned in one day, but practice and immense exercise and a singular gift of God are required" (AE 12:248).

2 PETER—NOTE ON 3:14–18 Our Lord's patience is essential to our salvation in the sense that He is giving us time to repent. Do we use the time allotted to us to take sin and salvation seriously, or do we neglect our worship and prayers and our Lord's gracious call to repent? Make daily repentance part of your life. The patient Lord is ever working through Word and Sacrament to restore fallen sinners and to strengthen them in the stability of their salvation. • O Lord, come to me, and strengthen me through Your Word, that I may grow in Your grace and knowledge and proclaim Your glory forever. Amen.

1 John

1 John 1 | 1 John 2 | 1 John 3 | 1 John 4 | 1 John 5

- Introduction to 1, 2, and 3 John
  - Overview
  - Reading 1, 2, and 3 John
  - Luther on 1, 2, and 3 John
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

The Word of Life

1 [1] That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we looked upon and have touched with our hands, concerning the word of life— [2] the life was made manifest, and we have seen it, and testify to it and proclaim to you the eternal life, which was with the Father and was made manifest to us— [3] that which we have seen and heard we proclaim also to you, so that you too may have fellowship with us; and indeed our fellowship is with the Father and with his Son Jesus Christ. [4] And we are writing these things so that our[1] joy may be complete.

Walking in the Light

5 ‡ ‡ † This is the message we have heard from him and proclaim to you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. 6 † If we say we have fellowship with him while we walk in darkness, we lie and do not practice the truth. 7 † But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. 8 † If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. 9 † If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. 10 † If we say we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

Christ Our Advocate

2 [1]‡†My little children, I am writing these things to you so that you may not sin. But if anyone does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. [2]†He is the propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only but also for the sins of the whole world. [3]†And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. [4]‡Whoever says “I know him” but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, [5]†but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may know that we are in him: [6]†whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked.

The New Commandment

7 ‡ † Beloved, I am writing you no new commandment, but an old commandment that you had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word that you have heard. 8† At the same time, it is a new commandment that I am writing to you, which is true in him and in you, because[1] the darkness is passing away and the true light is already shining. 9‡ † Whoever says he is in the light and hates his brother is still in darkness. 10† Whoever loves his brother abides in the light, and in him[1] there is no cause for stumbling. 11† But whoever hates his brother is in the darkness and walks in the darkness, and does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.

12† I am writing to you, little children, because your sins are forgiven for his name's sake.
13† I am writing to you, fathers, because you know him who is from the beginning.
I am writing to you, young men, because you have overcome the evil one.
I write to you, children, because you know the Father.
14 I write to you, fathers, because you know him who is from the beginning.
I write to you, young men,
because you are strong,
and the word of God abides in you, and you have overcome the evil one.

Do Not Love the World

15 ‡† Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. 16 † For all that is in the world—the desires of the flesh and the desires of the eyes and pride in possessions —is not from the Father but is from the world. 17 † And the world is passing away along with its desires, but whoever does the will of God abides forever.

Warning Concerning Antichrists

18 ‡ † Children, it is the last hour, and as you have heard that antichrist is coming, so now many antichrists have come. Therefore we know that it is the last hour. 19 † They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would have continued with us. But they went out, that it might become plain that they all are not of us. 20 ‡ † But you have been anointed by the Holy One, and you all have knowledge.[1] 21 † I write to you, not because you do not know the truth, but because you know it, and because no lie is of the truth. 22 † Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, he who denies the Father and the Son.
23 † No one who denies the Son has the Father. Whoever confesses the Son has the Father also. 24 † Let what you heard from the beginning abide in you.
If what you heard from the beginning abides in you, then you too will abide in the Son and in the Father. 25 † And this is the promise that he made to us[2] —eternal life.

26 † I write these things to you about those who are trying to deceive you.
27 † But the anointing that you received from him abides in you, and you have no need that anyone should teach you. But as his anointing teaches you about everything, and is true, and is no lie—just as it has taught you, abide in him.

Children of God

28 ‡‡‡And now, little children, abide in him, so that when he appears we may have confidence and not shrink from him in shame at his coming. 29 †If you know that he is righteous, you may be sure that everyone who practices righteousness has been born of him.

3 1 †See what kind of love the Father has given to us, that we should be called children of God; and so we are. The reason why the world does not know us is that it did not know him. 2 †Beloved, we are God's children now, and what we will be has not yet appeared; but we know that when he appears[1] we shall be like him, because we shall see him as he is. 3 †And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure.

4 †Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. 5 †You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. 6 †No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. 7 †Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. 8 †Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. 9 †No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's[2] seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. 10 †By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother.

Love One Another

11 ‡†For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. 12 †We should not be like Cain, who was of the evil one and murdered his brother. And why did he murder him? Because his own deeds were evil and his brother's righteous. 13 †Do not be surprised, brothers,[1] that the world hates you. 14 †We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. 15 †Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him.

16 †By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. 17 †But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? 18 †Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth.

19 †By this we shall know that we are of the truth and reassure our heart before him; 20 †for whenever our heart condemns us, God is greater than our heart, and he knows everything. 21 †Beloved, if our heart does not condemn us, we have confidence before God; 22 †and whatever we ask we receive from him, because we keep his commandments and do what pleases him.
23 †And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us.
24 †Whoever keeps his commandments abides in God,[2] and God[3] in him.
And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us.

Test the Spirits

4 [1]†† Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. [2]† By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, [3]† and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. [4]† Little children, you are from God and have overcome them, for he who is in you is greater than he who is in the world. [5]† They are from the world; therefore they speak from the world, and the world listens to them. [6]† We are from God.
Whoever knows God listens to us; whoever is not from God does not listen to us. By this we know the Spirit of truth and the spirit of error.

God Is Love

7 †‡†Beloved, let us love one another, for love is from God, and whoever loves has been born of God and knows God. 8 †Anyone who does not love does not know God, because God is love. 9 †In this the love of God was made manifest among us, that God sent his only Son into the world, so that we might live through him. 10 †In this is love, not that we have loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.
11 †Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another. 12 †No one has ever seen God; if we love one another, God abides in us and his love is perfected in us.
13 ‡†By this we know that we abide in him and he in us, because he has given us of his Spirit. 14 †And we have seen and testify that the Father has sent his Son to be the Savior of the world. 15 †Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. 16 †So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. 17 †By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. 18 †There is no fear in love, but perfect love casts out fear. For fear has to do with punishment, and whoever fears has not been perfected in love. 19 †We love because he first loved us. 20 †If anyone says, “I love God,” and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot[1] love God whom he has not seen. 21 †And this commandment we have from him:
whoever loves God must also love his brother.

Overcoming the World

5 [1]†† Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. [2]By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. [3]† For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments. And his commandments are not burdensome. [4] † For everyone who has been born of God overcomes the world. And this is the victory that has overcome the world—our faith. [5]† Who is it that overcomes the world except the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God?

Testimony Concerning the Son of God

6 ‡ † This is he who came by water and blood—Jesus Christ; not by the water only but by the water and the blood. And the Spirit is the one who testifies, because the Spirit is the truth. 7 ‡ For there are three that testify:
8 † the Spirit and the water and the blood; and these three agree. 9 † If we receive the testimony of men, the testimony of God is greater, for this is the testimony of God that he has borne concerning his Son. 10 † Whoever believes in the Son of God has the testimony in himself. Whoever does not believe God has made him a liar, because he has not believed in the testimony that God has borne concerning his Son. 11 † And this is the testimony, that God gave us eternal life, and this life is in his Son.
12 † Whoever has the Son has life; whoever does not have the Son of God does not have life.

That You May Know

13 ‡‡‡I write these things to you who believe in the name of the Son of God that you may know that you have eternal life. 14 †And this is the confidence that we have toward him, that if we ask anything according to his will he hears us. 15†And if we know that he hears us in whatever we ask, we know that we have the requests that we have asked of him.

16 †If anyone sees his brother committing a sin not leading to death, he shall ask, and God[1] will give him life—to those who commit sins that do not lead to death. There is sin that leads to death; I do not say that one should pray for that. 17†All wrongdoing is sin, but there is sin that does not lead to death.

18 †We know that everyone who has been born of God does not keep on sinning, but he who was born of God protects him, and the evil one does not touch him.

19†We know that we are from God, and the whole world lies in the power of the evil one.

20 † And we know that the Son of God has come and has given us understanding, so that we may know him who is true; and we are in him who is true, in his Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and eternal life.
21†Little children, keep yourselves from idols.

1, 2, and 3 John

OVERVIEW

Author
John, apostle and evangelist, called "the elder"

Date
AD 85–95

Places
Various churches, perhaps in Asia Minor

People
John the elder; the brethren (children, fathers, and young men); antichrists; false teachers; various "spirits"; the elect lady, her children, and her elect sister; deceivers; Gaius; brothers who are strangers; Gentiles; Diotrephes; Demetrius; friends

Purpose
To establish and encourage the faith of John's contemporaries in the wake of rising controversy because some had left Christian congregations or had troubled them

Law Themes
Sin; walking in darkness or light; God's commands; hatred; death; deceit; antichrist(s); love one another; lawlessness; deceivers; wicked works; imitate God, not evil

Gospel Themes
Christ, the atoning sacrifice; our advocate; eternal life; God perfects His love in us (sanctification); light; born of God; children of God; truth; fellowship; reward; abiding in Christ's teachings; Christ has come in the flesh

Memory Verses

Confession of sins (1Jn 1:7–9); Jesus, our advocate (2:1–2); the Son destroys the devil's work (3:8); God is love (4:7–12); true God and eternal life (5:20); beware of false teachers (2Jn 9–11)

Introduction to 1, 2, and 3 John

Reading 1, 2, and 3 John

Up on her toes, then back on her heels. When she feels herself about to fall, she buckles her knees and goes down on her seat. “Ooph!”

Nearby, Mother smiles as she folds the laundry. The little girl’s aunt laughs as she folds a shirt.

“I remember when you would stumble that way,” the mother says. “Before long, you were walking straight, then running.”

“My running days are done,” the aunt sighs, rubbing her rounded belly. “Baby’s kicking again. I think there’s another runner on the way.”

Love and the Church as a family are the dominating themes of John’s Letters. He warns against those who would divide the Christian family from fellowship with the heavenly Father and His beloved Son. John presents himself as an “elder,” a parent or older brother to the community of faith. Like someone leading a toddler by the hand, John guides the Church away from dangerous false doctrines so that she may walk in the light.

Luther on 1, 2, and 3 John

> The first epistle of John is a genuine apostolic epistle and ought to follow right after his gospel. For as in the gospel he promulgates faith, so here he opposes those who boast of faith without works. He teaches in many different ways that works are not absent where faith is; and if they are absent, then faith is not genuine but is lies and darkness. He does this, however, not by harping on the law, as the epistle of James does [see footnote 1, p 2131], but by stimulating us to love even as God has loved us.
>
> He also writes vigorously here against the Cerinthians, against the spirit of Antichrist, which was beginning even then to deny that Christ has come in the flesh, and which is today for the first time really in full sway. For although people do not now publicly deny with their lips that Christ has come in the flesh, they do deny it with their hearts, by their teaching and life. For he who would be righteous and saved by his own works and deeds is as much as denying Christ, since Christ has come in the flesh for the very purpose of making us righteous and saving us without our works, by his blood alone.
>
> Thus the epistle fights against both parties: against those who would live in faith without any works, and against those who would become righteous by their works. It keeps us in the true middle way, that we become righteous and free from sin through faith; and then, when we are righteous, that we practice good works and love for God's sake, freely and without seeking anything else.
>
> The other two epistles are not doctrinal epistles but examples of love and of faith. They too have a true apostolic spirit. (AE 35:393)

For more of Luther's insights on 1 John, see Lectures on the First Epistle of St. John (AE 30:217–327).

Challenges for Readers

Authorship. John the apostle and evangelist, who calls himself "the elder" (2Jn 1; 3Jn 1), most likely wrote these three books of Scripture. Early Christian writers describe John serving at Ephesus in Asia Minor for c 30 years, which provides the likely setting for these books. In some passages, John refers to other eyewitnesses ("we," 1Jn 1:1, 3; 4:14) with whom he addresses his readers. Not written in the form of a letter, 1Jn reads more like a sermon, which could be sent with correspondence.

The Church as Family. Some expressions in John's Letters have confused interpreters. For example, when John refers to his readers as "children" (1Jn 2:1, 12–13, 18, 28; 3:1–2, 7, 10, 18; 4:4; 5:2, 21; 2Jn 1, 4, 13; 3Jn 4), some have read this as an indication that he wrote the Letters when he was old. This is to miss John's point about his relationship with the members of the congregations. It is not primarily an issue of age. John speaks to his readers as members of his family, the household of faith, for which he is a leader ("elder" or "parent"). The same emphasis on relationships is shown in descriptions of the churches as "the elect lady and her children" and "children of your elect sister" (2Jn 1, 13). Using family relationships to describe congregational relationships is characteristic of the Semitic culture from which the churches first sprang (see examples from Paul in Rm 8:16–17, 21; 9:8; 1Co 4:14, 17; 2Co 6:13; Gal 4:19; Eph 5:1; Php 2:15; 1Th 2:11; 1Tm 1:2, 18; 2Tm 1:2; 2:1; Ti 1:4; Phm 10). See also "brothers," p 1901.

Antichrists and Opponents. John describes his opponents as "antichrist(s)" (1Jn 2:18, 22; 4:3; 2Jn 7), "children of the devil" (1Jn 3:10), "false prophets" (1Jn 4:1), "liar(s)" and "deceivers" (1Jn 2:22; 4:20; 2Jn 7). Based on Church history, Luther associates these opponents with the followers of Cerinthus, who was described as one of the earliest Gnostic leaders to affect the Church at the end of the first century AD (see "proto-gnostics," p 2160). This would indicate a late date for the Letters: in the 90s. However, Cerinthus reportedly taught that Jesus was not true and eternal God and that God did not create the world. Cerinthus believed there was a low-ranking divine being, the Demiurge, who created the physical world and later descended to teach through the man Jesus. This dispute about the person of Christ fits some of the theological problems John attributes to his opponents (1Jn 2:18–25; 4:1–6; 2Jn 7–11) but does not fit his descriptions absolutely. In John's Letters, the opponents seem focused on denying Jesus' human nature, which may describe an earlier or different heresy from the teachings of Cerinthus. In 3 John, he raises a second issue regarding "Diotrephes, who … does not acknowledge our authority" (v 9). John does not describe this leader as a false teacher but perhaps refers to a congregational dispute.

Blessings for Readers

As you study the Letters of John, pray for the peace and blessing of your congregation and fellowship. Greet your fellow Christians as beloved brothers and sisters, for whom Christ gave His life. Although John provides strong warnings against false teachers and their doctrines, he will also help you understand the true character of Christian love, faith, and good works.

OUTLINE

1 John

I. Prologue (1:1–4)
II. In the World, Not of It (1:5–3:12)
  A. Because His Blood Cleanses Us from All Sin (1:5–2:2)
  B. Because the True Light Is Already Shining (2:3–11)
  C. Because the World Is Passing Away (2:12–17)
  D. Because It Is the Last Hour (2:18–29)
  E. Because Even Now We Are His Children (3:1–12)
III. In Him Who First Loved Us (3:13–5:21)
  A. So We Love and Do Not Hate (3:13–24)
  B. For Ours Is the Spirit of Truth (4:1–6)
  C. Ours Is a God Who First Loved Us (4:7–10)
  D. So Our Love Is His Love (4:11–21)
  E. For His Is the Testimony of the Spirit, the Water, and the Blood (ch 5)

2 John

I. Greeting (1–3)
II. Walking in Truth and Love (4–11)
III. Final Greetings (12–13)

3 John

I. Greeting (1–4)

II. Support and Opposition (5–12)
III. Final Greetings (13–15)

Articles and Resources Related to 1, 2, and 3 John

- John's Reasoning
- Sin That Leads to Death

John's Reasoning

Most magazine articles and newspaper columns proceed from point A to point B to point C to conclusion D. Our way of thinking, of reasoning from premises to conclusions, has come down to us from the ancient Greeks. It is typically Western in approach.

As we read the Holy Scriptures, most of us tend to assume the writer will take this approach. And some biblical writers indeed do. Although the apostle Paul was Jewish, his writings shine as brilliant examples of Western-style thought. Take, for instance, the Book of Romans. This masterpiece, inspired by God, is written as tightly as any legal brief that will land on any judge's desk. Paul wastes no words as he argues the sinfulness of all people and as he explains God's provision to remove our sins in Jesus Christ. Then, from ch 12 on, Paul details the implications of our salvation for daily living. It is a masterful example of Western reasoning.

Even so, most of the holy writers came out of an Eastern, specifically Jewish, culture. Their reasoning was often different than what we are used to. In 1 John, the apostle weaves doctrine and practice together throughout to produce an awe-inspiring tapestry. As a result, we see the intricate connections between "believing right" and "doing right." John's themes spiral outward and upward. Each time he returns to a key concept, he expands on it, adding more muscle to the skeleton.

None of this takes anything away from the inerrant, divinely inspired nature of any biblical book. But it does stand as a reminder to us readers today. To get the most out of each passage of Scripture, we need to take into account the fact that the Holy Spirit used the background, experiences, and literary style of each holy writer to produce manuscripts that were unique to each.

St John—the Pastor

You cannot read 1 John and miss the pastor's heart that so influenced its contents. John loved the people to whom he wrote. After all, these were God's people, God's dear children. And the aged apostle thought of them as his own children too. Again and again, John addresses his readers as "little children" or "my little children." These terms of endearment reveal the tender compassion of the apostle for those whom he had nurtured in the faith.

It is likely that the Holy Spirit used John to bring these people into the family of the heavenly Father or, if not, that John began to shepherd them early on in their new lives in Christ. Several times, he reminds them of what they have heard and known "from the beginning." Despite what the false teachers have tried to cram down their throats, John is not creating new doctrine. Everything he writes to them in this Letter is, or should be, familiar. It is the same truth they have always heard from him. The truth has not changed, nor have the implications of that truth for their daily lives.

St John—the Polemic

While John urges his dear children to love one another, he clearly expresses what love is not. Specifically, love is not tolerance of doctrinal error within the family of faith. John's opponents had attacked the person of Christ Himself! They denied His deity. In doing so, they gutted the meaning of the cross.

That is the nature of heresy. Today, as in the first century, there are those who would set themselves up as judges over God's revelation. They disrupt the unity of the faith the Holy Spirit wants to create in His Church. Sooner or later, Satan convinces them in some way, shape, or form to throw redemption overboard. Immorality then trails close behind. That is why John calls his people back to "the beginning" with such urgent pleas. These are matters of life and death—spiritual life and death.

Satan seldom tells new lies. The old ones still work quite well. Still today, critics debate the identity of Christ Jesus. Creative theologians still trot out the old horse Gnosticism (see pp 1559–61). They may disguise their pet theories under a new blanket of terms as they twist the Scriptures to support their lies, but at heart, the error remains the same.

Who is Jesus Christ? That is the question John addressed from the beginning. His answer has not changed. God's answer has not changed. Look for it as you study 1 John.

Sin That Leads to Death

The "unpardonable sin," as this sin has been called, is also commonly known as "the sin against the Holy Spirit." To describe a sin as "unpardonable" seems to contradict our Christian hope and certainty. After all, the essence of the Christian faith is the declaration that God would have all people to be saved, that is, to come home to Him, forgiven (1Tm 2:4).

In that light, how can there be an unpardonable sin?

Twice in the Gospels, the inspired writers remember our Lord's reference to the unpardonable sin (Mt 12:31–32; Mk 3:29–30). Another key text is Heb 6:4–6. A final reference to the unpardonable sin is in 1 John, where the apostle describes that sin in a dreadful phrase, "sin that leads to death" (5:16). To understand what the unpardonable sin is, we need to understand the context of each of the passages noted above and how they relate to one another. We need to follow the interpretation principle "Let Scripture interpret Scripture."

The Sin of the Scribes and Pharisees

Note the context of Mt 12:31–32; Mk 3:29–30. The scribes and Pharisees were accusing Jesus, saying He was empowered by Satan to do His miraculous works. To the Jew of Jesus' day, the Holy Spirit had two great functions: He revealed God's truth to humanity, and He enabled human beings to recognize that truth when they saw and heard it. (Both of these are, of course, truly the work of the Spirit.)

Now here was a situation in which the Son of God Himself clearly and visibly was overthrowing Satan and his kingdom, healing people who were demon-possessed. As people saw this demonstration of God's love in action, God the Holy Spirit was at work in their hearts, leading them to acknowledge Christ as Savior and Lord (Mt 12:23).

But note the Pharisees' deliberate and stubborn resistance to the Holy Spirit's testimony (Mt 12:24).

The sin against the Holy Spirit, then, is the consistent and stubborn refusal to believe in Christ—deliberately opposing the Holy Spirit as He seeks to bring a person to faith through the message of Christ. The Pharisees' opposition to the Spirit was so extreme that they attributed Christ's work to the devil. By definition, this sin of the Pharisees could not be forgiven because by their unbelief they refused to receive the forgiveness God in Christ so winsomely offered to them.

Trampling the Blood of Christ Underfoot

Most crucial to the fullest understanding of the sin against the Holy Spirit is Heb 6:4–6, a passage that describes the horrible possibility of apostasy. We Christians have been enlightened, brought to faith in Christ, who is the light of the world (Jn 1:9; 9:5). We have tasted the heavenly gift and seen "that the Lord is good" (Ps 34:8). This is a gift that fills all of life as we are drawn to Christ on the cross. Christ does for us what we could never do for ourselves. His ransom of us from our sins takes on meaning for us today, as we see ourselves held hostage to the terrors of sin, death, and the flesh, unable to help ourselves until Jesus Christ helps us.

But since we have tasted the heavenly gift, we

- now see that our birth is not a biological accident but is God's doing, as He calls us by name in our mother's womb (Jer 1:5);
- now live in our baptismal grace, dying daily to sin and rising to the new life that is ours through Jesus' death and resurrection (1Pt 1:3; Rm 6:3–4);
- now understand that Jesus Christ surrounds us with His good gifts and spirit, so that in the sun or in the shadow, in the rough or on the smooth, uphill or down, from life's beginning to life eternal, we know His presence in the green valleys and in the valley of the shadow of death (Ps 23);
- now realize that it is our privilege to share in the Holy Spirit, to taste "the goodness of the word of God," and to experience in the here and now the "powers of the age to come" (Heb 6:5).

But at the end of this catalog of Christian blessedness comes a word about apostasy, about falling away, about that dreadful, terrible sin against the Holy Spirit. This passage was written in an age of Christian persecution, an age when, understandably, Christians came to consider apostasy the supreme sin.

But is any person beyond the mercy and forgiveness of God if, truly repentant, forgiveness is asked for? Is any person so strong and so alive in Christ that he or she can avoid all denial of Christ? Did not Peter himself deny Jesus? Did not Jesus Himself reinstate Peter (Jn 21:15–19)?

The cross has been described as a window to God's heart. Through one historical event—Christ's crucifixion—it has become possible for human beings in all times and places to look into God's being, to see for certain that God's suffering, enduring, patient, steadfast love is always available for sinners who want forgiveness and who repent.

“Have I Committed the Unpardonable Sin?”

The scriptural reference 1Jn 5:16–17 places on us the responsibility to pray for one another so that the sin whose end is death is not ours. In the original context, the “sin that leads to death” was probably the false teachers’ adamant and persistent denial of the truth and their shameless immorality. We, too, live in a time of false teaching, in the sense that people

- “know it all,” denying the truth of God’s Word in their lives;
- think that Jesus Christ was a good teacher or fine example but deny Him as Savior and Lord;
- live by their own rules, often shamelessly and without consideration for others.

If we are willing to pray for one another when we are ill and in need, should we not also pray for one another as we stray from God? But there is more to this concern than the praying. Our duty is not yet done until we see our prayers as reminders that God would use us as bearers of His grace.

So pray we must, and the will of God will be done. God wants no one lost eternally, and we want no one to live so persistently in sin that the end is eternal death. The sin against the Holy Spirit, the unpardonable sin, is that sin of impenitence that hardens into stubborn and persistent unbelief. No one who worries that he or she has committed this sin is guilty of it, for the hallmark of the sin is that one defiantly and without worry rejects any thought of need for repentance or faith. So we look to Christ as we pray for ourselves and for others: “[Lord,] I believe; help my unbelief!” (Mk 9:24).

Footnotes

Footnotes for 1, 2, and 3 John, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:4 Some manuscripts your

Footnotes for 1, 2, and 3 John, Chapter 2

- [1] 2:8 Or that
- [1] 2:10 Or it
- [1] 2:20 Some manuscripts you know everything
- [2] 2:25 Some manuscripts you

Footnotes for 1, 2, and 3 John, Chapter 3

- [1] 3:2 Or when it appears
- [2] 3:9 Greek his
- [1] 3:13 Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church; also verses 14, 16
- [2] 3:24 Greek him
- [3] 3:24 Greek he

Footnotes for 1, 2, and 3 John, Chapter 4

- [1] 4:20 Some manuscripts how can he

Footnotes for 1, 2, and 3 John, Chapter 5

- [1] 5:16 Greek he

Study Notes

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 1:1–4 1Jn is traditionally known as a letter, but it lacks the typical introductory greetings of early Christian letters. See "Authorship," p 2170. Compare the teaching of these verses with Jn 1:1–18.
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 1:1 The whole substance and blessing of the Gospel is found in the unique person who is both God and man—Jesus Christ. the beginning. Of creation. See note, v 2. heard … seen … looked … touched. Absolute affirmation of Christ's physical, human nature. Luth: "By the grace of God I have learned not to turn my eyes away from that Person who was born to Mary, and not to seek or acknowledge another god. One's eyes must be fixed on that Person who was born of the Virgin Mary. Where the Son of God is, there Christ is; where Christ is, there the Father is" (AE 30:223).
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 1:2 life was made manifest. Eternal life is found in God the Son, who was conceived in human flesh in the womb of His mother, Mary, and born in Bethlehem. See notes, Jn 1:4, 14. with the Father. Jesus, the Eternal Word, has always been with the Father. He was with Him at creation.
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 1:3 you. All Christians who read this Letter. fellowship. More than friendship; a common share in something (or in this case, someone). Christians have a common share in God the Father through the human nature of Jesus. Since we are all members of one Body of Christ, we share in fellowship with all other Christians through Jesus. See p 1902. us. John and the other apostles who saw, heard, and touched Jesus, even after He was crucified and raised from the dead.
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 1:4 we. Apostles writing the NT. our joy may be complete. Cf 3Jn 4.
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 1:1–4 John begins this Book much like his Gospel account, with the Eternal Word, who was always with the Father and was working with the Father at creation. But here John's point is that this same Word who is "eternal life" is the crucified and risen Lord Jesus Christ, whom all the apostles had physically seen, heard, and touched. We owe the Eternal Word our perfect obedience. Despite our disobedience—our lack of recognition and faithfulness of our Creator—the Eternal Word did not come to condemn us but to save us. • Heavenly Father, by the writings of the apostles, grant that we may ever share in Christ and His kingdom, that our joy may be complete. Amen.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 1:5–2:27 Because false teachers have troubled congregations, John invites his "little children" (2:1) to examine their faith and practice in view of God's standards.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 1:5 Him. Jesus. God is light … no darkness. There is no evil or deception in Jesus, only truth.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 1:6 fellowship. See note, v 3. walk in darkness. To live and practice what is not truth, i.e., sin. The "walk" reveals the truthfulness of one's claims and confession. See notes, Gal 5:19–21.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 1:7 walk in the light. To live openly and honestly, without covering up our behavior, since we confess our sins to God daily. Although we are sinners and still have sinful and selfish thoughts, words, and deeds, we do not dwell on such thoughts. We do not cultivate such words or perpetuate such deeds. See "walk," p 7. as He is in the light. Jesus lives and does all things according to the truth (the Word of God). fellowship with one another. See note, v 3. Believers have a common share in Christ (His life, death, resurrection, and ascension), which brings forgiveness and grace equally and blessedly to each. the blood of Jesus … cleanses us from all sin. Only Christ's blood could atone and has atoned for the sin of the world. He alone is righteous (2:1). See note, Heb 1:3. "The Scriptures speak not merely in general of the Son of Man, but also indicate clearly His received human nature…. This is true not only according to the merit 'of Christ's blood' that was once attained on the cross. But in this place John means that in the work or act of justification, not only the divine nature in Christ but also His blood actually cleanses us from all sins" (FC SD VIII 59).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 1:8 Sin is not only what we do against God's commands in thought, word, and deed, but is also what we do naturally from the moment of our conception (cf Ps 51:5). Jesus taught that man's corrupted nature is incapable of doing any good (cf Jn 6:63; 15:5). Luth: "Although we have become a new creature, nevertheless the remnants of sin always remain in us. We still have sin, and the poison is still in us; and that sin incites us to the fruits of sin, as in the case of David, to whom inherent, encompassing, and indwelling sin said: 'Slay Uriah' (cf. 2 Sam. 11:15). David consented and sinned…. Although we are Christians sprinkled with the blood of Christ, yet we often err. Therefore the true knowledge of Christ causes a person to feel that he has sin. Furthermore, it causes us to lament this…. Finally we should hold most firmly to this, that no one is or becomes righteous before God except through the blood of Jesus Christ. For God alone is righteous, truthful, and wise. Whatever we do out of faith, we should always say: 'It is sin' and 'We are unworthy servants,' Luke 17:10. But we gain salvation solely because of the righteousness of God, and it is because of this righteousness that we are saved" (AE 30:229).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 1:9 He. God. just. God always does what is just and righteous. God is faithful to His promises and always keeps His Word. See "righteousness," p 1904. cleanse us. See note, v 7. all unrighteousness. Sins we willfully commit (sins of commission), good deeds we fail to do (sins of omission), and the sinful nature of every person.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 1:10 make Him a liar. God has declared what fallen mankind cannot see: that all have sinned and fallen short of His glory. To deny this is to sit in judgment of God and declare Him to be untrue. Cf Jb 40:8. not in us. Jesus Christ is the living Word who abides in those who abide in Him through faith. But He will not abide with lies, for He is the truth. Luth: "In the end God will prevail and gain the victory, either here by His goodness or hereafter by His severity. It will do no good to be justified before men or in our own eyes, for we must ignore this and wait with fear to learn what God thinks about it" (AE 14:168).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 1:5–10 John writes about faithfulness in our walk with God. Our sinful pride rejects God's Word and seeks to deceive us so that we might not know ourselves as we are or know God as He has revealed Himself. God sees our true nature, and in Christ He reveals His nature, which is both just and gracious to us. For those who confess their sins, God is always faithful to His promise to forgive. This is just and right because of His Son, who has paid the price for our sins. • Heavenly Father, give us hearts to believe and to know ourselves as we are. Then we may truthfully confess our sins, trusting in Your forgiveness and mercy. Amen.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:1 My little children. A reference given by the one who proclaimed the Word of life to them, by which they were brought to the faith and given new birth. John later refers to them as "children of God" because all Christians are "born of God" (3:9). may not sin. Christians are both sinners and saints at the same time. John is writing to enlighten, strengthen, and build up the saints so they may say no to sin. advocate. Jesus is the mediator between God and man. As such, Jesus is our defender, our intercessor, who constantly presents evidence in God's court of justice in favor of our pardon. See notes, Jb 9:33; 16:19–21. "This is the worship that He approves above all other worship, that He be called upon in all afflictions" (AC XXI 3). Luth: "He is righteous and unstained. He is without sin. Whatever righteousness I have, this my Comforter has, He who cries out for me to the Father: 'Spare him, and he has been spared! Forgive him! Help him!' The righteousness of Jesus Christ is standing on our side. For the righteousness of God in Him is ours" (AE 30:236). Luth: "This text should be written with golden letters and should be painted in the heart. Therefore you should get understanding and say: 'Christ, I know Thee alone as the Advocate, the Comforter, and the Mediator; and I do not doubt that Thou art such a Person for me but cling firmly to this with my heart and believe' " (AE 30:236).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:2 propitiation. Satisfaction for the demands of God's Law. Jesus satisfied God's demands for perfect obedience and perfect payment for sins. Through His life and death on the cross, Jesus became the means of forgiveness, the way of reconciling man to God. See note, Rm 3:25. for the sins of the whole world. Jesus made complete satisfaction for the sins of all mankind from the beginning of the world to the Last Day (objective justification). Jesus came that "He might taste death for everyone" (Heb 2:9)—even for those who reject Him, "denying the Master who bought them" (2Pt 2:1). These verses repudiate the false teaching of a "limited atonement" (that Christ did not atone for all mankind, but only for the elect). Luth: "He does not sit at the right hand of the Father to terrify us, but He is the expiation…. Christ, who does not spurn a contrite and humble heart, wants to be the Lord and Author of life, not of sin" (AE 30:236–37).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:3 Only those who know Jesus through faith keep His Commandments. His Commandments are not burdensome because Christ's teaching (Jn 13:34) is based on the Gospel, not on condemnation. The Law never provided the power to fulfill the commands, but Christ gives His Commandments in view of God's mercy. He builds on forgiveness, which motivates us.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:4–5 When one's living does not flow from love, it disproves all claims of knowing Jesus, who is God's very expression of love and truth.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:5 The love of God reaches its goal in us only when we love others as Christ has loved us. This means that we forgive them when they sin against us and pray for them when they sin, so they may be forgiven. perfected. See p 1903.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:6 abides. We are brought into Christ by God's work of faith in us when we are "born of God" by water and the Word of Christ. We remain in Christ also by God's grace as we trust His Word daily. See note, Jn 6:56. in the same way in which He walked. Walking and living in Christ's way means always speaking and living the truth in love and forgiving everyone. See note, 1:7.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:1–6 Only true children who know Jesus as their Savior can truly walk as Jesus walked and love one another as Jesus has loved them. If anyone claims to know Jesus and does not love as Jesus loves, he is a liar. When we are guilty of not loving as Jesus loved us, we have One who defends us before God's throne and petitions our pardon for the sake of His own blood—Jesus the Righteous One. Through His endless love and forgiveness, we have salvation and have come to know Him. In Him, we love our fellow Christians. • Father, strengthen me in my own salvation, that I might be empowered to keep Your commands and love everyone as Christ has loved me. Amen.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:7 no new commandment. This is the same command they have known since they were born of God, the same commandment God's people have always had through the enduring Word of God "from the beginning"—to love one another. See note, Jn 13:34.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:8 a new commandment. Our Lord's love for us has made the old commandment to "love your neighbor" (Lv 19:18) new and powerful. true in Him and in you. This new commandment is true in Jesus and in those who believe in Him. The beloved child, born of God, loves his brother because the love of Christ is at work in him. the darkness … the true light. Since Christ's death and resurrection, the old age of this corrupted world is running out. As the darkness passes, it does so in the light of His Gospel, which shines through His Word and Sacrament to a world lost in the darkness of this old age.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:9–11 "Hate" and "love" are a common word pair in human language. They are difficult emotions for sinners to handle. God calls us to love good and hate evil (cf Ps 45:7; Heb 1:9).

Popular sayings such as "Hate the sin, but love the sinner" try to express this thought, though the Scripture surprisingly warns, "You [God] hate all evildoers" (Ps 5:4–6). God is somehow able to hate the evildoer while also longing for his salvation (Jn 3:16; 2Pt 3:9). Among Christian brethren, hatred cannot prevail, because they share genuine love for the same heavenly Father.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:9 brother. Fellow believer. See p 1901.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:10 abides. See note, v 6. stumbling. In unbelief.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:11 To hate a brother is to walk in darkness and become unable to see the truth.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:12 little children. Refers to the state of all believers who enter the kingdom of God (cf Mt 18:4; Mk 10:15; Lk 18:17). See "The Church as Family," p 2170. for His name's sake. Through Christ's name come all His benefits. See p 842.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:13 fathers. The more mature, the teachers and leaders among them. you know Him. They were the first to know Christ. young men. The less mature who have no less overcome Satan through faith in Christ because they have been given spiritual victory and strength in Him. children. All who are born of God are given to know God as their Father, Jesus as their Savior, and the Spirit as their Comforter.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:13b–14 Essentially the same as vv 12–13a. Poetic and repetitious for emphasis.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:7–14 Jesus has shown us the love of God on the cross. This is the love the Law commanded but we could never fulfill. But more than that, it is the love that the Gospel imparts to those who love their brother and abide in the light so that there is in them nothing that would cause them to fall away from faith in Christ. The old commandment, "love your neighbor as yourself" (Lv 19:18), condemns us all, since we have not loved our neighbors as ourselves. The new commandment, "love one another as I have loved you" (Jn 15:12), is rooted in Jesus' work, which frees us from guilt. His atonement for our sins empowers us to love as He loves. • Grant, Lord, that we trust in You and Your love, that we may always love our neighbor. Amen.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:15 love the world. Affection for and the choosing of the sinful things of this world and this earthly life. See notes, Jn 1:10; 3:16. love of the Father is not in him. Those in whom God dwells love not the world that is passing away but the kingdom that is coming and the things of God.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:16 desires of the flesh … desires of the eyes … pride in possessions. The sinful human nature always seeks selfish things and is tempted to covet, abuse, and control all things. It finds false security in wealth and is proud of accumulated possessions that show off that wealth (cf Gn 3:6). not from the Father. God is not the source of sin, sinful desires, or the works of sin. Luth: "First, the lust of the flesh must be overcome, and this is done more easily. Second, and this is more difficult, the lust of the eyes, for it cannot be deserted all at once, like the first, but it fails gradually. Finally, the most difficult is the pride of life. It, too, is born of victory over vices. Therefore this is not overcome, though it be left desolate or fail, unless it perish altogether because of its iniquity. It is the most harmful kind of vice which unjustly divides between God's glory and self-confusion" (AE 10:429).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:17 passing away. Cf v 8. will of God. Cf Jn 6:40. abides forever. Lives forever with God in spirit now and on the Last Day by the resurrection of the body.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:15–17 Do not cling to this world and its desires; it will soon be over. Cling to Christ and live forever! Our sinful flesh and the world entice and tempt us with their glittering promises of wealth, power, popularity, and pleasure. But all that glitters is not gold, and none of it provides for forgiveness, peace, and contentment. Christ alone provides and offers forgiveness, peace, and contentment. • Father in heaven, do not let the desires of our sinful, selfish flesh reign over us. Fix our eyes on Your Son, our Savior, that we may ever believe in Him. Amen.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:18 last hour. The time prior to Christ's second coming (cf Ac 2:17), which has been and will be filled with the appearance of many false teachers who speak their falsehoods by the spirit of the antichrist (1Jn 4:3). The appearance of these false teachers, whom John calls "many antichrists," sets the stage for the coming of "the Antichrist," who will arise from within Christendom (2Th 2:1–11). Once he rises, then all will be fulfilled that Christ prophesied must take place before He appears on the Last Day. See note, 2Th 2:3; cf Rv 13. have heard. Jesus warned us about false shepherds, false prophets, and the one from whom all falsehood originates—the father of lies, the devil. antichrist … many antichrists. Lit, "instead of Christ" or "in place of Christ." There are as many different antichrists as there are different ways of opposing Christ. John is refuting one of these false versions of Christ in this Letter. See notes, 4:1–3.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:19 They. The antichrists, the false teachers John mentions also in v 26. went out from us. The false teachers could not abide in the apostles' teaching, the doctrine of Christ, so they left the Christian Church (cf 2Jn 7–11). they all are not of us. Not everyone who claims to be a Christian really is a Christian. When disagreements over doctrine arise and there is a division, those who cling to Christ's Word and teaching prove themselves to be genuine believers. Those who dispute Christ's teaching and attempt to alter it prove themselves to be false followers of the Lord. The apostle would rebuke them and put them out of the Christian fellowship, if they had not left of their own accord. The fact that they were willing to leave rather than confess the true teaching of Christ shows that they were not true Christians.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:20–25 There is one God who is Father, Son, and Spirit. Because there is "one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all" (Eph 4:5–6), it is necessary for salvation to believe what God's Word teaches concerning the Father, the Son, and the Spirit. One cannot have the Father without holding to the Son and also to the Spirit.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:20 anointed. As Son of God, Jesus was born of God from all eternity. He is God's Chosen One and was anointed with the Holy Spirit at His Baptism. See notes, 1Sm 10:1; Mk 1:10; cf Ac 10:38; Jn 1:32–33. So, each believer is anointed with the Holy Spirit at Baptism and is born of God. See note, Jn 3:5. Holy One. God's Holy One is God's Messiah, Jesus (cf 1Jn 4:14). knowledge. Fullness of the Gospel found in Jesus (cf 1:1–4).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:21 Because believers know the truth, they will be able to recognize the lies of the false teachers.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:22 Who is the liar. Cf Jn 8:44. These teachers spoke by the spirit of the Antichrist; ultimately, the voice of the devil. he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? Anyone who denies that Jesus Christ was born, lived, died, bodily rose, and physically ascended to the right hand of God the Father as the Son of Man and the Son of God. the antichrist. See note, v 18; cf 4:1–6.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:23 No one who denies the Son has the Father. One cannot have the Father except through the Son and by the Spirit. See note, vv 20–25. confesses the Son. Those who believe in Jesus and confess Him before the world display that they are born of God and of the one true faith. They have fellowship with God and with one another through the Son. See note, 1:3.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:24 Every Christian should abide in the Word of God. We must never advance beyond, but continue to grow in, the foundational truths of Christ crucified for the sins of the world and raised for our salvation.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:25 us. All who believe in Jesus Christ.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:26 those who are trying to deceive you. False teachers who are seeking to gather followers of their own.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:27 anointing. The Holy Spirit remains in believers. See note, v 20. no need. Those baptized into Christ have received the Holy Spirit through God's Word. They have no need for false teachers, who deny God the Father by denying His Son. The Spirit who accompanied Jesus is the same Spirit who remains in us. He always reminds us of our Lord's words to us. abide in Him. See note, v 28.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:18–27 True Christians abide in Christ through faith in Him and all His teachings. There are many antichrists, false teachers who infiltrate the Church and attempt to draw Christians away from the true Christ. There is great danger for us if we do not know the Scriptures well and are unable to recognize false teachers. In God's Word and by His Spirit, we have everything we need to tell the difference between the truth and a lie. We already have all that we need to be certain of our eternal life. • Heavenly Father, keep us steadfast in Your Word, and ever guard us from the deceptions of the many antichrists who seek to lead us away from Your Son, who is forever true God and true man. Amen.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:28–4:6 A second appeal for the congregations to examine their faith and practice. See note, 1:5–2:27.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:28 abide in Him. Remaining in Jesus through faith in Him and His Word.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:29 If a person believes that Jesus is without sin and that He fulfilled the whole Law and God's will for him, that believer will want to behave toward God and neighbor the way Jesus behaved. See "righteousness," p 1904. born of Him. We cannot begin to truly fear, love, and trust God or love our neighbor the way Jesus loved us unless we are first born of God (cf Jn 3:3–5).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:1 what kind of love. Quantity and quality of God's love. Despite all our iniquity, our selfishness and sinfulness, He has called us His own children through the waters of Baptism. This love God has lavished on us is unique because it is not what our corrupted, sinful nature deserves; it is not what our thoughts, words, and deeds have earned. and so we are. Believers are not just "named" children of God, but are actually reborn as His children, are actually "fathered" by God. This is no metaphor, for a new being is created (2Co 5:17). God promises that He has made us His children. Despite the lies, deceptions, and partial truths of the world, God has never lied to us, and He has never failed to do what He has promised. You can count on Him. does not know us … did not know Him. Believers, the children of God, possess eternal life now in time. Yet the corruption of our sin hides the glory that is already present in us. This glory is seen by faith. Although the world cannot see the glory of God in His children, the world does encounter the different lifestyles of believers. Often, the world hates believers. This hatred arises from the fact that a good life, when encountered, will always draw a comparison or judgment, confronting the world with how far it has fallen short.
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:2 You were a dying sinner before God called you His child in Baptism. When Christ comes in glory, He will reveal the glory that He has given to you now. Luth: "God is infinite, but we are finite creatures. Moreover, the creature will never be the Creator. Yet we shall be like Him. God is life. Therefore we, too, shall live. God is righteous. Therefore we, too, shall be filled with righteousness. God is immortal and blessed. Therefore we, too, shall enjoy everlasting bliss, not as it is in God but the bliss that is suitable for us" (AE 30:268).
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:3 hopes in Him. Our hope in Jesus is that we are no longer slaves to sin. purifies. Having been purified and made holy, and given the sure hope of eternal life, we seek that which is holy and right. Born of God, we are now free to serve our Savior.
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:4 practice of sinning. Only thing one can do prior to being born of God through faith in Christ. lawlessness. The sinner's natural orientation and inclination to hate God and violate His Law.
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:5 appeared. God the Son appeared in human flesh, lived a perfect and righteous life without sin, gave up His lifeblood in sacrifice to God to remove the guilt of our sins, and was raised from the dead so that we might know that the Father accepted Him as "the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world!" (Jn 1:29). in Him there is no sin. Cf Heb 4:15. For those who are in Christ by faith, God no longer counts their sin against them (Rm 8:1).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:6 keeps on sinning. A person who practices sin habitually is only a sinner and not a child of God. Such a person cannot know the love of God in Jesus. "If sin does what it wants, the Holy Spirit and faith are not present" (SA III III 44). seen Him or known Him. "See" and "know" are used to speak of believing in Christ. No sinner can see God directly (Jn 1:18). God can be "seen" and "known" only by faith in Jesus. In Jesus, we see and know God (Jn 14:6–10).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:7 let no one deceive you. There is no true Christian life without a complete break with the old life of sin. Those born of God deplore and reject their own sinfulness and daily repent of their sins. Christians are born with the desire to grow in the righteousness of Christ, which God has credited to them through faith in Jesus.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:8 of the devil … sinning from the beginning. Sin has its origin in the corruption of God's good creation of mankind by the work of the devil in deceiving Eve and tempting Adam to distrust God. Therefore, everyone who sins serves the devil and continues his evil work (cf Jn 8:34–47; Eph 2:1–3). "God is not a creator, author, or cause of sin. By the instigation of the devil through one man, sin (which is the devil's work) has entered the world" (FC SD I 7). Son of God appeared … to destroy the works of the devil. God the Son became flesh to take away sins and to purify us from the corruption of sin brought into the world through Adam by the devil. Ultimately, in the resurrection, He will rid of all sinfulness those who trust in Him. On the Last Day, He will bring all the devil's hateful work to nothing. Luth: "Here you have the fulfillment of the first sermon of the Gospel. The Seed of the woman had to be born to destroy the works of the devil (Gen. 3:15). Now He has appeared in the flesh and has destroyed them" (AE 30:272). "Just as the devil cannot be conquered except by Christ's help, so we cannot free ourselves from this slavery by our own strength. World history shows how great and powerful the devil's kingdom is. The world is full of blasphemies against God and wicked opinions. The devil keeps all tied up many hypocrites who appear holy and who are wise and righteous in the world's eyes. Even greater vices are seen in other people. Since Christ was given to us to remove both these sins and these punishments and to destroy the devil's kingdom, sin, and death [1 John 3:8], we will never be able to recognize Christ's benefits unless we understand our evils" (Ap II 48–50).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:9 God's seed. Jesus speaks of Himself as the seed that bears much fruit if it falls into the earth and dies (Jn 12:24). He also describes His Word as seed (Mt 13:19; Mk 4:14). Jesus is also the "seed" and the "living and abiding word" of 1Pt 1:23. The Gospel proclaims and delivers Jesus Himself, who remains in those who trust His promises. been born of God. See notes, 1Jn 2:29; 4:7; Jn 3:5. Bern: "Even tho they are seen to have sinned in time, their offenses do not appear in eternity, because the charity of their Father covers the multitude of sins" (WDC, p 174).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:10 evident. Jesus taught that people would recognize His followers by their love for one another (Jn 13:34–35). Despite any claim to Christ a person may make, the refusal to love other Christians marks him as a child of the devil. While this love is manifested most clearly in forgiving one another as Christ has forgiven us, it also insists on the true teaching (2:18–27; 4:1–6) because love "does not rejoice at wrongdoing, but rejoices with the truth" (1Co 13:6). Any who do not hold to the true teaching of Christ do not love their brothers. See p 1907.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2:28–3:10 False teachers and false believers had excuses and rationalizations for not showing true Christian love for the whole family of God. But Jesus taught, "You will recognize them by their fruits" (cf Mt 7:15–23). We are often tempted to rationalize and excuse our sin. But no one born of God wants to give in to sinning. Those who give themselves over to sin will not be exonerated by the excuses they put forward. Through daily repentance and the practice of righteousness, we show ourselves to be true children of God and will not be ashamed when our Lord Jesus appears on the Last Day. Then we will be like Him and see Him as He is in all His glory. • Heavenly Father, forgive my sinful excuses so I may remain in Christ through Your Word and love everyone as He has loved me. Amen.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:11 message. The teaching they received when they were taught of Christ, His salvation, and living in Christ. See notes, 2:7–8.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:12 like Cain. Cf Gn 4:1–12; see note, Heb 11:4. of the evil one. Cain showed that he was of the evil one because he hated his brother simply because Abel did what was good and right. See note, Gn 4:7. his own deeds were evil. Cain's sacrifice was not acceptable to God because it was made without faith. Jude 11 hints that Cain's offering was stingy because of greed. But since Cain was of the evil one, we also know that his works did not proceed from faith (cf Rm 14:23).
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:13 If we trust our Lord's teaching, we are not surprised that the world hates us. Our Lord Jesus told us ahead of time that the world would hate us because we do not belong to this world any more than He did. The world hated Jesus because His whole life testified that their deeds were evil (Jn 3:19–20; 7:7).
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:14 passed out of death into life. When we receive the gift of faith. Cf Eph 2:1, 5. because we love the brothers. Only those who have been born of God and therefore have true faith are able to love the brothers, for love is from God. abides in death. Those who have no genuine love are spiritually dead; i.e., they are unbelievers. "Love is a fruit that surely and necessarily also follows true faith. The fact that a person does not love is a sure sign that he is not justified. He is still in death or has lost the righteousness of faith again, as John says" (FC SD III 27).
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:15 According to Jesus, to hate a brother is to be guilty of the sin of murder and to be worthy of the fire of hell. Eternal life cannot remain in any who refuse to admit that they are murderers and repent of their hatred for their brothers.
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:16 Jesus showed God's love when He laid down His life for all people. So, as Jesus laid down His life for our salvation, Jesus wants us to use our lives—to lay down our lives—that our brothers and sisters might be blessed and saved. See note, Jn 15:13.
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:17 world's goods. Earthly goods that can be used to help a neighbor in need. closes his heart. He feels no compassion, but turns away from a brother in need even when he has the means to help him. Luth: "God is merciful. Yet He is not idle. He does not let sinners go unpunished. To the humble, who fear Him, He is merciful…. There are several degrees of love: an enemy must not be offended, a brother must be helped, a member of one's household must be supported. You know Christ's commandment concerning love for one's enemies. But you owe more to a brother who loves you in return" (AE 30:278).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:18 Love is prompted and proceeds from the truth and is carried out in actual deeds done for the benefit and blessing of another. Whatever tends to our brother's salvation is done "in truth." Luth: "To love a brother who is kind and pleasant in return—this is a trivial matter. This is the way the world also loves. 'The crowd judges friendships by their usefulness.' Accordingly, John does not say: 'Let us love those who are saintly, agreeable, and rich.' No, he says: 'Let us love the brethren,' in such a way that then nothing but the brotherhood is loved and regarded; for a brother is loved out of a sense of duty, not because of usefulness and not because of praise. All the gifts we have should serve those who do not have them. For example, he who is learned should serve him who is not learned; he who is rich should serve him who is poor; he who is sensible should serve him who is foolish, etc." (AE 30:278–79).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:19 reassure our heart. To love one another as Jesus loved us flows from genuine, saving faith. Believers are reassured as the Lord keeps His promises to bless them through His means of grace.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:20 The condemnation of the Law burdens a believer's conscience. God, who knows everything, gets the last word by affirming that on the cross Christ Jesus removed the guilt and condemnation of all.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:21 The Law always accuses, and the Gospel always pardons and comforts. After God has forgiven us all our sin because of Jesus and we have reassured ourselves with the promise that "God is greater than our heart" (v 20), then we have confidence before God to ask for anything.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:22 whatever we ask. According to His will and His Word. See note, Jas 4:3. pleases Him. Those who have been born of God can walk in the light through faith. Through this God-given faith, all one does is pleasing and perfect in Christ.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:23 believe in the name. To believe in God —Father, Son, and Holy Spirit—and all that He has done and still does to this day for salvation. See note, Php 2:11.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:24 abides in God, and God in him. There is a reciprocal indwelling between Jesus and all believers. See note, Rm 8:9. He has given us. All true believers receive Christ's Spirit at the time of their conversion. The Holy Spirit Himself grants us to know His Word and abiding presence.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3:11–3:24 Our heart condemns us when we look at our brother, see his needs, and yet excuse ourselves from acting in love. However, in Christ we know that we have passed out of death into life; that is, we have true saving faith, because we love our fellow Christians. Jesus laid down His life for us. His love for us has covered all our sins. God is greater than our heart, and His sure and certain promises of salvation give us confidence to come before Him. • Heavenly Father, forgive my lack of real love for my brothers and sisters, and enable me to love everyone as Jesus has loved me. Amen.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:1 do not believe every spirit. Cf 1Tm 4:1. A spirit is a creature without flesh and bones. There are faithful spirits (angels) that serve God and His elect, and there are rebellious spirits (demons) that Satan has disguised in his attempt to nullify the works of the Son of God in the lives of every person. Satan tried to stop Jesus but could not; now he is after those to whom Jesus would give eternal life. There is no neutral ground, and no mortal human being is independent—one either believes in and belongs to the Spirit of God or one believes in and belongs to Satan and speaks and lives accordingly. test the spirits. Examination of words and actions in light of the whole testimony of Scripture. Cf v 2; see notes, Dt 18:18; 1Co 14:29. Luth: "The emphasis is on the words 'test the spirits,' for with these words he touches their boasting as with a needle. It is as if he were saying: 'Those who boast of the Spirit will come to you. But test the spirits' " (AE 30:284). false prophets. Those who speak by the spirit of the Antichrist are doing the work of the jealous devil, who always tries to deceive man by counterfeiting the wonderful works of God.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:2 know the Spirit of God. No one can sincerely confess, "Jesus is Lord," except by the Holy Spirit. The triune God Himself provides the confession that this man, Jesus, is God Almighty (Mt 16:16–17; Jn 6:44). Jesus Christ has come in the flesh. To confess the man Jesus Christ as Lord and God in the flesh is the confession of all the apostolic eyewitnesses. The apostles saw, heard, and touched the resurrected Christ. See note, 1:1; cf Lk 24:39.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:3 Satan would draw us away from our true Savior, who suffered, bled, and died and still has the scars to prove it. All false christs have this in common: none of them come as God in the flesh of Jesus Christ (cf 2Jn 7–11). Hus: "Here the spirit is subtle and heretical, denying Jesus to be very God and very man" (The Church, p 91).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:4 overcome them. Through faith in Jesus (cf 5:4–5). He who is in you. Christ, who dwells within every believer. greater than he who is in the world. Satan usurped the dominion over the earth that God had entrusted to Adam in the beginning. But Christ's crucifixion and resurrection decisively overturned the dominion Satan usurped. He is very angry because he knows that his time is short (Rv 12:12). But Satan cannot harm those who have Christ dwelling in them through faith in Him (1Jn 5:18). Luth: " 'Christ is stronger; He has overcome, is overcoming, and will overcome that strong man in us (Luke 11:21–22).' Still the devil does sometimes overcome us in the flesh, in order that even in this way we may experience the power of the Stronger against that strong man and say with Paul (2 Cor. 12:10): 'When I am weak, then I am strong' " (AE 26:193).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:5 Unbelievers speak and do only what comes from unbelief (cf Jn 3:6).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:6 listens to us. All who are in fellowship with God recognize and listen to the true teaching of Christ when they hear it. spirit of error. Behind every false teaching and empty idol is a very real demon (cf 1Co 10:20).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:1–6 Whenever a teacher speaks of a "Christ" or a "Jesus" or a "God" who comes to us without human flesh, know this: it is a demon speaking through a man, a demon who is seeking to destroy both your faith and your soul everlastingly. "Whoever greets him takes part in his wicked works" (2Jn 11). Faith in the heart cannot be seen; it can only be shown through acts of love. The greatest testimony is the true flesh-and-blood testimony of God's love manifest in Jesus. • Lord, enable me to test all spirits for what they are and remain forever faithful in Him, the only God-man and Savior of the world. Amen.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:7–5:12 Final appeal for the congregations to examine their faith and practice. See note, 1:5–2:27.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:7 love is from God. Cf vv 8, 16. What the world considers love is actually selfish and self-centered, but all true love is from God. See p 1903. "Love" of sinful pleasures is misplaced affection, which corrupts what is good. E.g., it is natural to want to have a spouse and a family. But to steal someone else's spouse or family would be a perversion of a God-given desire. born of God. Only God can make Christians (cf Jn 1:12–13). One way this happens is through Baptism (see note, Jn 3:5). Another way is through the preaching of the Word of Christ. knows God. A sinner can know God only through faith in Jesus Christ.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:8 God's nature is turned toward and bound up in seeking, working, and being for the welfare and benefit of others—namely mankind. Love fittingly describes the nature of God; His love is revealed in the flesh and blood of Jesus Christ.
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:9 live through Him. Believers live through Jesus Christ, who died, rose, and ascended into heaven so that He might fill all heaven and earth (Eph 4:10). He is present with all believers through His chosen means of grace: His Word, Holy Baptism, and the Lord's Supper. The Word made flesh is our source of life, our mediator; we live only because of Him, as Jesus Himself taught (Jn 6:57).
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:10 We are saved not by our love for God but by the love of God for us in sending Christ to be the atoning sacrifice for our sins. Luth: "Provide yourselves with armor from Scripture concerning justification, which takes place through faith. Collect, I say, a number of Scripture passages that ascribe righteousness to God. Then, if you put your reliance on these passages, you will be able to stand even after a fall, as, for example, after acts of fornication, murder, and other sins" (AE 30:295). propitiation. See note, 2:2.
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:11 if God so loved us. Cf 3:1.
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:12 No one has ever seen God. No mortal sinner has ever seen God directly and fully. A sinner may see God only through faith in Jesus Christ. Just as we cannot see God except through faith in Jesus, so also we have no way of serving God except by loving our neighbor through faith in Jesus. abides in us. See note, Jn 6:56. perfected. God's love for us has achieved its purpose in us when it causes us to love others. As we love others, we know that God's love is remaining in us. See p 1903.
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:13–16 Highlights the works of the Holy Trinity for our salvation.
1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:13 given us of His Spirit. No one can have genuine faith in Jesus as the Savior of the world unless God's Spirit creates and sustains that faith. It is never a mere physiological brain activity or an act of our own will. Genuine saving faith in Jesus cannot exist without the testimony of God's Spirit. The apostles preached and recorded the Gospel by the power of Christ's Spirit, and we have received and believed the Gospel by the power of that same Spirit. See p 1815.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:14 we have seen and testify. See note, 1:1; cf Ac 1:8. Savior of the world. See note, 2:2; cf 1Tm 2:3–6.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:15 confesses. Confession of Jesus as God the Son is a fruit of true saving faith; not that we are saved by our confessing but that saving faith always desires to confess Jesus as the Son of God. No one with true faith wants to deny Jesus as God's only-begotten Son. Cf Mt 10:32–33; Lk 12:8–9; Rv 2:13. Son of God. Jesus is God's Son by nature, the Second Person of the Trinity (cf Jn 1:1).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:16 God is love. See note, v 7. abides. See note, 2:6. Luth: "These are simple words, but they are words that require faith in the highest degree—faith against which everything that is not of the Spirit of God fights. Conscience, the devil, hell, the judgment of God, and everything resist, in order that we may not believe that God is love but may believe that God is an Executioner and a Judge. By 'the world' I also understand the adversaries of the Word and the sects. Here, therefore, it is taught in brief that one must cling to faith against these assaults. Consequently, he who has a true knowledge of God abides in Christ, and God abides in him" (AE 30:301).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:17 love perfected. See note, 2:5. God's love for us in Christ has a purpose and a goal it wants to achieve in us. The goal of God's love is that we believe this so strongly that we have no fear of eternal punishment at all because God poured out His entire wrath against sin upon His Son, Jesus. God emptied all His wrath upon Jesus so that there is none left for us. day of judgment. The Last Day, when Jesus appears to judge the world. as He is so also are we. We are God's children by adoption, through faith in Jesus, who became our Brother so that we might be children of God. Every believer is, by God's grace, a perfect and righteous child of God and in this there is no fear of judgment.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:18 no fear in love. Love is the work and will of God and the fruit of faith in God for the salvation of every human. In this, there is no fear. perfect love casts out fear. Jesus is God's perfect love that has come to seek and to save, not to condemn. In Christ, God's love reaches its goal, i.e., love is perfected in us when we believe in Jesus and no longer fear that God might still be angry with us because of our sin. fear has to do with punishment. One experiences dread with the expectation of real consequences for what one has done wrong. In this life, believers are not free from sensations of guilt. They may hear that their sins are forgiven, yet still have the sensation of guilt, for each believer has a sinner alongside the saint within him. whoever fears has not been perfected in love. As long as a person gives himself up to fear of God's punishment, he is not relying on His Son completely for his salvation. Cf Lk 12:7, 32; Jn 12:15; Rv 1:17–18.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:19 All love comes from God, who is love for us and to us. We are able to love one another only because we have received love from Jesus, who loved us first. "Our love for God, even though it is small, cannot possibly be separated from faith. For we come to the Father through Christ. When forgiveness of sins has been received, then we are truly certain that we have a God [Exodus 20:3], that is, that God cares for us. We call upon Him, we give Him thanks, we fear Him, we love Him as 1 John 4:19 teaches…. We love Him because He gave His Son for us and forgave us our sins. In this way John shows that faith comes first and love follows" (Ap V 20).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:20 No one can see God (v 12). The real, tangible way to show love for God is by loving one's brother.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:21 Cf Jn 13:34.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4:7–21 As long as we remain in fellowship with the Father through faith, we love one another and have no fear of Judgment Day. Whenever we do not treat our brother with love as Jesus has loved us, we fear God's punishment. Because He sent His Son to take away our sins, we gain confidence to stand before God without fear. • Heavenly Father, I have not always loved my fellow Christians as I should. Forgive me and work Your love in me to cast out my fear of punishment. Amen.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:1 believes. Only those born of God are able to believe in Jesus as their Savior, true God and true man. See note, 4:7; cf Jn 3:3, 5. Jesus is the Christ. See note, Php 2:11. loves whoever has been born of Him. Since all believers are born of God, they are all one family of God. All who have fellowship with God by faith in Jesus also share in fellowship with one another.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:3 this is the love of God. The love of God is so powerful that it inspires and enables one to keep His Commandments. But only those who keep His Commandments by loving their brother truly walk in God's love. not burdensome. In contrast to the demands of the old covenant. With the Gospel, believers cannot help but love one another; it is what children of God naturally do.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:4 Believers may not feel like conquerors of the world, but, thankfully, overcoming the world depends not on our feelings or experiences but on our faith. Luth: "This must happen through faith in Christ, which is the victory. For what could this fragile vessel accomplish against Satan, the god of the world (2 Cor. 4:4)? But God is greater. He always triumphs in us through Christ (cf. 2 Cor. 2:14). Therefore all glory of victory must be ascribed to God Himself, not by any means to us. We are far too insignificant for this. Here, however, the Word of God is required—the Word which promises and extends grace to the believers, so that when they have been hurled into so many great trials and are weighed down under such great and crafty spirits, they nevertheless fight their way out and triumph. But to be born of God is to believe in Jesus Christ. He who believes in Christ is now a warrior…. For we are still engaged in the battle itself and are about to be victorious…. God has placed us in the midst of wolves, in the kingdom of the devil. As weapons He has given us His Word and Spirit, and He tells us to do battle and to conduct ourselves as bold warriors under Him Himself as our Prince while He Himself looks on and is also victorious" (AE 30:311).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:5 Victory belongs only to those who believe that Jesus is the divine Son of God. Hus: "Peter confessed Christ to be very God and very man [Mt 16:16]. And among all the articles of faith, this one appertains most to the edification of the Church" (The Church, p 84).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:1–5 The children of God bear the family traits of their Brother, Jesus. He has faith, love, and victory over the world. The world tempts us to think of our Lord's Commandments as a burden, too hard and too heavy for us to bear. The world seems too much for us to overcome. But our Lord Jesus has overcome the world for us. He has fulfilled all of God's Commandments for us. He made Himself our human Brother, that through Him we might become the children of His Father and share in His great family of love. • Father, let me live in Your love through believing that Jesus is the Christ, the divine Son of God. Amen.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:6 by water and blood. Refers to the testimony of Jesus' Baptism and crucifixion, which revealed the love of God and accomplished His will for the salvation of the world. the Spirit is the truth. Just as Jesus is the truth, so also His Holy Spirit is the truth. The Spirit testified at the Baptism of Jesus, marking Him as the Christ who was to come and the Son of God (Jn 1:29–34). The Holy Spirit reminds every believer of all that Jesus has said (Jn 14:26). The Holy Spirit always testifies to Jesus and glorifies Jesus and guides us into all truth (Jn 16:13–14). Luth: "The water of Baptism is sanctified through the blood of Christ. Therefore it is not plain water; it is water stained with blood because of this blood of Christ which is given to us through the Word, which brings with it the blood of Christ. And here we are said to be baptized through the blood of Christ, and thus we are cleansed from sins" (AE 30:314).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:7–8 The Holy Spirit, the water of Christ's Baptism, and the blood of His death on the cross all bear witness that this man, Jesus of Nazareth, is the Christ of Israel and the divine Son of God. See notes, Dt 17:6; Mt 18:16.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:8 Luth: "The water cannot be proclaimed without the blood. Nor is the blood of Christ given without the water of Baptism. Besides, the blood and the water do not come to us except at the instance of the Holy Spirit, who is in the Word. Therefore those three cannot be separated, but the three do one thing…. For these three constantly accompany one another, and through the Word a daily immersion and a perpetual Baptism takes place, a perpetual shedding of the blood of Christ and of the Holy Spirit, a continual cleansing from sins" (AE 30:315).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:9 God Himself testified to this man, Jesus of Nazareth (Mt 17:5; 2Pt 1:17).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:10 testimony in himself. God testifies within every believer to the truth of His Word concerning His Son. Whoever does not believe God has made Him a liar. Any and all who teach that Jesus is not always, and in all places, both God and man in one person are making God out to be a liar. See notes, 2:21–23; 4:1–6. "Absolution is the promise of the forgiveness of sins. Therefore, it necessarily requires faith…. If the heart doubts, it regards those things that God promises as uncertain and of no account" (Ap XIIA 61–62).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:11 the testimony. The message that God gives us eternal life in His Son, Jesus. life is in His Son. Only those who are in His Son through faith have eternal life. Cf Jn 3:18; 5:26; 6:53; 20:31. There is no life outside of this God-man, Jesus Christ.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:12 Whoever has the Son has life. We have the Son by believing all that God has testified concerning Him. This faith is not of ourselves; it is the gift of God (Eph 2:8–9). We possess the gift of eternal life now by believing in Jesus.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:6–12 The testimony of the apostles, the life of Jesus, and the work of the Spirit testify that God has given us life in His Son. This testimony is in stark contradiction to all who teach that God's Son did not suffer in the flesh or that He comes to us apart from the flesh of His humanity. • Heavenly Father, let us abide forever in Christ and never doubt the testimony You have given about Your beloved Son. Amen.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:13–21 Like the Gospel of John, this Letter closes with a statement of purpose (Jn 21:24–25).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:13 believe in the name. See note, 3:23. that you may know. Knowing this gives us confidence before God and boldness before men.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:14 according to His will. God knows how to give good gifts to His children (Lk 11:13). We do not always know what to ask, but His will is always for our salvation and for the salvation of all.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:15 God will give whatever we ask if it is good for our salvation and the salvation of our brother. This is esp true whenever we pray for others.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:16 sin not leading to death. Any unrepented sin can lead to death (cf v 17). But if a believer is open to repentance and to God's forgiveness, his sin will not lead to death. See note, 1:8. give him life. God will grant forgiveness of sins and life to the brother for whom we pray. Cf Jas 5:20. There is sin that leads to death. The idolatry of the false teachers (see notes, 2:19, 26). Misunderstanding of this passage led to a false teaching that there are seven deadly, or "mortal," sins (pride, covetousness, lust, envy, gluttony, anger, sloth) in contrast to "venial," or forgivable, sins. All sin is damnable. See notes, Mk 3:29–30; Rm 6:23. God forgives all who repent. See p 1907. I do not say that one should pray for that. If one refuses to repent and confess Jesus as the Christ and the Son of God, there is no point in asking God to forgive that person who stands condemned by his own stubborn unbelief and refusal of God's love (Jn 3:18, 36). See note, Jer 7:16; see also p 2181.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:17 All wrongdoing is sin. Any sin could lead to death if not for the Gospel, which is our victory over sin, death, and the world. The children of God repent of all sin. They hate their sin and the weakness of their flesh. But when believers fall into sin, they know that they have One who prays for them and offers forgiveness to them (2:1–2). Cf v 16.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:18 does not keep on sinning. See notes, 3:6, 9. he who was born of God protects him. If we abide in His Word, Jesus remains in us and guards us from the evil one, so that the devil cannot touch us. Jesus cast out demons simply by the power of His Word. Luth: "This is a strange thought. The same man sins, and at the same time he does not sin. It is here that those two statements of the apostle John are brought into harmony. The first is found in 1 John 1:8: 'If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves'; the second occurs in 1 John 3:9 and 5:18: 'No one born of God commits sin.' All the saints, therefore, have sin and are sinners; yet no one of them sins. They are righteous in accordance with the fact that grace has worked healing in them; they are sinners in accordance with the fact that they still must be healed" (AE 27:372).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:19 whole world lies. All unbelievers are under the dominion and control of Satan (Eph 2:1–3). But God has rescued us (Col 1:13; Ac 26:18).

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:20 given us understanding. Jesus gives understanding of the Scriptures. Jesus gives understanding to know God because He reveals God to us (Jn 1:18). Him who is true. Lit, "the genuine one"; i.e., Jesus, who is the true and genuine Christ and Savior (in contrast to the false christs taught by the spirit of the Antichrist). He is the true God. A clear statement that Jesus is divine and that eternal life is given through Him.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:21 keep yourselves from idols. The whole point of John's Letter. We have the genuine Christ and Savior by believing that Jesus is God the Son in the flesh. He is the true God and eternal life. Any teaching that presents Jesus as one who is not both true God and true man in one person actually presents an idol. Likewise, any teaching that denies that Jesus is the Savior of all mankind, purely by God's grace alone, also presents an idol. Cf Ac 15:20, 29; 21:25; Gal 5:19–20; 1Co 5:10; 6:9; Eph 5:5; Col 3:5.

1, 2, and 3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5:13–21 Knowing that we have eternal life in Jesus gives us confidence to ask for anything, and we can be certain that we shall receive what we ask according to God's will, especially when we pray for our brother for Jesus' sake. All wrongdoing is sin, and any sin could lead to death if not for the Righteous One, Jesus Christ, who cleanses us from all sin by His blood. Not only can we be confident of our own forgiveness in Him who is the genuine Savior and the true God, but we can also pray even for our brother who sins and be certain that God desires his repentance and life because of Jesus. • Son of God, protect us from the evil one, and keep us from every idol. Amen.

2 John

2 John 1

- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Greeting

1 [1]The elder to the elect lady and her children, whom I love in truth, and not only I, but also all who know the truth, [2]because of the truth that abides in us and will be with us forever:

[3]Grace, mercy, and peace will be with us, from God the Father and from Jesus Christ the Father's Son, in truth and love.

Walking in Truth and Love

4 I rejoiced greatly to find some of your children walking in the truth, just as we were commanded by the Father. 5 And now I ask you, dear lady—not as though I were writing you a new commandment, but the one we have had from the beginning—that we love one another. 6 And this is love, that we walk according to his commandments; this is the commandment, just as you have heard from the beginning, so that you should walk in it. 7 For many deceivers have gone out into the world, those who do not confess the coming of Jesus Christ in the flesh. Such a one is the deceiver and the antichrist. 8 Watch yourselves, so that you may not lose what we[1] have worked for, but may win a full reward. 9 Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. 10 If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, 11 for whoever greets him takes part in his wicked works.

Final Greetings

[12]Though I have much to write to you, I would rather not use paper and ink. Instead I hope to come to you and talk face to face, so that our joy may be complete.

[13]The children of your elect sister greet you.

2 John

For an introduction to 1, 2, and 3 John, see p 2169.

Footnotes

Footnotes for 2 John, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:8 Some manuscripts you

Study Notes

2 JOHN—NOTE ON 1–3 On apostolic greetings, see pp 1899–1901.
2 JOHN—NOTE ON 1 elder. Common title for the spiritual leaders of Christian congregations; used interchangeably with "overseer." See pp 228, 2170; see also note, Ti 1:5. John wrote as a pastor to his own congregation, even though, as an apostle, he was the highest authority for all the churches during his later years. Luth: " 'Elder' is 'presbyter' in Greek and is equivalent to 'priest.' So also Peter and John called themselves elders in their letters" (AE 10:19). See Tr 62. elect lady and her children. The Church is described as the chosen Bride of Christ (Eph 5:22–33; Rv 19:7; cf Gal 4:26). Here, a specific local congregation is intended (see note, 2Jn 13). elect. See "chosen," p 1901. know the truth. What John wrote was true because Jesus, who is "the truth," abides in it (v 2). Cf Jn 14:6.
2 JOHN—NOTE ON 3 will be with us. As long as Jesus abided with them. the Father's Son. Jesus is God the Father's Son. There were false teachers at this time who taught that Jesus was only the son of Joseph and Mary and not the Son of God. See pp 2169–70.
2 JOHN—NOTE ON 1–3 The apostle John and all who truly know Christ as the Father's Son in human flesh love one another in truth. False disciples refused to confess that Jesus was God in human flesh (1Jn 2:18–25; 4:1–6). They neither knew the truth nor loved the Christians to whom John wrote. Those who know Jesus know the truth and, along with Jesus, they have grace, mercy, and peace. • Heavenly Father, by Your own true Son, You have revealed the truth to us in love. Protect us from all who would take this truth and love from us by the deception of wise-sounding error. Keep us in Christ, who is the "way, and the truth, and the life" (Jn 14:6). Amen.
2 JOHN—NOTE ON 4 John received a good report about some of the congregation. He rejoiced that his recipients supported those who taught about Christ in truth. walking in the truth. Treating fellow Christians with brotherly love and supporting the preaching of the Gospel. See p 7.
2 JOHN—NOTE ON 6 this is love. Cf 1Jn 4:19; love known only through Christ's love for us. the beginning. From the time the recipients were first given the gift of faith in Jesus.

2 JOHN—NOTE ON 7 deceivers. See notes, 1Jn 4:1–6. not confess the coming. Not only do the deceivers deny the incarnation of the eternal Son of the Virgin Mary, but they also deny that Jesus Christ comes to us now through the Word and the Sacraments (means of grace) that Christ instituted. in the flesh. Ign: "They abstain from the Eucharist and from prayer, because they confess not the Eucharist to be the flesh of our Saviour Jesus Christ, which suffered for our sins, and which the Father, of His goodness, raised up again. Those, therefore, who speak against this gift of God, incur death in the midst of their disputes" (ANF 1:89). Luth: "I have also noticed that all error, heresy, idolatry, offense, misuse, and evil in the church originally came from despising or losing sight of this article of faith in Jesus Christ. And if one looks at it correctly and clearly, all heresies do contend against this dear article of Jesus Christ, as Simeon says of him, that he is 'set for the fall and rising of many in Israel, and for a sign that is spoken against' [Lk 2:34]…. For whatsoever stumbles, certainly stumbles on this stone, which lies in everyone's way and is rejected by the builders…. St. John also gives no other or more certain sign for recognizing false and anti-Christian spirits than their denial of Jesus Christ [II John 7]. They have all wanted to reap honor at his expense and have instead garnered shame from it" (AE 34:207–8).

2 JOHN—NOTE ON 8 what we have worked for. John and the other true Christian teachers spent their lives teaching the truth in Christ so that those who believe might remain faithful unto death and finally receive the crown of life eternal. John did not want his life's work undone by deceivers who would cause Christians to lose their reward. reward. See note, Mt 5:12.

2 JOHN—NOTE ON 9 goes on ahead. As Paul taught Christians "not to go beyond what is written" (1Co 4:6), John also taught that Christians were to remain in the apostolic teaching and not to invent or allow any new teachings. abide in the teaching of Christ. To remain faithful to His teaching was to remain in Christ Himself. See note, Jn 6:56. both the Father and the Son. The only way to God the Father was through Jesus Christ, God the Son. No one could have one without the other. See note, Jn 14:6.

2 JOHN—NOTE ON 10 this teaching. That Jesus Christ was God incarnate, true God and true man in one person. house. Early Christians often held worship services in their homes. See note, 1Co 14:23. any greeting. Christians were to avoid giving welcome or aid to anyone who taught contrary to Christ's teaching. A Christian was commanded to rebuke a false teacher and to warn others against their deceptions. Eus: "John, the disciple of the Lord, going to bathe in Ephesus and seeing Cerinthus within, ran out of the bath-house without bathing, crying, 'Let us flee, lest even the bath fall, because Cerinthus, the enemy of the truth, is within' " (NPNF 2 1:187). Luth: "We learn from all these sayings how the ban [from communion or congregation] should be used. First, we should seek neither vengeance nor our own gain—as is now the shameful custom everywhere—but rather the improvement of our neighbor. Second, punishment should stop short of his ruin or death, for St. Paul limits the goal of the ban to improvement, that he be put to shame because no one associates with him; and he adds in II Thessalonians 3[:15], 'Do not look on him as an enemy, but punish him as a brother.' At the present time, the ruthless tyrants deal with people as if they wished to cast them into hell, and do not seek their improvement at all" (AE 39:9).

2 JOHN—NOTE ON 11 Normal Christian hospitality could not be extended to false teachers without giving the impression that there was agreement with their false teachings, which could cause others to be deceived and to fall from their faith in Jesus. The doctrines that people were taught and believed were the difference between everlasting life and everlasting death.

2 JOHN—NOTE ON 4–11 We walk in love and truth only by remaining faithful to Christ's teaching that He is God in human flesh who came to save us. Those who depart from Christ's teaching do not have God the Son or the Father or eternal life. Those who support them share in their wicked work and will share in their punishment as well. Cling to the truth that Jesus still comes to us in human flesh so that you may walk in love and in truth. The Father, Son, and Holy Spirit are ever with you to care for you. • Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, You come to us as true God and true man through Your means of grace: the Gospel, Baptism, Your body and blood given for us Christians to eat and drink in Your Supper. Grant us faith to remain in this teaching and never depart from it or go beyond it by holding any other teaching or supporting those who do. Amen.

2 JOHN—NOTE ON 12 Communication would be better when face-to-face. Questions could be answered and clarifications given. our joy may be complete. When John would visit them, they would gain more understanding. Both John and his hearers would have certainty and joy that the truth had overcome the threat of deception. See note, Jn 15:11.

2 JOHN—NOTE ON 13 children. The members of the sister congregation in Ephesus from which John was writing. See pp 2169–70. elect. See "chosen," p 1901; cf v 1.

2 JOHN—NOTE ON 12–13 The apostle is planning to come and set straight all outstanding issues. Until then, the congregation has his warning and admonition to stand firm in the faith. You, too, have the apostle's testimony and all of Holy Scripture. Abide in God's revelation and beware of strange teachings that diminish the person and work of Jesus, who is your salvation and joy. • Lord, grant us to remain faithful to Your teaching. Protect us from deception, and grant us fellowship with all faithful sister congregations so that at Your coming our joy may be complete. Amen.

3 John

3 John 1

- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Greeting

1 [1]The elder to the beloved Gaius, whom I love in truth.

[2]Beloved, I pray that all may go well with you and that you may be in good health, as it goes well with your soul. [3]For I rejoiced greatly when the brothers[1] came and testified to your truth, as indeed you are walking in the truth. [4]I have no greater joy than to hear that my children are walking in the truth.

Support and Opposition

[5]Beloved, it is a faithful thing you do in all your efforts for these brothers, strangers as they are, [6]who testified to your love before the church. You will do well to send them on their journey in a manner worthy of God. [7]For they have gone out for the sake of the name, accepting nothing from the Gentiles. [8]Therefore we ought to support people like these, that we may be fellow workers for the truth.

[9]I have written something to the church, but Diotrephes, who likes to put himself first, does not acknowledge our authority. [10]So if I come, I will bring up what he is doing, talking wicked nonsense against us. And not content with that, he refuses to welcome the brothers, and also stops those who want to and puts them out of the church.

[11]Beloved, do not imitate evil but imitate good. Whoever does good is from God; whoever does evil has not seen God. [12]Demetrius has received a good testimony from everyone, and from the truth itself. We also add our testimony, and you know that our testimony is true.

Final Greetings

[13]I had much to write to you, but I would rather not write with pen and ink. [14]I hope to see you soon, and we will talk face to face.

[15]Peace be to you. The friends greet you. Greet the friends, every one of them.

3 John

For an introduction to 1, 2, and 3 John, see p 2169.

Footnotes

Footnotes for 3 John, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:3 Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated “brothers”) refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God’s family, the church; also verses 5, 10

Study Notes

3 JOHN—NOTE ON 1–4 On apostolic greetings, see pp 1899–1901.
3 JOHN—NOTE ON 1 elder. See note, 2Jn 1. Gaius. Possibly a leader in John's congregation or a faithful layman who gave hospitality to teachers who shared Christ's truth.
3 JOHN—NOTE ON 2 Christianity is not merely spiritual but is inclusive in its care for a person as a whole. John prayed that Gaius's physical health would be as strong as his spiritual health, which was very strong as witnessed by Gaius's walking in the truth.
3 JOHN—NOTE ON 3 brothers. Fellow Christians who brought this news to John. See p 1901. walking. The way Gaius conducted himself as a Christian; esp the love with which he treated all and the hospitality and support he showed for those who teach Christ purely. See p 7.
3 JOHN—NOTE ON 4 my children. Christians were John's children because, as an apostle of Jesus, he cared for them spiritually and was responsible for the safety of their faith, just as a father would look after his children. See pp 2169–70.
3 JOHN—NOTE ON 1–4 The apostle prays that Gaius might be physically as healthy as he is spiritually healthy. Our heavenly Father is on our side at all times, no matter what suffering we face. He sent Jesus as our great physician to heal us from sin and the afflictions we experience in a sin-broken world. He grants faith that is active in love for our brethren and for the truth. • Heavenly Father, grant that we may walk by faith in Jesus and in the truth of Your Word. Grant us great faith and bodily strength to serve our brothers and sisters in Christ. Amen.
3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5 Gaius had never met these brothers personally before they came to him the first time. But he recognized them as brothers in Christ because of the true teaching they brought. He treated them as brothers by supporting their work among all the churches.
3 JOHN—NOTE ON 6 the church. Likely in Ephesus, where the teachers could give a report of Gaius's love and support for their work. See pp 2169–70. their journey. Their travel to all the churches in Asia Minor and then back to Ephesus. a manner worthy of God. John expected Gaius to supply these teachers with food, money, or whatever they needed for their work and journey because they came not for their own benefit but to bring the Word of God to Gaius and his fellow Christians. Because these teachers are ambassadors of Christ, John is confident that Gaius will treat them with the honor that is due their Master, the Lord Jesus.

3 JOHN—NOTE ON 7 the name. Jesus' name, in whose name these teachers came and whose Word they preached and taught. the Gentiles. Here refers to unconverted people, non-Christians, from whom the teachers would accept no donations, lest any might think that money was their motivation for preaching. Their motivation is "for the sake of the name," the love of Christ for all.

3 JOHN—NOTE ON 8 Since Christian teachers could not accept any monetary help from pagans, they had to receive all of their support from fellow Christians. When they supported those who taught the truth, Christians were working for the truth of the Gospel. See note, Php 1:5.

3 JOHN—NOTE ON 9 church. The congregation where Diotrephes wanted to put himself first as supreme leader. Diotrephes. An egotistical leader. It is unknown whether he was a layman or a pastor. He had enough influence in the congregation to control their gatherings and to expel those who refused to do as he said. Cf v 10. put himself first. It was a matter of control and power for Diotrephes, who wanted to be absolute leader. our authority. Diotrephes did not accept the apostolic authority of John or the ambassadorial authority of those teachers who were sent to preach the truth in Christ's name. See pp 2169–70.

3 JOHN—NOTE ON 10 if I come. John intended to visit, but he always left the future in God's hands, even when making definite plans. wicked nonsense against us. We do not know what excuses Diotrephes used for resisting John's God-given authority or what he may have told his congregation as a reason to refuse to receive John's emissaries; his charges were false and empty. refuses to welcome. Apparently, Diotrephes did not want any of the brothers sent from John to teach in his congregation. Whether it was a disagreement over a specific point of doctrine or simply an issue of control, Diotrephes's dictatorial actions were not God-pleasing and caused harm in the congregation. brothers. The teachers sent from John. See note, v 5. puts them out. See note, v 9. Luth: "[A bishop] should listen and answer gently. He should advise prudently, he should not insist on his own way. He should use good common sense so that it will be a pleasure to behold it. He is not noisy. He is not rash. Everything is done with good common sense. philoxenos, hospitable. He is a cheerful host to brothers who come from everywhere—from churches in other places. He gives them food and drink; he washes their feet. Indeed, the bishop's home should be open to foreign brethren, but not to just any vagrant. At the time of the Roman Empire this was not so, and the political community of the Jews in a very fine way wrote letters of recommendation for their brethren. We read about this in John's last epistle" (AE 28:285).

3 JOHN—NOTE ON 11 do not imitate evil. Christians were not to use their influence or position to gain personal power in the congregation. The Church already has a supreme head, Christ. Believers serve Him and follow Him (cf Lk 22:24–27). good is from God. Cf Mk 10:18; Lk 18:19. not seen God. See note, 1Jn 3:6.

3 JOHN—NOTE ON 12 Demetrius. One of the teachers sent by John, probably the man entrusted to deliver this letter to Gaius. everyone. All the Christians with John, likely at Ephesus. the truth itself. Demetrius's teaching and actions were in accord with the Word of God, so the truth itself testified that Demetrius was genuine and could be trusted. We also add our testimony. There must be two or three witnesses for a testimony to stand (Dt 19:15; Mt 18:16; 2Co 13:1). The witnesses were (1) the church with John, (2) the truth of God's Word, and (3) the apostle John and his fellow elders.

3 JOHN—NOTE ON 5–12 Whatever flattery or intimidation people may use to get their way, there always comes a day when their works are brought into the open—when they will be shamed before God and His faithful. We need not fear the threats and plots of power mongers who conspire against us and would try to harm our reputations and have us cast out because we show love and support for God's ambassadors. God will bring their threats and accusations into the light. Trust the Lord to protect you when you support the truth. He will deliver you by His Son, who is "the way, and the truth, and the life" (Jn 14:6). • Heavenly Father, fill us with such love for Your ambassadors that we welcome and support all who testify to the truth. Give us courage to stand up against the plots of those who would harm our congregation. We have only one head, and He is Your Son, Christ Jesus, in whose name we pray. Amen.

3 JOHN—NOTE ON 13–14 Almost identical to 2Jn 12. This letter to Gaius and 2Jn may have been written together or about the same time.

3 JOHN—NOTE ON 14 I hope to see you soon. See note, v 10; cf Jas 4:13–16.

3 JOHN—NOTE ON 15 Peace. See pp 2099–2101. friends. Friends of Gaius in Ephesus. Greet the friends, every one of them. Lit, "Greet the friends by name." For early Christians, their baptismal name bore a special remembrance of God's grace. Such personal greetings would remind them that they were brothers and children of God by Baptism into Christ.

3 JOHN—NOTE ON 13–15 John gives Christ's blessing of peace and extends the greetings of all of Gaius's friends in Ephesus. John withholds all that he might say about Diotrephes until he meets with Gaius face-to-face. Today, when called upon to tell the truth in any controversial situation, you should exercise similar care and discretion. The peace with which the apostle John blesses Gaius is a peace that none can take away; it is peace not as the world gives, but only as Christ gives. • Heavenly Father, You called each one of us by name through Baptism into Your Son. Grant us the peace that passes all understanding, which is beyond the reach of men who put themselves first. Keep us in Christ's peace until the day when we have no more need for the Word of God on paper and in ink—for then we shall see Christ the Word face-to-face. Amen.

Jude

Jude 1

- Introduction to Jude
  - Overview
  - Reading Jude
  - Luther on Jude
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Greeting

1 [1]Jude, a servant[1] of Jesus Christ and brother of James,

To those who are called, beloved in God the Father and kept for[2] Jesus Christ:

[2]May mercy, peace, and love be multiplied to you.

Judgment on False Teachers

3 Beloved, although I was very eager to write to you about our common salvation, I found it necessary to write appealing to you to contend for the faith that was once for all delivered to the saints. 4 For certain people have crept in unnoticed who long ago were designated for this condemnation, ungodly people, who pervert the grace of our God into sensuality and deny our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.

5 Now I want to remind you, although you once fully knew it, that Jesus, who saved[3] a people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed those who did not believe. 6 And the angels who did not stay within their own position of authority, but left their proper dwelling, he has kept in eternal chains under gloomy darkness until the judgment of the great day— 7 just as Sodom and Gomorrah and the surrounding cities, which likewise indulged in sexual immorality and pursued unnatural desire,[1] serve as an example by undergoing a punishment of eternal fire.

8 Yet in like manner these people also, relying on their dreams, defile the flesh, reject authority, and blaspheme the glorious ones. 9 But when the archangel Michael, contending with the devil, was disputing about the body of Moses, he did not presume to pronounce a blasphemous judgment, but said, “The Lord rebuke you.” 10 But these people blaspheme all that they do not understand, and they are destroyed by all that they, like unreasoning animals, understand instinctively. 11 Woe to them! For they walked in the way of Cain and abandoned themselves for the sake of gain to Balaam’s error and perished in Korah’s rebellion. 12 These are hidden reefs[2] at your love feasts, as they feast with you without fear, shepherds feeding themselves; waterless clouds, swept along by winds; fruitless trees in late autumn, twice dead, uprooted; 13 wild waves of the sea, casting up the foam of their own shame; wandering stars, for whom the gloom of utter darkness has been reserved forever.

14 It was also about these that Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saying, “Behold, the Lord comes with ten thousands of his holy ones, 15 to execute judgment on all and to convict all the ungodly of all their deeds of ungodliness that they have committed in such an ungodly way, and of all the harsh things that ungodly sinners have spoken against him." [16]These are grumblers, malcontents, following their own sinful desires; they are loud-mouthed boasters, showing favoritism to gain advantage.

A Call to Persevere

17 But you must remember, beloved, the predictions of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ. 18 They[1] said to you, “In the last time there will be scoffers, following their own ungodly passions.” 19 It is these who cause divisions, worldly people, devoid of the Spirit. 20 But you, beloved, building yourselves up in your most holy faith and praying in the Holy Spirit, 21 keep yourselves in the love of God, waiting for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ that leads to eternal life. 22 And have mercy on those who doubt; 23 save others by snatching them out of the fire; to others show mercy with fear, hating even the garment[2] stained by the flesh.

Doxology

[24]Now to him who is able to keep you from stumbling and to present you blameless before the presence of his glory with great joy, [25]to the only God, our Savior, through Jesus Christ our Lord, be glory, majesty, dominion, and authority, before all time and now and forever. Amen.

Jude

OVERVIEW

Author
Jude

Date
c AD 68

Places
Egypt; Sodom and Gomorrah

People
Jude; James; false brothers and teachers; the apostles; doubters

Purpose
To warn fellow Christians about the dangers posed by the ungodly false teachers

Law Themes
The ungodly pervert God's grace; contend for the faith; God destroys unbelievers; blaspheming; eternal chains; gloomy darkness; stained by the flesh; judgment; eternal fire; way of Cain condemned

Gospel Themes
Called and beloved by God; peace; salvation; mercy of our Lord; present you blameless; God, our Savior

Memory Verse
Built up in the faith (vv 20–23)

Introduction to Jude

Reading Jude

The bull gored the earth with his horns and pawed the dust. The rider's presence infuriated him, but he could not drive the rider away. Though weary of the chase, the bull continued to snort and bellow, blowing froth from the corners of his mouth. He could not understand that the herdsman was simply there to check on the cattle and learn how the calves were doing.

Jude warns his fellow Christians that false teachers behave "like unreasoning animals" (v 10). They are instinctively driven to what is wrong and destructive. Jude uses numerous examples from the OT, Jewish literature, and the prophecies of the apostles to illustrate his warning. He admonishes his readers to rescue those entrapped by the ungodly (vv 22–23).

Luther on Jude

Reflecting on various statements from the Early Fathers, Luther concluded that St Jude did not write this letter. Many modern scholars would agree. However, one should note that Luther assumed the writer of Jude had copied 2 Peter. This is not necessarily the case (see “Relationship to Jude,” p 2160).

> Concerning the epistle of St. Jude, no one can deny that it is an extract or copy of St. Peter’s second epistle, so very like it are all the words. He also speaks of the apostles like a disciple who comes long after them [Jude 17] and cites sayings and incidents that are found nowhere else in the Scriptures [Jude 9, 14]. This moved the ancient fathers to exclude this epistle from the main body of the Scriptures. Moreover the Apostle Jude did not go to Greek-speaking lands, but to Persia, as it is said, so that he did not write Greek. Therefore, although I value this book, it is an epistle that need not be counted among the chief books which are supposed to lay the foundations of faith. (AE 35:397–98)

There is good reason to suppose that St Jude would have known Greek, which was commonly spoken in Judea and was also used in Persia.

For more of Luther's insights on this Book, see Sermons on the Epistle of St. Jude (AE 30:201–15).

Challenges for Readers

Authorship. The writer identifies himself as "a servant of Jesus Christ and brother of James" (v 1). The names "James" and "Jude" (Gk Judas) were common among first-century Jews. The writer of Jude is not an apostle, but an associate with them (v 17). Some early Christian writers associated the writer with the son of Mary and Joseph (cf Mt 13:55; Mk 6:3; 1Co 9:5), making him a half brother of Jesus. See pp 2130–32. This tradition has persisted despite ancient and modern skepticism, in part because no other good alternative suggestion exists.

Relationship to 2 Peter. As Luther points out, there is a definite relationship between Jude and 2Pt 2. However, it is not clear that Jude depended on 2 Peter. See "Relationship to Jude," p 2160. This relationship to 2 Peter suggests a similar date of composition.

Citation of Jewish Legends/Writings. See notes, vv 5–11; 8–9; 14–15.

Blessings for Readers

This short Letter is easy to overlook. Yet it contains important instruction that has always applied to Christians: false teachers are a constant threat. Jude will help you distinguish between false teachers, who are doomed to destruction, and wounded believers who are struggling with doubt and need fellow Christians to encourage them (vv 22–23).

OUTLINE

I. Greeting (vv 1–2)
II. Judgment on False Teachers (vv 3–16)
III. A Call to Persevere (vv 17–23)
IV. Closing Doxology (vv 24–25)

Articles and Resources Related to Jude

- Beware of False Teachers

Beware of False Teachers

"You're only in trouble if you get caught" is a popular saying heard in many different contexts. Teenagers often have this idea firmly in mind as they "try" something forbidden. News reports may leave us with the definite impression that some political figures or business tycoons live according to this principle. The idea of doing wrong without fear of punishment has always been popular among wrongdoers and despised by advocates of real justice. Jude responds to both groups with clear expressions of God's judgment against all wrongdoing. Though false teachers and lying prophets wrap themselves in the mantle of faithfulness and innocence, no one escapes the justice of God.

In so short a Letter, with only 25 verses, Jude cites nine different examples of God's judgment from the Old Testament! Read the chart below to learn how this teaching applies to your life.

The judgment of God against ungodliness is inescapable, but that is not His only judgment. God executed judgment against His own Son in our stead. The fact that God's judgment fell upon Christ as our substitute means that He can provide yet another judgment for those who are in Christ. God's Word connects us with Christ and judges us "not guilty." His Word generates a whole new being within us. This new being has a heart and mind like Christ.

Three times in his short Letter, Jude anticipates the glorious return of his brother Jesus (vv 14, 21, 24). Because of the new heart and life you have received, you, too, can joyfully anticipate Jesus' return. United with Christ in your Baptism, you have already passed through judgment and are living an eternal life. The ungodliness of your human nature is forgiven. The godliness that your Creator intended for you is present in your life by the work of the Holy Spirit through the Word. By the grace of God, everyone will get what they have coming. Those who are in Christ will receive the fulfillment of all the promises of God for life in this world and forever after.

Footnotes

Footnotes for Jude, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:1 Or slave; Greek bondservant
- [2] 1:1 Or by
- [3] 1:5 Some manuscripts although you fully knew it, that the Lord who once saved
- [1] 1:7 Greek other flesh
- [2] 1:12 Or are blemishes
- [1] 1:18 Or Christ, because they
- [2] 1:23 Greek chiton, a long garment worn under the cloak next to the skin

Study Notes

JUDE—NOTE ON 1–2 On greetings, see pp 1899–1901.
JUDE—NOTE ON 1 servant. Title among early Christians, esp leaders (see title for Jesus, v 4; see also p 1904). Many Romans regarded slavery as "living death." But slavery included a rescue from death, because it often began when a military commander did not kill persons captured in war but put them into service. Thus, "slave" also pointed to God's rescuing mercy. See p 101. brother of James. Early historians recorded that James and Jude were sons of Mary and Joseph, and half brothers of Jesus. See p 2134. called. The elect, called by God to faith and service. See p 1901. kept. For the day when Jesus returns to judge mankind and to gather His own people.
JUDE—NOTE ON 1–2 Despite the stumbling faith of Jude's readers, he begins with comfort and encouragement. He greets the whole congregation as God's chosen people, even though false teachers exist among them. Today, view and address your congregation as godly and beloved, even if troubled by divisions or false teachers. For the Lord has called them by the Gospel. • Lord, grant our congregations abundant mercy and peace; strengthen their service. Amen.
JUDE—NOTE ON 3 common salvation. Shared by all believers. necessary … to contend. Though Jude did not hunger for controversy, he was forced into it by his concern. the faith. Catechetical summaries of apostolic teaching (1Co 15:3–11) as well as the OT (cf Jude 9–11, 14). once for all delivered. Nothing will supersede this faith. To offer other doctrines is to offer falsehoods. Pol: "Forsaking the vanity of many, and their false doctrines, let us return to the word which has been handed down to us from the beginning" (ANF 1:34). saints. See p 1904. True saints of God expect no further revelation from God than what He has already delivered by His Son through the Holy Scriptures (Heb 1:1–2). Luth: "Wicked men will come, and they will not persevere. They always have this fault of teaching something different and new. A wicked spirit, not rooted in solid doctrine, causes this. It always looks for something new and a better doctrine" (AE 28:221). Luth: "We should labor over this faith and contend for it to the end. The flesh becomes sluggish; it sees to it that we forget the Word and grow tired of it. The bishop should not worry that he is often teaching the same thing…. [Paul] opposes diseases of doctrine; that is, doctrine should be right, stable, and constant…. Those who do not have a doctrine that is sure and constant do not teach" (AE 29:32).

JUDE—NOTE ON 4 certain people. Jude repeatedly describes this group as "ungodly." He implies that the readers recognize them. They profess to follow God but actually deny Him by their words and deeds. crept in unnoticed. Jude did not condemn the congregation(s) where the ungodly had hidden. designated for this condemnation. Long ago, the OT prophets warned of people who, perverting the truth, would suffer God's rejection. pervert … into sensuality. Not just sexual sins, but all corrupt desires, such as pride. Master. See note, v 1. Luth: " 'Now you have obtained freedom through Christ. That is, you are far above all laws, both in your own conscience and in the sight of God; you are blessed and saved; Christ is your life. Therefore even though the Law, sin, and death may frighten you, they can neither harm you nor cause you to despair. This is your brilliant and inestimable freedom. Now it is up to you to be diligently on your guard not to use your freedom as an opportunity for the flesh.' This evil is very widespread, and it is the worst of all the evils that Satan arouses against the teaching of faith: that in many people he soon transforms the freedom for which Christ has set us free into an opportunity for the flesh…. The flesh simply does not understand the teaching of grace, namely, that we are not justified by works but by faith alone, and that the Law has no jurisdiction over us. Therefore when it hears this teaching, it transforms it into licentiousness and immediately draws the inference: 'If we are without the Law, then let us live as we please. Let us not do good, let us not give to the needy; much less do we have to endure anything evil. For there is no Law to compel or bind us.' Thus there is a danger on both sides, although the one is more tolerable than the other. If grace or faith is not preached, no one is saved; for faith alone justifies and saves. On the other hand, if faith is preached, as it must be preached, the majority of men understand the teaching about faith in a fleshly way and transform the freedom of the spirit into the freedom of the flesh. This can be discerned today in all classes of society, both high and low. They all boast of being evangelicals and boast of Christian freedom. Meanwhile, however, they give in to their desires and turn to greed, sexual desire, pride, envy, etc." (AE 27:48).

JUDE—NOTE ON 3–4 Jude flatly condemns the activities of the ungodly, while gently rebuking the godly for tolerating them. He candidly points out that the Gospel itself is at risk for corruption. The Lord certainly calls us to work patiently with those who err. But we can never compromise the Gospel, which is the basis of our salvation. • Master and Lord, save us by Your pure grace alone, and make us diligent for the truth. Amen.

JUDE—NOTE ON 5–11 Series of OT examples bears strong resemblance to the list of examples in 2Pt 2. See "Relationship to Jude," p 2160.

JUDE—NOTE ON 5 you once fully knew. Influenced by false teachers, his readers forgot the basics. See note, 1Co 4:17. Jesus, who saved. Jude confesses Jesus' existence before the exodus and His role in that deliverance. destroyed. The unfaithful Israelites died in the wilderness and did not reach the Promised Land. Likewise, Christ's judgment would prevent the ungodly from reaching heaven.

JUDE—NOTE ON 6 angels … position of authority. Cf Eph 6:12; Rv 12:7–9. The fallen angels abused their offices. The tempting of Adam and Eve is a clear example. gloomy darkness. Hell is a prison where the light of Christ does not go (1Pt 3:19; Rv 20:7). God restrains the demons. See note, 2Pt 2:4. the great day. When Christ returns. See "day of the LORD," p 1079.

JUDE—NOTE ON 7 surrounding cities. God also destroyed Admah and Zeboim; He spared Zoar (Gn 19:22). unnatural desire. Background for the English term "sodomy"; cf Gn 19:4–11. See p 1911. eternal fire. The cities burned, but the people also went to everlasting punishment.

JUDE—NOTE ON 5–7 Jude refers the people back to their catechesis in the OT history of God's wrath and grace. Jesus Himself condemned the Israelites for their sins and also acted as their Savior. You never outgrow the catechism basics of Bible stories and Law and Gospel, by which the Lord grants constant blessings. • Jesus, You saved Israel from Egypt; save me from unbelief, and refresh me in the examples and blessings of Your Word. Amen.

JUDE—NOTE ON 8–16 Jude uses a series of comparisons to illustrate the corruption of the ungodly (v 4), who are dreamers (v 8). He cites two examples of popular Jewish legend against them (vv 9, 14–15), perhaps drawing on their own literature to condemn them. Jude's use of this literature does not mean he regarded it as equal to Holy Scriptures.

JUDE—NOTE ON 8–9 Jude relates a popular Jewish description of an angel contending with the devil over Moses' body. Such an account is recorded in the Assumption of Moses, which was perhaps written down in the early first century AD. Jude refers to this Jewish legend as well as accounts of Enoch (vv 14–15), which were probably sources of speculation and contention that disturbed the churches (1Tm 1:4; 4:7; 2Tm 4:4; Ti 1:14; 2Pt 1:16). Like the apostle Paul, Jude used examples from popular culture to illustrate his points (e.g., Ac 17:28). See note, v 8.

JUDE—NOTE ON 8 these people. Ungodly false teachers. reject authority … blaspheme. See note, 2Pt 2:10. glorious ones. Angels, messengers, and servants of God.

JUDE—NOTE ON 9 archangel. See note, 1Th 4:16. Michael. Hbr "who is like God?" He watched over Israel (Dn 10:21). body of Moses. The Lord was responsible for Moses' burial. Jude indicates that the agent for this work of God was Michael. blasphemous judgment. Jude's opponents may have used curses, such as ancient magical rites. See notes, Ac 19:13, 18; see also "curse," p 6. The Lord rebuke you. Even a powerful messenger like Michael appealed to the Lord.

JUDE—NOTE ON 10 blaspheme. See note, 2Pt 2:10. Sinful desires naturally led to self-destruction. The ungodly were in danger of being destroyed because they refused to admit their sins and repent.

JUDE—NOTE ON 11 way of Cain. Cain attacked and murdered his own brother out of jealousy. "As long as a person is not regenerate and guides himself according to the Law, he does the works because they are commanded. So from fear of punishment or desire for reward, he is still under the Law…. These are 'saints' after the order of Cain" (FC SD VI 16). Balaam's error. Balaam sought to gain financially by cursing Israel. Korah's rebellion. Korah refused to accept God's leadership through Moses and Aaron. Each OT example illustrates the behaviors of ungodly opponents who were apparently dividing the congregations to which Jude wrote.

JUDE—NOTE ON 12 These. The ungodly. love feasts. The Lord's Supper and attendant meal. See p 2230. shepherds feeding themselves. These ungodly shepherds did not accept the authority of God's shepherds, who faithfully taught His Word. late autumn, twice dead. Unfruitful and uprooted. They had passed the opportunity to produce righteousness or come to repentance (Heb 6:4–6).

JUDE—NOTE ON 13 wandering stars. A navigator gazing into the night sky in Jude's day would have known that some of the lights in the sky (the planets) were unreliable for navigation because these "stars" were constantly shifting their positions from day to day. See note, Jb 3:9. These false teachers were unreliable guides, constantly changing their teachings. gloom of utter darkness. See note, v 6.

JUDE—NOTE ON 14–15 Jude takes an example from Jewish tradition about the mysterious OT figure Enoch (see note, Gn 5:24). His quotation is from the book of 1 Enoch, an account of Enoch's teachings and activities. Like many of the Jewish pseudepigrapha, this book attempts to fill in details about an interesting biblical character. Portions of 1 Enoch were written in Aram as early as the second century BC, though they may have been written originally in Hbr and could be much older. Jude quotes 1 Enoch, a popularly known work, as an exemplary description of false teachers and the judgment they must face, much as preachers today cite popular writings for sermon illustrations.

JUDE—NOTE ON 14 Enoch, the seventh from Adam. Enoch's generation was the seventh recorded as coming from Adam, who counted as the first of the seven. the Lord comes. Enoch foresaw the Lord's coming to judge all.

JUDE—NOTE ON 15 judgment. When the Lord will give back to everyone according to their deeds. Faith's works show some have trusted in the Lord; unbelief's works show that others have not trusted the Lord. sinners have spoken. Jude emphasizes the imprudent words of his opponents (vv 9–10, 16). They blasphemed, grumbled, and boasted.

JUDE—NOTE ON 16 favoritism. They flattered people in order to gain their trust and support.

JUDE—NOTE ON 8–16 Jude mercilessly describes the sins of the ungodly without explicitly naming them or their group. He knows that the congregation will read his letter publicly, in the hearing of these false brothers. Jude apparently trusts that the congregation will take all necessary action to correct the problems. By not naming names, he leaves the congregation to work with individuals at its discretion. This will grant opportunity for confession and absolution. • Lord, You bear with my weaknesses patiently. Grant that I might also bear with my brethren, and may patient teaching lead to repentance those who call themselves brothers but act contrary to the Gospel. Amen.

JUDE—NOTE ON 17–18 predictions of the apostles. Esp in 2Pt. All the apostles warned of false teachers who would twist the Scriptures for their own agenda.

JUDE—NOTE ON 19 devoid of the Spirit. True Christians did not cause these divisions; false brothers did—unbelievers who were not guided by God's Holy Spirit.

JUDE—NOTE ON 20 most holy faith. The Christian faith is set apart from the world's unbelief. Such faith is not common to the world; it is holy. praying in the Holy Spirit. Praying according to God's Word, which the Spirit inspired. See note, Eph 6:18.
JUDE—NOTE ON 21 keep yourselves. Guard against false teaching that leads away from the love of God in our Savior.
JUDE—NOTE ON 22 those who doubt. All Christians might have questions (e.g., David asked questions in the Ps). They should be treated with patience so that faith might overcome their doubts.
JUDE—NOTE ON 23 out of the fire. All who commit sin are urged to repent so that they might receive forgiveness, lest they remain in the fire and lose their faith. garment stained by the flesh. Correcting one another must be done with fear, because all Christians are sinners, attracted to sin. Sin is not to be toyed with or dallied in. Unrepented sin is like a stain on our robe of righteousness, which we have from Christ. Only His blood can make it white again with His forgiveness. See notes, Gal 3:27; Rv 7:14.
JUDE—NOTE ON 17–23 Christians, who have the full salvation already delivered to them in Scripture, need not fall into deceptions. We have been warned about false teaching and the deception of sin that leads to death. Likewise, the Lord has taught us the path of righteousness by which His Spirit leads us in the Gospel of grace and peace. • Lord God, keep us in Your love and mercy in Christ until He comes to deliver us from all evil and bring us to everlasting life with You and Your Holy Spirit. Amen.
JUDE—NOTE ON 24 keep you from stumbling. Only God could keep them in the one true faith by the power of His Word. blameless. See note, Jb 1:1.
JUDE—NOTE ON 25 our Savior. The heavenly Father, who saved us through Christ. be glory. Praise for all that He has to save. See "glory," p 1902. dominion. The all-encompassing sphere of God's rule over all that exists. See p 1565–66.
JUDE—NOTE ON 24–25 Jude emphasizes that salvation is not based on our own reason or strength but is wholly the Father's work in Christ. As the Lord grants you opportunity, share the message of salvation with boldness, for it truly comes from the Lord and He truly works through that testimony, leading those who repent to great joy. • Lord, grant me present joy in my service and everlasting joy in the glories of heaven You prepared for me through Christ Jesus. Amen.

THE APOCALYPSE OF ST JOHN

The Book of Revelation

> When I saw him, I fell at his feet as though dead. But He laid His right hand on me, saying, "Fear not, I am the first and the last, and the living one. I died, and behold I am alive forevermore, and I have the keys of Death and Hades. Write therefore the things that you have seen, those that are and those that are to take place after this." (1:17–19)

The Book of Revelation is unique within the New Testament. Although features of Revelation are comparable to other New Testament Epistles (cf 1:4; 2–3; 22:21), on the whole the Book has a markedly different style, which requires special reflection and explanation.

A Startling Portrait

In 1890, artist Vincent van Gogh wrote his sister Wilhelmina that he would like to "paint portraits that become a revelation." The images he created startled and even repulsed those who first viewed them. For years, Van Gogh's work collected dust. During his life, he sold only one painting! He was regarded as an utter failure. Yet today his works sell for millions of dollars because no one painted like Van Gogh. Through intensely personal qualities, his works revealed this long-hidden artist.

The last Book of the Bible also startled and repulsed people who first read it. Whereas congregations immediately and universally accepted the Gospels as genuine portraits of Jesus, Christians needed time to see the value of Revelation. Some congregations in the Early Church would not include Revelation in their list of books to read during worship, even though John wrote Revelation for that specific purpose (cf 1:3; on authorship, see p 2196). Yet in time, Christians embraced this intense and dramatic portrait—a personal revelation—of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Apocalyptic Style

Perhaps the greatest reason people questioned the value and authenticity of Revelation came from its style, summarized by the Greek word apokalypsis, "to uncover or reveal." Authors like Ezekiel, Daniel, and Zechariah wrote in this way, rapidly recording what God revealed to them through heavenly visions. (See pp 1393–95.) But Revelation speaks with a new intensity. It contrasts with the apostle John's other reflective works in the New Testament. Like an excited artist capturing his subject through bold strokes and daubs, John moves the reader from vision to vision, describing heaven's brilliant colors and the devil's dark deeds. Revelation describes life not as we see it with physical eyes but as God sees it and shows it to His trembling disciple.

As you study Revelation, do not let the drama or colorful descriptions distract you from the artist's real subject: Jesus. John knew Jesus of Nazareth in weakness, when He walked the dusty roads of Galilee and suffered betrayal and crucifixion. That is what John describes in his Gospel. In Revelation, John shows how Jesus now reigns in eternal splendor. He shows that even though Jesus now enjoys the full restoration of His glory, His thoughts and plans focus here on earth with you.

Articles and Resources Related to the book of Relevation

- Revelation's Colorful Character

Revelation

Revelation 1 | Revelation 2 | Revelation 3 | Revelation 4 | Revelation 5 | Revelation 6 | Revelation 7 | Revelation 8 | Revelation 9 | Revelation 10 | Revelation 11 | Revelation 12 | Revelation 13 | Revelation 14 | Revelation 15 | Revelation 16 | Revelation 17 | Revelation 18 | Revelation 19 | Revelation 20 | Revelation 21 | Revelation 22

- Introduction to Revelation
  - Overview
  - Reading Revelation
  - Luther on Revelation
  - Challenges for Readers
  - Blessings for Readers
  - Outline
- Footnotes
- Study Notes

Prologue

1 [1]†† The revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave him to show to his servants[1] the things that must soon take place. He made it known by sending his angel to his servant[2] John, [2]† who bore witness to the word of God and to the testimony of Jesus Christ, even to all that he saw. [3]† Blessed is the one who reads aloud the words of this prophecy, and blessed are those who hear, and who keep what is written in it, for the time is near.

Greeting to the Seven Churches

4 †††John to the seven churches that are in Asia:

Grace to you and peace from him who is and who was and who is to come, and from the seven spirits who are before his throne, 5 † and from Jesus Christ the faithful witness, the firstborn of the dead, and the ruler of kings on earth.

To him who loves us and has freed us from our sins by his blood 6 † and made us a kingdom, priests to his God and Father, to him be glory and dominion forever and ever. Amen. 7 † Behold, he is coming with the clouds, and every eye will see him, even those who pierced him, and all tribes of the earth will wail[3] on account of him. Even so. Amen.

8 † "I am the Alpha and the Omega," says the Lord God, "who is and who was and who is to come, the Almighty."

Vision of the Son of Man

9 †‡†I, John, your brother and partner in the tribulation and the kingdom and the patient endurance that are in Jesus, was on the island called Patmos on account of the word of God and the testimony of Jesus. 10 †I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and I heard behind me a loud voice like a trumpet 11 †saying, "Write what you see in a book and send it to the seven churches, to Ephesus and to Smyrna and to Pergamum and to Thyatira and to Sardis and to Philadelphia and to Laodicea." 12 †Then I turned to see the voice that was speaking to me, and on turning
I saw seven golden lampstands, 13 ‡and in the midst of the lampstands one like a son of man, clothed with a long robe and with a golden sash around his chest. 14 The hairs of his head were white, like white wool, like snow. His eyes were like a flame of fire, 15 his feet were like burnished bronze, refined in a furnace, and his voice was like the roar of many waters. 16 †In his right hand he held seven stars, from his mouth came a sharp two-edged sword, and his face was like the sun shining in full strength.
17 †When I saw him, I fell at his feet as though dead. But he laid his right hand on me, saying, "Fear not, I am the first and the last, 18 †and the living one. I died, and behold I am alive forevermore, and I have the keys of Death and Hades. 19 †Write therefore the things that you have seen, those that are and those that are to take place after this. 20 †As for the mystery of the seven stars that you saw in my right hand, and the seven golden lampstands, the seven stars are the angels of the seven churches, and the seven lampstands are the seven churches.

To the Church in Ephesus

2 [1]†† “To the angel of the church in Ephesus write: ‘The words of him who holds the seven stars in his right hand, who walks among the seven golden lampstands.
[2]† “‘I know your works, your toil and your patient endurance, and how you cannot bear with those who are evil, but have tested those who call themselves apostles and are not, and found them to be false. [3]†I know you are enduring patiently and bearing up for my name’s sake, and you have not grown weary. [4]†But I have this against you, that you have abandoned the love you had at first. [5]†Remember therefore from where you have fallen; repent, and do the works you did at first. If not, I will come to you and remove your lampstand from its place, unless you repent. [6]†Yet this you have: you hate the works of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate. [7]†He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To the one who conquers I will grant to eat of the tree of life, which is in the paradise of God.’

To the Church in Smyrna

8 ✝✝“And to the angel of the church in Smyrna write: ‘The words of the first and the last, who died and came to life.
9 ✝“‘I know your tribulation and your poverty (but you are rich) and the slander[1] of those who say that they are Jews and are not, but are a synagogue of Satan. 10 ✝Do not fear what you are about to suffer. Behold, the devil is about to throw some of you into prison, that you may be tested, and for ten days you will have tribulation. Be faithful unto death, and I will give you the crown of life. 11 ✝He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. The one who conquers will not be hurt by the second death.’

To the Church in Pergamum

12 ‡ † “And to the angel of the church in Pergamum write: ‘The words of him who has the sharp two-edged sword.
13 † “‘I know where you dwell, where Satan’s throne is. Yet you hold fast my name, and you did not deny my faith[2] even in the days of Antipas my faithful witness, who was killed among you, where Satan dwells. 14 † But I have a few things against you: you have some there who hold the teaching of Balaam, who taught Balak to put a stumbling block before the sons of Israel, so that they might eat food sacrificed to idols and practice sexual immorality. 15 † So also you have some who hold the teaching of the Nicolaitans. 16 † Therefore repent. If not, I will come to you soon and war against them with the sword of my mouth. 17 † He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To the one who conquers I will give some of the hidden manna, and I will give him a white stone, with a new name written on the stone that no one knows except the one who receives it.’

To the Church in Thyatira

18 ‡† “And to the angel of the church in Thyatira write: ‘The words of the Son of God, who has eyes like a flame of fire, and whose feet are like burnished bronze.
19 † “‘I know your works, your love and faith and service and patient endurance, and that your latter works exceed the first. 20 †But I have this against you, that you tolerate that woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess and is teaching and seducing my servants[1] to practice sexual immorality and to eat food sacrificed to idols. 21 †I gave her time to repent, but she refuses to repent of her sexual immorality. 22 †Behold, I will throw her onto a sickbed, and those who commit adultery with her I will throw into great tribulation, unless they repent of her works, 23 †and I will strike her children dead. And all the churches will know that I am he who searches mind and heart, and I will give to each of you according to your works.
24 †But to the rest of you in Thyatira, who do not hold this teaching, who have not learned what some call the deep things of Satan, to you I say, I do not lay on you any other burden. 25 ‡Only hold fast what you have until I come. 26 The one who conquers and who keeps my works until the end, to him I will give authority over the nations, 27 †and he will rule them with a rod of iron, as when earthen pots are broken in pieces, even as I myself have received authority from my Father. 28 †And I will give him the morning star. 29 † He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.’

To the Church in Sardis

3 [1]‡†“And to the angel of the church in Sardis write: ‘The words of him who has the seven spirits of God and the seven stars.

“‘I know your works. You have the reputation of being alive, but you are dead. [2]†Wake up, and strengthen what remains and is about to die, for I have not found your works complete in the sight of my God. [3]†Remember, then, what you received and heard. Keep it, and repent. If you will not wake up, I will come like a thief, and you will not know at what hour I will come against you. [4]†Yet you have still a few names in Sardis, people who have not soiled their garments, and they will walk with me in white, for they are worthy. [5]†The one who conquers will be clothed thus in white garments, and I will never blot his name out of the book of life. I will confess his name before my Father and before his angels. [6]†He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.’

To the Church in Philadelphia

7 ††"And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write: 'The words of the holy one, the true one, who has the key of David, who opens and no one will shut, who shuts and no one opens.
8 †" 'I know your works. Behold, I have set before you an open door, which no one is able to shut. I know that you have but little power, and yet you have kept my word and have not denied my name. 9 †Behold, I will make those of the synagogue of Satan who say that they are Jews and are not, but lie—behold, I will make them come and bow down before your feet and they will learn that I have loved you. 10 †Because you have kept my word about patient endurance, I will keep you from the hour of trial that is coming on the whole world, to try those who dwell on the earth. 11 †I am coming soon. Hold fast what you have, so that no one may seize your crown. 12 †The one who conquers, I will make him a pillar in the temple of my God. Never shall he go out of it, and I will write on him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem, which comes down from my God out of heaven, and my own new name. 13 †He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.'

To the Church in Laodicea

14 ††“And to the angel of the church in Laodicea write: ‘The words of the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of God’s creation.
15 †“‘I know your works: you are neither cold nor hot. Would that you were either cold or hot! 16 †So, because you are lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spit you out of my mouth. 17 †For you say, I am rich, I have prospered, and I need nothing, not realizing that you are wretched, pitiable, poor, blind, and naked. 18 †I counsel you to buy from me gold refined by fire, so that you may be rich, and white garments so that you may clothe yourself and the shame of your nakedness may not be seen, and salve to anoint your eyes, so that you may see. 19 †Those whom I love, I reprove and discipline, so be zealous and repent. 20 †Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and eat with him, and he with me. 21 †The one who conquers, I will grant him to sit with me on my throne, as I also conquered and sat down with my Father on his throne. 22 †He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.’”

The Throne in Heaven

4 [1]†After this I looked, and behold, a door standing open in heaven! And the first voice, which I had heard speaking to me like a trumpet, said, "Come up here, and I will show you what must take place after this." [2]†At once I was in the Spirit, and behold, a throne stood in heaven, with one seated on the throne. [3]†And he who sat there had the appearance of jasper and carnelian, and around the throne was a rainbow that had the appearance of an emerald. [4]†Around the throne were twenty-four thrones, and seated on the thrones were twenty-four elders, clothed in white garments, with golden crowns on their heads. [5]†From the throne came flashes of lightning, and rumblings[1] and peals of thunder, and before the throne were burning seven torches of fire, which are the seven spirits of God, [6]†and before the throne there was as it were a sea of glass, like crystal.

And around the throne, on each side of the throne, are four living creatures, full of eyes in front and behind: [7]the first living creature like a lion, the second living creature like an ox, the third living creature with the face of a man, and the fourth living creature like an eagle in flight. [8]†And the four living creatures, each of them with six wings, are full of eyes all around and within, and day and night they never cease to say,

"Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord God Almighty, who was and is and is to come!"

[9]†And whenever the living creatures give glory and honor and thanks to him who is seated on the throne, who lives forever and ever, [10]†the twenty-four elders fall down before him who is seated on the throne and worship him who lives forever and ever. They cast their crowns before the throne, saying,

[11]† "Worthy are you, our Lord and God, to receive glory and honor and power,
for you created all things, and by your will they existed and were created.”

The Scroll and the Lamb

5 [1]†Then I saw in the right hand of him who was seated on the throne a scroll written within and on the back, sealed with seven seals. [2]†And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice, "Who is worthy to open the scroll and break its seals?" [3]And no one in heaven or on earth or under the earth was able to open the scroll or to look into it, [4]and I began to weep loudly because no one was found worthy to open the scroll or to look into
it. [5]†And one of the elders said to me, "Weep no more; behold, the Lion of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has conquered, so that he can open the scroll and its seven seals."

[6]†And between the throne and the four living creatures and among the elders I saw a Lamb standing, as though it had been slain, with seven horns and with seven eyes, which are the seven spirits of God sent out into all the earth. [7]†And he went and took the scroll from the right hand of him who was seated on the throne. [8]†And when he had taken the scroll, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb, each holding a harp, and golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints. [9]†And they sang a new song, saying,

> "Worthy are you to take the scroll > and to open its seals, > for you were slain, and by your blood you > ransomed people for God > from every tribe and language and people > and nation,
> [10]† and you have made them a kingdom and > priests to our God, > and they shall reign on the earth."

[11]†Then I looked, and I heard around the throne and the living creatures and the elders the voice of many angels, numbering myriads of myriads and thousands of thousands, [12]†saying with a loud voice, "Worthy is the Lamb who was slain, to receive power and wealth and wisdom and might and honor and glory and blessing!” [13]†And I heard every creature in heaven and on earth and under the earth and in the sea, and all that is in them, saying, “To him who sits on the throne and to the Lamb be blessing and honor and glory and might forever and ever!” [14]†And the four living creatures said, “Amen!” and the elders fell down and worshiped.

The Seven Seals

6 [1]‡†Now I watched when the Lamb opened one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures say with a voice like thunder, “Come!” [2]†And I looked, and behold, a white horse! And its rider had a bow, and a crown was given to him, and he came out conquering, and to conquer.

[3]†When he opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature say, “Come!” [4]†And out came another horse, bright red. Its rider was permitted to take peace from the earth, so that people should slay one another, and he was given a great sword.

[5]†When he opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature say, “Come!” And I looked, and behold, a black horse! And its rider had a pair of scales in his hand. [6]†And I heard what seemed to be a voice in the midst of the four living creatures, saying, “A quart[1] of wheat for a denarius,[2] and three quarts of barley for a denarius, and do not harm the oil and wine!”

[7]When he opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature say, “Come!” [8]†And I looked, and behold, a pale horse! And its rider’s name was Death, and Hades followed him. And they were given authority over a fourth of the earth, to kill with sword and with famine and with pestilence and by wild beasts of the earth.

[9]†When he opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of those who had been slain for the word of God and for the witness they had borne.
[10]†They cried out with a loud voice, “O Sovereign Lord, holy and true, how long before you will judge and avenge our blood on those who dwell on the earth?” [11]†Then they were each given a white robe and told to rest a little longer, until the number of their fellow servants[1] and their brothers[2] should be complete, who were to be killed as they themselves had been.

[12]†When he opened the sixth seal, I looked, and behold, there was a great earthquake, and the sun became black as sackcloth, the full moon became like blood, [13]†and the stars of the sky fell to the earth as the fig tree sheds its winter fruit when shaken by a gale. [14]†The sky vanished like a scroll that is being rolled up, and every mountain and island was removed from its place.

15 † Then the kings of the earth and the great ones and the generals and the rich and the powerful, and everyone, slave[3] and free, hid themselves in the caves and among the rocks of the mountains, 16 † calling to the mountains and rocks, “Fall on us and hide us from the face of him who is seated on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb, 17 † for the great day of their wrath has come, and who can stand?”

The 144,000 of Israel Sealed

7 [1] After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding back the four winds of the earth, that no wind might blow on earth or sea or against any tree. [2] Then I saw another angel ascending from the rising of the sun, with the seal of the living God, and he called with a loud voice to the four angels who had been given power to harm earth and sea, [3] saying, "Do not harm the earth or the sea or the trees, until we have sealed the servants[4] of our God on their foreheads." [4] And I heard the number of the sealed, 144,000, sealed from every tribe of the sons of Israel:

[5] 12,000 from the tribe of Judah were sealed,
12,000 from the tribe of Reuben,
12,000 from the tribe of Gad,
[6] 12,000 from the tribe of Asher,
12,000 from the tribe of Naphtali,
12,000 from the tribe of Manasseh,
[7] 12,000 from the tribe of Simeon,
12,000 from the tribe of Levi,
12,000 from the tribe of Issachar,
[8] 12,000 from the tribe of Zebulun,
12,000 from the tribe of Joseph, 12,000 from the tribe of Benjamin were sealed.

A Great Multitude from Every Nation

9 After this I looked, and behold, a great multitude that no one could number, from every nation, from all tribes and peoples and languages, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, clothed in white robes, with palm branches in their hands, 10 and crying out with a loud voice,
"Salvation belongs to our God who sits on the throne, and to the Lamb!"
11 And all the angels were standing around the throne and around the elders and the four living creatures, and they fell on their faces before the throne and worshiped God, 12 saying, "Amen! Blessing and glory and wisdom and thanksgiving and honor and power and might be to our God forever and ever! Amen."

13 Then one of the elders addressed me, saying, "Who are these, clothed in white robes, and from where have they come?" 14 I said to him, "Sir, you know." And he said to me, "These are the ones coming out of the great tribulation. They have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

15 "Therefore they are before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple;
and he who sits on the throne will shelter them with his presence.
16 They shall hunger no more, neither thirst anymore;
the sun shall not strike them,
nor any scorching heat.
17 For the Lamb in the midst of the throne will be their shepherd, and he will guide them to springs of living water,
and God will wipe away every tear from their eyes."

The Seventh Seal and the Golden Censer

8 [1] †† When the Lamb opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven for about half an hour. [2] † Then I saw the seven angels who stand before God, and seven trumpets were given to them. [3] † And another angel came and stood at the altar with a golden censer, and he was given much incense to offer with the prayers of all the saints on the golden altar before the throne, [4] and the smoke of the incense, with the prayers of the saints, rose before God from the hand of the angel. [5] † Then the angel took the censer and filled it with fire from the altar and threw it on the earth, and there were peals of thunder, rumblings,[1] flashes of lightning, and an earthquake.

The Seven Trumpets

6 ‡‡†Now the seven angels who had the seven trumpets prepared to blow them.
7 †The first angel blew his trumpet, and there followed hail and fire, mixed with blood, and these were thrown upon the earth. And a third of the earth was burned up, and a third of the trees were burned up, and all green grass was burned up.
8 ‡The second angel blew his trumpet, and something like a great mountain, burning with fire, was thrown into the sea, and a third of the sea became blood. 9A third of the living creatures in the sea died, and a third of the ships were destroyed.
10 †The third angel blew his trumpet, and a great star fell from heaven, blazing like a torch, and it fell on a third of the rivers and on the springs of water. 11 †The name of the star is Wormwood.[2] A third of the waters became wormwood, and many people died from the water, because it had been made bitter.
12 †The fourth angel blew his trumpet, and a third of the sun was struck, and a third of the moon, and a third of the stars, so that a third of their light might be darkened, and a third of the day might be kept from shining, and likewise a third of the night.
13 †Then I looked, and I heard an eagle crying with a loud voice as it flew directly overhead, “Woe, woe, woe to those who dwell on the earth, at the blasts of the other trumpets that the three angels are about to blow!”

9 1 †And the fifth angel blew his trumpet, and I saw a star fallen from heaven to earth, and he was given the key to the shaft of the bottomless pit.
[3] 2 †He opened the shaft of the bottomless pit, and from the shaft rose smoke like the smoke of a great furnace, and the sun and the air were darkened with the smoke from the shaft. 3 †Then from the smoke came locusts on the earth, and they were given power like the power of scorpions of the earth. 4 †They were told not to harm the grass of the earth or any green plant or any tree, but only those people who do not have the seal of God on their foreheads. 5 †They were allowed to torment them for five months, but not to kill them, and their torment was like the torment of a scorpion when it stings someone. 6 †And in those days people will seek death and will not find it. They will long to die, but death will flee from them.

7 †In appearance the locusts were like horses prepared for battle: on their heads were what looked like crowns of gold; their faces were like human faces, 8 their hair like women's hair, and their teeth like lions' teeth; 9 they had breastplates like breastplates of iron, and the noise of their wings was like the noise of many chariots with horses rushing into battle. 10 †They have tails and stings like scorpions, and their power to hurt people for five months is in their tails. 11 †They have as king over them the angel of the bottomless pit. His name in Hebrew is Abaddon, and in Greek he is called Apollyon.[1]
12 The first woe has passed; behold, two woes are still to come.
13 †Then the sixth angel blew his trumpet, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar before God, 14 †saying to the sixth angel who had the trumpet, "Release the four angels who are bound at the great river Euphrates." 15 †So the four angels, who had been prepared for the hour, the day, the month, and the year, were released to kill a third of mankind.
16 †The number of mounted troops was twice ten thousand times ten thousand; I heard their number. 17 †And this is how I saw the horses in my vision and those who rode them: they wore breastplates the color of fire and of sapphire[2] and of sulfur, and the heads of the horses were like lions' heads, and fire and smoke and sulfur came out of their mouths. 18 †By these three plagues a third of mankind was killed, by the fire and smoke and sulfur coming out of their mouths. 19 †For the power of the horses is in their mouths and in their tails, for their tails are like serpents with heads, and by means of them they wound.
20 †The rest of mankind, who were not killed by these plagues, did not repent of the works of their hands nor give up worshiping demons and idols of gold and silver and bronze and stone and wood, which cannot see or hear or walk, 21 †nor did they repent of their murders or their sorceries or their sexual immorality or their thefts.

The Angel and the Little Scroll

10 [1]†Then I saw another mighty angel coming down from heaven, wrapped in a cloud, with a rainbow over his head, and his face was like the sun, and his legs like pillars of fire. [2]†He had a little scroll open in his hand.
And he set his right foot on the sea, and his left foot on the land, [3]†and called out with a loud voice, like a lion roaring. When he called out, the seven thunders sounded. [4]† And when the seven thunders had sounded, I was about to write, but I heard a voice from heaven saying, "Seal up what the seven thunders have said, and do not write it down." [5]‡And the angel whom I saw standing on the sea and on the land raised his right hand to heaven [6]†and swore by him who lives forever and ever, who created heaven and what is in it, the earth and what is in it, and the sea and what is in it, that there would be no more delay, [7]†but that in the days of the trumpet call to be sounded by the seventh angel, the mystery of God would be fulfilled, just as he announced to his servants[1] the prophets.

[8]†Then the voice that I had heard from heaven spoke to me again, saying,
"Go, take the scroll that is open in the hand of the angel who is standing on the sea and on the land." [9]‡So I went to the angel and told him to give me the little scroll. And he said to me, "Take and eat it; it will make your stomach bitter, but in your mouth it will be sweet as honey." [10]And I took the little scroll from the hand of the angel and ate it. It was sweet as honey in my mouth, but when I had eaten it my stomach was made bitter. [11]†And I was told, "You must again prophesy about many peoples and nations and languages and kings."

The Two Witnesses

11 [1]‡†Then I was given a measuring rod like a staff, and I was told, “Rise and measure the temple of God and the altar and those who worship there, [2]†but do not measure the court outside the temple; leave that out, for it is given over to the nations, and they will trample the holy city for forty-two months. [3]†And I will grant authority to my two witnesses, and they will prophesy for 1,260 days, clothed in sackcloth.”

[4]†These are the two olive trees and the two lampstands that stand before the Lord of the earth. [5]†And if anyone would harm them, fire pours from their mouth and consumes their foes. If anyone would harm them, this is how he is doomed to be killed. [6]†They have the power to shut the sky, that no rain may fall during the days of their prophesying, and they have power over the waters to turn them into blood and to strike the earth with every kind of plague, as often as they desire. [7]†And when they have finished their testimony, the beast that rises from the bottomless pit[1] will make war on them and conquer them and kill them, [8]†and their dead bodies will lie in the street of the great city that symbolically[2] is called Sodom and Egypt, where their Lord was crucified. [9]†For three and a half days some from the peoples and tribes and languages and nations will gaze at their dead bodies and refuse to let them be placed in a tomb, [10]†and those who dwell on the earth will rejoice over them and make merry and exchange presents, because these two prophets had been a torment to those who dwell on the earth.
[11]† But after the three and a half days a breath of life from God entered them, and they stood up on their feet, and great fear fell on those who saw them. [12]†Then they heard a loud voice from heaven saying to them, “Come up here!” And they went up to heaven in a cloud, and their enemies watched them. [13]†And at that hour there was a great earthquake, and a tenth of the city fell. Seven thousand people were killed in the earthquake, and the rest were terrified and gave glory to the God of heaven.

[14]†The second woe has passed; behold, the third woe is soon to come.

The Seventh Trumpet

15 ‡ ‡Then the seventh angel blew his trumpet, and there were loud voices in heaven, saying, “The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of his Christ, and he shall reign forever and ever.” 16 ‡And the twenty-four elders who sit on their thrones before God fell on their faces and worshiped God, 17 ‡saying,

“We give thanks to you, Lord God Almighty, who is and who was,
for you have taken your great power and begun to reign.
18 ‡ The nations raged, but your wrath came,
and the time for the dead to be judged, and for rewarding your servants,[1] the prophets and saints,
and those who fear your name,
both small and great,
and for destroying the destroyers of the earth.”

19 ‡Then God’s temple in heaven was opened, and the ark of his covenant was seen within his temple. There were flashes of lightning, rumblings,[2] peals of thunder, an earthquake, and heavy hail.

The Woman and the Dragon

12 [1]‡†And a great sign appeared in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, with the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars. [2]†She was pregnant and was crying out in birth pains and the agony of giving birth. [3]†And another sign appeared in heaven: behold, a great red dragon, with seven heads and ten horns, and on his heads seven diadems.
[4]†His tail swept down a third of the stars of heaven and cast them to the earth. And the dragon stood before the woman who was about to give birth, so that when she bore her child he might devour it. [5]†She gave birth to a male child, one who is to rule all the nations with a rod of iron, but her child was caught up to God and to his throne, [6]†and the woman fled into the wilderness, where she has a place prepared by God, in which she is to be nourished for 1,260 days.

Satan Thrown Down to Earth

7 ‡†Now war arose in heaven, Michael and his angels fighting against the dragon. And the dragon and his angels fought back, 8 but he was defeated, and there was no longer any place for them in heaven. 9 †And the great dragon was thrown down, that ancient serpent, who is called the devil and Satan, the deceiver of the whole world—he was thrown down to the earth, and his angels were thrown down with him. 10 †And I heard a loud voice in heaven, saying, “Now the salvation and the power and the kingdom of our God and the authority of his Christ have come, for the accuser of our brothers[1] has been thrown down, who accuses them day and night before our God. 11 †And they have conquered him by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony, for they loved not their lives even unto death.
12 †Therefore, rejoice, O heavens and you who dwell in them! But woe to you, O earth and sea, for the devil has come down to you in great wrath, because he knows that his time is short!” 13 †And when the dragon saw that he had been thrown down to the earth, he pursued the woman who had given birth to the male child. 14 †But the woman was given the two wings of the great eagle so that she might fly from the serpent into the wilderness, to the place where she is to be nourished for a time, and times, and half a time. 15 ‡The serpent poured water like a river out of his mouth after the woman, to sweep her away with a flood. 16 But the earth came to the help of the woman, and the earth opened its mouth and swallowed the river that the dragon had poured from his mouth. 17 †Then the dragon became furious with the woman and went off to make war on the rest of her offspring, on those who keep the commandments of God and hold to the testimony of Jesus. And he stood[2] on the sand of the sea.

The First Beast

13 [1]And I saw a beast rising out of the sea, with ten horns and seven heads, with ten diadems on its horns and blasphemous names on its heads. [2]And the beast that I saw was like a leopard; its feet were like a bear's, and its mouth was like a lion's mouth. And to it the dragon gave his power and his throne and great authority. [3]One of its heads seemed to have a mortal wound, but its mortal wound was healed, and the whole earth marveled as they followed the beast. [4]And they worshiped the dragon, for he had given his authority to the beast, and they worshiped the beast, saying, "Who is like the beast, and who can fight against it?"

[5]And the beast was given a mouth uttering haughty and blasphemous words, and it was allowed to exercise authority for forty-two months. [6]It opened its mouth to utter blasphemies against God, blaspheming his name and his dwelling,[1] that is, those who dwell in heaven. [7]Also it was allowed to make war on the saints and to conquer them.[2] And authority was given it over every tribe and people and language and nation, [8]and all who dwell on earth will worship it, everyone whose name has not been written before the foundation of the world in the book of life of the Lamb who was slain. [9]If anyone has an ear, let him hear:

[10] If anyone is to be taken captive, to captivity he goes;
if anyone is to be slain with the sword,
with the sword must he be slain.

Here is a call for the endurance and faith of the saints.

The Second Beast

11 Then I saw another beast rising out of the earth. It had two horns like a lamb and it spoke like a dragon. 12 It exercises all the authority of the first beast in its presence,[3] and makes the earth and its inhabitants worship the first beast, whose mortal wound was healed. 13 It performs great signs, even making fire come down from heaven to earth in front of people, 14 and by the signs that it is allowed to work in the presence of[4] the beast it deceives those who dwell on earth, telling them to make an image for the beast that was wounded by the sword and yet lived. 15 And it was allowed to give breath to the image of the beast, so that the image of the beast might even speak and might cause those who would not worship the image of the beast to be slain. 16 Also it causes all, both small and great, both rich and poor, both free and slave,[5] to be marked on the right hand or the forehead, 17 so that no one can buy or sell unless he has the mark, that is, the name of the beast or the number of its name. 18 This calls for wisdom: let the one who has understanding calculate the number of the beast, for it is the number of a man, and his number is 666.[1]

The Lamb and the 144,000

14 [1]‡† Then I looked, and behold, on Mount Zion stood the Lamb, and with him 144,000 who had his name and his Father's name written on their foreheads. [2]† And I heard a voice from heaven like the roar of many waters and like the sound of loud thunder. The voice I heard was like the sound of harpists playing on their harps, [3]† and they were singing a new song before the throne and before the four living creatures and before the elders. No one could learn that song except the 144,000 who had been redeemed from the earth. [4]† It is these who have not defiled themselves with women, for they are virgins. It is these who follow the Lamb wherever he goes. These have been redeemed from mankind as firstfruits for God and the Lamb, [5]† and in their mouth no lie was found, for they are blameless.

The Messages of the Three Angels

6 † † Then I saw another angel flying directly overhead, with an eternal gospel to proclaim to those who dwell on earth, to every nation and tribe and language and people. 7 † And he said with a loud voice, “Fear God and give him glory, because the hour of his judgment has come, and worship him who made heaven and earth, the sea and the springs of water.” 8 † Another angel, a second, followed, saying, “Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, she who made all nations drink the wine of the passion[2] of her sexual immorality.” 9 † And another angel, a third, followed them, saying with a loud voice, “If anyone worships the beast and its image and receives a mark on his forehead or on his hand, 10 † he also will drink the wine of God’s wrath, poured full strength into the cup of his anger, and he will be tormented with fire and sulfur in the presence of the holy angels and in the presence of the Lamb. 11 † And the smoke of their torment goes up forever and ever, and they have no rest, day or night, these worshipers of the beast and its image, and whoever receives the mark of its name.” 12 † Here is a call for the endurance of the saints, those who keep the commandments of God and their faith in Jesus.[1] 13 † And I heard a voice from heaven saying, “Write this: Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on.” “Blessed indeed,” says the Spirit, “that they may rest from their labors, for their deeds follow them!”

The Harvest of the Earth

14 Then I looked, and behold, a white cloud, and seated on the cloud one like a son of man, with a golden crown on his head, and a sharp sickle in his hand. 15 And another angel came out of the temple, calling with a loud voice to him who sat on the cloud, “Put in your sickle, and reap, for the hour to reap has come, for the harvest of the earth is fully ripe.” 16 So he who sat on the cloud swung his sickle across the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 Then another angel came out of the temple in heaven, and he too had a sharp sickle. 18 And another angel came out from the altar, the angel who has authority over the fire, and he called with a loud voice to the one who had the sharp sickle, “Put in your sickle and gather the clusters from the vine of the earth, for its grapes are ripe.” 19 So the angel swung his sickle across the earth and gathered the grape harvest of the earth and threw it into the great winepress of the wrath of God. 20 And the winepress was trodden outside the city, and blood flowed from the winepress, as high as a horse’s bridle, for 1,600 stadia.[2]

The Seven Angels with Seven Plagues

15 [1]†Then I saw another sign in heaven, great and amazing, seven angels with seven plagues, which are the last, for with them the wrath of God is finished.

[2]†And I saw what appeared to be a sea of glass mingled with fire—and also those who had conquered the beast and its image and the number of its name, standing beside the sea of glass with harps of God in their hands. [3]†And they sing the song of Moses, the servant[1] of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying,

"Great and amazing are your deeds,
O Lord God the Almighty!
Just and true are your ways,
O King of the nations![2] [4] Who will not fear, O Lord, and glorify your name?
For you alone are holy.
All nations will come and worship you, for your righteous acts have been revealed."

[5]†After this I looked, and the sanctuary of the tent[3] of witness in heaven was opened, [6]†and out of the sanctuary came the seven angels with the seven plagues, clothed in pure, bright linen, with golden sashes around their chests. [7]And one of the four living creatures gave to the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of God who lives forever and ever, [8]†and the sanctuary was filled with smoke from the glory of God and from his power, and no one could enter the sanctuary until the seven plagues of the seven angels were finished.

The Seven Bowls of God's Wrath

16 [1] Then I heard a loud voice from the temple telling the seven angels, "Go and pour out on the earth the seven bowls of the wrath of God." [2] So the first angel went and poured out his bowl on the earth, and harmful and painful sores came upon the people who bore the mark of the beast and worshiped its image.
[3] The second angel poured out his bowl into the sea, and it became like the blood of a corpse, and every living thing died that was in the sea.
[4] The third angel poured out his bowl into the rivers and the springs of water, and they became blood. [5] And I heard the angel in charge of the waters[4] say,

"Just are you, O Holy One, who is and who was,
for you brought these judgments.
[6] For they have shed the blood of saints and prophets,
and you have given them blood to drink.
It is what they deserve!"

[7] And I heard the altar saying,

"Yes, Lord God the Almighty, true and just are your judgments!"

[8] The fourth angel poured out his bowl on the sun, and it was allowed to scorch people with fire. [9] They were scorched by the fierce heat, and they cursed[5] the name of God who had power over these plagues. They did not repent and give him glory.
[10] The fifth angel poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast, and its kingdom was plunged into darkness. People gnawed their tongues in anguish [11] and cursed the God of heaven for their pain and sores. They did not repent of their deeds.

[12]†The sixth angel poured out his bowl on the great river Euphrates, and its water was dried up, to prepare the way for the kings from the east. [13]†And I saw, coming out of the mouth of the dragon and out of the mouth of the beast and out of the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits like frogs. [14]For they are demonic spirits, performing signs, who go abroad to the kings of the whole world, to assemble them for battle on the great day of God the Almighty. [15]†(“Behold, I am coming like a thief! Blessed is the one who stays awake, keeping his garments on, that he may not go about naked and be seen exposed!”) [16]†And they assembled them at the place that in Hebrew is called Armageddon.

The Seventh Bowl

17 The seventh angel poured out his bowl into the air, and a loud voice came out of the temple, from the throne, saying, “It is done!” 18 And there were flashes of lightning, rumblings,[1] peals of thunder, and a great earthquake such as there had never been since man was on the earth, so great was that earthquake. 19 The great city was split into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell, and God remembered Babylon the great, to make her drain the cup of the wine of the fury of his wrath. 20 And every island fled away, and no mountains were to be found. 21 And great hailstones, about one hundred pounds[2] each, fell from heaven on people; and they cursed God for the plague of the hail, because the plague was so severe.

The Great Prostitute and the Beast

17 [1]†Then one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls came and said to me, “Come, I will show you the judgment of the great prostitute who is seated on many waters, [2]†with whom the kings of the earth have committed sexual immorality, and with the wine of whose sexual immorality the dwellers on earth have become drunk.” [3]†And he carried me away in the Spirit into a wilderness, and I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast that was full of blasphemous names, and it had seven heads and ten horns. [4]†The woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and adorned with gold and jewels and pearls, holding in her hand a golden cup full of abominations and the impurities of her sexual immorality. [5]†And on her forehead was written a name of mystery: “Babylon the great, mother of prostitutes and of earth’s abominations.” [6]†And I saw the woman, drunk with the blood of the saints, the blood of the martyrs of Jesus.[1]

When I saw her, I marveled greatly. [7]†But the angel said to me, “Why do you marvel? I will tell you the mystery of the woman, and of the beast with seven heads and ten horns that carries her. [8]†The beast that you saw was, and is not, and is about to rise from the bottomless pit[2] and go to destruction. And the dwellers on earth whose names have not been written in the book of life from the foundation of the world will marvel to see the beast, because it was and is not and is to come. [9]†This calls for a mind with wisdom: the seven heads are seven mountains on which the woman is seated; [10]†they are also seven kings, five of whom have fallen, one is, the other has not yet come, and when he does come he must remain only a little while. [11]†As for the beast that was and is not, it is an eighth but it belongs to the seven, and it goes to destruction. [12]†And the ten horns that you saw are ten kings who have not yet received royal power, but they are to receive authority as kings for one hour, together with the beast. [13]†These are of one mind, and they hand over their power and authority to the beast. [14]†They will make war on the Lamb, and the Lamb will conquer them, for he is Lord of lords and King of kings, and those with him are called and chosen and faithful.”

15 † And the angel[3] said to me, “The waters that you saw, where the prostitute is seated, are peoples and multitudes and nations and languages.
16 † And the ten horns that you saw, they and the beast will hate the prostitute. They will make her desolate and naked, and devour her flesh and burn her up with fire, 17 †for God has put it into their hearts to carry out his purpose by being of one mind and handing over their royal power to the beast, until the words of God are fulfilled. 18 †And the woman that you saw is the great city that has dominion over the kings of the earth.”

The Fall of Babylon

18 [1] † After this I saw another angel coming down from heaven, having great authority, and the earth was made bright with his glory. [2] †And he called out with a mighty voice,

"Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great!
She has become a dwelling place for demons,
a haunt for every unclean spirit,
a haunt for every unclean bird, a haunt for every unclean and detestable beast.
[3] † For all nations have drunk[1] the wine of the passion of her sexual immorality,
and the kings of the earth have committed immorality with her, and the merchants of the earth have grown rich from the power of her luxurious living."

[4] †Then I heard another voice from heaven saying,

"Come out of her, my people, lest you take part in her sins,
lest you share in her plagues;
[5] † for her sins are heaped high as heaven, and God has remembered her iniquities.
[6] † Pay her back as she herself has paid back others, and repay her double for her deeds;
mix a double portion for her in the cup she mixed.
[7] † As she glorified herself and lived in luxury, so give her a like measure of torment and mourning,

since in her heart she says,
'I sit as a queen,
I am no widow,
and mourning I shall never see.'
8 † For this reason her plagues will come in a single day,
death and mourning and famine,
and she will be burned up with fire;
for mighty is the Lord God who has judged her."

9 †And the kings of the earth, who committed sexual immorality and lived in luxury with her, will weep and wail over her when they see the smoke of her burning. 10 †They will stand far off, in fear of her torment, and say,

"Alas! Alas! You great city, you mighty city, Babylon!
For in a single hour your judgment has come."

11 †And the merchants of the earth weep and mourn for her, since no one buys their cargo anymore, 12 cargo of gold, silver, jewels, pearls, fine linen, purple cloth, silk, scarlet cloth, all kinds of scented wood, all kinds of articles of ivory, all kinds of articles of costly wood, bronze, iron and marble, 13 cinnamon, spice, incense, myrrh, frankincense, wine, oil, fine flour, wheat, cattle and sheep, horses and chariots, and slaves, that is, human souls.[1]

14 † "The fruit for which your soul longed has gone from you, and all your delicacies and your splendors are lost to you,
never to be found again!"

15 †The merchants of these wares, who gained wealth from her, will stand far off, in fear of her torment, weeping and mourning aloud,

16 † “Alas, alas, for the great city that was clothed in fine linen, in purple and scarlet, adorned with gold,
with jewels, and with pearls!
17 For in a single hour all this wealth has been laid waste.”

And all shipmasters and seafaring men, sailors and all whose trade is on the sea, stood far off 18 †and cried out as they saw the smoke of her burning,

“What city was like the great city?”

19 †And they threw dust on their heads as they wept and mourned, crying out,

“Alas, alas, for the great city where all who had ships at sea grew rich by her wealth!
For in a single hour she has been laid waste.
20 † Rejoice over her, O heaven, and you saints and apostles and prophets, for God has given judgment for you against her!”

21 †Then a mighty angel took up a stone like a great millstone and threw it into the sea, saying,

“So will Babylon the great city be thrown down with violence, and will be found no more;
22 † and the sound of harpists and musicians, of flute players and trumpeters,
will be heard in you no more,

and a craftsman of any craft will be found in you no more,
and the sound of the mill
will be heard in you no more, 23 and the light of a lamp will shine in you no more, and the voice of bridegroom and bride
will be heard in you no more,
for your merchants were the great ones ofzthe earth, and all nations were deceived by your sorcery.
24† And in her was found the blood of prophets and of saints,
and of all who have been slain on earth.”

Rejoicing in Heaven

19 [1]†† After this I heard what seemed to be the loud voice of a great multitude in heaven, crying out,

"Hallelujah!
Salvation and glory and power belong to our God,
[2]† for his judgments are true and just;
for he has judged the great prostitute who corrupted the earth with her immorality,
and has avenged on her the blood of his servants."[1]

[3]† Once more they cried out,

"Hallelujah!
The smoke from her goes up forever and ever."

[4]† And the twenty-four elders and the four living creatures fell down and worshiped God who was seated on the throne, saying, "Amen. Hallelujah!"
[5]† And from the throne came a voice saying,

"Praise our God,
all you his servants,
you who fear him,
small and great."

The Marriage Supper of the Lamb

6 Then I heard what seemed to be the voice of a great multitude, like the roar of many waters and like the sound of mighty peals of thunder, crying out,

"Hallelujah!
For the Lord our God
the Almighty reigns.
7 Let us rejoice and exult and give him the glory, for the marriage of the Lamb has come,
and his Bride has made herself ready;
8 it was granted her to clothe herself with fine linen, bright and pure"— for the fine linen is the righteous deeds of the saints.

9 And the angel said[2] to me, "Write this: Blessed are those who are invited to the marriage supper of the Lamb." And he said to me, "These are the true words of God." 10 Then I fell down at his feet to worship him, but he said to me, "You must not do that! I am a fellow servant[1] with you and your brothers who hold to the testimony of Jesus. Worship God." For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

The Rider on a White Horse

11 †† Then I saw heaven opened, and behold, a white horse! The one sitting on it is called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he judges and makes war. 12 † His eyes are like a flame of fire, and on his head are many diadems, and he has a name written that no one knows but himself. 13 † He is clothed in a robe dipped in[2] blood, and the name by which he is called is The Word of God. 14 † And the armies of heaven, arrayed in fine linen, white and pure, were following him on white horses. 15 † From his mouth comes a sharp sword with which to strike down the nations, and he will rule them with a rod of iron. He will tread the winepress of the fury of the wrath of God the Almighty. 16 † On his robe and on his thigh he has a name written, King of kings and Lord of lords.

17 † Then I saw an angel standing in the sun, and with a loud voice he called to all the birds that fly directly overhead, "Come, gather for the great supper of God, 18 † to eat the flesh of kings, the flesh of captains, the flesh of mighty men, the flesh of horses and their riders, and the flesh of all men, both free and slave,[3] both small and great." 19 † And I saw the beast and the kings of the earth with their armies gathered to make war against him who was sitting on the horse and against his army. 20 † And the beast was captured, and with it the false prophet who in its presence[4] had done the signs by which he deceived those who had received the mark of the beast and those who worshiped its image. These two were thrown alive into the lake of fire that burns with sulfur. 21 † And the rest were slain by the sword that came from the mouth of him who was sitting on the horse, and all the birds were gorged with their flesh.

The Thousand Years

20 [1]‡‡†Then I saw an angel coming down from heaven, holding in his hand the key to the bottomless pit[1] and a great chain. [2]†And he seized the dragon, that ancient serpent, who is the devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years, [3]†and threw him into the pit, and shut it and sealed it over him, so that he might not deceive the nations any longer, until the thousand years were ended. After that he must be released for a little while.

[4]† Then I saw thrones, and seated on them were those to whom the authority to judge was committed. Also I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus and for the word of God, and those who had not worshiped the beast or its image and had not received its mark on their foreheads or their hands. They came to life and reigned with Christ for a thousand years. [5]†The rest of the dead did not come to life until the thousand years were ended. This is the first resurrection. [6]†Blessed and holy is the one who shares in the first resurrection! Over such the second death has no power, but they will be priests of God and of Christ, and they will reign with him for a thousand years.

The Defeat of Satan

7 ‡‡And when the thousand years are ended, Satan will be released from his prison 8and will come out to deceive the nations that are at the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them for battle; their number is like the sand of the sea. 9And they marched up over the broad plain of the earth and surrounded the camp of the saints and the beloved city, but fire came down from heaven[2] and consumed them, 10 † and the devil who had deceived them was thrown into the lake of fire and sulfur where the beast and the false prophet were, and they will be tormented day and night forever and ever.

Judgment Before the Great White Throne

11 ‡‡‡Then I saw a great white throne and him who was seated on it. From his presence earth and sky fled away, and no place was found for them.
12 † And I saw the dead, great and small, standing before the throne, and books were opened. Then another book was opened, which is the book of life. And the dead were judged by what was written in the books, according to what they had done. 13 † And the sea gave up the dead who were in it, Death and Hades gave up the dead who were in them, and they were judged, each one of them, according to what they had done. 14 † Then Death and Hades were thrown into the lake of fire. This is the second death, the lake of fire. 15 † And if anyone's name was not found written in the book of life, he was thrown into the lake of fire.

The New Heaven and the New Earth

21 [1]‡†Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth, for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away, and the sea was no more. [2]†And I saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. [3]†And I heard a loud voice from the throne saying, “Behold, the dwelling place[1] of God is with man.
He will dwell with them, and they will be his people,[2] and God himself will be with them as their God.[3] [4]†He will wipe away every tear from their eyes, and death shall be no more, neither shall there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain anymore, for the former things have passed away.”

[5]†And he who was seated on the throne said, “Behold, I am making all things new.” Also he said, “Write this down, for these words are trustworthy and true.” [6]†And he said to me, “It is done! I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. To the thirsty I will give from the spring of the water of life without payment. [7]†The one who conquers will have this heritage, and I will be his God and he will be my son. [8]†But as for the cowardly, the faithless, the detestable, as for murderers, the sexually immoral, sorcerers, idolaters, and all liars, their portion will be in the lake that burns with fire and sulfur, which is the second death.”

The New Jerusalem

9 ‡ ‡ ‡ Then came one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls full of the seven last plagues and spoke to me, saying, “Come, I will show you the Bride, the wife of the Lamb.” 10 † And he carried me away in the Spirit to a great, high mountain, and showed me the holy city Jerusalem coming down out of heaven from God, 11 † having the glory of God, its radiance like a most rare jewel, like a jasper, clear as crystal. 12 ‡ It had a great, high wall, with twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and on the gates the names of the twelve tribes of the sons of Israel were inscribed— 13 on the east three gates, on the north three gates, on the south three gates, and on the west three gates. 14 And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them were the twelve names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

15 ‡ And the one who spoke with me had a measuring rod of gold to measure the city and its gates and walls. 16 † The city lies foursquare, its length the same as its width. And he measured the city with his rod, 12,000 stadia.[1] Its length and width and height are equal. 17 † He also measured its wall, 144 cubits[2] by human measurement, which is also an angel’s measurement. 18 ‡ The wall was built of jasper, while the city was pure gold, clear as glass. 19 The foundations of the wall of the city were adorned with every kind of jewel. The first was jasper, the second sapphire, the third agate, the fourth emerald, 20 the fifth onyx, the sixth carnelian, the seventh chrysolite, the eighth beryl, the ninth topaz, the tenth chrysoprase, the eleventh jacinth, the twelfth amethyst. 21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls, each of the gates made of a single pearl, and the street of the city was pure gold, transparent as glass.

22 † And I saw no temple in the city, for its temple is the Lord God the Almighty and the Lamb. 23 † And the city has no need of sun or moon to shine on it, for the glory of God gives it light, and its lamp is the Lamb.
24 † By its light will the nations walk, and the kings of the earth will bring their glory into it, 25 ‡ and its gates will never be shut by day—and there will be no night there. 26 They will bring into it the glory and the honor of the nations. 27 † But nothing unclean will ever enter it, nor anyone who does what is detestable or false, but only those who are written in the Lamb's book of life.

The River of Life

22 [1]‡‡†Then the angel[1] showed me the river of the water of life, bright as crystal, flowing from the throne of God and of the Lamb [2]†through the middle of the street of the city; also, on either side of the river, the tree of life[2] with its twelve kinds of fruit, yielding its fruit each month. The leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. [3]‡†No longer will there be anything accursed, but the throne of God and of the Lamb will be in it, and his servants[3] will worship him. [4]†They will see his face, and his name will be on their foreheads. [5]†And night will be no more. They will need no light of lamp or sun, for the Lord God will be their light, and they will reign forever and ever.

Jesus Is Coming

6 And he said to me, “These words are trustworthy and true. And the Lord, the God of the spirits of the prophets, has sent his angel to show his servants what must soon take place.” 7 “And behold, I am coming soon. Blessed is the one who keeps the words of the prophecy of this book.”
8 I, John, am the one who heard and saw these things. And when I heard and saw them, I fell down to worship at the feet of the angel who showed them to me, 9 but he said to me, “You must not do that! I am a fellow servant[1] with you and your brothers the prophets, and with those who keep the words of this book. Worship God.” 10 And he said to me, “Do not seal up the words of the prophecy of this book, for the time is near. 11 Let the evildoer still do evil, and the filthy still be filthy, and the righteous still do right, and the holy still be holy.” 12 “Behold, I am coming soon, bringing my recompense with me, to repay everyone for what he has done. 13 I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end.” 14 Blessed are those who wash their robes,[2] so that they may have the right to the tree of life and that they may enter the city by the gates.
15 Outside are the dogs and sorcerers and the sexually immoral and murderers and idolaters, and everyone who loves and practices falsehood.
16 “I, Jesus, have sent my angel to testify to you about these things for the churches. I am the root and the descendant of David, the bright morning star.”
17 The Spirit and the Bride say, “Come.” And let the one who hears say, “Come.” And let the one who is thirsty come; let the one who desires take the water of life without price.
18 I warn everyone who hears the words of the prophecy of this book: if anyone adds to them, God will add to him the plagues described in this book, 19 and if anyone takes away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God will take away his share in the tree of life and in the holy city, which are described in this book.

20 † He who testifies to these things says, “Surely I am coming soon.”
Amen. Come, Lord Jesus!
21 † The grace of the Lord Jesus be with all.[3] Amen.

Revelation

OVERVIEW

Author
John the apostle

Date
AD 95

Places
Patmos; Ephesus; Smyrna; Pergamum; Thyatira; Sardis; Philadelphia; Laodicea; the Euphrates; Jerusalem; Mount Zion; Armageddon

People
John; seven congregations in Asia; false teachers (Nicolaitans; the "synagogue of Satan"; Jezebel)

Purpose
To comfort suffering Christians and encourage their faithful witness with prophetic portraits of the victory that is already ours in the risen and living Lamb of God, Jesus Christ

Law Themes
Deception of false prophets; call to repentance; beasts; dragon (Satan); God's wrath; plagues; torment; woe; bottomless pit; tribulation; Babylon the great; second death; judgment; call to patient endurance

Gospel Themes
Word of God; made a kingdom, priests; Jesus' love; Lamb of God and numerous titles for the Savior; Spirit and authority of God; truth; Christ who conquers; Lord God Almighty; tree of life; Bride of the Lamb (Church); God is faithful and true; water of life

Memory Verses

Be faithful (2:10); Jesus at the door (3:19–20); the song and new song (4:11; 5:9–10); heaven's bliss (7:15–17); conquering Satan (12:10–11); marriage of the Lamb (19:6–9); Christ coming with recompense (22:12–15)

Introduction to Revelation

Reading Revelation

A blinding flash pierced the dark shroud of storm clouds, followed by a deafening thunderclap. Contrary winds blasted salty spray over the side of the ship and into the navigator's face. The pitching waves lofted the ship and clawed at its hull as though they would pull it under. "All may be lost," the navigator whispered to himself.

But then, for a moment, a beam of moonlight fell through the storm clouds to reveal an island and sheltered bay off the port side—a haven of hope amid the storm.

The challenging Book of Revelation presents not merely the stormy future of suffering that will afflict the earth but also a message of hope—a haven for the beleaguered soul. In Revelation, we see that Christ is enthroned on high, mediating on our behalf and planning for our salvation. He will return in glory to deliver the Church from evil. On the island of Patmos, He gave these stormy visions to John for our comfort.

Luther on Revelation

There are many different kinds of prophecy in Christendom. One is prophecy which interprets the writings of the prophets. Paul speaks of this in I Corinthians 12 and 14, and in other places as well. This is the most necessary kind and we must have it every day, because it teaches the Word of God, lays the foundation of Christendom, and defends the faith. In a word, it rules, preserves, establishes, and performs the preaching ministry.

Another kind foretells things to come which are not previously contained in Scripture, and this prophecy is of three types. The first expresses itself simply in words, without images and figures—as Moses, David, and others of the prophets prophesy about Christ, and as Christ and the apostles prophesy about Antichrist, false teachers, etc. The second type does this with images, but alongside them it supplies their interpretation in specific words—as Joseph interprets dreams, and Daniel both dreams and images. The third type does it without either words or interpretations, exclusively with images and figures, like this book of Revelation and like the dreams, visions, and images that many holy people have had from the Holy Spirit—as Peter in Acts 2[:17] preaches from Joel [2:28], "Your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams." So long as this kind of prophecy remains without explanation and gets no sure interpretation, it is a concealed and mute prophecy and has not yet come to the profit and fruit which it is to give to Christendom.

This is the way it has been with this book heretofore. Many have tried their hands at it, but until this very day they have attained no certainty. Some have even brewed it into many stupid things out of their own heads. Because its interpretation is uncertain and its meaning hidden, we have also let it alone until now, especially because some of the ancient fathers held that it was not the work of St. John, the Apostle—as is stated in The Ecclesiastical History, Book III, chapter 25. For our part, we still share this doubt. By that, however, no one should be prevented from regarding this as the work of St. John the Apostle, or of whomever else he chooses….

We can profit by this book and make good use of it. First, for our comfort! We can rest assured that neither force nor lies, neither wisdom nor holiness, neither tribulation nor suffering shall suppress Christendom, but it will gain the victory and conquer at last.

Second, for our warning! [We can be on guard] against the great, perilous, and manifold offense that inflicts itself upon Christendom. Because these mighty and imposing powers are to fight against Christendom, and it is to be deprived of outward shape and concealed under so many tribulations and heresies and other faults, is impossible for the natural reason to recognize Christendom. On the contrary, natural reason falls away and takes offense. It calls that "the Christian Church" which is really the worst enemy of the Christian Church. Similarly, it calls those persons damned heretics who are really the true Christian Church. This has happened before, under the papacy, under Mohammed, indeed with all the heretics. Thus they lose this article [of the Creed], "I believe in the holy Christian Church." …

This is why natural reason cannot recognize it, even if it puts on all its glasses. The devil can cover it over with offenses and divisions, so that you have to take offense at it. God too can conceal it behind faults and shortcomings of all kinds, so that you necessarily become a fool and pass false judgment on it. Christendom will not be known by sight, but by faith. And faith has to do with things not seen, Hebrews 11[:1]. Christendom joins with her Lord in the song, "Blessed is he who takes no offense at me" [Matt. 11:6]. A Christian is even hidden from himself; he does not see his holiness and virtue, but sees in himself nothing but unholiness and vice. And you, stupid know-it-all, would behold Christendom with your blind reason and unclean eyes!

In a word, our holiness is in heaven, where Christ is; and not in the world, before men's eyes, like goods in the market place. Therefore let there be offenses, divisions, heresies, and faults; let them do what they can! If only the word of the gospel remains pure among us, and we love and cherish it, we shall not doubt that Christ is with us, even when things are at their worst. As we see here in this book, that through and beyond all plagues, beasts, and evil angels Christ is nonetheless with his saints, and wins the final victory. (AE 35:399–411)

Challenges for Readers

Study Other Books First. Many interpreters become horribly confused about the Book of Revelation because they fail to understand the character of biblical prophecy. They typically read Revelation as depicting a series of end-times events that simply happen one after the other. Such an approach usually generates a long, confusing wall chart and bizarre investigation of current events (e.g., dispensationalism, premillennialism, and postmillennialism), searching for things that might connect with the symbols in Revelation. Anyone wishing to understand the complex symbolism and visions of Revelation must first acquire (1) a broad understanding of OT prophecy generally and (2) a specific, clear understanding of Ezekiel, Daniel, and Zechariah. If you have not carefully studied OT prophecy, do not begin a study of Revelation. Do your homework; study the OT first. See pp 1425–26, 2099. On the complex structure of Revelation, see the following outline and notes.

Symbolism. In Revelation, Jesus is described as "one like a son of man" (1:13), a lion (5:5), and a lamb with seven horns and seven eyes (5:6). Clearly, the Book is very symbolic. Those who try to read the visions literally end up interpreting and applying the Book in hopelessly confused ways. To understand the symbolism in Revelation, study OT prophecy first.

Authorship and Date. Early tradition from Irenaeus attributed Revelation to the apostle John, "who beheld the apocalyptic vision … towards the end of Domitian's reign" (AD 81–96; ANF 1:559–60). Information in the overview of this Bible is based on this traditional understanding. However, readers should also know that some scholars propose an earlier date for Revelation, c AD 68, during the persecution that took place under Emperor Nero (AD 54–68). Both explanations are defensible and the interpretation and application of the Book is not adversely affected in either case.

Book of Woe or Book of Comfort? God's throne is the central thematic element of OT apocalyptic literature (Ezk 1; Dn 7). Rv 4–5 builds on this theme by depicting the enthronement of Christ after His ascension. All other scenes in the Book must be understood in light of this central vision, which depicts Jesus as the worthy Savior of His people and judge of Satan and his followers. This central theme shows that Revelation is not chiefly a book of woe but a book of comfort for God's people. Luther explained, "In chapters 4 and 5 there is prefigured the whole of Christendom that is to suffer these coming tribulations and plagues. There are twenty-four elders before God (that is, all the bishops and teachers in unity); they are crowned with faith, and praise Christ, the Lamb of God, with harps (that is, they preach); and they worship him with censers (that is, they exercise themselves in prayer). All this is for the comfort of Christians, that they may know that Christendom is to endure in spite of the plagues that are going to come" (AE 35:401). Across the centuries, the heavenly anthems (4:8, 11; 5:9–10) and John's vision of heavenly worship have greatly influenced the Church's liturgy (e.g., focus on the Holy Trinity, celebration of redemption, and worship in courtly style). On OT liturgical practices, see p 959.

Structure of Revelation. Do not fall into the trap of reading Revelation as one long timeline about the end of the world—note well its repetitions. Rv 6:1–21:8 is arranged as a series of visionary scenes that repeatedly depict the end of the world in different ways. Each scene emphasizes different themes and aspects of the one judgment that will come at the end of time. Recognizing this is crucial to understanding the Book. Carefully review the following outline. The study notes also alert readers to this important structure.

The "Rapture" Theory. Some evangelical interpreters take a variety of passages in the Bible, including Rv 4–5, as predicting an event named the "rapture" (see p 2051; see also note, 1Th 4:17). According to this view, Christ will return to take all Christians out of the world before a seven-year period of distress begins. This ensuing "tribulation" (which they see in Rv 6–19) is believed to end as a "millennium" begins (see note, Rv 20:2; see also p 2199). They claim that Christ will return yet again to administer the final judgment (this makes a third return, nowhere mentioned in Scripture). In contrast to such a rapture theory, Scripture repeatedly states that Christ will return again only once: His second coming (as stated in the Apostles' Creed). At that time, Christ will raise both believers and unbelievers from the dead for the last judgment (Mt 25:31–46; Jn 5:28–29; Ac 24:15; 1Th 4:13–15; Rv 1:7; 20:11–15).

The Millennium. See p 2199.

Blessings for Readers

As you study Revelation, take to heart Jesus' admonition and encouragement for the churches in John's day (chs 2–3). Apply His words for your life and the life of your congregation. Pray for ears to hear what the Spirit says through the Word.

Most important, ask the Lord to maintain your focus on the heavenly vision of chs 4–5, which describe the reign of your Savior. No matter what the devil may throw at you, Christ your King is with you. He has overcome the evil one. He will strengthen you in the face of all persecution and distress. Pray for those who live in fear of worldly troubles or of the last judgment, that through the forgiveness of sins, the Lord would extend His perfect peace to them; the Church may face the future with all boldness and confidence in Christ.

OUTLINE

Revelation is a series of visions. The first two visions describe Jesus appearing to John and messages that Jesus asks John to share with seven churches. Chs 4 and 5 are the heart of the book, revealing the worthiness of Jesus, who will save His people and judge the world.

Chs 6–21 are scenes of the end-times judgment. Three of Revelation's end-times scenes are clearly structured in seven parts (6:1–8:5; 8:6–11:19; 15:1–16:21). The other visions lack this sevenfold structure. The vision of 12:1–14:20 is clearly delimited by the sevenfold visions that come before and after it. Interpreters divide up 17:1–20:8 in different ways.

I. The Prologue: The Revelation of Jesus Christ (1:1–8)

II. The Visions Given to John (1:9–22:5)

A. The Glorified Son of Man and the Seven Letters (1:9–3:22)

1. The appearance of Christ to John on Patmos to commission John to record the vision (1:9–20)
2. The letter to the Church in Ephesus (2:1–7)
3. The letter to the Church in Smyrna (2:8–11)
4. The letter to the Church in Pergamum (2:12–17)
5. The letter to the Church in Thyatira (2:18–29)
6. The letter to the Church in Sardis (3:1–6)

7. The letter to the Church in Philadelphia (3:7–13)
8. The letter to the Church in Laodicea (3:14–22)

B. The Heavenly Sanctuary and Divine Throne (chs 4–5)

1. God (the Father) enthroned and worshiped as Creator (ch 4)
2. The Lamb (the Son) enthroned and worshiped as the Passover/Atonement sacrifice (ch 5)

C. The First Scene of the End Times: Christ Opening the Seven Seals (6:1–8:5)

1. The opening of the first four seals (6:1–8)
2. The opening of the fifth and sixth seals (6:9–17)
3. The sealing of the 144,000 faithful on earth (7:1–8)
4. The myriads of the faithful in heavenly bliss (7:9–17)
5. The opening of the seventh seal (8:1–5)

D. The Second Scene of the End Times: The Blowing of the Seven Trumpets (8:6–11:19)

1. The blowing of the first four trumpets (8:6–13)
2. The blowing of the fifth and sixth trumpets (ch 9)
3. The recommissioning of John (ch 10)
4. The measuring and witness of the Church (11:1–14)
5. The blowing of the seventh trumpet (11:15–19)

E. The Third Scene of the End Times: The Battle between the Triune God and the Anti-Trinity (12:1–14:20)

1. The woman in travail and the dragon (12:1–6)
2. The war in heaven and defeat of Satan (12:7–17)
3. The two beasts: a false christ and a false spirit (ch 13)
4. The Lamb and true Church (14:1–5)
5. The angels and the harvest of the earth (14:6–20)

F. The Fourth Scene of the End Times: The Pouring Out of the Seven Bowls of Wrath (chs 15–16)

G. The Fifth Scene of the End Times: Babylon the Prostitute Overthrown (chs 17–19)

H. The Sixth Scene of the End Times: The Final Judgment (20:1–21:8)

I. The Final Scene: The New Jerusalem as the Bride (21:9–22:5)

III. The Epilogue: Come, Lord Jesus! (22:6–21)

Articles and Resources Related to Revelation

- Revelation's Colorful Character
- The End Times in Revelation
- The Letters to the Churches
- I Know Your Works
- Grace and Merits
- The Kingdom, the Church, and Israel
- The Mystery of the Church
- God's Mission and Revelation
- The Movement of the Gospel
- The Lord's Supper
- The Marriage Feast of the Lamb
- The Sacrament and the Church
- Christ in Revelation
- Jesus' Human Nature
- An Outline of Church History

The End Times in Revelation

Though Revelation can be difficult to understand because it uses so many symbols, it actually provides a very simple description of the End Times as the early Christians noticed. For example, after reading Revelation and the rest of Scripture, the early Christians summarized the End Times as follows: "[Jesus now] sits at the right hand of God, the Father Almighty. From thence He will come to judge the living and the dead … We believe in … the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting" (The Apostles' Creed). For centuries this simple summary of the End Times—rooted in Revelation—guided Christian teaching.

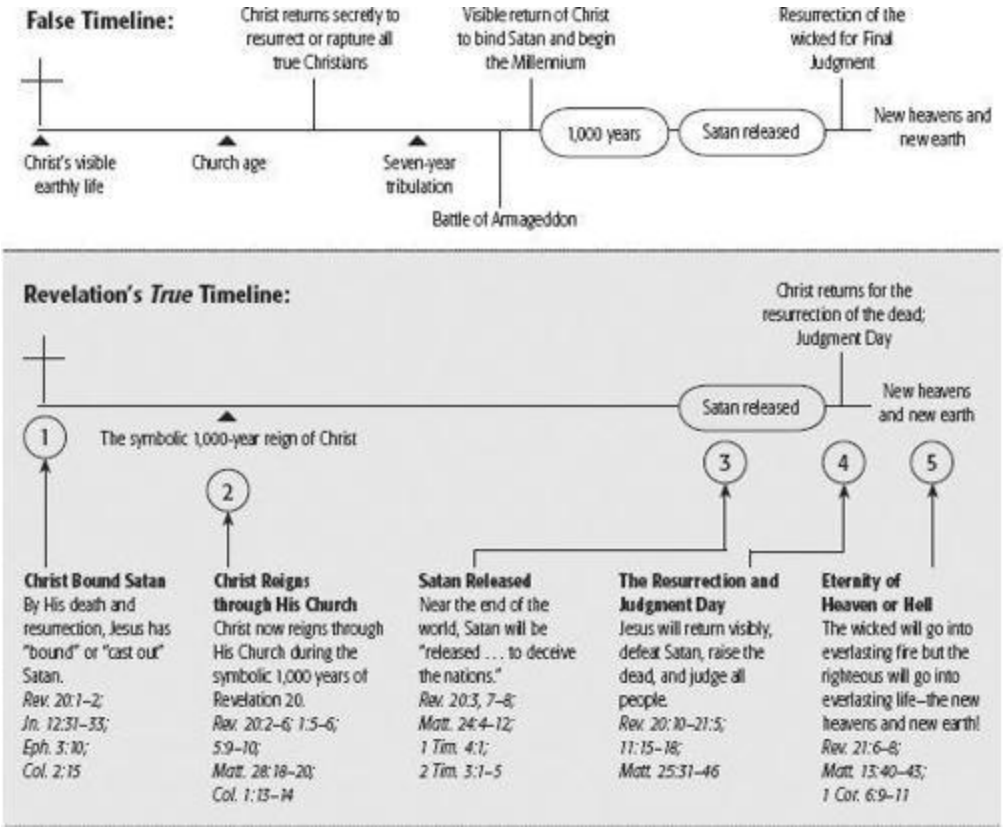
Today, however, false teachers have created many confusing and complex interpretations of Revelation. They have added false doctrines like the Rapture and the Millennium to Revelation's summary of the End Times. As a result, many Christians are confused about what will happen in the future. For a simple, clear understanding of how Revelation differs from modern, false opinions, study the timelines below. Be sure to look up the Bible references and see how Revelation agrees with the rest of God's Word.



Revelation's simple timeline clearly shows that no Rapture or Millennium must take place before Jesus returns. He could reappear for Judgment Day at any time! Therefore, "blessed is he who heeds the words of the prophecy of this book" (Rev. 22:7). Study Revelation and joyously look forward to the return of your Savior.

Good News 12 (1999):11. Used by permission.

The Letters to the Churches

To: All seven churches
1:4, 11
Image of Christ: 1:5, 12–18
To: Ephesus
2:1–7
Local Detail: False apostles and Nicolaitans are there
Image of Christ: Holds the seven stars in his right hand; walks among the seven golden lampstands
What Christ Sees Good: Have endurance; cannot bear evil people; are not weary; hate the works of the Nicolaitans
What Christ Sees Bad: Have left your first love
Call to Repent: Repent, do first works, or else I will remove your lampstand Promise to the One Who Conquers: I will grant to eat of the tree of life in the paradise of God
To: Smyrna
2:8–11
Local Detail: Synagogue of Satan is there
Image of Christ: The First and the Last, who was dead and came back to life
What Christ Sees Good: I know your suffering and poverty
What Christ Sees Bad: Are afraid of suffering
Call to Repent: Stop being afraid of coming suffering, poverty; be faithful to death and I will give you the crown of life
Promise to the One Who Conquers: Will not be hurt by the second death
To: Pergamum 2:12–17
Local Detail: Satan's throne is there; Satan lives there; Antipas was martyred there; the teachings of the Nicolaitans are there
Image of Christ: Has the sharp two-edged sword
What Christ Sees Good: Hold on to my name; did not deny the faith even when Antipas was martyred
What Christ Sees Bad: Some hold to the teachings of Balaam (idolatry, immorality) and of the Nicolaitans
Call to Repent: Repent, else I will war with the sword of my mouth

Promise to the One Who Conquers: I will give of the hidden manna and a white stone and a secret name

To: Thyatira

2:18–29

Local Detail: The so-called prophetess Jezebel is there; some there have known the depths of Satan

Image of Christ: The Son of God, who has eyes like fire and feet like brass; searches thoughts and hearts

What Christ Sees Good: Have love, faith, service, endurance; your last works are more than your first works

What Christ Sees Bad: Tolerate the so-called prophetess Jezebel, who teaches people to commit sexual immorality and eat idolatrous food

Call to Repent: Repent of adultery with Jezebel; her children will be killed; the faithful must hold fast to what they have

Promise to the One Who Conquers: I will give authority to rule the nations with an iron scepter and will give the morning star

To: Sardis

3:1–6

Local Detail: Have a reputation of being alive but are dead

Image of Christ: Has the seven Spirits of God and the seven stars

What Christ Sees Good: A few have not polluted their garments, are worthy to be dressed in white

What Christ Sees Bad: I know your works; have a reputation of being alive but are dead

Call to Repent: Repent; keep what you received; watch, lest I return as a thief

Promise to the One Who Conquers: Will be dressed in white; I will not remove his name from the book of life; I will confess his name before my Father and his angels

To: Philadelphia 3:7–13

Local Detail: Have an open door for evangelism; Jews from the synagogue of Satan will acknowledge that I have loved you

Image of Christ: The holy and true One, who has the key of David and who opens and closes

What Christ Sees Good: I have placed before you an open door; have kept my Word and not denied my name

What Christ Sees Bad: Have but a little power to take advantage of open doors, opportunities to serve
Call to Repent: Hold on to what you have; I will protect you during the testing of all the earth; I am coming quickly Promise to the One Who Conquers: I will place him as a pillar in God's temple; I will write on him God's name, the name of God's city, and my new name
To: Laodicea 3:14–22
Local Detail: Are worldly wealthy, but spiritually poor, naked, blind
Image of Christ: The Amen, the faithful and true witness, the source of the creation of God
What Christ Sees Bad: Lukewarm; do not know own wretchedness
Call to Repent: I am about to spit you out; repent and receive purification and healing from me; I knock at the door; if anyone opens, I will enter and eat with him Promise to the One Who Conquers: I will grant to sit with me on my throne
Louis A. Brighton, Revelation, CC (St. Louis: Concordia, 1999), 58–59.

I Know Your Works

Christ's focus on works in Revelation may make you wonder whether the Lord will save or condemn you based on your works. Many who study Revelation ask this question in view of passages such as 2:23, "I will give to each of you according to your works." Also, "The dead were judged by what was written in the books, according to what they had done…. Death and Hades gave up the dead who were in them, and they were judged, each one of them, according to what they had done" (20:12b–13).

The Book of Life

Before you quit your job so you can do more volunteer work at church or elsewhere, take note of how the Lord actually decides who enters heaven: "If anyone's name was not found written in the book of life, he was thrown into the lake of fire" (20:15). No matter what is written in the books about your works, your works will not decide your eternal destiny. All who have their names "written in the Lamb's book of life" will enjoy the bliss of heaven (21:27). Christ, "the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world" (Jn 1:29)—even your sin—writes your name in His Book of Life by His grace, not by your works.

Christ judges and urges people to do good works because such works serve His kingdom. Through your works, God blesses and builds His Church (1Co 3:9–15). Through works of love and the Word, Christ establishes His Church in the midst of suffering, sorrow, and despair. The seven churches in Revelation lived amid such danger (Rv 2:13). They considered compromising their teaching and giving up their service because persecutors dogged them (cf Heb 10:23–25; 12:28–29). Repeatedly, Christ told them to hold on to what He had already given them (Rv 2:3, 10b, 13b, 25; 3:3, 11), His Word and faith through which He saved them and sustained them. From such faith would flow genuine repentance and generous works for the encouragement of all.

Christ's Work for You

Christ's letters follow a set form, but they are not mere form letters (see p 2204). He did not sign His name, but the letters are anything but anonymous. In fact, they reveal the Lord and His work for these congregations and all believers. As you read these letters, take their teachings personally. Hear the voice of your Lord calling you to repentance and greater service.

But also take note of all that Jesus does for you. He holds the guardians of the Church in His hand and walks among the congregations (2:1). He gave His life and rose again (v 8) to apply those blessings for your salvation. He wields the sword of His Word to fend off error for your sake (v 16). Christ burns with divine holiness (v 18) and gives you the same Holy Spirit (3:1, 6). He holds open heaven's door for you (v 7). From the beginning of creation until today, Christ remains faithful for your sake (v 14). What a glorious work and revelation!

Grace and Merits

If the insistence on grace alone without any merit is preserved, then we have no objection to giving the name "merits" to the fruit that follows. Only such statements should not be distorted and applied in an anti-Scriptural way to our meriting grace but should be interpreted correctly, the way they were intended, as a consolation to Christians—especially when they have to suffer opposition, when they get the feeling and the impression that our life, suffering, and activity are pointless and useless. This is the consolation that Scripture uses everywhere in urging perseverance in good works. So in Jer. 31:16 we read: Your works shall be rewarded, and St. Paul says in 1 Cor. 15:58: In the Lord your labor is not in vain. If we did not have this consolation, we could not stand the misery, persecution, and trouble we get in exchange for doing so much good, nor let our teaching and preaching be rewarded with nothing but ingratitude and abuse. Finally we would have to stop working and suffering, though it is our obvious duty to do so.

God wants us to wake up and to strengthen us with this beautiful promise. Then we will not pay attention to the ingratitude, hate, envy, and contempt of the world; we will pay attention to Him who says: I am your God. If the world refuses to thank you and deprives you of your reputation and property, even of your body and life, just cling to Me, and find your consolation in the fact that I still have a heaven with so much in it that I can easily recompense you and give you ten times as much as they can take away from you now.

Martin Luther, What Luther Says (St. Louis: Concordia, 1959), § 4919.

The Kingdom, the Church, and Israel

In studying the Scriptures, readers have noticed that the Old Testament, Matthew, Mark, and Luke frequently discuss "the kingdom" of God (called "Israel" in the Old Testament). By contrast, John's Gospel, Acts, and the New Testament Letters (Romans through Jude) refer to God's kingdom only occasionally. These books repeatedly mention "the church" and "churches."

This change in language has led to some confusion among interpreters, who wonder whether "the church" is God's kingdom or whether Israel is God's kingdom as it was in the Old Testament (e.g., see notes, Rm 11:25–36). Revelation helps clear up this issue. In Revelation, references to God's kingdom and Israel are references to God's Church.

God's People

In John's greetings to the seven churches in Asia, he states that Christ "made us a kingdom, priests to His God and Father" (Rv 1:6). Also, John introduces himself as "your brother and partner in … the kingdom" (v 9). John tells the congregations that they are part of a larger kingdom—God's kingdom. This is true even though they suffer persecution and dwell more than 400 miles from the borders of ancient Israel, which had been God's kingdom under the old covenant.

Later, when Jesus stands by the Father's throne in heaven, the four living creatures and 24 elders sing to Him, "You ransomed people for God from every tribe and language and people and nation, and You have made them a kingdom and priests to our God" (5:9–10; cf 12:10). Clearly, the kingdom of God is not limited to a political nation of Israel or to people of Jewish descent. God's kingdom—the Church—includes people of all nations.

John mentions Israel three times in Revelation. The first is simply a historical reference to Israel's temptation and disobedience in the wilderness (2:14). In 7:4–8, the "sons of Israel" number 144,000 according to their tribes. This group is mentioned again in 14:1–5. In 21:12, the names of the sons of Israel are inscribed on the gates of the New Jerusalem. These gates are mentioned along with the foundations of the city, which have the names of the 12 apostles on them. Louis Brighton notes,

> In Rev[elation] 7:4–8 the twelve tribes of the sons of Israel serve to symbolize the church of Jesus Christ. The use of the number 144,000, twelve thousand from each tribe, points to the church militant, ready for mission, in her marching order. The specific names in the redefined list show she is cleansed from idolatry and apostasy. And she is sealed, protected in her faith, as she stands as a witness in the time of tribulation. (CC Rv, pp 192–93)

Just as the 24 elders represent all God's people of the Old and New Testaments, so the 144,000 sons of Israel represent all God's people as well. (Note the multiples of 12 in symbols of the Church; see how Paul uses "Israel" to describe all believers, both Jews and Gentiles, in Rm 9:6–8. See also p 217.)

John's vision of God's people and the blessings of salvation do not divide God's kingdom, the churches, or the sons of Israel from one another. Rather, these are all ways John describes the one people of God ransomed from every nation (Rv 5:9). Interpreters who separate Israel from the churches or the Church from a millennial kingdom of God miss John's most important point about God's people: Christ reigns through them now. They are already "a kingdom, priests to His God and Father" (1:6).

Close Ranks

When you were baptized into Christ, He made you a member of His kingdom, the Church (Jn 3:5). He consecrated you as a holy priest to serve Him and all His people, whether Jews or Gentiles (1Pt 2:9). You reign with Christ now while awaiting the full revelation of God's people in eternity.

If you are like most Christians, you probably do not feel like a king, a royal priest, or anything greater than a peasant. The obstacles of life, personal failures, and the devil's discouragement all conspire to overthrow you. But praise God for that holy alliance, His Church! Though you feel alone, you actually stand among the "thousands" of Israel (see p 217). Close ranks with your brothers and sisters in Christ. Bellow in the devil's face, "A mighty fortress is our God … The Kingdom ours remaineth" (LSB 656:1, 4). Remember that the Lamb who was slain is also titled "the Lion of the tribe of Judah" (Rv 5:5). He has conquered hell, ascended on high, and commands the hosts of heaven. He will overcome all things for your sake.

The Mystery of the Church

The existence of the church is the most profound riddle of history. No one can explain it. No one can say how the church finally continues to exist. Statesmen have been convinced, as the elector of Saxony once expressed it over against Luther with the most friendly intentions, that the protection of the state is what finally makes the existence of the church possible. But the church first experienced its great flowering in the centuries in which it was not acknowledged. And the great canon law of the first centuries, on which entire churches still depend today, came to exist in a church which as far as public law was concerned did not even exist. To this day how the church outlived the demise of the ancient world in the centuries of the great migrations is an inexplicable mystery of history. No one could have known that the sixteenth century would not result in the complete dissolution of the church. Nor could anyone have known that the apparent self-destruction of the church in that struggle, in which Luther expected and longed for the Last Day, was not the end of the church, but its Reformation.

Hermann Sasse, The Lonely Way (St. Louis: Concordia, 2001), 1:462.

God's Mission and Revelation

The Revelation of St. John may well be the most evangelistic book of the entire Bible. Certainly it is unique in the way it proclaims the Gospel and empowers the church for her mission.

There is a twofold purpose of Revelation. As the prophetic message of the book unfolds its view of events on earth from Christ's first advent up to the present world's end at his return, it presents to us (1) a Christology of the exalted reign of Christ and (2) a theology of the church and her mission.

These two purposes are related. Christ reigns so as to enable the church to carry out and complete her mission. Among all the tribulations and sufferings on earth, the Lord Christ unveils his exalted glory for the comfort of the church and for the empowerment of her mission. From the time of Christ's victory and ascension up to the End, all history is controlled by the Lord Christ for the sake of his church and her mission of witness. And when that mission is completed, the curtain will fall on this world's existence and the Lord will come to claim his bride.

How important is the mission of the church in her role of witnessing to Jesus Christ as the Savior of the world? Two visions in particular give an answer: the mighty angel of Revelation 10 and the woman with Child in Revelation 12. The mighty angel astride the entire earth (10:1–2) exhibits the importance of the church and her mission, for all people everywhere and throughout history must hear the message of God that the church proclaims. John, on behalf of the church, is told that he must prophesy to "many peoples and nations and tongues and kings" (10:11), for the eternal destiny of each member of the human race depends upon hearing and believing the message of Christ crucified and risen.

The woman with Child in Revelation 12 who is hunted by the dragon portrays the suffering of the church during her mission, but she also reveals the glory and honor with which God, for the sake of the Child, adorns his church. The church is pictured like the Virgin Mary, as the one who births Christ, the Savior, into this world (12:5). No other entity in human history is so honored. The church and her mission are the most important aspects of human experience and world history, for she bears the cross of Christ and the love of God, the cross and love that extend to the spatial and temporal ends of the earth.

The entire book of Revelation can be interpreted in view of the mission of the church, for that mission is carried out and completed under the exalted glory and reign of her Lord Christ.

Louis A. Brighton, Revelation, CC (St. Louis: Concordia, 1999), 312.

The Movement of the Gospel

Before Judgment Day comes, the rule of the church and of the Christian faith must move over the whole world, just as the Lord Christ also said before in an earlier chapter that there will not be a city in which the Gospel should still be preached and that the Gospel shall move through the whole world in order that they all have a witness over their conscience, whether or not they believe.

The Gospel was in Egypt, then it was gone; furthermore, it has been in Greece, in Italy, in France, and in other lands. Now it is in the land of Germany; for who knows how long? The movement of the Gospel is now among us, but our ungratefulness and scorning of the divine Word, pettiness, and decadence make it so that it will not remain for long. There shall then follow after it a large rabble, and great wars will come later. In Africa, the Gospel was very powerfully present, but the liars corrupted it, and after it the Vandals and the wars came. It went likewise also in Egypt: first lying and then murder. It will also go exactly the same way in the German land. The pious preachers will first be taken away, and false prophets, enthusiasts, and demagogues will step into my place and that of other preachers and divide the church and tear it apart. Then there will also be added to it wars, so that princes will make war among themselves. Even the Turks will teach them manners before the movement in the world is finished. Then Judgment Day will come. St. Paul (Romans 11:25) also says that the Gospel must be preached through the whole world in order that all the Gentiles may experience it, so that the fullness of the Gentiles may also enter into heaven.

Christ is like the thresher. First, he beats out the ears with the flail. After that he also throws the chaff in a pile and gives it to the sows to eat. John the Baptist, the apostles, and all Christian preachers have done likewise. They are all threshers, for the Gospel gathers many to the kingdom of God, into the barn of the heavenly kingdom. When they have done this, then there is nothing left over, except chaff. Thereafter, marauding bands and sects will come and devour the chaff—the ungrateful and godless people. Do not doubt, God will have gathered his kernels already long before this.

Martin Luther in Volker Stolle, The Church Comes from All Nations, trans. Klaus Detlev Schulz and Daniel Thies (St. Louis: Concordia, 2003), 82–83.

The Lord's Supper

Across the ages, people have believed, repeated, and celebrated the remarkable words Jesus spoke on the night He was betrayed. Few texts of Sacred Scripture have prompted more devout meditation or more controversy. Jesus' words are known as "the words of institution" because by them Jesus changed the Old Testament Passover into a new meal and celebration—He instituted, or began, a new covenant confirmed with His own life's blood. In these few words, He fulfilled Old Testament promises, announced present blessings, and prophesied our future in His kingdom.

Because of the surpassing importance of Jesus' words at that moment in His ministry, the Early Church gathered the different accounts and created a harmony of Jesus' sayings so that not one promise would be lost to our ears as we gather around His Table.

> Our Lord Jesus Christ, on the night when He was betrayed, took bread, and when He had given thanks, He broke it and gave it to the disciples and said: "Take, eat; this is My body, which is given for you. This do in remembrance of Me." In the same way also He took the cup after supper, and when He had given thanks, He gave it to them, saying: "Drink of it, all of you; this cup is the new testament in My blood, which is shed for you for the forgiveness of sins. This do, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of Me." (LSB, p 162; cf Mt 26:26–28; Mk 14:22–24; Lk 22:19–20; 1Co 11:23–25)

The Church has also remembered with bittersweet anticipation Jesus' promise: "I tell you I will not drink again of this fruit of the vine until that day when I drink it new with you in My Father's kingdom" (Mt 26:29).

The Essence of the Lord's Supper

The great Lutheran theologian Martin Chemnitz wrote extensively on the importance and blessing of Jesus' words of institution. Below is a summary of his reflections from "The Lord's Supper."

> There are two points in the words of institution which should be dealt with one at a time and distinctly. The first has to do with the essence or substance of the Lord's Supper, namely: What is present in the Lord's Supper, distributed and received orally by the communicants? This subject is dealt with in the words of institution: "He took bread, gave thanks, broke it, and gave it to His disciples, saying, 'Take, eat; this is My body which is given for you.' … Likewise He also took the cup, and when He had given thanks, gave it to them saying, 'This is My blood.' …" (1 Cor. 11:23 ff.)
>
> The second point is this: For what purpose and use did Christ in His Supper distribute these elements to be received by the communicants and what is the salutary use or what is the spiritual benefit of those things we receive in the Supper from Christ, who distributes them? This point is treated in these words of the institution: "This do in remembrance of Me," that is, remember that My body which you are receiving was given for you, and the blood which you are drinking was shed for you for the remission of sins; and also in these words: "This cup is the New Testament in My blood." These words do not speak of some historical, cold, or idle memory, but of true faith, which lays hold of and applies to itself Christ with all His merits and benefits for reconciliation, salvation, and eternal life.

Martin Chemnitz, The Lord's Supper, trans. J. A. O. Preus, vol. 5:2 of Chemnitz's Works (St. Louis: Concordia, 2007), 38. Information in the following chart is drawn from pp 187–93.

The Marriage Feast of the Lamb

The promises [to the church at Pergamum] are phrased in language that recalls Baptism (the "new name" … Rev 2:17) and the Lord's Supper ("the manna which has been hidden"). In the Lord's Supper, Christians receive "a foretaste of the feast to come." That "feast to come" is the wedding supper of the Lamb (19:6–9). The Lord's Supper is hidden manna (2:17) because the future banquet is now hidden … not visible, but nevertheless real and as certain as Christ's own promise: "This is my body…. This is my blood" (Mt 26:26, 28)….

In Rev 19:9 [a] blessing is addressed to and realized only in those who are actually brought in and who then sit as guests at the feast. They are now the guests of honor at the marriage feast of the Lamb, for they are the bride of the Lord Christ. So while all who heard the gracious invitation of God were blessed in that they were recipients of the invitation, only the guests now ushered into the banquet hear the blessing and receive the contents of it: to sit in the presence of God as the bride of his Christ (cf. 3:21).

As the guests come forward to take their place by grace as the bride of Christ, the announced beatitude of God's blessing envelopes them and thrills their hearts. Perhaps the prophetic pronouncement of Isaiah momentarily came to the mind of John [Is 25:6–8; cf also Mt 8:11; Lk 13:28–30; Mt 22:1–14]…. Possibly also there would have come to mind the words that Jesus spoke at the Last Supper, "I will not drink again of this fruit of the vine until that day when I will drink it anew with you in the kingdom of my Father" (Mt 26:29).

Louis A. Brighton, Revelation, CC (St. Louis: Concordia, 1999), 79, 499–500.

The Sacrament and the Church

If we desire to understand Luther's concern and the concern of the old Evangelical [Lutheran] Church to maintain the Sacrament of the Altar and keep it pure, then we must realize a fact which the majority of people in our church generally no longer understand: the fact, namely, that there would be no church at all without the Holy Supper. Where the church is, there the Supper is also celebrated; where the Supper is celebrated, there is the church. Where it is no longer celebrated, there the church dies. Our fathers knew this when in the great confessions of the Reformation they placed the Lord's Supper together with Holy Baptism immediately alongside the Gospel as an essential mark of the church which could not be surrendered.

Many people, also many Evangelical [Lutheran] Christians, no longer understand this at all today. But it must indeed give [one] much cause to consider that the experiences of the history of the church simply prove the Reformers correct. Can we conceive of the church at the time of the apostles without the breaking of the bread of the early congregation of Jerusalem, without the Lord's Supper of the Pauline congregations? Anyone who is familiar with the NT must answer no! A Sunday without the Supper, a Lord's Day without the Lord's Supper is inconceivable in the church of the NT. For the celebration of the Supper was the heartbeat of this church. In ancient times it was held behind closed doors, and this was not merely for fear of persecution. For all the rest of the Divine Service was public, accessible even to Jews and pagans, and this is the basic principle of the church even down to today. The preaching of the Gospel, according to the will of Jesus himself, should be public: "What I say to you in the dark, speak in the light; and what is whispered in your ear, preach from the roof tops!" [Matt 10:27]. "Go forth into all the world and preach the Gospel to all creatures!" [Mark 16:15]. The church has always allowed people to come to its Divine Service on the basis of these basic principles, upon which is based the right to the free, public proclamation of the Gospel, acknowledged by all peoples of Christianity. Even the civilized pagan states do not contest this.

But the Supper was never for all those present, rather for the baptized and later for the confirmed. Only one who believes in Christ can understand the Supper. For everyone else it is necessarily inconceivable, senseless, and offensive. “Take, eat; this is my body…. Take and drink all of it: this cup is the new testament in my blood” [Matt 26:26–28]. What should the world say to such words? “He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day” [John 6:54]. “This is a hard saying. Who can hear it?” [John 6:60]. If many of the disciples spoke thus and left him forever, what shall the world say to these words? Are not the most foolish rumors which circulated in the ancient world understandable? According to these rumors the Christians in their secret Divine Services practiced cannibalism. In a similar way Frederick the Great, one of the least Christian great men of our people, ridiculed the Supper because there a man “should eat his God”! The church of all ages, misunderstood by the world, has always celebrated its Supper as it were “behind closed doors.” But it knew that at every celebration of the Supper what is written in the Revelation of St. John again became true: “Behold! I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come dwell with him and sup with him and he with me” [Rev 3:20].

Hermann Sasse, The Lonely Way (St. Louis: Concordia, 2001), 1:480–81.

Christ in Revelation

In contrast to the Christology of the four gospels, that of Revelation presents Christ in glory. The gospels describe the life of Jesus on earth from his birth to his resurrection and ascension and thus present Christ in lowliness and humiliation, though their stories end with his entrance into his exalted glory. Where the gospels end, Revelation begins—at his ascension. It presents Christ in his state of exaltation (1:5, 13–20; 5:6–14) as Lord of lords and King of kings, from the time of his ascension until he comes again to judge the earth at the present world's end and to usher in the new creation.

The Christology of Revelation can be seen in the various roles Jesus Christ carries out in this prophetic message. He first appears to John in chapter 1 as the Son of Man (1:13). As such he is the mighty, exalted Lord of God's creation who will bring all history to an end when he comes in judgment of the human race (14:14; 19:11–21). As the Son of Man, Christ will be the Lord of the new creation, the new heaven and earth (3:14) under the authority of the Father and together with the heavenly Father (21:5–6; 22:13) and the Holy Spirit (22:17). And because Jesus Christ is the Son of Man, all creation will bow before him (1:5–7, 17; 19:11–16; cf. Phil 2:9–11).

In Revelation 5 Jesus Christ appears as the Lamb of God. Because of his victory by way of his death and resurrection, God's people have been redeemed and made into a kingdom for the heavenly Father (1:5–6; 5:10). It is by the blood of the Lamb that God's people are made righteous and holy in his sight and are thus presented to him for eternal life (7:14–17; 22:14). Because the Lamb of God won the victory for God's people over death and hell and over Satan, the dragon (12:5–12), Christ is honored and exalted as the Son of Man to rule all things in judgment and in life on behalf of the Father (5:6–14; 14:1–5, 14–20).

Another role that the exalted Christ plays in Revelation is that of the angel of Yahweh, the spokesman and Word [Gk logos] of God, for he is the mediator and witness of the message of Revelation. While he himself does not appear in the guise of an angel (as did Yahweh in the OT, e.g., Ex 3:1–6; Judg 13:3–22), he fulfills such a role by the use of an angel who is arrayed in Christ's own heavenly glory and who acts on Christ's behalf, as vividly portrayed by the angel in Revelation 10. In such a role the Lord Christ presents himself to be "the angel of the covenant" ([Gk ho angelos tes diathekes], LXX Mal 3:1), who is the angel of Yahweh, the angel whom God promised to send to his people as prophesied in Mal 3:1.

The high Christology of Revelation is brought to a climax and is comprehensively summarized in Rev 22:13, where the three divine titles describing the eternal magnitude of the infinite God are applied to Jesus Christ. He is "the First and the Last," the Lord of the church; "the Beginning and the End" of all creation, and now also of the new creation; and "the Alpha and the Omega" of all eternity. Together with the Father, Jesus of Nazareth, born of a woman, is glorified and honored as God incarnate, through whom alone God deals with the human race in creation and in redemption, in judgment and in mercy. To him who reigns together with the Father and the Spirit be the glory, both now and forever, amen!

Louis A. Brighton, Revelation, CC (St. Louis: Concordia, 1999), 659–60.

Jesus' Human Nature

The Son of God is made a partaker of flesh and blood (Heb. 2:14), that He might also be called a man and might be a man (Acts 2:22); a human being (1 Tim. 2:5); the Son of Man, as He is called in several places in the gospels; the Son of David (Matt. 22:43 ff.); the Seed of Abraham (Gal. 3:16); the Seed of the woman (Gen. 3:15); a Rod and Shoot coming from and arising out of Jesse (Is. 11:1); the fruit of the body and loins of David (Ps. 132:11 and Acts 2:30); the Offspring of David (Rev. 22:16); and the Firstborn among many brothers (Rom. 8:29 and John 20:17). For He did not assume the seed of angels but of men. (Heb. 2:16)…. The Scripture teaches that Christ after the union possessed and retained a true human nature and that He rose in this same substance of the human nature which was conceived by the Holy Ghost and assumed from Mary before He experienced the resurrection. For He says in Luke 24:39: "It is I with My hands, My feet, My side, My flesh and bones…." And He ascended into heaven in this body and will return to judgment just as He was seen to ascend (Acts 1:11). Then they will see the body which they pierced at the Passion (John 19:37 and Rev. 1:7). After the judgment we shall always be with the Lord, who will come on clouds to judge (1 Thess. 4:17). And in the new Jerusalem (Rev. 21:23), in life eternal, the Lamb will be the light in whose brilliance they who have been saved will walk. There He is distinctly called the omnipotent God and the Lamb.

Martin Chemnitz, Chemnitz's Works, vol. 6, The Two Natures in Christ, trans. J. A. O. Preus (St. Louis: Concordia, 1971), 56, 64.

An Outline of Church History

Jesus Christ is the central figure in all history. The time before His birth was one of preparation for His coming; the time after it is one of planting and growth in His kingdom of grace. Christian history is the record of this planting and growth, which may be divided into three periods: ancient (1–590), medieval (590–1517), and modern (1517–present).[1] The names of Church Fathers cited in TLSB are arranged according to the dates of their deaths.

I. Ancient Church History (1–590)

1. Apostolic Era (1–c 100)
    - Jesus
    - The Apostles
2. Post-Apostolic Era (c 100–c 170)
    - Clement of Rome
    - Ignatius of Antioch
    - Polycarp
    - Justin Martyr
3. Ante-Nicene Era (c 170–325)
    - Melito of Sardis
    - Irenaeus of Lyons
    - Tertullian
    - Hippolytus
    - Cyprian
    - Novatian
    - Aphrahat
4. Post-Nicene Era (325–590)
    - Eusebius of Caesarea
    - Hilary of Poitiers
    - Athanasius
    - Ephraim Syrus
    - Basil the Great
    - Cyril of Jerusalem
    - Gregory of Nazianzus
    - Gregory of Nyssa
    - Ambrose
    - Tyconius
    - John Chrysostom
    - Sulpitius Severus
    - Jerome
    - Augustine
    - Cyril of Alexandria
    - Leo the Great

II. Medieval Church History (590–1517)

1. Early Medieval Era of Mission Expansion (590–c 1050)
    - Gregory the Great
    - Bede, the Venerable
    - John of Damascus
2. Crusading Era (c 1050–1294)
    - St Bernard of Clairvaux
    - St Francis of Assisi
3. Late Medieval Era of Popes and Councils (1294–1517)
    - Nicholas of Lyra
    - John Wycliffe
    - John Hus
    - Thomas à Kempis
    - Savonarola

III. Modern Church History (1517–present)

1. Reformation and Counter Reformation (1517–1600)
    - Martin Luther
    - Philip Melanchthon
    - Martin Chemnitz
2. Orthodox Era (17th century)
    - Johann Gerhard
    - Abraham Calov
3. Era of Pietism and Rationalism (18th century)
    - Johann Sebastian Bach
4. Era of Modernism and Confessionalism (19th century)
    - E. W. Hengstenberg
    - C. F. W. Walther
    - J. F. K. Keil
5. Ecumenical Era (20th century to present)
    - Hermann Sasse
    - Concordia Commentary authors

[1] The outline above was adapted from the Lutheran Cyclopedia (St. Louis: Concordia, 1954, 1975), pp 161–63.

Footnotes

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 1

- [1] 1:1 Greek bondservants
- [2] 1:1 Greek bondservant
- [3] 1:4 Or mourn

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 2

- [1] 2:9 Greek blasphemy
- [2] 2:13 Or your faith in me
- [1] 2:20 Greek bondservants

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 4

- [1] 4:5 Or voices, or sounds

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 6

- [1] 6:6 Greek choinix, a dry measure equal to about a quart
- [2] 6:6 A denarius was a day's wage for a laborer
- [1] 6:11 Greek fellow bondservants

- [2] 6:11 Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church
- [3] 6:15 Or servant; Greek bondservant

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 7

- [4] 7:3 Greek bondservants

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 8

- [1] 8:5 Or voices, or sounds
- [2] 8:11 Wormwood is the name of a plant and of the bitter-tasting extract derived from it

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 9

- [3] 9:1 Greek the abyss; also verses 2, 11
- [1] 9:11 Abaddon means destruction; Apollyon means destroyer
- [2] 9:17 Greek hyacinth

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 10

- [1] 10:7 Greek bondservants

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 11

- [1] 11:7 Or the abyss
- [2] 11:8 Greek spiritually
- [1] 11:18 Greek bondservants
- [2] 11:19 Or voices, or sounds

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 12

- [1] 12:10 Or brothers and sisters
- [2] 12:17 Some manuscripts And I stood, connecting the sentence with 13:1

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 13

- [1] 13:6 Or tabernacle
- [2] 13:7 Some manuscripts omit this sentence
- [3] 13:12 Or on its behalf
- [4] 13:14 Or on behalf of
- [5] 13:16 Greek bondservant
- [1] 13:18 Some manuscripts 616

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 14

- [2] 14:8 Or wrath

- [1] 14:12 Greek and the faith of Jesus
- [2] 14:20 About 184 miles; a stadion was about 607 feet or 185 meters

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 15

- [1] 15:3 Greek bondservant
- [2] 15:3 Some manuscripts the ages
- [3] 15:5 Or tabernacle

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 16

- [4] 16:5 Greek angel of the waters
- [5] 16:9 Greek blasphemed; also verses 11, 21
- [1] 16:18 Or voices, or sounds
- [2] 16:21 Greek a talent in weight

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 17

- [1] 17:6 Greek the witnesses to Jesus
- [2] 17:8 Greek the abyss
- [3] 17:15 Greek he

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 18

- [1] 18:3 Some manuscripts fallen by
- [1] 18:13 Or and slaves, and human lives

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 19

- [1] 19:2 Greek bondservants; also verse 5
- [2] 19:9 Greek he said
- [1] 19:10 Greek fellow bondservant
- [2] 19:13 Some manuscripts sprinkled with
- [3] 19:18 Greek bondservant
- [4] 19:20 Or on its behalf

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 20

- [1] 20:1 Greek the abyss; also verse 3
- [2] 20:9 Some manuscripts from God, out of heaven, or out of heaven from God

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 21

- [1] 21:3 Or tabernacle
- [2] 21:3 Some manuscripts peoples
- [3] 21:3 Some manuscripts omit as their God
- [1] 21:16 About 1,380 miles; a stadion was about 607 feet or 185 meters
- [2] 21:17 A cubit was about 18 inches or 45 centimeters

Footnotes for Revelation, Chapter 22

- [1] 22:1 Greek he

- [2] 22:2 Or the Lamb. In the midst of the street of the city, and on either side of the river, was the tree of life
- [3] 22:3 Greek bondservants; also verse 6
- [1] 22:9 Greek fellow bondservant
- [2] 22:14 Some manuscripts do his commandments
- [3] 22:21 Some manuscripts all the saints

Study Notes

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:1 revelation. Gk apokalypsis; Eng "apocalypse." See "Apocalyptic," p 1395. In fact, another title for Rv is "the Apocalypse of John." The noun is singular, describing the entire Book as a unified revelation from and about Jesus. However, John also describes distinct experiences of what he "saw" (see notes, Ezk 1:1, 3, regarding the OT expression "vision"; cf Rv 9:17), which divides the Book into scenes. Understanding the relationship between these scenes is essential to understanding the Book. See outline, p 2198. Jesus Christ. See note, Php 2:11. soon. See note, Rv 1:3. sending His angel. See note, 22:6. John. Traditionally taken as the son of Zebedee (Mk 1:19–20). On authorship, see p 2196.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:2 witness … testimony. Both from Gk martyria. John testified in written form about the visions he beheld so his readers might benefit from the messages they communicate.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:3 Blessed. Gk makarios, "happy." First of seven beatitudes in Rv (cf 14:13; 16:15; 19:9; 20:6; 22:7, 14). Significantly, the number of beatitudes in this writing corresponds to the number of churches addressed in 2:1–3:22. See p 1901. The blessing attached to hearing this Book suggests that John wrote Rv to stand along with the rest of the Scriptures. See pp 2099–2101. aloud. In the ancient world, people typically read aloud, even when no audience was present (cf Ac 8:30). However, this verse's twin reference to "the one who reads" and to "those who hear" shows that Rv was meant to be read within the context of a worship service (cf Col 4:16; 1Th 5:27). the time is near. The Scriptures focus all of history on Christ. Through His death, resurrection, ascension, and sending of the Holy Spirit, God is completing His plan of salvation and the last days have begun (cf Ac 2:17). Thus, the end is always near, regardless of our reckoning of times and dates.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:1–3 As John begins relaying the prophetic word that God gives through him, he pronounces a blessing upon all who will listen and take to heart this revelation. Despite this promised blessing, however, people are resistant to hearing unsettling prophecies, let alone acting upon them by making changes in their lives. But take heart! Jesus Christ stands at the center of this and every other Scripture. His first coming resulted in forgiveness and life for you, and His second coming will perfect the new creation. • Lord Jesus, lead me to read, hear, and keep the message You revealed through John, for it tells about my final hope, even life eternal in Your presence. Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:4–5 John's greeting explicitly mentions the persons of the Holy Trinity. See notes, vv 4, 5; 4:8.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:4 seven. Throughout Scripture, the number seven symbolizes completeness (cf Gn 2:1–3; 7:2; Lv 4:6, 17; Rv 2:1; 6:1; 8:2; 15:7; see p 217). Accordingly, these seven churches may represent the whole Christian Church on earth and the challenges churches face. However, this does not mean these churches represent epochs of Church history. See note, chs 2–3. churches that are in Asia. John wrote a letter to each of these communities (2:1–3:22). Him who is and who was and who is to come. God the Father. This characterization stresses that God is eternal, without beginning or end. seven spirits. An unusual way of referring to the Holy Spirit (see note, Is 11:2).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:5 the faithful witness. Jesus, who fearlessly testified during His ministry and trial (cf Jn 5:36; see note, Rv 1:2). firstborn of the dead. See notes, 1Co 15:20–27; Col 1:18. ruler of kings on earth. Christ is the risen and ascended One, to whom all authority in heaven and on earth has been given (cf Mt 28:19; Eph 1:20–23). Jesus' heavenly coronation is depicted in Rv 5:1–14. See pp 1565–66.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:6 a kingdom, priests. Cf Ex 19:6. The Christian Church stands in continuity with God's OT people. See note, Rv 4:4. The Church exercises its priestly function by offering intercessory prayers and by proclaiming "the excellencies of Him who called [them] out of darkness into His marvelous light" (1Pt 2:9). Rv repeatedly depicts the saints sharing in Christ's rule (Rv 2:27; 3:21). See note, 5:10. Luth: "We have nothing from God except the pure Word, namely, that the Lord Jesus sits at the right hand of the Father and is the Judge of the living and the dead, and that through Him we are kings and priests (Rev. 1:6)…. Meanwhile we should believe and hope. For if one could see it now before one's eyes, there would be no need of faith" (AE 4:357). Hus: "That person, Christ, is everywhere present, since he is very God whose right it is to be everywhere without limitation. He is the bishop, who baptizes and takes away the sins of the world, John 1:29. He is the one who joins in marriage so that no man may put asunder … [Matt. 19:6]. He is the one who makes us priests … [Rev. 1:6]. He performs the sacrament of the eucharist … [Luke 22:19]. This is he who confirms his faithful ones … [Luke 21:15]" (The Church, p 120).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:7 every eye will see Him. Refers to Christ's second coming on the Last Day. Note that Jesus' suffering, death, resurrection, ascension, sitting at God's right hand, and returning to judge are all mentioned in vv 5–7. pierced Him. See note, Zec 12:10.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:8 Alpha and the Omega. First and last letters of Gk alphabet. As such, this title underlines God's eternal nature. It should be noted that both here and at 21:6, this title is applied to God the Father, while at 22:13 it is applied to Jesus. This demonstrates Jesus' eternal divinity. See note, Jn 1:1. the Almighty. Because Rv reserves this title for the Father (4:8; 11:17; 15:3; 16:7, 14; 19:6, 15; 21:22), it stands in contrast with "the Alpha and the Omega" designation, which is applied to both Father and Son. See p 1227. Luth: "We are not the ones who can preserve the church, nor were our forefathers able to do so. Nor will our successors have this power. No, it was, is, and will be he who says, 'I am with you always, to the close of the age.' As it says in Hebrews 13 [:8], 'Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, and today, and forever,' and in Revelation 1 [:8], 'He who is and who was and who is to come' " (AE 47:118).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:4–8 John praises the one true God—the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit—while simultaneously clarifying the identity of God's people: they are the "kingdom" and "priests" for whom He will soon come. Given our continual failure to live up to such a high calling, we need to hear again and again the truth of our identity in Christ. When the Gospel of God's grace is preached, the Church may speak a hearty "Amen" in its conviction that Jesus will return and then perfect our redemption. • Lord, You promise to return soon and transform us perfectly into Your image. Amen! Come, Lord Jesus!

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:9–3:22 The first scene of John's vision is the Son of Man and the letters He dictates to the seven churches. See outline, p 2198.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:9 the tribulation … in Jesus. John was suffering persecution when he wrote this Book, as were many other Christians at that time. In fact, John wrote Rv while exiled. See "Authorship and Date," p 2196. Patmos. An island in the Aegean Sea, off the coast of the ancient province of Asia (modern Turkey). See map, p 2197. It is not far from the seven cities of v 11. The imperial authority had exiled John to this island.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:10 in the Spirit. Because of the Spirit's role in his visions, John's message was as inspired and authoritative as those of the OT prophets. See note, v 3. the Lord's day. Sunday. Already by the late first century, Christians were worshiping on the first day of the week, in honor of Christ's resurrection from the dead. It is possible that John received his heavenly visions during a worship service. That would be most fitting, since heaven and earth are united in a unique way during Christian worship (see notes, v 3; 5:9). "Because it was necessary to appoint a certain day for the people to know when they ought to come together, it appears that the Church designated the Lord's Day [Revelation 1:10] for this purpose" (AC XXVIII 60).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:11 seven churches. See note, v 4.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:12 see the voice. A curious expression, since one cannot really "see" a voice. John stresses the mystery and majesty of the One appearing to him. lampstands. These represent the seven churches. Such symbolism accords well with Mt 5:14–16.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:13–15 a son of man. Favorite self-designation of Jesus during His earthly ministry. See p 2098. hairs … white … fire … many waters. Cf Dn 7:9–14, which describes the "ancient of days"; here the "Son of Man" is so depicted. Note that this is another way that John portrays the exalted Christ as co-equal with the Father (see notes, Rv 1:8; 22:13).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:16 stars. The angels assigned to guard the seven churches. The fact that Jesus held these seven stars in His hand means that He plays an active part in protecting and caring for His people. sword. Represents the Word of Christ, who rules in His Church by means of His Word.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:17 fell at His feet. An act of worship and response to Jesus' awesome appearance. Jesus is fully divine and worship is rightly directed toward Him (cf 19:10; 22:8–9). the first and the last. More or less synonymous with "the Alpha and the Omega" title of v 8; 21:6; 22:13.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:18 the living one. Refers not merely to Jesus' resurrection, but also to His capacity to impart eternal life to others (cf Jn 11:25–26).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:19 John's visions were divinely given and must be relayed to the Church. See notes, vv 3, 10.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:20 stars are the angels. See note, v 16.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 1:9–20 John describes his awesome vision of the risen and exalted Christ. Jesus is such an imposing figure that John instinctively falls down before Him, trembling with fear. We would surely react the same way in His presence. But Jesus is not merely about overwhelming power and glory. He was made like us in every way except without sin. Having overcome death and the grave, He now promises to share His eternal life and glory with us. • "Oh come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before the LORD, our Maker! For He is our God, and we are the people of His pasture, and the sheep of His hand" (Ps 95:6–7). Amen.
REVELATION—NOTE ON Chs 2–3 Seven letters, each one addressed to the churches listed in 1:11. Every letter conforms to a similar pattern: (1) Jesus addresses the congregation; (2) Jesus introduces Himself as the speaker and is identified with significant titles; (3) Jesus affirms what is good and right with that church; (4) Jesus rebukes the congregants for what they lack; (5) Jesus issues a call to repentance; (6) Jesus promises blessing to "the one who conquers"; (7) Jesus gives an exhortation to "hear what the Spirit says." The letters present Jesus as guardian and protector of His people. Jesus similarly identifies Himself with titles from the opening chapter in each of these seven letters. On the format of early Christian letters, see pp 1899–1901.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:1 angel of the church. Since Gk angelos lit means "messenger," this likely describes the pastor of the congregation. Ephesus. See map, p 2197. seven stars. See note, 1:16. seven golden lampstands. See note, 1:12. That Jesus walks among them signifies His abiding presence among His people on earth.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:2 apostles … false. Pseudo-apostles offered counterfeit versions of the Christian faith (cf 2Co 11:4–5, 12–15; Gal 1:6–9). The Epistles of John warn against "docetic" teachings, i.e., the denial that the Son of God truly assumed human flesh (2Jn 7–8).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:3 enduring. Or, "persevering."
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:4 the love. John's Letters show a similar concern for Jesus' command to love one another as He has loved us (Jn 13:34–35; cf 1Jn 4:7–12; 2Jn 4–6). The Lord warned against brotherly love growing cold in the chaos of the end times (Mt 24:12).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:5 works you did at first. The NT contains many exhortations for the faithful to remain zealous for good works until the day of Christ's appearing (cf Ti 2:11–14).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:6 hate. A strong but appropriate word, given the destructive nature of the false teaching involved. See notes, Ps 5:5; 1Jn 2:9–11. Nicolaitans. Comparison with Rv 2:14–15, as well as reports from Early Church fathers, suggests that the Nicolaitans indulged in meat offered to pagan gods and engaged in sexual immorality. Similar problems plagued the Corinthian Church (cf 1Co 6:12–20; 8:1–13; 10:6–30). If, as the Church fathers Irenaeus and Clement claimed, this sect was named for the Nicolaus mentioned in Ac 6:5, then one encounters here a striking fall from grace.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:7 He who has an ear. Exhortation found in many prophetic passages, including Jesus' own teaching (cf Mt 13:9). A modern equivalent might be "a word to the wise." See note, Mt 11:15. paradise of God. Cf Gn 1–2. Had Adam and Eve avoided sin, they would have forever lived in holiness and continually eaten from the tree of life. John's final vision depicts the Lord bringing a renewed heaven and earth and restoring access to the tree of life (Rv 21:1–4; 22:1–5).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:1–7 Jesus encourages the Ephesian believers to avoid false teachers, return to their first love, and be zealous for good works. Such admonitions continue to apply today, even as moral relativism and watered-down doctrine abound. Yet Jesus helps us overcome all these things. Not even death and hell could defeat Him! • "Praise, Lord, for Your apostles … May we with zeal as earnest The faith of Christ maintain, Be bound in love together, And life eternal gain." Amen. (LSB 518:28)

REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:8 angel. See note, v 1. Smyrna. See map, p 2197.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:9 slander. The first Christians repeatedly suffered hardship when unbelieving Jews slandered them and turned public opinion against them (cf Ac 13:42–50; 14:1–7, 19). Believers frequently had to defend themselves before government officials (cf Ac 17:1–9; 18:5–17). synagogue of Satan. Such hostile unbelief is ultimately inspired by Satan. On synagogues, see p 1557.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:10 tested. Gk peirazo, "test" and "tempt." On the one hand, Satan tempts us to become faithless. On the other hand, the Lord also allows us to be tested (cf Jb 1–2; see note, Gn 22:1). But God never tempts anyone to sin (Jas 1:13). ten days. Probably symbolizes a short time, like the 10-day period of testing in Dn 1:12, 14.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:11 second death. Eternal separation from God, which is to be distinguished from physical death (see notes, 20:6; 2Th 1:9). See also note, Jn 5:24.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:8–11 Jesus promises the Church at Smyrna the crown of eternal life if it would faithfully endure the persecution it was suffering. In many parts of the world, the Church is still undergoing persecutions today. And then there are Christians who complain about being inconvenienced for their faith! In either case, what matters is the surpassing greatness of the crown that Jesus will bestow on those who remain true. • " 'Come unto Me, ye weary, And I will give you rest.' O blessed voice of Jesus, Which comes to hearts oppressed! It tells of benediction, Of pardon, grace, and peace, Of joy that hath no ending, Of love that cannot cease." Amen. (LSB 684:1)
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:12 angel. See note, v 1. Pergamum. See map, p 2197. sword. See note, 1:16.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:13 Satan's throne. Likely refers to Pergamum's reputation as home to numerous pagan shrines. Additionally, worship of the emperor flourished there. This detail is important, since the Christians' refusal to offer Caesar divine honors was the root cause of so much persecution. Hus: "[Christ's] seat in which he reposes, dwells and resides by grace is all the saints, just as, on the other hand, the seats of Satan in which Satan reposes, dwells and resides are all the wicked" (The Church, p 198). Antipas. Mentioned only here in the Bible, Antipas had apparently been martyred. Remarkably, for all of the emphasis on persecution in Rv, Antipas is the only named martyr.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:14 Alludes to the shameful incident related in Nu 25:1–9. Henceforth, the name of Balaam was synonymous with the most depraved forms of idolatrous worship (i.e., those involving sexual immorality). See note, 2Pt 2:15.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:15 Nicolaitans. See note, v 6.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:16 war against them with the sword. Warns that if Christians turn away from Christ, His righteous anger and unsparing judgment will fall upon them on the Last Day. See note, Heb 6:6.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:17 hidden manna. Jewish tradition held that manna would again be given to the faithful at the Messiah's appearance during the final days. Christian interpreters naturally associate this reference with Holy Communion. Cf Jn 6. white stone. In the ancient world, special pebbles were sometimes used as admission tickets to banquets. new name. Likely the saving name of Jesus (Ac 4:12).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:12–17 Jesus urges the congregation in Pergamum to repent of the pagan practices into which they were slipping and to follow the example of one who stood fast, even to the point of death. Sadly, compromising the Gospel and committing sexual sins remain problems today. Yet, Jesus offers us repentance and forgiveness also. He even prepares for us a seat at the messianic banquet that never ends. • Lord, I thank You for the godly example of those that surrendered their lives rather than deny Your name. Give me a similar unwavering faith, that I may ever hold fast Your name. Amen.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:18 angel. See note, v 1. Thyatira. See map, p 2197.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:19 latter works exceed the first. In contrast to the Ephesians, whose faith and good works were beginning to wane (v 4), the congregation at Thyatira was increasing in works and faithfulness.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:20 Jezebel. Just as Jezebel led Israel into the worship of false deities (1Ki 18:4; 2Ki 9:22), so this new false prophetess was leading the community in Thyatira into heresy and vice. prophetess. See p 389.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:21 This Jezebel has been warned but refuses to repent.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:22 Jezebel's bed—for the moment a place of pleasure—will become a place of suffering when both she and her partners are overcome with tribulations.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:23 strike her children dead. Jezebel and her consorts will be punished severely for their idolatry and immorality, and all the more because they ignored repeated calls to repentance. works. See note, 22:12.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:24 deep things of Satan. Jezebel and her followers doubtless acted like the wayward people in Corinth. They ate meat sacrificed to idols and committed sexual immorality, while claiming to be more deeply spiritual than ordinary believers (cf 1Co 8–10).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:25–26 Only those remaining faithful unto the end will see heavenly glory (cf Mt 25:1–13).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:27 rod of iron. Imagery from Ps 2:8–9, a messianic passage. There, however, the Messiah is depicted crushing the disobedient nations. Here, it is His people that do so. Thus, this passage emphasizes that Christians will share in Christ's heavenly reign (cf 2Tm 2:12; Rv 5:10; 20:4, 6).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:28 In Jewish tradition, the Messiah was associated with the appearance of a star (cf Mt 2:1–12). See note, Nu 24:17. Rv 22:16 explicitly identifies Jesus as the morning star.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:29 See note, v 7.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 2:18–29 Just as Jesus warned the Ephesians, so He also admonished the Thyatirans. They must avoid idolatrous worship and sexual immorality. We, too, must remain vigilant against such failures and repent of the times we have fallen short. By God's grace, we remain faithful to the Word of Christ and so share with Him in ruling His eternal kingdom. • Deliver us, dear Savior, from the deceptive doctrines and practices of this present age and prepare us for the age to come. Amen.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:1 angel. See note, 2:1. Sardis. See map, p 2197. seven stars. See note, 1:16. you are dead. Although this church had a good reputation, its people actually had little or no true faith. Accordingly, this congregation needed the Holy Spirit, here symbolized by the seven spirits (see note, 1:4), in order to revive it.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:2 is about to die. Unless the Christians in Sardis heeded Jesus' exhortations and woke up, the little bit of spiritual life they still had left would expire. not found your works complete. The congregation failed to follow through on the faith and service it professed.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:3 Jesus' parables (Mt 25:1–12; Mk 13:32–37) and Paul's Letters (1Th 5:4–8) contain similar commands to wakefulness and vigilance.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:4 walk with Me in white. In Rv, white garments often serve as a symbol for Christian righteousness, which is bestowed through Christ and Baptism into His name (cf 7:13–14). Paul similarly describes Baptism as having "put off" the old man and "put on" Christ (cf Gal 3:27; Col 3:9–10).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:5 book of life. Symbol for eternal life that appears throughout Rv. In 21:27, those written in the book enter the holy city (21:2), which comes down from the new heaven to the new earth.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:6 See note, 2:7.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:1–6 Jesus exhorts the congregation at Sardis to wakefulness and renewed vigor. All Christians need to remain similarly watchful, for we, too, easily lapse into spiritual lethargy and even death—even while having the reputation of being strong. Sustained by the Word and Sacrament, however, we can remain healthy even unto life everlasting. • Alleluia! "Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life." Alleluia! (Jn 6:68; LSB, p 173)

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:7 angel. See note, 2:1. Philadelphia. See map, p 2197. holy one … true. Adjectives emphasizing Christ's trustworthiness and ability to deliver on all the promises made in this Book. holy. See p 1902. who has the key of David. Stresses that Jesus is of the messianic line (cf 2Sm 7:8–16; Lk 2:4). The key symbolizes Jesus' authority to allow people into heaven or exclude them (see note, Is 22:22). He has entrusted this authority to His Church on earth (Mt 18:18; Jn 20:22–23).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:8 open door. Symbolizes the Gospel invitation. Those who believe in Jesus enter into eternal life through their faith in Him (cf v 20).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:9 are Jews and are not, but lie. See notes, 2:9; Rm 9:6. bow down. The Lord promises to vindicate the Philadelphians' faithfulness by forcing their oppressors to bow down before their feet. This may imply that some will come to saving faith. Be that as it may, all will be compelled at the Last Day to acknowledge that Christians are the true people of God (cf Php 2:10–11).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:10 trial that is coming. Refers to the "messianic woes" leading up to the end, as predicted in Mt 24:3–28.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:11 crown. Symbol of eternal life.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:12 a pillar in the temple. Symbol of a secure place in God's presence. Ancient Philadelphia suffered recurring earthquakes. As such, this "unshakeable pillar" imagery would have had special meaning to the original readers. new Jerusalem. Symbolizes God's final restoration of all creation (see notes, 21:1–2).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:13 See note, 2:7.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:7–13 Jesus assures the struggling Church in Philadelphia that their faithfulness to Him will be fully vindicated and rewarded. Outside the Church, and sadly sometimes even within it, there is a tendency to look down on those with little power. But the Lord sees things differently. He looks for faithfulness rather than power, and He gives unsurpassed strength—even over death itself—to those who trust in Him. • "Lord, keep us steadfast in Your Word … Though life be wrenched away, They cannot win the day. The Kingdom's ours forever!" Amen. (LSB 655:1; 657:4).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:14 angel. See note, 2:1. Laodicea. See map, p 2197. the beginning of God's creation. Synonymous with "the source of God's creation." Emphasizes that "all things were made through [Jesus]" (Jn 1:2–3). See p 1012.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:15 neither cold nor hot. Though the Church at Laodicea may have looked good enough outwardly, it had grown self-satisfied and thus indifferent to growing in faith and spreading the Word.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:16 I will spit you out. Given this church's severe stagnation, it needed to be shaken up.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:17 I am rich. A Laodicean's material abundance made it easy for him to imagine that he had little need for spiritual things. Luth: "He is wretched because he does not have mercy himself, and miserable because he cannot have mercy on others either, but is only miserable. But the Lord is neither wretched nor miserable, indeed, pitying the wretched and making the miserable one able to have mercy on others, so that He is not only rich toward His own, but also abounding, causing them also to make others rich" (AE 11:379). naked. Image contrasts with the clean white garments mentioned in vv 4–5, 18.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:18 True spiritual riches come from an active faith, one that is purified by the fires of trial and persecution (1Pt 1:6–7). clothe yourself. See notes, vv 4, 17; 7:14.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:19 The Scriptures repeatedly invite Christians to view hardships as means by which the Lord disciplines and brings them to greater maturity. See note, Heb 12:7.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:20 the door. See note, v 8. In this particular case, the image of Christ standing and knocking at the door may be related to the parable about the servants whose master is at a wedding feast (Lk 12:35–40). They are expected to be ready and waiting for him when he appears, with the promise that those servants whom he finds ready will be blessed. I will come … eat with him. Best understood as referring to both the Church's weekly celebrations of the Eucharist and the eternal, messianic banquet in heaven (Is 25:6–9). Luth: "The righteous always act (in fear) as if the Lord saw them. But the ungodly walk along smugly, as if God had His eyelids closed and did not see them, even though He examines them, too, and knocks, warning their conscience, as Rev. 3:20 says" (AE 10:99). "Hasten as a bride to meet Him, And with loving rev'rence greet Him. For with words of life immortal He is knocking at your portal. Open wide the gates before Him, Saying, as you there adore Him: Grant, Lord, that I now receive You, That I nevermore will leave You. He who craves a precious treasure Neither cost nor pain will measure; But the priceless gifts of heaven God to us has freely given. Though the wealth of earth were proffered, None could buy the gifts here offered: Christ's true body, for you riven, And His blood, for you once given." Amen. (LSB 636:2–3)

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:21 Jesus pictures Himself sharing a throne with His Father. In this connection, it is worth noting that double thrones did indeed exist in the ancient world. Jesus' promise that His people will sit down beside Him and His Father is another way of saying that they will share in His reign (cf 2:27, 20:6).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:22 See note, 2:7.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 3:14–22 Jesus rebukes the Laodicean Church for growing self-satisfied and indifferent to the faith. Becoming complacent and self-satisfied about our Christian walk can be as destructive as outright hostility and persecution. Despite this common failing, Christ still comes to us in His Word and Sacrament, granting repentance and forgiveness. He calls us to follow Him into life everlasting. • "O mighty Rock, O Source of life, Let Your dear Word, in doubt and strife, In us be strongly burning That we be faithful unto death And live in love and holy faith, From You true wisdom learning." Amen. (LSB 913:3)

REVELATION—NOTE ON Chs 4–5 The second scene of John's vision gives a glimpse into the heavenly realities. This scene includes the ascension/coronation of Christ at the right hand of the heavenly Father. It shows that the overall purpose of Rv is to comfort the Church as it faces persecution and awaits Christ's return. It is the heart of the revelation.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 4:1 door standing open. Symbolizes John's being granted access into God's heavenly throne room. Along with the expression "in the Spirit" (v 2), this makes clear that John is experiencing a divinely given vision. On the false interpretation that this refers to a "rapture," see pp 2197–98. open in heaven! Transitions between scenes and visions often, though not necessarily, refer to sights or openings in heaven, from which the visions appear (cf 8:1–2; 12:1; 15:1; 19:11; 20:1; see note, Mt 3:16). first voice. The exalted Christ, first heard in Rv 1:10, speaks again.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 4:2 in the Spirit. The Holy Spirit's work is to reveal God's Word (cf Jn 14:26; 16:12–13; 2Pt 1:21; see note, Rv 1:10).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 4:3 Precious gems highlight the splendor of the divine presence. Just as the breastpiece of the OT high priest was similarly adorned (Ex 28:17–20; 39:10–14), so this description also depicts holiness.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 4:4 twenty-four thrones … elders. Representatives of the 12 tribes of Israel plus the 12 apostles of Jesus. Together, they represent all God's people from both OT and NT times. See "elder," p 228.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 4:5 seven torches … seven spirits of God. See note, 1:4.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 4:6–7 sea. Normally, the sea is a symbol of chaos and evil (cf 13:1; see note, 21:1). Here, however, the sea is portrayed as tame and beautiful, thus non-threatening. four living creatures. These angelic creatures with both human and animal features are probably cherubim, since Ezekiel similarly describes such living creatures (cf Ezk 1:4–28; 10:1–8; see note, Ezk 10:1; see also p 1323).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 4:8 eyes. Symbolizes the unending vigilance of the "watchers." See note, Ezk 1:18–21. they never cease. In heaven, God's praise never ends. Even now it is ongoing. Holy, holy, holy. Echoes the worship Isaiah beheld in the heavenly temple. This threefold acclamation points to the three persons in the Holy Trinity (see note, Rv 1:4–5). This vision of heavenly worship is the basis for the Sanctus of the Communion liturgy.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 4:9 whenever. Implies ongoing, rather than sporadic, activity.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 4:10 fall down. Lying prostrate before someone was a common posture for worship in the ancient world (cf 19:10; 22:8–9; see p 1276).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 4:11 Worthy. Here, the One on the throne is praised for creating all things. Later, the triune God will be praised in similar terms for Christ's redemptive work (5:9–13). Creation is one of "the chief articles of our Christian faith" (FC SD I 34).
REVELATION—NOTE ON Ch 4 John describes the heavenly worship he saw in the Lord's throne room, where all the saints and angels adore the Lord. Regular worship is a serious matter, required by one of the Ten Commandments and described as the activity of heaven. Sadly, many people do not even feel a twinge of conscience while skipping divine services. Even while present, they may fail to focus on the promised blessing in such services. Yet, Jesus continues to call us back to His presence. In fact, His forgiveness and promise of eternal life is the first order of business in the Divine Service. • Lord, move us to love the habitation of Your house and the place where Your glory dwells, for therein we receive Your gifts of life and salvation. Amen.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 5:1 scroll. Symbolizes God's plan of salvation. written within and on the back. Implies that God's plan is comprehensive and complete.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 5:2–4 strong angel. Though John does not explicitly say so, it is likely that this angel is of a different rank from the living creatures described in 4:6–7. Different angels fulfill a variety of functions in Rv (cf 1:20; 4:6–7; 7:1; 9:15; 20:1). worthy. Gk axios, "deserving, fit." See note, 4:11. no one was found worthy. Emphasizes Christ's uniqueness, since He alone is worthy (v 5). Because of His sacrificial death and glorious resurrection, He alone is fit to reveal and bring to fulfillment God's great plan of redemption and renewal.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 5:5 the Lion of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David. Messianic titles (cf Gn 49:8–12).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 5:6 between the throne and the four living creatures. Jesus previously said that He shares a throne with His Father (see note, 3:21). Here, however, He is described as standing before God's throne. Accordingly, many interpreters understand this scene as involving a coronation or investiture of authority. One may see here a glimpse of what occurred in heaven at Christ's ascension. See note, Eph 1:20. Lamb … slain. Recalls not only that Jesus is "the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world" (Jn 1:29) but also His resurrection. seven spirits of God. See note, Rv 1:4.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 5:7 took the scroll. Investing Him as the glorified Son of Man (see note, v 6).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 5:8 fell down. By its reaction, the heavenly court affirms that the glorified Lord Jesus is worthy to be installed into His new capacity (see notes, 4:10, 11). incense … prayers of the saints. See notes, Ex 30:1, 7–8; Ps 141:2.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 5:9 sang. Christians throughout the ages have joined in the celestial singing described here (see note, 4:8). In our generation, numerous Lutheran hymnals have a musical setting that includes the very words of this canticle (e.g., "This Is the Feast," LSB, 155). Worthy. See notes, 4:11; 5:2–4.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 5:10 kingdom and priests … shall reign. See notes, 1:6; 2:27; 3:21. Luth: "All Christians are priests in equal degree" (AE 40:21).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 5:11 myriads. A myriad is ten thousand. Thus, the angels number in the millions. See note, Dn 7:10.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 5:12 Worthy is the Lamb … to receive. Christ deserves the wealth of all honor, embodied here in seven aspects symbolizing fullness (see note, 1:4). Because John records the very words of the angelic worship, the earthly Church is able to join in "with angels and archangels and with all the company of heaven" (LSB Altar Book, p 161).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 5:13 Depicts the fulfillment of the prophecy that "at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, in heaven and on earth and under the earth" (Php 2:10).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 5:14 Except for the One on the throne (the Father; v 1) and the sevenfold Spirit (v 6), everyone in heaven and earth is worshiping Jesus.

REVELATION—NOTE ON Ch 5 The character of heavenly worship powerfully underscores the glory of Christ's redeeming work. Apart from Him, our fallen world has no hope. However, because Jesus was slain and then conquered death, His people are ransomed and have the hope of glory.

• "Worthy is Christ, the Lamb who was slain, whose blood set us free to be people of God…. Blessing, honor, glory and might be to God and the Lamb forever." Amen. (LSB, p 155)

REVELATION—NOTE ON 6:1–8:5 The first scene of the end times: Christ opening the seven seals. See outline, p 2198. As each seal is broken, a calamity of the sort Jesus had predicted is unleashed (Mt 24:3–28). On the use of seals, see note, Jer 32:10.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 6:1 seven seals. Introduced at 5:1.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 6:2 a white horse! Though many are tempted to take the figure on this horse as Christ, this is unlikely. Granted, there is another figure on a white horse named "The Word of God" appearing in 19:11–13. Within ch 6, there are four horsemen described, and every one wreaks havoc. Moreover, Jesus already appears in this scene as the one breaking open the seals. Accordingly, the rider on this white horse should be taken as a symbol of mankind's insatiable hunger for power and its penchant for aggression.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 6:3 He opened. The Lamb (Christ) is opening the seals (v 1).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 6:4 another horse, bright red. This horse is the same color as a bloodthirsty dragon that later appears (12:3). This rider represents the toll of violence, esp that which is undertaken in the name of conquest (see note, v 2).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 6:5 black horse! The rider of this horse will bring famine upon the earth. scales in his hand. Ezekiel had warned that the Babylonians would destroy Jerusalem's food supply and then the Israelites would "eat bread by weight and with anxiety, and … drink water by measure and in dismay" (Ezk 4:16).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 6:6 wheat for a denarius … barley. The cost given here for grain is quite high, since a denarius represented a full day's wage. do not harm the oil and wine! The prices of these commodities are comparatively less affected by the famine. This at first seems strange, since wine and olive oil are typically more valuable than grain. Yet this depiction makes sense if one considers that wine and oil were produced throughout most of the Greco-Roman world (including Asia Minor, where John wrote), while vast areas of the empire were dependent upon imported grain.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 6:8 pale horse! The fourth rider personifies Death. Hades follows, since the latter is the abode of the dead. they were given authority. God not only knows about this scourge beforehand, but indeed allows it. Although some may judge this as out of character for a gracious God, Christians nonetheless believe that the Lord has reasons for allowing tragedies to afflict the world. See p 837; see also Luth at note, 9:11. over a fourth of the earth. Extensive, but still only the beginning. By 8:9–12 and 9:15, the end-times calamities have intensified to the point of destroying a third of the earth. By 16:1–4, calamities cover the globe. kill with … wild beasts. A violent death particularly associated with the early Christians and among the torments inflicted by Nero.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 6:9 the altar. Place of sacrifice throughout the OT. Note the rich symbolism—the martyrs are those who offer their very selves in sacrifice to the Lord. those who had been slain. Best taken as referring to the martyrs of all ages. By the time this prophecy was written in the first century, relatively few Christians had been martyred in comparison with the carnage that was to come during regional and imperial persecutions.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 6:10 These souls cry out to God just like the blood of Abel, the prototypical innocent sufferer (Gn 4:10). Not even a privileged position within the heavenly temple keeps the martyrs from fervently seeking retribution. See p 879. "The angels in heaven pray for us, as does Christ Himself (Romans 8:34). So do the saints on earth and perhaps also in heaven (Revelation 6:9–10). It does not follow, though, that we should invoke and adore the angels and saints (Revelation 22:8–9)" (SA II II 26). Luth: "We must look, as He does, upon the total number [of martyrs], which is not yet complete, but is daily in the process of being completed, until we have all been brought together. Meanwhile we must comfort ourselves that we have this King seated as our Lord, who has already subdued many of these enemies under His feet and continues to overthrow one after another. Ultimately He will destroy them all at once. And though we die, oppressed and trampled by them, as it appears, we have the comfort that He will not forget us but fetch us when His time comes, and seat us above, so that they must forever lie under our feet" (AE 13:260).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 6:11 white robe. The white robe mentioned in 3:4 is more closely associated with the Christian righteousness bestowed through Baptism. Here, it seems to represent eternal life. That said, Baptism into Christ Jesus results in "newness of life" through the power of His resurrection (Rm 6:4). the number … complete. God in effect asks the martyrs to continue waiting patiently while He gathers all the elect. We are in a similar situation, awaiting His return.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 6:12 earthquake … sun … moon. Terrestrial upheavals and celestial disturbances fulfill Jesus' prophecies about the end times. sackcloth. Symbol of mourning and repentance, often worn by those covering themselves with ashes (cf Mt 11:21; see note, Jb 16:15).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 6:13 winter fruit. On the seasons for figs, see note, Mk 11:13. shaken by a gale. Emphasizes how insignificant even the majestic heavenly bodies are when compared to the power of God's judgment.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 6:14 sky … rolled up. Cf Is 34:4. Depicts the firmament itself disappearing. every mountain and island was removed. The earth likewise will dissolve on this fearsome day.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 6:15 hid themselves in the caves. Cf Is 2:10. Plainly, this day will bring dread to all who witness it.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 6:16 Fall on us. Evokes the reaction of Israel, as that nation was experiencing divine judgment. On that day, the people will prefer to be caught in an avalanche rather than come face-to-face with divine judgment. Cf Nu 16.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 6:17 who can stand? Rhetorical question that expects the answer "No one!" (cf Ps 130:3).

REVELATION—NOTE ON Ch 6 John describes in symbolic language the calamities God will unleash upon the earth in the end times. The ferocity and totality of these predicted calamities move reflective people to shudder and repent. When people sincerely turn to God, the Lamb who has taken away the sins of the world stands ready to forgive them and restore them. His second coming is for the final deliverance of His people, not their destruction. • Give us strength to endure the end-times upheavals, gracious Father, so that by faith we persevere and then enter into eternal life with Christ, our Redeemer. Amen.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 7:1 This vision continues the previous one, though the focus now shifts from cosmic upheaval and judgment to the salvation of God's elect. angels … holding back. See note, 5:2–4. The reason that these four angels hold back the destructive winds is given in v 3. four corners … winds. See p 217.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 7:2 seal. Signifies ownership, as becomes clearer below (see notes, Jer 32:10; Eph 1:13). given power to harm. This curious reference to angels doing harm is likely related to one of Jesus' parables. Cf Mt 13:41–42.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 7:3 sealed . . foreheads. Cf Ezk 9:4–5, where the Lord commands men to pass through Jerusalem and put a mark on foreheads. Subsequently, those not bearing this mark were struck without mercy, while those who had it were spared. Already by the first centuries, making the sign of the cross upon the forehead reminded the baptized person that Christ redeemed him. Paul also refers to Baptism as a "seal" in his writings (cf 2Co 1:22; Eph 1:13, 4:30)

REVELATION—NOTE ON 7:4–8 144,000. Some incorrectly interpret this number literally as though a tiny fraction of humankind—only 144,000—will receive the deliverance described here. Instead, this number ought to be taken symbolically like others in Rv (i.e., as signifying the full number of believers from every time and place. See p 217). Israel. Refers to the true Israel, as defined in Rm 9:8. All true believers from both before and after Christ are members of the 144,000. 12,000 from the tribe. Differs from all OT lists of Israelite tribes, perhaps signaling its symbolic character. E.g., it begins with Judah, the tribe of the Messiah. Joseph and his son Manasseh are included separately. However, Joseph's other son Ephraim is missing, though the tribe was famous for leading Israel. Levi, the priestly tribe, is included, though they did not inherit land in Israel. But Dan is excluded, a tribe that foundered early in Israel's history (Jgs 18).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 7:1–8 John's vision depicts God placing a protective seal on His people and thus marking them as those who will be delivered from the great final conflagration. Given the signs that daily surround us, God could release the devastating winds of His judgment at any moment. Yet God holds back now because He is "patient toward you, not wishing that any should perish, but that all should reach repentance" (2Pt 3:9). • Lord, help us to order our days in wisdom so that we are found faithful when You call us to appear before You. For Christ's sake, forgive our sins and move us to perseverance in good works. Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 7:9 multitude. Likely the 144,000 described in vv 4–8. Later, they are identified as believers who have survived "the great tribulation" (v 14). white robes. See note, 6:11. palm branches. Symbol of victory. They were displayed when victorious kings were welcomed, most famously when Jesus entered Jerusalem.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 7:10 Salvation. The "Hosanna!" cried on Palm Sunday means "Now save us" (see note, v 9). In this vision, salvation is acclaimed as an accomplished fact.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 7:11 fell on their faces. See notes, 1:17; 4:10.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 7:12 Blessing and glory. The company of heaven repeats their refrain (cf 4:11).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 7:13 elders. Cf 4:4; see p 228.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 7:14 ones coming out of the great tribulation. Because John's vision includes the faithful from every nation and every time, it is appropriate to see those who yet live faithfully here on earth as part of that gathering. In fact, when Christians gather for worship in this world, they may be understood as participating by faith in the ongoing heavenly praise. See notes, 5:12, 14. white in the blood. A paradox. White is the color of purity, and Christ's people are purified by His blood shed for them. See note, 3:4.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 7:15 serve. Gk latreuo, a verb associated with worship and religious service.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 7:16 hunger … thirst. Images recall Israel's wilderness wanderings and the hardships of the Church's earthly pilgrimage. s*un shall not strike*. Anticipates a peaceful existence without the hardships of this fallen world. See note, Ps 121:6.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 7:17 in the midst of the throne. See note, 3:21. springs of living water. Jesus spoke of this gift during His earthly ministry (cf Jn 7:37–38). Note that whereas v 16 describes heaven as being devoid of anguish, this verse describes heaven in positive terms. Luth: "While worms and rottenness are before our eyes, we cannot be unmindful of them, nevertheless there will be a time when God will wipe away every tear, as is stated in Rev. 7:17. Therefore faith should begin to forget tears and dishonor which it does not see. Although the eyes see the rottenness, the ears hear the complaints and sobs, and the noses smell the stench of the corpses, nevertheless it is the part of faith to say: 'I do not know this. I see nothing. Indeed, I see a multiplication and a brightness surpassing the sun itself and the stars.' Therefore, such examples are set before us in order that we may learn that God is the Creator of all things, restores the dead to life and glorifies worms and the foulest rottenness. And He wants this to be acknowledged and celebrated by us in this life in faith. Later, however, in the future life, we shall experience it in actual fact" (AE 7:210–11).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 7:9–17 John gives a glimpse of the glory that is Christ's. How incredible to be part of that blessedness! Drawn onward and upward by the magnificence of this hope in Christ, God's people join in the heavenly chorus even now. • By Your grace, Lord, keep me among the faithful, so that I may forever sing Your praises in the glory of heaven. Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 8:1 silence. This silence might seem anti-climactic. However, Jews at this time expected just such a silence in the heavens before God ushered in the new creation (cf pseudepigraphal 4 Ezra 6:39; 7:30). This glorious revelation of the new heavens and earth must wait, however, as John transitions to another scene about the end times: the seven trumpets (Rv 8:6).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 8:2 seven angels who stand before God. Intertestamental Jewish literature names up to seven chief angels in heaven (see, e.g., 1 Enoch 20:1–8). On the variety of angels, see note, Rv 5:2–4.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 8:3–4 altar. Cf 6:9. The Jerusalem temple had a similar altar, on which incense was offered (cf 1Ch 28:18). prayers of all the saints. At Rv 6:9–10, the sainted martyrs are depicted as praying for vindication. Here, however, John identifies the intercessors as God's people both in heaven and on earth.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 8:5 threw it on the earth. Signals the seven angels to begin blowing their trumpets.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 8:1–5 After finishing his vision of the seven seals being broken, John transitions to another vision, which depicts the end times with successive trumpet blasts. The visions are frightful, since we all know in our hearts that we cannot stand before God in the judgment. Fortunately, we have one who stands beside us as our advocate—Jesus Christ—celebrated in chs 4–5. His blood cleanses us from all unrighteousness. • "Bold shall I stand in that great day, Cleansed and redeemed, no debt to pay; Fully absolved through these I am From sin and fear, from guilt and shame." Amen. (LSB 563:2)

REVELATION—NOTE ON 8:6–11:19 The second scene of the end times: the blowing of the seven trumpets. See outline, p 2198.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 8:6 Builds dramatic tension by underlining the gravity of what follows.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 8:7 blew his trumpet. As was true with the breaking of each of the seven seals (cf 6:1, 3, 5), so also here successive calamities are unleashed by trumpet blasts. hail and fire. Recalls two of the plagues visited upon Egypt. They were similarly a clarion call to repentance, yet went unheeded by Pharaoh.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 8:8–9 sea became blood. Cf Ex 7:20. A third of the living creatures in the sea died. Further evokes the Nile plague, since when that river turned to blood, the creatures living within it died (Ex 7:21). Amazingly, the people surviving this plague do not repent (see note, Rv 16:8–9).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 8:10 great star. Some scholars see a parallel with Jesus' seeing Satan falling from heaven like lightning (Lk 10:18; cf Rv 9:1–2; 12:9). Others argue that this simply refers to the kind of celestial disturbances that will accompany the final days (cf 6:13; Mk 13:25).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 8:11 Wormwood. A very bitter herb, thus a symbol associated with judgment throughout the OT (cf Lm 3:15, 19).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 8:12 a third. As in v 9, this calamity affects one third of creation (see note, 6:8). light … darkened. Another plague visited upon Egypt is evoked (see note, v 7).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 8:13 eagle crying. Transition from the first four trumpet blasts to the last three. The cry of a bird of prey also emphasizes the horror of what is being unleashed. Woe. Repeatedly introduces oracles of judgment in OT and NT prophecy (cf Mt 11:21; 18:7; 23:13). See p 1080.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:1 a star fallen. Satan. Stars often represent angelic beings (see note, 1:16), and Satan is a fallen angel. bottomless pit. A realm forsaken by God—the realm of the demons, previously referred to as Hades (6:8). Later, a demonic beast will emerge from this hellish pit.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:2 opened the shaft. Unleashing demonic forces. rose smoke. Evokes memories of the smoldering remains of Sodom and Gomorrah and thus symbolizes God's wrath against evil.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:3 locusts. Evokes another plague visited upon Egypt (see notes, Ex 10:4; Rv 8:7–9). Such locust infestations left vegetation stripped bare and the people famished. See pp 1447–48. scorpions of the earth. Emblematic of satanic power (cf Lk 10:18–19).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:4 told. Though the agent of this verb is not given, it is understood to be the Lord. This is an example of the "divine passive," a literary device employed at many points in Scripture (cf v 3). On hesitancy to use God's name directly, see "LORD," p 1227. not to harm.

Creation is spared, but the godless are effectively targeted. seal of God on their foreheads. Preserves the godly from the plague (see note, 7:3).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:5 Though most numbers in Rv have an obvious symbolic value, this case is different. Perhaps five months corresponds to the length of a devastating locust infestation.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:6 seek death. Jb similarly speaks about one longing for death in the midst of physical torment, yet not finding it. Great is the desperation of those without Christian hope!
REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:7–9 like horses … lions' teeth … the noise of many chariots. These unnatural characterizations emphasize that this is no ordinary disaster, but rather punishment from God's hand. crowns. Since others surrendered their crowns in 4:10, these crowned beasts probably represent an unwillingness to submit to God's rule.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:10 stings like scorpions. See note, v 3. The sting these beasts inflict is ultimately a spiritual pang (1Co 15:56). five months. See note, v 5.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:11 king over them. Pr 30:27 observes, "The locusts have no king, yet all of them march in rank." In contrast, this spiritual pestilence obeys the command of Satan and is therefore more dreadful. angel of the bottomless pit. Satan later reemerges from this pit (11:7). Abaddon … Apollyon. Both names mean "destroyer." Cf Jn 8:44. Luth: "The Lord 'exalted His holy One' (Ps. 4:3) and is 'wonderful among all His saints' (Ps. 68:35) that He destroyed the devil, not by a work of God but by a work of the devil himself [the cross]. For this is the most glorious kind of victory, namely, to pierce the adversary with his own weapon and to slay him with his own sword, as we sing: 'He fell prostrate on his own darts.' For in this way God promotes and completes His work by means of an alien deed, and by His wonderful wisdom He compels the devil to work through death nothing else than life, so that in this way, while he acts most of all against the work of God, he acts for the work of God and against his own work with his own deed. For thus he worked death in Christ, but Christ completely swallowed up death in Himself through the immortality of His divinity and rose again in glory" (AE 29:135).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:13 four horns. Projections at each corner of the OT altar, mentioned only here in the NT. See note, Ex 27:2; see also diagram, p 1838.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:14 Euphrates. See color map 3. From OT times, it represented an eastern boundary, beyond which lay hostile powers and renowned horsemen (cf v 16).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:15 four angels. Possibly the same angels mentioned at 7:1. a third of mankind. See note, 6:8.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:16 mounted troops. See note, v 14. their number. Symbolic. It is 10 doubled and then multiplied to the eighth power. Multiples of 10 signify exponential intensification. See p 217.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:17 breastplates … color. Their colors roughly correspond to the destructive forces mentioned later: red represents fire, blue is smoke, and yellow stands for sulphur. fire … sulphur. These elements anticipate the lake of fire, into which Satan and his hosts will be cast in the end (20:10).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:18 three plagues. Smoke, fire, and sulphur.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:19 power … in their mouths. Satan's host will lie and deceive. As the pen is mightier than the sword, so also the most destructive spiritual forces are those that speak convincingly against the truth of God's Word. serpents with heads. Through the serpent's forked tongue, temptation entered the world.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:20 rest of mankind. Apart from those sealed (7:3), people are not moved to repentance by the destruction they witness. works of their hands. Idols.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 9:21 murders … thefts. These sins, which are prohibited by the Second Table of the Law, naturally follow disregard for the First Table of God's Law (v 20). See note, Ex 20:12–17.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 8:6–9:21 In this vision, John describes catastrophes that will accompany the end times. With good reason, then, the apostle Paul commands us to "take up the shield of faith, with which you can extinguish all the flaming darts of the evil one" (Eph 6:16). Precisely because our sworn enemy is so cunning and powerful, it is comforting to hear that Christ has already overcome him and will defeat him once and for all on the Last Day. • "O Thou, whose coming is with dread To judge the living and the dead, Preserve us from the ancient foe While still we dwell on earth below." Amen. (LSB 351:5) REVELATION—NOTE ON 10:1 another mighty angel. Because this angel is described in terms reminiscent of God's presence among His people during the exodus (Ex 13:21), some take this figure to represent Christ. Gk angelos can simply mean "messenger." However, at many places in the OT, "angel of the LORD" does refer to the preincarnate Christ. See p 1227; see also notes, Rv 20:1, 3.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 10:2 little scroll open. In contrast to the sealed scroll introduced at 5:1, this one is open. However, the content of this scroll is never clearly revealed. Even when John is commanded to eat this scroll and prophesy its message in vv 9–11, its actual content remains a mystery (see note, v 11). right foot on the sea, and his left foot on the land. Suggests that this angel's prophecy is of universal significance (see note, v 1).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 10:3 seven thunders. As one of the most powerful sounds in nature, thunder is repeatedly associated with God's voice (cf Jn 12:28–29). seven. See note, 1:4.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 10:4 The prophecy voiced by the seven thunders will apply later, though when is not made clear. See note, Dn 8:26.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 10:5–6 raised his right hand. Cf Dn 12:7, esp due to the fact that the angel swears by "Him who lives forever and ever." The solemnity of this oath adds gravity to what follows.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 10:6 no more delay. Previous chs have hinted that God's final intervention in history might lie in the distant future (cf 6:10). At this point, however, no such delay is in view.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 10:7 mystery of God. God never reveals all His plans (cf v 4), only what we need to know most. He announced to His servants the prophets. When God reveals His plan for the future, He does so by means of His prophets. Not all OT prophecies have been fulfilled. See pp 1077–83.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 10:8 John has passively witnessed and recorded events since 7:14. As the mediator of God's revelation, however, he is now called to action. See note, v 11.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 10:9–10 bitter … sweet as honey. Prophetic messages invariably contain Law and Gospel, threat and promise, judgment and grace. Thus, as John internalizes this Word of God, it is both bitter and sweet.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 10:11 You must again prophesy. Despite this command to speak, John is not immediately depicted as revealing the content of this little scroll. Instead, he sees additional visions. He will prophesy at God's appointed time. See note, 2Pt 1:21.

REVELATION—NOTE ON Ch 10 John describes his prophetic commissioning. On the one hand, the content of John's prophecy is bitter, for it reveals God's wrath against a hostile world. On the other hand, the Word he brings from God is the sweetest possible message, for it delivers Jesus' salvation to many peoples. • Holy Lord God, I recognize that Your bitter anger over my sins is justified and that I fully deserve Your punishment. Nevertheless, Christ assures me in the sweet Gospel that He has paid for my sins and removed all judgment from me. Strengthen me in this faith. Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:1 measure the temple. Measuring the temple may help preserve it from desecration (cf v 2) and from being lost. temple. Represents God's people. The apostles speak of the Church in this way (cf 1Pt 2:4–5).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:2 outside the temple. The realm of unbelievers. trample the holy city. The fate Jerusalem suffered in AD 70. In the future, the world will run roughshod over the Church. forty-two months. Symbolic period, which appears in varying forms in chs 11–13 (1,260 days [11:3; 12:6]; "a time, and times, and a half a time" [12:14]; even as "three and a half days" [11:11]). This symbol is likely based on the length of time that Antiochus IV Epiphanes terrorized Jerusalem in 167–164 BC. It signifies a period of persecution and testing for God's people (see notes, Dn 7:25; 12:7).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:3 two witnesses. Prophets who preach repentance. The Law of Moses required two witnesses so that each could corroborate the other's testimony (cf Dt 17:6; Mt 18:16). 1,260 days. See note, Rv 11:2. sackcloth. See note, 6:12.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:4 two olive trees and the two lampstands. Cf Zec 4:2–3, which describes God's chosen (anointed) leaders.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:5 harm. Jesus predicted hardship and persecution for His followers but also assured them that the wicked could not hurt them in an ultimate sense (cf Mt 10:28; Lk 10:19). fire pours from their mouth. God's prophets speak in the power of God's Spirit, who was symbolized by seven flames (Rv 4:5; cf Ac 2:3–4).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:6 shut the sky. In the days of Elijah, a famine lasting 3½ years was intended to move King Ahab to repentance. waters … blood. Additional evocations of the plagues against Egypt (cf

8:6–13). God's purpose in all these plagues is to relieve His people's suffering while bringing the oppressors to repentance and justice.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:7 when they have finished. The witnesses must complete their testimony before they succumb to the beast's destructive power. the beast. See note, 9:11.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:8 great city … Sodom and Egypt. These places symbolize unbridled moral perversion (Gn 18:20) and exile for God's people (Gn 15:13–14). Accordingly, this description of the two witnesses lying dead in the streets signifies that the morally perverse will kill Jesus' witnesses and that God's people will live as exiles and sojourners in this wicked world. where … crucified. Jerusalem.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:9 three and a half. See note, v 2. gaze at their dead bodies. Presumably in misguided triumph.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:10 rejoice. Just as the world rejoiced at the death of Jesus, so also it rejoices here at the demise of His witnesses.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:11 breath of life from God. Recalls both the creation account and the vision recorded by Ezekiel where the breath of God restores life to dry bones. Though the witnesses suffer temporal death, resurrection and vindication awaits (cf v 5). great fear. Not just the dread of consequences, but also a sense of awe.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:12 Come up here! A summons out of the great tribulation (cf 7:14) and into the eternal blessedness in God's presence. See notes, 1Th 4:13–18.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:13 great earthquake. Like the earthquakes coinciding with the death and resurrection of Jesus, this quake also heralds God's triumph. Seven thousand. This number is likely symbolic, but it is not clear exactly what it signifies. gave glory to the God of heaven. This worship is motivated by fear rather than sincere faith. God has no pleasure in the death of the wicked (Ezk 33:11).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:14 second woe has passed. One or more elements of the conflict in 9:13–11:13. third woe. The dramatic climax of the trumpet vision is soon to follow. It should end with Judgment Day, but as at 8:1, the vision ends just short of that event.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:1–14 Using the figure of twin witnesses, John describes the response of a hostile world to the preaching of God's Word. Though ample opportunity is given for people to receive the blessings of repentance and the Gospel, most choose to reject the Church and persecute it. However, the apparent triumph of the Gospel's enemies is never the last word. Jesus' promise stands true: those remaining faithful unto death will be given the crown of life (2:10). • "Lord, be our light when worldly darkness veils us; Lord, be our shield when earthly armor fails us; And in the day when hell itself assails us, Grant us Your peace, Lord." Amen. (LSB 659:3)

REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:15 seventh … trumpet. Introduces the climactic scene of this cycle of visions. voices in heaven. The scene switches from earth to heaven when the saints arise (v 12). kingdom. See pp 1565–66. has become. For a time, creation has suffered the usurpation of the devil, "the ruler of this world" (Jn 12:31). He offered dominion to Christ in exchange for His worship, on the basis that all the world's authority and glory had been delivered to him (Lk 4:5–7). Rather than comply, however, Jesus established His rightful and eternal reign through His cross, which inflicted a mortal wound on His enemy.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:16 twenty-four elders. See note, 4:4.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:17 begun to reign. Cf v 15. At present, Christ's reign can be resisted; His subjects must willingly submit to His rule. At Judgment Day, however, things will be very different. Then, Christ will no longer tolerate any opposition. He will once and for all forcibly subjugate His enemies. See notes, 1Co 15:25–27; Php 2:10.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:18 dead to be judged. Judgment Day is again announced (cf v 12). The reward of the faithful and the destruction of the impious is at hand.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:19 God's temple … was opened. The temple is God's habitation (heaven). As such, this opening indicates that the Lord is accessible to His people. ark of His covenant was seen. Previously, this was absolutely inaccessible. Those who approached it were punished with death. John foresees that the face-to-face communion with God draws ever nearer. lightning, rumblings, peals of thunder, an earthquake, and heavy hail. These events regularly accompany OT theophanies (cf Ex 19:16–19; Ps 18:11–15). These signs indicate that God is about to appear. However, the vision is cut short (cf 8:1).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 11:15–19 John describes the transition from Satan's temporary rule of the world to the consummation of God's reign. For now, people can refuse to obey God. But such resistance will someday be met with an irresistible outpouring of wrath and judgment.

Christ's people need not fear that day. Instead, they may long for the day when God will be all in all, and perfect harmony will again prevail. • "And when the fight is fierce, the warfare long, Steals on the ear the distant triumph song, And hearts are brave again, and arms are strong. Alleluia! Alleluia!" Amen. (LSB 677:5)

REVELATION—NOTE ON Chs 12–14 The third scene of the end times: the battle between the triune God and the anti-Trinity. See outline, p 2198.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 12:1 woman. Represents God's people (Israel and the Church), the saints of all times. clothed with the sun … moon under her feet. Consistent with John's description that he sees this woman "in heaven." These details emphasize the dignity of God's people and the fact that their true home is with God. crown of twelve stars. The number 12 represents the people of God. See p 217.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 12:2 pregnant … birth pains. This birth represents the coming of the Savior in the flesh (cf Mi 5:3). The woman is not only the mother of all believers (Gal 4:26); she also helped bear and nurture the Christ, her Savior and Lord (Mt 1:23).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 12:3 a great red dragon. Satan (cf v 9). seven heads … seven diadems. Several descriptive details here resemble the depiction of the Lamb in 5:6. This is one of numerous places where the usurper Satan attempts to pass himself off as divine. See notes, 13:13; 17:8.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 12:4 His tail swept down. Luther colorfully described the abuses and false understandings of the medieval Mass as a "dragon's tail" because it swept so many people into idolatry (SA II II 11). stars … cast them to the earth. Stars often represent angelic figures (1:16, 20; 9:1). On that understanding, this depiction is likely Satan's (and his host's) original fall from heaven, when they first rebelled against God. devour it. Satan saw an opportunity when Jesus assumed flesh and came into this world. So Satan took every opportunity to thwart God's plan of salvation. Herod's slaying of the innocents (Mt 2:16–18) is part of what lies behind this scene.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 12:5 male child. Jesus, God come in the flesh. one who is to rule … with a rod of iron. Jesus describes Himself in these terms in His letter to Thyatira (2:27). caught up to God. Jesus' ascension. It is striking that no reference to His death or resurrection appears here. The emphasis is on His triumph.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 12:6 wilderness. As Israel wandered in the wilderness, waiting to enter their true home, so also members of the Church live as pilgrims here on earth until they reach their promised land and true home, the new heavens and the new earth. During this time on earth, God takes care of them. See note, 2:1. 1,260 days. See note, 11:2.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 12:1–6 John portrays God's people as a struggling woman who is stalked by the devil and forced to flee into the desert. God's people have to contend with demonic onslaughts. At times, we may despair in this struggle, wondering whether God even remembers us. Yet He unfailingly preserves us in our wilderness sojourn, richly and daily providing everything we need through His Spirit, Word, and Sacraments. • Lord God, preserve us during our earthly exile. Give us a hunger for Your Word and Sacraments so that we never weaken in our faith. We thank You for sending Your Son to be born of a woman, under the Law, so that He might redeem us and bring us to our true home in heaven. Amen.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 12:7 Now. Indicates a new aspect of the vision: what happened after the "child was caught up to God and to His throne" (v 5). Michael and his angels fighting. Michael is similarly depicted as fighting for God's people in Dn 10:13. the dragon and his angels. Satan and his demonic cohorts (see notes, Rv 12:4; Mt 25:41).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 12:9 that ancient serpent … the devil. Reminds the reader that Satan first deceived Eve while disguised as a serpent (cf 2Co 11:3). "He led them away from God's outward Word to spiritualizing and self-pride [Genesis 3:2–5]" (SA III VIII 5). Because of that primeval deception, he is rightly called "the deceiver of the whole world." deceiver. "If you try to help yourself by your own thoughts and counsel, you will only make the matter worse and give the devil more space. For he has a serpent's head [Revelation 12:9]. If it finds an opening into which it can slip, the whole body will follow without stopping. But prayer can prevent him and drive him back" (LC III 111). he was thrown. Though Michael and the angels help God's cause by waging war against Satan, the real cause of this enemy's defeat is "the blood of the Lamb," as v 11 makes clear. The decisive victory of Christ over Satan was won at the cross (Jn 12:3–33).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 12:10 the accuser. Jb 1–2 provides the crucial background here. There, Satan is depicted as a prosecuting attorney in the heavenly court (cf Jb 1:6–11; 2:1–8). "Satan" means "adversary" in Hbr (as in a courtroom accuser). Similarly, the Gk term "devil" comes from a verb meaning "bring charges with hostile intent." thrown down. Now that Jesus has secured mankind's acquittal through His death and resurrection (Col 2:14), Satan is no longer allowed to bring charges against us. Luth: "When, I say, [Satan] comes to you and accuses you not only of failing to do anything good but of transgressing against the Law of God, then you must say: 'You are troubling me with the memory of past sins; in addition, you are telling me that I have not done anything good. This does not concern me. For if I either trusted in my performance of good works or lost my trust because I failed to perform them, in either case Christ would be of no avail to me. Therefore whether you base your objections to me on my sins or on my good works, I do not care; for I put both of them out of sight and depend only on the freedom for which Christ has set me free' " (AE 27:11).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 12:11 blood of the Lamb. The Church's victory over Satan was achieved through the blood shed by Jesus on the cross (1Jn 1:7). and by the word of their testimony. Though Jesus' death is the effective cause of salvation, the Gospel testimony is the means by which this deliverance is received and spread.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 12:12 But woe to you … his time is short! Until his final banishment in hell (20:10), the devil will spare no effort in attacking the faithful (cf 12:17). As he nears the end of his run, the devil's attacks will become increasingly furious (cf 20:7–10).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 12:13 Because Satan can no longer engage the resurrected and ascended Christ directly (vv 5, 9), he makes the Church (v 1) the object of his assaults.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 12:14 the woman was given the two wings. The woman's escape (v 6) is finally described. wings of the great eagle. Recalls the protection God provided for Israel during the desert wandering. a time, and times, and half a time. See note, 11:2.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 12:15–16 Another allusion to the exodus and period of desert wandering, specifically the account of Korah's rebellion (Nu 16:31–34).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 12:17 Satan continually makes war against all who believe and live according to the Law ("the commandments") and the Gospel ("the testimony of Jesus"). sea. Sets the stage for the following vision, where a demonic beast arises (13:1).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 12:7–17 John depicts the cosmic struggle between the forces of good and of evil, and the damage it continually threatens to inflict upon the Church. This depiction makes clear that although Satan cannot overcome the Church, he nonetheless tries his hardest to drag down with him as many as possible. It is most comforting to know, therefore, that Jesus has already defeated Satan and forgiven our sins, so that we can never be lost. • We thank You, Lord God, for giving us the victory over the devil through Your Son, Jesus. We draw strength from the protection You grant to us and all Christians during our spiritual warfare. Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 13:1 a beast. First of two beasts appearing in this vision (cf v 11). This terrifying creature seems to be something of a composite of the four beasts described in Dn 7:2–7. Because the four beasts in Daniel's vision represented four world powers, this first beast is best taken as an embodiment of broad political authority, particularly the Roman caesar. sea. See notes, 4:6–7; 21:1. blasphemous names. When John recorded Rv, the caesar was demanding divine titles and honors, arrogating names for himself in blasphemous ways (e.g., "divine," "lord," "god").

REVELATION—NOTE ON 13:2 the dragon gave. Because Satan is intent on using this beast for his purposes, he endows him with his own power and authority. This empowerment is only possible because God allows it, however, since all authority ultimately comes from Him.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 13:3 its mortal wound was healed. Possibly a cryptic allusion to the Roman emperors Caligula or Nero. Sulp: "According to that which was written regarding [Nero];—'And his mortal wound was healed,'—to be sent forth again near the end of the world, in order that he may practice the mystery of iniquity" (NPNF 2 11:111).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 13:4 they worshiped the dragon. Satan shares his demonic power with the beast so that this monstrosity will induce his subjects to worship the age-old impostor. Cf v 11, when another beast joins in this coalition. Then, the devil and this pair of beasts form a counterfeit "anti-Trinity" (see notes, vv 11–18).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 13:5 forty-two months. See note, 11:2.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 13:6–7 those who dwell in heaven. The beast not only blasphemes God but also slanders heaven and the Church. If he could, this fiend would bedevil the elect beyond the grave! war on the saints. Because of the authority Satan has lent the beast (see note, v 2), he has great strength to inflict misery upon God's people.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 13:8 all … will worship. In Roman times, people throughout the empire were required to offer incense to images of Caesar. before the foundation of the world. Paul likewise teaches that God chose the elect for eternal salvation even before the world began (Eph 1:4; Rm 8:28–30). This election was based on His grace, not on anything the recipient had done (Rm 11:5; 2Tm 1:9). See p 1929. book of life. Symbol of God choosing His people and their membership in His kingdom. See note, Rv 3:5.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 13:9 See note, 2:7.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 13:10 if anyone … slain. This oracle is intended to instill confidence in the persecuted Christians. God is still in control, regardless of what they might be suffering. Here is a call for … the saints. The beleaguered Church is encouraged to believe that, come what may, their eternal election is sure (cf Rm 8:31–39).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 13:1–10 In order to bolster his attacks against God and His people, the devil enlists the aid of a hideous beast, which represents worldly power and political authority run amok. This scenario invites us to consider some important questions: Have we ever allowed an authority besides God to determine what is right or wrong for us? Have we ever obeyed man rather than God? If so, seek God's forgiveness in Christ. He invites us to believe that He chose us and wrote our name in His Book of Life before the world began. • Father, I thank You for making me Your own child through Christ Jesus. Grant me strength always to endure even difficult days, especially in these last times before the end. Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 13:11–12 earth. In contrast to the first beast, which arose from the sea, this one arises from the earth. Thus, the two beasts stem from and hold influence over all the world. two horns like a lamb. This beast does not appear as fearful as the first one (vv 1–3). Jesus' warning about the wolves in sheep's clothing still applies (Mt 7:15). makes the earth … worship the first beast. This second beast destroys the Church from the inside, by introducing false doctrines and errant practices (cf 1Jn 4:1–3). Cf Rv 19:20, where this second beast is explicitly called "the false prophet."

REVELATION—NOTE ON 13:13 This beast seems to wield divine power, but in fact only deceives. His are not true miracles because they are not done in conjunction with sound doctrine. Ironically, this beast imitates the miracle Elijah performed while proving that Yahweh is the only true God (1Ki 18:24–40).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 13:14 image. Since Adam's fall, people tend to worship images of animals and personified natural forces (Rm 1:23, 25).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 13:16–17 marked. Identifying marks sometimes served to signify ownership (cf Dt 15:17). These marks thus function as the demonic counterpart to the protective seal God places upon His people (cf 9:4). no one can buy or sell unless he has the mark. Economic activity is restricted to those bearing the mark of the beast.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 13:18 calculate. Gk psephizo, "figure out." Considerable time and effort has been spent trying to decipher this enigmatic number, but no single solution has won general acceptance. his number is 666. The threefold six may indicate a threefold falling short of seven, the number of perfection (see p 217). That would be a fitting number for the anti-Trinity (see notes, vv 4, 11–12). Hbr and Gk characters served both as letters and numbers. "Nero Caesar" transliterated into Hbr does total 666, and numerous other names have also been proposed.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 13:11–18 In order to make his attacks against God's people even more devastating, Satan enlists the assistance of another beast, this one representing deceit and corruption from within the Church. Unfortunately, this kind of attack remains deadly and still succeeds in deceiving many believers today. Were it not for God's Spirit and the unshakeable foundation of Christ's Word, even the elect would be led astray. Kept safely in Jesus' hand, however, they remain secure. • Father, grant me steadfastness in all times of temptation, especially during these last days. You will never allow anyone or anything to wrench me from the security of Your grasp; therefore, You alone are worthy of my trust and praise. Amen.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:1 on Mount Zion stood the Lamb. Given the similarities to the scene occurring in 7:1–17, this scene is best understood as set in heaven.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:2 voice. Gk phone, "sound." John clarifies that this sound is actually a multitude of harpists playing and singing.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:3 No one could learn that song. This "new song" is beyond the comprehension of earthbound souls, esp unbelievers. They neither hear it nor participate in it. See "new song," p 843. from the earth. In contrast to 7:4, the 144,000 described here represent the saints who have been delivered from their earthly sojourn and received into heaven. Their new glorified existence includes the learning and singing of the new song.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:4 have not defiled themselves with women. A curious expression, since the Bible does not consider sexual relationships within the bonds of marriage to be defiling. Therefore, a figurative meaning must be intended. Taking into account the surrounding context, one suspects that these 144,000 are those that were slain for refusing to worship the beast (13:15) and receive his mark (13:16–17). virgins. When Paul describes the Church as Christ's Bride, "holy and without blemish" (Eph 5:25–27), he means that she maintains purity by staying faithful to God and keeping His commandments. Hus: "Christ is the bridegroom of virginity, who, as he lives forever, can not allow the bride to desert him and fornicate spiritually. Thus it is said of the multitude of the heavenly denizens that they are virgins and follow the Lamb wheresoever he goes" (The Church, p 13). firstfruits. See p 6.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:5 in their mouth no lie was found. They refused to join in the worship of the beast (13:15). They resisted the lie that this beast was divine (13:13) and worthy of devotion. blameless. The 144,000 are described as having "washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb" (7:14). See note, Jb 1:1.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:1–5 John relates a vision in which those who have been delivered by the Lamb stand gathered around God's throne, singing a heavenly song of praise. This group, which is described as blameless, differs from the earthly people of God, who still slip into sin by defiling themselves in countless ways. Yet God remains faithful. He forgives when we fail to remain true to Him, and that gives us every reason to rejoin the saints in praising Him. • Heavenly Father, remind me that You have chosen me to be Your own child through the death and resurrection of the unblemished Lamb. Grant my heart joy as I join in singing a new song before Your throne. Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:6 an eternal gospel. Not a new Gospel, since there is only one (Gal 1:6–8). See "Gospel," p 1902. The messenger proclaims the enduring message of deliverance from evil, just as the new song (v 3) proclaims redemption anew (see "new song," p 843).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:7 Fear God. See p 1001. give Him glory … judgment has come. At first blush, this announcement does not sound much like the Gospel. However, it is indeed good news for the faithful, since the saints are repeatedly depicted as suffering at the hand of evildoers in Rv.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:8 Babylon. First mention of a figure that subsequently plays a large role. Not the ancient Mesopotamian city, but rather the imperial capital of John's time, Rome (see note, 1Pt 5:13). Because her caesars demand the kind of divine honors that the Christians will not render, she retaliates by oppressing the faithful (see notes, 13:1, 3, 8). Note how clearly "Babylon" is shown to be working with the two beasts (cf 17:3–17).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:9 worships … receives a mark. Cf 13:11–17. At this point, the actual fate of those worshiping the beast is revealed.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:10 the cup of His anger. See note, Is 51:17. presence of the holy angels … Lamb. Underscores that the final judgment will be public, for all to see (cf Mt 25:31–46).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:11 Just as God provides eternal joy and security for His saints (Ps 23:6), so also eternal shame and torment await those who reject Him (Mt 25:41). Luth: "Smoke went up, that is, their anger and disdain with which they fight and speak even against God; and the wrathful pride of those who hate Christ always goes up and increases more and more" (AE 10:118).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:12 See note, 13:10.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:13 Second of seven beatitudes. See note, 1:3. Blessed are the dead. The blessing comes at a decisive moment, as the final judgment is about to be revealed. Bern: "Not those alone who die for the Lord, like the martyrs, but without doubt those also who die in the Lord as confessors are blessed. There are two things, as it seems to me, which make death precious, the life which precedes it and the cause for which it is endured…. By the mercy of God, you are beginning to live again, not to sin, but to righteousness, not to the world, but to Christ, knowing that to live to the world is death, and even to die in Christ is life" (SLSB, pp 176–77, 224–25). Luth: "Christ is nothing other than sheer life, as his saints are likewise. The more profoundly you impress that image upon your heart and gaze upon it, the more the image of death will pale and vanish of itself without struggle or battle. Thus your heart will be at peace and you will be able to die calmly in Christ and with Christ, as we read in Revelation [14:13], 'Blessed are they who die in the Lord Christ' " (AE 42:104). deeds follow them! Because their deeds give evidence of faith in Jesus, those who persevere in serving Jesus—even in the midst of intense persecution—receive eternal rest, the ultimate blessing from God. See notes, 1Co 3:8–14.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:6–13 John relates a vision of three angels warning the world against the disaster that will come upon those worshiping the beast. Despite a multitude of such admonitions, people, including those who know better, still chase after false gods. Those who remain faithful to God and His Word will be blessed, however, entering into eternal rest when they pass out of this world. • God, I praise You for keeping me united to Your Son. Continue giving me strength to withstand all enticements to abandon the faith. Keep me patient while I await my eternal rest in You. Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:14 one like a son of man. Another depiction of the glorified Jesus (cf 1:13–15). This time, however, the Lord is described as holding a sharp sickle. son of man. See p 2098.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:15–16 temple. Cf 3:12; 7:15. Put in Your sickle, and reap … harvest. Imagery depicts the final judgment; first used by the OT prophets (cf Is 27:12). Significantly, Jesus Himself speaks similarly (Mt 13:30). The "grim reaper" figure has its origins in this imagery.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:17–18 Continues the reaping metaphor begun in vv 15–16. One senses a mixed metaphor, however, since sickles are not typically used to harvest grapes.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:19 winepress of the wrath of God. Harvested grapes were put into vats and crushed in order to extract the juice. In the ancient world (and in many places today), this extraction was accomplished by trampling the fruit underfoot. Thus, John gives a vivid illustration of how God's wrath will come down upon the wicked on Judgment Day (cf Jl 3:13). See note, Is 63:2.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:20 city. Jerusalem, symbol for God's people. blood … as high as a horse's bridle. The juice flowing out of the winepress is identified with the blood of those undergoing the judgment. 1,600 stadia. Another symbol. A multiple of four, which typically represents the earth. See p 217. John forcefully underlines the overwhelming nature of God's judgment.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 14:14–20 John describes the final judgment in terms of a harvest and treading of a winepress. Those in Christ need not worry over God's wrath, for instead of your blood flowing from God's winepress, Jesus' blood was poured out from the cross for you. His sacrifice for your sin removes the penalty of eternal death from you. • Lord Jesus, I thank You for suffering the wrath that I deserved. Though You were innocent and I was guilty, You shed Your blood for me, thus washing all my sins away. Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON Chs 15–16 The fourth scene of the end times: the pouring out of the seven bowls of wrath. See outline, p 2198.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 15:1 Then I saw. Indicates a new vision is about to be revealed; this one involves seven angels and seven plagues. the last … finished. A cycle of seven plagues serves as this Book's last sevenfold vision. See outline, p 2198. Luth: "We are not fighting to win land and people, wealth and glory. Nor are we aiming to establish idolatry or extend it. Rather are we fighting to establish God's word and his church. Especially do we fight for our children, for the coming generations…. That is the real reason and serious purpose for which we now fight, die, or live" (AE 43:238).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 15:2–3 sea … fire. Symbols rooted in the account of the Lord punishing His people's enemies in the Red Sea (cf Ex 13:21–22; 14:19–31). song of Moses. Cf Ex 15:1–21.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 15:3–4 Great and amazing. Just as Moses led the people in praising God in song after the deliverance at the Red Sea (Ex 15:1–21), so also here the redeemed praise the Lord for working an even more splendid act of salvation. All nations. In contrast to the celebration on the shore of the Red Sea, this one includes people of every nation, for the Gospel goes forth to all people.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 15:5 sanctuary of the tent. Additional themes from the exodus are seen, since the Lord dwelt among His people by means of the "tent of testimony" during their wilderness wanderings (Nu 17:7–8).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 15:6–7 After a sublime description of how the redeemed rejoice in heaven, the vision takes on a somber tone—seven angels are sent from the heavenly sanctuary with orders to pour out God's wrath.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 15:8 seven plagues. The outpourings of these calamities are recorded in the visions that follow (ch 16).

REVELATION—NOTE ON Ch 15 This present vision begins with a scene of joyous celebration but then continues with a description of the angels bearing the seven last plagues of God's wrath being sent out. Unfortunately, that is how things typically are during the Church's earthly sojourn: the most sublime moments of rejoicing are followed by dreadful calamities, and hope is ever threatened by evil and judgment. Given this sad state of affairs, the Church needs to hear over and over again that there is "now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus" (Rm 8:1). • Heavenly Father, we sing Your praises every day, come what may, for You have done great and amazing things. We thank You especially for making us Your people and so removing from us any fear of the impending wrath. Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 16:2 Christians are spared from this first plague, since it only falls upon those bearing the mark of the beast (cf 13:16–17). painful sores. Yet another allusion to the exodus (see notes, 8:7–12; 15:2–5), since this is similar to the sixth plague suffered by the Egyptians, which involved boils.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 16:3–4 sea … blood. The plagues poured out of the second and third bowls evoke memories of the first plague to strike

Egypt (cf Ex 7:14–25), since in these cases aquatic creatures die and water is turned to blood.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 16:5 Holy One, who is and who was. See note, 1:4.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 16:6 what they deserve! A grisly example of the punishment fitting the crime. For shedding the innocent blood of the righteous, the wicked are forced to drink the blood of the plague-infected rivers and springs.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 16:7 the altar. Personified altar speaks on behalf of the martyrs. See notes, 6:9–11.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 16:8–9 sun … scorched. Previously, the sun was darkened (cf 8:12). Here, its strength is intensified. did not repent and give Him glory. Another example of recalcitrant people refusing to repent, even when severely afflicted (cf 9:20). This repeatedly happened during the exodus as well. See note, Ex 4:8.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 16:10–11 plunged into darkness. This fifth bowl produces plagues similar to the ones described in Ex 10:21–29 and Rv 8:12. They did not repent of their deeds. Cf v 9; 9:20–21.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 16:12 kings from the east. Some of the most formidable enemies of God's people during the OT times came from the east: (1) The Assyrians destroyed and exiled the 10 northern tribes in 722 BC (2Ki 17:24–41). (2) The Babylonians overthrew Jerusalem and took captive its citizens in 587 BC (2Ki 25:1–26). (3) The Medo-Persians ruled over Judah from 539 to 333 BC. (4) The Seleucids conquered and controlled Judea from 198 to 164 BC. In John's day, there was a widely held fear that Nero would arise from the dead, come from the east, and again wreak havoc on the empire (see notes, Rv 13:18; 17:11).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 16:13–14 the false prophet. Reappearance of the second beast (13:11–17, esp vv 13–14). three unclean spirits. Each member of the evil anti-Trinity goes forth, intent on mustering additional allies against God and His people. like frogs. Another parallel to the exodus account of the plagues (Ex 8:1–15).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 16:15 An aside within the unfolding drama. Here, Jesus interrupts the vision with an oracle about His second coming and a promise of blessing for those remaining faithful to the end. Blessed … exposed! Third of seven beatitudes. See note, 1:3. garments. See notes, 3:4; 6:11.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 16:16 Armageddon. Hbr har megiddo, "the mountain of Megiddo." Though an important city named Megiddo actually existed (see color map 1; Solomon had his stables there; see note, 1Ki 9:15), this is a symbolical rather than geographical reference. Because Megiddo was an important battlefield, it came to be associated with the final great battle between God and the forces of evil (see note, Ezk 38–39).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 16:1–16 As the bowls of God's wrath are poured out, all those worshiping false gods and refusing to repent of their sins are afflicted with terrible plagues. Tragically, there are even some within the Church who persist in this or that vice, stubbornly refusing to repent, and so put their very salvation in peril. Through Baptism, however, the Lord clothes His people with the perfect righteousness of His Son. The Holy Spirit leads God's children away from the plagues of judgment and keeps them on the winning side in the final battle. • Heavenly Father, I thank You for adopting me as Your own through Baptism into Christ. By Your Word and Holy Supper, keep me in Your salvation so that I will remain with You forever. Grant me strength during these last days to be faithful to You always. Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 16:17–18 Cf 15:1, where the end of God's judgment and outpouring of wrath is predicted at the beginning of this cycle of bowl visions. It is done! A similar pronouncement recurs within the dramatic climax of this book (see note, 21:6). lightning, rumblings … thunder … earthquake. See note, 11:19.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 16:19 The great city. Babylon; see note, 14:8. drain the cup. See note, Is 51:17. In Rv 17–18, Babylon's many offenses are listed. They clarify why the Lord is so righteously indignant.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 16:20–21 The created order itself now begins to come undone. great hailstones. The unnaturally large size of this phenomenon reinforces that this is the final outpouring of God's anger. cursed God. See notes, vv 8–9; 9:20.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 16:17–21 As the Lord pronounces the end of the outpouring of His judgment, the created order itself begins to come unhinged. After describing this same event, Peter poses a question we all need to consider daily: what sort of people ought we to be (2Pt 3:11)? The only basis for confidence on that dreaded day is that our Lord Jesus paid the full price of our punishment while dying on the cross (Jn 19:30), then rose from the dead and returned to the Father, where even now He is preparing a place for us. • Lord, receive our heartfelt thanks for having Jesus bear Your judgment for us. Because You promise to spare Your people from the terrible plagues that will accompany the final judgment, we ask You to keep us in the true faith. Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON Chs 17–19 The fifth scene of the end times: Babylon the prostitute overthrown. See outline, p 2198.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:1 great prostitute. Later identified with Babylon (v 5), this likely personifies Rome (see note, 14:8). The original audience would have easily associated this great prostitute with the goddess Roma, whose image could be seen throughout the empire. The prostitute works hand in hand with the twin beasts of 13:1–8, 11–18. Note how this iniquitous woman is the counterpart to the righteous woman described in 12:1–6, 13–17. on many waters. Literally describes ancient Babylon, which had many canals and the world-famous floating gardens. Later on, however, John identifies these "many waters" with peoples, multitudes, nations, and languages.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:2 kings. Not just royalty, but rulers and important people of every kind. sexual immorality. Refers not only to inappropriate sexual behavior but also to idolatry and hostility to God. The OT prophets frequently compare pagan cities to harlots (Ezk 16:15–16; Na 3:4) and identify apostasy with sexual misconduct. See note, Ezk 16. drunk. Intoxicated with political power, violence, economic clout, pagan religiosity, etc (see note, Rv 17:6).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:3 in the Spirit. See note, 1:10. wilderness. Here, symbolizes the haunts of the demons. This imagery is the evil counterpart to the "great, high mountain, and … holy city Jerusalem coming down out of heaven from God" (21:10). beast … seven heads and ten horns. The beast from the sea reappears (cf 13:1–10).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:4 purple and scarlet … gold and jewels. Picture of arrogance, opulence, and self-satisfaction. Rome's affluence is thus trenchantly criticized, esp in 18:11–19. golden cup full of abominations. Reinforces the characterization of this woman as drunk on wealth, power, violence, and vice (v 2).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:5 The great harlot does not merely oblige her subjects to get a mark on their foreheads; she herself bears one. forehead. See note, 13:16–17. Babylon the great. Cf v 1; see note, 14:8.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:6 drunk with the blood of the saints. A measure of Babylon's perversity is her bloodthirsty zeal for persecuting God's people (see notes, vv 2, 4).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:7 mystery. Term Paul uses to denote God's eternal plan for saving the world, once hidden but now manifest through Christ and the Gospel. Here, however, a demonic counterfeit is in view. See p 1903.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:8 was, and is not, and is about to rise. This characterization of the beast, which appears twice within this context, is a perversion upon the title applied to God the Father (see note, 1:4). The beast is an impostor who passes himself off as the one true God (cf 13:16–17). go to destruction. Another reference to the lake of fire, the final destination of the demonic host and enemies of God (19:20–20:10).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:9 seven mountains. Reinforces the identification of this great prostitute with Rome, since the city famously sits on seven hills.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:10 seven kings, five of whom. Likely refers to a series of first-century Roman emperors, though we cannot ascertain their identities with precision.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:11 an eighth. A caesar whose policies were particularly hostile to the Church. Many scholars see here a reference to the Nero redivivus myth, mentioned in Sibylline Oracle 4. This was a popular belief that the reviled and dreaded Emperor Nero would rise from the dead and lead a horde of foreign troops from the east in an attack on Rome. John may adapt this imagery much as the psalmists at times adapt the imagery of Canaanite myths (see note, Ps 68) without regarding them as true. The imagery of John's visions should not be imposed over contemporary nations and events as though the Nero redivivus myth would be literally fulfilled or describe a modern Babylonian ruler.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:12 ten kings. Likely vassal kings, who could aid and abet a usurper (like Nero redivivus) in an attempt to seize power. Note in this regard that during the first century, numerous caesars ascended to the throne by intrigue and usurpation.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:13 one mind. Such conspirators would really only be united temporarily, while their intrigues and bloody plots played out.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:14 make war. All-out opposition against God and His people (cf 16:12–16). Lord of lords and King of kings. Superlatives proper of the one true God. Remarkably, these epithets are here applied to the Lamb, which makes for a powerful affirmation of Christ's full divinity. Luth: "Thy kingdom will extend as far as the world, and yet this kingdom will be an eternal, heavenly kingdom. Thou art a King in heaven and yet Thou wilt have Thy kingdom on earth, yes, even under the earth in hell. For there will be nothing so high or deep, neither in heaven nor on earth nor under the earth, that Thou canst not have power over it and help it. Hence those on earth who preach Thy name in Thy kingdom, pray, praise, and thank Thee, will be in heaven, even though they live on earth, scattered through all the lands" (AE 12:104).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:15 waters … are peoples. See note, v 1.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:16 ten horns. See note, v 12.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:17 God has put it into their hearts. Evokes passages where the Lord is described as hardening Pharaoh's heart (Ex 9:12; 10:20, 27; 11:10; 14:4). Such mysterious expressions should not be taken as implying that God is the source of evil (Jas 1:13–14). Rather, they show that God can use even the evil behavior of the impious in order to further His good and gracious purposes. the words of God are fulfilled. The evil plans of the ten horns cannot succeed finally, since God has a greater plan. In due time, the saving promises He has revealed through His servants will come to fulfillment (cf Am 3:7; Zec 1:6; see note, Rv 10:7).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 17:18 Further confirmation that this monstrous woman represents Rome (see note, v 1).

REVELATION—NOTE ON Ch 17 John describes the great end-times battle between the dominant world power and God. This vision reminds us that earthly power structures, when built upon idolatrous worldviews and characterized by ungodly ambitions, are not morally neutral but rather stand in opposition to God and His Church. In the end, however, the King of kings and Lord of lords will get the victory and share it with the faithful, so that they reign with Him eternally. • Lord, cleanse our hearts, eyes, and ears. Give us sound judgment in all things, so that we may reject Babylon's ungodly lure, remain faithful, and enter with You into glory! Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:1 another angel. Likely different from the angels that poured out the seven bowls of God's wrath (chs 16–17).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:2 Fallen. Echoes what was previously announced at 14:8 and described in 16:19; 17:16. Although this event still lies in the future, John speaks of it in the past tense. The prophetically inspired word stands that certain. unclean. Use of OT holiness language not only emphasizes how much "Babylon's" abominations have corrupted the people of the empire but also how fitting is her punishment. See "clean," p 6.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:3 sexual immorality. Refers to a wide variety of moral failures. merchants … rich. Further underscores the notion that the "sexual immorality" for which the empire is being judged includes a variety of ethical failures, including wanton greed and exploitation.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:4 Come out of her, My people. Not primarily a geographical, but moral-spiritual imperative. Note how it echoes the exhortation appearing in 2Co 6:14–18. Hus: "Let us ask the Lord that He may vouchsafe to preserve us in His communion and guard us against unlawful communion" (The Church, p 274). lest you share. When Babylon falls, it will be too late to separate oneself from the outpouring of God's wrath. Luth: "We must be on our guard against those who are thus given over to a wicked disposition, lest we share in their sin and perish together with them. Therefore in Revelation (18:4) the church is commanded to come out of Babylon; that is, we are commanded to leave the ungodly" (AE 3:285).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:5 sins are heaped high. Reinforces the idea expressed elsewhere in this Book that God's patience has a limit and His plan for the end of all things has already been determined (cf 6:10–11; 15:8; 17:17).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:6 repay her double for her deeds. God will repay the wicked in kind for their evil deeds, only twice as severely. Note that this sentence echoes the judgment pronounced in Jer 16:18, but ironically contrasts with the gracious promise spoken in Is 40:2.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:7 give her a like measure. Reiterates the idea expressed in v 6 about the punishment fitting the crime. mourning I shall never see. Babylon's refusal to repent will remain unshakable to the end.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:8 The bowl judgments (chs 15–16) were not simultaneous but a series of calamities. This verse stresses the sudden nature of the impending judgment and the final, total downfall of Babylon. Cf 1Th 5:3.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:9 weep and wail. Those who partnered with Babylon in committing adultery and living in luxury do not have true repentance, but rather are disappointed that their opportunities for exploiting others have been cut short. On the distinction between God-pleasing repentance and "gallows" repentance, cf 2Co 7:10.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:10 stand far off. See note, v 15. single hour. See note, v 8.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:11–13 Reinforces the sentiment first expressed in v 9 that Babylon's trading partners do not regret the excesses they have committed, but rather are sad that their racket has been broken up. slaves, that is, human souls. Lit, "bodies, even souls of people." God's original intent for mankind is horribly perverted whenever people are reduced to commodities. slaves. Culmination of the merchandise list. The slave trade so flourished in first-century Rome that there was at least one slave for every three free men. See p 101.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:14 soul longed. Given that "soul" was used to describe slaves in v 13, its use here for the merchants is most ironic. The slave trade looked very different to people on opposite sides of it!

REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:15 stand far off. Former associates distance themselves from Babylon in her most desperate hour. That is what happens when one's relationships are based merely upon a shared vice.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:16–17 The merchants' lament echoes the kings' lament in v 10. fine linen, in purple and scarlet. Clothes of royalty and great wealth. single hour. See note, v 8. shipmasters … stood far off. See note, v 15.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:18 Rhetorical question emphasizing the grandeur that once was the capital of the empire.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:19 sea. Another occasion in which the sea represents a place of evil (cf 4:6; 13:1; 21:1). single hour. See note, v 8.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:20 Rejoice … prophets. Doxological words better suited to God and the angels (vv 1, 4) than to unbelieving shippers. Functions as an ironic answer to the plea spoken by the martyrs at 6:9. for you against her! When judgment is unleashed against the oppressor—even a harsh one—it is simultaneously vindication and liberation for the righteous. Similar examples of this appear with the OT prophets.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:21 mighty angel. Apparently a different angel from the one mentioned earlier (see note, v 1). great millstone. Cf Mk 9:42. Both passages describe the particularly harsh punishment reserved for those who do harm to others.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:22–23 There will be no more business as usual after the revelation of the judgment here predicted. The normal pleasures of life will have ceased.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 18:24 blood … saints. The martyrs' prayer is finally answered, as God avenges their blood (see notes, 6:9–11). all … slain. God not only punishes the mistreatment of His saints and prophets, but indeed anyone who has shed innocent blood, since the willful taking of life is one of the sins so grievous that it cries to heaven for vengeance. (Other abominations that cry to heaven for vengeance are sodomy [Gn 18:20], oppression [Ex 3:7–10; 22:21–23], and defrauding wage-earners [Jas 5:4].)
REVELATION—NOTE ON Ch 18 John describes the collapse and judgment of Babylon, the great oppressor of the innocent and exploiter of the weak. As modern, Western Christians hear the charges against Babylon, they note that some strike very close to home, especially greed and an addiction to luxury. The Church must remember where its true treasures are to be found. Whoever has Jesus can look forward to enjoying eternal splendor and joy in heaven. • Lord Jesus, turn our hearts away from Babylon and her foul wares so that we remain holy children of Mother Church, Your eternal Bride. Help us to be responsible stewards of the wealth and gifts that You entrust to us, for Jesus' sake. Amen.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:1 multitude. Likely the same assembly described in 7:9–17—the Church Triumphant, the saints who have passed into glory. Salvation … belong to our God. Echoes 7:10, yet it adds the words "glory" and "power."
REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:2 true and just. Important affirmation, esp in light of all the evil described in this Book. One of the main themes of Rv is that, despite all the chaotic and oppressive conditions Christians must face, God remains firmly in control of all history. avenged on her the blood. See note, 18:24.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:3 smoke … goes up. A most ironic counterpart to the incense smoke previously described as rising during the heavenly worship (8:3; 15:8; see notes, Ex 30:1, 7–8; Ps 141:2). forever and ever. Phrase that often appears at the conclusion of Christian doxologies (cf Eph 3:21; 1Tm 1:17). In this setting, it contrasts ironically with the term "eternity" (Lat aeternitas), which was inscribed on first-century Roman coins.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:4 twenty-four elders … four living creatures. Mention of these figures recalls the scenes of the heavenly worship described in 4:1–5:14; 7:9–17. Hallelujah! Hbr for "praise God" (Ps 146:1, 10; 147:1, 20). See "Praise the Lord," p 843.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:5 The voice from the throne calls upon all of God's servants—including those living upon the earth—to join in the heavenly chorus. fear. Filial fear of God, which combines awe, devotion, and tenderness. See p 1001.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:1–5 The heavenly chorus praises God for the collapse and destruction of the great prostitute Babylon. Some may be reluctant to join in this praise, still feeling sympathetic to Babylon and thus exhibiting a shameful self-centeredness. But Christ frees us from tyranny's grip and promises to share the spoils of His victory with us. Thus, we can heartily join in this praise now and forever. • Holy Spirit, move my heart and voice to join in this great hallelujah chorus, both here on earth and then forever in heaven. Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:6 the Almighty reigns. Echoes the core proclamation of the earthly Jesus, who over and over taught about "the kingdom [reign] of God." For the characters in this scene, the coming of God's kingdom/reign is no longer a matter of faith but of sight and direct experience. See pp 1565–66.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:7–8 marriage. Although coming to faith and being baptized function as our betrothal to Christ (2Co 11:2), the solemnization and consummation of the Church's marriage to Him nonetheless remain a future event. This scene portrays how that future consummation will be. made herself ready. The bride's preparations for the marriage are the result of God's grace and Spirit, not simply her own efforts. granted her … pure. Emphasizes that the saints' righteous deeds, which are here identified with spiritual adornment, are a gift granted by God, not a human achievement.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:9 Blessed … Lamb. Fourth of seven beatitudes. See note, 1:3. supper. Same word as used in 1Co 11:20, where it refers to Holy Communion. This beatitude promises blessing not only to those who participate in heaven but also to those receiving the Lord's Supper here and now.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:10 You must not do that! The Bible consistently forbids the worship of anyone other than the one true God—the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. the testimony of Jesus … prophecy. The divine prophetic word is here equated with the message from and about Christ. See note, Jn 5:39.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:6–10 God follows up His victory over Babylon by solemnizing the marriage of His Son to His Bride, the Church. Though the Father earnestly invites all to come and be a part of this greatest imaginable marriage feast (Mt 22:1–14), some still resist the call of His Gospel. The Lord never gives up on them. Until the end of time, He continues to extend His gracious invitation to believe on His name and receive eternal life. • Lamb of God, because You have shed Your blood for me, keep me faithful to You so I may commune with You forever. Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:11 white horse! A fitting mount for the royal commander in chief (see note, 6:2). Faithful and True. Jesus is similarly called the "faithful and true witness" in the letter to the Church in Laodicea.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:12 many diadems. Authentic royal crowns. These stand in contrast to the counterfeit diadems of the dragon and first beast (13:1). name … Himself. Probably refers to the sacred name by which God revealed Himself to Moses (Ex 3:14). See "LORD," p 1227.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:13 clothed … blood. The blood Jesus once shed for sinners (cf 7:14). The Word of God. Important Christological title in John's Gospel (Jn 1:1–3, 14). As such, this verse forms an important thematic link between John's Gospel and Rv.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:14 Although the heavenly host is elsewhere solely angelic (Dt 33:2; Ps 68:17), it is possible that the army being described here includes the saints, since both this assembly and the aforementioned "Bride" of the Lamb (Rv 19:7) are attired in fine white linen. See p 1291.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:15 sharp sword. See note, 1:16. rod of iron. See notes, 2:27; 12:5. winepress of the fury. Imagery borrowed from Is 63:2–3 and probably related to the cup of wrath metaphor appearing in Rv 14:8, 10; 16:19. Significantly, all the imagery in this verse involves judgment. Luth: "The tyrants, heretics, and whatever opposes the Word are a potter's vessel. So when it comes to a contest between them, it is impossible for the earthen vessel to prevail over the iron. The iron will break it in small pieces and pound away the potsherds. But with us who believe, true righteousness, wisdom, salvation, and life will remain, whether the world and Satan like it or not. For the Word of God will remain into eternity. Christ, our High Priest and King, will remain. We also who believe in Him shall remain. But the enemies of the Word will all fall and perish. Amen" (AE 12:66).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:16 King of kings and Lord of lords. See note, 17:14.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:17–18 A ghastly counterpart to the Lamb's wedding banquet, this "feast" emphasizes the great difference between the end of God's people and those who oppose Him. See notes, Ezk 39:17–20.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:18 The fate of those who refuse to serve and fear the one true God. Plainly, the faithful are not among those being judged.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:19 The basis of the proverbial saying "all hell breaks loose" (16:12–16; 17:12–14). The final cosmic battle ends with evil's defeat and Christ's ultimate victory, as is described in the concluding chs.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:20 the beast was captured, and with it the false prophet. Here, two members of the anti-Trinity (see notes, 13:4, 11–18) are captured and taken out of commission. However, their leader, Satan, will continue causing more trouble (20:3, 7). lake of fire that burns with sulfur. A description of eternal punishment (cf Mt 25:41; 2Th 1:9).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:21 sword … from the mouth. Luth: "Christ's kingdom is not to be administered with physical power, with the sword or the rod. It is the province of the parents to wield the rod, and that of government and executioner to use the sword. No, His are an oral rod and an oral sword…. The words of reprimand and rebuke are the rod" (AE 22:222). birds were gorged with their flesh. Cf Ezk 39:17–20. Note Jesus' enigmatic saying: "Wherever the corpse is, there the vultures will gather" (Mt 24:28; Lk 17:37).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 19:11–21 In the great final battle between good and evil, Christ returns and begins to destroy the remaining enemies of His rule once and for all. The end of those who oppose God and His Messiah is fearful, as birds of prey will devour their flesh. But the faithful know that Jesus will come to right wrong and redress evil, and that He freely pardons all who embrace His mercy. • Lord, grant to all people true repentance and sincere faith, so that we may all escape Your vengeance and enter with You into eternal bliss. Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:1–21:8 The sixth scene of the end times: the final judgment, which includes the binding, loosing, and final condemnation of Satan and his host. See outline, p 2198.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:1 Then I saw. A new vision. angel. Because of what this angel does within this vision—He binds Satan and confines him in the abyss—some believe this may represent Jesus. At the very least, an angel acts on the Lord's behalf. the bottomless pit. Apparently the same place is mentioned in 9:1. In contrast to the lake of fire, which is the final place to which the evil are banished (cf vv 10, 14–15; 21:8), this abyss is more like a temporary holding cell. great chain. Shackles restrain feared criminals.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:2 dragon, that ancient serpent … devil and Satan. All of these names refer to the original usurper and archenemy of God and His people, he who first rebelled against God and so was cast out of heaven (cf Is 14:12–15; Ezk 28:12–19; Lk 10:18; Rv 12:7–9 for other possible allusions). Recall that Satan is the first member of the Book's anti-Trinity (see notes, 13:4, 11–12; 19:20). thousand. Symbolic number representing the completion of a most perfect era. It is derived by cubing the number 10, the number of perfection and completion (see note, 9:16). See p 217. Traditionally, this period is equated with the time of the NT Church. See p 2199.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:3 threw him … shut … sealed. Satan is overcome by Jesus, the "stronger man" who comes and binds the "strong man" (Mt 12:29). Note that Christ has authorized His Church to share in this binding and overthrowing of Satan's power, through the administration of the Word and Sacraments (Mt 16:16–19; 18:18; Jn 20:22–23). any longer. During his protracted confinement, while awaiting execution, Satan cannot withstand the triumphs of the Gospel (e.g., the worldwide growth of the Church after Jesus' resurrection). released for a little while. For reasons hidden in God, the Church must pass through tribulation and testing at the end times.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:4 thrones. This scene is enacted in heaven, not on earth. It is simultaneous with Satan's binding. authority to judge.

This picture of the saints sharing in God's kingly rule is first presented in Dn 7:13–14, 26–27. The NT presents this picture repeatedly (cf Mt 19:28; 1Co 6:2). souls. Refers to the martyrs already in heaven. came to life. Does not refer to the final, bodily resurrection, but rather to the regeneration the saints enjoy on earth and in God's presence after death, before Christ's second coming. See notes, Jn 5:21, 24.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:5 thousand years. See note, v 2. the first resurrection. Refers to regeneration, the divine work by which sinners are raised from spiritual death to spiritual life by the means of grace. This is received through faith in this life and then consummated in paradise. As such, it is to be distinguished from the bodily resurrection that occurs at Christ's second coming. See note, Jn 5:24.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:6 Blessed. Fifth of seven beatitudes. See note, 1:3. It underlines the blessedness of having faith in Jesus. second death. Defined in v 14 as punishment in the lake of fire. It follows the bodily resurrection, which occurs on the Last Day, and is the eternal consequence of refusing to repent and believe in Christ. See note, v 4; 2:11. priests … will reign. See note, 1:6.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:1–6 Because Jesus has bound Satan and severely limited his power to harm the people of God, the faithful actually share in Jesus' rule throughout the entire NT age. However, in the last little bit before the end, all hell will break loose as Satan will be released and will thus wreak destruction. Happily, those remaining in the Lord will not be overcome. The second death has no power over those whom God's Spirit has regenerated and kept in the true faith. • Lord, may we treasure above all things the "first resurrection" given us through the Word and Sacraments, for nothing will ever separate us from Your great love and compassion. Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:7–9 deceive … earth. A spiritual deception, so that people believe anything but the Gospel truth. Gog and Magog. Symbols for the enemies of God's people. Cf Ezk 38–39. for battle. Cf 16:12–16. the beloved city. Not the earthly Jerusalem, but a symbol of the whole Christian Church on earth.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:10 Satan and his demonic host are finally cast into the place where they will suffer eternal punishment. This was the punishment they earned by their continual opposition to God's plan of redemption and restoration.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:7–10 Even as John affirms that there will be a "little while" of suffering before the end of all things and the judgment, he assures the faithful that this will result in the ultimate destruction and removal of Satan and his lies. Consider how near we may be to the end of the age. Yet also consider what good news this is for believers! Christ comes to save and deliver us once and for all from every sin and evil. • Lord Jesus, help us to see and understand the great struggle between good and evil. Keep our hearts true to You, and grant us always to look to You for deliverance from the powers of hell. Amen.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:11–15 Luth: "I believe that Christ will return from heaven on the Last Day to judge those who are alive at that time and those who have died before that day [I Thess. 4:16–17], that all mankind, angels, and devils will have to appear before his judgment [Matt. 18:35; Rom. 14:10; I Pet. 1:17] throne to see him visually. Then he will redeem me and all who believe in him from bodily death and every infirmity and will eternally punish his enemies and adversaries and deliver us from their power forever [Rev. 20:11–14]" (AE 43:27).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:11 Him … His. The Father (cf 4:2).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:12 dead, great and small. This presupposes a bodily resurrection of all people, including those who rejected Christ. See notes, 1Th 4:13–18. books. Records of human conduct. the book of life. The book that lists all who have received Christ and God's gracious gifts of salvation. See note, Rv 3:5. according to what they had done. The righteous do not earn salvation by their works, but their good works were recorded so that they might now be rewarded by the One who was at work in the saints (Php 1:6; 1Th 2:13), causing them to produce good fruit. See notes, 1Co 3:14; Gal 5:22.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:13 the sea gave up the dead who were in it. Those whose bodies were lost at sea or burned are not excluded from the final resurrection and glorification of the body, since God will miraculously call forth these people as well. Death and Hades. Further emphasizes the universal scope of the resurrection. See notes, 6:8; 9:1.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:14 Death … thrown into the lake of fire. This is the final destruction of the last enemy, even death itself (1Co 15:51–55). second death. See note, v 6.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:15 lake of fire. As a result of our fallen nature, we are all destined for this final separation from God and His goodness until delivered by grace (cf Eph 2:1–5). Only Christ's forgiveness can deliver people from this dreadful end.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 20:11–15 Finally, John describes the judgment and overthrow of death. Since our first parents fled from the Lord in the garden (Gn 3:24), all their sinful descendants have been shutting their eyes and ears to the somber truth about the last judgment (cf Heb 10:31). However, Christ has covered us in the mantle of His righteousness. Consequently, our bodily resurrection will be unto glory and eternal bliss in God's presence. • "Be still, my soul; the hour is hast'ning on When we shall be forever with the Lord, When disappointment, grief, and fear are gone, Sorrow forgot, love's purest joys restored. Be still, my soul; when change and tears are past, All safe and blessed we shall meet at last." Amen. (LSB 752:4)

REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:1 new heaven … earth. Finally, the revelation of a perfectly restored creation is described. See note, Is 65:17–25. first heaven … passed away. This fulfills the prediction Jesus makes in Mt 24:35. Also, Rm 8:19–21 suggests that there is continuity between the new creation and that which it replaces. However, certain things truly disappear: sin, death, and corruption. That which has been redeemed is transformed. sea was no more. Symbolically conveys that everything threatening and evil is removed. See note, Rv 4:6–7.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:2 the holy city, new Jerusalem. Because this city is explicitly identified with the "bride," it is best taken as representing the collective people of God (see note, 19:7–8). See "Zion," p 844. Luth: "God's house is found where God dwells with us, where we are the household, yes, the sons and daughters, and He Himself is our Father, who speaks and deals with us and brings it about in the most intimate way that the church is also the gate of heaven. For He dwells with us in order that we may enter into the kingdom of heaven. And, what is most delightful, He comes first and appears to us on the ladder. He descends and lives with us. He speaks and works in us" (AE 5:250).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:3 Scripture repeatedly underscores that one of the greatest blessings of the new heavens and new earth is that restored mankind will again behold God face-to-face and live in His immediate presence (cf 22:3–5; 1Co 13:12).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:4 Note that John describes heaven by way of negation, (i.e., in terms of what will not be there: tears, death, crying, or pain). Such a description is fitting, given that we have no experience of anything as fantastic as the new heavens and new earth (cf 1Co 2:9).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:5 The new creation has already begun to appear through the preaching of the Gospel and the work of the Spirit. However, it will not be completed until the day of Christ's return.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:6 It is done! Echoes Jn 19:30. In that context, Jesus is pronouncing that redemption has been won. Here, God announces that the final restoration has been completed. the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. See notes, Rv 1:8; 22:13. spring of the water. Probably another example of baptismal imagery. Cf 3:4; 6:11; 7:3, 14. without payment. Stresses the graciousness of salvation.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:7 Recalls the promises appearing in each of the seven letters to the churches (2:7, 11, 17, 26; 3:5, 12, 21).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:8 the cowardly, the faithless, the detestable. Part of a "vice list," of which there are many in the NT (cf Rm 1:29–32; Col 3:5). sorcerers. Gk pharmakos, refers to a person who mixed magical potions and poisons. their portion. Those unswervingly persisting in evil will share the fate of Satan and his demonic host (cf 20:10, 14–15).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:1–8 The climax of this Book and indeed all of history at last comes clear: the restored heaven and earth is presented to God's resurrected people. Such a magnificent future and hope call us to rise above the ugliness and sin of this fallen world, because impenitence and a lack of vigilance can still lead to the shipwreck of our souls. At the same time, God is faithful and so will unfailingly fulfill the purposes for which His Son became man; He will remove the curse that so sorely afflicts us. • Jesus, You suffered to make all things new. Therefore, renew our hearts and minds, and hasten the day when You shall present the holy city as Your beloved Bride, the Church. Amen.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:9–22:9 The final scene: the new Jerusalem as the Bride. See outline, p 2198.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:9 one of the seven angels. See notes, 1:16; 4:6–7; 5:2–4; 7:1; 8:2. seven bowls. Note how the revelation doubles back to the earlier scene regarding the pouring out of God's wrath (16:17). Bride, the wife of the Lamb. Cf 12:6, 13–14; 19:7–8. This feminine imagery acts as a foil to the great prostitute of chs 17–19.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:10 in the Spirit. See note, 1:10. great, high mountain. Much like the wilderness of 17:3, this is an otherwise inaccessible vantage point, allowing a glimpse into divine mysteries. holy city Jerusalem. Though this symbol sometimes represents heaven itself (22:2), it also stands for God's people (21:2). Here, it seems to represent the latter.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:11 having the glory of God. When Christ appears, the saints will be glorified and given resurrected bodies like Christ's own (Php 3:20–21). Thus, both heaven and its citizens will reflect the divine majesty. jasper. Precious stone, previously mentioned in connection with God's radiance.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:12–14 twelve. Symbolic of the people of God (cf 4:4; 7:4; 12:1). See p 217. twelve foundations … apostles of the Lamb. This detail emphasizes the foundational role played by the apostles (cf Eph 2:19–21).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:15–21 measure the city. This picture of the angel taking a measurement underscores the perfection, splendor, and grand scale of the heavenly city.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:16 foursquare. The square (and cube) were considered "perfect" shapes. 12,000 stadia. C 1,200 mi. This city is thus larger than many nations. See note, 7:4–8. equal. A perfect cube, just like the Most Holy Place in Solomon's temple (1Ki 6:20).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:17 also an angel's measurement. Implies that humans and angels are about the same size. This might also convey that people will be like angels in the resurrection (Mt 22:30), though they do not become angels.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:18–20 jasper … sapphire … agate. See note, 4:3.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:22 God gave the tabernacle and temples in order to mediate His presence on earth. In heaven, however, His people will see Him face-to-face and experience Him directly. Thus, a temple will be unnecessary.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:23 Because God Himself is "light" (Ps 36:9; 1Jn 1:5), there is no need for any other source of illumination in heaven. There, people bask in the unmediated glory of His aura.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:24 kings … bring their glory. Cf Is 60:1–6. Emphasizes the complete fulfillment of God's plan to save all people (cf Rv 7:9). This suggests the transformation rather than the annihilation of the old orders (see note, v 1).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:25–26 never be shut. With evil once and for all vanquished, there is no need for security measures. no night. See note, v 23. glory … honor of the nations. See note, v 24.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:27 nothing unclean. Another reminder that future citizenship in heaven is secured through repentance and holiness. See "clean," p 6. book of life. See notes, 3:5; 20:12. "Only the elect, whose names are written in the book of life [Revelation 21:27], are saved. Therefore, how can we know, or why and how can we perceive who the elect are and who can and should receive this teaching for comfort? In this matter we should not judge according to our reason, or according to the Law or from any outward appearance…. If we want to think about our eternal election to salvation helpfully, we must in every way hold strongly and firmly to this truth: just as the preaching of repentance is universal, so also the promise of the Gospel is universal, that is, it belongs to all people" (FC SD XI 25–26, 28). Luth: "To be sure, all sins have been remitted and covered, but they have not yet been completely cleansed away. Not only do the dregs of lust, pride, hatred, wrath, and other desires cling to us, but also inner evils and hidden stains, doubts about God, unbelief, impatience, and murmuring, which do not come out into the open until the conscience is troubled by the Law and by the terrors of sin. Although we pay no attention to these things and do not sob because of such a disgraceful fall, yet God sees them. Therefore He tries to purge our impure nature. This is what He thinks: 'You have been enlightened and baptized; but you still stink, and your flesh is full of many great vices. Therefore I must cleanse it, for that which is unclean and polluted shall not enter the kingdom of heaven' (cf. Rev. 21:27)" (AE 7:229).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 21:9–27 John continues his description of the glorified Church by focusing upon the splendor of the city in which God's people will dwell eternally. On the one hand, the incredible beauty of the heavenly Jerusalem stretches our imaginations beyond what they can comprehend; on the other hand, the stern warnings about the impure, false, and detestable seem all too familiar. Yet God will overcome all evil, including that in our lives, for He who has written our names in the Book of Life will Himself see us home. • Christ Jesus, Bridegroom of the Church, help us to watch for the end of days and prepare for our reception into the new heaven and earth, where the great wedding feast never ends. Come soon, Lord Jesus. Amen.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:1–2 The two dominant images here—the river and the tree—also figure prominently in the creation (Gn 2:9–17; 3:1–7). Their reappearance here helps show that the end will be like the beginning, only better.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:1 water of life. Throughout John's writings, water serves as a symbol of eternal life (cf Jn 3:5; 4:14). Those living in God's holy city will have unimpeded and perpetual access to this life-giving water. In this world, Baptism serves this function. throne of God and of the Lamb. See note, 3:21.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:2 through the middle. The river and tree are no longer set in a garden, but a city. tree of life. Because of what Christ accomplished on another tree—the cross of Calvary—God's people will again have free access to this tree; its fruit bestows immortality. For the present, the Holy Supper serves this function. fruit each month. This fruit is perpetually available, further underscoring the abundance of life in heaven. Luth: "Heaven and earth will pass away, but His words will not pass away (Matt. 24:35). He is therefore the 'tree of life' (Rev. 22:2), firmly 'planted in the house of the Lord' (cf. Ps. 92:13), producing His fruit in its season, the firstfruits of all the trees that imitate Him in these. Adam and Eve sewed fig leaves together (Gen. 3:7), that is, they fabricated words of excuse for their sins in order to cover and excuse their shame. Therefore their leaves fell off" (AE 10:22).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:3–5 No longer … anything accursed. As in 21:4, John describes heaven by means of negation (i.e., by stating what things there will not be). The Lord will undo the ancient curse caused by Adam and Eve's sin. Bede: "What can be happier than that life, where there is no fear of poverty—no weakness of disease; where none can be hurt, none can be angry; where none can envy, none can be impure; where none can be tormented with the desire of honour, or the ambition of power? No fear there of the Devil; no snares there of evil spirits; no terror there of hell; no death there, either of soul or body, but a life blessed in the gift of immortality. No discord there for ever, but all things in harmony—all things in agreement: because there will be one concord of all saints—one peace, and one joy. Tranquil are all things there, and quiet. Perpetual is the splendour there: not such as the sunlight which now is, but both more glorious and more happy" (FSEP, pp 3–4).

REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:3 worship. The final goal of redeemed humanity, which underscores why keeping the Sabbath is so vital in biblical teaching. See notes, Ex 20:8, 11; Col 2:17.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:4 They will see His face. The climactic statement in this vision of heaven, since beholding God face-to-face, living in His presence, and enjoying unmediated communion with Him is the greatest blessing of heaven. Cf 21:3.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:5 Lord God will be their light. See note, 21:23. There is no night or any other darkness in God's presence.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:1–5 John describes our life in heaven as having no hunger, darkness, loneliness, or pain but rather eternal joy in the presence of the one true God. How, then, can so many people fail to see the blessedness Jesus has laid out for us along the straight and narrow way that shortly leads to unceasing bliss? In many cases, the answer is simply that people do not appreciate the greatness of God's grace and the magnificence of the glory that awaits the faithful. Inspired by God's Word and preserved by His Spirit, however, we may already rejoice with those who have gone before us. • "Apostles, martyrs, prophets, there Around my Savior stand; And soon my friends in Christ below Will join the glorious band. O Christ, do Thou my soul prepare For that bright home of love That I may see Thee and adore With all Thy saints above." Amen. (LSB 673:5–6)
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:6–21 John's epilogue. See outline, p 2198. As John concludes his work, he wraps up by reiterating key themes, esp those of the Book's opening verses.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:6 trustworthy and true. John originally meant for these words to apply to this particular Book. Within a canonical context, however, they may profitably be applied to the whole of Scripture (cf 2Tm 3:16). sent His angel to show. Once more emphasizes the role that angels play in serving God by revealing the prophetic word to John. soon take place. The imminence of Christ's second coming is more obvious from the divine than from the human perspective. However, Jesus does not leave the Church as an orphan in the meantime (Jn 14:18). He is present in Word and Sacrament (Mt 18:20, 28:20), most intimately in the Eucharist.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:7 Without announcement, the speaker switches from the angel to Christ Himself. Blessed. Sixth of seven beatitudes in Rv. See note, 1:3. One keeps these words not by calculating future events but by living faithfully and believing them.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:8 I, John. Author solemnly affirms that he is a firsthand witness to what he has written. John writes similarly about eyewitness testimony in his Gospel (Jn 19:35) and Epistle (1Jn 1:1–3). I fell down to worship. See note, 19:10.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:9 This warning may well reflect John's desire that the churches of Asia Minor resist the temptation to worship angels. This problem plagued nearby Colossae (Col 2:18).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:10 Do not seal. Exact opposite of command given to Daniel. Because God had already begun to fulfill the events described in this Book, John's prophecy was for immediate release.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:11 still do evil. Cf Rm 1:26–31, where Paul speaks about God giving people up to their dishonorable passions and debased minds. A stronger pronouncement of judgment can hardly be spoken. Luth: "He who progresses in the unremitting exercise of his faith concludes: 'I am not in the host that is against Christ; I am for Christ. I do not deny the Word, and I do not persecute the church. Hence I have been called to the kingdom of God and have been elected. But if I fall because of weakness, I rise again; I grieve over my sin and pray for forgiveness. Thus through the very works of repentance and love I realize that I am one of those who have been snatched from the conflagration of Babel or from the dregs of the world.' Thus even though this obedience does not justify, it nevertheless gives evidence of faith and makes it manifest, as it were, so that it can be seen. Therefore Revelation (22:11) states: 'He that is righteous, let him be righteous still.' Just as those who occupy themselves with works of unbelief continually become more and more unbelieving, and through that continual effort sin gains strength, as it were, so, vice versa, faith increases in those who practice godliness. As a result, they conclude with certainty that they belong to the church" (AE 3:169–70).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:12 Though numerous other NT passages similarly speak about the faithful being rewarded, they never do so apart from grace and the work of the Holy Spirit. The unrighteous, on the other hand, will have no one to blame but themselves when they are condemned for their iniquity.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:13 the Alpha and the Omega. Heretofore, this title has been applied to the Father. The application here of this title to Christ makes for a strong affirmation of Jesus' true Godhead. See note, 1:8.

REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:14 Blessed. Final of seven beatitudes in Rv. See note, 1:3. robes. See notes, 3:4; 7:14. tree of life. See notes, vv 1, 2; 2:7.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:15 Another vice list; see note, 21:8.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:16 the root and the descendant of David. Stresses Jesus' messianic status by evoking several prophecies He fulfills (cf 2Sm 7:16; Is 11:1). Luth: "Christ according to the flesh has His root in David and the patriarchs, from whom He has arisen, but according to the Spirit He Himself is the root from which has arisen the universal church. In the first sense He is the flower, but in the second sense they are His flower" (AE 25:516). the bright morning star. See note, Rv 2:28.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:17 Come. A simple prayer for the hastening of Christ's appearing. This is repeated in the very final words of this Book (v 20). See note, 1Co 16:22–24. without price. Emphasizes the gracious nature of the Gospel call.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:18–19 if anyone adds. Echoes the warning Moses gave. See note, v 6.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:20 Amen. Come, Lord Jesus! These words may function as a liturgical response to the reading of this prophetic word (cf 1Co 16:22; Did 10:6). On that understanding, what followed the reading of this revealed word would be the Communion liturgy.
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:21 A concluding benediction, similar to the ones appearing at the conclusion of NT Epistles (cf Php 4:23; 1Th 5:28).
REVELATION—NOTE ON 22:6–21 Because John's message is about the ultimate triumph of good over evil, it is always relevant and all the more as the world slides further into chaos and corruption. On one level, Rv powerfully confirms what we already fear, i.e., our world and everyone in it is doomed. More profoundly, however, this Book is about transcendent hope. It shows how infinitely greater God is than evil. By offering a vision of the new creation soon to be revealed, Rv draws us on toward our blessed hope in Christ. To Him be power and glory throughout the ages! • Blessed Redeemer, help us to keep these holy words and thereby conquer sin, death, and the devil. May we, along with Your whole Church on earth and heaven, continue praying with full confidence and a joyful expectation, "Come, Lord Jesus! Come quickly!" Amen.

Revelation's Colorful Character

Long before Vincent van Gogh amazed us with his bold use of colors, John recorded brilliant colors in the visions of Revelation. Learn more about these colors and their meanings:
Agate (chalcedony) 21:19
Amethyst 21:20
Beryl 21:20
Black 6:5, 12
Bronze 1:15; 2:18; 9:20; 18:12
Carnelian (sardius) 4:3; 21:20
Chrysolite 21:20
Chrysoprase 21:20
Crystal 4:6; 21:11; 22:1
Emerald 4:3; 21:19
Fire 1:14; 2:18; 9:17; 16:8; 19:12
Gold 1:12–13; 3:18; 4:4; 9:7, 13, 20; 15:6; 17:4; 18:12, 16; 21:18, 21
Green 9:4
Ivory 18:12
Jacinth 21:20
Jasper 4:3; 21:11, 18–19
Onyx (sardonyx) 21:20
Pale 6:8
Pearl 17:4; 18:12, 16; 21:21
Purple 17:4; 18:12, 16
Red 6:4, 12; 12:3; 16:4; 19:13
Sapphire (hyacinth) 9:17; 21:19
Scarlet 17:3–4; 18:12, 16
Silver 9:20; 18:12
Sulfur 9:17
Topaz 21:20
White 1:14; 2:17; 3:4–5, 18; 4:4; 6:2, 11; 7:9, 13–14; 14:14; 15:6; 19:8, 11, 14; 20:11

A quick look at this list shows the dominance of white and gold, colors associated with purity, holiness, and glory. Note that many colors have both a positive and a negative use. For example, white comes in a variety of shades: snow, wool, fine linen, and pale as a corpse. Gold appears on the garments and vessels of heaven, yet it also glimmers on the idols of Babylon. Remarkably, the color blue, which we often associate with heaven because of the blueness of the sky, never gets mentioned directly (though some translations use “blue” to translate Gk hyakinthos, Eng hyacinth in 9:17).

Throughout, we behold the red blood of Christ, shed for our salvation. Contrary to all earthly experience, that red blood turns the robes of the saints pure white (7:14). “Blessed are those who wash their robes” in the blood of the Lamb (22:14)!

Additional Prayers

The Lord's Prayer

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven; give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For Thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever and ever. Amen.

Brief Service of the Word

Invocation
In the name of the Father and of the ✣ Son and of the Holy Spirit.
Amen.

Psalmody
One or more psalms are spoken or sung.

Reading from Holy Scripture
One or more readings from Holy Scripture are read. Each is introduced as follows:
A reading from _____, chapter _____.
Each reading may conclude:
This is the Word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

Sermon or Meditation
The Apostles' Creed may be confessed.

Hymn

Prayers
Collect of the Day

Intercessions and Thanksgivings

Lord's Prayer

Blessing
The grace of our Lord ✣ Jesus Christ and the love of God and the communion of the Holy Spirit be with you all.
Amen.
(LSB Agenda, pp 56–57)

The Great Psalm of the Word

Let my cry come before You, O Lord; give me understanding according to Your word! Let my plea come before You; deliver me according to Your word. My lips will pour forth praise, for You teach me Your statutes. My tongue will sing of Your word, for all Your commandments are right. Let Your hand be ready to help me, for I have chosen Your precepts. I long for Your salvation, O Lord, and Your law is my delight. Let my soul live and praise You, and let Your rules help me. I have gone astray like a lost sheep; seek Your servant, for I do not forget Your commandments. Amen. (Ps 119:169–76)

The Prayer to See God's Ways

Speak, Lord, for Your servant hears. Please show me now Your ways, that I may gain Christ and be found in Him, not having a righteousness of my own that comes from the Law, but that which comes through faith in Christ. Your Word is a lamp to my feet and a light to my path. Give me life, O Lord, according to Your Word, and I will declare Your greatness. Amen.

The Collect of the Word

Blessed Lord, You have caused all Holy Scriptures to be written for our learning. Grant that we may so hear them, read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest them that, by patience and comfort of Your holy Word, we may embrace and ever hold fast the blessed hope of everlasting life; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen. (LSB, p 308; prayer 148)

Luther's Prayer for Growth

Help us to grow in the knowledge of Your dear Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, and to remain firm in the confession of His blessed Word. Give us the love to be of one mind and to serve one another in Christ. Then we will not be afraid of that which is disagreeable, nor of the rage of the arsonist (Satan) whose torch is almost extinguished. Dear Father, guard us so that his craftiness may not take the place of our pure faith. Grant that our cross and sufferings may lead to a blessed and sure hope of the coming of our Savior Jesus Christ, for whom we wait daily. Amen. (TLWA, p 35)

Luther's Prayer to Receive the Word

Eternal God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, grant us Your Holy Spirit who writes the preached word into our hearts so that we may receive and believe it, and be gladdened and comforted by it in eternity. Glorify Your Word in our hearts. Make it so bright and warm that we may find pleasure in it, and through Your inspiration think what is right. By Your power fulfill the Word, for the sake of Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord. Amen. (TLWA, p 38)

Bless Our Hearts and Minds

Heavenly Father, almighty and everlasting God, we come before You in humble awe. You are the one true God, and there is none other like You. Come, we pray, and bless our hearts and minds as we study Your Word. Send Your Holy Spirit into our lives so that we may grow in love and grace, and that we may go forth into all the world, proclaiming Your Gospel so that others may learn of Your saving grace. Amen. (Linda Flechsig)

Lead Us to Your Word

O almighty Father, lead us to Your Word, that we may find healing of heart, soul, and mind in the Gospel of Jesus. Be near us as we read for ourselves that Jesus has indeed died and has risen again for us. Keep us steadfast in Your grace and mercy, that we may spread Your love to those who haven't heard the Good News and to those who have heard but have forgotten it. Let us do all we can to win souls for You, that they may go out and do the same. In Jesus' most holy name, we pray. Amen. (Linda Flechsig)

Lord Jesus Christ, with Us Abide

Lord Jesus Christ, with us abide, For round us falls the eventide. O let Your Word, that saving light, Shine forth undimmed into the night. In these last days of great distress Grant us, dear Lord, true steadfastness That we keep pure till life is spent Your holy Word and Sacrament. Amen. (Melanchthon and Selnecker, LSB 585:1–2)

Habermann's Prayer for God's Kingdom

Gracious and Blessed God, You have taught and commanded us above all things first to seek the kingdom of God and His righteousness. Grant us grace, that Your holy Word may be preached in all the world in all its truth and purity. May we submit our reason to the obedience of faith and live holy lives, as is proper for the children of God, to Your pleasing. Then Your kingdom may come to us, and increase, and many people, who do not yet believe in the Word, may be won through Christian conduct. Help us, dear God, who are delivered from the power of darkness and are translated into the kingdom of Your dear Son, Jesus Christ. In Him we have redemption through His blood, even the forgiveness of sin. May we remain in His kingdom, faithfully continue in the wholesome doctrine, and live worthily as children of light in all piety and godliness. Amen. (TLWA, p 315)

Walther's Prayer for Faith in the Word

O Lord, our God, how blessed are we! Not only have You given us Your Word, which offers and imparts to us all the fruits of the redemption of Your dear Son Jesus Christ, but You have also opened our eyes, so that we may know Your grace and in firm confidence receive it. Though the world, the Law, our heart, and our conscience condemn us, what do we care? Your Word declares us free of all guilt. O keep us in such faith unto our end and grant that all the members of our congregation may appreciate the great treasure which they possess. Help them and us to triumph over all attacks of the devil, the world, and our flesh and finally to depart this life in peace and to be received into Your eternal kingdom. Hear us for the sake of our risen and victorious Champion, Jesus Christ. Amen. (TLWA, p 317)

Prayer for Blessing on the Word

Lord Jesus Christ, giver and perfecter of our faith, we thank and praise You for continuing among us the preaching of Your Gospel for our instruction and edification. Send Your blessing upon the Word, which has been spoken to us, and by Your Holy Spirit increase our saving knowledge of You, that day by day we may be strengthened in the divine truth and remain steadfast in Your grace. Give us strength to fight the good fight and by faith to overcome all the temptations of Satan, the flesh, and the world so that we may finally receive the salvation of our souls; for You live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. Amen. (LSB, p 308; prayer 149)

Prayer for Obedience to the Word

O holy and most merciful God, You have taught us the way of Your commandments. We implore You to pour out Your grace into our hearts. Cause it to bear fruit in us that, being ever mindful of Your mercies and Your laws, we may always be directed to Your will and daily increase in love toward You and one another. Enable us to resist all evil and to live a godly life. Help us to follow the example of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, and to walk in His steps until we shall possess the kingdom that has been prepared for us in heaven; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen. (LSB, p 308; prayer 152)

God's Word Is Our Great Heritage

God's Word is our great heritage And shall be ours forever; To spread its light from age to age Shall be our chief endeavor. Through life it guides our way, In death it is our stay. Lord, grant, while worlds endure, We keep its teachings pure Throughout all generations. Amen. (Grundtvig, LSB 582)

Speak, O Lord, Your Servant Listens

Speak, O Lord, Your servant listens, Let Your Word to me come near; Newborn life and spirit give me, Let each promise still my fear. Death's dread pow'r, its inward strife, Wars against Your Word of life; Fill me, Lord, with love's strong fervor That I cling to You forever! Amen. (Hessen-Darmstadt, LSB 589:1)

Lord, Keep Us Steadfast in Your Word

Lord, keep us steadfast in Your Word; Curb those who by deceit or sword Would wrest the kingdom from Your Son And bring to naught all He has done. Amen. (Luther, LSB 655:1)

Open to Me Your Word

Jesus, Key of David, I have tried to open the gates of heaven by clever reason. I have pounded them by my own strength. My efforts always end with a frustrated mind and a battered conscience. Open to me Your Word. Take away my burdens of body and soul and bear me feather-light over the threshold of heaven. Amen. (TLWA, p 37)

Prayer to Abide by God's Revealed Will

Merciful Father, Your Word was written for our instruction so that by steadfastness and by encouragement of the Scriptures we might have hope. Grant us sound interpretation of all the Scriptures that we may receive all their comfort and hope according to Your Holy Spirit's will and intent. Grant that we abide in this simple, direct, and useful exposition that is permanently and well grounded in Your revealed will. Teach us to flee all abstruse and specious questions and disputations so that we reject and condemn all things contrary to Your true, simple, and useful teachings; through Christ Jesus, our Savior. Amen.

The Holy Bible

Articles and Resources

The Books of the Prophets

- All the Prophets

Table of Contents

Articles and Resources
Contributors
Acknowledgments
Foreword
The Engravings
Preface to the English Standard Version
The Lutheran Study Bible - Kindle Edition
Reading, Understanding, and Applying the Bible
    How to Read and Study the Holy Bible
    Law and Gospel: Identifying God's Ways with Mankind
    Luther's Small Catechism
    The Unity of Scripture
    The Lectionaries
    A Two-Year Reading Plan
Reference Guide
    Abbreviations
    Transliteration Guidelines
    Articles and Charts Maps
    Place-Names of the Bible and Ancient Empires Biblical Topics
    Biblical Chronology and World History
    Weights and Measures
The Old Testament
Introduction to the Books of Moses Genesis Exodus
    Leviticus Numbers
    Deuteronomy
Introduction to the Books of History
    Joshua
    Judges

- Ruth
- 1 Samuel
- 2 Samuel
- 1 Kings
- 2 Kings
- 1 Chronicles
- 2 Chronicles
- Ezra
- Nehemiah
- Esther

Introduction to the Books of Wisdom and Poetry

- Job
- Psalms
- Proverbs
- Ecclesiastes
- Song of Solomon

Introduction to the Books of the Prophets

- Isaiah
- Jeremiah
- Lamentations
- Ezekiel
- Daniel
- Hosea
- Joel
- Amos
- Obadiah
- Jonah
- Micah
- Nahum
- Habakkuk
- Zephaniah
- Haggai
- Zecharaiah
- Malachi

The Time between the Testaments and the Apocrypha

The New Testament

Introduction to the Gospels

- Matthew
- Mark
- Luke
- John
- Acts

Introduction to the Pauline Epistles

- Romans
- 1 Corinthians
- 2 Corinthians
- Galatians
- Ephesians
- Philippians
- Colossians
- 1 Thessalonians
- 2 Thessalonians
- 1 Timothy
- 2 Timothy
- Titus
- Philemon

Introduction to the General Epistles

- Hebrews
- James
- 1 Peter
- 2 Peter
- 1 John
- 2 John
- 3 John
- Jude
- Revelation

Mission and Challenges for Early Christianity

The Spread of Lutheran Mission Work

Additional Prayers